a UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, ss:

[Seal of the Circuit Court, Massachusetts.]

The President of the United States, to the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, holden at Boston, within and for the County of Suffolk, Greeting:

Because, in the record and proceedings, as also in the rendition of the judgment of a plea which is in the said Supreme Judicial Court before you, or some of you, being the highest court of law or equity of the State of Massachusetts in which a decision could be had in the suit between Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, a New Jersey corporation, Plaintiff and Albert S. Bigelow, of Cohasset, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, Defendant, in a suit in equity, wherein was drawn in question the validity of a treaty or statute of, or an authority exercised under, the United States, and the decision was against their validity, or wherein was drawn in question the validity or statute of, or an authority exercised under, said State on the ground of their being repugnant to the Constitution, treaties, or laws of the United States, and the decision was in favor of such their validity; or wherein was drawn in question the construction of a clause of the Constitution, or of a treaty, or statute of, or commission held under, the United States, and the decision was against the title, right, privilege, or exemption, specially set up or claimed under such clause of the said Constitution, treaty, statute, or commission, a manifest error hath happened, to the great damage of the said defendant, Albert S. Bigelow, as by his complaint appears.

We being willing that error, if any hath been, should be duly corrected, and full and speedy justice done to the parties aforesaid in this behalf, do command you, if judgment be therein given, that then under your seal, distinctly and openly, you send the record and proceedings aforesaid, with all things concerning the same, to the Supreme Court of the United States, together with this writ, so that you have the same in the said Supreme Court, at Washington, within thirty days from the date hereof, that the record and proceedings aforesaid being inspected, the said Supreme Court may cause further to be done therein to correct that error, what of right, and according to the laws and customs of the United States, should be done.

Witness, the Honorable Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States, the twenty-ninth day of December, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nine.

CHARLES H. DARLING,
Clerk of the Circuit Court of the United States, District of Massachusetts.

Allowed by
MARCUS P. KNOWLTON,
Chief Justice of Supreme Judicial Court, but Writ not to Operate as Supersedeas.

b COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
Suffolk, ss:

And now, here, the Judges of the Supreme Judicial Court make return of this writ by annexing hereto and sending herewith, under the seal of the said Supreme Judicial Court, a true and attested copy of the record and proceedings in the suit within mentioned, with all things concerning the same, to the Supreme Court of the United States, as within commanded.

In testimony whereof, I, Walter F. Frederick, Clerk of said Supreme Judicial Court, have hereto set my hand and the seal of said Court this fourth day of January A. D. 1910.

[Seal Nulli Vendemus Nulli Negabimus Justitiam.]

WALTER F. FREDERICK, Clerk.

[Endorsed:] —. 8099 Eq. Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co'y. vs. Albert S. Bigelow. Writ of Error. Suffolk, ss. Supreme Judicial Court. Received Dec. 31, 1909. Attest: Walter F. Frederick, Clerk.

c COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
Suffolk, ss:

To all persons to whom these presents shall come, Greeting:

Know ye, that among the Records of our Supreme Judicial Court, sitting at Boston in said County of Suffolk, for the hearing of all causes in equity between the first day of January in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nine, and the thirty first day of December in the same year, both inclusive, it is thus contained, the following being the entire record in the case:

1 Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and having a usual place of business at Boston in our County of Suffolk brings its Bill of Complaint against Albert S. Bigelow, of Cohasset in the County of Norfolk, having his usual place of business in said Boston.

Said Bill of Complaint being in the words following, to wit:

Bill of Complaint.

First. The plaintiff, the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, is a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey and having a usual place of business in Boston in said County of Suffolk. Said corporation is the owner of copper mining and smelting works in the Territory of Arizona, and is carrying on the business of mining, smelting, and selling copper.

Second. On and prior to March 24, 1895, there existed a certain corporation called the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City (hereinafter called the Baltimore Old Dominion Company) organized under the laws of the State of Maryland and having a usual place of business in said Baltimore. Said Baltimore Old Dominion Company was then the owner of mines and mining claims in Arizona. It had a capital stock of five hundred thousand (500,000) dollars divided into twenty-five thousand (25,000) shares of the par value of twenty (20) dollars each. Of said shares there were then owned by the executors of the will of Michael H. Simpson, late of said Boston, deceased, about seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven (17857) shares and the balance of said

2 shares were then owned by one William Keyser of Baltimore in the State of Maryland and others. Said Keyser also then held the title in his own name to certain mines and mining claims known as the Old Dominion Mine, the New York Mine, the Chicago Mine, the Keystone Mine, and a certain parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so-called all in said Arizona, but whether said Keyser held said property solely in his own right or in trust, wholly or in part for others or for said corporation the plaintiff is ignorant.

Third. At some time prior to March 24, 1895, the defendant and one Leonard Lewisohn, late of New York City, deceased, formed the plan of acquiring all the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and all said real estate, title to which then stood in the name of said Keyser, as aforesaid, and of organizing a new corporation to acquire and of selling to such new corporation at a large advance in price, all the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and all the real estate held by said Keyser, as aforesaid, and putting upon the market and selling to such of the public as might be induced to buy the same a large number of the shares of such new corporation in order to provide the same with a working capital, and make necessary improvements in the plant, and acquire additional mining claims, and of thereby securing for themselves and such persons as they might associate with them a large profit from the purchase and resale to said new corporation to be organized by them of said property; and said defendant and said Lewisohn thereupon conspired together to carry out said plan and thereby to injure the future stockholders in said new corporation, and to secure for themselves as the promoters and organizers thereof a large secret profit.

Fourth. Pursuant to said plan and conspiracy said defend-
3 ant alone or in conjunction with said Lewisohn at some time prior to March 24, 1895, procured a number of persons, whose names are to the plaintiff unknown, to subscribe to the Old Dominion Syndicate so-called; said syndicate was formed for the purpose of raising about one million (1,000,000) dollars or so much thereof as was necessary to carry out said plan and conspiracy of the defendant and said Lewisohn above described for the benefit of the members of said syndicate. The terms of said subscription were that the subscribers should pay in fourteen (14) per cent. of the amount of their respective subscriptions on March 24, 1895, twenty-eight and two-thirds (28 2/3) per cent. on July 24, 1895, twenty-eight and two-thirds (28 2/3) per cent. on August 25, 1895, and twenty-eight and two-thirds (28 2/3) per cent. on September 24, 1895, and with each of said last three instalments five (5) per cent. interest thereon from March 24, 1895; and that the amount so subscribed and paid in should be used so far as required for the purpose of acquiring the property or all the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and that the subscribers to said syndicate should receive in cash or in stock of the new corporation to be formed to purchase said property from said syndicate two million (2,000,000) dollars to be distributed pro rata according to their several subscriptions. The precise terms of said syndicate agreement are to the plaintiff unknown and the plaintiff has no copy thereof which it can attach hereto, but said defendant well knows the terms of said agreement and has a copy or the original thereof in his possession or control.

Fifth. Thereafter, to wit, on or about March 24, 1895, said defendant, alone or in conjunction with said Lewisohn received the first instalment payable by the subscribers to said syndicate
4 amounting to about one hundred and forty thousand (140,000) dollars. Thereafter, to wit, on or about May 2, 1895, said Bigelow, alone or in conjunction with others, for the purpose of carrying out said plan and conspiracy and the purposes of said syndicate, made an agreement with the executors of the will of said Michael H. Simpson for the purchase from said executors of seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven (17857) shares of the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, being five-sevenths (5/7) of the total capital stock of said corporation, at a price not exceeding six hundred and thirteen thousand one hundred and thirty-seven dollars and thirty-nine cents ($613,137.39); the plaintiff is ignorant of the precise terms of said agreement, but is informed and believes, and therefore charges that said agreement was in the form of an option for which a sum not exceeding one hundred thousand (100,000) dollars was paid, under which option said defendant and his said associates were entitled to acquire said stock at the price aforesaid by making further payments at a future time or times.

Sixth. At some time prior to July 1, 1895, said defendant, alone or in conjunction with others, for the purpose of carrying out said plan and conspiracy and for the purposes of said syndicate, made an agreement with said William Keyser and with other persons to the plaintiff unknown by which the defendant and his associates acquired the remaining two-sevenths (2/7) of all the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, to wit, seven thousand one hundred and forty-three (7143) shares at a price not exceeding one hundred and seventy-five thousand one hundred and eighty-two dollars and eleven cents ($175,182.11). The plaintiff is unable to state more particularly the terms of said purchase, but the 5 terms thereof are well known to the defendant.

Seventh. At about the time of the purchase from said Keyser and others of said seven thousand one hundred and forty-three (7143) shares of stock in said Baltimore Old Dominion Company said defendant or said Lewisohn, or the two in conjunction, for their common benefit acquired from said Keyser for the same consideration paid for said seven thousand one hundred and forty-three (7143) shares, but, as they claimed, for their own benefit and not for the benefit of said Old Dominion Syndicate, the parcels of real estate in Arizona, title to which then stood in the name of said Keyser, as above set forth, to wit, the four mining claims known as said Old Dominion Mine, said New York Mine, said Keystone Mine, and said Chicago Mine, and said parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks. All said real estate was acquired in the name of and was conveyed by said Keyser to said Lewisohn, but for the common benefit of said Lewisohn and said Bigelow, as hereafter set forth, and pursuant to and as a part of the plan and conspiracy and for the purposes hereinbefore set forth.

Eighth. On or about July 8, 1895, said defendant in conjunction with said Lewisohn, in pursuance of said plan and conspiracy and for the purpose of carrying out the same for the benefit of themselves and of the subscribers to said Old Dominion Syndicate so-called, caused the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, the plaintiff herein, to be organized under the general corporation laws of the State of New Jersey. Said corporation was formed by seven persons selected and employed for the purpose by said defendant and said Lewisohn, to wit, Jesse Lewisohn, Allen W. Evarts,
Edgar Buffam, Charles W. Welch, Sidney Riddlestorffer,
6 William V. Rowe, and William R. Montgomery. None of said seven persons, except said Jesse Lewisohn, who was a brother of said Leonard Lewisohn, had any actual interest in said corporation or acted in the formation thereof otherwise than as the representative and agent of said defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn. Each of said individuals nominally subscribed and paid for four (4) shares of the capital stock of said corporation except said Jesse Lewisohn who subscribed and paid for sixteen (16) shares; but in fact all said subscription were made for the benefit and at the request of the defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn, and each subscription was paid for by said defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn, or one of them.

Ninth. On July 9, 1895, the first meeting of said corporation, organized as aforesaid, was held in Jersey City and all of said incorporators were then present. By-laws were adopted and upon an election of directors by ballot said seven incorporators above named were duly chosen directors, and it was further voted to increase the capital stock to three million seven hundred and fifty thousand (3,750,000) dollars, divided into one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) shares of twenty-five (25) dollars each. A recess was taken by said meeting, and thereupon said seven directors met and organized and elected officers, to wit, said Allen W. Evarts, president, said Sidney Riddlestorffer, vice-president, said Jesse Lewisohn, treasurer, and said Edgar Buffam, secretary. Said meeting of directors confirmed the action of the prior meeting of incorporators increasing the capital stock, as above set forth. The organization of said corporation and the proceedings of said meetings of 7 incorporators and directors were duly had according to the laws of the State of New Jersey, and the by-laws adopted, as aforesaid, and thereby the plaintiff became duly organized as a corporation and the individuals above named became the lawful officers of the corporation holding respectively the offices above named.

Tenth. A meeting of the directors, of said plaintiff corporation, organized as aforesaid, was duly held on July 11, 1895, at the office in New York City of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers, of which firm said Leonard Lewisohn was a member; all of the directors except said Montgomery were present. Pursuant to instructions from the defendant the resignation of said Montgomery as a director was presented and duly accepted, and the defendant was thereupon chosen a director in his place. Thereupon, pursuant to instructions from the defendant, the successive resignations of said Rowe as a director, of said Welch as a director, of said Jesse Lewisohn as treasurer and as director, of said Evarts as president, and of said Riddlestorffer as Vice-president and as director were presented and duly accepted, and said Leonard Lewisohn, one Henry M. Whitney, one Thomas Nelson, and one Joseph G. Ray were successively duly chosen directors, and said Thomas Nelson was duly chosen treasurer, and said defendant was duly chosen president of said corporation. Said defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn were present at said meeting, and upon their respective elections as directors took their places in said meeting. All said resignations were duly received and acted on and said elections to fill the vacancies caused by said resignations were duly had pursuant to the laws of the State of New Jersey and the by-laws of said corporation.

8 Eleventh. At some time prior to July 11, 1895, to wit, on or about July 8, 1895, said defendant in pursuance of said plan and conspiracy, either alone or in conjunction with said Leonard Lewisohn, completed the purchase of all said shares of stock in said Baltimore Old Dominion Company upon the terms of the agreement with the executors of the will of Michael H. Simpson and with William Keyser and others hereinbefore referred to, and all said stock was delivered and transferred to the defendant or to persons designated by him, and the directors and officers of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company resigned and new directors nominated by said defendant were duly chosen and said defendant was duly chosen president and said Allen W. Evarts secretary of said corporation. At the same time, to wit, on or about July 8, 1895, and prior to July 11, 1895, said Keyser conveyed to said Leonard Lewisohn said real estate in Arizona above referred to, pursuant to said agreement, and the legal title to said real estate became vested in said Leonard Lewisohn.

Twelfth. At said meeting of the directors of the plaintiff corporation on July 11, 1895, above referred to, after the several changes of directors and other officers by resignation above set forth, and after said defendant had been elected president of said corporation there remained present four directors, to wit, said defendant, said Leonard Lewisohn, said Evarts, and said Buffam. Said Evarts was the attorney employed by said defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn to attend to the incorporation of the plaintiff corporation and to carry out their said plan and conspiracy; said Buffam was a person selected by them and employed by them to act as director and assist them in carrying out said plan and conspiracy. The remaining

9 directors were said Thomas Nelson, Henry M. Whitney, and Joseph G. Ray, no one of whom was present and each of whom was a subscriber to said Old Dominion Syndicate and interested to assist said defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn in their plan to sell said property to the plaintiff and in the success of said plan and conspiracy.

Thirteenth. At said meeting of the directors of the plaintiff company on July 11, 1895, after the change of directors and officers above set forth and after said defendant had been chosen president as aforesaid, said defendant through said Evarts presented to said board of directors of the plaintiff an offer to the plaintiff to sell and convey substantially all the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company to the plaintiff, except the cash assets, for one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff corporation to be issued to said Baltimore Old Dominion Company or its nominees. Said offer was signed by the defendant as president of and by said Evarts as secretary of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company. A copy of said offer and of the schedule therein referred to is hereto annexed and marked "A" and made a part of this bill. Upon presentation of said offer, on motion of said Leonard Lewisohn, seconded by said Evarts, it was unanimously voted to accept said offer and to issue one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock in payment for said property, and the defendant and said Nelson were appointed a committee to supervise and carry out the details.

Fourteenth. Immediately after the passage of the vote last above referred to at said meeting of directors of the plaintiff on July 11, 1895, said Leonard Lewisohn presented to said board of directors of the plaintiff a proposition to the plaintiff to sell and convey to the plaintiff said real estate in Arizona acquired by said Leonard Lewisohn from said Keyser as above set forth for thirty thousand (30,000) shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff to be issued to said Lewisohn or his nominees, accompanied with a request to issue said shares to the defendant and said Lewisohn. A copy of said proposition is hereto annexed and marked "B" and made a part of this bill of complaint. Upon presentation of said proposition the defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn caused the directors to unanimously vote to accept said proposition and to issue thirty thousand (30,000) shares of the capital stock in payment for said property, and the defendant and said Nelson were appointed a committee to supervise and carry out the details.

Fifteenth. Thereafter the defendant and said Lewisohn, pursuant to the original plan and conspiracy, and for the purpose of furnishing the plaintiff corporation, promoted by them as aforesaid, with working capital and with funds required to develop its plants and other properties, caused to be offered twenty thousand (20,000) shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff corporation, not theretofore disposed of, for public subscription and sale at the price of twenty-five (25) dollars per share; and all of said shares were so subscribed for and sold and the price therefor paid by said subscribers to the plaintiff. Said subscribers and purchasers of said shares were ignorant at the time said shares were offered for subscription and at the time they severally subscribed and paid therefor and received their shares, as hereinafter set forth, of the facts hereinbefore set forth as to the promotion and organization of the plaintiff corporation by the defendant and said Lewisohn, and the large profit to be made by said defendant and said Lewisohn and by the other members of said Old Dominion Syndicate therefrom.

11 Sixteenth. Thereafter the sale and conveyance of the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, included in the offer marked Exhibit "A" and the schedule thereto annexed, was consummated by the transfer of said property to this corporation, and the sale and conveyance of the property included in the proposition of said Leonard Lewisohn marked Exhibit "B" was consummated by the transfer of said property to this corporation. Thereafter, to wit, on or about September 18, 1895, the board of directors of the plaintiff corporation at a meeting duly called held at Boston —see amendment—voted at the request of said Baltimore Old Dominion Mining Company to issue one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of this corporation to one Philip K. Dumaresq as representing said corporation as and for the price of said property so transferred and conveyed, and said shares were duly issued pursuant to said vote. And said board of directors of this corporation at said meeting further voted to issue thirty thousand (30,000) shares of the capital stock of this corporation to the defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn as and for the price of said property transferred and conveyed by the latter to this corporation, as above set forth, and said shares were thereupon duly issued pursuant to said vote. And said board of directors of this corporation at the same meeting voted to issue twenty thousand (20,000) shares of the capital stock thereof to persons who had subscribed therefor, as above set forth, upon receiving payment of twenty-five (25) dollars per share therefor.

Seventeenth. Said parcels of real estate sold and conveyed by said Lewisohn to the plaintiff as aforesaid, to wit, said several mining claims known as Old Dominion Mine, New York Mine, Chicago Mine, and Keystone Mine respectively, and said parcel of 12 land near the Bloody Tanks, so called, were in fact of substantially no value, to wit, of a value not exceeding five thousand (5,000) dollars, and were known by said Lewisohn and by the defendant when said Lewisohn acquired the same as aforesaid, and when he offered to sell and convey the same to the plaintiff as aforesaid, to be of substantially no value. And said parcels were acquired by said Lewisohn in the manner aforesaid with intent on the part of himself and of said defendant to sell the same for a large price. No disclosure was at any time made to the plaintiff corporation of the fact that said real estate was of substantially no value, and by reason of the control by said defendant and said Lewisohn of the plaintiff corporation and its board of directors, as above set forth, said purchase was made without any disclosure to or inquiry by the plaintiff corporation as to the reasonable value of said property; and no disclosure was ever made to any of the persons who subscribed for or afterwards purchased shares of stock in the defendant corporation, or to any other persons of the facts as to the purchase of said property or as to the reasonable value thereof, and said facts were not known to any of said persons or to any of the members of said Old Dominion Syndicate, except said defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn.

Eighteenth. By the transactions above set forth, said defendant and said Lewisohn carried out their said plan and conspiracy, and having, for the purpose of promoting a corporation and selling to such corporation at a price much in excess of the cost thereof the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and the property so conveyed to said Lewisohn, acquired all the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company for the sum of less than 13 eight hundred thousand (800,000) dollars, and acquired without making any further payment, but for themselves as they claimed, all the property conveyed by said Lewisohn to the plaintiff, and promoted the plaintiff corporation and caused the same to be organized, and thereupon did sell to it the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company for one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of this corporation of the par value of twenty-five (25) dollars each, to wit, the aggregate par value of two million five hundred thousand (2,500,000) dollars, and also sold to it all the property conveyed to said Lewisohn for thirty thousand (30,000) shares of said stock of the aggregate par value of seven hundred and fifty thousand (750,000) dollars.

And for the purpose of providing the corporation so promoted and formed by them pursuant to and in execution of said plan and conspiracy, to wit, the plaintiff corporation, with working and other capital, said defendant and said Lewisohn, in further execution and performance of said plan and conspiracy, sold to the public twenty thousand (20,000) shares of the capital stock of said corporation so formed as aforesaid, to wit, this corporation. The shares of this corporation so issued in payment for the property sold to it as aforesaid were at the time of the fair market value of twenty-five (25) dollars each, and continued for a long time thereafter to be of such or greater value, and said defendant and said Lewisohn thus made for themselves and their associates in said syndicate from the sale of the property conveyed by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company a profit of more than one million five hundred thousand (1,500,000) dollars, and in addition thereto made for themselves alone on the property conveyed by said Lewisohn to the plaintiff a profit 14 of over seven hundred and fifty thousand (750,000) dollars.

Nineteenth. The subscribers to said Old Dominion Syndicate so-called were entitled by the terms of the agreement forming said Syndicate to receive each his proportionate share of two million (2,000,000) dollars in repayment of his original advance and as his share of profits. To effect this division each member of said Syndicate was permitted to apply for shares of this corporation at par to the amount so payable to him, and said shares were thereupon issued to such applicant in lieu of his proportionate share of said sum. All or substantially all the subscribers to said Syndicate availed themselves of this privilege, and so far as such privilege was not availed of, the money required was advanced by the defendant or others interested, and the corresponding number of shares was issued to the person so advancing the money. Of the one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of this corporation issued to Philip K. Dumaresq, as above set forth, upon and as consideration for the conveyance of all the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, as aforesaid eighty thousand (80,000) shares were thus distributed to and among the members of said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, or persons exercising the privilege of such members in the manner above set forth. And of this amount more than one-half was a profit made in the manner above described, and said Syndicate thereby made a profit of not less than one million (1,000,000) dollars. Of the eighty thousand (80,000) shares thus divided, the defendant received as his proportion four thousand (4000) shares, not less than one-half of which represented and was a profit to him as a member of said Syndicate from 15 the purchase of the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and the sale of its property as aforesaid, to this corporation, pursuant to the plan and conspiracy formed by said defendant and said Lewisohn, as hereinbefore set forth.

Twentieth. The defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn by agreement between themselves, and as the plaintiff is informed and believes, without the knowledge or assent of the other members of said Old Dominion Syndicate, took from the one hundred thousand (100,000) shares issued to Philip K. Dumaresq, as above set forth, ostensibly in payment of expenses and their own services in connection with the matter, the twenty thousand (20,000) shares remaining after dividing eighty thousand (80,000) shares among the members of said Syndicate, as above set forth. The expenses actually incurred by them did not exceed six thousand (6000) dollars. These twenty thousand (20,000) shares were divided between the defendant and said Lewisohn, said defendant receiving ten thousand nine hundred and forty (10,940) shares as his proportion thereof, and said Lewisohn nine thousand and sixty (9060) as his proportion thereof, and said thirty thousand (30,000) shares issued to said defendant and said Lewisohn for said conveyance of real estate by said Lewisohn were also divided between the defendant and said Lewisohn, said defendant receiving sixteen thousand four hundred and ten (16,410) shares thereof and said Lewisohn thirteen thousand five hundred and ninety (13,590) shares.

Twenty-first. Prior to the formation of said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, and prior to making the several agreements hereinbefore referred to for the acquisition of the stock of said 16 Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and for the acquisition by said Lewisohn of said several parcels of real estate in Arizona, conveyed to him by said Keyser, as aforesaid, said defendant and said Lewisohn had formed the plan and intention of organizing a corporation to acquire the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and to acquire said several parcels of real estate; and had formed the plan and intention of selling said property and said real estate to such new corporation at a large advance in price and of thereby securing and obtaining for themselves and such persons as they might associate with them a large profit from such sale to said corporation so to be formed, and of selling to the public a sufficient number of shares in the corporation so formed to provide said corporation with a working capital. And said defendant and said Lewisohn formed said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, and purchased said stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said real estate conveyed to said Lewisohn, as aforesaid, for the purpose and with the intent of carrying out the prior plan and intention so formed by them as aforesaid, and of selling the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and the property so conveyed to said Lewisohn, to the plaintiff corporation when the same should be formed, at a large advance in price; and said defendant and said Lewisohn caused the plaintiff corporation to be organized and to acquire the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and to acquire the real estate conveyed by said Keyser to said Lewisohn, and caused said corporation to offer for sale and to sell to the public sufficient shares, to wit, twenty thousand (20,000) shares to provide it with working and other capital, in the manner aforesaid in further execution and performance of said plan

17 and intention. When said offer was made by said Baltimore Old Dominion Company to the plaintiff corporation, and when said proposition was made by said Lewisohn to the plaintiff corporation, and when said offer and proposition were accepted, said defendant and said Lewisohn were in absolute control of the plaintiff corporation through the ownership by them and their associates of all stock in said plaintiff corporation then outstanding, and through the selection of a board of directors and other officers chosen by them and selected for the purpose of enabling them to carry out said plan, and consisting of themselves, their employees, and associates, all of whom were expressly chosen for the purpose of carrying out said plan and intention and had expressly undertaken to do so; and said offer of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said proposition of said Lewisohn were accepted by the plaintiff corporation through its board of directors, as above set forth, by the direction of said defendant and said Lewisohn, and the other directors in acting thereon acted solely at the direction of and pursuant to previous agreement with said defendant and said Lewisohn, and for the express purpose of carrying out the said plan and intention of said defendant and said Lewisohn, and all of said action was taken and was intended by the individuals who took part therein to carry out said plan and intention and to enable said defendant and said Lewisohn and such persons as they had associated with them, to make a large profit by the sale of said property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company and of said real estate to the plaintiff corporation at a price greatly in excess of the cost to said defendant and said Lewisohn and their associates of all the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and of said real estate. And when said
18 twenty thousand (20,000) shares of stock were offered to and were sold to the public, as above set forth, said defendant and said Lewisohn were in absolute control of the plaintiff corporation, as aforesaid and said shares were so offered for sale and sold to carry out said plan and conspiracy of said defendant and said Lewisohn aforesaid.

Twenty-second. From July 11, 1895, when said purchase in behalf of the plaintiff corporation of the property of said Baltimore

Old Dominion Company and of said real estate from said Lewisohn was consummated, as above set forth, until April 4, 1902, the defendant was continuously the president and chief executive officer of the plaintiff corporation: throughout said period the board of directors of the plaintiff corporation was continuously composed of persons selected by the defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn, and at all times until April 4, 1902, a large majority of the persons so acting as directors were personal friends of the defendant and had been interested with the defendant in the transactions above set forth, and had received some share in the profits thereof, and the remaining directors took no active part in the management of the plaintiff corporation, and were ignorant of the facts hereinbefore set forth. No disclosure was at any time made to any of the subscribers for or to any purchasers of the capital stock of the plaintiff corporation not disposed of to the defendant and his associates, or to any purchasers thereof from them or any of them of the profit made by the defendant as above set forth as promoter of the plaintiff corporation or of any part thereof, and no disclosure was made to those persons other than the defendant and said Lewisohn who shared in the distribution of the eighty thousand (80,000)
19 shares of stock distributed to the members of said Old Dominion Syndicate of the profit made by said defendant and said Lewisohn in the division between them of said additional twenty thousand (20,000) shares derived from the sale of the property formerly held by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company or of the thirty thousand (30,000) shares derived from the sale of the property conveyed by said Lewisohn as above set forth, in the proportion of twenty-seven thousand three hundred and fifty (27,350) to the defendant and twenty-two thousand six hundred and fifty (22,650) to said Lewisohn, and this plaintiff had not until after April 4, 1902, any knowledge or information of any of the facts hereinbefore set forth as to the profit derived by said defendant in the manner above stated as promoter of this corporation, or of any profit having been derived by him, or by any other person interested or participating in the promotion and organization of this corporation, and immediately upon receiving information relating thereto investigated the same, and thereupon promptly made demand upon the defendant.

Twenty-third. Said Leonard Lewisohn died on March 5, 1902, and was at the time of his death a citizen and resident of the City, County, and State of New York. The executors of the estate of said Lewisohn, who are also citizens and residents of said City, County and State, have been duly appointed by the courts of said state, but no executors or legal representatives of said Lewisohn have been appointed or are within this Commonwealth, and there is no property within this Commonwealth belonging to said estate which could be reached by any process, and it is impossible to get service within this Commonwealth upon the executors of said Leonard Lewisohn.

20 Twenty-fourth. The property conveyed to the plaintiff by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, as above set forth, consists mainly of the copper mine which was then and ever since has been in active operation, and from which large amounts of ore have since been taken, and upon which large expenditures have been made in the development and establishmnt of the necessary plant. The property conveyed to the plaintiff by Leonard Lewisohn, as above stated, consists merely of mining claims and a parcel of land for a mill site, all of which property has since said conveyance remained undeveloped and is now in substantially the same condition that it was in at the time of the conveyance by said Lewisohn to the plaintiff.

Twenty-fifth. The plaintiff has rescinded the ostensible sale and conveyance to it of said parcels of real estate conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn as aforesaid, and will, by appropriate proceedings, seek to recover the consideration ostensibly paid therefor, to-wit, said thirty thousand (30,000) shares conveyed to the defendants and said Leonard Lewisohn, but does not now seek any relief in respect thereto. The plaintiff says, however, that it is entitled by reason of the facts hereinbefore set forth, to require the defendant to account for all shares of its stock issued to said Philip K. Dumaresq at the request and direction of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and as the consideration for said transfer from it to this defendant which were received by the defendant or said Lewisohn or any other person or persons as profits arising from the transaction hereinbefore set forth.

Wherefore the plaintiff prays:

21 1. That said defendant be required to account to the plaintiff for all shares of stock in the plaintiff corporation other than the thirty thousand (30,000) shares issued to him and said Lewisohn ostensibly as consideration for the conveyance by said Lewisohn of said parcels of real estate, to wit, for all of said one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of stock originally issued to said Philip K. Dumaresq as hereinbefore set forth, which were received by said defendant or by said Lewisohn or by any other person or persons as profit in the transaction set forth in the foregoing bill of complaint in connection with the promotion and organization of the plaintiff corporation.

2. In the alternative that the damages suffered by the plaintiff corporation from the acts of the defendant above complained of, other than the sale to the plaintiff of said parcels of real estate conveyed to it by said Lewisohn, be ascertained, and that the defendant be ordered to pay to the plaintiff the amount so ascertained.

3. For such other relief as to this Honorable Court shall seem meet.

By Their Solicitors, BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER.

WILLIAM H. DUNBAR,
Of Counsel.

New York, July 11, 1895.

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

Please issue said 30,000 shares of stock to Mr. A. S. Bigelow and myself.

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

25 This Bill was filed and entered in this Court on the seventh day of October, A. D. 1902, and thereupon a writ of summons and attachment was issued, returnable at the Rules holden at Boston aforesaid on the first Monday of November then next ensuing, which said writ was returned with acceptance of service by the defendant endorsed thereupon by his attorney, Alfred Hemenway, Esquire.

And on the second day of December A. D. 1902, the defendant filed his answer, the same being in the words following, to wit:

Defendant's Answer.

1. The defendant admits the allegations contained in the first, second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth paragraphs of the plaintiff's bill, but avers that the title alleged in the second paragraph to have been held by William Keyser was held by him in trust for the Baltimore Old Dominion Company. The defendant admits the allegations contained in paragraphs eight, nine, ten, twelve, thirteen, fourteen and sixteen of the bill, subject to the qualifications stated in paragraph seven of this answer.

2. The defendant denies the allegations contained in paragraphs three, four, five, six, seven, eleven, fifteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two and twenty-five of the bill, except as to such matters and things set out in said allegations as are hereinafter specifically admitted.

26 dith was given the right in consideration of $2000 paid by him to the executors, to purchase said 17,857 shares of stock from said executors on or before May 28, 1895, for $40 a share, or $714,280 in all, payable $100,000 in cash and the balance in satisfactory notes of thirty, sixty and ninety days, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum, the shares of stock to be delivered indorsed in blank to the Old Colony Trust Company in trust to hold as collateral security for the payment of the notes, and, upon their payment, to deliver to said Meredith or his assigns. It was stipulated that the surplus assets of the company, consisting of ingot copper, pig copper, and notes and bills receivable should be paid over to said executors and to William Keyser who owned the remaining shares of the capital stock of the company, and that all debts of the company should be met by said executors. Said Meredith agreed that upon notice and tender he would purchase the shares of stock owned by said Keyser at the same pro rata price and upon the same general terms and conditions as above set forth. The contract ran to Meredith and his assigns. Upon its execution it was sold and assigned by said Meredith to Leonard Lewisohn.

4. Thereafterwards, but prior to May 24, 1895, said Lewisohn agreed to give the defendant one-half of his interest under said contract, and the defendant agreed with said Lewisohn to furnish one-half of the purchase price provided for by said contract. Subsequently it was arranged between them that as to the Keyser stock, the defendant's interest should be two-thirds, and Lewisohn's interest one-third.

On May 24, 1895, a syndicate called the Old Dominion Syndicate, and consisting of the defendant, said Lewisohn and others, was formed as a pool for purposes to be determined and carried out by the defendant and said Lewisohn, in the exercise of their own discretion
27 exclusively, after their acquisition of the shares of the capital stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company to be purchased by them from the Simpson Estate and from William Keyser. It was agreed that said Lewisohn and the defendant should purchase and pay for said shares as aforesaid and in their own names hold and deal with the same and with the property of said company as to them should seem best; and that their associates in the syndicate should receive so much only of the profit realized in the enterprise as the defendant and said Lewisohn might deem it proper to distribute among them, and that the remaining profit should be retained by said Lewisohn and the defendant to their own use. The members of the syndicate agreed to pay into the pool stated sums upon the terms aforesaid, and to pay such sums to the defendant and Lewisohn as follows: Fourteen per cent May 27, 1895; twenty-eight and two thirds per cent July 26, 1895; twenty-eight and two thirds per cent August 26, 1895; twenty-eight and two-thirds per cent Sept. 24, 1895, with interest at the rate of five per cent. Said payments were duly met as they severally became due.

On May 28, 1895, the defendant and said Lewisohn exercised the option conferred by the aforesaid contract with the executors of the will of Michael Simpson, paying to said executors $100,000, which they furnished in equal shares from their own moneys, and delivering notes made by said Lewisohn and indorsed by the defendant for $614,280 payable in 30, 60 and 90 days, with interest at the rate of five per cent per annum; and said executors delivered to the Old Colony Trust Company the said 17,857 shares of stock, indorsed in blank, to be held by said company upon the trust aforesaid.

5. On June 10, 1895, William Keyser agreed to sell his 28 shares of the capital stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, to wit, 7,143 shares, to said Lewisohn for $40 per share or $285,720 in all, and upon the same general conditions set out in the aforesaid contract between Meredith and the executors of the Simpson will; and thereupon notes for said amount of $285,720 made by said Lewisohn and indorsed by the defendant were delivered to said Keyser, and said Keyser delivered the shares of stock indorsed in blank, to the Old Colony Trust Company to hold as collateral security for the payment of said notes, and to turn over to the defendant and said Lewisohn when said notes should be paid.

6. On or about June 20, 1895, the notes which had been executed by said Lewisohn and the defendant to the executors of the will of Michael Simpson and to William Keyser as aforesaid were paid by said Lewisohn, and on the same day a meeting of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company was held at which all the shares of the capital stock were transferred to said Lewisohn and the defendant, and a new board of directors was chosen, consisting of said Lewisohn, the defendant, William Keyser, P. Brent Keyser, George A. Pope; and the defendant was chosen president and Allen W. Evarts secretary. The mines of said company had been worked by the company at a large profit for many years. The defendant and said Lewisohn upon acquiring the shares of stock of the company continued the operation of the mines at a profit until the same were conveyed to the plaintiff corporation. In addition to the purchase price paid for the shares of stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, the defendant and said Lewisohn paid out large sums of money for necessary expenses incurred by them in the transactions herein set out.

7. On or about July 8, 1895, the plaintiff corporation was 29 organized, and thereafterward the property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company was conveyed to the plaintiff corporation and paid for by it by the issue of one hundred thousand shares of its capital stock, as set out in paragraphs 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14 and 16 of the bill. The defendant admits the allegations of said paragraphs, saving the allegations as to the conspiracy, purpose and plan therein set forth, and the allegations as to the selection, nomination and employment by the defendant of attorneys, incorporators, directors and officers of the plaintiff corporation, and as to instructions, orders and directions by the defendant to said attorneys, incorporators, directors and officers, as to the manner in which said directors and officers, became shareholders in order that they might be qualified to act as directors and officers, and as to their actual non-interest, which he denies.

8. The one hundred thousand shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff corporation issued by it to Philip K. Dumaresq as the nominee of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, on or about Sept. 18, 1895, in payment for the conveyance of property made to it by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, as alleged in paragraph sixteen of the bill, were tranferred by said Dumaresq to the defendant and said Lewisohn, and subsequently, to wit, on or about Sept. 24, 1895, the defendant and said Lewisohn, upon payment to them of the last instalment payable under the syndicate agreement hereinbefore set out, distributed said shares among the members of the syndicate in proportion to the respective interests of such members, except in the case of a few members who elected to take the money value of the shares, such money value being paid to them by the defendant and said Lewisohn. Said shares were of the fair market value of twenty-five dollars each at the time when they were issued
30 and transferred as aforesaid. The defendant admits that the plaintiff corporation was formed for the purpose of acquiring and working the mines of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, but the defendant avers that in the transactions relative to the purchase of the shares of stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, neither he nor said Lewisohn acted or was bound to act in behalf of or for the benefit of the plaintiff corporation, but on the contrary that they acted and had the right to act solely for themselves; that they acquired said shares of stock with their own moneys prior to the time when they contemplated or decided upon the formation of the plaintiff corporation, and under such circumstances, as herein stated, that the plaintiff corporation is not entitled to claim the benefit of their purchase or their profit. No steps were taken toward the promotion or formation of the plaintiff corporation until subsequent to the purchase of all said shares of stock and payment therefor in full by the defendant and said Lewisohn as aforesaid. The associates of said Lewisohn and the defendant in the syndicate acquired their interest under said syndicate agreement prior to the time when the formation of the plaintiff corporation was first contemplated, and made full payment out of their own moneys for their interest before any of the shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff corporation came into their hands.

9. At the time when the plaintiff corporation made its purchase of the mining properties from the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, as hereinbefore stated, and of the mines and mining
31 claims upon said Lewisohn, as hereinafter in paragraph ten, the defendant and said Lewisohn and their associates in the syndicate were the only shareholders of the plaintiff corporation; and all said shareholders had full knowledge of the facts relative to the purchase by the defendant and said Lewisohn of the shares of the capital stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company and of the mines and mining claims hereinafter referred to in paragraph ten, and the price paid therefor, and also of the facts in connection with the formation and organization of the plaintiff corporation, and the purchase by it of the property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company and of said mines and mining claims. The authorized capital of the plaintiff corporation was $3,750,000 divided into 150,000 shares of $25. each. By the terms of the contracts of purchase and sale hereinbefore and hereinafter referred to, 100,000 shares were to be issued to the Baltimore Old Dominion Company or its nominees, and 30,000 shares to Lewisohn and his nominees. It was determined to issue the remaining 20,000 shares at par, in order to provide a working capital; but it was never contemplated that they should be offered to or taken by the public, and no prospectus was issued. A subscription paper was opened, not to the public, but exclusively to members of the syndicate by whom it was expected that all said shares would be taken. The defendant and said Lewisohn stood ready to take any shares not taken by their associates in the syndicate. In fact, the said shares were subscribed for and taken by members of the syndicate, with the exception of a few shares which certain friends of such members were allowed to take wholly on their own solicitation. The defendant cannot now state whether he did or did not disclose to the 32 few persons, not members of the syndicate, who took shares as aforesaid, the facts as to the prior purchase of the stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company by himself and said Lewisohn, and the price paid by them therefor, or the facts as to the interest of the syndicate hereinbefore set out. But he avers that if such persons made inquiry of him he did disclose the facts to them fairly, fully and without concealment. He further avers that, if in the absence of inquiry he omitted to disclose any facts, he had no intention thereby to conceal such facts, but believed that said persons had full information from their friends in the syndicate through whom, and not by reason of any invitation on his part or on the part of said Lewisohn or on the part of the plaintiff corporation, they became subscribers. And he denies that said persons did not have knowledge of the facts relative to the transactions herein set out. The defendant avers that he and the said Lewisohn acted in good faith, that they consulted competent counsel, to wit, the firm of Evarts, Beaman and Choate, of the City of New York, as to all the matters and things herein set out before taking action relative thereto, that they took no action not passed upon or recommended by said counsel, and that they were advised by said counsel that their action was in all respects proper and legal. The defendant avers that he believed at and subsequent to the time when the purchase by the plaintiff corporation from the Baltimore Old Dominion Company and from said Lewisohn, set out in the bill was made, and now believes, that such purchase, under the conditions and prospects which then existed, was advantageous to the corporation and at a fair price. And he denies that he secretly or otherwise received any profit in the transactions herein set forth to which he was not justly and legally entitled.

10. As to the mines and mining claims known as the Old
33 Dominion Mine, the New York Mine, the Chicago Mine, the Keystone Mine, and a certain parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so called, in Arizona, referred to in the plaintiff's bill, but excepted from the matters and things concerning which relief is sought in and by said bill, the defendant avers the facts which he is advised are material to this cause to be as follows:

11. At and prior to the time when the defendant and said Lewisohn exercised the option to purchase the shares of stock held by the Simpson Estate, they were not aware that the Baltimore Old Dominion Company was the beneficial owner of said mines and mining claims and land, but they learned that fact when negotiating for the purchase of the shares of stock from William Keyser, hereinbefore set out, and insisted that said mines and mining claims should follow the ownership of the stock, and thereupon said Keyser and the executors of the will of Michael Simpson agreed with them that as a part of the contracts for the sale of the shares of stock owned by them respectively, and as a part of the consideration for the purchase of said shares, said mines and mining claims and land should be conveyed by said Keyser to said Lewisohn upon payment of the notes given in accordance with the requirements of said contracts. And it was agreed between said Lewisohn and the defendant that said Lewisohn should hold the title to said mines and mining rights and land as property acquired under the aforesaid contracts, to be dealt with by them according to the terms of their agreement with the syndicate hereinbefore set out. Upon payment of the notes given by the defendant and said Lewisohn to Keyser and to the Simpson Estate, to wit, on or about June 20, 1895, said mines and mining claims and land were conveyed by said Keyser to said Lewisohn. The defendant avers that
34 said mines and mining claims and land were purchased by himself and by said Lewisohn as aforesaid, and were paid for by them out of their own moneys before any steps were taken toward the promotion or formation of the plaintiff corporation; that they made and had the right to make the purchase for themselves, and that the plaintiff corporation is not entitled to claim the benefit of the purchase or their profit.

12. On the same day and at the same time that the property, the title to which stood in the name of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, was conveyed by said company to the plaintiff corporation, as hereinbefore set out, said Lewisohn conveyed said mines and mining claims and land to the plaintiff corporation. As the purchase price for said conveyance, the Baltimore Old Dominion Company received one hundred thousand shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff corporation issued to its nominee Philip K. Dumaresq, and said Lewisohn received thirty thousand shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff corporation issued to himself and to his nominee the defendant. In form, the transaction was separable as to the property held by the company and the property held by Lewisohn, but in reality the contract for the purchase and sale of all said property was an entire contract for the purchase and sale of said property as a whole for an entire price, to wit, one hundred and thirty thousand shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff corporation. The transaction, while an entire transaction in fact, was made divisible in form by advice of counsel for the purposes of convenience.

13. And the defendant, in addition to the foregoing answer, avers that the cause of action, if any there may be, arising to the plaintiff corporation, on account or by reason of the several allegations and complaints in the bill contained, did not accrue within 35 six years before the said bill was filed; and that the plaintiff is guilty of laches and this allegation the defendant makes in bar of the bill, and prays that he may have the same benefit therefrom as if he had formerly pleaded the same.

ALFRED HEMENWAY,
Solicitor for the Defendant.

And on the twenty sixth day of said December, the plaintiff joined issue upon the defendant's answer.

And on the thirteenth day of November, A. D. 1903, the defendant filed a motion to amend his answer, which said motion was allowed, the same being in the words following, to wit:

Defendant's Motion to Amend Answer.

And now comes the defendant and moves to amend his answer by striking out from the ninth paragraph thereof that portion beginning with the word "By" in the thirteenth line on page seven, and ending with the word "out" in the thirteenth line on page eighth, and substituting therefor the following:

The defendant says that at the time when the plaintiff corporation purchased the property standing in the name of the Baltimore Old Dominion Mining Company and the mines and mining claims and land as hereinbefore and hereinafter set forth, it was agreed between the parties to such purchase and sale, as a part of the transaction, that the defendant and said Lewisohn should not only cause the title to said property and mines, mining claims and land to be vested in the plaintiff corporation, but also furnish the plaintiff corporation with a working capital of five hundred thousand dollars in cash, and that the plaintiff corporation should issue to them or their nominees its entire capital stock, to wit, one hundred 36 and fifty thousand shares of the par value of twenty-five dollars each. And the defendant says that the plaintiff corporation, in pursuance of said agreement, upon the conveyance of said property, mines, mining claims and land to it, issued all of its said shares to the following named persons: the defendant and said Lewisohn, and Philip K. Dumaresq and Thomas Nelson, as agents and nominees of the defendants and said Lewisohn, that is to say, one hundred thousand shares to said Dumaresq nominally on account of the property standing in the name of the Baltimore Old Dominion Mining Company, thirty thousand shares to the defendant and said Lewisohn nominally on account of the mines, mining claims and land, and twenty thousand shares to said Nelson nominally on account of the working capital of five hundred thousand dollars to be furnished by the defendant and said Lewisohn; that said persons, as holders and owners of the entire capital stock of the plaintiff corporation, procured and consented to the issue of said entire capital stock to themselves, as performance by the plaintiff corporation of its part of the aforesaid agreement; that the defendant and said Lewisohn fully performed their part of said agreement; that subsequent shareholders acquired their shares, not from the plaintiff corporation, but from the then owners of said shares, namely, the defendant and said Lewisohn, either directly or through their nominees, the said Nelson and Dumaresq; and that none of said shares were offered to the public, by prospectus or otherwise, by or in behalf of the corporation, but were disposed of to various persons by the defendant and said Lewisohn under contracts of subscription which they took and received wholly on their own account, as the owners of said shares; wherefore the plaintiff corporation is not entitled to complain of the transaction set out in the bill, said transactions having been performed at the instance and with the consent of the holders of its entire capital stock.

37 The defendant further moves to amend his answer by adding after the word "corporation" in the seventeenth line of paragraph 12 the following:

And as a part of the transaction, the defendant and said Lewisohn agreed to furnish the plaintiff corporation with a working capital of five hundred thousand dollars in cash, and received from the plaintiff corporation the remaining twenty thousand shares of its capital stock, issued to their nominee and agent Thomas Nelson. The defendant says that the agreement with the plaintiff corporation which was in fact made and carried out was an entire agreement, to wit, that said Lewisohn and the defendant, who owned all the shares of the capital stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and said mines and mining claims, and land should not only cause the title of the property standing in the name of said Company, and of said mines, mining claims and land to be vested in the plaintiff corporation, but also furnish the plaintiff corporation with a working capital of five hundred thousand dollars in cash, and that the plaintiff corporation should issue to them or their nominees its entire capital stock, to wit, one hundred and fifty thousand shares.

ALBERT S. BIGELOW,
By his Solicitor, ALFRED HEMENWAY.

And on the sixth day of November, A. D. 1907, the defendant filed his Substituted Answer, by leave of Court, the same being in the words following, to wit:

Defendant's Answer.

1. The defendant admits the allegations contained in the first, second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth paragraphs of the 38 plaintiff's bill, but avers that the title alleged in the second paragraph to have been held by William Keyser was held by him in trust for the Baltimore Old Dominion Company. The defendant admits the allegations contained in paragraphs eight, nine, ten, twelve, thirteen, fourteen and sixteen of the bill, subject to the qualifications stated in paragraph nineteen of this answer and except in so far as inconsistent with later matter set forth in this answer, in which case the allegations are denied.

2. The defendant denies the allegations contained in paragraphs three, four, five, six, seven, eleven, fifteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, and twenty-five of the bill, except as to such matters and things set out in said allegations as are hereinafter specifically admitted.

3. Further answering, the defendant says that on April 30, 1895, J. Morris Meredith procured from one of the executors of the will of Michael F. Simpson an option to himself and his assigns for the purchase of 17,857 shares of the capital stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company belonging to the estate of said Michael F. Simpson, said 17,857 shares being five-sevenths of the entire capital stock of said Baltimore Company. This option was superseded by a contract executed May 4, 1895, by and between said Meredith and all the executors of said will. By the terms of this contract Meredith was given the right in consideration of $2,000 paid by him to the executors to purchase said 17,857 shares of stock from said executors on or before May 28, 1895, for $40 a share, or $714,285 in all, payable $100,000 in cash and the balance in satisfactory notes of thirty, sixty and ninety days, bearing interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum, the shares of stock to be delivered endorsed in blank to the Old Colony Trust Company in trust to hold as collateral security for the payment of the notes, and upon their 39 payment to deliver to said Meredith or his assigns. It was stipulated that the surplus assets of the company, consisting of ingot copper, pig copper, and notes and bills receivable should be excepted and that the company should be free of debt. Said Meredith agreed that if required upon notice and tender he would purchase any or all of the remaining two-sevenths of the shares of stock of said Baltimore Company at the same pro rata price and upon the same general terms and conditions as above set forth. This contract ran to Meredith and his assigns, and after its execution it was sold and assigned by said Meredith to Leonard Lewisohn.

4. Thereafter, on or before May 15, 1895, said Lewisohn agreed to give the defendant one-half of his interest under said contract, and the defendant paid said Lewisohn $1000 as one-half the consideration given for said contract, and agreed to take one-half interest in said contract and to furnish one-half of the purchase price provided for by said contract. At this time there was no contract, plan or understanding in regard to the acquisition of said remaining two-sevenths of said stock of said Baltimore Company other than a willingness to purchase the same in accordance with the terms of said contract between said Baltimore Company and said Meredith, as above set forth.

5. Thereafter the defendant and said Lewisohn, each having severally undertaken to provide one-half ($357,142.50) the consideration ($714,285) provided for in said contract, each made arrangements to provide for obtaining his share of said consideration. In this respect, however, there was no privity or understanding between the defendant and said Lewisohn, each making his own arrangements irrespective of the other, said arrangements in no wise affecting the relation of said Lewisohn and the defendant, and said Lewisohn and the defendant remaining the sole per-
40 sons holding said option or contract for said five-sevenths of said capital stock of said Baltimore Company.

The defendant accordingly entered into an arrangement with five other persons, whereby the defendant and said persons agreed to take and pay for the defendant's proportion of said 17,857 shares of the Baltimore Company, to-wit, 8928 shares, at the same price, to-wit, $40 per share, as provided in said contract or option of Meredith which had been assigned to said Lewisohn.

The terms of said arrangement are set forth in the following copy of the original agreement, but although said agreement is dated May 22, 1895, said arrangement had been made with said five other persons on or prior to May 16, 1895.

"Whereas A. S. Bigelow has contracted to purchase eighty-nine hundred and twenty-eight (8928) shares of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company, a Corporation organized under the laws of Maryland, and owning property in Arizona, at Forty Dollars ($40) per share, or thereabouts, the undersigned hereby agree to take the number of shares set opposite their respective names and pay for the same at the rate of Forty Dollars ($40) per share; the said stock to remain in the hands of A. S. Bigelow, and the management of the property to be left with him.

Payments to be made as follows:—

May 27th, 1895, fourteen per cent (14%)

July 26th 1895, Twenty-eight and two thirds per cent (28 2-3%) and interest at 5% from date of first payment.

August 25th, 1895, Twenty-eight and two thirds per cent (28 2-3%) and interest at 5% from date of first payment.

September 24, 1895, Twenty eight and two thirds per cent
41 (28 2-3%) and interest at 5% from date of first payment.

The conditions, covenants and agreements herein contained shall be binding on the substitutes, successors, heirs, representatives and assigns of the respective subscribers hereto.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and opposite thereto the amounts of our subscriptions respectively, this 22d day of May A. D., 1895:

Matthew Luce	$ 100,000
A. S. Bigelow	50,000
J. A. Coram	100,000
Henry M. Whitney	50,000
J. Morris Meredith	25,000
(in pencil)
Thomas Nelson	32,142.50
(in pencil)	$357,142.50

6. By reason of the circumstances hereinafter set forth the parties to the said agreement were never called upon to fulfill the terms thereof, but it was the intention and understanding of the defendant that said Luce, Coram, Whitney, Meredith and Nelson should thereby become entitled to an interest with the defendant in the profits of said contract or option of said Meredith, and the defendant thereafter divided with said persons profits made by him, not only from his interest in said contract or option of said Meredith, but also profits made by him from the entire transaction.

7. On or about May 24, 1895, the defendant began to form a syndicate called the Old Dominion Syndicate as a means of reimbursing himself in part for moneys to be expended in the 42 fulfillment of said contract or option of said Meredith. This Syndicate was formed as a pool for purposes to be determined and carried out by the defendant in the exercise of his uncontrolled discretion, the terms of said syndicate subscription being set forth in several papers of the same tenor but different dates.

A copy of the form of said papers follows:

"We the undersigned propose to form a syndicate to be called the Old Dominion Syndicate.

And we hereby agree to pay to A. S. Bigelow the sums set against our respective names.

Subscriptions to this syndicate shall be payable as follows:

May 27, 1895, fourteen per cent (14 per cent).

July 26, 1895, twenty-eight and two thirds per cent (28 2-3 per cent) and interest at five per cent from date of first payment.

August 25, 1895, twenty-eight and two thirds per cent (28 2-3 per cent) and interest at five per cent from date of first payment.

September 24, 1895, twenty-eight and two thirds per cent (28 2-3 per cent) and interest at five per cent from date of first payment.

It is expressly agreed and understood that each subscriber hereto acts for himself alone and that the relation of partners shall not exist or be deemed to exist between the subscribers hereto by virtue hereof.

The conditions, covenants and agreements herein contained shall be binding on the substitutes, successors, heirs, representatives and assigns of the respective subscribers hereto.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and opposite thereto the amounts of our subscriptions respectively this 43 twenty-first day of May, A. D. 1895."

8. It was the intention, understanding and agreement of all parties that said Lewisohn and the defendant, having purchased and paid for said shares as aforesaid and holding them in their own names, should deal with the same as to them should respectively seem best; and that the associates in the syndicate should receive so much only of the profit realized in the enterprise as the defendant might deem it fair and proper to distribute among them, and that the remaining profit should be retained by the defendant to his own use.

9. On or about May 28, 1895, the defendant and said Lewisohn exercised the option conferred by the aforesaid contract of Meredith with the executors of the will of Michael Simpson, paying to said executors $100,000, which they furnished in equal shares from their own moneys, and delivering notes made by said Lewisohn and endorsed by the defendant for $614,285, payable in thirty, sixty and ninety days, with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum; and said executors delivered to the Old Colony Trust Company the said 17,857 shares of stock, endorsed in blank, to be held by said company upon the trust aforesaid.

10. On or about June 13, 1895, the owners of the remaining two-sevenths of the stock of said Baltimore Company, to-wit, William Keyser and others, agreed, in the name of Keyser, to sell their shares of the capital stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, to-wit, 7143 shares, to said Lewisohn for $40 per share, or $285,715 in all, $40,000 in cash payable June 20, 1895 and the balance in notes then to be delivered, and upon the same general conditions set out in the aforesaid contract between Meredith and the executors

11. It was also agreed between the defendant and Lewisohn that in said two-sevenths of the stock of said Baltimore Company the defendant should have an interest of two-thirds and said Lewisohn of one-third; so that the defendant's interest in the entire transaction was one-half of five-sevenths plus two-thirds of two-sevenths, or twenty-three forty-seconds, or 547-1000.

12. At and prior to the time when the defendant and said Lewisohn exercised the option to purchase the shares of stock held by the Simpson estate, they had no knowledge of the fact that the Baltimore Old Dominion Company was the beneficial owner of the mines, mining claims and lands known as the Old Dominion mines, the New York mine, the Chicago mine, the Keystone mine, and a certain parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so-called, in Arizona, being the mines, mining claims and land referred to in the plaintiff's bill. During the negotiation for the purchase of the shares of stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company held by William Keyser, they learned that although the legal title to said mines and mining claims stood in the name of said William Keyser, that the Baltimore Old Dominion Company was the beneficial owner of said mines, mining claims and land. Thereupon they insisted that said mines, mining claims and land should follow the ownership of the stock. The said Keyser and the executors of the will of Michael Simpson thereupon agreed that said mines, mining claims and land should be conveyed by said Keyser to said Lewisohn upon the payment of the notes given in accordance with the requirements of said contracts for the purchase of the shares of stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, hereinbefore referred to; and it was agreed between said Lewisohn and the defendant that said Lewisohn should hold, when conveyed to him, the title to said mines, mining claims and land 45 as property acquired under the aforesaid contracts.

13. After the said agreement for the purchase of said remaining two-sevenths of the shares of said Baltimore Company was concluded, and it was thereby determined that the total amount of money to be paid by said Lewisohn and the defendant was to be $1,000,000 in all, the said Old Dominion Syndicate was enlarged on the same terms as heretofore set forth.

14. On or about June 20, 1895, all the shares of the said Baltimore Company having been theretofore deposited in the Old Colony Trust Company in accordance with the terms of the said agreements with the executors of said Simpson and William Keyser, the cash payment to Keyser was made and the first notes to Keyser and the said executors were paid by said Lewisohn and the defendant. On the same date there was held in Baltimore a meeting of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company at which the control of said Company was transferred to said Lewisohn and the defendant; at the said meeting of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company a new board of directors being chosen consisting of said Lewisohn, the defendant, William Keyser, P. Brent Keyser and George A. Pope. The defendant was chosen president and Allen W. Evarts secretary.

15. The said mines of the said Baltimore Company had been worked by the Baltimore Company at a large profit for many years; and the defendant and said Lewisohn continued the operation of the mines of the said Baltimore Company under and through the said Baltimore Company until the plaintiff corporation was formed, the said mines and property were conveyed to it and it undertook the operation thereof. In addition to the purchase price paid for the shares of stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, the defendant and said Lewisohn paid out large sums of money for operating expenses at the mines and for necessary expenses in-
46 curred by them in the transactions hereinbefore set forth, and expended a large amount of valuable time and service in regard to said transactions.

16. It was not until some time about July 1st, 1895, or thereafter, that the defendant and said Lewisohn formed any definite plan or intention for the ultimate disposition of said stock of said Baltimore Company, and not until long after said Lewisohn and the defendant, as purchasers, had paid for said stock to said executors of said Simpson and said Keyser, was the formation of a new corporation determined upon.

17. Thereafter said Lewisohn and the defendant consulted eminent counsel, to wit, Messrs. Evarts, Choate & Beaman of New York, who advised the formation of a New Jersey corporation. Said Lewisohn and the defendant informed counsel that they would convey or cause to be conveyed to such new corporation all the property of the said Baltimore Company, the said mining claims which said

Keyser had agreed to convey to said Lewisohn, and $500,000. for working capital; and in return said Lewisohn and the defendant were to have all the capital stock of said corporation. Said Lewisohn and the defendant thereafter determined that the new corporation should be capitalized at $3,750,000, divided into 150,000 shares of the par value of $25 each, and thereupon left the details of the organization of said corporation to their counsel.

18. The defendant avers that said stock and said mines, mining claims and land were purchased by himself and by said Lewisohn as aforesaid, and were paid for by them before any steps were taken towards the promotion or formation of the plaintiff corporation and before the defendant and said Lewisohn had formed the purpose, intent or plan of forming said corporation; that said stock and said mines, mining claims and land were rightfully purchased 47 by the said defendant and said Lewisohn as and for their own individual property, and that the plaintiff corporation is not entitled to claim the benefit or profit of such purchase.

19. On or about July 11th, 1895, the plaintiff corporation was organized. The defendant admits that the allegations as set forth in paragraphs 8, 9, 10, 12, 13, 14 and 16 of the plaintiff's bill contain a substantially correct statement of the facts and dates of the formation of the plaintiff corporation, but he denies all the allegations contained in said paragraphs as to conspiracy, purpose and plan therein set forth and the allegations as to the selection, nomination and employment by the defendant of attorneys, incorporators, directors and officers of the plaintiff corporation, and as to instructions, orders and directions by the defendant to said attorneys, incorporators, directors and officers; and as to the manner in which said directors and officers became shareholders in order that they might be qualified to act as directors and officers and as to their actual non-interest.

20. Thereafter it was agreed between the plaintiff corporation and the defendant and said Lewisohn that the defendant and said Lewisohn should convey or cause to be conveyed to the plaintiff corporation all the property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, including the mines, mining claims and land conveyed by said Keyser to said Lewisohn, and which then stood in the name of said Lewisohn, and should furnish the plaintiff corporation with a working capital of $500,000 in cash. That in consideration therefor the plaintiff corporation should issue to the defendant and said Lewisohn or their nominees and to the nominees of said Baltimore Company, of which said Lewisohn and the defendant owned the entire capital stock, its entire capital stock, to wit, 150,000 shares.

48 21. The transaction which thereafter took place, though in form separate, were in fact all in pursuance of the said agreement. In form the transactions were separable as to the property held by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, the said mines, mining claims and lands held by Lewisohn, and the capital to be furnished by the said Lewisohn and the defendant; but really the contract for the purchase and sale of all said property and for the furnishing of said capital was an entire contract and for an entire price, to wit, all the capital stock, or 150,000 shares, of the plaintiff corporation.

22. The said transactions which thereafter took place as above stated were the conveyance to the plaintiff corporation of the property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company by said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, the conveyance by said Lewisohn of said mines, mining claims and land to the plaintiff corporation, the obligation and later fulfilment of said obligation by the defendant and said Lewisohn to furnish a working capital of $500,000 to said plaintiff corporation. Upon the conveyance of said property, mines, mining claims and land, and upon the undertaking of the defendant and said Lewisohn to furnish the said capital of $500,000, the plaintiff corporation issued all of its said shares, to wit, 150,000 shares, to the following named persons: the defendant and said Lewisohn, Philip K. Dumaresq, as the agent and nominee of said Baltimore Company, the total capital stock whereof was owned by said defendant and said Lewisohn, and Thomas Nelson, acting for the defendant, the syndicate managed by the defendant and said Lewisohn, that is to say, one hundred thousand shares to said Dumaresq nominally on account of the property standing in the name of the Baltimore Old Dominion Mining Company, thirty thousand shares to the defendant and said Lewisohn, nominally on ac-
49 count of the mines, mining claims and land, and twenty thousand shares to said Nelson, nominally on account of the working capital of $500,000 to be furnished by the defendant and said Lewisohn. And the defendant further says that said persons, as holders and owners of the entire capital stock of the plaintiff corporation, procured and consented to the issue of said entire capital stock to themselves, as performance by the plaintiff corporation of its part of the aforesaid agreement; that the defendant and said Lewisohn fully performed their part of said agreement; that subsequent shareholders acquired their shares, not from the plaintiff corporation but from the owners of said shares, namely, the defendant and said Lewisohn, either directly or through their agents, the said Nelson and Dumaresq; and that none of said shares were offered to the public, by prospectus or otherwise, by or in behalf of the corporation, but were disposed of to various persons by the defendant and said Lewisohn under contracts of subscriptions which they took and received wholly on their own account, as the owners of said shares.

23. Thereafter the defendant was solicited by many friends and acquaintances to allow them to purchase some of his shares of stock in the plaintiff corporation. In order to in part reimburse the defendant and said Lewisohn for the moneys paid by them for the purchase of the stock in the said Baltimore Company, and in order to assist said Lewisohn and the defendant in fulfilling their obligation of furnishing $500,000 to the plaintiff corporation, the defendant formed a list upon which were set down the offers to him to purchase his said stock.

24. It thereafter appeared that many of the persons who, by the Old Dominion Syndicate papers, had agreed to pay certain sums of money to the defendant, desired in some way to take all 50 profit or reimbursement to which the defendant might determine them entitled in the form of stock in the plaintiff corporation, in lieu of money. It was moreover agreed between the defendant and said Lewisohn that said Lewisohn should take as part reimbursement for the moneys paid by him for the purchase of the stock of said Baltimore Company, stock in the plaintiff corporation.

25. Accordingly the defendant on July 19th sent a circular letter to the members of the Old Dominion Syndicate, including said Lewisohn, a copy of the form of said circular letter being as follows:

(Letter of July 19.)

"A number of the largest subscribers to the Old Dominion syndicate have requested that they be allowed to take shares in the new company at a par value of $25 in lieu of the money which they originally advanced and which was to be repaid to them from the proceeds of the new stock. As a subscriber to the syndicate, you are hereby informed that it has been decided to grant this request. If you wish to avail yourself of the opportunity, you must notify me in writing on or before August 1, 1895, after which date this option will positively expire.

(Signed) A. S. BIGELOW."

26. Nearly all of the members of the Old Dominion Syndicate notified the defendant that they desired to purchase his stock in the plaintiff corporation to the extent of the option afforded them by said letter of July 19th, and certain members of the syndicate also offered to buy from the defendant further shares of said stock at the rate of $25 per share, and certain other friends and acquaintances offered to buy still further shares of stock at the same rate.

51 27. The defendant determined to allot to the members of the Old Dominion Syndicate as their profit in the transaction 40,000 shares, and further determined to sell 60,000 shares of the stock owned by him and said Lewisohn in accordance with these several offers. Said offers in the aggregate were for 72,120 shares, were all addressed to the defendant personally, were from friends and acquaintances of the defendant, and neither the defendant nor anyone on his behalf or on the behalf of the corporation made any representation, misrepresentation or solicitation to obtain said offers and concealed nothing from anyone. Thereupon it was determined to accept said offers in part, and the defendant did so according to his personal and uncontrolled discretion, arbitrarily determining which of said offers he would accept, which he would reject, and which accept in part and reject in part.

28. It having been determined by the defendant to return to each syndicate member one share for each $25 subscribed to the defendant by the Old Dominion Syndicate paper, and for how many shares he would accept the offer of those persons offering new cash, whether said persons were originally members of the Old Dominion

Syndicate or otherwise, the defendant thereupon notified said persons appearing on the said "List of July 18" by sending to each circular letters of one of the following forms:

"Sears Building, Boston, Mass., Aug. 13, 1895.

Referring to your subscription to the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, you are hereby notified that (—) shares have been allotted to you at $25 a share. Notice will be sent in due course when payment for this should be made.

Besides this, you will receive — shares on your subscription of $— to the Old Dominion Syndicate, being the stock taken by you in accordance with circular of July 19th, 1895; and, of 52 course, in addition, the — shares to which you are entitled under your original subscription to the Old Dominion Syndicate.

In other words, on a further payment by you of $— you will be entitled to — shares of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company. When the stock is ready for delivery you will be notified.

A. S. BIGELOW."

To —— ——.

"Boston, Mass., August 23, 1895.

Referring to your subscription to the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, you are hereby notified that shares have been allotted to you at $25 a share. Notice will be sent in due course when payment for this should be made and also of the time when the stock will be ready for delivery.

(Signed) A. S. BIGELOW."

29. The defendant by this acceptance having obligated himself to deliver shares to those persons whose offer he had accepted, thereafter delivered said shares in accordance with this obligation.

30. The entire capital stock of the plaintiff corporation, to wit, 150,000 shares, was issued to the defendant, to said Lewi-ohn or to their nominees, and to persons having full and complete knowledge of all transactions entered into by the corporation and all matters in relation thereto or connected therewith, and each and every stockholder in the plaintiff corporation acquiesced in the transaction complained of or acquired his interest or share in said corporation
53 from some one or more of the persons who so acquiesced.

31. All the aforesaid transactions were done with the utmost publicity, full and truthful information being given to all persons making inquiry, and the account of said transactions appeared in the public press and in the columns of financial journals, before there was any contract completed between the defendant and the persons offering to buy his stock. Absolutely no misrepresentation of any kind was made by the defendant or by anyone connected with the corporation, and there was no concealment of any of said transactions or of anything in relation to them. There was absolutely no solicitation of purchasers for the defendant's stock in the plaintiff corporation, and no stock was sold by the defendant or by the corporation except stock of the defendant's to persons who had requested the defendant personally to allow them to purchase said stock, and no contracts for the sale or purchase of stock were made except between the defendant individually and persons purchasing from them.

32. In return for the said 150,000 shares of the stock of the plaintiff corporation, the defendant and said Lewisohn gave the plaintiff corporation moneys and property purchased with their own money and for their own use, which moneys and property were and are, and which they then believed and still believe to be of far greater value than the par value of said 150,000 shares of the plaintiff corporation's stock. No shareholder paying $25 for his share or shares of stock has been in any wise deceived; he has received full value, and said stock has been and now is of far higher value than its par value.

33. The conveyance to the plaintiff of said mining claims was a part of the entire transaction, as above stated, and moreover was a part of a contract by the defendant and said Lewisohn to 54 convey or cause to be conveyed the property of said Baltimore Company and said mining claims as an entire transaction and contract and not severally; and for an entire price and not a several price; and neither said Lewisohn and the defendant nor the plaintiff corporation intended or was willing to separate said transactions or would have been willing to make or perform one part of said contract without the other. Said property of the Baltimore Company and said mining claims were and are and were believed and still are believed by the defendant to be of a fair value greatly in excess of the par value of the stock received therefor.

34. The stockholders of the plaintiff corporation have on September 18th, 1899, April 5, 1899, June 15th, 1899 and April 3d, 1901, ratified and acquiesced in all said transactions, and at none of those times, except perhaps the first, did the defendant and said Lewisohn or either of them control the said plaintiff corporation or the action of its stockholders.

35. The transactions, matters and contracts complained of in the plaintiff's bill took place and were made in the state of New York, by the laws whereof said transactions, matters and contracts are valid and cannot be complained of.

36. The defendant denies each and every allegation in the plaintiff's bill contained as fully and specifically as if each of said allegations was separately recited and denied, except in so far as said allegations have been herein specifically admitted.

37. And the defendant, in addition to the foregoing answer, avers that the cause of action, if any there may be, arising to the plaintiff corporation on account or by reason of the several allegations and complaints in the bill contained, did not accrue within six years before the said bill was filed and that the plaintiff is guilty of 55 laches; and this allegation the defendant makes in bar of the bill and prays that he may have the same benefit therefrom as if he had formally pleaded the same.

Wherefore the defendant prays that the plaintiff's bill may be dismissed with costs.

By his Solicitor, J. W. FARLEY.

Of Counsel:
ALFRED HEMENWAY.
EUGENE TREADWELL.

And on the eleventh day of said November, the plaintiff filed its amendment to its Bill of Complaint, which was allowed, the said amendment being in the words following, to wit:

Amendment to Bill of Complaint.

In the above entitled case the plaintiff amends the Bill of Complaint therein by striking out the Tenth paragraph thereof and substituting therefor the following:

Tenth. The defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn caused all the directors aforesaid, except said Montgomery, to assemble at the office in New York City of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers, of which firm said Leonard Lewisohn was a member, and all said directors except said Montgomery were present, and said Montgomery was absent, was not notified of said meeting, and did not waive notice thereof. Pursuant to instructions from the defendant, the resignation of said Montgomery as a director was presented to said other six persons and accepted, and the defendant was thereupon chosen by them a director in his place. Thereupon, pursuant to instructions from the defendant, the successive resignations of said Rowe as a 56 director, of said Welch as a director, of said Jesse Lewisohn as treasurer and as director, of said Evarts as president, and of said Riddlesdorffer as vice-president and as director were presented and duly accepted, and said Leonard Lewisohn, one Henry M. Whitney, one Thomas Nelson and one Joseph G. Ray were successively chosen directors by said persons present, and said Thomas Nelson was duly chosen treasurer and said defendant was duly chosen president of said corporation. Said defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn were present at said meeting, and upon their respective elections as directors took their places in said meeting, but said Whitney, said Nelson and said Ray were not present at said meeting, had no notice thereof, and did not waive notice thereof; and said meeting was not a legal meeting of the Board of Directors of the plaintiff corporation under and in accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey, and the acts done at said meeting were not valid and binding acts of said corporation or of the Board of Directors thereof.

The plaintiff further amends the Bill of Complaint in the above entitled case by adding in the Sixteenth paragraph thereof, in the tenth line of said paragraph, after the word "called" the words "and held in Boston in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts."

By its Attorneys, BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTEN.

And thereafterwards on the fifth day of December, A. D. 1907, after having heard the parties and their evidence and the arguments of counsel, the following Report of Facts and Order for Decree was filed by the Court (this case and case numbered 8098 having been heard together upon the same evidence) to wit:

Report of Facts Found at the Hearing and Order for Decree.

At the request of counsel for the plaintiff, I file the fol-
57 lowing statement of facts found by me, and this report, although filed in only one case, is intended to be applied to both of them.

For some time prior to April 1, 1895, the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore, Maryland, a corporation organized under the laws of Maryland and hereinafter called the Baltimore company, had been operating copper mines in Arizona. It had had a fair success, and had been paying dividends upon its stock, but to what amount did not appear. The defendant was largely interested in copper mining, and was the president of and interested in several mining companies. Leonard Lewisohn, of New York, both individually and as a member of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers and of a corporation of the same name, was also largely interested in copper. At some time in April, 1895, they formed a plan or device to secure control of the stock of the Baltimore company and to cause its property to be transferred to a new corporation which they should procure to be organized with a much larger capital, for a much increased price. The capital stock of the Baltimore company was $500,000, divided into 25,000 shares, of the par value of $20 each; and 5-7 of this stock, or 17,857 shares, were held by the executors of Michael H. Simpson, deceased, and 2-7, or 7,143 shares, were held by one William Keyser of Baltimore, and others represented by him. The defendant and said Lewisohn procured J. M. Meredith, a real estate broker of Boston, to negotiate with the executors of Simpson, and he did so. The executors were unwilling to deal with the defendant or to make any sale to him; but Meredith finally did obtain from them a written agreement, signed by one of them, dated April 30, 1895, for the sale to himself of their stock at the price of forty dollars a share upon the terms therein stated, for which Meredith paid
58 them down the sum of two thousand dollars. This agreement he forwarded to Lewisohn. Its form and provisions were unsatisfactory to Lewisohn's attorneys, and a new agreement or option was substituted for it, dated May 4, 1895, of which a copy is annexed, marked "A." Lewisohn repaid the $2000 to Meredith, and Meredith assigned the agreement to him. The defendant then repaid $1000 of this sum to Lewisohn. Afterwards, on June 13, 1895, a somewhat similar agreement was made by Lewisohn with William Keyser, for the purchase of the remaining 7,143 shares of the stock of the Baltimore company. A copy of this agreement is annexed, marked "B." There are mentioned also in this agreement certain other mining properties in Arizona, hereinafter called the outside properties. The legal title to these was held by William

Keyser, but really in trust, one-half for the Baltimore company and one-half to Simpson; but Keyser agreed, and all other parties in interest consented, that these should go with the stock of the Baltimore company, without any further consideration being paid.

The defendant, by the understanding between himself and Lewisohn, was to pay for and have one-half of the Simpson stock and two-thirds of the Keyser stock; Lewisohn was to take and pay for the rest; and they arranged to take, pay for and hold the whole, including both stock and outside properties, in the proportion of 547 parts to the defendant and 453 parts to Lewisohn, so that of the $1,000,000 dollars needed to carry through the transaction ($714,285 to the Simpson estate and $285,715 to Keyser and his associates) $547,000 was to be furnished by the defendant and $453,000 by Lewisohn. The defendant and Lewisohn availed themselves of these agreements; paid the price thereof before July 10, 1895, in advance of the coming due of their notes given therefor; and the 59 stocks were delivered to them, and the outside properties were conveyed to Lewisohn for them.

In the meantime they had proceeded to make their respective arrangements for the raising of the money needed to make these payments; for each one of them was to provide separately his money, although they were acting together in dealing with Simpson's executors and Keyser, and intended to act together in disposing of the stock when they should have acquired it.

For this purpose, the defendant, before taking up either of these options and before any agreement had been made with Keyser, procured first an underwriting agreement, which was made verbally before May 16, 1895, and afterwards was reduced to writing and dated May 22, 1895, and signed by Matthew Luce, J. A. Coram, Henry M. Whitney, Meredith, Thomas Nelson, and the defendant, whereby each of these parties agreed to take a certain number of the shares of the Baltimore company at $40 a share, the total price amounting to $357,142.50, or the amount to be paid by the defendant for his one-half part of the Simpson shares. But it was understood that these men, called the underwriters, were to be called upon to pay only for what should not be paid by the members of the syndicate hereafter mentioned, which was intended to be formed and which was soon after formed. A copy of this underwriting agreement is hereto annexed, marked "C."

The defendant also formed what was called the "Old Dominion Syndicate," hereinafter called his syndicate, to provide the means for making his payments, and to share in the profits expected to be realized. Those who joined the syndicate signed written agreements, of which the first (though actually subsequent to the underwriting agreement) was dated May 21, 1895. A copy of this first agreement is annexed, marked "D." Other papers of the same purport were dated May 24 and June 14, and a blank date, 1895. The 60 amounts so subscribed on these four papers were respectively $100,000; $20,000; $179,119; and $123,500; or in all $422,619. In addition to this, of the underwriters, Whitney was treated as a syndicate subscriber for $50,000; Meredith for $25,000; and the defendant himself for $50,000; making in all $547,619,— practically the amount that the defendant was to pay.

The members of the syndicate made their payments, and the defendant and Lewisohn made their payments to Simpson and Keyser, taking up their notes as aforesaid, on July 9, 1895.

When the scheme was first formed, it had been the plan and the avowed intention of the defendant and Lewisohn to form a new corporation with a capital stock of $2,500,000, which should take the property of the Baltimore company and the outside properties for $2,000,000, and raise $500,000 of working capital with the rest of its stock. This would give the defendant stock for the money raised and applied by him at the rate of just two for one, and he expected, and stated to various members of his syndicate that he expected, to give to each subscriber to his syndicate cash to the full amount of his subscription and stock at par to the same amount, the cash to be raised by selling the surplus stock, which at par would produce just that amount. They proceeded, however, to organize the plaintiff corporation under the laws of New Jersey, with a capital stock of $3,750,000, being one hundred and fifty thousand shares of the par value of $25 each.

The organization of this corporation was controlled entirely by the defendant and Lewisohn, with the advice of the latter's attorneys. The formal written agreement for its formation was signed by Lewisohn's son, one of his attorneys, and five of the employees of Lewisohn Brothers. The first meeting of the stockholders was held July 7, 1895, and the seven incorporators above men-61 tioned were elected directors. Six of these appeared to have taken and paid for four shares each, and the seventh to have taken and paid for sixteen shares, or forty shares in all. These forty shares really had been paid for by Lewisohn; and although the money was deposited in bank to the credit of the company upon its organization, it afterwards was returned by the company to Lewisohn in accounting with him. Through these incorporators the organization was effected; and they were elected directors of the plaintiff company.

A meeting of these directors was held in New York, at the office of Lewisohn Brothers, on July 11, 1895, at which some of these directors successively resigned, and the vacancies thus created were filled by the board, so that the new board of directors consisted of the defendant, Lewisohn, Thomas Nelson, and Messrs. Whitney, Ray, Buffum and Evarts. These directors were all selected and were controlled by the defendant and Lewisohn. The defendant and Lewisohn had now taken full control of the Baltimore company; the quick assets and working capital of that company including all the surplus assets mentioned in the first and — clause of the Simpson agreement, marked "A 1" had been divided among its former stockholders; the defendant had become its president, and its board of directors had come under the control of the defendant and Lewisohn.

At the meeting of the directors of the plaintiff company held as aforesaid at New York on July 11, 1895, there were present, after the new appointments, four directors, being the defendant, Lewisohn, their attorney Mr. Evarts, and Lewisohn's employee,

Mr. Buffum. The three absent directors, Nelson, Ray and Whitney, were members of the defendant's syndicate, and Nelson and Whitney were two of the defendant's original underwriters. Whether these three directors had had any notice of the meeting did not appear; the records of the company do not show that any such notice
62 had been given to them. At this meeting, under these circumstances, the defendant, through Mr. Evarts, presented an offer from the Baltimore company to transfer all its property and assets to the plaintiff company in return for 100,000 shares of the plaintiff company, to wit, a par value of $2,500,000. A copy of this offer is hereto annexed, marked E. Thereupon Lewisohn proposed and Evarts seconded a resolution accepting this offer and appointing the defendant and Nelson a committee to supervise and carry out the details. The resolution was passed. A copy of this resolution is hereto annexed, marked F. In fact no report as to the value of the property had been made to the plaintiff corporation; but one Hyams and one Colquhoun had examined the property and had made a report to Lewisohn and the defendant for their guidance in buying from Simpson and Keyser, which was put in evidence. This report was not communicated to the plaintiff.

Lewisohn then presented a written proposition to convey to the plaintiff company the outside properties acquired from Keyser, in return for 30,000 shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff company, to wit, a par value of $750,000. A copy of this offer is annexed, marked "G," with a request to issue said stock to the defendant himself. Thereupon Evarts moved and Buffum seconded a resolution accepting the offer, and appointing the same committee to supervise and carry out the details. This resolution was carried. A copy of the resolution is annexed, marked "H." No examination had been made of these properties, and no report was or had been submitted about them either to the plaintiff company or the defendant or Lewisohn, as they were not regarded by the defendant or by Lewisohn, or, so far as appeared, by any one else, as possessing any substantial value. These transactions were carried out; deeds from the Baltimore company of its properties, and from 63 Lewisohn of the outside properties, were delivered to the plaintiff company in December, 1895, or January, 1896, and the stock aforesaid, amounting to 130,000 shares of the par value of $3,250,000, and then of fully as great market value, was issued to Lewisohn and the defendant, or to their nominees, on September 18 and 19, 1895.

During all these transactions, the full control of the plaintiff company was in the hands of and was exercised by the defendant and Lewisohn, who were its promoters, and who themselves determined upon and dictated, under the advice of their counsel, everything that was done by the plaintiff company or in its behalf; it had no directors, representatives or advisers other than themselves or their agents; and they did not disclose to it any of the facts which have been stated. This continued to be the case until April, 1902, as hereinafter stated.

It was intended also by Lewisohn and the defendant that 20,000 shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff should be issued to new subscribers at par; and this was done in the summer and fall of 1895.

Neither the defendant nor Lewisohn disclosed to the new corporation the fact that they had paid only $1,000,000 for the stock representing all the mining property of the Baltimore company, or that they procured the outside properties without any other consideration; nor did they or either of them see that the new company had any independent advice before accepting the offers made to it as aforesaid, really by themselves. On the contrary they organized and promoted the plaintiff company for the purpose of having it accept, and they exercised their control over it to cause it to accept, said offers, and really, through their own action and that of their employees, themselves accepted said offers in the name of 64–66 the corporation. The stock which they thus took was then of fully its par value, this being due mainly to the skilful conduct and manipulation of the defendant and Lewisohn, and continued to be for some time, and until the defendant had sold out substantially all the stock that he took for his own use.

If it be material, I find also that the defendant did not act towards the members of his syndicate with the good faith which they had a right to expect. The result of his and Lewisohn's transactions with the plaintiff company was that for the $1,000,000 of their own and their associates' money which they invested, they received, subject to the payment of legitimate expenses of not over $20,000, stock to the par value of $3,250,000, and of the then actual value of at least that amount; that is, at the rate of more than three dollars for one. He gave to the members of his syndicate two dollars for one, either wholly in stock or half in cash and half in stock as they elected. With a few individual exceptions, he did not disclose the facts to them. The very great majority of the members of his syndicate did not become aware of the details of what he and Lewisohn had done; they did receive what it had been represented to them that they would receive; and they generally contented themselves in their ignorance with the fact that they had doubled their money. The residue of the gain received by the defendant he dealt with as he chose, taking a part of it to himself, distributing a part among some of the underwriters, or otherwise disposing of it. But the averments of the eighth paragraph of the defendant's final answer (filed November 6, 1907) are not according to the facts.

The defendant contended that the real transaction as intended to be carried out between Lewisohn and himself on the one side 67 and the plaintiff company on the other was that they should convey or cause to be conveyed to the plaintiff company the property of the Baltimore company and the outside properties, and should supply to it the sum of $500,000 for working capital, and should receive therefor all the capital stock of the plaintiff company; that this was actually done, though put in the form of different transactions; that Lewisohn and the defendant really took accordingly themselves the 20,000 shares which were to be used for raising the working capital, and bound themselves to pay to the plaintiff company therefor the said sum of $500,000; that the parties who afterwards subscribed for and received these shares really took them from the defendant and Lewisohn and not from the plaintiff company; and that at the time of the transaction above stated Lewisohn and the defendant became and were the real owners of all the authorized capital stock of the plaintiff company. There was some evidence in support of this contention; but I find that the real facts are as already stated.

The mining property of the Baltimore Company so conveyed to the plaintiff company was not of the intrinsic value of more than $1,000,000. But its market value at the time of its transfer to the plaintiff company seems to have been greater than this. This increased market value may have been, and probably was, due in large part of the skilful manipulation of the defendant and Lewisohn, and the ingenious manner in which they created a desire on the part of men interested in mines as investors or speculators to be allowed to join in the transaction they were carrying out. This market value however was less than $2,000,000. But taking the most favorable view of the situation possible for the defendant, he and Lewisohn did by reason of their failure to disclose the real facts as aforesaid make out of their sale to the plaintiff company a secret profit of 50,000 shares of its capital stock, of which the defendant's 68 portion was 27,350 shares and Lewisohn's portion 22,650 shares. If he had fully disclosed the facts to the plaintiff company and had secured for it independent advice, it would not have given to him this secret profit; if he had dealt fairly and openly with the members of his syndicate, he would have shared with them this secret profit less a comparatively small sum to reimburse his expenses. Unless one of his independent defenses is made out, he must account to the plaintiff for his secret profit. This amount of 50,000 shares includes however the 30,000 shares received for the outside properties, so that in the suit numered 8,099 the defendant is to be held accountable only for 20,000 shares, or for 10,940 shares if he is not liable in solido for the total amount received by Lewisohn and himself.

I am of opinion that the defendant is liable in solido, and must account to the plaintiff company for the whole of the secret profit realized by Lewisohn and himself, and not merely for the part which he himself actually received. Lewisohn and he were acting in the formation and execution of the scheme together and in concert. Each of them was doing his part to carry out a joint scheme, which was intended to inure to the advantage of both. The control exercised by them over the plaintiff company was a joint control, and was exercised by each for the benefit of both. A proper disclosure of the real facts by either would have frustrated the schemes of both; they both acted together in pursuance of a common design, and for the profit of both. The equitable tort of which the plaintiff complains was the act of both; and they must be held responsible for it both jointly and severally.

In the other suit, that numbered 8,098, the outside properties conveyed by Keyser to Lewisohn for the benefit of himself and 69 the defendant, and then turned over to the plaintiff in return for 30,000 shares of stock, were acquired by them really for nothing. They were thrown in as a mere make-weight in the purchase made by Lewisohn and the defendant from Keyser and the Simpson estate. It cannot be said that they were of no value; nor can I find on the evidence exactly what their value was. But I am satisfied on the evidence that this value could not have exceeded the sum of $50,000. The plaintiff seeks in the first instance to rescind this transaction, and, upon reconveying to the defendant these outside properties, to have him ordered to return to it the 30,000 shares issued therefor. But I think that the situation of the paries has so far changed that this ought not now to be permitted. The properties themselves have not been worked; and are in the same condition as when conveyed to the plaintiff. But substantially all the capital stock of the plaintiff company has been transferred to another company, the Old Dominion Company of Maine, a holding company; the defendant disposed of his stock some time before the suit was brought, has not the 30,000 shares to surrender, and apparently could not procure them in the market. He ought not to be required to buy them of the holding company at whatever price that company might choose to fix. Moreover, since these transactions the plaintiff company has increased its capital stock to 200,000 shares, of the amount at par of $5,000,000, and has bought new and additional mining properties, the value and profitableness of which have not been shown. 30,000 shares out of 200,000 representing a larger number of mines cannot be said to be the same thing as the same number of shares out of 150,000 shares representing a smaller number of mines. Accordingly I do not think that the plaintiff can now have this transaction rescinded. But as the shares issued were then of the value of at least $750,000, while the properties received for them were worth less than $50,000, the plaintiff has sustained dam-70 ages in this transaction of not less than $700,000, of which $382,900 went to the advantage of the defendant, and $317,100 to that of Lewisohn; and for the reasons already stated as to the other transaction, I think that the defendant is liable for the whole $700,000.

It has been claimed that the agreements made at the directors' meeting of July 11, 1895, are governed by the law of New York. That meeting was held in New York city, and the proposals were made and accepted there. The plaintiff is a New Jersey corporation, and was to have places of business also in Arizona, New York and Massachusetts. I find that it was the intention of the parties that these agreements should be carried out and consummated by the delivery of the deeds and the issue of certificates of stock in Massachusetts, where it was intended that the offices of the company should be, and where they were, established, in Boston, and where in fact they were so carried out. It was intended that the business of the company, outside the actual mining and smelting operations, which were to be conducted in Arizona, should be carried on in Massachusetts; and this was done. I rule on these findings that the agreements in question are governed by the law of Massachusetts. If however they are governed by the law of New York, then I find that the law of New York applicable to the case upon the facts which I have found, does not differ from the law of Massachusetts.

As to the claim that the transactions in question have been ratified and acquiesced in by the stockholders of the plaintiff company, I find that at a meeting of the directors of the plaintiff company, held at Boston September 18, 1895, it was voted that 100,000 shares of the company's full paid stock be issued to Philip E. Dumaresq, and 30,000 shares to the defendant and Lewisohn; and this was 71 done. The 100,000 shares were for the property of the Baltimore company, and Dumaresq took them as the nominee for the benefit and subject to the orders of the defendant and Lewisohn. The 30,000 shares were for the outside properties. At the end of the records of this meeting, which had been attended only by five directors, all the directors signed on the record book of the company a statement that all the action taken by the directors at that meeting was confirmed and approved of in all respects; and the following statement was then appended:

This was signed by the defendant and Lewisohn, purporting to represent 30,000 shares; by Dumaresq, 100,000 shares; and by Thomas Nelson, Treasurer, 20,000 shares, being the total authorized capital of the company. The Dumaresq shares, as already stated, were held for and controlled by the defendant and Lewisohn. Thomas Nelson was treasurer of the defendant company, and the 20,000 shares which he claimed to represent were the stock which was to be issued to independent subscribers for a working capital as already stated, and were still the property of the corporation itself; and Nelson had no right to sign for them. This action, like everything else in the conduct of the company at, and for some years after, that time, was taken at the dictation of the defendant and Lewisohn, in the manner and for the purpose already stated.

On June 15, 1899, a special meeting of the stockholders was held, having been duly called "to consider and act upon the question of increasing the capital stock of the corporation." At this meeting a majority in interest of the stockholders were represented, all 72 of them by proxies running to Stone, King, Sheehan and Dumaresq. These men were controlled by the defendant and Lewisohn. At the meeting, after transacting the business for which the meeting had been called, it was voted: "That all acts, matters and things which have been entered into or performed by the board of directors are hereby approved, ratified and confirmed." The terms of the proxies held by the four men who passed this vote did not appear. Neither the stockholders nor the company itself had gained any knowledge of the matters hereinbefore stated as to the transactions in question.

On April 3, 1901, an annual meeting of the stockholders of the plaintiff company was held, at which were present in person two stockholders, representing together 1,700 shares; Dumaresq, representing by proxy 85,200 shares; and three other proxies, representing together 4,563 shares. The terms of none of the proxies appeared.

Dumaresq was still under the control of the defendant. At this meeting, it was by vote "Resolved, that all acts, matters and things entered into and performed by the officers and directors of this company since the organization of this company be and they hereby are fully and in all respects ratified, confirmed and approved." At this meeting the defendant as president of the company had presented a report in which he stated the net profits of the company at a greatly exaggerated amount; and at this time neither the corporation nor the subscribers to the 20,000 shares of stock, nor the other stockholders outside of a few who were in the confidence and under the control and acting in the interest of the defendant and Lewisohn, had learned or knew of the transactions hereinbefore set forth. Full reports of these meetings and of the other meetings of the directors and of the stockholders were in evidence. The very great majority of the stockholders, including both those who took their shares di-73 rectly from the corporation and those who acquired their stock as members of the defendant's syndicate, never except as already stated consented to or, until after April, 1902, knew of the operations by means of which the defendant and Lewisohn acquired their 50,000 shares as a secret profit. They had not, until after that date, knowledge of or access to the books or records of the corporation from which some of these operations might have been and afterwards were discovered.

Upon these facts, I rule that these actions are not barred by the acquiescence or ratification of the stockholders of the plaintiff company.

As to laches and the statute of limitations, it appeared that the defendant Lewisohn or the defendant alone, remained in full control of the plaintiff company until April, 1902. The working of the mines had yielded but very scanty profits, and no dividends. At the annual meeting of the stockholders of the company in 1902, a new board of officers was elected. They at once began investigations, learned many of the facts without any unnecessary delay, and thereupon promptly brought these suits. I rule that upon these facts the bills are not barred by laches or by the operation of the statute of limitations.

Of the special findings which the plaintiff has asked me to make, I refuse the one marked D, and make the others. I place on file the request for such special findings. As I have stated my rulings so far as they seem to me material, I have not stated the requests for rulings in detail. So far as not stated to have been given, they may be treated as refused.

In No. 8,098, a decree is to be entered that the defendant pay to the plaintiff the sum of $700,000 with interest from September 18, 1895. In No. 8,099, that the defendant pay to the plaintiff the sum of $480,000, (being the sum of $500,000 less $20,000 allowed 73*a* for legitimate expenses,) with interest from the same date.

74 A.

Memorandum of Agreement Between Frank E. Simpson of Framingham, Massachusetts, and William Butler of Boston, Massachusetts, for Themselves and the Other Executors of Michael H. Simpson, Parties of the First Part, and J. Morris Meredith of Boston, Massachusetts, Party of the Second Part, Made at New York This Fourth Day of May, Eighteen Hundred and Ninety-five.

The Old Dominion Copper Company is a corporation organized under the laws of Maryland, having a capital of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) divided into twenty-five thousand (25,000) shares of twenty (20) dollars each and owns certain property in Arizona known as the Old Dominion mine, which has been worked for some years, and other property in Arizona and elsewhere. The estate of Michael H. Simpson is the owner of seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock of said company and is desirous of selling the same. The property owned by the company consists of mines, mining rights, smelting furnaces, buildings, mining tools and other appurtenances; also ores in dump and in process and in the furnaces; also pig or ingot copper and cash and certain notes receivable and amounts due.

Mr. Meredith is desirous of buying the seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock owned by the said Simpson estate.

Now, therefore, in consideration of two thousand dollars paid to the parties of the first part by the said Meredith, the parties of the first part agree with the said Meredith, his executors, administrators and assigns as follows:

First. The said parties of the first part agree to sell, transfer and deliver to the said Meredith seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock of the said
75 Old Dominion Copper Company at and for the price of seven hundred and fourteen thousand two hundred and eighty five dollars ($714,285) and an additional sum not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000), such additional sum to be equal to the value of five sevenths of the pig or ingot copper and of the cash and notes receivable and amounts due which shall constitute part of its assets when the first payment on account of said sale shall have been made as hereinafter provided and which are hereinafter called surplus earnings.

Second. Payments for said stock are to be made as follows: One hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) on the deposit of the said capital stock endorsed in blank with the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston on or before the twenty eighth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five, said stock to be held by said trust company in trust to secure to the said parties of the first part the balance of the said payments. The balance of said seven hundred and fourteen thousand two hundred and eighty five dollars ($714,285), namely, six hundred and fourteen thousand two hundred and eighty five dollars ($614,285) shall be evidenced by three notes made by the said Meredith or his assigns, of equal amount each, namely, for two hundred and four thousand seven hundred and sixty one dollars and sixty six cents ($204,761.66), bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum and payable respectively in sixty, ninety and one hundred and twenty days from the date of the deposit of said stock, said stock to be held as security for the payment of said notes and the said notes also have an endorsement satisfactory to the said parties of the first part.

Third. It is understood and agreed that the payment of any or all of said notes may be anticipated by the said Meredith with interest down to the date of payment, and the stock shall be 76 delivered to the said Meredith when all of the said notes are paid, and the said parties of the first part will try in all practicable ways to cause such steps to be taken that whenever the first of said notes shall have been paid, the majority of the board of directors of said Old Dominion Copper Company shall be persons satisfactory to said Meredith or his assigns, and that the president or other officers of said company and the superintendent of said mine shall be persons satisfactory to the said Meredith or his assigns.

Fourth. It is further agreed that the value of the five sevenths of said surplus earnings shall be determined as follows: As soon as practicable and prior to the fourteenth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five the parties of the first part will give to the said Meredith a written memorandum showing in detail said surplus assets, and if the said Meredith purchases the said seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock, such of the said surplus assets as remain shall either be retained by the company and five sevenths of the value thereof be paid by said Meredith to the parties of the first part or shall be divided in kind pro rata to the said parties of the first part and to the holders of the remainder of the capital stock of said company.

Fifth. The said parties of the first part guarantee and agree that the said mining company and its property is or will be at the time of said [Dic.] of said stock free from all debts, claims, liens or mortgages, and that there are no outstanding contracts between it and any other person or corporation except as stated in the list thereof to be furnished to the said Meredith on or before the fourteenth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five.

Sixth. It is also agreed that at the time of depositing said
77 seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of stock as above provided and paying said one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) said Meredith shall give a good and satisfactory guarantee to the said parties of the first part that at any time within sixty days thereafter on ten days' notice and tender he will take and pay for at the same pro rata price and on the same general terms and conditions as hereinbefore provided any part or all of the remainder of the capital stock of said company.

Seventh. Said parties of the first part give to said Meredith the option until and during the twenty eighth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five to purchase said shares of stock on the terms herein set forth and agree that meanwhile and until that time said Meredith shall have every facility by himself or by his assigns to examine the property of said company and its title thereto.

Eighth. It is understood and agreed that the two thousand dollars ($2000) paid on the signing of this agreement shall form part of the first one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) to be paid thereunder.

Ninth. It is understood and agreed that the foregoing agreement finds the estate of Michael H. Simpson and is for the benefit of the executors, administrators and assigns of the said Meredith.

In Witness Whereof the parties hereto have set their hands and seals this — day of —— eighteen hundred and ninety five.

I, Lucius W. Smith of Boston, Massachusetts, one of the executors of Michael H. Simpson, for value received do hereby approve, ratify and make the agreement hereinbefore made by Frank E. Simpson and William Butler for themselves and other ex-

78 ecutors of Michael H. Simpson with J. Morris Meredith.

(NOTE.—The following is written in ink on the margin of the first page of this agreement.)

"Received from Leonard Lewisohn, assignee of J. Morris Meredith, one hundred thousand dollars, being the payment due this date under the within agreement on the deposit with the Old Colony Trust Co. of 17,857 shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company.

(Signed) WILLIAM BUTLER.
For Self and Co-executor of Thos. C. Simpson's Estate of M. H. Simpson.

Boston, May 28, 1895."

79 B.

William Keyser of Baltimore and associates are the owners of seven thousand one hundred and forty three shares of twenty dollars each of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City. Leonard Lewisohn and associates have already bought seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven shares of the capital stock of the said company from the estate of Michael H. Simpson, and Lewisohn and associates are desirous of buying the other seven thousand one hundred and forty three shares and Keyser and associates and Lewisohn and associates have agreed together as follows:

Keyser and associates agree to sell their shares of stock for two hundred and eighty five thousand seven hundred and fifteen dollars, forty thousand dollars of which shall be payable on Thursday the twentieth day of June, and the balance of the payments shall be made by three promissory notes, each for eighty one thousand nine hundred and five dollars bearing interest at five per cent from the twenty eighth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five, and running respectively sixty, ninety and one hundred and twenty days from that date. The payments of any or all of these notes may be anticipated, and on the payment of the first note Keyser and associates agree to do everything practicable to turn over to Lewisohn and associates the board of directors and the absolute management of the company.

The stock is to be deposited with the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston as security for the parties here and for the payment of the notes, the general understanding being that this sale is made in pursuance of and in general accordance with the agreement made between Frank E. Simpson and others representing the estate
80 of Michael H. Simpson and J. Morris Meredith for himself, dated the first day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five, Lewisohn and associates having become the assignee of the rights of said Meredith under said contract.

It is further understood that so far as this particular sale is concerned of the seven thousand one hundred and forty three shares Lewisohn and associates are to protect Keyser and associates from any claim for commissions by J. Morris Meredith, the understanding being that Keyser and associates are to receive their agreed price net.

There are certain mines in Arizona near the property of the Old Dominion Copper Company which are known as the Old Dominion mine, the Keystone mine and the Chicago and New York mine. Those mining properties now stand in the name of William Keyser, but he states that he is only interested to the extent of one-half thereof, and that Michael H. Simpson's estate is the owner of the other half thereof, and Mr. Keyser agrees that in consideration of the purchase of the stock hereinbefore arranged for, he will transfer, deliver and assign to Leonard Lewisohn or to his order all his interest in the said mines without any additional consideration than the purchase of the stock herein provided for.

Keyser and associates agree to guarantee to Lewisohn and associates that they will hold them and the Old Dominion Copper Company harmless from all debts, claims, liens or mortgages or outstanding contracts existing between it and any other person or corporation as of May twenty-eight. It is understood that in this matter William Keyser represents himself and all associates, and that payments may be made to him and the note made payable to his order.

Baltimore, June 13th, 1895.

WILLIAM KEYSER.

Witness:
N. S. WHEAT.

81 Received June 20th, 1895, of Leonard Lewisohn & associates one hundred & twenty two thousand one hundred & 66/100 dollars and two notes of eighty one thousand nine hundred and five dollars each in accordance with the foregoing agreement, said money and notes having been paid to the Old Colony Trust Co., Boston, for my account.

E.

Minutes of a Meeting of the Directors, Duly Called, Held at the Office of Lewisohn Brothers, at 81 Fulton Street, in the City of New York, on the Eleventh Day of July 1895, at 12 O'clock Noon.

"Mr. Evarts presented and read a proposition from 'The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City' as follows:

To the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of New Jersey.

The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Maryland being the owner of certain mines and mining properties at Globe in the Territory of Arizona described in the annexed Schedule and of machinery, lumber, wood, tools, implements and other personal property for use for and in connection with the operation and maintenance thereof hereby makes the following proposition: To convey, assign and transfer all its property, both real and personal of every kind and nature whatsoever and wheresoever situated by good and sufficient deeds and instruments properly executed so as to confer absolute title thereto to the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company upon receiving from said Company one hundred thousand shares of its capital stock to be issued to said Old Dominion Copper Company or to its nominees.

It being understood that the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company shall assume all obligations of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City incurred since the first day of June 1895, and shall be entitled to all earnings and profits of said Company since that date.

July eleventh 1895.

A. S. BIGELOW,
President.

A. W. EVARTS,
Secretary."

87 F.

"Whereupon Mr. Lewisohn moved and Mr. Evarts seconded the adoption of the following resolutions:—

"Whereas The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City has made and submitted a proposition to convey all of its property to this Company which has just been presented and read; and

Whereas it is reported and appears that such property is reasonably and fairly worth the par value of the stock proposed to be paid and issued and received therefor,

Resolved: that said proposition be and the same is hereby accepted and that this Company do purchase and acquire all said property upon the terms contained in said proposition and in payment therefor issue one hundred thousand shares of its capital stock to said The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City or to its nominees, all such stock to be full paid and not subject to assessment: and

Resolved that Messrs. Bigelow and Nelson be appointed a committee to supervise and carry out the details of such purchase and issue of stock, which were thereupon duly adopted."

88 G.

"Mr. Lewisohn presented and read a written proposition as follows:

"To the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company:

I hereby offer to convey the following described property now owned and held by me upon receiving thirty thousand shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company to be issued to me or to my nominees:

1st. The Old Dominion Mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December 1883 in the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, Entry No. 267, Lot No. 45, situated in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

2nd. The New York Mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December 1883, in the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, Entry No. 268, Lot No. 46 in Globe Mining District, in Gila County, Arizona.

3rd. The Chicago Mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December 1883, in the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, Entry No. 269, Lot No. 51 in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

4th. The Keystone Mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December 1883, in the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, Entry No. 384, Lot No. 54 in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

5th. A lot or parcel of land situated near the Bloody Tanks and deeded by E. A. Saxe to the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company. Deed recorded in Book 1 of Deeds to Real Estate at page 126 & 127 in the office of the Recorder of Gila County, Arizona. and reference is hereby made to said record for a fuller description of said parcel of land.

New York, July 11th, 1895.

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

Please issue said 30,000 shares of stock to Mr. A. S. Bigelow & myself.

LEONARD LEWISOHN."

89 "Whereupon Mr. Evarts moved and Mr. Buffum seconded the adoption of the following resolutions:

"Whereas Mr. Leonard Lewisohn of the City of New York has made and submitted a proposition to convey certain mining properties in Arizona to this Company which has just been presented and read: and

Whereas it is reported and appears that such properties are reasonably and fairly worth the par value of the stock proposed to be paid and issued and received therefor:

Resolved that said proposition be and the same is hereby accepted and that this Company do purchase and acquire said properties upon the terms contained in said proposition and in payment therefor issue thirty thousand shares of its capital stock to said Leonard Lewisohn or to his nominees all such stock to be full paid and not subject to assessment: and

Resolved that Messrs. Bigelow and Nelson be appointed a Committee to supervise and carry out the details of such purchase and issue of stock, which were thereupon duly adopted."

And on the tenth day of said December, the following Final Decree was entered by the Court, to wit:

Final Decree.

This cause came on to be further heard this tenth day of December, 1907, for the entry of a final decree, and was argued by counsel for both parties, and was considered by the Court, and upon consideration thereof it was and hereby is Ordered, adjudged and decreed that the complainant the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company recover of the respondent Albert S. Bigelow the sum of four hundred and eighty thousand dollars ($480,000) and interest thereon from September 18, 1895, amounting to three hundred and fifty-two thousand one hundred and sixty dollars ($352,160),—being the total sum of eight hundred and thirty-two thousand one hundred and sixty dollars ($832,160), and costs taxed by the Clerk at twenty eight dollars and sixty eight cents ($28.60); and that execution issue for said total sum and costs in common form in favor of said Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company against said Albert S. Bigelow.

By the Court:

WALTER F. FREDERICK,
Ass't Clerk.

December 10, 1907.

90 And on the twenty fourth day of said December, the plaintiff appealed from the Final Decree, the claim of appeal being in the words following, to wit:

Claim of Appeal.

Now the complainant appeals to the Full Court from the final decree entered in this case on December 10, 1907, by reason of the fact that the amount of said final decree should have been larger.

By Its Attorneys, BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER.

And on the sixth day of January, A. D. 1908, the defendant appealed from the Final Decree, the claim of appeal being in the words following, to wit:

Respondent's Claim of Appeal.

And now comes the respondent in the above entitled cause and appeals to the full Court from the Final Decree entered therein on December 10th, 1907.

ALBERT S. BIGELOW,
By His Solicitors, ALFRED HEMENWAY,
J. W. FARLEY.

And on the sixth day of August, A. D. 1908, the plaintiff filed his petition for injunction and attachment for contempt, the same being in the words following, to wit:

Petition for Injunction and Attachment for Contempt.

The complainant in the above entitled cases says as follows:

1. These cases were upon the printed list of cases for argument before the Full Bench of this court at its sitting beginning on January 6, 1908, and said cases were ready for argument at 91 said sitting.

2. On January 6, 1908, the respondent, by his attorney, Alfred Hemenway, moved for a postponement of the cases in terms as follows:

"I have asked for a postponement of this case until March, so that the other cases the defendant appeals may be argued at the same time."

3. The court thereupon made this order, namely:

"The court is unanimously of the opinion that the case should be continued and assigned for the first case at the March sitting."

4. On February 26, 1908, six days prior to the beginning of said sitting, the respondent filed in the Court of Chancery of New Jersey a bill of complaint, a copy whereof is hereunto annexed marked Exhibit 1, and made a part hereof. The record referred to in said bill of complaint as "Exhibit C" is a facsimile of the record of these cases in this Supreme Judicial Court, pages 1-78, both inclusive.

5. At this time the only office of the complainant corporation in New Jersey was in the city of Jersey City, which is the most accessible place in the state of New Jersey to persons going there from the state of Massachusetts. The solicitors of said Bigelow in said bill of complaint was John Griffin, Esquire, who is a resident of said City of Jersey City, and has his only office for the practice of law in said city.

6. Said Court of Chancery of New Jersey is presided over by the Chancellor of the State of New Jersey, and he has as his advisers seven Vice Chancellors. The respondent Bigelow presented his bill of complaint to the Vice Chancellor sitting—with one exception—more remotely than any other from said Jersey City, namely, in the city of Trenton.

7. Said Vice Chancellor directed the issuance of a restrain-
92 ing order and order of notice, a copy whereof is hereunto annexed marked Exhibit 2.

8. Notwithstanding the fact that said order of notice was issued on said day, and that the complainant corporation had an office in said Jersey City, no notice of the intention to file said bill or to apply for said order, or of the fact that said order had been granted, was served upon said corporation or anyone connected therewith until February 28, 1908, three working days prior to the time at which this case was assigned for argument before this Supreme Judicial Court.

9. The time when said notice was served did not permit of an adequate hearing before said Court of Chancery of New Jersey, nor, except by the exertion of unusual effort, of an appearance before said court before the time set for the argument of these cases in this Supreme Judicial Court.

10. All the facts alleged as a basis for relief from said Court of Chancery of New Jersey had for a long time been well known to the respondent Bigelow. The suits of the complainant corporation against the Executors of the Estate of Leonard Lewisohn—which suits are referred to in said bill of complaint—were begun in the year 1903, and the fact that they were then begun was then well known to the respondent Bigelow. The decision of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York sustaining the demurrer of said executors was rendered February 24, 1905, was known to the respondent Bigelow on or about said date, and was referred to in the opinion of this Supreme Judicial Court filed June 19, 1905. The decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals in the suit against said executors was rendered on December 4, 1906, and was known to the respondent Bigelow on or about said date.

93 There has been no change in the laws of the State of New Jersey favorable to the respondent Bigelow, and no announcements by the courts of said state concerning the laws thereof favorable to said Bigelow since the institution of these present suits in this Supreme Judicial Court.

11. The law of the state of New Jersey is no more favorable to the respondent Bigelow upon the facts appearing in these cases before this Supreme Judicial Court than the laws of this Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

12. When these suits were called for argument on March 3, 1908, before this Supreme Judicial Court, the complainant corporation was ready, able and willing to argue said cases, and had filed its briefs, but deemed it impossible to argue said cases with due respect to the restraining order issued by said Court of Chancery of New Jersey.

13. On or about March 24, 1908, the respondent Bigelow caused to be introduced into the legislature of the state of New Jersey a bill, a copy whereof is hereunto annexed and marked Exhibit 3, and made a part hereof; and thereafter the respondent, by his attorneys, was actively engaged in seeking to obtain the passage of said bill; and no persons except the respondent and his attorneys and persons whom they interested in said bill sought the passage thereof; but said legislature refused to pass said bill and has adjourned for the year.

14. Said bill, so far as by its terms it purported to affect the rights of a corporation against an individual standing in the position occupied by the complainant corporation and the respondent Bigelow, would be contrary to the provisions of the Constitution of the United States,—which fact was well known to said Bigelow and the attorneys, acting for him.

15. Said bill of complaint did not present to the Court of Chancery of New Jersey any question open to legitimate argument under the laws of said state, but on the contrary it is the law of said

94 state, well established by decisions rendered therein, that where a suit is pending before a court having jurisdiction of the parties and of the subject matter of the nature of these suits before this Supreme Judicial Court, the courts of the state of New Jersey will not interfere by injunction against the parties with the prosecution of such suits before the courts already having jurisdiction of them. These announcements appear in numerous reported cases in said state, and among other in these cases, namely:—

Home Ins. Co. v. Howell, 24 N. J. Eq. 238.
N. J. Zinc Co. v. Franklin Iron Co., 29 N. J. Eq. 422.
Title Guaranty & Trust Co. v. Trenton Potteries Co., 56 N. J. Eq. 441.
Shaw v. Frye, 69 N. J. Eq. 321.
Minchin v. Second Nat. Bank, 36 N. J. Eq. 436.

And the complainant corporation makes said decision a part of this petition, and prays leave to refer thereto.

16. In accordance with the law of the state of New Jersey, the court first acquiring jurisdiction—as this Supreme Judicial Court has acquired jurisdiction—has the right to enjoin, and should enjoin, any interference with the prosecution of a suit before it, although said interference is in the form of a proceeding subsequently begun before another court.

17. The grounds assigned by said Bigelow for relief in the said bill of complaint in the Court of Chancery in New Jersey are not, according to the law of the state of New Jersey, grounds for relief therein, and said Court of Chancery of New Jersey has no greater power or jurisdiction than that of this Supreme Judicial Court to consider said various grounds for relief and to give to said grounds such weight as, in accordance with the principles of law and equity, should be given to them.

18. The complainant corporation promptly applied to the Chancellor of said Court of Chancery of New Jersey to dismiss said
95 bill of complaint, and said motion and arguments thereon by the counsel for complainant and counsel for defendant were heard by said Chancellor on April 6, 1908.

19. According to the practice in the Court of Chancery of the State of New Jersey, said motion to dismiss is equivalent to a demurrer filed to a bill in equity in this Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

20. On August 4th, 1908, said Chancellor entered an order dismissing said bill of complaint.

21. Said order has the same effect under the practice of said court as a final decree dismissing a bill of complaint in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts after hearing upon demurrer, and also has the effect of dissolving any restraining order or preliminary injunction issued in said suit.

22. Under the law and practice of the state of New Jersey, the respondent Bigelow has the right to appeal from said order dismissing said bill of complaint, and will appeal from said order unless restrained therefrom by this Supreme Judicial Court.

23. An appeal from said order takes the case to the Court of Errors and Appeals of the State of New Jersey, which is the court of last resort of said state.

24. There is grave danger that the respondent will, unless restrained by this court, not only prosecute said appeal, but will also seek to obtain other restraining orders and injunctions, and bring other suits and proceedings, and seek other legislation,—all solely for the purpose of harassing the complainant corporation and preventing it from obtaining a final decision and decree in this Supreme Judicial Court in these pending cases.

25. None of the proceedings undertaken by the respondent Bigelow as aforesaid have presented any question for legitimate
96 argument before a court; none of them have been brought for said purpose; on the contrary, they have been brought solely for the purpose of hampering the complainant corporation and preventing it from presenting these cases to this Supreme Judicial Court and obtaining the decision of this court thereon and final decrees therein; and the delay in bringing said suit and in notifying the complainant corporation thereof and of the restraining order therein until within three working days prior to the time set for the argument of these cases in this Supreme Judicial Court, was solely for the purpose of permitting so short a time to elapse after said proceedings had been begun that it would be impossible to get these cases before this Supreme Judicial Court for hearing at its March sitting in 1908.

26. The conduct of the respondent in the respects aforesaid was in contempt of the power, dignity and authority of this Supreme Judicial Court.

27. Unless these cases are heard by this Supreme Judicial Court before its regular sitting in November, 1908, the purpose of the respondent to delay these cases until said sitting will have been accomplished.

28. The complainant corporation is without any security for the satisfaction of any financial decrees that may be entered in these cases except an attachment bond in the sum of $500,000.

29. The complainant corporation makes the allegations contained in the 1st, 2nd, 3rd, 4th, 7th, 8th, 9th, 12th, 18th, 20th, 27th and 28th paragraphs of its own knowledge, and those contained in the 5th, 6th, 10th, 11th, 13th, 14th, 15th, 16th, 17th, 19th, 21st, 22nd, 23rd, 24th, 25th and 26th paragraphs as it has made careful investigation thereof, been credibly informed, and verily believes
97 that they are true.

Wherefore the complainant corporation prays as follows:

First. That the respondent Albert S. Bigelow, his servants, agents, attorneys and representatives, be forthwith enjoined from instituting any suits or prosecuting any suits, taking any appeals therein prosecuting any appeals, or taking any other action, or attempting to take any other action not in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts tending to prevent the plaintiff corporation from arguing the cases pending in said court, or to prevent the obtaining of final decrees therein, and the orderly and regular use of process thereon to secure satisfaction of said decrees, or in any manner tending to delay or impede the arguing of said cases in said court, the obtaining of final decrees therein, and the obtaining of satisfaction of said decrees.

Second. That said injunction be made permanent.

Third. That said Albert S. Bigelow be attached and held to answer for contempt of this court by reason of the proceedings set forth in this petition.

Fourth. That these cases be heard by this court forthwith.

AUGUST FIFTH, 1908.

98 I Edward F. McClennen being duly sworn depose and say that I am one of the solicitors for the complainant in this case, that I have read the foregoing petition and am familiar with the contents thereof and that as therein set forth the allegations thereof are true of my own knowledge except as to those matters alleged on information and belief and as to them I believe them to be true and this affidavit is not made by an officer of the complainant company, solely because the knowledge of all of said officers concerning said matters has come from reports, coming through me or my firm, of the facts aforesaid and because it has been impossible since the dismissal of said bill of complaint in New Jersey to obtain the presence of such officer.

Justice of the Peace.

EXHIBIT I.

In Chancery of New Jersey.

To his Honor Mahlon Pitney, Chancellor of the State of New Jersey:

Humbly complaining, showeth unto your Honor your orator Albert S. Bigelow of Cohasset, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts:

(1) That prior to March, 1895, the Executors of the Will of Michael H. Simpson owned 17857 shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, a corporation of the State of Maryland (hereinafter called the Baltimore Company), and one William Keyser of Baltimore owned 7143 shares of

99 the capital stock, making in all the sum of 25,000 shares, being the entire capital stock of said Baltimore Company, which shares were of the par value of $20 each, and the aggregate capitalization amounted to $500,000. That one Leonard Lewisohn of the City, County and State of New York, who had a great familiarity and experience with mining properties, and was an expert in their management and operation began to acquire the capital stock of said Baltimore Company. That one J. Morris Meredith of Boston entered into negotiations with the Executors of the Will of said Simpson, to procure a contract to purchase the stock held by them, the final executed copy of said contract being prepared by and the legal work in connection therewith being done under the advice and direction of C. C. Beaman of the firm of Evarts, Choate & Beaman, which resulted finally in said Meredith procuring a contract to purchase the said shares from said Executors at $40 a share, amounting in the whole to $714,285, payable $100,000 in cash and the balance in notes at thirty, sixty and ninety days, bearing interest at the rate of 5% per annum, the shares of stock to be delivered, endorsed in blank, to the Old Colony Trust Company, in trust to hold as collateral security for the payment of the notes, and upon their payment to deliver the stock to said Meredith or his assigns; that there was paid by said Meredith, on account of his contract, the sum of $2,000, which sum was repaid to him by said Lewisohn, as so used for that purpose. That thereafter said Meredith assigned said contract to said Leonard Lewisohn. That on or before May 15th, 1895, said Lewisohn agreed that your orator was to receive one-half of his interest under said contract, and complainant paid to him $1,000, being one-half the sum paid by Meredith on the contract to purchase.

That on or about May 28th, 1895, your orator and said
100 Lewisohn completed said contract and paid said executors $100,000, which they furnished in equal shares from their own moneys, and delivered notes, made by said Lewisohn and endorsed by your orator, for the sum of $614,285, payable in 30, 60 and 90 days, with interest at 5% per annum, and said stock, endorsed in blank, was delivered by said executors to the Old Colony Trust Company, to be held by it upon the trust aforesaid.

That on or about June 13, 1895, the owners of the remaining two-sevenths of the stock of said Baltimore Company agreed to sell their shares of said capital stock namely 7143 shares, to said Lewisohn at $40 per share, or $285,715 in all, $40,000 in cash, payable June 20, 1895, and the balance in notes then to be delivered upon the same general conditions set out in the aforesaid contract between Meredith and the executors of Simpson's Will. That of this latter stock so agreed to be purchased your orator, by agreement with the said Lewisohn, was to receive two-thirds and the said Lewisohn to retain one-third thereof.

And your orator further shows that while the title to the mines, mining claims and lands, known as the Old Dominion Mines, the New York Mine, the Chicago Mine, the Keystone Mine, and a certain parcel of land, near the Bloody Tanks so-called, in Arizona, stood in the name of William Keyser, said Keyser held the same in trust for the sole benefit of the Baltimore Company; that these facts were not known to said Lewisohn or your orator at the time of the negotiations with the executors of Simpson, but the facts were learned during the negotiations for the purchase of the Keyser stock, and thereupon the said Lewisohn and your orator insisted that the said mines, mining claims and land so held should follow the ownership of the stock, which was agreed to by said Keyser

101 and the executors of the Simpson Will and the Baltimore Company, and that the said Keyser should convey said mines, mining claims and lands to said Lewisohn upon payment of the notes given on account of the purchase price of the stock; that it was agreed between the said Lewisohn and your orator that when so conveyed to said Lewisohn he should hold the title to said mines, mining claims and land as property acquired under the contracts for the purchase of the stock.

(2) And your orator further shows unto your Honor that on or about the 20th day of June, 1895, the cash above provided to be paid to the said executors and the said Keyser having been paid, and the first notes of the said Lewisohn, endorsed by your orator, to the said executors and Keyser having been paid a meeting of the Baltimore Company was held, in which the control of said company was transferred to Lewisohn and your orator, and a new board of directors was chosen, consisting of Lewisohn, William Keyser, R. Brendt Keyser, George A. Polk, and your orator; that your orator was chosen president, and Allen W. Evarts, a member of the law firm of Evarts, Choate & Beaman of New York City, secretary.

(3) And your orator further shows unto your Honor that he is thoroughly familiar with mining properties and investment and the management and operation thereof and is and has for many years been the President and Manager of various large mining properties which have been successfully and profitably operated; and both he and the said Lewisohn had a thorough investigation made of these mining properties, to ascertain their value, prior to the purchase; that this investigation was made by Messrs. Hyams and Colquhoun, experts in such matters, who reported that the minimum earnings of said properties should not be less than $350,000 annually, a copy of such report being hereto annexed and marked "A." That said mining properties had been worked by the Baltimore Com-
102 pany at a large profit for many years and justified the report of said experts, and your orator and Lewisohn continued the operations of the mines under and through the Baltimore Company until the defendant herein was formed as a corporation of the State of New Jersey and the said mines and property were conveyed to it and it undertook the operation thereof.

That the subsequent notes were paid to said executors and Keyser before maturity and before the formation of the defendant company and in addition to the purchase price paid for the shares of stock your orator and said Lewisohn expended a large amount of valuable time and rendered very valuable service in regard to said transactions.

(4) And your orator further shows that at the time of the making of the contracts for the purchase of said stock and the taking over of the control of the Baltimore Company, your orator and said Lewisohn had no definite plans with respect to the disposition of the stock of said Baltimore Company or the property thereof, and it was not until about July 1, 1895, or some time thereafter, that the formation of a new corporation was determined upon. That thereafter your orator and said Lewisohn consulted Messrs. Evarts, Choate and Beaman, eminent counsel of the city of New York, and fully advised them of the facts above stated and were advised by them throughout as to the legality of the subsequent acts of your orator and Lewisohn and all such acts were done under the advice of said counsel and with their approval as to the legality thereof, said counsel advising the formation of a New Jersey corporation; that your orator and said Lewisohn informed counsel that they would convey or cause to be conveyed to such new corporation all the property of said Baltimore Company, the said mines, mining claims and lands which said

Keyser had agreed to convey to said Lewisohn, and furnish 103 $500,000 for working capital, in return for all the capital stock of the corporation, which should be capitalized at $3,750,000, divided into 150,000 shares of the par value of $25 each; and the details of the organization and the carrying out of said plan was left to counsel.

(5) And your orator further shows unto your Honor that on or about July 8, 1895, the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company was organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, with an authorized capital stock of $3,750,000, divided into 150,000 shares of the par value of $25 each, and the amount said company was to begin business with was $1000, divided into 40 shares of the par value of $25 each; a copy of the certificate of incorporation of which company is hereto annexed as part thereof. That said corporation held its first meeting on or about the 9th day of July, 1895, at which all the incorporators were present, and by-laws were adopted, and the first directors duly elected, viz.—Jesse Lewisohn, Allen W. Evarts, Edgar Buffum, Charles W. Welch, Sydney Riddlesdorffer, William V. Rowe, and William R. Montgomery. That the following officers were elected by said directors: Allen W. Evarts, president; Sydney Riddlesdorffer, vice-president; Jesse Lewisohn, treasurer, and Edgar Buffum, secretary.

(6) And your orator further shows unto your Honor that at a meeting of the directors of the defendant, held on July 11, 1895, Messrs. Montgomery, Rowe, Welch, Lewisohn and Riddlesdorffer resigned as directors, and as each one resigned another director was lawfully appointed in his stead, pursuant to the by-laws, with the result that the following persons then and there constituted the board of directors: Allen W. Evarts, Leonard Lewisohn, Henry M. Whitney, Joseph G. Ray, Thomas Nelson, Edgar Buffum and your orator.

104 (7) And your orator further shows that thereafter it was agreed between your orator and Lewisohn and the defendant company that your orator and Lewisohn should convey or cause to be conveyed to the defendant company, all the property of the Baltimore Company, including the mines, mining claims and land conveyed by said Keyser to said Lewisohn, and which then stood in the name of said Lewisohn, and should furnish the defendant corporation with a working capital of $500,000 in cash, in consideration whereof the defendant corporation should issue to your orator and said Lewisohn, or their nominees, and to the nominees of said Baltimore Company (of which your orator and said Lewisohn owned the entire capital stock) its entire capital stock of 150,000 shares.

(8) And your orator further shows that the transactions which thereafter took place, though in form separate, were in fact all in pursuance of the said agreement; that in form the transactions were separable as to the property held by the Baltimore Company, the said mines and mining claims and lands held by Lewisohn and the capital to be furnished by the said Lewisohn and your orator; but really the contract for the purchase and sale of all of said property and for the furnishing of said capital was an entire contract for an entire price, viz., the capital stock of 150,000 shares of the defendant corporation. That an offer was made by the Baltimore Company, through its proper officers, to the defendant company, to sell and convey substantially all the property of the Baltimore Company to the defendant company (excepting cash assets) for 100,000 shares of the capital stock of the defendant corporation, to be issued to the Baltimore Company or its nominees; that there was then at the same meeting presented the offer of Lewisohn to sell the real estate acquired by him as aforesaid for 30,000 shares of the capital stock of the defendant company, to be issued to him, or his nominees, which offer was accompanied with a request that the stock be issued
105 to said Lewisohn and your orator. That said offers were unanimously accepted by the defendant company, and thereafter the said Baltimore Company requested that said 100,000 shares of capital stock of the defendant company be issued to Philip K. Dumaresq.

(9) And your orator further shows that thereafter the said properties were conveyed by the Baltimore Company to the defendant company, and that the said Lewisohn conveyed to the defendant company the properties conveyed to him by Keyser, and having performed the obligation to furnish $500,000 for working capital, the said defendant company issued 150,000 shares of its capital stock to the following persons: to your orator, said Lewisohn, Philip K. Dumaresq, as the nominee of the Baltimore Company (the total capital stock whereof was owned by your orator and said Lewisohn), Thomas Nelson, acting for your orator, a Syndicate formed by your orator and said Lewisohn for the purpose of furnishing said $500,000; that said stock was issued in the following manner: 100,000 shares to Dumaresq, nominally on account of the property standing in the name of the Baltimore Company; 30,000 shares to your orator and Lewisohn, nominally on account of the mines, mining claims and land conveyed by Lewisohn to the Company; and 20,000 shares to said Nelson, nominally on account of the working capital of $500,000 so furnished by your orator and said Lewisohn, which said sum of $500,000 was actually procured by your orator and said Lewisohn through the sale of stock to their friends.

(10) And your orator further shows that the persons, holders and owners of the entire authorized capital stock of the defendant company, procured and consented to the issue of said entire capital stock as aforesaid as performance by the defendant company

106 of its part of the aforesaid agreement, and no person who was a stockholder at the time of the consummation of the transaction objected or dissented thereto, or therefrom, but on the contrary all and every one assented, ratified and approved formally and on the books of record of the New Jersey Company, such assent, ratification and approval being with full and complete knowledge of all the facts. That subsequent shareholders acquired their shares, not from the defendant company, but from the owners of said shares, viz., your orator and said Lewisohn; that none of said shares were offered to the public by prospectus, or otherwise, by or on behalf of the defendant corporation, but were disposed of to various persons by your orator and said Lewisohn, under contracts of sale which they took and received wholly on their own account as the owners of said shares.

(11) And your orator further shows that prior to the commencement of the suit in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts for the County of Suffolk, hereinafter stated, no claim was made by the Baltimore Company, the defendant company, or any of the stockholders of the defendant company that the property which was conveyed and turned over to the defendant company, in consideration of the issue of 130,000 shares of the capital stock of the defendant company, was not worth the par value of said stock in cash. And your orator charges and insists the truth to be that the property so turned over by your orator and the said Lewisohn and the Baltimore Company to the defendant company was and still is worth a much greater sum than $3,250,000, and has been worth more than said sum continuously since the date of said sale; that while there have been some fluctuations in the prices paid for stock sold, due to the conditions of the market, said stock sold, in Boston, in September 1907, at $100 per share, being four times its par value, and
107 in February 1907, for $106 per share, being more than four times its par value; and that your orator believes that said stock cannot be purchased at the present time at $100 a share.

(12) And your orator further shows unto your Honor that at the present time about 140,000 shares of the capital stock of the defendant company are owned by a corporation of the State of Maine, known as the Old Dominion Mining Company, as a holding corporation, which company has little other property of known value; that the par value of the stock of said Maine Company is $25 a share; that its issued and outstanding capital stock is $7,200,000; and its stock is selling in the market from $35 to $40 a share, which is accounted for by the fact that the stock of the defendant company has been, and still is, worth at least four times its par value.

(13) And your orator further shows to your Honor that the various transactions, matters and contracts touching and concerning the purchase of the property aforesaid and the issuance of the stock aforesaid, were duly ratified by the stockholders of the defendant company at meetings held on April 5, 1899, June 15, 1899, and April 3, 1901, at none of which times did your orator and said Lewisohn, or either of them, control the said defendant Company or the action of its stockholders.

And your orator further shows unto your Honor that the defendant company, treating the contracts of sale from the Baltimore company and the said Lewisohn to the defendant company and the issue of the 100,000 shares and the 30,000 shares, as aforesaid, as separable and distinct contracts, filed two separate bills against your orator, in the Supreme Judicial Court of Suffolk County, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, in equity, the prayers of which bills are as follows:

108 (a) As to the 30,000 share transaction:

1. "That this honorable court will declare said sale of said parcels of real estate conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the plaintiff, as hereinbefore set forth, rescinded, and will direct this plaintiff to execute such reconveyance thereof, if any, to such person as this honorable court shall think proper.

2. "That said defendant be required to return to the plaintiff the consideration paid by this plaintiff for said conveyance, to wit, thirty thousand (30,000) shares of its capital stock, or if, and so far as, said shares are no longer in his control, to account to the plaintiff therefor.

3. "In the alternative in case this honorable court shall deem that the plaintiff has not rescinded, and is not entitled to rescind, said sale of said parcels of real estate conveyed by said Lewisohn to the plaintiff as above set forth, that this honorable court will ascertain the amount of damages suffered by the plaintiff by reason of the sale of said parcels of real estate as above set forth, and will by its decree establish the right of the plaintiff to recover said amount, and order said defendant to pay said amount to this plaintiff.

4. "For such other relief as this honorable court shall seem meet.

(b) As to the 100,000 share transaction:

1. "That said defendant be required to account to the plaintiff for all shares of stock in the plaintiff corporation other than the thirty thousand (30,000) shares issued to him and said Lewisohn, ostensibly as consideration for the conveyance by said Lewisohn of said parcels of real estate, to wit, for all of said one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of stock orignally issued to said Philip K. Dunnaresq as hereinbefore set forth, which were received by said defendant or by said Lewisohn, or by any other person or persons as profit in the transaction set forth in the foregoing bill of complaint in connection with the promotion of the organization of the plaintiff corporation.

2. "In the alternative that the damages suffered by the plaintiff corporation from the acts of the defendant above complained of, other than the sale to the plaintiff of said parcels of real estate conveyed to it by said Lewisohn, be ascertained, and that the defendant be ordered to pay to the plaintiff the amount so ascertained.

3. "For such other relief as to this honorable court shall seem meet."

Copies of which bills and answers and other documents forming the record (excluding the testimony) are hereto annexed as part thereof Marked "C".

And your orator further shows unto your Honor that he is advised by counsel that said bills were, in effect, filed to recover from your orator, as one of the promoters of said defendant company, undisclosed profits made by them in the formation of said corporation and the turning over of said property to the defendant 109 company at a much greater sum than they paid for the same. That upon the filing of said bills your orator filed a demurrer in the 30,000 share suit, and answered in the 100,000 share suit; that said demurrer was argued before the full bench of the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and in the opinion of said court (which will be found in 188 Mass. 315) the demurrer was overruled, and your orator then answered in said suit, and the causes proceeded to trial. That both said causes were heard together before his Honor Henry N. Sheldon, Justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts sitting within and for the County of Suffolk; that said Justice decided said causes in favor of the defendant company and against your orator, in the 100,000 share suit for $832,160, principal and interest, with costs of suit, and in the 30,000 share suit gave judgment for $1,213,566.67, with costs of suit, making in all the sum of $2,045,726.67; that decrees were accordingly entered in said two suits, on the 10th day of December, 1907, and after the entry thereof both parties thereto appealed to the full bench of the Supreme Judicial Court of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and the argument of said appeals is set for hearing on March 3rd next, which appeals, by both parties, your orator is advised by Massachusetts counsel, vacated said decrees.

And your orator further shows that after the commencement of the suits against your orator, the defendant Company likewise began two suits in equity, in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, against Frederick Lewisohn et al. executors of the last will and testament of said Leonard Lewisohn, who was then deceased; that the two bills filed against Lewisohn's executors were identical with the two bills filed against your orator and were predicated and founded upon the same identical 110 state of facts and transactions set out in the bills against your orator; to one of which bills, viz., the 30,000 share bill, the defendants demurred, and answered in the other, following the course of your orator in the Massachusetts suits; that the cause on demurrer was argued before his Honor Judge Lacombe, who filed an opinion (which may be found in 136 Fed Rep. 915) sustaining the demurrer and is as follows:

LACOMBE, Circuit Judge:

It was conceded by complainant upon the argument that the bill prayed no relief except rescission of a contract for the sale of certain mining rights and a parcel of real estate in Arizona. Irrespective of such concession, the court would be inclined so to construe the bill. Therefore the objection that it is multifarious cannot be sustained.

The demurrer asserts that the complainant has not by the bill stated such a case as entitled it to have such contract and sale rescinded. This sufficiently challenges the equity of the bill. The facts as averred in the bill are as follows: The deceased, Leonard Lewisohn, and one Albert S. Bigelow were the promoters of the complainant company, and caused it to be organized under the laws of New Jersey on July 8, 1895, by seven persons selected and employed for said purpose, none of whom had any actual interest in the corporation, or acted in the formation thereof other than as the representative and agent of the promoters. Forty shares were nominally subscribed and paid for by these persons, but, as in fact, all of said subscriptions were made for the benefit and at the request of Bigelow and Lewisohn, and each subscription was paid for by them. The company having been organized, elections for officers and directors ensued, as a result of which, on July 11, 1895, Bigelow and Lewisohn both became directors, and Bigelow the president of the Company. Prior to July 11th they had become the owners of several mining claims and a parcel of real estate in Arizona, which were worth on that day, as the bill alleges, not more than $5,000. On that day, at a directors' meeting attended by themselves and two of their dummy directors, they sold and conveyed to the corporation the said mining claims and real estate for 30,000 shares of the capital stock of the par value of $25 a share. Thereafter, at times not specified, additional shares of capital stock (to the amount of 20,000) were from time to time offered and sold to the public at par, to obtain working capital. The bill also alleges a similar sale, for stock, on July 11th, of a mine owned by the promoters, at an excessive valuation, but no relief is prayed as to that transaction. The prayer of the bill is that the sale of the mining claims and real estate be rescinded, the property reconveyed, and the shares of stock returned or accounting had therefor, or, in the alternative of rescision, that the court will ascertain the amount of damages suffered by the complainant, and decree therefor.

111 Whether the contract for the sale of the real estate was voidable, so as to give the corporation the right to rescind or to demand damages, must be determined under the conditions which existed when it was made. Ordinarily, when a director or promoter contracts to sell property to his corporation, the corporation not being independently represented, it may rescind the contract, upon the theory, of course, that the relation between the parties is fiduciary, and that the other stockholders and subscribers to the stock are to be protected against an abuse of trust. But where there are no other stockholders nor subscribers, there is no one who is deceived, no stockholder or subscriber who is defrauded, since all the profit put into one pocket by the "faithless" directors is taken out of their other pocket as the sole stockholders. This principle is abundantly established by decisions controlling here, so it will be unnecessary to cite numerous authorities from other courts. In Foster v. Seymour (C. C.) 23 Fed. 65, which was decided in this court (Wallace, J.) the facts were very similar, except that the sale was for scrip, the stock not having yet been issued. The court said:

"There was no fraud on the corporation. At the time the scrip was exchanged for the mining property, the trustees were all there were of the corporation. There were no stockholders unless they were stockholders. What was done was done by the corporation: By the exchange the corporation got the mining property, and gave it back again to those from whom it got it, divided into 100,000 shares of the nominal value of $100 each."

And it held that whether or not a subsequent purchaser of stock could recover against those who had misled him, against the corporation or the trustees, "the corporation has no cause of action against the trustees." Subsequently the same question came before the Court of Appeals in this circuit (McCracken v. Robinson, 57 Fed. 375, 6 C. C. A. 400), where, as the court expressed it,

"When they entered into the contracts they owned the corporation and all its stock, and represented only themselves. While directors in fact, they were principals in name."

It was held that in such a case the rule prohibiting persons in a fiduciary relation from contracting for their own advantage in the name of their beneficiaries had no application.

This demurrer to the bill is well taken, and it is therefore unnecessary to discuss the special demurrer as to defect of parties. The bill is dismissed with costs.

and a final decree was entered thereon; that from said decree this defendant company appealed to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, and said Court affirmed the decree of the Court below in sustaining the demurrer (the opinion may be found in 148 Fed. Rep. 1020) and is as follows:

112 The Bill prays for relief as follows:

First. That the sale of the mining claims to the complainant by Leonard Lewisohn—the defendants' testator—and Albert S. Bigelow—a citizen of Massachusetts and not a party to this action, be rescinded and the real estate reconveyed to the defendants upon receipt by the complainant of the consideration paid therefor.

Second. That defendants return to the complainant the consideration paid by complainant for said property, namely, 30,00- shares of its capital stock, or account therefor.

Third. That if the Court shall decide that the complainant is not entitled to rescind the sale of said real estate to it, then, and in that event, that the court ascertain the amount of damages sustained by complainant and direct the defendants as executors to pay the amount to complainant.

We are unable to perceive how this relief or any part thereof can be granted the complainant upon the facts alleged in the bill.

The fundamental difficulty with the bill is that it fails to state any facts showing that the complainant was in any way injured or defrauded by the transactions complained of. At the time of the transfer by Bigelow and Lewisohn to the company Bigelow and Lewisohn and their representatives owned the entire issue of stock of the corporation. The sale by them to the corporation was in effect a sale by them to Bigelow and Lewisohn. A corporation can only act through the human beings who compose it; it cannot be deceived or defrauded unless its stockholders and directors are deceived or defrauded. The corporation knew all that Bigelow and Lewisohn knew and no one of the original parties to the transfer was defrauded by the exchange of the stock controlled by Bigelow and Lewisohn for the real estate controlled by them.

It may be that such a large over-capitalization as is alleged in the bill might mislead and deceive careless and credulous purchasers of the stock, but we are not now dealing with the case of a stockholder alleging concealment, fraud and misrepresentation. The stockholders, apparently, have no complaint; at least they have not propounded any.

Indeed, it is not easy to see how a purchaser, who paid $25 per share, could be defrauded in view of the allegation of the bill that "The shares of this corporation so issued in payment for the property sold to it as aforesaid were at the time of the fair market value of twenty-five (25) dollars each, and continued for a long time thereafter to be of such or greater value." It is enough, however, that this is not a stockholders' action.

The subscribers for the 20,000 shares subsequently issued were not deceived; they asked for no statement and received none; they got what they purchased and are not complainants here.

A protracted discussion is unnecessary for the reason that this court and the Circuit Court of the Southern District have 113 decided the question adversely to the complainant's contention.

Foster v. Seymour (23 Fed. Rep. 65); McCracken v. Robinson (57 Id. 375).

To the same effect are the decisions of the New York Court of Appeals.

Barr v. N. Y. L. E. & W. R. Co. (125 N. Y. 263); Blum v. Whitney (185 N. Y. 232).

It is true that the Supreme Court of Massachusetts (188 Mass. 315) has taken a different view, but we feel constrained to adhere to the prior adjudication of this circuit.

The decree is affirmed with costs.

That thereupon the defendant company presented its petition to the Supreme Court of the United States for a writ of certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, alleging as a reason why said Court should take jurisdiction of the cause, that there was conflict between the decisions of the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Second Circuit and the Circuit Court of Appeals of the Sixth Circuit and the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, and that the questions involved were of great public importance; that thereupon the Supreme Court of the United States granted the petition and allowed the writ of certiorari.

And your orator further shows unto your Honor that the order of the decrees on the demurrers of your orator in the Massachusetts Court and of Lewisohn in the United States Circuit Court was as follows: (1) The United States Circuit Court sustained the Lewisohn demurrer; (2) The Supreme Court of Massachusetts overruled your orator's demurer; and (3) The United States Circuit Court of Appeals affirmed the judgment below sustaining the demurrer.

And your orator further shows unto your Honor that the total profit of your orator on the whole transaction was the sum
114 of $151,000. but that in the decrees entered in Massachusetts said Court charged your orator not only with the sum which it conceived he would have been primarily liable for if Lewisohn had been a party to the suit and it had likewise been adjudged against him, but with the whole sum it conceived. That your orator and Lewisohn should return to the company as appears by Judge Sheldon's finding copy of which is hereto annexed and marked "C."

And your orator further shows unto your Honor that he is advised by New Jersey counsel (1) that under the laws and decisions of the State of New Jersey your orator is not liable to respond to the defendant company in manner and form set out in said decrees, or otherwise; (2) that if your orator is liable for any sum such sum should not exceed the profit he personally realized on the transaction. (3) That the liability of your orator on the matters and facts set out in the bills filed in the Massachusetts Court is fixed and governed by the laws of our State, the decisions of our courts, and the policy of our State, and not by the laws, decisions and policies of other States; that the decision of the Massachusetts Court, in said suits, is contrary to the laws, decisions and policies of this State, and charges your orator with a liability not existing in this State. (4) That if the judgment of the Massachusetts Court sounds in tort, the judgment of the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York likewise sounds in tort; and as the proceeding in the United States Circuit Court was instituted by the defendant company without the assent of your orator, and the decree entered therein, if affirmed by the United States Supreme Court, operates as an absolute discharge of the estate of said Lewisohn, it likewise operates as a discharge of the causes of action set out in the bills filed in Massachusetts as against your orator, the decrees
115 therein not having been entered until after the final decree was entered in the United States Circuit Court on demurrer and the decree on remittitur from the Circuit Court of Appeals had been entered. (5) That he is advised that said judgment of the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York estopped the defendant company from further proceeding with its suits in Massachusetts. (6) That if the United States Supreme Court upholds the judgment of the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York, and the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts should affirm the decree of its Court below, then your orator will be without remedy against the estate of said Lewisohn, because it was judicially determined, in the suits against said executors, that they were not liable.

And your orator further shows that in view of the fact that the defendant company is a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of New Jersey, that the matters in controversy between the defendant company and your orator, as well as their several rights and liabilities, arise under the laws of the State of

New Jersey and should be decided in conformity with the laws and decisions of the State of New Jersey, and in view of the fact that there is a conflict between the decisions of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit and the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, in suits where the pleadings are identically the same and where the legal responsibility, if any, of the estate of Lewisohn, for the acts complained of, is at least as great, if not greater, than that of your orator, on the facts alleged in said bills, and the decision of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts is also in conflict with the laws and decisions of the State of New Jersey, and charges your orator with a liability not existing 116 under the laws and decisions of the State of New Jersey, and thereby the defendant company has obtained an unconscionable and inequitable advantage over your orator, due solely to the selection of the court in which the proceedings were instituted, and may, if permitted to proceed with the prosecution of said cause in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, obtain a further unconscionable and inequitable advantage over your orator, by the said court following the doctrine theretofore enunciated in the decision of the cause on your orator's demurrer, wherein it refused to follow the laws and decisions of the State of New Jersey, as well as the decision of the United States Circuit Court in the Lewisohn suit, this honorable court should assume jurisdiction of the controversy between the defendant company and your orator, to determine and fix the rights and liabilities of the defendant company, your orator and all parties to the controversy, in accordance with the laws and decisions of the State of New Jersey, and to prevent the manifest injustice and unconscionable and inequitable advantages which have heretofore been obtained in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, on the argument of said demurrer, being availed of by the defendant company, and the further manifest injustice and unconscionable and inequitable advantages which may be done, and which the defendant company may obtain, if it is permitted to proceed with the prosecution of the cause above stated, before the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, being the same court which decided the cause on demurrer, which court is the court of last resort in said Commonwealth of Massachusetts.

And your orator further shows unto your Honor, that in said suits in Massachusetts your orator gave a surety bond or bonds in the sum of $500,000 to indemnify the defendant company; that the term of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts follow-117 ing the March term is the November term; that the case of the defendant company against the executors of Lewisohn now pending on certiorari in the Supreme Court of the United States, it is expected, will be argued during the month of March of this year, and it is practically sure that the cause will be decided by the United States Supreme Court prior to the November term of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, and that to restrain the defendant company from prosecuting its cause in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts and from proceeding further in said suit, in Massachusetts, will do no injury whatsoever to the defendant company; whereas, in the situation as it now presents itself, if the cause is prosecuted in Massachusetts and the final decrees entered therein against your orator, your orator will be without remedy, and will suffer an irreparable injury.

And your orator further shows unto your Honor that it is the intention of said defendant company, unless restrained by the injunction or decree of this honorable court, to prosecute said causes before the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, on the third day of March next, or as soon thereafter as counsel can be heard, and to proceed therein, after which procedure the decisions of the court below can be affirmed and final decrees entered therein, without the intervention of the defendant; and that to permit such procedure of said causes places the defendant company beyond the control of this honorable court, in that if the above court should decide in favor of the defendant company against your orator, it would thereby obtain an inequitable and unconscionable advantage against your orator, and your orator might be bound thereby and without remedy, even though the Supreme Court of the United States should, on the same subject matter and cause of action, enunciate a different rule to that found in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts and 118 declare that the defendant company was not entitled to the relief prayed for in its bills.

And your orator further shows that he submits himself to the jurisdiction of this honorable court, and is willing to submit himself to the jurisdiction of this honorable court, in any proceeding which may be brought by the defendant company against him, touching the subject matters set out in said bills in the Massachusetts suits, and to do and perform every act and thing required by this court, and to obey such decrees, and pay such sums of money, if any, as this court may make or direct in the premises.

And your orator further shows that the estate of said Lewisohn owns a large amount of property within the State of New Jersey and can, and he believes that said executors may, be brought within the jurisdiction of this honorable court, and that it is proper in the settlement of the matters in controversy that the estate of Lewisohn and your orator should be joined in the same suit, to the end that all the parties interested or who should be affected by the decrees, will be brought before this court, and the court, by its decree, may then and there settle once for all, all controversies existing between the parties.

And your orator further shows that in the suit against your orator in Massachusetts the said defendant company urged as an excuse for not making the executors of the estate of Lewisohn parties to the suit, on the ground of non-residence, and stated in its bills as follows:

"Said Leonard Lewisohn died on March 5, 1902, and was at the time of his death a citizen and resident of the City, County and State of New York. The executors of the estate of said Lewisohn were also residents of said City, County and State and have been duly appointed by the courts of said State, but no executors or legal representatives of said Lewisohn have been appointed or are within this commonwealth, and there is no property within this common-119 wealth belonging to said estate which could be reached by any process, and it is impossible to get service within this commonwealth upon the executors of said Leonard Lewisohn."

That in the bills filed in the United States Circuit Court as aforesaid, the defendant company excused its failure to make your orator a party to said suit, alleging as follows:

"Said Bigelow is a citizen and resident of Boston, in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and cannot be served with process in this District or in the State of New York."

But by reason of the willingness of your orator to appear in a suit brought in the State of New Jersey, and the presence of property of the estate of Lewisohn within the State of New Jersey, jurisdiction can be obtained over all the parties concerned in the state of New Jersey.

And your orator further shows to your Honor that in view of the premises the determination of the controversies existing between the defendant Company and your orator and the Lewisohn estate should be and is properly cognizable before this Honorable Court to prevent a multiplicity of suits and to prevent injustice through technical conflicts in different jurisdictions, and to the end that a decision might ultimately be reached binding on all the parties in conformity with the spirit of the laws of the State of New Jersey, under whose laws said corporation was organized and the duties and obligations of the parties were created and exist.

That after the institution of the suits aforesaid certain interests owning or controlling about 100,000 out of the total 150,000 shares of the capital stock of the New Jersey Corporation, caused to be formed a Maine company known as the Old Dominion Copper Company, and caused to be conveyed to such Maine Company at or about the time of its incorporation 100,804 shares of the capital
120 stock of the New Jersey Company, and since such time have caused to be conveyed to the Maine Company further shares of the New Jersey Company to the amount of about 40,000 shares, and as a part of such conveyance and transfer and as a part of the plan of organization of said Maine Company, an agreement was entered into between the New Jersey Company and the Maine Company and one Charles Sumner Smith, Vice-President of the Maine Company and President of the New Jersey Company, and one D. Blakely Hoar, a partner or associate of counsel for the New Jersey Company in all four suits, providing that the Maine Company as a majority shareholder of the New Jersey Company should cause the New Jersey Company to realize upon these four suits against your orator and the Lewisohn estate and distribute the proceeds thereof, as in said agreement provided, a copy of which said agreement is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit F." Thereafter or substantially at the same time the said Smith and Hoar executed a trust deed in which they declared themselves to be Trustees of any fund obtained by virtue of the foregoing arrangement, and issued certificates of interest known as Old Dominion Trust Receipts, a copy of one of such trust receipts which is referred to in Wainwright's affidavit (as annexed) hereto annexed and marked "B." Such trust receipts are sold from time to time in the markets of Boston, New York and elsewhere, and the holders of such certificates are not in any substantial part the holders of the shares of the Maine Company or the holders of the shares of the New Jersey Company, and the complainant is advised and therefore alleges that the holders of the trust receipts are the persons ultimately entitled to the sums of money to be paid by the Maine Company to the respondents Smith and Hoar under the agreement aforesaid. The complainant is informed and believes that the voting power on the stock of the New Jersey Company held 121 and owned by the Maine Company as aforesaid, has been as to the matters referred to in said agreement between the Maine Company and the said Smith and Hoar, transferred to the said Smith and Hoar, Trustees as aforesaid, who are not in that capacity shareholders in the New Jersey Company, and the prosecution of the claims and suits against Bigelow and Lewisohn is not being had with the object or purpose of benefiting the New Jersey Company, but for the purpose of realizing the largest sum possible on the trust certificates issued as aforesaid, so that the above trust receipts are simply evidences of the owners' interest in the law suits which the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company of New Jersey in name has b-ought against the Lewisohn Estate and your orator, and the buying and selling of such certificates constitutes the trading in a law suit and the proceeds of any recovery in any or all of the aforementioned four law suits will neither go to any persons who were originally interested in the New Jersey Company as stockholders, syndicate subscribers or in any other way whatsoever, nor will it go substantially as far as fourteen-fifteenths is concerned, to the New Jersey Company, but to persons who are entire strangers to the transactions but who have bought in purchasing such trust receipts as a speculative interest in law suits.

In tender consideration whereof, and forasmuch as your orator is without adequate remedy in the premises, at and by the strict rules of the common law, and can only obtain relief in this Honorable Court where matters of this nature are properly cognizable and relievable.

122 To the end therefore, that the said Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company of New Jersey may, to the best and utmost of its knowledge, remembrance, information and belief (but without oath, the oath being waived), full, true and perfect answer make to all and singular the matters aforesaid, and that as fully and particularly as if the same were here repeated and they and every of them distinctly interrogated thereto, and that the said Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, its officers, servants, agents, attorneys, solicitors, counsel and eemployés, be by the injunction and decree of this Honorable Court perpetually restrained and enjoined from proceeding in any manner to enforce or establish its claims against your orator as stated in two bills of complaint in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts entitled, Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey and having a usual place of business at Boston in said County of Suffolk, against your orator, described as Albert S. Bigelow, of Cohasset in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, having his usual place of business in Boston, and from taking any further action or proceedings in said suits or otherwise, and from in any manner instituting proceedings and suits with respect to or touching the claims against your orator set out in said two bills filed as aforesaid, in any court or jurisdiction whatsoever excepting the courts of the State of New Jersey, and that this court will take jurisdiction of the controversies alleged to exist between the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company and your orator and determine if any liability exists from your orator to the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, and that if any liability is found the estate of said Leonard Lewisohn being made a party hereto, this Honorable Court 123 will determine the respective rights of your orator and the said estate, and do equity between them whether by contribution or otherwise, and that your orator may have such further or other relief in the premises as the nature of the case may require, and as shall be agreeable to equity and good conscience.

May it please your Honor, the premises considered, to grant unto your orator not only the state's writ of injunction, issuing out of and under the seal of this Honorable Court, to be directed to the said Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, its officers, servants, agents, attorneys, solicitors, counsel and employés, restraining them and each of them from proceeding in any manner to enforce or establish its claims against your orator as stated in two bills of complaint in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, entitled Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey and having a usual place of business at Boston in said County of Suffolk, against your orator, described as Albert S. Bigelow, of Cohasset in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, having his usual place of business in Boston, and from taking any further action or proceeding in said suits or otherwise, and from in any manner instituting proceedings and suits with respect to or touching the claims against your orator set out in said two bills filed as aforesaid, in any court or jurisdiction whatsoever, excepting the courts of the State of New Jersey, and from in any manner assigning, selling or disposing of said claims, but also the state's writ of subpœna, issuing out of and under the seal of this Honorable Court, to be directed to the said Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting 124 Company, commanding it by a certain day and under a certain penalty therein to be expressed, to be and appear before your Honor in this Honorable Court, then and there to answer all and singular the premises and to stand to, abide by and perform such order and decree therein as to your Honor shall seem meet, and shall be agreeable to equity and good conscience.

And your orator, as in duty bound, will ever pray, &c.

CLIFTON, ARIZONA, June 18th, 1895.

To Messrs. A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn.

GENTLEMEN: In compliance with your instructions we have examined the property of the Old Dominion Copper Co., of Globe, Ariz., and we now take pleasure in submitting our report on the same.

Globe is situated about 100 miles to the Northwest of the Clifton copper belt and is reached by the G. V. G. & N. Ry. which terminates at Fort Thomas, 61 7-10 miles distant from the connection with the Southern Pacific Railway at Bowie, and 71 miles distant from Globe. From Fort Thomas freight and passengers are presently conveyed by wagons and by stage. We may here state that for the proper and economical working of the Globe properties it is necessary that the G. V. G. & N. Ry. should be extended to Globe.

In our calculations we have considered the completion of the railroad as an assured fact. The property of the Old Dominion Co. comprises the following:—

The Globe Mine.

The Globe Ledge.
" Fraction.
" S. E. Globe.
" Interloper.
" Globe, S. W.
" Hidden Globe.
" Alice.
" S. W. Alice of Hypatia.

Smelting Plant.

The smelting plant consists of 2 60-ton water jacket furnaces and 1 40-ton furnace, each supplied with an independent Baker blower propelled by independent engines. The steam boilers and machinery we found ample for the requirements of the plant. The building covering the plant and the ore bins we found roomy and commodious, the ore bins having a capacity of 3500 tons. On a self-fluxing charge the furnaces could be pushed to 80 or 90 tons per day, as the ore is probably the finest smelting ore in the world, being remarkably free from fines and admirably suited for rapid and economical running. For matting the ores a somewhat larger furnace, say 7 ft. x 3′ 3″ would be required. But if the object be to make black copper, in that case the present plant is probably as economical as any, and it had the advantage of being ready 126 to commence work at a moment's notice. The admirable condition of everything connected with this plant showed that the management had taken the greatest pains to keep everything in perfect order.

The Interloper shaft, the main outlet for the mines, is situated less than a quarter of a mile from the smelting Works on an upper slope of the same hill, and a Bleichert tramway, with a capacity of 200 tons in 10 hours, furnishes a cheap and exceedingly convenient method of haulage. For the present system of working, the Smelting Plant and the haulage leave but little to be desired.

Mines.

In locating the Mines of the property the locators have been singularly happy in covering in length and width what we cannot but regard as the principal lode of the district and one of the largest in Arizona. The surface level and the first level are tapped without hoisting, both delivering their ores direct to the Bleichert tramway. The second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh levels are connected to and deliver their ores through the Interloper shaft, which has been sunk to the eighth level, the latter being at the present time no more than a pumping station. The levels have not been run in straight lines and they are therefore longer than is shown by the figures given below, which represent the length in a straight line opened up by each level.

Surface Level.

The surface level, run in at an average depth of 50 feet below the surface of the hill, exposes large ore bodies at three different points on each of which stoping to a considerable extent has been done. At the main outcrop the vein is 200 feet in width and practically all ore, mainly of the low grade self-fluxing character. The tremendous outcrop, the most noticeable feature on the prop- practically all ore, mainly of the low grade self-fluxing character. In stoping here, as on all the other levels, only the rich streaks have been followed, and the main portion of the vein has, therefore, been but little disturbed.

The rich ore descends in sheets with layers of the low grade ore and occasionally of vein matter between. This characteristic we found repeated on the lower levels. A careful examination satisfied us that there is every reason to expect a continuous ore body for a distance of 700 feet on this level. In opening up this ground the footwall should be closely followed and in stoping upwards the ore should be followed to its junction with the hanging wall, and this also applies to the lower levels. The low grade ore in the backs will nearly all pay to smelt and in running we expect that sheets of richer ore will be uncovered.

First Level.

Development on this level has been done altogether between the Moony shaft and the outcrop, the total length of vein broken into being 600 feet, the main working being on the downward
128 extension of the outcrop which showed as strong here as it did on the surface 160 feet above. With the exception of the work on the extension of the outcrop, stoping has not been conducted to a height greater than from 20 to 25 feet above the level, the lower grade ores being as usual left untouched in the backs. The promising ground lying to the Southwest of the Moony shaft lies untouched. Here there should be no difficulty in finding the extension of the ore body. It is evident that this level should produce much more than it has done heretofore.

Second Level.

On this level ore has been touched in spots for a length on the vein of 1200 feet, but only over a distance of 500 feet has stoping been done to a considerable extent and that altogether on the hanging wall and away from the main contact. At the Moony shaft, ore is to be seen in place on the footwall. Ore is again exposed at a point 50 feet to the Southeast of the same shaft. At this point the vein narrows to a few feet in width, but it opens out immediately. In the belt of ground 1400 feet in length practically no work has been done along the footwall. Judging from the relative position of the stopes it would appear as if the ore body might have left the footwall immediately below the first level and folding out horizontally had again descended on the hanging wall. This theory however finds no support in the developments on the levels above and below which invariably expose the main ore body making on the footwall. The development of the ore bodies on the hanging wall has no doubt been due to the driving of the main levels through the limestone. These ore bodies will I have no 129 doubt be ultimately followed to their starting point,—the footwall. With ore to commence upon at the Moony shaft it should not be difficult to prove up this ground.

Third Level.

With the exception of two small stopes on the footwall on the S. W. end of the property, all the development work has been done in the hanging wall. The work to the N. E. of the Moony shaft has been run too far into the country rock and has been done in ground which cannot be considered as in the vein or as likely to be ore bearing. We consider this level as practically so much undeveloped ground. As the ore is very strong on the footwall in the fourth level we see no reason why it should not be found in the same position on the third.

Fourth Level.

With the exception of a block of 90 ft. the ore has been followed on the footwall and found to be continuous for a distance of 900 feet. All of this work has been done to the S. W. of the Moony shaft. Stoping as usual has been done only on the rich ore sheet, good fluxing ore being left in the back. Ore has also been mined to a considerable extent along the footwall. The vein shows a width between walls of fully 200 feet for quite a distance. Much good stoping ground remains, and between the walls there is a big unprospected territory which can hardly fail to be highly productive. The ground lying to the N. E. of the Moony shaft should be tested along the footwall.

Fifth Level.

On this level the ore body on the footwall has been shown up and stoped for a distance of about 800 feet on the vein, the work being done to the S. W. of the Moony shaft. Most of this ground being inaccessible on account of a large cave due to insufficient timbering, it is impossible to judge with any degree of accuracy how much ore has been left. As only the rich ore was stoped, it is obvious that the bulk of it will pay to turn over, and we should expect it to yield besides the low grade fluxing ores quite abundantly in high grade ore. With the exception of a stone situated 600 feet to the Northeast of the Moony shaft no ore has been developed or touched on the extension of the vein in that direction. No doubt this is due to the fact that the main level and all cross-cuts have been driven in the country rock and away from the vein. In a distance of 850 feet not a single cross-cut has been run to test the footwall. While indications point to a narrowing of the vein on its Northeast extension there is good reason to believe that ore will be found by prospecting along the footwall and by following up the ore body in the stope last referred to. This view is strengthened by the work on the sixth and seventh levels which show the extension of the vein for a distance of 600 feet N. E. of the Moony shaft.

Sixth Level.

Ore has been stoped at intervals for a total distance of 1100 feet on the vein. In a total number of nine crosscuts run in to cut the footwall, no less than eight of them struck ore, which is an excellent proof of the continuity of the ore body and emphasized the need of systematic work in this direction. The most noticeable feature of this and of the fifth level has been the development of the ore body to the S. W. of the Interloper shaft. The ground in this direction justifies further prospecting in height, length and width. We consider it very important ground.

Seventh Level.

The continuation of the ore body in depth is shown by three large stopes opened at widely separate points on the vein.
131 As on the upper levels the bulk of the development work has been done in the hanging wall and in no case has ore been found on this level in crosscutting into the limestone. All the ore found has been discovered in crosscutting towards the footwall. Rich sulphide ore in pay streaks shows for a considerable distance, along the floor and roof of the main level. These streaks should be followed downward and upward, especially downward in order to develop the sulphides as rapidly as possible. So little real development work has been done that this level must be regarded as new and undeveloped. The vein is undoubtedly slimmer here than on the upper levels, but it is still wide enough to hold large ore bodies. Development work to the S. W. of the Interloper should also be pushed with vigor as the ground is very favorable and inviting.

Summary.

We need not encumber this report with a detailed description of the geological conditions which obtain in the Mines at Globe. It will suffice for your clear understanding of the situation if we explain only its more important features. The ores occur altogether in a strong fissure between the diorite which forms the footwall and the limestone which is the country rock lying to the East of the vein. The ore body has been found in the various levels, at intervals, over a total length of 1800 feet, and it has been followed to a depth of 515 feet from the surface of the main outcrop to the floor of the seventh level, where such small developments as have been made go to show that it is still a strong body. Near the fissure the limestone has been fractured, leaving fissures and pockets in it which have in places been filled with ore derived no doubt from the same source 132 which impregnated the main vein. This is particularly evident on the third level where the ore makes in the limestone and away from the vein. On the same level the ore is also found in the vein on the footwall. The nature of the vein being such—and in this it resembles most limestone formations—it was impossible to block out and measure the ore in sight, and we were compelled to rely altogether on our own judgment of the ground, assisted, of course, by our knowledge of what it had produced in the past, and by our experience in other limestone formations and also by a close study of the geological conditions. The immensity of the vein and of the ore bodies in sight made this a fairly simple task. Particularly were we impressed by the enormous bodies of low grade fluxing ores, nearly all of which can be treated to profit with the assistance of the cheap coke which will be obtained when the railroad is completed. With coke ranging from 40 to 60 per ton, all low grade ore had to be avoided, and wherever struck it was left standing in the Mine. Sulphide ore, in like manner, whenever found were at once abandoned, on the ground that it was difficult to treat.

Metallurgy.

The method of treatement heretofore followed had been the simple one of smelting oxidized ores into black copper of high grade. The same method can still be followed and with good profit, but there are heavy losses in it which can be avoided by converting all the ores into copper matte and then bessemerizing. But to make the ores, a great deal more sulphur will be required than is presently in sight. It is therefore highly necessary that while the plant is shut down the development of the sulphides should proceed with vigor. The sinking of the Interloper shaft for a further depth of 300 feet we look upon as an immediate necessity. At the same time winzes should be sunk in the sulphide ores to prove them in depth and thus work should keep pace with the shaft sinking. As this work proceeds, short campaigns should be made in smelting to treat the ores now in stock and those that will be derived from the prospecting. If necessary the production of black copper may be commenced at any time; but as the present shaft would not be able to keep up a large output and at the same time allow of its being sunk, we deem it better to sink before commencing to smelt on the large scale. The rich sulphide ores will probably be found for a considerable depth, possibly 200 to 300 feet below the eighth level, and much of it will be associated with considerable vein matter, forming a low grade ore which will require to be concentrated. For the treatment of this ore a concentrator will be required. Later it will be necessary to erect a leaching plant, but this need not be thought of until a sufficiency of iron pyrites has been developed. Since the commencement of the Company there has been produced about 68,000,000 lbs. fine copper, and we think that a very conservative estimate would give a like amount still to be extracted from the ground opened by the Old Company. This would give a supply of five and a half years at the rate of 6,000 tons copper per annum. Taking the figures of the Old Company as a basis and reducing them to figures based on present situation of the railroad showing a wagon haul of 65 miles, will show a net profit at present price of black copper (10 1-2c.) of $60. per ton, or $360,000. on 6,000 tons of copper per annum. To this can be added $60,000. when the railroad is completed into Globe.

Of course when the low grade sulphides are mined and the matter obtained treated by the Bessemer process, this yield 134 can be materially increased, but of this we have taken no account in our calculations. Calculating on a yearly output of 6,000 tons of black copper and on the market value of the same of 8 1-2 cents per pound, and also the completion of the railroad, the profit should be $180,000. per annum; with black copper realizing 9 1-2c. per pound, the profits should be $300,000. per annum; with black copper realizing 10 cents per pound, $360,000. per annum, and with black copper realizing 10 1-2 cents, $420,000. per annum.

In this estimate we have counted upon a yield from the ores of 9 per cent. of copper, an average which can easily be sustained, and we have not counted upon the richer sulphides likely to be opened out in depth. With this much assured from the ground already opened out, and with every prospect of an extension of the ore bodies both in length on the vein and in depth, we consider the property as certain to be a heavy producer for many years to come.

Attached hereto is a plan showing the ground covered by the various claims and also the trend of the footwall through the Globe Ledge and Globe claims, which have produced nearly all of the ore so far produced.

The following analysis shows the composition of the ore, amounting to 4,600 tons, now in the furnace bins and ready for smelting. The sample was taken from all over the surface of the ore pile:

	Per cent.
Moisture and volatile matter	12.40
Silica	22.48
Oxide of Copper (Metallic copper 16.9%)	21.18
Oxide of Iron (F20)	27.26
Alumina	9.44
Oxide of Manganese	2.09
Lime (Ca O)	1.35
Alkalies, Oxygen and loss	3.80
	100.00

This ore should form a slag not exceeding 36% in silica.
135 It is perfectly self fluxing. Samples of the sulphide ores taken from various parts of the Mine assayed as follows:—

	Per cent. copper.
Sulphide streaks in raise from 5th level	28.85
" " " Main drift "	9.60
" ore from stope near 7th level	12.90
" from main drift 7th level	34.90

During the 18 months ending at the time the Works were closed down, 50,947 tons of ore were smelted, resulting in a yield of 6,068 tons of black copper, being equal to an average yield of 11.9%

The cost of Pocohontas coke during the same time was $13.10 per ton at Wilcox or $39.60 per ton at Globe. Timber is obtained from the Pinal Mountains where the Company own a saw mill. The fuel is wood from the same mountains. Water is obtained from Pinal Creek which flows past the smelter dump. A small quantity will also be obtained from the Mines.

We consider that the railroad should make you a rate of $5 per ton on coke, coal and copper hauled between Bowie and Globe and vice versa. On all other material they should be allowed to make their own rate.

For smelting purposes an ample supply of water can be obtained from the creek and from the Mine. The latter will undoubtedly give an increased supply in depth.

Globe is situated at an elevation of 3500 feet above sea level. The climate is superb, being cool and pleasant every night in the year. The water being of most excellent quality, and the climate so superior, Globe has long been considered the healthiest camp in Arizona.

In conclusion we would say that we consider the property one of very great value. We have found nothing either above 136 ground or below the surface pointing in the slightest degree to a shortening or narrowing of the ore bodies either in depth or length. The work done in the past has served to open up vast ore bodies from which only the richest streaks running from 15 to 30 per cent copper have been removed, while the large bodies of rich sulphide ores have hardly been touched. The Mining and Smelting Plant is ample for present purposes except a boiler or two, and everything about the property is in excellent shape. We have no hesitation in recommending it as a safe and profitable investment and one which will undoubtedly increase rapidly in value as new development work is completed.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES COLQUHOUN.
G. M. HYAMS.

This is to certify, that we, the undersigned Jesse Lewisohn and Allen W. Evarts of the City, County and State of New York, Edgar Buffum, of Newark, in the County of Essex in the State of New Jersey, Charles W. Welch, of the City of Brooklyn in the State of New York, Sidney Riddlesdorffer, William V. Rowe, and William R. Montgomery, of the City, County and State of New York, do hereby associate themselves into a Company under and by virtue of the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey entitled "An Act concerning corporations" approved April 7, 1875, and the several supplements thereto and Acts amendatory thereof for the purposes hereinafter mentioned, and to that end we do by this our Certificate set forth:

First. That the name which we have assumed to designate such Company and to be used in its business and dealings is "Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company."

Second. That the place in the State of New Jersey where the business of such company is to be conducted is the City of Jersey

City, in the County of Hudson. That the principal part of the business of such Company within said State of New Jersey is to be transacted at said Jersey City, in the County of Hudson, and the places out of said State where the same is to be conducted are the town of Globe and other places in the Territory of Arizona, the City of Boston, in the State of Massachusetts, the City of New York, the States of Massachusetts and New York, and such other states and territories of the United States and such foreign Countries as shall, from time to time be deemed necessary or convenient for any of the purposes of the Company.

That the objects for which such Company is formed are the purchase, acquisition and sale of copper and other mines and mining property and the working, operation and maintenance of the same; the holding, purchase and conveyance of real property useful or convenient for the purposes of its business either in or out of the State of New Jersey and the mortgaging or leasing thereof; the construction and maintenance of water-works, reservoirs, dams, and aqueducts, the erection and maintenance of works, mills, factories, 136½ shops and other structures, engaging in and carrying on the business of treating, smelting and refining copper and other ores; manufacturing, buying, selling and dealing in copper, copper ores and other metals and ores and articles made wholly or in part of the same; issuing bonds, debentures or other obligations and securing the same by mortgage of any of the property, rights and franchises of the Company; the acquisition, purchase and sale or other disposition of the stocks, bonds or other securities of other Companies; and in general doing all acts and transacting all business necessary for and incident to the objects aforesaid, or in any wise connected therewith.

That the portion of the business of such Company which is to be carried on out of the State of New Jersey is the owning and operation of mines and such other part of its business as may be lawful and as may from time to time be deemed necessary or convenient by reason of locality, or other conditions, or circumstances.

That the principal office and place of business of such Company out of the State of New Jersey is to be situated in the town of Globe in the County of Gila, in the Territory of Arizona. That such Company proposes to carry on operations in the town of Globe and other places in the Territory of Arizona, the States of Massachusetts and New York, and in such other States and Territories of the United States and in such foreign Countries as shall from time to time be deemed necessary or convenient for any of the purposes of the Company.

Third. That the total amount of the capital stock of such Company is to be three millions seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, divided into one hundred and fifty thousand shares of the par value of twenty-five dollars each.

That the amount with which said Company will commence business is One thousand dollars, divided into forty shares of the par value of twenty-five dollars each as aforesaid.

Fourth. That the names and residences of the Stockholders and ne number of shares held by each are as follows, to-wit:

Jesse Lewisohn, of the City, County and State of New York, ixteen Shares., Allen W. Evarts of the City, County and State of ew York, Four shares.

Edgar Buffum, of Newark, Essex County, New Jersey, Four shares.

Charles W. Welch, of the City of Brooklyn, in the state of New ork, Four shares.

Sydney Riddlesdorffer, of the City, County and State of New ork, Four shares.

William V. Rowe, of the City, County and State of New York, our shares.

William R. Montgomery, of the City, County and State of New ork, Four shares.

Fifth. That the period at which such Company shall commence s the eighth day of July, One thousand eight hundred and ninety ive and the period at which it shall terminate is the eighth day of July one thousand nine hundred and forty five.

37 In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals the eighth day of July, One thousand eight hundred nd ninety five.

Agreement Between the Old Dominion Company, a Corporation Organized under the Laws of Maine, and Charles Sumner Smith and D. Blakely Hoar.

Whereas, pursuant to a proposal embodied in an agreement signed by F. S. Mosely & Company and others, dated December 30th, 1903, the Old Dominion Company has been organized and is the corporation referred to in said agreement as the Maine Company, and is about to acquire one hundred thousand eight hundred and four (100,804) shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company (hereinafter called the Mining Company); and

Whereas by Article First, section 6, of said agreement, it is stipulated that upon such acquisition of stock by said Old Dominion Company, it shall provide for realizing upon certain assets of said Mining Company and the distribution of the proceeds thereof, as in said agreement, to which reference is hereby made, more fully set forth; and

Whereas Charles Sumner Smith and D. Blakely Hoar (hereinafter called the Trustees) have consented to act as trustees, under a declaration of trust of even date herewith executed by them, for the benefit of said assenting stockholders of said Mining Company referred to in said agreement:

Now, therefore, this agreement witnesseth:

First: The Old Dominion Company acknowledges that the assets of the Mining Company referred to in Article First, section
140 6, of the agreement above referred to, comprise certain claims against one Albert S. Bigelow and against the estate of one

Leonard Lewisohn, deceased, on which suits are now pending brought by said Mining Company in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts for the County of Suffolk and in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, together with the other assets enumerated in the schedule hereto annexed marked "A."

Second: Said Old Dominion Company covenants and agrees with said Trustees to use all reasonable efforts;

1. To cause said Mining Company to realize upon said other assets specified in Schedule "A" in such manner as said Trustees may from time to time direct, subject, however, to the provisions hereinafter contained.

2. To cause said Mining Company actively to prosecute said claims above referred to against said Bigelow and against the estate of said Lewisohn, in such manner and through such counsel and attorneys as said Trustees may from time to time request, and upon like request to make any settlement and adjustment of said claims or any of them, subject, however, to the provisions hereinafter contained.

3. To cause said Mining Company, if and so far as any sums of money are realized from said other assets or from said claims:

(a) To pay all expenses that may have been incurred in realizing on said other assets or said claims, including the repayment of all sums that may have been advanced by said Trustees and the
141 satisfaction of all liabilities that may have been incurred by them in realizing on said other assets of said claims; or authority to do so;

(b) To apply any surplus moneys then remaining to the payment of all debts and unliquidated claims of said Mining Company incurred prior to January 1, 1904, in excess of Twenty five thousand ($25,000) dollars, other than those incurred for new construction.

(c) To receive such part, if any, as said Trustees may request of any surplus then remaining for use in providing for the further expenses of prosecuting said claims and realizing on said other assets, if and so far as the same have not been finally disposed of and realized on;

(d) To distribute any surplus then remaining as a dividend among its stockholders, if it lawfully may do so, and if it cannot then lawfully make such a dividend to make the same as soon thereafter as any legal impediment is removed.

Third: The Old Dominion Company agrees to pay over to said Trustees, after making the deductions hereinafter provided for, any and all sums received by it as a stockholder in said Mining Company, or that would have been so received by it if it had at all times remained the holder of the same proportions of the capital stock of said Mining Company outstanding as all the stock in said Mining Company now held and that may hereafter be acquired by said Old Dominion Company bears to the capital stock of said Mining Company now outstanding, whether so received under the foregoing provisions of this agreement or otherwise, so far as each sum 142 is derived from the other assets and claims of said Mining Company herein referred to.

Said Old Dominion Company shall first deduct from sums so payable amounts advanced under this agreement by the Old Dominion Company for expenses, including counsel fees of the Old Dominion Interest, so called, in connection with the proposal and agreement dated December 30th, 1903, above referred to. It shall pay over the balance of sums so payable to the Trustees from time to time as the same are received or would have been received for distribution by said Trustees among the assenting stockholders of said Mining Company and their assigns, but without responsibility on the part of said Old Dominion Company for the application of any sum so paid over.

Fourth. The Old Dominion Company agrees to use all reasonable efforts, so far as it lawfully may in the performance of Article Second, Section 1, of this agreement, to cause said Mining Company to permit said Trustees in the name and behalf of said Mining Company, but for the purposes set forth in this agreement, to take from time to time all such action as said Trustees shall deem desirable in prosecuting or settling or otherwise realizing on or discounting said claims or any of them, of said other assets or any of them; and to cause said Mining Company from time to time and as often as in writing requested, at the expense of said Trustees so far as any expenditure is required but without charge so far as acts by the officers or employees of the Mining Company or of the Old Dominion Company are concerned, to assist said Trustees in preparing and maintaining any and every suit at law or in equity or other pro-143 ceedings now pending or that may hereafter be brought to enforce or realize on any of said claims or other assets, and particularly to permit said Trustees to have free access at all reasonable times to the papers and records of said Mining Company relating thereto, and to take for use in any suit or other proceeding any document or books relating to said corporation.

Fifth. Said Old Dominion Company agrees, in case for any reason it is impossible lawfully to carry out this agreement in the manner hereinbefore provided or any part thereof, to do all that it lawfully and reasonably can do to cause said Mining Company to take such action that said other assets and claims shall be realized on to the best advantage reasonably possible, and the net proceeds thereof as defined in said proposal and agreement distributed among the stockholders in said Mining Company, and all sums received by said Old Dominion Company as a stockholder in said Mining Company or that would have been so received by it had it at all times remained the holder of the same proportion of the capital stock of said Mining Company outstanding that all the stock in said Mining Company now held and that may hereafter be acquired by said Old Dominion Company bears to the capital stock of said Mining Company now outstanding, shall be paid over to said Trustees for distribution by them as above provided.

Sixth. Said Old Dominion Company agrees:

1. Upon request of said Trustees to satisfy all expenses incurred by the Old Dominion interest, so called, for the incorporation fees and incidental expenses connected directly with the organization of the Old Dominion Company.

2. Upon request of said Trustee to pay all expenses including counsel fees, incurred by the Old Dominion interest, so 144 called, in connection with the proposal and agreement dated December 30th, 1903, above referred to.

Seventh. The Old Dominion Company agrees that in case at any time anything is done by which it will cease to hold a majority of the capital stock of the Mining Company it will before such act is done make provision reasonably satisfactory to the Trustees by which the holders of a majority of all the stock of said Mining Company shall until all the purposes of this agreement are carried out be bound to do all things then remaining undone which the Old Dominion Company is hereby bound to do.

Eighth. The word "Trustees in this agreement shall mean the trustees above named and their successors in office who are for the time being such trustees.

Between ALBERT S. BIGELOW, Compl't, and
OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY, Def't.

On Bill, &c., Order to Show Cause.

On reading and filing the bill, with the affidavits thereto annexed and the exhibits, in the above entitled cause:

It is on this twenty-sixth day of February, nineteen hundred and eight, on motion of John Gritlin, solicitor of complainant, Ordered that until the further order of this court the defendant, Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, its officers, servants, agents, attorneys, solicitors, counsel and employees be and they are hereby enjoined and restrained from proceeding in any manner to enforce or establish by trial, argument or otherwise the claims of the said defendant against the complainant as stated in two bills of complaint filed in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, entitled Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey and having a usual place of business at Boston in said County of Suffolk, against the complainant, described as Albert S. Bigelow of Cohasset, in the County of Norfolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, having his usual place of business in Boston, and from taking any further action or proceedings by trial, argument or otherwise in said suits, or any other suits or otherwise, and from in any manner 147 instituting proceedings and suits with respect to or touching the claims against the complainant set out in said two bills filed as aforesaid, in any court or jurisdiction whatsoever, excepting the courts of the State of New Jersey, or from selling, assigning or disposing of said claims, and that the defendant entirely stay its present proceedings and suits against the complainant Bigelow.

And it is further Ordered, that said defendant do show cause before this court, on Tuesday, the seventeenth day of March, nineteen hundred and eight, at half past ten in the forenoon, at the Chancery Chambers, in the city of Trenton, why said injunction and restraint should not be continued to final hearing.

And it is further Ordered, that true copies of this order and the bill which copies need not be certified be served upon the statutory agent of the defendant in this State, within five days from the date hereof.

EXHIBIT 3.

As Amended in Committee.

Committee Substitute for Assembly, No. 368.

STATE OF NEW JERSEY:

A Supplement to an Act Entitled "An Act Concerning Corporations (Revision of 1896)," Approved April Twenty-first, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Ninety-six.

Be it enacted by the Senate and General Assembly of the State of New Jersey:

1. When any director, officer, organizer, promoter or agent of any corporation of this State has been heretofore sued or shall be hereafter sued without this State by any such corporation on account of any bonus, profit or reward of any kind whatsoever heretofore made or received, or hereafter made or received, out of, or on account of, any transaction taking place within or without this State for or with such corporation because of failure to disclose the fact of such bonus, profit or reward, or failure to obtain the approval of the corporation thereto, he may, at any time after the passage of this act, file a petition in the Court of Chancery making the corporation a party defendant, and have such liability, if any, finally determined on such petition in accordance with the rules and practice of the Court of Chancery.

2. After the filing of such petition the Court of Chancery may, upon the motion of the petitioner, enjoin the corporation from prosecuting, maintaining or continuing any pending or bringing any new suits or proceedings at law or in equity for the enforcement of the liability in question elsewhere in the State of New Jersey.

3. On the hearing of such petition the petitioner, if found liable, may be held and adjudged to be liable only for his own actual net profits, and no more.

4. If any section or part of this act shall be held to be void or unconstitutional, it shall in no wise impair the validity of the balance hereof.

5. This act shall take effect immediately.

(Endorsed:) Edgartown—Aug. 6, 1908. On filing this petition let an order of notice issue to show cause why the prayer should not be granted returnable at Boston, Aug. 7th, 1908, at 2 o'clock P. M. Henry K. Braley, J. S. J. C.

And on the fourteenth day of said August, the following memorandum of decision and order for decree was filed by the Court, to wit:

In the matter of the motion or petition of the Plaintiff for an injunction restraining the Defendant from beginning or prosecuting before other courts any action or actions involving the same issues, pending the suit, and for an attachment for contempt, and for a speedy hearing by the Full Court of the appeal now before it.

Memorandum of Decision.

The hearing having been confined to the first ground only and the allegations as to the course of litigation between the parties both in Massachusetts and in New Jersey either having been proved or not denied, I find them to be true.

From this general finding it appears that after having voluntarily tried before a Justice of this Court all questions of law or fact which, under the pleadings so far as material, either were involved in the controversy or could have been raised by him not only by the pleadings as they stood but by any amendment which became necessary for the presentation of such questions and while the case was pending for argument before the Full Court on cross-appeals from 151 the final decree, Mr. Bigelow, by a bill filed in the Chancery Court of New Jersey, obtained an injunction restraining the plaintiff, whose domicile was in that state, from any further prosecution of the case before this court. In substance, with the exception of the allegation as to the effect upon the present suit of the decision, in favor of the defendants, of the Circuit Court of Appeals of the United States for the Southern District of New York, in the case of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. vs. Frederic Lewisohn, et al, Executors of Leonard Lewisohn, who is alleged in the present suit to have been a copromoter with the defendant and equally liable with him, the issues on the merits of both suits appear to be similar. That Bigelow during the litigation, from the filing of the bill here on October 7, 1902, up to the time of the present petition, was domiciled in Massachusetts, in whose courts the plaintiff had a right to implead him has not been doubted or denied. Indeed it is undisputed that this court has lawfully obtained jurisdiction of the subject matter and of the parties. There is now no question "that whenever the parties are resident within a country, the courts of that country have full authority to act upon them personally with respect to the subject of suits in foreign courts as the ends of justice may require, and with that view to order them to take, or omit to take any steps and proceedings in any other court of justice, whether in the same country or in any foreign country," or the courts of one state may enjoin its citizens from taking such proceedings in the courts of a sister state.

152 See also on this point the exhaustive opinion of Chancellor Pitney of New Jersey in Bigelow v. Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co.

This power may be exercised not only to enjoin the bringing of suits, but to stay the prosecution of suits already begun.

Bushby v. Munday, ubi supra.
Dinsmore v. Neresheimer, 32 Hun, 204, 207.
Carson v. Dunham, 149 Mass. 52.

While the bill in New Jersey having been dismissed by the Chancellor and "no order of stay" having yet been granted, the injunction theretofore issued was thereby dissolved, Mr. Bigelow, through counsel there, announced his intention to take and prosecute an appeal from the decision to the Court of Errors and Appeals of New Jersey, the laws of which permit him again to make application for an "order of stay" to the Chancellor; or upon taking an appeal then such application may be made to the appellate court itself. If such an application is granted the injunction would be in force, and all further action here would again be indefinitely postponed.

As I have said, the entire merits of the controversy either have been or could have been tried before the single Justice who heard the case. It would seem as if the time elapsing between the filing of the bill and the filing of the final amended answer, November 6, 1907, was sufficient to enable the defendant to avail himself of every opportunity of defense that he might deem advisable or material. It was only until defeated before a tribunal and in a forum, where he was content up to that point to make the contest,—presumably with all the legal weapons that eminent and learned counsel could furnish,—that Mr. Bigelow sought the courts of New Jersey to obtain, if possible, a different decision, and to prevent any further proceedings here. If he is now to be left either to prosecute at will the appeal in New Jersey, or to begin other suits in the courts 153 of sister states in which, however deftly phrased, substantially the same issues are again presented, he obtains an unjustifiable advantage over the plaintiff by preventing it from prosecuting to a final determination a suit in which it has been so far successful as to obtain a finding and decree for the payment of large damages. Obviously this Court cannot do justice between the parties unless he is enjoined from taking this threatened or possible course of procedure.

Home Ins. Co. v. Howell, 24 N. J. Eq. 238.
See Kempson v. Kempson, 58 N. J. Eq. 94.

What are the objections urged by him against the entry of such an order?

First, that a single Justice has no jurisdiction to pass upon the question, as the whole case is before the Full Court on the appeal.

Under R. L. ch. 159, Sec. 19, upon an appeal in equity from the final decree of a single justice and the entry of the appeal in the Supreme Judicial Court for the Commonwealth, the decree is vacated, and the case, as shown by the record, whether of law or law and fact is pending before the Full Court which "shall affirm, reverse or modify the decree appealed from." This means that the case is before the Full Court upon the record as made up at the time of the appeal. If that record is to be either enlarged or diminished, it would seem that the application must be made to a single justice.

Commonwealth & Suffolk Trust Co., 161 Mass., 550, 551.

But is is plain enough that in practice after such an appeal has been taken and perfected, and while it is pending, interlocutory questions, often of much importance, may arise calling for a speedy hearing and decision, but in no wise affecting the questions covered by the final decree.

154 It was not the purpose of the Legislature, as shown by sections 17, 21 and 22, that the Full Court should hear and determine such matters, but that a single justice in the first instance should hear and pass upon them.

Dorr vs. Tremont Nat'l Bank, 128 Mass., 349.
Parker vs. Nickerson, 137 Mass., 487, 491.

The order asked for does not affect "the proceedings under such decree," but is remedial and purely interlocutory and distinct.

R. L., c. 159, sec. 17.

It is next urged that the equities are such that the Court in its discretion should refuse to interfere. But this objection has been already generally considered and need not be further discussed.

It is also claimed that "the remedy sought by the plaintiff is in violation of a privilege and immunity granted the defendant by the constitution of the United States." But I am unable to see that any federal question is involved.

The defendant further says that "the plaintiff is estopped from further prosecuting these actions by the judgment against it in the Federal Court of New York;" since affirmed by the Supreme Court of the United States.

It is sufficient upon this last objection to say that while the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in the case of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company v. Lewisohn is in favor of the position as to liability taken by the defendant, I am bound by the decision of this Court in Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company v. Bigelow, 188 Mass., 315, that the bill stated a case for equitable relief, and by the finding on the merits by Mr. Justice Sheldon, who decided that Bigelow was 155 accountable to the plaintiff. But it should be further said that although the defendant had every opportunity to plead the pendency of the litigation in the Federal Courts which might result in an alleged estoppel, he has not done so, and this question is not raised by the pleadings.

If, however, on the motion for a temporary injunction this question of possible estoppel ought to be considered as bearing upon whether the defendant equitably ought to be allowed to contest this question before the Court of Errors and Appeals of New Jersey, it is sufficient, now, for me to say that I understand the present suit and the decree to go upon the ground that the action is in personam to recover from the defendant as a trustee property of the company which it is claimed he wrongfully appropriated, and the fact that Lewisohn, his co-promoter, may have acted with him as a "joint equitable tort feasor," but who during his lifetime was domiciled in another jurisdiction, where his legal representatives are also domiciled, and who have successfully contested the plaintiff's claim, affords no bar to the plaintiff's prosecution of this suit.

Having first obtained jurisdiction, and having judicial authority to hear and determine fully the subject-matter of the suit, the usual rule should be applied, that this right, having once attached, Mr. Bigelow, who is domiciled in Massachusetts, should not be permitted either to nullify or to take it away by proceedings in other courts.

Decree accordingly.

HENRY K. BRALEY, J. S. J. C.

156 And on the said fourteenth day of August, the following Interlocutory Decree was entered by the Court, to wit:

Interlocutory Decree.

Upon motion of the Plaintiff that the Defendant be enjoined from beginning or prosecuting any suit or suits other than in this Court involving the matters in controversy between the parties, and after taking evidence and hearing the arguments of counsel, upon consideration thereof, it is Ordered and Decreed that an injunction issue restraining the defendant Albert S. Bigelow, his attorneys, agents and servants from further prosecuting the action commenced by said Bigelow against the plaintiff in the Court of Chancery in the State of New Jersey, as is in the plaintiff's petition set forth; and from commencing or prosecuting any other suit or proceeding either in law or in equity, except in this court, against the plaintiff to prevent it from obtaining the final decision and decree of this Court, or in any manner to delay or impede the presentation of said case according to the due and orderly course of procedure in this Court, or until further order of the Court.

By the Court:

WALTER F. FREDERICK, Clerk.

August 14, 1908.

And on the twenty-sixth day of said August, the defendant filed his motion to vacate the decree of August 14, 1908, the said motion being in the words following, to wit:

157 Application of the Defendant to Vacate the Decree of August 14, 1908, and Dissolve the Injunction Issued Thereon.

And now comes the defendant, Albert S. Bigelow, and moves that the decree entered by this Honorable Court on August 14, 1908, be vacated and the injunction issued thereon be dissolved.

(1) Upon the ground that said decree and injunction denies, impairs and abridges the rights, privileges and immunities of the defendant arising under Article 3, Sections 1 and 2, and Article 4, Sections 1 and 2, of the Constitution of the United States, and under Section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and the rights, privileges and immunities arising under the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant to, under the authority of and for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of the Federal Constitution.

(2) And, without limitation or waiver of the foregoing ground, the defendant specifically moves that said decree be vacated and said injunction issued thereon be dissolved on the ground that it denies, impairs and abridges the rights, privileges and immunities of the defendant arising under Article 4, Sections 1 and 2, of the Constitution of the United States and under Section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, and the rights, privileges and immunities arising under the Acts of Congress pursuant to, under the authority of and for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of the Federal Constitution in this, that said decree and injunction prevent the defendant from continuing the prosecution of a bill in equity now pending in the State of New Jersey, referred to in the plaintiff's petition in which said decree was entered, wherein the defendant herein is the plaintiff and the plaintiff herein is the defendant, and thereby deprives the defendant herein of his right to enter and prosecute an appeal to the Court 158 of Errors and Appeals in said State of New Jersey, the highest Court of said State, from a decision which has been rendered against him in said cause by an inferior Court in said State; that the defendant herein has the right in said State of New Jersey to perfect said appeal and prosecute said cause, and, to deny the defendant herein such right, will operate to make final and conclusive in favor of the plaintiff herein the decree heretofore entered in said cause in the State of New Jersey in favor of the plaintiff herein, and will operate to dismiss and dissolve the injunction heretofore granted in said cause in the State of New Jersey, and will deprive the defendant herein of his right to apply for a continuance or renewal of said injunction.

(3) And, without limitation or waiver of the foregoing grounds, the defendant specifically moves that said decree be vacated and said injunction issued thereon dissolved, on the ground that it denies, impairs and abridges the rights, privileges and immunities of the defendant arising under Article 3, Sections 1 and 2, and Article 4, Sections 1 and 2, of the Constitution of the United States, and under Section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and the rights, privileges and immunities arising under the Acts of Congress pursuant to, under the authority of and for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of the Federal Constitution in this, that said decree and injunction prevent the defendant herein from asserting in any of the Courts of the United States in any manner the rights, privileges and immunities guaranteed to him by and arising under the Federal Constitution and laws aforesaid in connection with the matters in controversy in this cause.

159 By His Solicitors, ALFRED HEMENWAY.
J. W. FARLEY.

And on the said twenty-eighth day of August the defendant filed his application to modify the decree of August 14, 1908, and the injunction issued thereon, said application being in the words following, to wit:

Application of the Defendant to Modify the Decree of August 14, 1908, and the Injunction Issued Thereon.

And now comes the defendant, Albert S. Bigelow, and moves:

(1) That the decree entered by this Honorable Court on August 14, 1908, and the injunction issued thereon be so modified and limited as not to prevent the defendant from continuing the prosecution of and perfecting his appeal in a certain cause now pending in the State of New Jersey, referred to in the plaintiff's petition on which said decree was entered, wherein the defendant herein is the plaintiff and the plaintiff herein is the defendant; and the defendant herein says that, unless said decree and injunction are so modified, it will prevent the defendant herein from entering and prosecuting an appeal to the Court of Errors and Appeals in said State of New Jersey, the highest Court of said State, from a decision in said cause which has been rendered against the defendant herein by an inferior court in said State; that the defendant herein has the right in said State of New Jersey to perfect said appeal and prosecute said cause, and to deny the defendant herein such right will operate to make final and conclusive in favor of the plaintiff herein the decree heretofore entered in said cause in the State of New Jersey in favor of the plaintiff herein and will operate to dismiss and dissolve

160 the injunction heretofore granted in said cause in the State of New Jersey, and will deprive the defendant herein of his right to apply for a continuance or renewal of said injunction, and will deny, impair and abridge the rights, privileges and immunities of the defendant herein arising under Article 4, Sections 1 and 2 of the Constitution of the United States, and under Section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, and the rights, privileges and immunities of the defendant herein arising under the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant to, under the authority of and for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of the Federal Constitution.

(2) And, without limitation or waiver of the foregoing ground, the defendant herein further moves for the modification of said decree and injunction of this Honorable Court of August 14, 1908, so as not to restrain the defendant herein from proceeding in any of the Courts of the United States, and the defendant herein says that, unless said decree and injunction are so modified, the same will deny, impair and abridge the rights, privileges and immunities of the defendant herein arising under Sections 1 and 2 of Article 3, and Sections 1 and 2 of Article 4, of the Constitution of the United States, and under Section 1 of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and the rights, privileges and immunities of the defendant herein arising under the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant to, under the authority of and for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of the Federal Constitution.

(3) And, without limitation or waiver of the foregoing ground, the defendant herein further moves for the modification of said decree and injunction of this Honorable Court
161 of August 14, 1908, so as not to restrain the defendant herein from proceeding in any of the Courts of the several States or Territories of the United States, other than the Courts of New Jersey or the Courts of the United States wherein jurisdiction of the parties and of the subject matter in any manner arising out of or in connection with the controversy herein can be obtained.

By His Solicitors, ALFRED HEMENWAY.
J. W. FARLEY.

And on the said twenty-eighth day of August, the defendant filed his motion to modify the decree of August 14, 1908, and the injunction issued thereon, said motion being in the words following, to wit:

Application of the Defendant to Modify the Decree of August 14, 1908, and the Injunction Issued Thereon.

And now comes the defendant, Albert S. Bigelow, and says:

That the said decree and the injunction issued thereon, except in so far as the same relates to the action for injunction pending in the Court of Chancery in the State of New Jersey is too indefinite, general and uncertain to be a valid decree, and said Albert S. Bigelow respectfully prays,

That the portion of said decree hereinbefore referred to as too indefinite, general and uncertain, and the injunction issued thereon be made specific, definite and certain.

By His Solicitors, ALFRED HEMENWAY.
J. W. FARLEY.

162 And on the said twenty-eighth day of August the motion and application for modification and vacation of the decree of August 14, 1908, were each denied by the Court.

And on the first day of September, A. D. 1908, the defendant appealed from the decree of August 14, 1908, the claim of appeal being in the words following, to-wit:

Defendant's Appeal.

And now comes the defendant and appeals from the decree entered in the above entitled cause on August 14, 1908, and from the orders denying the defendant's motions to modify or vacate said decree.

By His Solicitors, ALFRED HEMENWAY,
J. W. FARLEY.

And on the fourth day of said September, it was ordered by the Supreme Judicial Court for the Commonwealth by its Rescript, that the Clerk of this Court for the County of Suffolk make the following entry under this case in the docket of the Court, viz:

The defendant having made an application for leave to file a supplemental answer, the decree is vacated and the case remitted for hearing before a single Justice upon the question whether the 162*a* defendant shall be allowed to file the supplemental answer and if his motion for leave to file the supplemental answer is allowed, for a further hearing upon the matters set up in this answer, and for reversal or such modification of the original decree, if any, as ought to be made by reason of these matters. After the hearing or hearings the original decree is to be entered, unless reversed, with or without such modification, and the parties shall have the same right of appeal as they had when the decree was first made, or the Judge may reserve for the full court the questions that arise upon the supplemental answer.

By the Court, C. H. COOPER, Clerk.
September 4, 1908.

Motion of the Defendant.

Now comes the defendant and moves for leave to file the supplemental answer hereto annexed, to introduce evidence to prove the facts therein alleged, and to have said answer and evidence consolidated with and made a part of the existing record in the above entitled causes, for the following reasons:

(1) There are now pending before the Supreme Judicial 163 Court for the Commonwealth of Massachusetts two (2) causes in equity in which the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company is plaintiff and Albert S. Bigelow is defendant, and numbered, or heretofore numbered, 8098 and 8099 in Equity for the Supreme Judicial Court for the County of Suffolk. At the time of the hearing of the above entitled causes in the Supreme Judicial Court for the County of Suffolk there were pending in the Circuit Court for the United States for the Southern District of New York two (2) actions in equity brought by the plaintiff, the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, against the Executors of the Estate of Leonard Lewisohn, said Lewisohn being the same person referred to in the bills of complaint in the above entitled causes. One of said actions pending in said Circuit Court was, and is, identical with said above entitled cause numbered 8098, and the other of said actions pending in said Circuit Court was, and is, identical with said above entitled cause numbered 8099.

(2) The allegations set forth in the bills of complaint in said actions in said Circuit Court were, in the first instance, identical mutatis mutandis with the allegations in the bills of complaint in the above entitled causes. One of said bills of complaint in said Circuit Court corresponding to 8098 was thereafter twice amended by the plaintiff, but said allegations remained substantially the same, and throughout said bill of complaint stated and relied upon the same contracts, matters and transactions as set forth in the bills of complaint in the above entitled causes.

(3) Thereafter, that one of the said actions in the Circuit Court, corresponding to No. 8098 of the above entitled causes, having been demurred to by the defendants therein, resulted on July
164 23, 1908, in a final decree, dismissing the plaintiff's bill of complaint through the course of procedure hereinafter described. The other of said actions in the Circuit Court corresponding to No. 8099 of the above entitled causes, after answer by the defendant therein, has been and now is pending in said Circuit Court, under an agreement between counsel (the counsel for the complainant in said actions in the Circuit Court being the same as the counsel for the plaintiff in the above entitled causes) that the depositions taken in the above entitled causes may be considered as evidence in said pending action. The procedure hereinafter described in said Circuit Court refers only to the action corresponding to No. 8098 of the above entitled causes.

(4) At the time of the hearing in the above entitled causes there was no final judgment or decree or any judgment or decree in the said action or actions in said Circuit Court which could be in any way properly pleaded and proved in the above entitled causes as a bar thereto, nor has there at any time been such a judgment or decree until the twenty-third day of July, 1908.

(5) The course of procedure in said action in said Circuit Court was substantially as follows:—

Said action was begun by the plaintiff on or about the sixth day of January, 1903, the Executors of said Lewisohn, defendants therein, duly demurred to the bill of complaint in said action, and on hearing said demurrer was sustained, and thereafter a decree, in accordance therewith, was entered in said action on or about the eighteenth day of November, 1905. The plaintiff on or about the third day of January, 1906, appealed from said decree to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit and said Court sustained the demurrer and affirmed the decree of said Circuit Court, said order affirming said decree being filed in said 165 Circuit Court of Appeals on or about the seventeenth day of December, 1906. On or about the fifteenth day of January, 1907, the plaintiff presented a petition to the Supreme Court of the United States for a writ of certiorari in said action to said Circuit Court of Appeals, and, on the twenty-seventh day of February, 1907, said Supreme Court granted said petition and issued said writ of certiorari.

(6) At the time of said hearing in the above entitled causes said action, which had been begun in said Circuit Court, was pending before the said Supreme Court of the United States upon said writ of certiorari, there had been no hearing therein and no decision or decree had been rendered thereon.

(7) Under and by virtue of the law of the State of New York, and of the law as applied by the Federal Courts, which laws the defendant herein expressly offers to prove as a fact, the plaintiff's appeal from the decree of said Circuit Court to said Circuit Court of Appeals operated as a supersedeas to and vacated the decree of said Circuit Court, and said writ of certiorari to said Circuit Court of Appeals vacated and suspended its said decree and that of said Circuit Court, and suspended all action thereunder by either of said Courts or upon the decrees of said Courts.

(8) Thereafter, subsequently to said hearing of the above entitled causes and to the decrees therein and the appeals of both parties therefrom, upon hearing said Supreme Court of the United States sustained the demurrer to the bill of complaint in said action in said Circuit Court, and, in due course, on the twenty-third day of July, 1908, in accordance with the mandate from said Supreme Court, a final decree and judgment, dismissing the plaintiff's bill, was entered in said Circuit Court.

(9) Said Lewisohn, the Executors of whose estate were the defendants in New York in said action in said Circuit Court, 166 was in said contracts, matters and transactions complained of in said action, and in the above entitled causes the trustee, representative and agent of your defendant, Albert S. Bigelow, and the defendant would have been a proper party and was, in fact, a privy to said action, and the defendant, through one of his counsel, participated in the actual defence of said action in the Circuit Court, and assumed with said Lewisohn's Executors the joint defence thereof, and the defendant, both through his agents and counsel, has, by large expenditure of time and money, contributed to and joined and taken part as privy thereto in the defence of said action, with the knowledge of the plaintiff, throughout the entire period of the aforesaid litigation.

(10) By the law of the State of New York and by the law as applied by the Federal Courts and by the law of this Commonwealth, the mere pendency of said action or any action in said Circuit Court was not properly pleadable or provable as a bar or for any purpose in the above entitled causes.

(11) At the time of said hearing of the above entitled causes and until July 23, 1908, owing to the acts of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company the aforesaid matters could not be pleaded and proven in the above entitled causes, and, owing to the acts of said Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company there was not at that time, and has never since been, until the twenty-third day of July, 1908, any decree or judgment in said action in said Circuit Court which he could plead and prove in the above entitled causes as a bar thereto or for any purpose.

(12) The bill of complaint in said Circuit Court did not allege that the contracts, matters and transactions there complained of were governed by the law of Massachusetts, but, on the con-
167 trary the plaintiff in said action in said Circuit Court proceeded on the sole and exclusive ground that the causes of action there sought to be enforced, and the transactions there complained of, arose and wree governed by the laws of New York.

(13) The plaintiff in the above entitled causes, the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, by prosecuting to final judgment in another forum an action in equity based on the same cause of action as that in the above entitled causes, and said action having been finally determined adversely to it, is forever estopped and barred against prosecuting the above entitled causes against the defendant herein.

(14) Under and by virtue of the law of the State of New York (which law the defendant herein hereby expressly offers to prove as a fact) the legal effect and operation of said final decree of July 23rd, 1908, in said Circuit Court is to estop and forever bar the plaintiff in any action against this defendant upon either and both of the causes of action set forth in the two (2) bills of complaint now or formerly pending in this Court in the above entitled causes. Said decree in said action is a conclusive judicial determination that the plaintiff, the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, has no cause of action against the defendant, Albert S. Bigelow, and renders res adjudicata between the plaintiff and this defendant all matters and causes of action complained of or shown by the evidence in the above entitled causes.

(15) The defendant, Albert S. Bigelow, desires to plead to the plaintiff's bills of complaint in the above entitled causes as a bar thereto, and all decrees, if any, now existing or hereafter to exist, in the above entitled causes, said final decree and judgment

168 of July 23rd, 1908, of said Circuit Court. The defendant claims the benefit of all privileges and immunities guaranteed to him by the Constitution and the Acts of Congress of the United States and by Article I, Section X and Article IV, Sections I and II of said Constitution, and by Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment thereto, and all Acts of Congress enacted pursuant to, under the authority of and for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of the Federal Constitution, and the defendant claims that, by virtue of said Constitution and said Articles and Sections thereof and said Acts of Congress, he is entitled to a final adjudication and decree in the above entitled causes dismissing the plaintiff's bills of complaint.

The defendant further claims all the rights, privileges and immunities guaranteed to him by the United States Constitution and the Acts of Congress, and, more especially, by Article I, Section X, Article IV, Sections I and II of said Constitution, and Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment thereto, and all Acts of Congress enacted pursuant to, under the authority of and for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of said Constitution, and claims that to deny him the right to plead and prove the aforesaid matter in the above entitled causes will deprive him of said Constitutional rights, privileges and immunities.

And, without limitation or waiver of the foregoing, the defendant expressly says:

(1) That to deny that said final decree and judgment of July 23, 1908, of said Circuit Court is a final bar to the causes of action in issue in the above entitled causes is to deny to said decree full faith and credit under Section I of Article IV of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(2) That to deny that said final decree and judgment of 169 July 23, 1908, of said Circuit Court rendered res adjudicata between the plaintiff and the defendant all contracts, matters and transactions and the alleged cause of action resulting therefrom in issue in the above entitled causes is to deny to said decree full faith and credit under Section I of Article IV of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(3) That to deny that said final decree and judgment of July 23, 1908, of said Circuit Court is an estoppel upon the plaintiff from prosecuting the above entitled causes is to deny to said decree full faith and credit under Section I of Article IV of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(4) That to deny that the law of New York governed the validity of the contracts, matters and transactions in issue in the above entitled causes is to deny to this defendant the due process of law and the equal protection of the laws under Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(7) That to deny that the law of New York governed the validity of said contracts, matters and transactions in issue in the above entitled causes is not finally determined by said decision of the Supreme Court of the United States is to deny to said decision full faith and credit under Section I of Article IV of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(6) That to determine or find the law of New York governing the validity of the contracts, matters and transactions in issue in the above entitled causes differently from the law of New York, as expressly enunciated by its highest Court prior to the making of said contracts and the execution of said matters and transactions, and to apply such law as so determined or found thereto so as 170 to render such contracts, matters and transactions invalid and voidable when the same were valid and unassailable by the law of New York theretofore enunciated is to impair the obligation of said contracts under Section X of Article I of the Constitution of the United States and under Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States and under the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(7) That to deny that the law of New York governed the validity of the contracts, matters and transactions in issue in the above entitled causes, after the plaintiff on the sole ground that the law of New York did govern the same, prosecuted to final decree an action based on the same contracts, matters and transactions and cause of action and thereby released and discharged the estate of said Lewisohn from all liability on account thereof either to the plaintiff or by way of contribution to this defendant is a denial to this defendant of the due process of law, the equal protection of the laws and is an impairment of the obligation of said contracts under Section X of Article I of the Constitution of the United States and under Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

Wherefore, the defendant says that the said decree in said action is a final bar to the cause of action relied upon by the plaintiff in this cause, and that the defendant's motion should be allowed.

By His Solicitors, ALFRED HEMENWAY.

171 COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS.

Suffolk, ss:

SEPTEMBER 1, 1908.

Then personally appeared the above named J. W. Farley, and made oath that he was personally familiar with the matters of fact stated in the foregoing motion and that the same were true to the best of his knowledge, information and belief, before me,—

BURTON E. EAMES,
Justice of the Peace.

Supplemental Answer of the Defendant.

And now comes the defendant, Albert S. Bigelow, in the above-entitled cause, and files this further and supplemental answer to the bill of complaint and says:—

That, on or about January 6, 1903, the plaintiff exhibited its bill of complaint in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York against Frederick Lewisohn, Walter Lewisohn, Albert Lewisohn and Philip S. Henry, as Executors of the last will and testament of Leonard Lewisohn, deceased; that said Leonard Lewisohn is the same person referred to by the plaintiff in the bill of complaint in the above entitled cause; that the allegations set forth in said bill of complaint in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York were, in the first instance, identical mutatis mutandis with the allegations in the bill of complaint in the above entitled cause, except in so far as the prayers of said bill of complaint in said Circuit Court relate to one part of an entire transaction and the prayers of the bill of complaint in the above entitled cause relate to another inseparable part of the same entire transaction; that said bill of complaint in said Circuit Court was thereafter twice amended by the 172 plaintiff, but said allegations remained substantially the same and throughout said bill of complaint stated and relied upon the same acts, matters and transactions as those set forth in the bill of complaint in and as shown by the evidence in the above entitled cause, and the contracts, acts, matters and transactions in which it is alleged in the bill of complaint in the above entitled cause that the defendant Bigelow and said Lewisohn participated, are the same contracts, acts, matters and transactions in which it is alleged in the bill of complaint in said Circuit Court that the defendant Bigelow and said Lewisohn participated. Said contracts, acts, matters and transactions as a result of which it was claimed that the respective defendants were liable to the plaintiff, were non-severable parts of one entire transaction, the relation of the defendant and said Lewisohn to the plaintiff in said transaction was the same, and the basis of their respective alleged liabilities to the plaintiff was identical and solely based on the determination of the validity of the said contracts, acts, matters and transactions. A copy of said bill of complaint, together with the amendments thereto, is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit A."

That the said defendants, Lewisohn's executors, appeared and interposed two (2) demurrers to the plaintiff's bill, one of which was stated to be a demurrer to the whole bill and the other of which was stated to be a demurrer to a part of the bill. Copies of said two (2) demurrers are hereto annexed and marked, respectively, "Exhibit B" and "Exhibit B'"; that, after hearing, a decree was entered in said Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York on or about March 24, 1905, sustaining the said demurrers to so much of said bill of complaint as sought rescission and allowing the plaintiff thirty (30) 173 days in which to file an amended bill. A copy of said decree is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit C," and a copy of the opinion of Judge Lacombe ordering said decree is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit C'." Thereafter the plaintiff filed an amended bill of complaint in said Circuit Court, a copy of which is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit D." Thereafter two (2) demurrers were duly filed by the defendants therein, the said Lewisohn's executors, one being a demurrer to the whole bill and the other being a demurrer to a part of the bill. Copies of said two (2) demurrers are hereto annexed and marked, respectively, "Exhibit E" and "Exhibit E'." Thereafter, upon hearing, a decree was entered by said Circuit Court on or about November 18, 1905, by which it was ordered by the Court that the demurrer to the whole of said amended bill of complaint be sustained for want of equity, and that the bill of complaint be dismissed. A copy of said decree is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit F." Thereafter, on or about December 6, 1905, a final and formal decree was entered, dismissing the bill of complaint, a copy of which is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit G." Thereafter, on or about January 3, 1906, the plaintiff filed his petition in said Circuit Court for an appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit from the decree of said Circuit Court dismissing the plaintiff's bill. A copy of said petition for appeal and a copy of the assignment of errors on which said appeal was based are hereto annexed and marked, respectively, "Exhibit H" and "Exhibit I." Thereafter, on or about January 3, 1906, the plaintiff's petition for appeal having been duly allowed, the plaintiff, in accordance with the Statutes of the United States, in such cases made and provided, duly filed its bond to answer for all damages and costs on account of said appeal, and there-

174 upon said appeal and bond, under the Statutes of the United States in such cases made and provided, operated as a writ of supersedeas and vacated said decree. A copy of said bond is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit J" and a copy of said Statutes of the United States is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit J'." Thereafter, on or about December 4, 1906, the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, after hearing, rendered an opinion, affirming the decree of the Court below. A copy of said opinion is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit K." Thereafter, on or about December 17, 1906, a decree was entered in said cause by the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, affirming the decree of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York. A copy of said decree is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit L." Under the law of the United States and of the State of New York governing the procedure in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit and in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York said decree of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit was entered only for the purpose of authorizing and was operative only to authorize a mandate to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York. Thereafter on or about January 15, 1907, the plaintiff applied to the Supreme Court of the United States, by motion, for a review of said cause of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company v. Lewisohn theretofore pending in the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York and in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, and therewith filed in the Supreme Court of the United States its petition for a writ of certiorari to be issued in said cause to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. A copy of 175 said petition is annexed hereto and marked "Exhibit M." Thereafter, on or about February 27, 1907, a writ of certiorari issued on said petition, a copy of which writ is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit N." Thereafter, due return having been made to said writ and the entire record hereinbefore described in said cause being before the Supreme Court of the United States for review and after full hearing thereon, the Supreme Court of the United States rendered its decision of said cause, affirming the decree of the Court below. A copy of the opinion of Mr. Justice Holmes is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit O." Thereafter, on May 18, 1908, a mandate was duly issued, remanding the cause to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York. A copy of said mandate is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit P." Thereafter, on or about July 23, 1908, pursuant to said mandate, a final judgment and decree, in favor of the defendants in said cause, was duly entered in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York. A copy of said final judgment and decree is hereto annexed and marked "Exhibit Q." And the defendant says that there was no final decree reflecting a final and binding adjudication of the issues in said cause or binding upon the parties thereto between January 3, 1906 (the time when the decree of the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York was vacated by the appeal to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit) and July 23, 1908 (when said Circuit Court entered its final decree aforesaid, pursuant to the mandate ordering the same. Copies of certain additional papers constituting a part of the record in said case in said Circuit Court are hereto annexed and together marked Exhibit R. And the defendant says that the said final judgment and decree entered by the United States Circuit Court

176 for the Southern District of New York and the entire proceedings of said Courts and each of them prior thereto proceeded on the merits of the controversy between the complainant and the defendants therein, and not on any technical or formal ground; said controversy put in issue the validity of all the contracts, acts and transactions in which it is alleged in the bill of complaint in the above entitled cause or shown by the evidence herein that the defendant participated and put in issue all questions as to the liability of this defendant and said Lewisohn as to said contracts, acts and transactions which have been or are raised in the above entitled cause. Except as to the relief sought, the issues in the said controversy in said Circuit Court were the same issues which are or have been raised in the above entitled cause and the contracts, acts and transactions complained of in the bill of complaint in said Circuit Court, the validity of which was put in issue in said controversy in said Circuit Court, were identically the same contracts, acts and transactions set forth in the plaintiff's bill in the above entitled cause or shown by the evidence herein; and the defendant says that the said Lewisohn and the defendants in said action in said Circuit Court were, in the acts, matters and transactions complained of therein and in the acts, matters and transactions complained of or in issue herein, the trustees, representatives and agents of this defendant; and this defendant says that he would have been a proper party and was, in fact, a privy to said action and that he participated in the actual defence of said action in the Circuit Court and assumed, with said Lewisohn's Executors, the joint defence thereof, and the defendant, both through his agents and counsel, has, by large expenditure of time and money, contributed to and joined in and taken part in the defence of said action as privy thereto, with the knowledge of the plaintiff,

177 throughout the entire pendency of the aforesaid action in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, including the defence thereof on appeal and on certiorari and including all matters and proceedings in connection therewith; and the defendant further says that said final judgment and decree of said Circuit Court of July 23, 1908, are in full force and effect and said proceedings have been at all times within the jurisdiction of said Courts and have been carried on in conformity with and according to the due course of law there established and then in force governing the same in the State of New York and in the United States; and the defendant further says that the effect of said decree, under the law and usages of the State of New York, is to make the same final and conclusive against the plaintiff upon the contracts, matters and transactions there set forth, as the basis of the cause of action set forth in said bill of complaint in said Circuit Court and that said decree is, under the law and usages of the State of New York, effectual to estop and forever bar the plaintiff in any action against the defendant herein upon said contracts, matters and transactions and upon the cause of action set forth in the bill of complaint in this cause or as shown by the evidence herein, and said decree of said Circuit Court is a final judicial determination that the plaintiff has no cause of action against this defendant, on account of the contracts, matters, transactions and causes of action set forth in the plaintiff's bill of complaint in this cause or shown by the evidence herein, and that all the contracts, matters and things complained of in said bill of complaint or shown by said evidence are rendered res adjudicata by said decree, as between the plaintiff and the defendant herein; and this defendant further claims, in connection with the matters hereinbefore set forth, the benefit of 178 Article I, Section 10, Article IV, Sections I and II, of the Constitution of the United States, and Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and of all Acts of Congress enacted pursuant to, under the authority of and for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of the Federal Constitution; and this defendant expressly claims that he is entitled to have said decree of July 23, 1908, of said Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York given that full faith and credit in this cause which it would have by law or custom in the State of New York, and the defendant says that, by the law of the State of New York, said decree would be a final bar and an estoppel against the plaintiff from proceeding with any action or suit at law or in equity to enforce against the defendant the cause of action in issue herein; and this defendant further says that, if said decree is given that full faith and credit to which the same is entitled under the said provisions of the United States Constitution and Acts of Congress, the contracts, matters, transactions and cause of action in issue upon the pleadings and evidence in the above entitled cause are res adjudicata, and the defendant further says that if said decree is given such full faith and credit, it is res adjudicata that the law of New York governed said contracts, matters, transactions and cause of action, and that such contracts, matters and transactions were valid and legal transactions in the State of New York, and cannot be here complained of by the plaintiff against this defendant.

The defendant further says that the plaintiff in its bill of complaint in said Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York did not allege that the contracts, mat-179 ters and transactions there complained of and in issue upon the pleadings and evidence in this cause were governed by any law other than the law of the State of New York, but, on the contrary, the plaintiff in said action in said Circuit Court proceeded on the sole and exclusive ground that the causes of action there sought to be enforced and the contracts, matters and transactions there complained of were governed by the laws of the State of New York; and the defendant further says that the plaintiff having prosecuted said cause in said Circuit Court to a final decree on said ground that said contracts, matters and transactions were governed by the law of the State of New York is now estopped from setting up or claiming against the defendant that said contracts, matters and transactions were governed by the laws of Massachusetts or any law other than the law of the State of New York.

And this defendant further says that said decree of said Circuit Court of New York is a bar and estoppel in the above entitled cause, in that the contracts, matters and transactions set forth or complained of in the plaintiff's bill in said Circuit Court in New York and complained of in the plaintiff's bill in this cause or shown by the evidence herein were governed by the law of the State of New York, and that at the time, when the acts complained of were done and the contracts complained of were made, it was the law of the State of New York, as shown by the express decisions of the highest Court of that State, that the contract between the plaintiff, on the one side, and the said Lewisohn and your defendant, on the other, and the transactions resulting from the carrying out of the same were legal contracts and transactions in the State of New York and such as not to subject this defendant or the said Lewisohn to any liability to the plaintiff on account thereof; and the defendant says that the decision of the Supreme Court of the United States in said cause in the Circuit Court of the United 180 States for the Southern District of New York was a final adjudication and application of the law of New York to the contracts, matters and transactions set forth or complained of in the plaintiff's bill in said Circuit Court and (except as to relief sought) in issue upon the pleadings and evidence in this cause; and this defendant expressly claims, in connection with the matters herein set forth, the benefit of all privileges and immunities granted to him by Section X of Article I, Sections I and II of Article IV, of the Constitution of the United States, and Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States, and, also, under the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant to, under the authority of and for the purpose of carrying into effect the foregoing provisions of the Federal Constitution.

And, without limitation or waiver of the foregoing, the defendant expressly says:

(1) That to deny that said final decree and judgment of July 23, 1908, of said Circuit Court is a final bar to the cause of action in issue in the above entitled cause is to deny to said decree full faith and credit under Section I of Article IV of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(2) That to deny that said final decree and judgment of July 23, 1908, of said Circuit Court rendered res adjudicata between the plaintiff and this defendant all contracts, matters and transactions and the alleged cause of action resulting therefrom, in issue in the above entitled cause is to deny to said decree full faith and credit under Section I of Article IV of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(3) That to deny that said final decree and judgment of July 23, 1908, of said Circuit Court is an estoppel upon the plain-
181 tiff from prosecuting the above entitled cause is to deny to said decree full faith and credit under Section I of Article IV of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(4) That to deny that the law of New York governed the validity of the contracts, matters and transactions in issue in the above entitled cause is to deny to this defendant the due process of law and the equal protection of the laws under Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(5) That to deny that the law of New York governing the validity of said contracts, matters and transactions in issue in the above entitled cause is not finally determined by said decision of the Supreme Court of the United States is to deny to said decision full faith and credit under Section I of Article IV of the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(6) That to determine or find the law of New York governing the validity of the contracts, matters and transactions in issue in the above entitled cause differently from the law of New York, as expressly enunciated by its highest Court prior to the making of said contracts and the execution of said matters and transactions, and to apply such law as so determined or found thereto so as to render such contracts, matters and transactions invalid or voidable

when the same were valid and unassailable by the law of New York theretofore enunciated is to impair the obligation of said contracts under Section X of Article I of the Constitution of the United 182 States and under Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States and under the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

(7) That to deny that the law of New York governed the validity of the contracts, matters and transactions in issue in the above entitled cause, after the plaintiff on the sole ground that the law of New York did govern the same, prosecuted to final decree an action based on the same contracts, matters and transactions and cause of action and thereby released and discharged the estate of said Lewisohn from all liability on account thereof either to the plaintiff or by way of contribution to this defendant is a denial to this defendant of the due process of law, the equal protection of the laws and is an impairment of the obligation of said contracts under Section X of Article I of the Constitution of the United States and under Section I of the Fourteenth Amendment to the Constitution of the United States and the Acts of Congress enacted pursuant thereto.

OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY
v.
FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al.

Bill of Complaint.

184 To the Honorable the Judges of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York:

THE OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY, a Corporation Duly Organized Under the Laws of the State of New Jersey, and a Citizen of Said State Residing at Jersey City in the Said State and in the District of New Jersey, Complainant,

Against

FREDERICK LEWISOHN, WALTER LEWISOHN, ALBERT LEWISOHN and Philip S. Henry, all Citizens of the State of New York, Residing in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, in the State of New York, and in the Southern District of New York, as Executors of the Last Will of Leonard Lewisohn, Who, at the Time of His Death, was a Citizen of Said State, Residing in Said Borough of Manhattan, Respondents.

And thereupon your orator complains and says:

First. The complainant, the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, is a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and having a usual place of business at Boston, in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and a citizen of New Jersey, residing at Jersey City, in said State and in the District of New Jersey. Said corporation is the owner of copper mines and smelting works in the Territory of Arizona, and is carrying on the business of mining, smelting and selling copper.

Second. On and prior to March 24, 1895, there existed a certain corporation called the Old Dominion Copper Company, of Baltimore City (hereinafter called the Baltimore Old Dominion Company) organized under the laws of the State of Maryland, and having 185 a usual place of business in said Baltimore. Said Baltimore Old Dominion Company was then the owner of mines and mining claims in Arizona. It had a capital stock of five hundred thousand ($500,000) dollars, divided into twenty-five thousand (25,000) shares of the par value of twenty (20) dollars each. Of said shares there were then owned by the executors of the will of Michael H. Simpson, late of said Boston, deceased, about seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven (17857) shares and the balance of said shares were then owned by one William Keyser, of Baltimore, in the State of Maryland, and others. Said Keyser also then held the title in his own name to certain mines and mining claims known as the Old Dominion Mine, the New York Mine, the Chicago Mine, the Keystone Mine, and a certain parcel of land near the Bloody tanks, so-called, all in said Arizona, but whether said Keyser held said property solely in his own right or in trust, wholly or in part for others or for said corporation, the complainant is ignorant.

Third. At some time prior to May 24, 1895, one Albert S. Bigelow, of said Boston, and said Leonard Lewisohn, deceased, formed the plan of acquiring all the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and all said real estate, title to which then stood in the name of said Keyser, as aforesaid, and of organizing a new corporation to acquire and of selling to such new corporation at a large advance in price, all the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and all the real estate held by said Keyser, as aforesaid, and putting upon the market and selling to such of the public as might be induced to buy the same a large number of the shares of such new corporation in order to provide the same with a working capital, and make necessary improvements in the plant, and acquire additional min-186 ing claims, and of thereby securing for themselves and such persons as they might associate with them a large profit from the purchase and resale to said new corporation to be organized by them of said property; and said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn thereupon conspired together to carry out said plan and thereby to injure said corporation to be formed as aforesaid and the future stockholders in said corporation, and to secure for themselves as promoters and organizers thereof a large secret profit.

Fourth. Pursuant to said plan and conspiracy said Bigelow in conjunction with said Leonard Lewisohn, at some time prior to May 24, 1895, procured a number of persons whose names are to the complainant unknown, to subscribe to the Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called; said syndicate was formed for the purpose of raising about one million (1,000,000) dollars, or so much thereof as was necessary to carry out said plan and conspiracy of said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn above described for the benefit of the members of the syndicate. The terms of said subscription were that the subscribers should pay in fourteen (14) per cent. of the amount of their respective subscriptions on May 27, 1895, twenty-eight and two-thirds ($28\frac{2}{3}$) per cent. on July 26, 1895, twenty-eight and two-thirds ($28\frac{2}{3}$) per cent. on August 26, 1895, and twenty-eight and two-thirds ($28\frac{2}{3}$) per cent. on September 24, 1895, and with each of said last three instalments five (5) per cent. interest thereon from May 27, 1895; and that the amount so subscribed and paid in should be used so far as required for the purpose of acquiring the property or all the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and that the subscribers to said syndicate should receive in cash or in stock of the new corporation to be formed to purchase said property from said syndicate two million ($2,000,000) dollars to be distributed pro rata according to their several subscriptions. The 187 precise terms of said syndicate agreement are to the complainant unknown, and the complainant has no copy thereof which it can attach hereto, but said respondent well know the terms of said agreement and have a copy or the original thereof in their possession or control.

Fifth. Thereafter, to wit, on or about May 24, 1895, said Bigelow in conjunction with said Leonard Lewisohn received the first instalment payable by the subscribers to said syndicate amounting to about one hundred and forty thousand ($140,000) dollars. At some time on or about May 2, 1895, said Bigelow in conjunction with said Leonard Lewisohn, for the purpose of carrying out said plan and conspiracy and the purposes of said syndicate, made an agreement with the executors of the will of said Michael H. Simpson for the purchase from said executors of seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, being five-sevenths (5-7) of the total capital stock of said corporation, at a price not exceeding six hundred and thirteen thousand one hundred and thirty-seven dollars and thirty-nine cents ($613,137.39). The complainant is ignorant of the precise terms of said agreement, but is informed and believes, and therefore charges, that said agreement was in the form of an option for which a sum not exceeding one hundred thousand ($100,000) dollars was paid, under which option said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn were entitled to acquire said stock at the price aforesaid by making further payments at a future time or times.

Sixth. At some time prior to July 1, 1895, said Bigelow, in conjunction with said Leonard Lewisohn, for the purpose of carrying out said plan and conspiracy and for the purposes of said syndicate, made an agreement with said William Keyser and with other persons to the complainant unknown by which said Bigelow and said 188 Lewisohn acquired the remaining two-sevenths (2-7) of all the capital stock of said Baltimore and Old Dominion Company, to wit, seven thousand one hundred and forty-three (7143) shares at a price not exceeding one hundred and seventy-five thousand one hundred and eighty-two dollars and eleven cents ($175,182.11). The complainant is unable to state more particularly the terms of said purchase, but the terms thereof are well known to the respondents.

Seventh. At about the time of the purchase from the said Keyser and others of said seven thousand one hundred and forty-three (7143) shares of stock in said Baltimore Old Dominion Company said Bigelow and said Lewisohn for their common benefit acquired from said Keyser for the same consideration paid for seven thousand one hundred and forty-three (7143) shares, but, as they claimed, for their own benefit and not for the benefit of said Old Dominion Syndicate, the parcels of real estate in Arizona, title to which then stood in the name of said Keyser, as above set forth, to wit, the four mining claims known as said Old Dominion Mine, said New York Mine, said Keystone Mine, and said Chicago Mine, and said parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks. All said real estate was acquired in the name of and was conveyed by said Keyser to said Leonard Lewisohn, but for the common benefits of said Lewisohn and said Bigelow.

as hereafter set forth, and pursuant to and as a part of the plan and conspiracy and for the purposes hereinafter set forth.

Eighth. On or about July 8, 1895, said Bigelow in conjunction with said Leonard Lewisohn, in pursuance of said plan and conspiracy and for the purpose of carrying out the same for the benefit of themselves and of the subscribers to said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, caused the Old Dominion Copper Mining 189 and Smelting Company, the complainant herein, to be organized under the general corporation laws of the State of New Jersey. Said corporation was formed by seven persons selected and employed for the purpose by said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, to wit, the respondent, Jesse Lewisohn, Allen W. Evarts, Edgar Buffam, Charles W. Welch, Sidney Riddlestorffer, William V. Rowe and William R. Montgomery. None of said several persons, except said Jesse Lewisohn, who was a son of said Leonard Lewisohn, had any actual interest in said corporation or acted in the formation thereof otherwise than as the representative and agent of said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn. Each of said individuals nominally subscribed and paid for four (4) shares of the capital stock of said corporation except said Jesse Lewisohn who subscribed and paid for sixteen (16) shares; but in fact all said subscriptions were made for the benefit and at the request of said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, and each subscription was paid for by said defendant and said Leonard Lewisohn or one of them.

Ninth. On July 9, 1895, the first meeting of said corporation, organized as aforesaid, was held in Jersey City and all of the said incorporators were then present. By-laws were adopted and upon an election of directors by ballot said seven incorporators above named were duly chosen directors, and it was further voted to increase the capital stock to three million seven hundred and fifty thousand ($3,750,000) dollars divided into one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) shares of twenty-five ($25) dollars each. A recess was taken by said meeting, and thereupon said seven directors met and organized and elected officers, to wit, said Allen W. Evarts, president, and said Sidney Riddlestorffer, vice-president, said Jesse 190 Lewisohn, treasurer, and said Edgar Buffam, secretary. Said meeting of directors confirmed the action of the prior meeting of incorporators increasing the capital stock as above set forth. The organization of said corporation and the proceedings of said meetings of incorporators and directors were duly had according to the laws of the State of New Jersey, and the by-laws adopted, as aforesaid, and thereby the complainant became duly organized as a corporation and the individuals above named became the lawful officers of the corporation, holding respectively the offices above named.

Tenth. A meeting of the directors of said complainant corporation, organized as aforesaid, was duly held on July 11, 1895, at the office in New York City of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers, of which firm said Leonard Lewisohn was a member; all of the directors except said Montgomery were present. Pursuant to instructions from said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, the resignation of said Montgomery as a director was presented and duly accepted, and said Bigelow was thereupon chosen a director in his place. Thereupon, pursuant to instructions from said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, the successive resignations of said Rowe as a director, of said Welch as a director, of said Jesse Lewisohn as treasurer and as director, of said Evarts as president, and of said Riddlestorffer as Vice-President and as director were presented and duly accepted, and said Leonard Lewisohn, one Henry M. Whitney, one Thomas Nelson, and one Joseph G. Ray were successively duly chosen directors, and said Thomas Nelson was duly chosen treasurer, and said Bigelow was duly chosen president of said corporation. Said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn were present at said meeting, and upon their respective elections as directors took their places in said meeting. All said resignations were duly received and acted on and said elections 191 to fill the vacancies caused by said resignations were duly had pursuant to the laws of the State of New Jersey and the by-laws of said corporation.

Eleventh. At some time prior to July 11, 1895, to-wit, on or about July 8, 1895, said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, in pursuance of said plan and conspiracy, completed the purchase of all said shares of stock in said Baltimore Old Dominion Company upon the terms of the agreement with the executors of the will of Michael H. Simpson and with William Keyser and others hereinbefore referred to, and all said stock was delivered and transferred to said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, or to persons designated by them, and the directors and officers of the said Baltimore Old Dominion Company resigned and new directors nominated by said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn were duly chosen and said Bigelow was duly chosen president and said Allen W. Evarts secretary of said corporation. At the same time, to-wit, on or about July 8, 1895, and prior to July 11, 1895, said Keyser, pursuant to said agreement, conveyed to said Leonard Lewisohn said real estate in Arizona above referred to, to-wit, the Old Dominion Mine, New York Mine, Chicago Mine, Keystone Mine, and parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so-called, and the legal title to said real estate became vested in said Leonard Lewisohn.

Twelfth. At said meeting of the directors of the complainant corporation on July 11, 1895, above referred to, after the several changes of directors and other officers by resignation above set forth, and after said Bigelow had been elected President of said corporation, there remained present four directors, to-wit, said Bigelow, said Leonard Lewisohn, said Evarts, and said Buffam. Said Evarts
192 was the attorney employed by said Bigelow and said Lewisohn to attend to the incorporation of the complainant corporation and to carry out their said plan and conspiracy; said Buffam was a person selected by them and employed by them to act as director, and assist them in carrying out said plan and conspiracy. The remaining directors were said Thomas Nelson, Henry M. Whitney, and Joseph G. Ray, no one of them was present and each of whom was a subscriber to said Old Dominion Syndicate and interested to assist said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn in their plan to sell said property to the complainant and in the success of said plan and conspiracy.

Thirteenth. At said meeting of the directors of the complainant company on July 11, 1895, after the change of directors and officers above set forth and after said Bigelow had been chosen president as aforesaid, said Bigelow through said Evarts presented to said Board of directors of the complainant an offer to the complainant to sell and convey substantially all the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, except the cash assets, to the complainant for one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of the complainant corporation to be issued to said Baltimore Old Dominion Company or its nominees. Said offer was signed by said Bigelow as president of and by said Evarts as secretary of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company. A copy of said offer and of the schedule therein referred to is hereto annexed and marked "A" and made a part of this bill of complaint. Upon presentation of said offer, on motion of said Leonard Lewisohn, seconded by said Evarts, it was unanimously voted to accept said offer and to issue one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock in payment of said property, and said Bigelow and said Nelson were appointed a committee 193 to supervise and carry out the details.

Fourteenth. Immediately after the passage of the vote last above refered to at said meeting of the directors of the complainant on July 11, 1898, said Leonard Lewisohn presented to said Board of Directors of the complainant a proposition to sell and convey to the complainant said real estate in Arizona acquired by said Leonard Lewisohn from said Keyser as above set forth, to-wit, said Old Dominion Mine, said New York Mine, said Chicago Mine, said Keystone Mine, and said parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so-called, for thirty thousand (30,000) shares of the capital stock of the complainant to be issued to said Leonard Lewisohn or his nominees accompanied with a request to issue said shares to said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn. A copy of said proposition is hereto annexed and marked "B" and made a part of this bill of complaint. Upon presentation of said proposition said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn caused the directors of the complainant corporation unanimously to vote to accept said proposition and to issue thirty thousand (30,000) shares of the capital stock in payment of said property, and said Bigelow and said Nelson were appointed a committee to supervise and carry out the details.

Fifteenth. Thereafter said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, pursuant to the original plan and conspiracy, and for the purpose of furnishing the complainant corporation, promoted by them as aforesaid, with working capital and with funds required to develop its plants and other properties, caused to be offered twenty thousand (20,000) shares of the capital stock of the complainant corporation, not theretofore disposed of, for public subscription and sale at the price of twenty-five (25) dollars per share; and all of said shares were so subscribed for and sold and the price therefor paid by said subscribers to the complainant. Said subscribers and purchasers of said shares were ignorant at the time said shares were offered for subscription and at the time they severally subscribed and paid 194 therefor and received their shares, as hereinafter set forth, of the facts hereinbefore set forth as to the promotion and organization of the complainant corporation by said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, and the large profit to be made by said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn and by the other members of said Old Dominion Syndicate therefrom.

Sixteenth. Thereafter the sale and conveyance of the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, included in the offer marked Exhibit "A" and the schedule thereto annexed, was consummated by the transfer of said property to this corporation, and the sale and conveyance of the property included in the proposition of said Leonard Lewisohn marked Exhibit "B" was consummated by the transfer of said property to this corporation. Thereafter, to-wit, on or about September 18, 1895, the Board of Directors of the complainant corporation at a meeting duly called voted at the request of said Baltimore Old Dominion Mining Company to issue one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of this complainant to one Philip K. Dumaresq, as representing said corporation as and for the price of said property so transferred and conveyed, and said shares were duly issued pursuant to said vote. And said board of directors of this corporation at said meeting further voted to issue thirty thousand (30,000) shares of the capital stock of this corporation to said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn as and for the price of said property transferred and conveyed by the latter to this corporation as above set forth, and said shares were thereupon duly issued pursuant to said vote. And said board of directors of this corporation at the same meeting voted to issue twenty thousand (20,000) shares of the capital stock thereof to persons who had subscribed 195 therefor, as above set forth upon receiving payment of twenty-five ($25) dollars per share therefor.

Seventeenth. Said property conveyed to the complainant by said Baltimore Old Dominion Company was at the time of such conveyance fairly worth not more than one million (1,000,000) dollars. Said parcels of real estate sold and conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant as aforesaid, to-wit, said several mining claims known as Old Dominion Mine, New York Mine, Chicago Mine, and Keystone Mine respectively, and said parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks so-called, were at the time of such conveyance fairly worth not more than five thousand dollars ($5,000). Said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow knew when they acquired the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said Leonard Lewisohn acquired title to said parcels of real estate, and when said offers to sell to the complainant were made by said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and by said Leonard Lewisohn, respectively, that the value of the property referred to in said offers respectively was not in excess of the amounts above specified. The stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said parcels of real estate were acquired in the manner aforesaid with intent on the part of said Leonard Lewisohn and of said Bigelow to sell said property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said parcels of real estate for a large price. No disclosure was at any time made to the complainant corporation of the fact that said property and said real estate was not of more than the value above given respectively, and by reason of the control by said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn of the complainant corporation and its board of directors, as above set forth, said purchase was made without any disclosure to or injury by complainant 196 corporation as to the reasonable value of said properties; and no disclosure was ever made to any of the persons who subscribed for or afterwards purchased shares of stock in the complainant corporation or to any other person of the facts as to the purchase of said properties or as to the reasonable value thereof, and said facts were not known to any of said persons or to any of the members of said Old Dominion Syndicate, except said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn.

Eighteenth. By the transactions above set forth, said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn carried out their said plan and conspiracy, and having, for the purpose of promoting a corporation and selling to such corporation, at a price much in excess of the cost thereof, the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Mining Company and the property so conveyed to said Leonard Lewisohn, acquired all the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company for the sum of less than eight hundred thousand ($800,000) dollars, and acquired without making any further payment, but for themselves as they claimed, all the property conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant, and having promoted the complainant corporation and caused the same to be organized, thereupon did sell to it the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company for one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of this corporation of the par value of twenty-five ($25) dollars each, to-wit, the aggregate par value of two million five hundred thousand ($2,500,000) dollars, and also sold to it all the property conveyed to said Leonard Lewisohn for thirty thousand (30,000) shares of said stock of the aggregate par value of seven hundred and fifty thousand ($750,000) dollars. And for the purpose of providing the corporation so promoted and formed by them pursuant to and in execution of said plan and con-
197 spiracy, to-wit, the complainant corporation with working and other capital, said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn in further execution and performance of said plan and conspiracy, sold to the public twenty thousand (20,000) shares of the capital stock of said corporation so formed as aforesaid, to-wit, this corporation. The shares of this corporation so issued in payment of the property sold to it as aforesaid were at the time of the fair market value of twenty-five ($25) dollars each, and continued for a long time thereafter to be of such or greater value, and said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn thus made for themselves and their associates in said syndicate from the sale of the property conveyed by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company to the complainant a profit of more than one million five hundred thousand ($1,500,000) dollars, and in addition thereto made for themselves alone on the property conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant a profit of over seven hundred and fifty thousand ($750,000) dollars.

Nineteenth. The subscribers to said Old Dominion Syndicate so-called were entitled by the terms of the agreement forming said syndicate to receive each his proportionate share of two million

(2,000,000) dollars in repayment of his original advance and his share of profits. To effect this division each member of said Syndicate was permitted to apply for shares of this corporation at par to the amount so payable to him, and said shares were thereupon issued to such applicant in lieu of his proportionate share of said sum. All or substantially all the subscribers to said Syndicate availed themselves of this privilege, and so far as such privilege was not availed of the money required was advanced by said Bigelow or others interested, and the corresponding number of shares was issued to the person so advancing the money. Of the one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of this
198 corporation issued to Philip K. Dumaresq as above set forth, upon and as consideration for the conveyance of all the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company as aforesaid, eighty thousand shares were thus distributed to and among the members of said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, or persons exercising the privilege of such members in the manner above set forth. And of this amount more than one-half was a profit made in the manner above described, and said syndicate thereby made a profit of not less than one million ($1,000,000) dollars. Of the eighty thousand (80,000) shares thus divided said Bigelow received as his proportion four thousand (4000) shares, and said Leonard Lewisohn received thirty-six hundred and nineteen (3619) shares. Not less than one-half of the shares so issued direct to said Bigelow and to said Leonard Lewisohn represented and was a profit to them respectively as members of said syndicate from the purchase of the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and the sale of its property aforesaid, to this corporation, pursuant to the plan and conspiracy formed by said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn as hereinbefore set forth.

Twentieth. Said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn by agreement between themselves, and as the complainant is informed and believes without the knowledge or assent of the other members of said Old Dominion Syndicate, took from the one hundred thousand (100,000) shares issued to Philip K. Dumaresq, as above set forth, ostensibly in payment of expenses and their own services in connection with the matter, the twenty thousand (20,000) shares remaining after dividing eighty thousand (80,000) shares among the members of said Syndicate, as above set forth. The expenses actually incurred by them did not exceed six thousand (6000) dollars. These twenty thousand (20,000) shares were divided 199 between said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, said Bigelow receiving ten thousand nine hundred and forty (10,940) shares as his proportion thereof, and said Leonard Lewisohn nine thousand and sixty (9060) shares as his proportion thereof. Said thirty thousand (30,000) shares issued to said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn from said conveyance of real estate by said Leonard Lewisohn were also divided between said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, said Bigelow receiving sixteen thousand four hundred and ten (16,410) shares thereof, and said Leonard Lewisohn thirteen thousand five hundred and ninety (13,590) shares.

Twenty-first. Prior to the formation of said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, and prior to making the several agreements hereinbefore referred to for the acquisition of the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and for the acquisition by said Leonard Lewisohn of said several parcels of real estate in Arizona conveyed to him by said Keyser as aforesaid, said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn had formed the plan and intention of organizing a corporation to acquire the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and to acquire said several parcels of real estate; and had formed the plan and intention of selling said property and said real estate to such new corporation at a large advance in price and of thereby acquiring and obtaining for themselves and such persons as they might associate with them a large profit from such sale to said corporation so to be formed, and of selling to the public a sufficient number of shares in the corporation so formed to provide said corporation with a working capital. And said Bigelow and said Lewisohn formed said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, and purchased said stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said real estate conveyed to said Leonard Lewisohn as aforesaid, for the purpose and with the intent of carrying out the prior plan 200 and intention so formed by them as aforesaid, and of selling the property so conveyed to said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant corporation when the same should be formed, at a large advance in price; and said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn caused the complainant corporation to be organized and to acquire the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and to acquire the real estate conveyed by said Keyser to said Leonard Lewisohn, and caused said corporation to offer for sale and to sell to the public sufficient shares, to wit, twenty thousand (20,000) shares to provide it with working and other capital, in the manner aforesaid in further execution and performance of said plan and intention. When said offer was made by said Baltimore Old Dominion Company to the complainant corporation and when said proposition was made by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant corporation, and when said offer and proposition was accepted, said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn were in absolute control of the complainant corporation through the ownership by them and their associates of all stock in said complainant corporation then outstanding, and through the selection of a Board of Directors and other officers chosen by them and selected for the purpose of enabling them to carry out said plan, and consisting of themselves, their employees and associates, all of whom were expressly chosen for the purpose of carrying out said plan and intention, and had expressly undertaken to do so; and said offer of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said proposition of said Leonard Lewisohn were accepted by the complainant corporation through its board of directors as above set forth, by the direction of said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, and the other directors in acting thereon acted solely at the direction of and pursuant to previous agreement with said Bigelow and 201 said Leonard Lewisohn, and for the express purpose of carrying out the said plan and intention of said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, and all of said action was taken and was intended by the individuals who took part therein to carry out said plan and intention and to enable said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn and such persons as they had associated with them to make a large profit by the sale of said property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company and of said real estate to the complainant corporation at a price greatly in excess of the cost to said Bigelow and to said Leonard Lewisohn and their associates of all the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and of said real estate. And when said twenty thousand (20,000) shares of stock were offered to and were sold to the public, as above set forth, said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn were in absolute control of the complainant corporation, as aforesaid, and said shares were so offered for sale and sold to carry out said plan and conspiracy of said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn aforesaid.

Twenty-second. From July 11, 1895, when said purchase in behalf of the complainant corporation of the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and of said real estate from said Leonard Lewisohn was consummated, as above set forth, until April 4, 1902, said Bigelow was continuously the president and chief executive officer of the complainant corporation; throughout said period the board of directors of the complainant corporation was continuously composed of persons selected by said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn and at all times until April 4, 1902, a large majority of the persons so acting as directors were personal friends of said Bigelow and of said Lewisohn, and had been interested with said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn in the transactions above set 202 forth and had received some share in the profits thereof, and the remaining directors took no active part in the management of the complainant corporation, and were ignorant of the facts hereinbefore set forth. No disclosure was at any time made to any of the subscribers for or to any purchasers of the capital stock of the complainant corporation not disposed of to said Bigelow or said Leonard Lewisohn, or to any purchaser thereof from them or either of them of the profit made by said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn, as above set forth, as promoters of the complainant corporation or of any part thereof, and no disclosure was made to those persons other than said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn who shared in the distribution of eighty thousand (80,000) shares of stock distributed to the members of said Old Dominion Syndicate of the profit made by said Bigelow and by said Leonard Lewisohn in the division between them of said additional twenty thousand (20,000) shares derived from the sale of the property formerly held by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company or of the thirty thousand (30,000) shares derived from the sale of the property conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn, as above set forth, in the proportion of twenty-seven thousand three hundred and fifty (27,350) to said Bigelow and twenty-two thousand six hundred and fifty (22,650) to said Leonard Lewisohn. This complainant had not until after April 4, 1902, any knowledge or information of any of the facts hereinbefore set forth as to the profit derived by said Bigelow or by said Leonard Lewisohn in the manner above stated as promoters of this corporation or of any profit having been derived by them, or either of them or by any other person interested or participating in the promotion and organization of this corporation, and immediately upon receiving information relating thereto, the complainant 203 investigated the same and thereupon promptly made demand upon said Bigelow and upon the defendants.

Twenty-third. The property conveyed to the complainant by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, as above set forth, consists mainly of the copper mine which was then and ever since has been in active operation, and from which large amounts of ore have since been taken, and upon which large expenditures have been made in the development and establishment of the necessary plant. All the property as conveyed at the time it was sold to the complainant as above set forth was worth not over one million (1,000,000) dollars. The property conveyed to the complainant by Leonard Lewisohn as above stated consists merely of mining claims and a parcel of land for a mill site, all of which property has since said conveyance remained undeveloped and is now in substantially the same condition that it was at the time of the conveyance by said Lewisohn to the complainant. Said property so conveyed was at the time of such conveyance fairly worth not more than five thousand (5000) dollars.

Twenty-fourth. Said Leonard Lewisohn died on March 5, 1902, and was at the time of his death a citizen of the State of New York and a resident of the Borough of Manhattan in the City, County and State of New York. On or about April 4, 1902, the last will and testament of said Leonard Lewisohn was duly admitted to probate in the Surrogates' Court for said County of New York, and on or about April 5, 1902, the respondents herein were duly appointed executors of said will, and letters testamentary were duly issued to them as such by said Surrogates' Court, and they are now such executors and duly qualified and acting as such. All said respondents are citizens of the State of New York and reside in said Borough of Manhattan in the City of New York and State of New York in 204 the Southern District of New York.

Twenty-fifth. After April 4, 1902, and prior to July 24, 1902, the complainant made investigations as to the matters above set forth. In the course of such investigations it applied to said Bigelow for information and access to papers. This information was, as the complainant is informed and believes, referred to the respondents, and said Bigelow subsequently notified this complainant that the respondents were unwilling to permit information or access to papers relating to said matters to be given to the complainant. Thereafter, to wit, on or about July 24, 1902, the complainant by its counsel notified the respondents that the complainant had a claim for a very large amount against them as executors as aforesaid to recover the profits made by said Leonard Lewisohn as above set forth. Thereafter, to wit, on or about August 1, 1902, said respondents informed the complainant's counsel that they believed the claim of the complainant to be absolutely unfounded. Thereafter, to wit, on or about September 12, 1902, the complainant offered to said Bigelow and to the respondents to rescind the sale and conveyance to it from said Leonard Lewisohn of said parcels of real estate in Arizona, to wit, the parcels known as The Old Dominion Mine,

New York Mine, Chicago Mine, Keystone Mine, and parcel of real estate near the Bloody Tanks, so-called.

Thereafter, to wit, on or about September 18, 1902, said complainant submitted to the counsel for the respondents a full statement of the claim contained in the bill of complaint, and on September 26, 1902, said counsel for the respondents notified the complainant that after a full investigation, the respondents believe, and counsel had so advised them that the claims made upon them were not valid.

Twenty-sixth. The complainant desires to rescind the sale
205 of said parcels of real estate conveyed to it by said Leonard Lewisohn, as hereinbefore set forth, and has offered to convey all of said parcels of real estate conveyed to it by said Leonard Lewisohn, to wit, said parcels known as the Old Dominion Mine, New York Mine, Chicago Mine, Keystone Mine, and parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so-called, to said respondents or to such person as they might name upon receiving from them the consideration paid by this complainant for the conveyance thereof to it, to wit, thirty thousand (30,000) shares of its capital stock, or upon a proper accounting for said shares, but said respondents have refused to make any such restitution or accounting; and the complainant is still ready and willing, and hereby offers, to convey said last named parcels of real estate to such person as this Honorable Court may direct. Said Bigelow is a citizen and resident of Boston in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and cannot be served with process in this district or in the State of New York.

Twenty-seventh. The complainant says that the shares which it seeks to recover are of great value, to wit, greatly in excess of two thousand (2000) dollars, and that the sum recoverable upon an accounting therefor is very large, to wit, greatly in excess of two thousand (2000) dollars, exclusive in each case of interest and costs.

Wherefore the Complainant Prays:

1. That this Honorable Court will declare said sale of said parcels of real estate conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant, as hereinbefore set forth, rescinded, and will direct this complainant upon the return to it of or a proper accounting to it for the consideration for said sale and conveyance, to execute such reconveyance, if any, of said several parcels of real estate to such person or persons as this Honorable Court shall think proper.

206 2. That said respondents, in their capacity of executors of the will of said Leonard Lewisohn, be required to return to the complainant the consideration paid by this complainant for said conveyance, to wit, thirty thousand (30,000) shares of its capital stock, or if, and so far as said shares are no longer in their control, to account to the complainant therefor.

3. In the alternative, in case this Honorable Court shall deem that the complainant has not rescinded and is not entitled to rescind said sale or conveyance of said parcels of real estate conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant as above set forth, that this Honorable Court will ascertain the amount of damages suffered by the complainant by reason of the sale of said parcels of real estate as above set forth, and will by its decree establish the right of the complainant to recover said amount and order said respondents, in their capacity of executors of the will of the said Leonard Lewisohn, to pay said amount to it.

4. For such other relief as to this Honorable Court shall seem meet.

And may it please your Honors to grant unto the complainant a writ of subpœna ad respondendum directed to said respondents Frederick Lewisohn, Walter Lewisohn, Albert Lewisohn, and Philip S. Henry, commanding them each to be and appear in this Honorable Court on a day certain therein to be named to answer this bill of complaint, but not under oath, an answer under oath being specially waived, and to abide by and perform such orders and decrees as may be made herein.

212 Defendants' Demurrer to the Whole Bill.

The Joint and Several Demurrer of Frederick Lewisohn, Walter Lewisohn, Albert Lewisohn and Philip S. Henry, as Executors of the Last Will of Leonard Lewisohn, the Defendants Above Named.

These defendants respectively by protestation, not confessing or acknowledging all or any of the matters and things in the said plaintiff's bill to be true, in such manner and form as the same are therein set forth and alleged, demur thereto, and for cause of demurrer show that it appears by said bill that the same sets up against the defendants different and distinct causes which are inconsistent with each other and cannot properly be joined; that different reliefs inconsistent with each other are prayed for, and that the said bill is altogether multifarious.

Wherefore, and for divers other good causes of demurrer appearing in the said bill these defendants respectively demur thereto and humbly demand the judgment of this Court whether they shall be compelled to make any further or other answer to the said bill, and prays to be hence dismissed with their costs and charges in this behalf wrongfully sustained.

Defendants' Demurrer to a Part of the Bill.

The defendants by protestation not confessing or acknowledging all or any of the matters and things in the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be true in such manner and form as the same are therein set forth and alleged, and not waiving his demurrer to the whole bill, but insisting and relying thereon, further demur to so much of said bill as seeks to have the sale of certain parcels of real estate . . conveyed to the plaintiff by Leonard Lewisohn rescinded, and to have the defendants ordered to return to the plaintiff the consideration paid by the plaintiff for said conveyance; and for causes of demurrer the defendants show:

1. That the plaintiff has not, in and by said bill, stated such a case as entitled it to the aforesaid relief against the de-
214 fendants.

2. That it appears by said bill that one Albert S. Bigelow herein referred to is an indispensable party defendant to said bill so far as it seeks the rescission of the aforesaid sale, but that he has not been made a party defendant.

Wherefore, the defendants demur to so much of the complainants bill as is above specified, and demands judgment of this court, whether he shall make any further or other answer to such part of said bill as is so demurred unto as aforesaid, and prays to be hence dismissed with their costs in this behalf sustained.

against
FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al., Defendants.

The demurrer of the defendants to a part of the bill of complaint, and the demurrer of the defendants to the whole of the bill of complaint having come duly on for hearing, and after hearing Eugene Treadwell, Esq., of counsel for the defendants, in support of the demurrer to a part of the bill of complaint, and Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., of counsel for the complainant, in opposition thereto, and the consideration by the Court of the demurrer to the whole bill of complaint at this time having been waived in open Court by the Counsel for the respective parties, and the premises having been duly considered, it is

Ordered by the Court, that the demurrer to so much of said bill as seeks rescission be and the same is hereby sustained, with leave to complainant to serve an amended bill of complaint within thirty days from the entry of this order, and the defendants to 216 have leave within thirty days of the service of such amended complaint to answer, plead, demur or take such other proceeding as they may deem advisable. It is Further Ordered, that the defendants do recover against the said complaint their costs and charges by them upon the said demurrer to be taxed, such costs to abide the event of this suit.

Further Ordered, that in event of the complainant's failure to serve an amended complaint within thirty days from the date of the entry of this order, as above provided, the bill of complaint be dismissed and defendants have execution for costs thereon.

EXHIBIT C'.

In Equity.

OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING CO.
v.
LEWISOHN et al.

On Demurrer to a Bill of Complaint against the Executors of Leonard Lewisohn, Deceased.

Edward Lauterbach, in support of demurrer.
Louis D. Brandeis, opposed.

LACOMBE, Circuit Judge:

It was conceded by complainant upon the argument that the bill prayed no relief except recission of a contract for the sale of 217 certain mining rights and a parcel of real estate in Arizona. Irrespective of such concession, the court would be inclined so to construe the bill. Therefore the objection that it is multifarious cannot be sustained.

The demurrer asserts that the complainant has not by the bill stated such a case as entitles it to have such contract and sale rescinded. This sufficiently challenges the equity of the bill. The facts as averred in the bill are as follows: The deceased, Leonard Lewisohn, and one Albert S. Bigelow were the promoters of the complainant company, and caused it to be organized under the laws of New Jersey on July 8, 1895, by seven persons selected and employed for said purpose, none of whom had any actual interest in the corporation, or acted in the formation thereof other than as the representative and agent of the promoters. Forty shares were nominally subscribed and paid for by these persons, but in fact all of said subscriptions were made for the benefit and at the request of Bigelow and Lewisohn, and each subscription was paid for by them. The company having been organized, elections for officers and directors ensued, as a result of which, on July 11, 1895, Bigelow and Lewisohn both became directors, and Bigelow the president of the company. Prior to July 11th they had become the owners of several mining claims and a parcel of real estate in Arizona, which were worth on that day, as the bill alleges, not more than $5000. On that day, at a directors' meeting attended by themselves and two of their dummy directors, they sold and conveyed to the corporation the said mining claims and real estate for 30,000 shares of the capital stock of the par value of $25 a share. Thereafter, at times not specified, additional shares of capital stock (to the amount 218 of 20,000) were from time to time offered and sold to the public at par, to obtain working capital. The bill also alleges a similar sale, for stock, on July 11th, of a mine owned by the promoters, at an excessive valuation, but no relief is prayed as to that transaction. The prayer of the bill is that the sale of the mining claims and real estate be rescinded, the property reconveyed, and the shares of stock returned or accounting had therefor, or, in the alternative of rescission, that the court will ascertain the amount of damages suffered by the complainant, and decree therefor.

Whether the contract for the sale of the real estate was voidable, so as to give the corporation the right to rescind or to demand damages, must be determined under the conditions which existed when it was made. Ordinarily, when a director or promoter contracts to sell property to his corporation, the corporation not being independently represented, it may rescind the contract, upon the theory, of course, that the relation between the parties is fiduciary, and that the other stockholders and subscribers to the stock are to be protected against an abuse of trust. But where there are no other stockholders nor subscribers, there is no one who is deceived, no stockholder or subscriber who is defrauded, since all the profit put into one pocket by the "faithless" directors is taken out of their other pocket as the sole stockholders. This principle is abundantly established by decisions controlling here, so it will be unnecessary to cite numerous authorities from other courts. In Foster v. Seymour (C. C.), 23 Fed. 65, which was decided in this court (Wallace, J.), the facts were very similar, except that the sale was for scrip, the stock not having yet been issued. The court said:

219 "There was no fraud on the corporation. At the time the scrip was exchanged for the mining property, the trustees were all there were of the corporation. There were no stockholders unless they were stockholders. What was done was done by the corporation. By the exchange the corporation got the mining property, and gave it back again to those from whom it got it, divided into 100,000 shares of the nominal value of $100 each."

And it held that whether or not a subsequent purchaser of stock could recover against those who had misled him—against the corporation or the trustees—"the corporation has no cause of action against the trustees." Subsequently the same question came before the Court of Appeals in this circuit (McCracken v. Robinson, 57 Fed. 375, 6 C. C. A. 400), where as the court expressed it—

"When they entered into the contracts they owned the corporation and all its stock, and represented only themselves. While directors in fact, they were principals in name."

It was held that in such a case the rule prohibiting persons in a fiduciary relation from contracting for their own advantage in the name of their beneficiaries had no application.

This demurrer to the bill is well taken, and it is therefore unnecessary to discuss the special demurrer as to defect of parties. The bill is dismissed, with costs.

Exhibit D.

Circuit Court of the United States, Southern District of New York.

In Equity. No. 8333.

220 Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company
v.
Frederick Lewisohn et al.

Amended Bill of Complaint.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York:

The Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and a citizen of said State, residing at Jersey City, in said State, and in the district of New Jersey, complainant, against Frederick Lewisohn, Walter Lewisohn, Albert Lewisohn and Philip S. Henry, all citizens of the State of New York, residing in the Borough of Manhattan, in the City of New York, in the state of New York, and in the Southern District of New York, as executors of the last will of Leonard Lewisohn, who, at the time of his death, was a citizen of said State, residing in said Borough of Manhattan, respondents.

And thereupon your orator complains and says:

First. The complainant, the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, is a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, and having a usual place of business at Boston, in the County of Suffolk and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and a citizen of New Jersey, residing at Jersey City, in said State and in the District of New Jersey. Said corporation is the owner of copper mines and smelting works in the Territory of Arizona, and is carrying on the business of mining, smelting and selling copper.

Second. On and prior to April 30, 1895, there existed a certain corporation called the Old Dominion Copper Company of 221 Baltimore City (hereinafter called the Baltimore Old Dominion Company), organized under the laws of the State of Maryland, and having a usual place of business in said Baltimore. Said Baltimore Old Dominion Company was then the owner of mines and mining claims in Arizona. It had a capital stock of five hundred thousand ($500,000) dollars divided into twenty-five thousand (25,000) shares of the par value of twenty (20) dollars each. Of said shares there were then owned by the executors of the will of Michael H. Simpson, late of said Boston, deceased, about seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven (17,857) shares and the balance of said shares were then owned by one William Keyser of Baltimore, in the State of Maryland. Said Keyser also then held the title in his own name to certain mining claims known as the Old Dominion Mine, the New York Mine, the Chicago Mine, the Keystone Mine, and a certain parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so-called, all in said Arizona. Said Keyser held said property for the benefit of himself and of the estate of said Michael H. Simpson.

Third. At some time prior to May 4, 1895, said Leonard Lewisohn, deceased, and one Albert S. Bigelow, of said Boston, formed the plan of acquiring all the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, as aforesaid, and of organizing a new corporation to acquire and of selling to such new corporation at a large advance in price all the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and in order to provide the same with a working capital of causing said new corporation to offer for subscription for cash to such of the public as might be induced to subscribe for the same a large number of the shares of such new corporation not previously issued in payment for said property, and of thereby securing for themselves and such persons as they might associate with them a large 222 profit by such persons and the subsequent sale to said new corporation to be organized by them of said property, and of obtaining from the subscribers for shares to be issued for cash the means of operating said mines; and said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow thereupon conspired together to carry out said plan and thereby to injure said corporation to be formed as aforesaid and the future stockholders in said corporation and to secure for themselves as the promoters and organizers thereof a large secret profit.

Fourth. Thereafter, pursuant to said plan and conspiracy, said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow at some time prior to May 24, 1895, procured an option to purchase from the executors of the will of said Michael H. Simpson said seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven (17,857) shares for seven hundred and fourteen thousand two hundred and eighty-five (714,285) dollars, and formed a syndicate known as the Old Dominion Syndicate, for the purpose of raising the money necessary to purchase said shares. Said syndicate was formed in order, by purchasing said shares pursuant to said option, to carry out the plan and conspiracy of said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow above described for the benefit of themselves and of such persons as might become members of said syndicate. Said Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow, pursuant to said plan and conspiracy prior to May 24, 1895, induced a large number of persons to subscribe to and join said syndicate, upon the terms that the members of the syndicate should pay in fourteen (14) per cent. of the amount of their respective subscriptions or interests therein on May 27, 1895, twenty-eight and two-thirds (28 2/3) per cent. on July 26, 1895, twenty-eight and two-thirds (28 2/3) per cent. on August 25, 1895, and twenty-eight and two-thirds (28 2/3) per cent. on September 24, 1895, and with each of said last three instalments five (5) per cent. interest thereon from May 27, 1895.
223 It was understood and agreed between the members of said syndicate and said Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow, and the intention in forming said syndicate was that the amounts so subscribed and paid in should be used so far as required for the purpose of acquiring the property or all or the greater part of the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and disposing of said property to a new corporation at a large advance in price and that the members of said syndicate should receive in cash or in stock of the new corporation to be formed to purchase said property as aforesaid the profit made by such sale to a new corporation pro rata according to their several subscriptions or interests.

Fifth. Thereafter, to wit, on or about May 27, 1895, said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow received the first instalment, payable by the persons who up to that time had become members of said syndicate, amounting to about one hundred thousand (100,000) dollars. On or about May 28, 1895, said Bigelow, in behalf of himself and of said Leonard Lewisohn and of their associates in said Old Dominion Syndicate, and of such persons as might thereafter become associated with them in said syndicate paid, in large part from the funds received from members of said syndicate other than said Bigelow and said Lewisohn, to the executors of the will of said Michael H. Simpson, in accordance with the terms of said option for the purchase of said seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty-seven (17,857) shares of stock in said Baltimore Old Dominion Company the sum of one hundred thousand (100,000) dollars, and delivered to said executors three notes each for two hundred and four thousand seven hundred and sixty-one and 66-100 (204,761.66) dollars, all dated May 28, 1895, and payable sixty (60), ninety (90) and one hundred and twenty (120) days after date, respectively, made 224 by said Leonard Lewisohn and endorsed by said Bigelow and by Lewisohn Brothers, a corporation. Said payment was made and said notes were made, endorsed and delivered in pursuance of and for the purpose of carrying out said original plan and conspiracy. Upon said payment and delivery of said notes all said shares of stock were deposited with the Old Colony Trust Company in said Boston, to be by it delivered upon payment of all said notes.

Sixth. On or about June 13, 1895, said Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow, for the purpose of carrying out said plan and conspiracy, and for the purposes aforesaid of said syndicate, made an agreement with said William Keyser, whereby said Keyser undertook to sell to said Leonard Lewisohn and his associates seven thousand one hundred and forty-three (7,143) shares of stock in said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, being all the remainder of the stock in said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, for two hundred and eighty-five thousand seven hundred and fifteen (285,715) dollars, payable forty thousand (40,000) dollars on June 20, 1895, and the balance by three promissory notes each for eighty-one thousand nine hundred and five (81,905) dollars, payable thirty (30), sixty (60) and ninety (90) days after date, respectively, with the privilege of anticipating any payments. Said Keyser further agreed on payment of said cash and delivery of said notes to deposit all of said shares with the Old Colony Trust Company in said Boston, to be delivered upon final payment of all said notes. By said agreement said Keyser further undertook to convey to said Leonard Lewisohn or his order without any further consideration than the purchase of said stock all the interest of said Keyser, alleged to be one-half, in said Old Dominion Mine, Keystone Mine, New York Mine and Chicago Mine.

Said agreement was made with the intention of providing the 225 means for paying for said stock from the sums to be paid by subscribers to said Old Dominion Syndicate and of dealing with said stock in the same manner as with the stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company purchased from said executors. Thereafter, to provide the means of paying said Keyser for said stock, said Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow induced a number of additional persons to subscribe to said syndicate and receive from such subscribers to said syndicate further large sums for the first instalment payable on such subscriptions, and said Bigelow on or about June 20, 1895, in behalf of himself and of said Leonard Lewisohn and of their associates in said Old Dominion Syndicate and of such persons as might thereafter become associated with them in said syndicate, paid, in large part from the funds received from subscribers to said syndicate other than himself and said Leonard Lewisohn, said sum of forty thousand (40,000) dollars and a further sum in anticipation of the first of said notes and delivered two other notes in conformity with said agreement, and said stock was deposited with said Old Colony Trust Company to be delivered as aforesaid. Said payment was made and said notes were made and delivered in pursuance of and for the purpose of carrying out said original plan and conspiracy.

Seventh. When said Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow first obtained said agreement for the sale by the executors of the will of said Michael H. Simpson, they did not know that said four mining claims and said parcel of real estate were owned by said Keyser for the benefit of himself and said executors. Thereafter and on or about June 13th they learned that such was the case and formed the plan of securing said claims and parcel of real estate without the payment of any additional consideration and of selling the same for a large profit to the corporation to be formed to acquire the property of the Bal-226 timore Old Dominion Company as above set forth. In pursuance of this plan and conspiracy they required said Keyser to undertake to convey said claims and real estate to them without payment of any additional consideration upon said executors assenting thereto. Thereafter, on or about June 14, 1895, they induced said executors to and said executors did agree that all interest of theirs in said four mining claims known as the Old Dominion, Keystone, New York and Chicago Mines and said parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, legal title to all of which was then in said Keyser as above set forth, should be transferred without any further consideration than the purchase of said shares of stock from said executors.

Eighth. On or about June 20, 1895, a meeting of the directors of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company was duly held at Baltimore. At said meeting two of the five directors of said corporation and the president and treasurer thereof resigned and their resignations were duly accepted. Said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn were thereupon duly elected directors and duly elected president and treasurer, respectively, of said corporation, and the then remaining old directors tendered their resignations to take effect when desired by said Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow. One Allen W. Evarts, an attorney employed by said Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow, was also duly elected secretary of said corporation. At the same time, to wit, on or about June 20, 1895, said William Keyser, pursuant to his said agreement and the agreement of the executors of the will of said Michael H. Simpson and without the payment of any consideration other than the payment for the stock in said Baltimore Old Dominion Company purchased as aforesaid, conveyed and transferred to said Leonard Lewisohn said four mining claims known as the Old 227 Dominion Mine, Keystone Mine, Chicago Mine and New York Mine, and said parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so-called. Said conveyance was made to said Leonard Lewisohn and the title to said property was acquired by him for the common benefit of himself and said Bigelow, as hereinafter set forth, and as a part of the plan and conspiracy hereinbefore set forth.

Ninth. On or about July 8, 1895, said Leonard Lewisohn, in conjunction with said Bigelow, in pursuance of said plan and conspiracy and for the purpose of carrying out the same for the benefit of themselves and of the subscribers to said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, caused the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, the complainant herein, to be organized under the general corporation laws of the State of New Jersey. Said corporation was formed by seven persons selected and employed for the purpose by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, to wit, Jesse Lewisohn, Allen W. Evarts, Edgar Buffam, Charles W. Welch, Sidney Riddlestorffer, William V. Rowe, and William R. Montgomery. None of said seven persons except said Jesse Lewisohn, who was a son of said Leonard Lewisohn, had any actual interest in said corporation or acted in the formation thereof otherwise than as the representative and agent of said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow. Each of said individuals nominally subscribed and paid for four (4) shares of the capital stock of said corporation except said Jesse Lewisohn, who subscribed and paid for sixteen (16) shares; but in fact all said subscriptions were made for the benefit and at the request of said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, and each subscription was paid for by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow or by one of them.

Tenth. On July 9, 1895, the first meeting of said corpora-228 tion, organized as aforesaid, was held in Jersey City, and all of said incorporators were then present. By-laws were adopted, and upon an election of directors by ballot said seven incorporators above named were duly chosen directors. At said meeting it was further voted to increase the capital stock to three million seven hundred and fifty thousand (3,750,000) dollars, divided into one hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) shares of twenty-five (25) dollars each. A recess was taken by said meeting, and thereupon said seven directors met and organized and elected officers, to wit: Said Allen W. Evarts, president; said Sidney Riddlestorffer, vice-president; said Jesse Lewisohn, treasurer; and said Edgar Buffam, secretary. Said meeting of directors confirmed the action of the prior meeting of incorporators increasing the capital stock, as above set forth. The organization of said corporation and the proceedings of said meetings of incorporators and directors were duly had according to the laws of the State of New Jersey, and the by-laws adopted, as aforesaid, and thereby the complainant became duly organized as a corporation and the individuals above named became the lawful officers of the corporation holding respectively the offices above named.

Eleventh. A meeting of the directors of said complainant corporation, organized as aforesaid, was duly held on July 11, 1895, at the office in New York City, of the corporation known as Lewisohn Brothers, of which corporation said Leonard Lewisohn was general manager; all of the directors except Montgomery were present. Pursuant to instructions from said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, the resignation of said Montgomery as a director was presented and duly accepted, and said Bigelow was thereupon chosen a director in his place. Thereupon, pursuant to instructions from said Leon-229 ard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, the successive resignations of said Rowe as a director, of said Welch as a director, of said Jesse Lewisohn as treasurer and director, of said Evarts as president, and of said Riddlestorffer as vice-president and as director were presented and duly accepted, and said Leonard Lewisohn, one Henry M. Whitney, one Thomas Nelson, and one Joseph G. Ray, were successively duly chosen directors, and said Thomas Nelson was duly chosen treasurer, and said Bigelow was duly chosen president of said corporation. Said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow were present at said meeting, and upon their respective elections as directors took their places in said meeting. All said resignations were duly received and acted on and said elections to fill the vacancies caused by said resignations were duly had pursuant to the laws of the State of New Jersey and the by-laws of said corporation.

Twelfth. At said meeting of the directors of the complainant corporation on July 11, 1895, above referred to, and after the several changes of directors and other officers by resignation above set forth, and after said Bigelow had been elected president of said corporation, there remained present four directors, to wit, said Leonard Lewisohn, said Bigelow, said Evarts and said Buffam. Said Evarts was the attorney employed by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow to attend to the incorporation of the complainant corporation and to carry out their said plan and conspiracy; said Buffam was a person selected by them and employed by them to act as director and assist them in carrying out said plan and conspiracy. The remaining directors were said Thomas Nelson, Henry M. Whitney and Joseph G. Ray, no one of whom was present and each of whom was a subscriber to said Old Dominion Syndicate and interested to assist said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow in their plan to sell said property 230 to the complainant and in the success of said plan and conspiracy, and had been selected by them to fill said positions.

Thirteenth. On or about July 11, 1895, a meeting of the directors of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company was held at the office of said Lewisohn Brothers, in New York City. There were present said Leonard Lewisohn, said Bigelow and one E. Brent Keyser. On motion of said Leonard Lewisohn it was voted to make the complainant corporation the offer, a copy of which is marked "A" and attached to and made a part of this bill of complaint. Said Keyser acted at said meeting merely as a representative of said Leonard

Lewisohn and said Bigelow, and voted in favor of making said offer at their request and by their instructions. At said meeting of the directors of the complainant corporation on July 11, 1895, after the change of directors and officers above set forth and after said Bigelow had been chosen president and said Leonard Lewisohn treasurer as aforesaid, said Bigelow through Evarts presented to said Board of Directors of the complainant said offer by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company to sell and convey to the complainant substantially all the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, except the cash assets, for one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of the complainant corporation to be issued to said Baltimore Old Dominion Company or its nominees. Said offer was signed by said Bigelow as president of, and by said Evarts as secretary of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company. Upon presentation of said offer, on motion of said Leonard Lewisohn, seconded by said Evarts, it was unanimously voted to accept said offer and to issue one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock in payment for said property, and said Bigelow and said Nelson were appointed a 231 committee to supervise and carry out the details.

Fourteenth. Immediately after the passage of the vote last above referred to at said meeting of directors of the complainant on July 11, 1895, said Leonard Lewisohn presented to said Board of Directors of the complainant a proposition to sell and convey to the complainant said real estate in Arizona acquired by said Leonard Lewisohn from said William Keyser as above set forth, to wit, said Old Dominion Mine, said New York Mine, said Chicago Mine, said Keystone Mine, and said parcel of land near the Bloody Tank, so called, for thirty thousand (30,000) shares of the capital stock of the complainant to be issued to said Leonard Lewisohn or his nominees, accompanied with a request to issue said shares to said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn. A copy of said proposition is hereto annexed and marked "B" and made a part of this bill of complaint. Upon presentation of said proposition said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow caused the directors of the complainant corporation then present unanimously to vote to accept said proposition and to issue thirty thousand (30,000) shares of the capital stock in payment for said property, and said Bigelow and said Nelson were appointed a committee to supervise and carry out the details.

Fifteenth. Thereafter, to wit, on or about July 18, 1895, said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, pursuant to the original plan and conspiracy, and for the purpose of furnishing the complainant corporation, promoted by them as aforesaid, with working capital and with funds required to develop its plants and other properties, caused said complainant corporation to offer for subscription and sale at the price of twenty-five (25) dollars per share twenty thou-232 sand (20,000) shares of capital stock of the complainant corporation remaining unissued and which had not been issued to or appropriated by said Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow and their associates as payment for said properties. All of said twenty thousand (20,000) shares were so subscribed for and sold and the price of twenty-five (25) dollars per share paid therefor to the complainant by said subscribers. Said subscribers for said shares were ignorant at the time said shares were offered for subscription and at the time they severally subscribed and paid therefor and received their shares, as hereinafter set forth of the facts hereinbefore set forth as to the promotion and organization of the complainant corporation by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, and the large profit to be made by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow and by the other members of said Old Dominion Syndicate therefrom and of the facts hereinbefore set forth concerning the acquisition of said four mining claims and parcel of real estate by said Leonard Lewisohn for the benefit of himself and of said Bigelow, and the acquisition thereof by said corporation and the issue of thirty thousand (30,000) shares of its capital stock therefor.

Sixteenth. The total subscriptions to the Old Dominion Syndicate amounted to one million (1,000,000) dollars, of which amount said Leonard Lewisohn contributed for his personal account about one hundred ninety-eight thousand and nine hundred and twenty and fifty-five hundredths (198,920.55) dollars, and said Bigelow contributed for his personal account about fifty thousand (50,000) dollars. Payments of the deferred instalments on the subscriptions to said Syndicate were largely anticipated. The three notes payable to the executors of the will of Michael H. Simpson were paid—the note due July 27th on June 20th, the note due 233 August 26th on July 1st, 1895, and the note due September 25th on July 8th, 1895. The two notes payable to William Keyser were paid—the note due August 25th, on July 1st, 1895, and the note due September 25th on July 8th, 1895. All of these payments were made from the funds contributed by the members of said Syndicate or in part from such funds and in part from money advanced by said Lewisohn Brothers or by said Leonard Lewisohn for the purpose, and repaid from the funds of said Syndicate. On or about July 12th, 1895, possession of all of said mining property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, included in the offer marked Exhibit "A" and schedule thereto annexed, and of said four mining claims and said parcel of real estate included in the proposition of said Leonard Lewisohn, marked Exhibit "B," was delivered to the complainant corporation, and thereafter said sales were consummated by delivery of deeds of conveyance of said several properties. Thereafter, to wit, on or about September 18, 1895, said Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow caused the Board of Directors of the complainant corporation, at a meeting duly called, to vote to issue one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of this complainant to one Philip K. Dumaresq, the nominee of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, as and for the price of said property so transferred and conveyed, and said shares were duly issued pursuant to said vote. And said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow further caused said Board of Directors of this corporation at said meeting to vote to issue thirty thousand (30,000) shares of the capital stock of this corporation to said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow as and for the price of said property transferred and conveyed by the latter to this corporation, as above set forth, and said shares were thereupon duly issued pursuant to said vote. And said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow 234 further caused said Board of Directors of this corporation at the same meeting to vote to issue the remaining twenty thousand (20,000) shares of the capital stock thereof to persons who had subscribed therefor, as above set forth, upon receiving payment of twenty-five (25) dollars per share therefor, and said shares were thereafter duly issued to said persons and paid for by them.

Seventeenth. Said property conveyed to the complainant by said Baltimore Old Dominion Company was at the time of such conveyance fairly worth not more than one million (1,000,000) dollars. Said parcels of real estate sold and conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant as aforesaid, to wit, said several mining claims known as the Old Dominion Mine, New York Mine, Chicago Mine and Keystone Mine, respectively, and said parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so-called, were at the time of such conveyance together fairly worth not more than five thousand (5000) dollars. Said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow knew when they acquired the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company as above set forth, and when the title to said parcels of real estate was conveyed to said Leonard Lewisohn as aforesaid, and when said offers to sell to the complainant were made in the name of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and by said Leonard Lewisohn, respectively, that the value of the property referred to in said offers respectively was not in excess of the amounts above specified. The stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said parcels of real estate were acquired in the manner aforesaid with intent on the part of said Leonard Lewisohn and of said Bigelow to sell said property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said parcels of real estate for a much larger price than the cost thereof to them. No disclosure was at any time 235 made to the complainant corporation of the fact that said property and said real estate were of the values not greater than the values above given respectively, and by reason of the control by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow of the complainant corporation and of its Board of Directors, as above set forth, said purchases were made without any disclosure to or inquiry by the complainant corporation as to the reasonable value of said properties, and no disclosure was ever made to any of the persons who subscribed for or afterwards purchased shares of stock in the complainant corporation or to any other persons of the facts as to acquisition of said properties by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow and the purchase of said properties by the complainant corporation or as to the reasonable value thereof, and said facts were not known to any of said persons or to any of the members of said Old Dominion Syndicate, except said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow.

Eighteenth. By the transactions above set forth said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow carried out their said plan and conspiracy, and having for the purpose of promoting a corporation and selling to such corporation at a price much in excess of the cost thereof, the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and the property so conveyed to said Leonard Lewisohn, acquired all the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company for the sum of one million (1,000,000) dollars, and acquired for the same consideration and without making any further payment, but for themselves, as they claimed, all the property conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant, and having promoted the complainant corporation and caused the same to be organized, thereupon did sell to it the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company for one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of this corporation of the par value of twenty-five (25)

236 dollars each, to wit, the aggregate par value of two million five hundred thousand (2,500,000) dollars, and also sold to it all the property conveyed to said Leonard Lewisohn for thirty thousand (30,000) shares of said stock of the aggregate par value of seven hundred and fifty thousand (750,000) dollars. And for the purpose of providing the corporation so promoted and formed by them pursuant to and in execution of said plan and conspiracy, to wit, the complainant corporation, with working and other capital, said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow in further execution and performance of said plan and conspiracy, caused the corporation so formed, to wit, the complainant corporation, immediately to offer the twenty thousand (20,000) shares of its capital stock then remaining unissued as aforesaid for subscription at twenty-five (25) dollars per share, and caused said corporation to issue said twenty thousand (20,000) shares to subscribers who were ignorant at the time they subscribed and at the time they paid therefor of the facts above set forth. The shares of this corporation so issued in payment for the property sold to it as aforesaid were at the time of the fair market value of twenty-five (25) dollars each, and continued for a long time thereafter to be of such or greater value, and said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow thus made at the expense of the complainant corporation from the sale of the property conveyed by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company to the complainant a profit of more than one million five hundred thousand (1,500,000) dollars and in addition thereto made from the property conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant a profit of over seven hundred and fifty thousand (750,000) dollars.

Nineteenth. Said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow allotted as a bonus or profit to the subscribers to said Old Dominion Syndicate to be divided among them in proportion to their re-237 spective subscription forty thousand (40,000) shares of the stock of the complainant corporation part of the one hundred thousand (100,000) shares received as payment for the property conveyed by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and further offered to each member of said syndicate the option of receiving without further payment a like number of additional shares part of said one hundred thousand (100,000) shares or the repayment in money of the amount of his original subscription. Substantially all the subscribers to said syndicate availed themselves of the option to take additional shares and such shares, together with the shares first allotted to them, were transferred to them accordingly from said shares issued to said Dumaresq. To such few as elected to receive back in cash the amount of their subscription said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow caused the complainant corporation to pay such amount in cash from the funds of the complainant corporation and the corresponding shares not taken were transferred to persons who paid cash therefor to the corporation to the amount of the par value thereof. Of the one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of the capital stock of this corporation issued to said Dumaresq, as above set forth, upon and as consideration for the conveyance of all the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, as afresaid, eighty thousand (80,000) shares were thus distributed to and among or for the account of the members of said Old Dominion Syndicate, so called. Of this amount one-half was a profit made in the manner above described, and said syndicate thereby made a profit of not less than one million ($1,000,000) dollars. Of the eighty thousand (80,000) shares thus divided said Bigelow received as his proportion four thousand (4000) shares and said Leonard Lewisohn for himself and other members of the syndicate operating through him received thirty-six 238 thousand one hundred and ninety (36,190) shares, of which about sixteen thousand (16,000) were retained for his personal account. Not less than one-half of the shares so issued direct to said Bigelow and of the shares issued to and retained by said Leonard Lewisohn represented and was a profit to them respectively as members of said syndicate from the purchase of the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and the sale of its property as aforesaid, to this corporation pursuant to the plan and conspiracy formed by said Bigelow and said Leonard Lewisohn as hereinbefore set forth.

Twentieth. Said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow by agreement between themselves, and as the complainant is informed and believes, without the knowledge or assent of the other members of said Old Dominion Syndicate, or of the subscribers for the twenty thousand (20,000) shares of stock issued by the complainant corporation, took from the one hundred thousand (100,000) shares issued to said Dumaresq, as above set forth, and ostensibly in payment of expenses and their own services in connection with the transaction, the twenty thousand (20,000) shares remaining after dividing eighty thousand (80,000) shares among the members of said syndicate, as above set forth. The expenses actually incurred by them did not exceed six thousand (6000) dollars. These twenty thousand (20,000) shares were divided between said Lewisohn and said Bigelow, said Bigelow receiving ten thousand nine hundred and forty (10,940) shares as his proportion thereof, and said Leonard Lewisohn nine thousand and sixty (9060) shares as his proportion thereof. Said thirty thousand (30,000) shares issued to said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow for said conveyance of real estate by said Leonard Lewisohn were also divided between said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, said Bigelow receiving sixteen thousand four hundred and ten (16,410) shares thereof, and said Leonard 239 Lewisohn thirteen thousand five hundred and ninety (13,590) shares.

Twenty-first. Prior to the formation of said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, and prior to obtaining said option for and making the several agreements hereinbefore referred to for the acquisition of the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow had formed the plan and intention of organizing a corporation to acquire the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and had formed the plan and intention of selling said property to such new corporation at a large advance in price, and of thereby acquiring and obtaining for themselves and such persons as they might associate with them a large profit from such sale to said corporation so to be formed, and of causing said corporation to retain and forthwith to offer for subscription to persons who might be willing to subscribe and pay therefor, a sufficient number of shares in the corporation so formed to provide said corporation with a working capital. And said Lewisohn and said Bigelow formed said Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, in order to provide the money with which to carry out said plans, and purchased said stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, for the purpose and with the intent of carrying out the prior plan and intention so formed by them as aforesaid, and of selling to the complainant corporation when the same should be formed the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company at a large advance in price; and said Leonard Lewisohn, and said Bigelow made this agreement for the acquisition and for the conveyance to said Leonard Lewisohn of said four mining claims and parcel of real estate with the purpose and intention of selling said mining claims and parcel of real estate to a corporation to be formed by them for the purposes above set forth, and of taking to themselves a large profit from 240 such sale and with the intention of causing such corporation to retain and offer for subscription as above set forth a large number of shares of its stock; and said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow caused the complainant corporation to be organized and to acquire the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and to acquire the mining claims and real estate conveyed by said Keyser to said Leonard Lewisohn as above set forth, and caused said corporation immediately to offer the twenty thousand (20,000) shares of its capital stock remaining unissued after said purchases as aforesaid for subscription to persons who might be willing to subscribe and pay therefor, in order to provide said corporation with working capital, in the manner aforesaid, all in further execution and performance of said plans and intentions. When said offer was made by said Baltimore Old Dominion Company to the complainant corporation, and when said proposition was made by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant corporation, and when said offer and propositions were accepted, said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow were in absolute control of the complainant corporation through the ownership by them and their associates of all stock in said complainant corporation then outstanding, and through the selection of a board of directors and other officers chosen by them and selected for the purpose of enabling them to carry out said plan, and consisting of themselves, their employees and associates, all of whom were expressly chosen for the purpose of carrying out said plan and intention, and had expressly undertaken to do so; and said offer of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said proposition of said Leonard Lewisohn were accepted by the complainant corporation through its Board of Directors, as above set forth, by the direction of said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, and the other directors in acting thereon acted solely at the direction of and pur-241 suant to previous agreement with said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, and for the express purpose of carrying out the said plan and intention of said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, and all of said action was taken and was intended by the individuals who took part therein to carry out said plan and intention and to enable said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow and such persons as they had associated with them to make a large profit by the sale of said property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and of said mining claims and real estate to the complainant corporation at a price greatly in excess of the cost to said Leonard Lewisohn and to said Bigelow and their associates of all the stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and of said mining claims and real estate. And when said twenty thousand (20,000) shares of stock remaining unissued after said purchases as aforesaid were offered for subscription as aforesaid and were issued and sold to the subscribers therefor, as above set forth, said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow were in absolute control of the complainant corporation, as aforesaid, and said shares were so offered for subscription and issued and sold in order to carry out said plan and conspiracy of said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow aforesaid.

Twenty-second. From July 11, 1895, when said purchase in behalf of the complainant corporation of the property of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and of said mining claims and real estate from said Leonard Lewisohn was consummated, as above set forth, until April 4, 1902, said Bigelow was continuously the president and chief executive officer of the complainant corporation; throughout said period the Board of Directors of the complainant corporation was continuously composed of persons selected by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, and at all times until April 4, 1902, a large majority of the persons so acting as directors were issued to said Dumaresq or to said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, and none of said persons in fact knew of the profits made by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, from the division between them of said additional twenty thousand (20,000) shares part of the one hundred thousand (100,000) shares issued for the purchase of the property formerly held by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company from the division between them of the thirty thousand (30,000) shares derived from the sale of the property conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn, as above set forth. This complainant had not until after April 4, 1902, any knowledge or information of any of the facts hereinbefore set forth as to the profit derived by said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow or said Leonard Lewisohn in the manner above stated as promoters of this corporation, or of any profit having been derived by them, or either of them, or by any other person interested or participating in the promotion and organization of this corporation, and immediately upon receiving information relating thereto, the complainant investigated the same, and thereupon promptly made demand upon said Bigelow and upon the defendants.
242 personal friends of said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow, and had been interested with said Leonard Lewisohn and said Bigelow in the transactions above set forth and had received some share in the profits thereof, and the remaining directors took no active part in the management of the complainant corporation and were ignorant of the facts hereinbefore set forth. No disclosure was at any time made to any of the subscribers for the twenty thousand (20,000) shares of the capital stock offered for subscription as aforesaid or to any purchasers of said shares of the capital stock of the complainant corporation or to the other members of the Old Dominion Syndicate or to any subsequent purchasers of the shares

243 Twenty-third. The property conveyed to the complainant by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, as above set forth, consists mainly of the copper mine which was then and ever since has been in active operation, and from which large amounts of ore have since been taken, and upon which large expenditures have been made in the development and establishment of the necessary plant. All the property so conveyed at the time it was sold to the complainant as above set forth was worth not over one million (1,000,000) dollars. The property conveyed to the complainant by Leonard Lewisohn as above set forth consisted merely of mining claims and a parcel of land for a mill site, all of which property has since said conveyance remained undeveloped and is now in substantially the same condition that it was in at the time of the conveyance by said Lewisohn to the complainant. Said property so conveyed was at the time of such conveyance fairly worth not more than five thousand ($5,000) dollars.

Twenty-fourth. Said Leonard Lewisohn died on March 5, 1902, and was at the time of his death a citizen of the State of New York and a resident of the Borough of Manhattan in the City, County and State of New York. On or about April 4, 1902, the last will and testament of said Leonard Lewisohn was duly admitted to probate in the Surrogate's Court for said County of New York, and on or about April 5, 1902, the respondents herein were duly appointed executors of said will, and letters testamentary were duly issued to them as such by said Surrogate's Court, and they are now such executors and duly qualified and acting as such. All said respondents are citizens of the State of New York and reside in the Borough of Manhattan in the City of New York and State of New York and in the Southern District of New York.

Twenty-fifth. After April 4, 1902, and prior to July 21, 244 1902, the complainant made investigation as to the matters above set forth. In the course of such investigation it applied to said Bigelow for information and access to papers. This information was, as the complainant is informed and believes, referred to the respondents, and said Bigelow subsequently notified this complainant that the respondents were unwilling to permit information or access to papers relating to said matters to be given to the complainant. Thereafter, to wit, on or about July 24, 1902, the complainant by its counsel notified the respondents that the complainant had a claim for a very large amount against them as executors as aforesaid to recover the profits made by said Leonard Lewisohn as above set forth. Thereafter, to wit, on or about August 1, 1902, said respondents informed the complainant's counsel that they believed the claim of the complainant to be absolutely unfounded.

Thereafter, to wit, on or about September 12, 1902, the complainant offered to said Bigelow and to the respondents to rescind the sale and conveyance to it from said Leonard Lewisohn of said parcels of real estate in Arizona, to wit, the parcels known as The Old Dominion Mine, New York Mine, Chicago Mine, Keystone Mine and parcel of real estate near the Bloody Tanks, so-called.

Thereafter, to wit, on or about September 18, 1902, said complainant submitted to the counsel for the respondents a full statement of the claim contained in the bill of complaint, and on September 26, 1902, said counsel for the respondents notified the complainant that after a full investigation the respondents believed, and counsel had so advised them, that the claims made upon them were not valid.

Twenty-sixth. The complainant desires to rescind the sale of said parcels of real estate conveyed to it by said Leonard Lewis-
245 ohn as hereinbefore set forth, and has offered to convey all said parcels of real estate conveyed to it by said Leonard Lewisohn, to wit, said parcels known as the Old Dominion Mine, New York Mine, Chicago Mine, Keystone Mine and parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks, so-called, to said respondents or to such persons as they might name upon receiving from them the consideration paid by this complainant for the conveyance thereof to it, to wit, thirty thousand (30,000) shares of its capital stock, or upon a proper accounting for said shares, but said respondents have refused to make any such restitution or accounting; and the complainant is still ready and willing, and hereby offers to convey said last named parcels of real estate to such persons as this Honorable Court may direct. Said Bigelow is a citizen and resident of Boston in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts and cannot be served with process in this District or in the State of New York. The complainant does not in this suit seek any relief as to sale to it of the property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company of the issue of one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of its capital stock in payment therefor as above set forth or as to any profit made by said Leonard Lewisohn and by said Bigelow or by any other person from such sale, and disclaims all right to any such relief in this suit, having brought a separate suit for the purpose of obtaining such relief.

Twenty-seventh. The complainant says that the shares which it seeks to recover are of great value, to wit, greatly in excess of two thousand (2000) dollars, and that the sum recoverable upon an accounting therefor is very large, to wit, greatly in excess of two thousand (2000) dollars, exclusive in each case of interest and costs.

Wherefore the complainant prays:

246 1. That this Honorable Court will declare said sale of said parcels of real estate conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant as hereinbefore set forth, rescinded, and will direct this complainant upon the return to it of or a proper accounting to it for the consideration for said sale and conveyance, to execute such reconveyance, if any, of said several parcels of real estate to such person or persons as this Honorable Court shall think proper.

2. That said respondents in their capacity of executors of the will of said Leonard Lewisohn be required to return to the complainant the consideration paid by this complainant for said conveyance, to wit, thirty thousand (30,000) shares of its capital stock, or if, and so far as said shares are no longer in their control, to account to the complainant therefor.

3. In the alternative, in case this Honorable Court shall deem that the complainant has not rescinded and is not entitled to rescind said sale or conveyance of said parcels of real estate conveyed by said Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant as above set forth, that this Honorable Court will ascertain the amount of damages suffered by the complainant by reason of the sale of said parcels of real estate as above set forth, and will by its decree establish the right of the complainant to recover said amount and order said respondents in their capacity of executors of the will of the said Leonard Lewisohn to pay said amount to it.

4. And may it please your Honors to grant unto the complainant a writ of subpœna ad respondendum directed to said respondents Frederick Lewisohn, Walter Lewisohn, Albert Lewisohn, and Philip S. Henry, commanding them each to be and appear in this Honorable Court on a day certain therein to be named to answer this bill of complaint but not under oath, an answer under oath being 247 specially waived, and to abide by and perform such orders and decrees as may be made herein.

FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al.

252 Defendant's Demurrer to the Whole Bill.

The Joint and Several Demurrer of Frederick Lewisohn, Walter Lewisohn, Albert Lewisohn and Philip S. Henry, as Executors of the Last Will of Leonard Lewisohn, the Defendants Above Named.

These defendants respectively by protestation, not confessing or acknowledging all or any of the matters and things in the said plaintiff's bill to be true, in such manner and form as the same are therein set forth and alleged, demur thereto, and for cause of demurrer show:

1. That the complainant has not, in and by said bill, stated such a case as entitled it to any relief against the defendants.

2. That it appears by said bill that the same sets up against the defendants different and distinct causes which are inconsistent with each other and cannot properly be joined; that different reliefs, inconsistent with each other are prayed for, and that the said bill is altogether multifarious.

Wherefore and for divers other good causes of demurrer appearing in the said bill these defendants respectively demur thereto and humbly demand the judgment of this Court whether they shall be compelled to make any further or other answer to the said bill, and pray to be hence dismissed with their costs and charges in this behalf wrongfully sustained.

Defendants' Demurrer to a Part of the Bill.

The defendants by protestation, not confessing or acknowledging all or any of the matters and things in the plaintiff's bill of complaint to be true in such manner and form as the same as are therein set therein set forth and alleged, and not waiving his demurrer to the whole bill, but insisting and relying thereon, further de-
254 mur to so much of said bill as seeks to have the sale of certain parcels of real estate conveyed to the plaintiff by Leonard

Lewisohn rescinded, and to have the defendants ordered to return to the plaintiff the consideration paid by the plaintiff for said conveyance; and for causes of demurrer the defendants show:

I. That the complainant has not, in and by said bill, stated such a case as entitles it to the aforesaid relief against the defendants.

II. That it appears by said bill that one Albert S. Bigelow therein referred to is an indispensable party defendant to said bill so far as it seeks the rescission of the aforesaid sale, but that he has not been made a party defendant.

Wherefore, the defendants demur to so much of the complainant's bill as is above specified, and demand judgment of this court, whether he shall make any further or other answer to such part of said bill as is so demurred unto as aforesaid, and prays to be hence dismissed with their costs in this behalf sustained.

At a Stated Term of the Circuit Court of the United States of America for the Southern District of New York, in the Second Circuit, Held at the United States Court Rooms, in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 18th Day of November, in the Year of Our Lord One Thousand Nine Hundred and Five.

Present: Hon. George C. Holt, Judge.

THE OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY, Complainant,
against
FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al., Defendants.

The demurrers of the defendants to a part of the amended bill of complaint, and to the whole of the amended bill of complaint, having duly come on for hearing, and after hearing Eugene Treadwell, Esq., of counsel for the defendants, in support of the demurrers, and William H. Dunbar, Esq., and Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., of counsel for the complainant, in opposition thereto, and the premises having been duly considered, it is Ordered by the Court, that the demurrer to the whole of said amended bill of complaint for want of equity, be, and the same is hereby, sustained, and the complainant having heretofore been permitted to amend the bill of complaint to meet the prior 256 decision of this Court sustaining a demurrer herein and dismissing the bill of complaint, it is Further ordered by the Court, that the said bill of complaint be, and the same hereby is dismissed; and it is further ordered that the defendants do recover against the said complainant their costs and charges by them incurred upon the said demurrer, to be taxed, and that the said defendants have execution therefor.

Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company
v.
Frederick Lewisohn et al.

Assignment of Errors.

Now comes the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, the complainant in the above entitled cause, and says that the final decree of said court in said cause, sustaining the demurrer of the respondents to the amended bill of complaint therein, is erroneous and against the just rights of said complainant for the following reasons:

First. The court erred in holding that the amended bill of complaint did not state a case entitling the complainant to any 260 relief in equity.

Second. The court erred in holding that the facts alleged in the amended bill of complaint and admitted by the demurrer did not entitle the complainant to rescind the sale complained of and recover from the respondents the consideration paid or in the alternative to recover from the respondents the damages suffered by the complainant by reason of such sale.

Third. The court erred in holding that upon the facts alleged in the amended bill of complaint and admitted by the demurrer there was any consent to the sale complained of such as to disable the complainant from rescinding the same or having other relief in respect thereof.

Fourth. The court erred in not holding that upon the facts alleged in the amended bill of complaint and admitted by the demurrer the respondents' testator Leonard Lewisohn was a promoter of the plaintiff corporation and by reason thereof upon the facts so alleged and admitted liable to account to the complainant upon a rescission or offer of rescission by it of said sale complained of for the consideration received for said sale, or to restore to the complainant the profits made by him from such sale, or compensate the complainant for the damages suffered by it by reason of such sale, and in not holding that the respondents as executors of the will of said Leonard Lewisohn are in their representative capacity in like manner liable.

Fifth. The court erred in not overruling the demurrer to the amended bill of complaint and in ordering the amended bill of complaint to be dismissed.

United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

No. 64, October Term, 1906.

Argued November 19, 1906; Decided December 4, 1906.

THE OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY
Complainant-Appellant,
v.
FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al., Defendants-Appellees.

Appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York.

Before Judges Wallace, Townsend, and Coxe.

On appeal from a decree of the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York sustaining a demurrer to an amended bill of complaint and dismissing the bill for want of equity.

The opinion of the Circuit Court sustaining the demurrer to the original bill is reported in 136 Fed. Rep. 915.

The Court held upon the hearing of the demurrer to the amended bill that there was no substantial difference between it and the original bill and followed the former decision. Final decree was thereupon entered and the complainant appeals.

The facts sufficiently appear in the opinion of the Circuit Court sustaining the demurrer to the original bill, 136 Fed. Rep. 915, and are stated in full in Old Dominion C. M. & S. Co. v. Bigelow 265 (188 Mass. 315).

Per Curiam.—The bill prays for relief as follows:

First. That the sale of the mining claims to the complainant by Leonard Lewisohn—the defendants' testator—and Albert S. Bigelow—a citizen of Massachusetts and not a party to this action, be rescinded and the real estate reconveyed to the defendants upon receipt by the complainant of the consideration paid therefor.

Second. That defendants return to the complainant the consideration paid by complainant for said property, namely, 30,000 shares of its capital stock, or account therefor.

Third. That if the court shall decide that the complainant is not entitled to rescind the sale of said real estate to it, then, and in that event, that the court ascertain the amount of damages sustained by complainant and direct the defendants as executors to pay the amount to complainant.

We are unable to perceive how this relief or any part thereof can be granted the complainant upon the facts alleged in the bill.

The fundamental difficulty with the bill is that it fails to state any facts showing that the complainant was in any way injured or defrauded by the transactions complained of. At the time of the transfer by Bigelow and Lewisohn to the company Bigelow and Lewisohn and their representatives owned the entire issue of stock of the corporation. The sale by them to the corporation was in effect a sale by them to Bigelow and Lewisohn. A corporation can only act through the human beings who compose it; it cannot be deceived or defrauded unless its stockholders and directors are deceived or defrauded. The corporation knew all that Bigelow and Lewisohn knew and no one of the original parties to the transfer was defrauded by the exchange of the stock controlled by 266 Bigelow and Lewisohn for the real estate controlled by them.

It may be that such a large over-capitalization as is alleged in the bill might mislead and deceive careless and credulous purchasers of the stock, but we are not now dealing with the case of a stockholder alleging concealment, fraud and misrepresentation. The stockholders, apparently, have no complaint; at least they have not propounded any.

Indeed, it is not easy how a purchaser, who paid $25 per share, could be defrauded in view of the allegation of the bill that "The shares of this corporation so issued in payment for the property sold to it as aforesaid were at the time of the fair market value of twenty-five (25) dollars each, and continued for a long time thereafter to be of such or greater value." It is enough, however, that this is not a stockholders' action.

The subscribers for the 20,000 shares subsequently issued were not deceived; they asked for no statement and received none; they got what they purchased and are not complainants here.

A protracted discussion is unnecessary for the reason that this court and the Circuit Court of the Southern District have decided the question adversely to the complainant's contention.

Foster v. Seymour (23 Fed. Rep. 65);
McCracken v. Robinson (57 id. 375).

To the same effect are the decisions of the New York Court of Appeals.

Barr v. N. Y., L. E. & W. R. Co. (125 N. Y. 263);
Blum v. Whitney (185 N. Y. 232).

It is true that the Supreme Court of Massachusetts (188 Mass. 315) has taken a different view, but we feel constrained to adhere to the prior adjudication of this circuit.

The decree is affirmed with costs.

Exhibit M.

Supreme Court of the United States, October Term, 1906.

The Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, Petitioner,
v.
Frederick Lewisohn and Others, Executors, Respondents.

Petition for Writ of Certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

To the Honorable the Justices of the Supreme Court of the United States:

Your petitioner, the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, respectfully represents:

First. Your petitioner is and at all times hereinafter mentioned was a corporation duly organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey.

The respondents are the executors duly appointed and qualified of one Leonard Lewisohn, late of New York, deceased.

Second. On or about October 7, 1902, the petitioner filed a bill of complaint in the Supreme Judicial Court for the County of Suffolk in the Commonwealth of Massachusetts against one Albert S. Bigelow, a citizen of Massachusetts, seeking to recover a secret profit made by him in conjunction with said Leonard Lewisohn out of a sale of property to the petitioner, while they were acting as promoters 269 in the organization of the petitioner. The respondents were not joined in this suit owing to the impossibility of obtaining jurisdiction over them in Massachusetts. Bigelow demurred to the bill of complaint so filed against him on the ground of multifariousness and to so much of the bill as asked for a rescission of the sale and return of the consideration for want of equity and want of parties.

Third. On January 6, 1903, the petitioner filed in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York a bill of complaint against the present respondents. The bill was upon the same cause of action set forth in the bill filed in Massachusetts against Bigelow and was identical with the latter bill except such verbal changes and additions as were made necessary by the differences in the parties defendant. Bigelow was not joined as a defendant because of the impossibility of obtaining jurisdiction over him in New York. The respondents, to the bill filed against them in the Circuit Court, interposed demurrers identical with the demurrers filed by Bigelow in the suit in Massachusetts.

Fourth. On February 20, 1905, the suit brought in the Circuit Court in New York was heard upon the demurrers; the Court treated the demurrers as general and ordered the bill dismissed for want of equity but with leave to amend (136 F. R. 945). The petitioner filed an amended bill. On December 7, 1904, the suit brought against Bigelow was heard upon demurrer before the full bench of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, and on June 19, 1905, by a unanimous opinion, the demurrer was overruled (188 Mass. 315). A copy of this report is printed as an appendix to this petition. The Court carefully considered and disapproved the decision of the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York in the present case. To the amended bill filed in the Circuit Court 270 in the present case the respondents demurred as before; the suit was heard upon the demurrers; the Court held, without expressing any opinion on the merits, that the amended bill was substantially the same as the original bill and that for this reason the demurrers should be sustained and the bill dismissed (Rec., p. 23). From this decision the petitioner duly appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals.

Fifth. The appeal was heard before the Circuit Court of Appeals, and on December 4, 1906, that Court, by a decision rendered per curiam, upheld the decision of the Circuit Court on the ground that the case was governed by decisions of the Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York and of Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, and by decisions of the New York Court of Appeals. Of the decision in the Massachusetts case against Bigelow, the Court said only:

"It is true that the Supreme Court of Massachusetts (188 Mass. 315) has taken a different view, but we feel constrained to adhere to the prior adjudication of this Circuit" (Rec., p. 31).

Sixth. The amended bill of complaint alleges the following material facts:

On April 30, 1895, the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore (hereinafter called the Baltimore Old Dominion Company) owned and was operating a copper mine in Arizona; it had a capital stock of five hundred thousand dollars divided into twenty-five thousand twenty dollar shares, of which five-sevenths belonged to the executors of the will of Michael Simpson, of Boston, and two-sevenths belonged to William Keyser, of Baltimore.

At some time prior to May 4, 1895, Leonard Lewisohn and Albert S. Bigelow formed the plan of acquiring all the stock of 271 the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, forming a new corporation to take over the mining property, selling the mining property to the new corporation at a large profit and contemporaneously having the new corporation offer for subscription by the public enough of its stock to provide a working capital. To carry out this plan Lewisohn and Bigelow obtained an option to purchase the Simpson stock at forty dollars a share, and formed the Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called, to provide money for the purchase of this stock and the Keyser stock. The members of the Old Dominion Syndicate subscribed a fund of one million dollars, payable in installments, upon the terms that the fund should be used to acquire the property or capital stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, with a view to resale, and that the subscribers should receive the profit made in proportion to their several subscriptions.

On May 27, 1895, the first payment under the Simpson option fell due and was made from the funds of the syndicate. On June 13, 1895, Lewisohn and Bigelow secured an option on the Keyser stock, also at forty dollars per share, and on June 20 made, from the funds of the syndicate, the first payment under that option. On the same day Keyser, without the payment of any further consideration, conveyed to Lewisohn, for the benefit of the latter and Bigelow, certain mining claims, title to which stood in the name of Keyser. At this time, or shortly after, all the stock in the Baltimore Old Dominion Company was transferred to Lewisohn and Bigelow, or their nominees, the directors and other officers resigned, new directors selected by Lewisohn and Bigelow were chosen and Bigelow was chosen president.

On July 8, 1895, Lewisohn and Bigelow had the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, the present petitioner, organized under the laws of New Jersey, selecting for the pur-272 pose seven incorporators who subscribed for forty shares of stock, Lewisohn and Bigelow paying the subscriptions. On the following day the authorized capital was increased to three million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, in shares of twenty-five dollars each, and officers were chosen from among the incorporators. On July 11, 1895, five of the directors, and the president and treasurer resigned, by instruction of Lewisohn and Bigelow, and the vacancies were filled with their nominees. As a result the new board of directors consisted of Lewisohn, Bigelow, their attorney, Allen W. Evarts, one Edgar Buffam, employed by them for the purpose, and three other persons interested in the Old Dominion Syndicate; Bigelow was chosen president of the corporation.

Immediately after these changes a meeting of directors was held, at which were present Lewisohn, Bigelow, their attorney, Evarts, and their employee, Buffam. At this meeting Bigelow presented an offer of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, signed by him as its president, to sell all its property, except the cash assets, to the new company for one hundred thousand shares of stock. Lewisohn and Bigelow caused this offer to be accepted. Lewisohn then presented an offer to sell to the corporation the mining claims transferred to him by Keyser for thirty thousand shares of stock. Lewisohn and Bigelow caused this offer to be accepted.

On July 18, 1895, Lewisohn and Bigelow, pursuant to their original plan, caused the directors of this corporation to offer twenty thousand shares of stock to the public in order to furnish working capital. This stock was all subscribed for at par.

The property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company and the mining claims were subsequently conveyed to this corporation, and on September 18, 1895, Lewisohn and Bigelow caused all the stock to be issued and certificates delivered, one hundred thou-273 sand shares to their nominee for the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, on account of its property, thirty thousand shares to themselves jointly on account of the mining claims, and twenty thousand shares to the subscribers on account of their cash subscriptions. Of the one hundred thousand shares, eighty thousand were distributed to the members of the Old Dominion Syndicate, and the remaining twenty thousand were held by Lewisohn and Bigelow, ostensibly for their expenses. The thirty thousand shares were divided between Lewisohn and Bigelow.

The entire transaction was pursuant to a plan formed by Lewisohn and Bigelow before they acquired any option to buy the stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company or acquired the mining claims, and all the steps taken were by their direction and with this plan in view. The mining claims transferred to this corporation for thirty thousand shares of its stock of the par value, and at that time and subsequently of the market value of twenty-five dollars per share, were worth not more than five thousand dollars, and they are now in the same condition as when so transferred. None of the members of the Old Dominion Syndicate, except Lewisohn and Bigelow themselves, and none of the persons who subscribed for the twenty thousand shares offered to the public had any knowledge of the profits taken by Lewisohn and Bigelow through the sale of these mining claims. The corporation remained under the control of Lewisohn and Bigelow until April, 1902; then upon a change of management the matter was investigated and shortly after this suit and the suit against Bigelow were brought.

The present bill asks relief only in respect to the transfer of the mining claims. The prayer of the bill is for a rescission of that sale and recovery of the shares issued as consideration therefor or 274 in the alternative for an accounting by the defendants for those shares and their proceeds, or for recovery of the damage suffered.

Seventh. The demurrers filed to the amended bill of complaint were: first, to the whole bill for multifariousness, on the ground that the bill sets up different and inconsistent cases, and prays for different and inconsistent relief; second, to so much of the bill as seeks a rescission for want of equity and for want of parties in that Bigelow is not joined as a defendant.

Eighth. Your petitioner is advised that the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals affirming the decree of the Circuit Court dismissing said amended bill of complaint for want of equity is erroneous, and your petitioner submits that the decision should be reviewed by this Court.

1. Because the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals and the decision of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts are directly opposed in identical cases arising out of a single transaction.

2. Because the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals is inconsistent with the principles laid down in the decision of Circuit Court of Appeals for the Sixth Circuit in the case of Yeiser v. United States Board and Paper Co., 107 F. R. 340.

3. Because the decision involves a question of importance and general interest, namely,—whether a corporation can recover, by rescission or by an accounting, a secret profit made by promoters in selling property to it, notwithstanding the approval of the transaction by the promoters and their agents as holders of a nominal amount of stock all at the time outstanding, given in anticipation of an issue of stock offered and intended to be offered to the public as part of the promotion of the corporation.

Your petitioner submits herewith a certified copy of 275 the record in said Circuit Court of Appeals of the decree of reversal and of the opinion of said Court and a brief in support of this petition.

Wherefore your petitioner respectfully prays that a writ of certiorari may be issued out of and under the seal of this Honorable Court, directed to the United States Circuit Court for the Second Circuit, requiring said Court to certify and send to this Honorable Court, on a day certain to be therein designated, a full and complete transcript of the record and all proceedings of said Circuit Court of Appeals in said case, entitled therein Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company v. Frederick Lewisohn and others, No. 64, to the end that said case may be reviewed and determined by this Honorable Court as provided by law, and that your petitioner may have such other and further relief or remedy in the premises as to this Honorable Court may seem meet.

EXHIBIT N.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, ss:

(Seal of the Supreme Court of the United States.)

The President of the United States of America to the Honorable the Judges of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, Greeting:

Being informed that there is now pending before you a suit in which Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company is appellant and Frederick Lewisohn, Walter Lewisohn, Albert Lewisohn, and Philip S. Henry, Executors of Leonard Lewisohn, deceased, are appellees, which suit was removed into the said Circuit Court of Appeals by virtue of an appeal from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, and we be- willing for certain reasons that the said cause and the record and proceedings therein should be certified by the said Circuit Court of Appeals and removed into the Supreme Court of the United States, do hereby command you that you send without delay to the said Supreme Court, as aforesaid, the record and proceedings in said cause, so that the said Supreme Court may act thereon as of right and according to law ought to be done.

Witness the Honorable Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States, the 27th day of February, in the year of our 277 Lord one thousand nine hundred and seven.

Clerk of the Supreme Court of the United States.

EXHIBIT O.

Supreme Court of the United States. October Term, 1907.

No. 206.

THE OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING AND SMELTING COMPANY, Petitioner,
v.
FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al.

On Writ of Certiorari to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit.

Opinion.

(May 18, 1908.)

Mr. Justice Holmes delivered the opinion of the Court:

This is a bill in equity brought by the petitioner to rescind a sale to it of certain mining rights and land by the defendants' testator, or, in the alternative, to recover damages for the sale. The bill was demurred to, and the demurrer was sustained. (136 Fed. Rep. 915.) Then the bill was amended, and again demurred to, and again the demurrer was sustained, and the bill was dismissed. This decree was affirmed by the Circuit Court of Appeals. (148 Fed. Rep. 1020, 79 C. C. A. 534.) The ground of the petitioner's case is that Lew-
278 isohn, the deceased, and one Bigelow, as promoters, formed the petitioner that they might sell certain properties to it at a profit; that they made their sale while they owned all the stock issued, but in contemplation of a large further issue to the public, without disclosure of their profit, and that such an issue in fact was made. The Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts has held the plaintiff entitled to recover from Bigelow upon a substantially similar bill. (188 Mass. 315.)

The facts alleged are as follows: The property embraced in the plan was the mining property of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore, and also the mining rights and land now in question, the latter being held by one Keyser, for the benefit of himself and of the executors of one Simpson, who, with Keyser, owned the stock of the Baltimore Company. Bigelow and Lewisohn, in May and June, 1895, obtained options from Simpson's executors and Keyser for the purchase of the stock and the property now in question. They also formed a syndicate to carry out their plan, with the agreement that the money subscribed by the members should be used for the purchase and the sale to a new corporation, at a large advance, and that the members, in the proportion of their subscriptions, should receive in cash, or in stock of the new corporation, the profit made by the sale. On May 28, 1895, Bigelow paid Simpson's executors for their stock on behalf of the syndicate in cash and notes of himself and Lewisohn, and in June Keyser was paid in the same way.

On July 8, 1895, Bigelow and Lewisohn started the plaintiff corporation, the seven members being their nominees and tools. The next day the stock of the company was increased to 150,000 shares of twenty-five dollars each, officers were elected, and the corporation became duly organized. July 11, pursuant to instructions, some of the officers resigned, and Bigelow and Lewisohn and three 279 other absent members of the syndicate came in. Thereupon an offer was received from the Baltimore Company, the stock of which had been bought, as stated, by Bigelow and Lewisohn, to sell substantially all its property for 100,000 shares of the plaintiff company. The offer was accepted, and then Lewisohn offered to sell the real estate now in question, obtained from Keyser, for 30,000 shares, to be issued to Bigelow and himself. This also was accepted, and possession of all the mining property was delivered the next day. The sales "were consummated" by delivery of deeds, and afterwards, on July 18, to raise working capital, it was voted to offer the remaining 20,000 shares to the public at par, and they were taken by subscribers who did not know of the profit made by Bigelow and Lewisohn and the syndicate. On September 18 the 100,000 and 30,000 shares were issued, and it was voted to issue the 20,000 when paid for. The bill alleges that the property of the Baltimore company was not worth more than $1,000,000, the sum paid for its stock, and the property here concerned not over $5,000, as Bigelow and Lewisohn knew. The market value of the petitioner's stock was not less than par, so that the price paid was $2,500,000, it is said, for the Baltimore company's property and $750,000 for that here concerned. Whether this view of the price paid is correct, it is unnecessary to decide.

Of the stock in the petitioner received by Bigelow and Lewisohn, or their Baltimore corporation, 40,000 shares went to the syndicate as profit, and the members had their choice of receiving a like additional number of shares or the repaying of their original subscription. As pretty nearly all took the stock, the syndicate received about 80,000 shares. The remaining 20,000 of the stock paid to the Baltimore company, Bigelow and Lewisohn divided, the plaintiff believes, without the knowledge of the syndicate. The 30,- 280 000 shares received for the property now in question they also divided. Thus the plans of Bigelow and Lewisohn were carried out.

The argument for the petitioner is that all would admit that the promoters (assuming the English phrase to be well applied) stood in a fiduciary relation to it, if, when the transaction took place, there were members who were not informed of the profits made and who did not acquiesce, and that the same obligation of good faith extends down to the time of the later subscriptions, which it was the promoters' plan to obtain. It is an argument that has commanded the assent of at least one Court, and is stated at length in the decision. But the Courts do not agree. There is no authority binding upon us and in point. The general observations in Dickerman v. Northern Trust Co., 176 U. S. 181, were obiter, and do not dispose of the case. Without spending time upon the many dicta that were quoted to us, we shall endeavor to weigh the considerations on one side and the other afresh.

The difficulty that meets the petitioner at the out-set is that it has assented to the transaction with the full knowledge of the facts. It is said, to be sure, that on September 18, when the shares were issued to the sellers, there were already subscribers to the 20,000 shares that the public took. But this does not appear from the bill, unless it should be inferred from the ambiguous statement that on that day it was voted to issue those shares "to persons who had subscribed therefor," upon receiving payment, and that the shares "were thereafter duly issued to said persons," etc. The words "had subscribed" may refer to the time of issue and be equivalent to "should have subscribed" or may refer to an already past event. But that hardly matters. The contract had been made and the property delivered on July 11 and 12, when Bigelow, Lewi-281 sohn, and some other members of the syndicate held all the outstanding stock, and it is alleged in terms that the sales were consummated before the vote of July 18 to offer stock to the public had been passed.

At the time of the sale to the plaintiff, then, there was no wrong done to any one. Bigelow, Lewisohn, and their syndicate were on both sides of the bargain, and they might issue to themselves as much stock in their corporation as they liked in exchange for their conveyance of their land. Salomon v. Salomon & Co. (1897) A. C. 22. Blum v. Whitney, 185 N. Y. 232. Tompkins v. Sperry, 96 Md. 750. If there was a wrong it was when the innocent public subscribed. But what one would expect to find, if a wrong happened then, would not be that the sale became a breach of duty to the corporation time pro tunc, but that the invitation to the public without disclosure, when acted upon, became a fraud upon the subscribers from an equitable point of view, accompanied by what they might treat as damage. For it is only by virtue of the innocent subscribers' position and the promoters' invitation that the corporation has any pretence for a standing in court. If the promoters, after starting their scheme, had sold their stock before any subscriptions were taken, and then the purchasers of their stock with notice had invited the public to come in, and it did, we do not see how the company could maintain this suit. If it could not then, we do not see how it can now.

But it is said that from a business point of view the agreement was not made merely to bind the corporation as it then was, with only 40 shares issued, but to bind the corporation when it should have a capital of $3,750,000; and the implication is that practically this was a new and different corporation. Of course, legally speaking, a corporation does not change its identity by adding a 282 cubit to its stature. The nominal capital of the corporation was the same when the contract was made, and after the public had subscribed. Therefore, what must be meant is, as we have said, that the corporation got a new right from the fact that new men, who did not know what it had done, had put in their money and had become members. It is assumed in argument that the new members had no ground for a suit in their own names, but it is assumed also that their position changed that of the corporation, and thus that the indirect effect of their acts was greater than the direct; that facts that gave them no claim gave one to the corporation because of them, notwithstanding its assent. We shall not consider whether the new members had a personal claim of any kind, and therefore we deal with the case without prejudice to that question, and without taking advantage of what we understand the petitioner to concede.

But, if we are to leave technical law on one side and approach the case from what is supposed to be a business point of view, there are new matters to be taken into account. If the corporation recovers, all the stockholders, guilty as well as innocent, get the benefit. It is answered that the corporation is not precluded from recovering for a fraud upon it, because the party committing the fraud is a stockholder. Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Co. v. Bigelow, 188 Mass. 315, 327. If there had been innocent members at the time of the sale, the fact that there were also guilty ones would not prevent a recovery, and even might not be a sufficient reason for requiring all the guilty members to be joined as defendants in order to avoid a manifest injustice. Stockton v. Anderson, 40 N. J. Eq. 486. The same principle is thought to apply when innocent members are brought in later under a scheme. But it is 283 obvious that this answer falls back upon the technical diversity between the corporation and its members, which the business point of view is supposed to transcend, as it must, in order to avoid the objection that the corporation has assented to the sale with full notice of the facts. It is mainly on this diversity that the answer to the objection of injustice is based in New Sombrero Phosphate Co. v. Erlanger, 5 Ch. D. 73, 114, 122.

Let us look at the business aspect alone. The syndicate was a party to the scheme to make a profit out of the corporation. Whether or not there was a subordinate fraud committed by Bigelow and Lewisohn on the agreement with them, as the petitioner believes, is immaterial to the corporation. The issue of the stock was apparent, we presume, on the books, so that it is difficult to suppose that at least some members of the syndicate, representing an adverse interest, did not know what was done. But all the members were engaged in the plan of buying for less and selling to the corporation for more, and were subject to whatever equity the corporation has against Bigelow and the estate of Lewisohn. There was some argument to the contrary, but this seems to us the fair meaning of the bill. Bigelow and Lewisohn, it is true, divided the stock received for the real estate now in question. But that was a matter between them and the syndicate. The real estate was bought from Keyser by the syndicate along with his stock in the Baltimore company, and was sold by the syndicate to the petitioner along with the Baltimore company's property, as part of the scheme. The syndicate was paid for it, whoever received the stock. And this means that two-fifteenths of the stock of the corporation, the 20,000 shares sold to the public, are to be allowed to use the name of the corporation to assert rights against Lewisohn's estate that will enure to the benefit of thirteen-fifteenths of the stock that are totally 284 without claim. It seems to us that the practical objection is as strong as that arising if we adhere to the law.

Let us take the business point of view for a moment longer. To the lay mind it would make little or no difference whether the 20,000 shares sold to the public were sold on an original subscription to the articles of incorporation or were issued under the scheme to some of the syndicate and sold by them. Yet it is admitted, in accordance with the decisions, that in the latter case the innocent purchasers would have no claim against any one. If we are to seek what is called substantial justice in disregard of even peremptory rules of law, it would seem desirable to get a rule that would cover both of the almost equally possible cases of what is deemed a wrong. It might be said that if the stock really was taken as a preliminary to selling to the public, the subscribers would show a certain confidence in the enterprise and give at least that security for good faith. But the syndicate believed in the enterprise, notwithstanding all the profits that they made it pay. They preferred to take stock at par rather than cash. Moreover, it would have been possible to issue the whole stock in payment for the property purchased, with an understanding as to 20,000 shares.

Of course it is competent for legislators, but not, we think, for judges, except by a quasi-legislative declaration, to establish that a corporation shall not be bound by its assent in a transaction of this kind, when the parties contemplate an invitation to the public to come in and join as original subscribers for any portion of the shares. It may be said that the corporation cannot be bound until the contemplated adverse interest is represented, or it may be said that promoters cannot strip themselves of the character of 285 trustees until that moment. But it seems to us a strictly legislative determination. It is difficult, without inventing new and qualifying established doctrines, to go behind the fact that the corporation remains one and the same after once it really exists. When, as here, after it really exists, it consents, we, at least, shall require stronger equities than are shown by this bill, to allow it to renew its claim at a later date, because its internal constitution has changed.

To sum up: In our opinion, on the one hand, the plaintiff cannot recover without departing from the fundamental conception embodied in the law that created it; the conception that a corporation remains unchanged and unaffected in its identity by changes in its members. Donnell v. Herring-Hall-Marvin Safe Co., 208 U. S., 267, 273. Salomon v. Salomon & Co., (1897), A. C. 22, 30. On the other hand, if we should undertake to look through fiction to facts, it appears to us that substantial justice would not be accomplished, but rather a great injustice done, if the corporation were allowed to disregard its previous assent in order to charge a single member with the whole results of a transaction to which thirteen-fifteenths of its stock were parties, for the benefit of the guilty, if there was guilt in any one, and the innocent alike. We decide only what is necessary. We express no opinions as to whether the defendant properly is called a promoter, or whether the plaintiff has not been guilty of laches, or whether a remedy can be had for a part of a single transaction in the form in which it is sought, or whether there was any personal claim on the part of the innocent subscribers, or as to any other question than that which we have discussed.

The English case chiefly relied upon, Erlanger v. New Sombrero Phosphate Co., 3 App. Cas. 1218, affirming s. c. 5 Ch. D. 73, seems to us far from establishing a different doctrine for that juris-
286 diction. There, to be sure, a syndicate had made an agreement to sell, at a profit, to a company to be got up by the sellers. But the company, at the first stage, was made up mainly of outsiders, some of them instruments of the sellers, but innocent instruments, and, according to Lord Cairns, the contract was provisional on the shares being taken and the company formed (p. 1239). There never was a moment when the company had assented with knowledge of the facts. The shares, with perhaps one exception, all were taken by subscribers ignorant of the facts, 5 Ch. D. 113, and the contract seems to have reached forward to the moment when they subscribed. As it is put in 2 Morawetz, Corp. (2d ed.), sec. 292, there was really no company till the shares were issued. Here thirteen-fifteenths of the stock had been taken by the syndicate, the corporation was in full life and had assented to the sale with knowledge of the facts before an outsider joined. There most of the syndicate were strangers to the corporation, yet all were joined as defendants (p. 1222). Here the members of the syndicate, although members of the corporation, are not joined, and it is sought to throw the burden of their act upon a single one. Gluckstein v. Barnes (1900), A. C. 240, certainly is no stronger for the plaintiff, and in Yeiser v. United States Board & Paper Co., 107 Fed. Rep. 340, another case that was relied upon, the transaction equally was carried through after innocent subscribers had paid for stock.

Decree affirmed.

287 EXHIBIT P.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, ss:

The President of the United States of America to the Honorable Judges of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, Greeting:

Whereas, lately in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, in a case between Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, appellant, and Frederick Lewisohn, Walter Lewisohn, Albert Lewisohn and Philip S. Henry, Executors of Leonard Lewisohn, deceased, appellees, wherein the decree of the said Circuit Court of Appeals, entered in said cause on the 17th day of December, A. D. 1906, is in the following words, viz:

"This cause came on to be heard on the transcript of record from the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, and was argued by counsel.

On consideration whereof, it is now hereby ordered, adjudged and decreed that the decree of the said Circuit Court be and it hereby is affirmed with costs.

It is further ordered that a mandate issue to the said Circuit Court in accordance with this decree.

W. J. W.
W. K. T."

as by the inspection of the transcript of the record of the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals which was brought into the Supreme Court of the United States by virtue of a writ of certiorari, agreeably to the act of Congress, in such case made and provided, fully and at large appears.

And Whereas, in the present term of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and seven, the said cause came on to be heard before the said Supreme Court, on the said tran-288 script of record, and was argued by counsel:

On consideration whereof, it is here ordered, adjudged and decreed by this Court that the decree of the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals in this case be, and the same is hereby, affirmed with costs; and that the said appellees, Frederick Lewisohn et al., Executors, etc., recover against the said appellant, Twenty dollars for their costs herein expended and have execution therefor.

And it is further ordered, That this cause be, and the same is hereby, remanded to the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York.

MAY 18, 1908.

You, therefore, are hereby commanded that such execution and proceedings be had in said cause, as according to right and justice, and the laws of the United States, ought to be had, the said writ of certiorari notwithstanding.

Witness, the Honorable Melville W. Fuller, Chief Justice of the United States, the first day of July, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and eight.

OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING & SMELTING COMPANY
v.
FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al.

In the above-entitled cause it is stipulated and agreed between the parties:

That copies certified to by Willoughby L. Webb, Commis-297 sioner, of the deposition of Walter Lewisohn, Ferdinand L. Rahaeuser, Adolph Lewisohn, Frederick Lewisohn, Albert Lewisohn, Jess- Lewisohn and Edward C. Westervelt, taken in the case of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company v. Bigelow, No. 8099 Equity, pending in the Supreme Judicial Court of Suffolk County, Massachusetts, may when completed be filed in the above entitled cause by the complainant at any time before the taking of testimony therein is closed, and may be read and used in evidence in this cause by either party with the same effect as if the same had been regularly taken in said cause before an examiner:

And it is further stipulated and agreed that the depositions of Albert S. Bigelow, Godfrey M. Hyams, Joseph A. Coram, Caleb L. Stone, and Charles H. Altmiller, taken before Howland Twombly, Esq., Notary Public, for use in the suit of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company v. Lewisohn et al., No. — Equity, pending in this Court, may be filed in the above entitled cause by the complainant at any time before the taking of the complainant's testimony in chief therein is closed, and may be read and used in evidence in this cause by either party with the same effect as if the same had been regularly taken in said cause before an examiner.

And the respondents hereby waive any further or formal proof of the records of the plaintiff corporation, of the entries in the books of account and check books of the plaintiff corporation testified to by Mr. Altmiller, of the contents of the stock certificate book of the corporation testified to by Mr. Altmiller, of the stock certificates of the plaintiff corporation testified to by Mr. Altmiller, and of the letters and other documents produced by Mr. Altmiller, and stipulate 298 and agree that Mr. Altmiller's deposition and the exhibits thereto annexed setting out the contents of the record book, extracts from the books of account, check book, stock certificate books, and transfer book, and certain certificates of stock, letters and other documents produced by him, may be read in evidence and used in like manner and with the same effect in all respects as if full and formal proof of the same had been made, reserving, however, to each party all rights to object to the relevancy, competency and materiality of any of said depositions, or documents, and to any of the interrogatories or answers therein contained and reserving the right of the respondent to cross-examine Charles H. Altmiller, one of said witnesses, if he be again called to testify by either party.

Said waiver being made conditionally upon the production of any and all of the original documents that the respondents shall notify complainant to produce and the complainant hereby stipulates and agrees to produce any and all of the original documents upon receiving notice requiring the production thereof.

Opinion of Circuit Court on Demurrer to Amended Bill per Holt, J.

Hoadley, Lauterbach & Johnson, (Edward Lauterbach, Eugene Treadwell, and Henry Siegrist, Jr., of counsel), for defendants.

HOLT, J.:

Orderly practice requires that a decision made by a Judge in a case should be followed by another judge, upon any question arising in that case, unless the facts presented are different. Judge Lacombe having held that the original complaint in this action was bad on demurrer, the question whether the amended complaint is bad on demurrer depends upon the question whether it presents a different case. The complainant's counsel claim that a substantial change has been made in the bill by amendments alleging more clearly than was alleged in the original bill that the 20,000 shares of stock sold to the subscribers for cash were sold by the corporation, and not by Bigelow and Lewisohn. But, in my opinion, the original bill clearly alleged that fact in paragraphs 15 and 21, and in other parts of the bill. Under these circumstances, I can see no substantial difference between the amended bill and the original bill, and, without expressing any opinion on the question in respect to which it is claimed that Judge Lacombe and the Supreme Court of Massachusetts differ, I think that, as the amended bill alleges substantially 303 the same cause of action as the original bill, Judge Lacombe's decision governs the case.

My conclusion is that the demurrer should be sustained, with costs; and, as the complainant has been permitted to amend the bill to meet the precise point of objection stated in Judge Lacombe's decision, I think that final judgment should be ordered on the demurrer for the defendants.

Mandate of United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA, ss:

The President of the United States of America, to the Honorable, the Judges of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, Greeting:

Whereas, lately in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, before you, or some of you, in a cause between Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company and Frederick Lewisohn, et al., a decree was entered in the office of the Clerk of said Court on the 6th day of December, 1905, in the words and figures following, to wit:—

"This cause having been regularly brought on for trial upon the issues of law formed by complainants amended complaint and the demurrers of the defendants to part of the amended bill of complaint, and to the whole of the amended bill of complaint at a term of this Court, held by the Honorable George C. Holt, one of the Judges of this Court, who having heard the parties by their counsel, and after due deliberation, has duly made and filed his decision and an order having been duly made and entered herein and filed in the office of the Clerk of this Court on the 18th day of November, 1905, directing that the demurrer to the whole of said amended bill of complaint for want of equity be sustained and that the bill of complaint herein be dismissed the complainant having heretofore been permitted to amend the bill of complaint to meet the 309 prior decision of this Court, and further directing that the defendants recover against the complainant their costs and charges incurred upon the said demurrer to be taxed and that the said costs and charges having been duly adjusted by the Clerk of this Court upon notice to the complainant at the sum of two hundred and twenty-seven dollars ($227) now upon motion of Hoadley, Lauterbach & Johnson, attorneys for defendants, it is Adjudged and Decreed that the said amended bill of complaint herein be and the same hereby is dismissed, and that the defendants recover of the complainant the sum of two hundred and twenty-seven dollars ($227) their costs and charges as taxed, and that the defendants have execution therefor.

JOHN A. SHIELDS, Clerk."

as by the inspection of the transcript of the record of the said Court, which was brought into the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, by virtue of an appeal agreeably to the act of Congress in such case made and provided, fully and at large appears.

And whereas, in the present term of October, in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and six, the said cause came on to be heard before the said United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, on the said transcript of record, and was argued by counsel:

On consideration whereof, it is hereby Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed, That the decree of said Circuit Court be and it hereby is affirmed with costs taxed at the sum of $36.70.

You therefore, are hereby commanded that such further proceedings be had in said cause, in accordance with the decision 310 of this Court as according to right and justice, and the laws of the United States, ought to be had, the said appeal notwithstanding.

Order of United States Circuit Court, Pursuant to Mandate of United States Circuit Court of Appeals.

At a Stated Term of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, held in the United States 312 Court Rooms, in the Post Office Building, Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the — day of ——.

Present: Hon. —— ——, Circuit Judge.

In Equity.

THE OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING & SMELTING COMPANY, Complainant,
against
FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al., Defendants.

This cause having been brought on upon the mandate herein sent down from the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, and now on file in this Court by which mandate it appears that an appeal was taken by complainant from the decree of this Court, entered herein on the 6th day of December, 1905, to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, and that a decree has been entered by said United States Circuit Court of Appeals affirming the decree of this Court (with cost of appeal taxed at the sum of thirty-six and 70/100 dollars), said mandate also directing that such further proceedings be had in said cause in accordance with the opinion of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, as, according to right and justice and the laws of the United States ought to be had, the said appeal notwithstanding.

Now, Therefore, in compliance with said mandate, it is, on motion of Hoadley, Lauterbach & Johnson, defendants' solicitors,

Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that the judgment and decree of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit be, and the same is hereby made the judgment and decree of this Court, and that the bill of complaint herein be and is hereby dismissed; and it is 313 Further Ordered, Adjudged and Decreed that the said defendants do recover from the said complainant the further sum of Thirty-six dollars and seventy cents, the costs and disbursements of the defendants upon said appeal as taxed in said United States Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit, and that the said defendants have judgment and execution therefor.

E. HENRY LACOMBE,
U. S. Circuit Judge.

vs.
LEWISOHN et al.

Petition for Stay of Execution.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York respectfully represents the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company:

1. On December 4, 1906, the Circuit Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit decided adversely to your petitioner on appeal taken in the above entitled cause from the decision of this Honor-
315 able Court, dismissing the bill of complaint in said cause, and on December 17th, 1906, a final order was made in said Circuit Court of Appeals sustaining the decision of this Honorable Court, and on December 26th, 1906, a mandate was issued by said Circuit Court of Appeals directing that the decree of this Honorable Court be affirmed and the bill be dismissed with costs.

2. Your petitioner is desirous of applying to the Supreme Court of the United States for a writ of certiorari to review said decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals and is diligently engaged in preparing such petition and a brief in support thereof, and expects to file such petition within the next thirty days.

Wherefore, your petitioner prays that execution may be stayed in said cause for thirty days, in order to enable it to file and present said petition.

By Its Solicitors, BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER.

(Endorsed:) Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, vs. Lewisohn, et al. Petition for Stay of Execution with Notice of Motion. Copy received Dec. 31, 1906, Hoadley, Lauterbach & Johnson—Granted, Jan. 4, 1907, E. H. Lacombe, U. S. Circuit Court, Southern District of New York, Filed Jan. 4, 1907, John A. Shields, Clerk.

Order Staying Execution.

At a Stated Term of the Circuit Court of the United States Held in and for the Second Circuit, Southern District of New York, at the Post Office Building in the Borough of Manhattan, City of New York, on the 5th Day of January, 1907.

Present: Hon. E. Henry Lacombe, Justice.

316 Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, Complainant,
against
Frederick Lewisohn et al., Defendants.

A motion having been duly made in this action for a stay of execution under the judgment herein, pending the application to the Supreme Court of the United States by the Solicitors for the complainant for a writ of certiorari to review the decision of the Circuit Court of Appeals herein, sustaining the decision of this Honorable Court,

Now upon reading and filing the petition for stay of execution in the above entitled action of Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, solicitors for the complainant, in support of said motion, and the affidavit of Eugene Treadwell, verified the 3rd day of January, 1907, in opposition thereto, and after hearing Herbert K. Stockton, Esq., in support of said motion and Eugene Treadwell in opposition thereto, and due deliberation having been had, it is Ordered that execution under the judgment in this cause be and the same hereby is stayed for thirty days.

E. H. LACOMBE,
U. S. Circuit Judge.

Circuit Court of the United States, Southern District of New York.

OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING & SMELTING COMPANY, Complainant,
against
FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al., Defendants.

UNITED STATES OF AMERICA,
State and County of New York, ss:

Eugene Treadwell, being duly sworn, says:

That he has had charge of the above entitled cause on behalf of defendants and is thoroughly familiar with the same.

That there is and has been pending in the Supreme Court of the State of Massachusetts two suits in Equity, wherein the above named complainant is complainant and Albert S. Bigelow is defendant. That the claim of the complainant therein has been secured by attachment.

Deponent further says that the cause involved in said suits against the said Bigelow is the same as involved in the present action. That, therefore, the complainant, even if unsuccessful in the present action in this Court, will have full and ample remedy in the said actions in the Massachusetts Court if successful therein.

That this Court should not delay its stay of execution herein to afford the complainant an opportunity to apply to the Supreme Court for writ of certiorari to review the decision of this court, except upon condition that the complainant shall stipulate that in event of the granting of said writ of certiorari and subsequent affirmance
319 by the Supreme Court of the United States of the judgment herein, the complainant shall forthwith discontinue the said suits in equity above mentioned against the said Bigelow now pending in the State Court of Massachusetts, as aforesaid.

July 2. Filed copy decree of Supreme Court.

And on the said sixteenth day of September, the matter of the allowances of the motion to file the supplemental answer was reported for the consideration and determination of the Full Court, said report being in the words following, to wit:

Reservation.

After rescripts from the full court, the defendant asked leave to file supplemental answers and having fully heard the parties, it seemed to me just upon the allegations of the answers and statements of counsel in support of them that the amendment should be allowed and I entered an order accordingly. The plaintiff, instead of taking an appeal, then requested me to report my action to the full court. In accordance with this request I now do so. If my action is reviewable, then if the allowance of the amendment was wrong the order is to be reversed, otherwise it is to stand.

September 16, 1908.

HENRY K. BRALEY,
Justice Supreme Judicial Court.

And on the twenty-second day of said September the defendant filed his claim of appeal from the order dated August 14, 1908, said claim of appeal being in the words following, to wit:

334 Defendant's Claim of Appeal.

And now comes the defendant, Albert S. Bigelow, and appeals to the Full Court from—

(1) The order denying the application of the defendant to modify the decree of August 14, 1908, and the injunction issued thereon.

(2) The order denying the application of the defendant to vacate the decree of August 14, 1908, and to dissolve the injunction issued thereon.

(3) The order denying the application of the defendant to modify the decree of August 14, 1908, and the injunction issued thereon by reason of indefiniteness.

By His Solicitors, ALFRED HEMENWAY.
J. W. FARLEY.

And on the ninth day of October, A. D. 1908, the said case was reserved for the consideration and determination of the Full Court, said reservation being in the words following, to wit:

Reservation.

This case came on to be heard upon the evidence relating to the matters set forth in the supplemental answer filed by the defendant September 4th, 1908, and evidence introduced on behalf of the defendant and on behalf of the plaintiff, as more fully appears in the commissioner's report thereof, and after the hearing of said evidence, a decree in the form of the original decree in said case was ordered, but the question of whether or not said order 335 should be modified or reversed by reason of said supplemental answer and the evidence in support thereof is reserved for the consideration of the full court; and this case including the entire record and the commissioner's reports of the evidence is now reserved for the consideration of the full court as if upon the original appeals from the final decree of December 10, 1907, and for such further modification, if any, as should be made therein by reason of the evidence bearing upon said supplemental answer, and also upon the reservation concerning the order permitting the filing of said supplemental answer, and also upon the appeal of the defendant from the decree entered August 14, 1908, granting an injunction; and also upon the appeals of the defendant from the orders entered August 28th, 1908, refusing to modify or vacate said decree of August 14th, 1908; and for such final decree and order upon this reservation as justice and equity require. The foregoing is made as a reservation and not as a decree.

October 9, 1908.

JOHN W. HAMMOND,
Justice Supreme Judicial Court.

And thereafterwards on the fifteenth day of September, A. D. 1909, it was ordered by the Supreme Judicial Court for the Commonwealth, by its Rescript, that the Clerk of this Court for the County of Suffolk make the following entry under this case in the docket of the Court, viz:

"The decree is to be so modified as to include the costs of appeal, with interest from Sept. 8, 1895, to this date, on the principal sum, and as so modified is affirmed."

336 And on the twenty-sixth day of October, A. D. 1909, the following Final Decree was entered by the Court, to wit:

Final Decree.

This cause came on to be heard this twenty-sixth day of October, 1909, at this sitting, pursuant to the rescript therein, and was argued by counsel and considered by the Court, and thereupon upon consideration thereof it is Ordered, adjudged and decreed that the complainant, Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, recover of the respondent, Albert S. Bigelow, the sum of four hundred and eighty thousand (480,000) dollars and interest thereon from September 18, 1895, amounting to four hundred and six thousand two hundred forty (406,240) dollars, being the total sum of eight hundred and eighty-six thousand two hundred and forty (886,240) dollars, and the costs taxed by the clerk at four thousand one hundred and thirteen one-hundredths (4,100.13) dollars, and that execution issue for said total sum and costs in common form in favor of said Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company against said Albert S. Bigelow.

By the Court:

WALTER F. FREDERICK, Clerk.

October 26, 1909.

337 All and singular which premises we have held good by the tenor of these presents to be exemplified.

In testimony whereof, we have caused the seal of our said Court to be hereunto affixed.

Witness, Marcus Perrin Knowlton, Esquire, Chief Justice of our said Supreme Judicial Court, at Boston in said County of Suffolk, this fourth day of December in the year of our Lord one thousand nine hundred and nine.

1 COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS:

Supreme Judicial Court, Suffolk County.

No. 8098. In Equity.

v.
ALBERT S. BIGELOW.

No. 8099.

SAME
v.
SAME.

Sheldon, J.

Appearances:

L. D. Brandeis, Esq., E. F. McClennen, Esq., for Complainant.
Alfred Hemenway, Esq., Eugene Treadwell, Esq., J. Wells Farley, Esq., for Defendant.

Order Appointing Commissioner.

In the above-entitled cases, at the hearing of the same before Mr. Justice Sheldon, it is ordered, under the provisions of Chancery Rules No. XXXV, at the request of both parties, that George C. Burpee be, and he hereby is, appointed commissioner to take the evidence in said cases to be reported to the full court.

By the Court:

WALTER F. FREDERICK,
Assistant Clerk.

November 6, 1907.

2 BOSTON, November 6, 1907.

Evidence.

[George C. Burpee was appointed and sworn as stenographer.]

Deposition of Albert S. Bigelow.

MR. MCCLENNEN: I will offer the deposition of Albert S. Bigelow, beginning March 24, 1903.

[Reading the deposition down to the first objection.]

I will not read the objections except as you renew them, Mr. Hemenway.

MR. HEMENWAY: I will agree, in regard to that, that unless I make objection the testimony may be admitted de bene. That will save a great deal of time.

[Mr. McClennen continued to read the deposition of Mr. Bigelow and the exhibits accompanying it until 4 P. M., at which time the court adjourned until Thursday, November 7.]

THURSDAY, November 7, 1907.

Deposition of Albert S. Bigelow Resumed.

[Mr. McClennen continued to read the Bigelow deposition and exhibits down to and including Exhibit 10.]

SHELDON, J.: Do those names [on Exhibit 10] include the names of persons of which you have already read a list? I mean, subscribers to the stock of the company, not subscribers to the syndicate, who were warned that their subscriptions might be cut down.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: They include those names, and they also include the names of the syndicate members who wrote that they would take stock.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The subscription is over 72,000 shares.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The total is 72,120 shares. Perhaps this is an appropriate time to say this; it takes a good deal of mathematics to work it out, but I believe it works out. In the case of the syndicate subscribers, with very few exceptions, I think it appears that the number of shares here put against their names is just half of what they ultimately received. That is, they were put down here by reason of the sums of money which they had put in at $25 per share. Then the other half they received without its being noted on this paper, as indicating their election to take stock instead of their money back. In the case of persons who were not members of the syndicate, the number of shares appearing here is generally the same as the amount of the checks that they paid into the treasury, as will appear later by the number of shares which they received.

Mr. HEMENWAY: This is simply the statement of counsel.

SHELDON, J.: Yes, I so understand it.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Of course it is not part of the record.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I think it might be desirable to have that list.

[Mr. Treadwell produced the original of Exhibit 10, a copy of which is attached to the Bigelow deposition.]

Mr. MCCLENNEN [referring to original Exhibit 10]: That 5000 shares does read 500 on the original,—that Albert O. Smith, we spoke of.

This I may as well call to your Honor's attention now as at any time. You will recall that the Lewisohn interest was about 18,000 shares that was to be obtained. Lewisohn Brothers, 10,000; Leonard Lewisohn, 4000; Hyams, 4000. Then A. S. Bigelow, 4000; A. S. Bigelow, again, 4000; Nelson is 12; Coram is 16, Luce is 20. Those all appear on the Boston underwriting syndicate. And the proportion that would come to Boston for the twenty-three forty-seconds would be 22,000. Then follow along these names.

SHELDON, J.: This is set out in the evidence, so you do not care names of the subscribers to the syndicate agreement and of new subscribers to the stock?

Mr. McCLENNEN: Both.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Your Honor will note at the bottom the amount in all underwritten.

SHELDON, J.: The amounts specified in the names of certain subscribers are the amounts that they took in stock instead of taking back their cash. They did not include the amount of stock they were going to take anyway.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Not in that case. In some instances those same persons subscribed to the syndicate and also took some of the other stock; then the amount is set opposite their names.

Mr. HEMENWAY: This is what we call a memorandum, not a subscription list.

SHELDON, J.: This is set out in the evidence, so you do not care to have the stenographer mark it?

Mr. McCLENNEN: Yes. I assume your Honor understands that any of these originals are before your Honor, should your 4 Honor care to look at them. They have all been copied for convenience.

[Mr. McClennen continued to read the deposition of Mr. Bigelow, down to Exhibits 14 and 15.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: If your Honor please, in regard to that report [Exhibit 14] it is a report in some month for the year 1901. I specifically objected to the admission of the report. I also object to what was done at the mine later.

SHELDON, J.: It may be taken de bene, and the stenographer will minute that it is taken de bene.

[Mr. McClennen continues to read from the report Exhibit 14.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: No part of that stock [referred to in Exhibit 14] has ever been issued,—of that 50,000 shares.

Mr. BRANDEIS: No part of that had been issued up to last May.

Mr. HEMENWAY: We had nothing to do with that, so that that has nothing to do with this case,—the issuing of new stock.

Mr. BRANDEIS: The issuing of new stock raises no question. As a matter of fact, a certificate of stock was issued which stood in the name of Nelson as treasurer, but it was never issued to the public.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I do not at the moment recall anything in this second report that is of any significance, so, unless Mr. Hemenway wants me to read some part of it, I will pass that by.

Mr. HEMENWAY: It is just as important, and a little more important, than the one already read.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Then I will read it.

[Mr. McClennen read Exhibit 15 down to the statement of assets and liabilities, when the court took a recess; upon the return of the court at 2 P. M., Mr. McClennen read the schedule of assets and liabilities.]

SHELDON, J.: Do you care for the superintendent's report, Mr. Hemenway?

Mr. HEMENWAY: I do not think it is necessary.

SHELDON, J.: Unless you care for it——

Mr. HEMENWAY: Of course I have objected to both of those reports.

SHELDON, J.: Oh, yes; it is taken de bene.

5 [Mr. McClennen continued the reading of the deposition of Mr. Bigelow, summarizing Exhibits 16 and 17, showing receipts and expenditures.]

SHELDON, J.: Am I in error that the summing up of this part of it in testimony is that, disregarding for the moment the division between Bigelow and Lewisohn, and disregarding the question of whether 20,000 shares or $500,000 went to the new subscribers from Bigelow and Lewisohn, or whether it went to them from the company, the effect of the thing was that Bigelow and Lewisohn got in stock at par $3,000,000 for the $1,000,000 which they put in, and disregarding the underwriting syndicate and the members' subscription syndicate, they received $2,000,000?

Mr. McCLENNEN: They got $3,250,000.

SHELDON, J.: Oh, I should have said $3,000,000. Then it was $3,750,000; so that, to go a little further, they got $3,250,000, disregarding the underwriting they gave to the members of the syndicate, two for one?

Mr. McCLENNEN: Yes.

SHELDON, J.: They themselves paid all the expenses, however,—all the incidental expenses.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I should say that with this qualification, that there was an accounting, as will appear later, between the corporation and the syndicate on the matter of expense, incidental expenses, which would leave out any question whether they did pay all of the incidental expenses.

SHELDON, J.: I put the question so that I may be sure I understand the evidence as it goes in.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Well, that is undoubtedly an accurate statement that leaves the subdivision in this wise with 20,000 producing cash.

SHELDON, J.: I am not concerning myself with any disputed questions.

[Mr. McClennen continued the reading of the Bigelow deposition, with exhibits, up to page 206, when the court adjourned till Friday, November 8.]

FRIDAY, November 8, 1907.

Deposition of Albert S. Bigelow, Resumed.

SHELDON, J.: Is there to be any change in the testimony of Mr. Bigelow or in the exhibits that these Keyser claims were held half for the benefit of the Baltimore Company and half for the Simpson estate.

6 Mr. McCLENNEN: I had not supposed there would be until I saw in the freshly prepared answer that the claim is still maintained that they were not.

[Mr. McClennen continued reading the Bigelow deposition and exhibits, and finished at 10.30 A. M.]

Deposition of Godfrey M. Hyams.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I will offer the deposition of Godfrey M. Hyams that was taken March 27, 1903, begun that day, that is, after the first day of Mr. Bigelow's testimony.

[Mr. McClennen read the deposition of Hyams, with exhibits, down to certificate 73.]

SHELDON, J.: That is certificate 73?

Mr. McCLENNEN: Certificate 73. Those come out of Nelson. Now in that list the name, I think, of no underwriter appears, or any name of Lewisohn or Bigelow. In that list there are three entries of this kind: "Bartholomew, S. B., 100."

Mr. HEMENWAY: I think you had better read the names that are there without drawing your inferences at the present time.

SHELDON, J.: I do not think it is worth while to read all the names. I do not think there was any inference; he was reading one of the entries.

Mr. HEMENWAY: It was before that,—as to whom these people were. I do not agree to that; it is not true.

SHELDON, J.: Well, that is Mr. McClennen's statement, and it is not agreed to. But it is not worth while to read all the names.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Oh, I don't care about that, only I do not want conclusions made.

SHELDON, J.: That is a question that may have some bearing, and may have some importance.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The only way in which I can bring to your Honor's attention, in connection with putting in the evidence, that those names do not appear is to read the list.

SHELDON, J.: You say your claim is that those men——

Mr. McCLENNEN: Are not signers of the underwriters' agreement.

7 SHELDON, J.: There are some of the syndicate?

Mr. McCLENNEN: Mr. Hemenway claims that they did include some of the syndicate.

SHELDON, J.: Whichever one of you is correct, it would include the names of some of the syndicate, of course, because some of the members of the syndicate subscribed for a part of the 20,000 shares.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is just what they did not do. They did not subscribe for any of the 20,000. They simply said they would take.

SHELDON, J.: Well, there is at present some evidence that they did; whether they took them from the company or from Bigelow and Lewisohn is another and very different question.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Well, there is no evidence that the subscription was offered as to the 20,000 certificate or the 100,000 certificate or the 30,000 certificate; that is, without subscription to any other papers. There was no subscription to any part of the 20,000.

SHELDON, J.: Well, there was subscription for a larger amount than they could get unless it was taken out of the shares represented by the 20,000 share certificate?

Mr. HEMENWAY: No, your Honor.

SHELDON, J.: Well, at any rate, if I am in error, it is not worth while to spend time on it.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I do not think it is, but it is one of the things on which I wish your Honor to keep your Honor's mind open.

SHELDON, J.: I intend to do so. I realize it is a question of some importance.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: If Hemenway does not object to my drawing the inference, I should say that I think your Honor has correctly stated the evidence thus far.

SHELDON, J.: Well, you need not bother about that.

[Mr McClennen continued and finised reading the deposition of Mr. Hyams and the exhibits accompanying it.]

Deposition of J. Morris Meredith.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I offer the deposition of J. Morris Meredith, taken May 22, 1906.

[Reading the Meredith deposition, without interruption, and finishing at 2.45 P. M.]

8 Deposition of Walter Lewisohn.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I will offer the deposition of Walter Lewisohn, taken February 4, 1903. This is the first of all the depositions.

[Mr. McClennen read the deposition of Walter Lewisohn so far as it was taken on February 4, 1903.

[Then a letter dated February 4, 1903, Brandeis to Lauterbach.

[Then the deposition of Walter Lewisohn, so far as it was taken on February 10, 1903.]

Deposition of Adolph Lewisohn.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I will read the deposition of Adolph Lewisohn.

[Mr. McClennen read the deposition of Adolph Lewisohn; also the original offer of the Baltimore Company to the meeting of July 11, 1895.]

Deposition of John Stanton.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I will offer the deposition of John Stanton. This was taken on written interrogatories [reading the deposition.]

Deposition of Joseph A. Coram.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I will offer the deposition of Joseph A. Coram, taken on June 15, 1904 [reading the deposition.]

[Adjourned to Monday, November 11, 1907.]

Deposition of Frederick Lewisohn.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I am going to read the deposition of Frederick Lewisohn, taken February 11, 1903.

[Mr. McClennen read the deposition of Frederick Lewisohn.]

Deposition of Albert Lewisohn.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The next one here is the deposition of Albert Lewisohn. For physical reasons merely I will not read it, because I do not see that it adds anything. Unless Mr. Hemenway desires to have me read it—I will read it, if he desires.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I think Albert Lewisohn's deposition explains about this examination. If they claim there was not any such search, it should be read.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Well, we do make the claim.

[Reads deposition of Albert Lewisohn, taken February 11, 1903.]

Deposition of Ferdinand Roghauser.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I will now read the deposition of Ferdinand Roghauser, the taking of which was commenced on February 10, 1903 [reading].

That, I believe, concludes the testimony taken up to February 24.

It is noted at the end of the Albert Lewisohn deposition that the exhibits marked for identification run from 1 to 161.

Now on February 24 Mr. Lauterbach produced another batch of letters, which were marked for identification 162 to 230, both inclusive.

[Mr. McClennen then read the further deposition of Ferdinand Roghauser, taken on February 24, 1903, up to the point where the further taking of it was suspended.]

Deposition of Edward C. Westerveldt.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I will now read the deposition of Edward C. Westerveldt, taken February 24, 1903.

[Reading the deposition of Westerveldt up to the time the taking of it was suspended.]

Deposition of Jesse Lewisohn.

Mr. McCLENNEN: On the same day the deposition of Jesse Lewisohn was taken [reading the deposition].

It is noted that the last exhibit identified is No. 233.

I will now read the further deposition of Jesse Lewisohn, taken on February 25, 1903.

[Mr. McClennen proceeded to read the deposition of Jesse
10 Lewisohn, taken on February 25, 1903, and commenced to read Exhibit 231, which accompanies the deposition.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: This goes in de bene.

SHELDON, J.: Does that appear upon the face of the record?

Mr. BRANDEIS: They were introduced as evidence.

SHELDON, J.: Mr. Hemenway says they go in de bene. I asked if they did go in de bene.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I made my objection at the time.

SHELDON, J.: This is Exhibit 231?

Mr. MCCLENNEN: Exhibits 231, 232, and 233 [exhibiting and explaining to the court the exhibits, counsel being present at the bench].

[Mr. McClennen then finished reading the deposition of Jesse Lewisohn as taken on February 25, 1903, until it was suspended.]

Deposition of Edward C. Westervelt Resumed.

[Mr. McClennen read the deposition of Edward C. Westervelt, resumed on March 3, 1903, until the examination was suspended.]

Deposition of Ferdinand Royhauser Resumed.

[Mr. McClennen read the deposition of Ferdinand Royhauser, resumed, to the close of the deposition.]

Deposition of W. A. S. Chrimes.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I will offer the deposition of W. A. S. Chrimes, commenced July 19, 1905, and resumed on October 27, 1905.

[Mr. McClennen read the deposition of Chrimes, also Altmiller Exhibit 6.]

Deposition of Samuel N. Brown.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I will offer the deposition of Samuel N. Brown, taken July 19, 1905 [reading the deposition].

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I would like to put in a bit or oral testimony.

11 Oral Testimony.

CHARLES H. ALTMILLER sworn.

(By Mr. MCCLENNEN:)

Q. Your name is Charles H. Altmiller?

A. Yes.

Q. You are treasurer of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And became such in April, 1902?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Prior to that time do you recollect the fact of a vote increasing the capital stock by 50,000 shares?
A. I do.
Q. It is a fact that up to the time of your becoming treasurer that stock had never been actually issued?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. In what way was that stock treated on the books of the company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: One moment. The books will show.

Q. Is this certificate which I show you the certificate representing that stock?
A. Yes.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I pray your Honor's judgment. I object to the testimony.
SHELDON, J.: Well, it may be taken de bene.
A. Yes.
Mr. McCLENNEN: That certificate I will offer [exhibiting the certificate to Mr. Hemenway].
Mr. HEMENWAY: I think the better way would be to put the vote in evidence, first, in regard to the increase of the capital stock.
Mr. McCLENNEN: That will appear soon in the typewritten testimony.
This certificate which is offered is No. 5070, for 50,000 shares.

"Registered. Atlas National Bank. J. L. Foster, Cashier

This certifies that William J. Ladd, Treasurer of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company is entitled to 50,000 shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Co. transferable only on the books of said company by the holders hereof in person or by attorney on surrender of this certificate.
Boston, Mass., September 1, 1899.

C. H. BISSELL,
Assistant President.
P. K. DUMARESQ,
Assistant Treasurer."

The certificate recites that the capital stock is $3,750,000, in shares of $25 each, and bears the stamp upon it "Capital stock increased June 15, 1899, to 200,000 shares by $1,000,000."
12 SHELDON, J.: You do not claim that this stock was issued irregularly?
Mr. McCLENNEN: No, there is no such claim. Our only interest in this is that it is a further demonstration of what appears elsewhere in the testimony, that it was the practice of this company to carry unissued stock in the form of a certificate in the name of the treasurer.

Mr. TREADWELL: That is what I want to call your Honor's attention to. The purpose of this, it is stated now, is to show——

SHELDON, J.: I do not think it is worth while to spend time on it now. It is only admitted de bene. The objection that is made will have to be carefully considered before the evidence is received, if I were to receive it for any purpose. But it is taken only de bene. If the case should go to the full court, it may be considered or not as they deem proper.

Mr. TREADWELL: I was not making objection; I was only saying that so much evidence comes in here in this way that we may or we may not be called upon to take up your Honor's time with when we feel it is clearly irrelevant so far as the issues of this case are concerned, and I should want to have an idea how much it is proposed to receive in order that we, on our part, may know how much of the time of the court we are to take up in considering it.

[The certificate was received in evidence de bene, and marked "Exhibit 500, Nov. 14, 1907, G. C. B."]

Mr. HEMENWAY: If your Honor please, there are some questions I shall want to ask in cross-examination, but there are so many things in evidence that cross-examination will be clearer after your Honor has heard it that I should like to reserve my right then to cross-examine.

Mr. BRANDEIS: If you will let us know when you want him, we will endeavor to have Mr. Altmiller here.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Of course I have already notified Mr. Altmiller and Mr. Smith I should want all of these papers.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I think everything is in these bundles.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Do you want the books, Mr. Hemenway?

Mr. HEMENWAY: No, I do not want the books this afternoon. Mr. Chrimes also may go. I think I may say that this testimony was taken in all four cases generally, but we have the right to put in oral testimony also; it saves a great deal of time. Of course, much of this is in reply.

13 Deposition of Charles H. Altmiller.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: Next is the deposition of Charles H. Altmiller, the taking of which began October 11, 1904.

[Mr. McClennen read from the Altmiller deposition and accompanying exhibits until the hour of adjournment.]

[Adjourned to Tuesday, November 12, 1907.]

TUESDAY, November 12, 1907.

Deposition of Charles H. Altmiller Resumed.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I had just concluded the reading of the record of the meeting of July 9, which terminated a general adjournment.

SHELDON, J.: You are still on the deposition of Mr. Altmiller?

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I am still on the deposition of Mr. Altmiller.

[Mr. McClennen continued to read the Altmiller deposition and the accompanying exhibits, exhibiting and explaining some of them, to the end.]

Mr. McCLENNEN: Do you want to cross-examine Mr. Altmiller now?

Mr. HEMENWAY: No; I prefer to wait.

[Mr. McClennen read, without interruption, the depositions of William H. Reed, Charles R. Batt, R. F. Bolles, W. B. Mossman, C. L. Davenport, Homer V. Snow, Arthur W. Hale, Samuel B. Capen, and Henry Wood.]

New York Correspondence.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I think I will vary the character of this evidence for a while, going to something else. Of the letters marked, in connection with the New York depositions, Nos. 1 to 494, except Nos. 230, 231, and 233, I offer Exhibit 4, which is not in any record as yet [reading]:

"MAY 6TH, 1895.

Mr. G. M. Hyams, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: We have today remitted two thousand dollars to J. Morris Meredith in accordance with the agreement.

Yours very truly,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS,

J. L. General Manager."

11 Mr. McCLENNEN: No. 5, from Lewisohn Brothers to Charles C. Beaman.

Mr. HEMENWAY: This, of course, goes in de bene.

[Mr. McClennen read the following:]

"MAY 6TH, 1895.

Mr. Charles C. Beaman, c/o Evarts, Choate & Beaman, New York City.

DEAR SIR: We wish to advise you that we have today received word over the telephone that Mr. Smith, the third executor of the Simpson estate, has signed the agreement this morning. We are waiting to hear from Mr. Butler as to what the outcome of his meeting with Mr. Keyser was, which we expect to receive by tomorrow.

Yours very truly,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS,

J. L. General Manager."

Mr. McCLENNEN: Exhibit 15, a letter from Lewisohn Brothers to G. M. Hyams [reading]:

"MAY 16TH, 1895.

Mr. G. M. Hyams, Post Office, Globe, Arizona.

DEAR SIR: We hope you received our other letters sent you yesterday with copies of different documents we received from Mr. Keyser.

The writer while at Mr. Beaman's office saw a letter from Mr. Meredith to Mr. Beaman wherein Mr. Meredith stated that his commission was to be 10 per cent and asking for Mr. Beaman's professional opinion as to the validity of his memorandum of this matter—which was from Mr. Simpson—and which he thought would be all right, but which he wanted Mr. Beaman's legal advice upon. He also stated in the letter to Mr. Beaman that the only chance of a slip up might be that Simpson might say, on presentation of our notes in payment of the property, that the endorsements were not satisfactory and stated that he thought it best for Mr. Beaman to be cautious on this point so that nothing could happen to prevent the matter going through. In other words, he was carefully looking out for his own interests, solely that he might not be done out of his beautiful commission.

15 The matter as regards the point of refusing to accept the endorsements we will arrange, as we spoke to Mr. Bigelow who will see the Old Colony Trust Company and have that matter easily settled, as they will accept endorsements which he will propose; and, any way, he will do this beforehand so that no question of this nature may arise.

As mentioned above, regarding the commission, we would like you to telegraph as to whether you think it advisable we should approach Mr. Meredith, either through Bigelow or direct, or, if you will do so, to ask him for half of the commission. We certainly think he should allow us half—$50,000—and we await your telegraphic opinion as regards this.

We would also mention that in this letter which Beaman had from Meredith it stated he should not say anything to Lewisohns about this commission matter unless they asked, but the writer happened to take this letter up with his own letters which were on Mr. Beaman's desk and therefore read the whole matter over in our office here. We have, however, returned the letter to Mr. Beaman.

In case you deem it best to ask Meredith yourself about this, you had better be cautious not to know too much about it—as to the amount of his commission—on the above grounds; as we naturally do not want to give away the fact that we saw the letter.

We await your telegraphic reply and meanwhile remain

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS."

Mr. McCLENNEN: Exhibit 289, August 6, 1895, Lewisohn Brothers to C. S. Henry & Company [reading]:

"AUG. 6, 1895.

Messrs. C. S. Henry & Co., London.

DEAR SIRS: If you have not already done so, we think it would be well for you to see Messrs. Long & Teutsch, and perhaps you can interest them in the Old Dominion enterprise; that is, that they buy some of the shares at about the market price ruling at the time you see them. If they think well of it and wish to know where they could get a lot of these shares, please cable us, and we will then give you particulars. We believe that the shares will go much higher. It is a good enterprise, as you know, and will no doubt pay dividends within a reasonable time after we commence production on 16 a larger scale. The shares are dealt in in Boston, and $34 was bid yesterday; but we would prefer not to sell any in the Boston market at present. Enclosed we hand you memorandum of some particulars which you can give to parties inquiring about Old Dominion, if you think best.

Yours very truly,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS,

Enc. General Manager."

Mr. McCLENNEN: Now I will read the following letters already copied into the record, introduced on May 12, 1906, at page 176 (our page 1020), [reading the following described letters]:—

Ex. 18, Lewisohn Bros. to Wm. Keyser, June 3, 1895.
Ex. 20, Lewisohn Bros. to Bigelow, June 4, 1895.
Ex. 38, Wm. Keyser to Leonard Lewisohn, June 13, 1895.
Ex. 39, Leonard Lewisohn, per Jesse Lewisohn, to A. S. Bigelow, June 13, 1895.
Ex. 43, Form of agreement to form Old Dominion Syndicate, June 13, 1895.
Ex. 45, Lewisohn Bros. to A. S. Bigelow, June 17, 1895.

New York Correspondence, Resumed.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I was reading from the New York letters introduced by Mr. Hemenway, and the last one was Ex. 273. I will now read,—

Ex. 275, Lewisohn Bros. to H. Wallerstein, July 25, 1895.
Ex. 291, Same to same, Aug. 6, 1895.
Ex. 134, Simon E. Stern to Lewisohn Bros., Sept. 20, 1895.

Ex. 95, to A. W. Evarts (unsigned), July 12, 1895.
Ex. 276, to E. Hawley (unsigned), July 25, 1895.
Ex. 244, Lewisohn Bros. to Adolph Lewisohn, May 24, 1895.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I will also read Exhibit 256, which has not yet been put into the record [reading]:

"JUNE 21ST, 1895.

Mr. William Garland, President, Gila Valley, Globe & Northern Railway Co., Bowie, Arizona Territory.

DEAR SIR: We have your letter of June 14th. It is quite evident to us that you misunderstand our situation completely.

We have purchased the Old Dominion property with a view to utilizing the low grade ores by means of cheap coke and cheap freight out on copper.

To do this we must compete with similar low grade ores now mined at Bisbee and Clifton, as well as in Montana.

If it were a question of paying $28.00 per ton, or even one-half of this sum for freight, as you say your road is now willing to do, we should never have taken the properties.

Your proposition to reduce the rate 2.00 for every 20 miles of road would really mean a minimum rate of about $9.00 on your road. This we are frank to say is utterly out of the question and would never receive a moment's consideration from us.

We do not desire at any rate to smelt our ores until the railroad is completed into Globe; and in order to assure you of our good faith in the matter, as promised you by Mr. Hyams we are perfectly willing to make any guarantee that you require, in reason, to begin smelting as soon as the road is completed.

The matter resolves itself into this: As at present constructed, your road is practically valueless, and you naturally desire to complete it in order to obtain traffic.

We on our side are naturally desirous of having it completed in order to operate our properties; and, if you will tell us what guarantees you wish in order that you may at once start work and press it to completion, we will see whether we can meet your views.

19 As far as your rates go, there would have to be a radical change in your views, otherwise we do not see how we can start work.

It does seem to us that the situation is important enough for you to have come east to settle the question; but as you do not seem disposed to regard it in that light, we of course do not care to force you or to appear anxious in the matter, as it might place us in a false position.

In conclusion we wish to repeat that with proper rates we intend to operate the property on a much larger scale than it had ever been handled on before, but that until we obtain such rates we shall be obliged to keep it closed down, or see if other arrangements cannot be made.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS.

G. M. HYAMS,
General Manager."

Additional Depositions.

Mr. McClennen read the depositions of the following-named persons:—

Stephen N. Crosby, E. M. Dodd, William A. Rust, Edwin C. Swift, David N. Anthony, George Mandell Preston, James F. Ormond, Josiah Grout, Frank E. Stocker, Fred B. Stocker, Angus H. McLoud, Walter P. Smith, John Stanton, Charles S. Smith, Joseph S. Bigelow, Clarence H. Bissell, William J. Ladd, Eugene V. R. Thayer, Henry A. Root, Simon H. Stern, Charles F. Brooker, Galen L. Stone.

[Plaintiff rests.]

WEDNESDAY, November 13, 1907.

CHARLES H. ALTMILLER, sworn:

(By Mr. HEMENWAY.)

Q. Will you take your certificates and your certificate stub book?

A. [The witness produces the certificates and the certificate stub book.]

(By SHELDON, J.)

Q. Is this the miscellaneous certificate book?

A. The miscellaneous certificate book.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY.)

Q. No. 1 of this certificate book issued 16 shares to Jesse Lewisohn, July 9, 1895, "For articles of association;" No. 2, A. W. Evarts, July 9, 1895, and No. 3, Edgar Buffum, July 9, 1895, "For articles of association;" No. 4, C. W. Welch, July 9, 1895, "For articles of association;" No. 5, Ferdinand Riddlesdorfer, July 9, 1895, "For articles of association;" No. 6, W. B. Rowe, July 9, 1895, "For articles of association;" No. 7, W. R. Montgomery, 4 shares, July 9, 1895 [exhibiting to court the form of certificate stub].

Q. That is 40 shares in all. Now take your check book, please.

SHELDON, J.: Is there any real question as to those 40 shares? They were issued and cash was received for them? They were issued for the purpose of carrying through the organization of the company and the amount of money so received was deposited by the treasurer in the treasury of the company, and the amount was afterwards paid back to Mr. Lewisohn, and the shares were otherwise disposed of?

Mr. HEMENWAY: No, but what I wish to show, if your Honor please, is that those shares were paid for by this check of $1000.

SHELDON, J.: Has not that already been fully brought out?

Mr. HEMENWAY: It has already appeared, but it is necessary in order to ask the next question.

SHELDON, J.: Then why not go right to the next question? It fully appears that they were paid for by this $1000 check.

Q. Now won't you turn to the record and tell us when there was a record made as to the issuing of those shares; whether before or after the payment? I want to see the first vote in regard to those.

A. The minutes of the first meeting, held at the office of the New Jersey corporation agent, at 243 Washington street, Jersey City, on the 9th day of July, 1895, at 3 o'clock: "It was voted that the amount with which the said company will commence business is one thousand dollars divided into forty shares of a par value of twenty-five dollars each."

Q. Now the next vote in regard to this specific number of shares. That does not, of course, refer to this specific number of shares; it is part of the charter.

A. That is referred to in the meeting held in the office of the New Jersey corporation agent, 243 Washington street, Jersey City, on the 9th day of July, 1895: "Resolved that certificates of stock be duly issued to the original subscribers for the amount of their subscriptions as follows; one certificate of 16 shares to Mr. Jesse Lewisohn, and one for 4 shares each to Messrs. Evarts, Buffum, Welch, Riddlesdorfer, Rowe and Montgomery."

Q. That was at what time?

A. That was July 9, 1895.

Q. They were paid for before that vote was passed, according to the records?

A. No,—July 12 they were paid for.

Q. No, but you referred to it in that meeting.

A. July 12 we received a check for them. The meeting is July 9.

21 Q. Well, don't you find a minute here in regard to Lewisohn, saying that he had the money?

A. Yes.

Q. Now read that.

A. "Mr. Lewisohn reported that he had received the sum of $100 in money each from Messrs. Evarts, Buffum, Welch, Riddlesdorfer, Rowe and Montgomery for their subscriptions to the stock of the company and had in hand the sum of $400, his own subscription thereto, and now held the total amount thereof, $1000, for the use of the company, and he was authorized and by resolution duly passed requested to turn over said amount to the treasurer of the company when elected."

Q. Now what was the date of that?

A. The 9th day of July, 1895.

Q. Well, now this $1000 was paid on the 9th for the stock of the company, and then the vote which you have read later was to issue this stock, the stock that had already been paid for?

SHELDON, J: It appears it had been paid to Mr. Lewisohn; that is, that $600 of it had been paid to Mr. Lewisohn, and he had set aside $400 more, but it does not appear it had been paid to the company. He was instructed to pay it to the treasurer of the company when elected. According to the records, he did pay it to the treasurer of the company on the 12th day of July, three days later. It had been paid for; but it had been paid for, not to the company, but to Mr. Lewisohn, and Mr. Lewisohn held it, so to speak, in escrow; but he did deliver it to the company July 12.

Mr. HEMENWAY: According to the record.

SHELDON, J: According to the record; and I understand that the witness is testifying solely from the records and without personal knowledge.

Mr. HEMENWAY: So that the vote was subsequent to the actual payment to the company.

SHELDON, J: The vote was July 9, the actual payment to the company was July 12.

Mr. HEMENWAY: No. At the organization of the corporation they had $1000; they then elected officers and turned it over to the treasurer; but it was in the company before that time.

SHELDON, J: Lewisohn was one of the intended incorporators, but the incorporation was not complete when the money was paid to him. When it left him we don't know.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I would offer this certified copy of the certificate of incorporation of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, which shows it began July 8. It contains the same provision, which says:—

22 "The amount with which said company will commence business is one thousand dollars, divided into forty shares of the par value of twenty five dollars each."

SHELDON, J: That is sworn to on the 9th of July, is it?

Mr. HEMENWAY: On the 8th of July.

SHELDON, J: Sworn to the day before the meeting? The meeting was the 9th of July.

Mr. HEMENWAY: But the incorporation was before.

SHELDON, J: Oh, you mean those are the articles of association? It is not a certificate of the meeting? I thought you meant a certificate of the meeting.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Oh, no.

SHELDON, J: I see.

[Certified copy of certificate of incorporation of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company is marked "Exhibit 501, Nov. 13, 1907, G. C. B."]

Q. Now read on page 12.

A. "Mr. Jesse Lewisohn as treasurer reported that he had the sum of one thousand dollars heretofore received by him for account of the subscription of the original stockholders named in the certificate of organization and held the same as the treasurer for account of the company."

Q. That is on what date?

A. July 9.

Mr. HEMENWAY: It is entered here on the 12th. I wish to call attention to the fact of issuing stock when the money was already in the treasury. That is simply some evidence, although I do not think it of any consequence as to the method.

SHELDON, J: I think you can go on.

Q. Now will you turn to certificates No. 71, No. 72, No. 73, and No. 74, and also the stubs? Prior to No. 71, how many certificates were canceled?

A. Fifty-seven.

Q. That is, from 15 to 71?

A. To 70.

[Mr. Hemenway exhibited to the court the canceled certificate stubs.]

Q. Now, anywhere, have you a certificate of the whole capital stock being issued to the treasurer at any time prior to this one which stood in the name of Nelson? There is no such certificate?

A. No.

Mr. HEMENWAY: No. 71; we have already said that was for 100,000 shares, although it appears to be for 100 shares.

23 (By Mr. MCCLENNEN.)

Q. That is the Dumaresq certificate?

A. Yes.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY.)

Q. Let me see that certificate, will you?
A. [Certificate produced.]

Mr. HEMENWAY [exhibiting certificate to court]: That is dated the 18th of September.

Q. Well, now this is said to be issued to sundries?
A. Yes.
Q. Haven't you stated in your deposition somewhere that "sundries" meant that where it was issued to several people,—that that was what you meant?
A. That is correct; that is what the word "sundries" means.
Q. But it does not mean it in that instance?
A. No.
Q. That should be Dumaresq?
A. Yes.
Q. And it is for 100,000 shares instead of 100?
A. Yes.
Q. Now No. 72, to A. S. Bigelow, is canceled?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. Let me see that?
A. [Certificate produced.]
Q. Now that is canceled without any assignment, or anything of the kind?
A. Yes.
Q. Lay that one side. Now No. 73.
A. [Certificate produced.]
Mr. HEMENWAY [to the court]: No. 72, which is canceled, "For vote of Syn."—that was canceled, 20,000.
This is dated September 19, 1895. "Thomas Nelson, Treasurer." This is No. 73, for 20,000 shares, issued to Thomas Nelson, September 18, 1895, "For vote of Syn."—20,000 shares.
Q. Now No. 74, A. S. Bigelow.
A. [Certificate produced.]
Mr. HEMENWAY [to the court]: That is for 30,000 shares. "No. 74, Leonard Lewisohn 2650"—
Q. Is that a mistake? 2650; is not that 22,650?
A. No, sir; "Leonard Lewisohn, 2650."
Mr. HEMENWAY: That is right.
Q. Now after the issue of No. 74 there follow issues of stock certificates to those people that are marked "Cancelled" prior to No. 71, do there not?
A. Yes.
Q. [Producing a cardboard covered book.] On this corrected list of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, I wish you would look at those names.
Mr. BRANDEIS: What is this?
Mr. HEMENWAY: A corrected list.
Mr. BRANDEIS: Where did the book come from?
Mr. HEMENWAY: It came from Mr. Bigelow.

24 Mr. BRANDEIS: Has it just come?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Not now. It was down in your office for days; it is one of the books Mr. Hyams presented.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I never saw it before.

Mr. HEMENWAY: It has been there time and again.

Mr. BRANDEIS: It does not appear in the evidence.

Q. Didn't you produce that book?

A. I don't remember.

Q. Just look at the book, and see if you haven't seen it before.

A. I have seen it at Mr. Bigelow's office; not since then.

Q. Didn't you see it a long time ago?

A. I do not remember.

Q. You would not say that you did not?

A. No, not if I did; I don't remember, really; I saw so many things at that time.

Q. Now won't you look at that list—they are all arranged alphabetically—and tell me if the 60,000 shares of stock that were allotted were not issued in pursuance of this list? And if you cannot tell offhand, just look at the stockholders' list of certificates.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: If we can have an opportunity to look at this, we can tell whether we desire any identification of it, or not.

Mr. HEMENWAY: You may look at it.

SHELDON, J: If I understand the question, however, I think it does already appear, if this list is what he states it is, a list of subscribers to the issue of stock, it includes 60,000 shares,—40,000 of shares for the syndicate, and 20,000 being not issued.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: If I correctly gather the question, I think there is no difference between us in any way.

Mr. HEMENWAY: This is the allotment made out of a subscription of over 70,000 shares.

[Mr. McClennen and Mr. Brandeis examined the book; the question is read and is not objected to.]

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that was a book that was in the office at the time this allotment was made?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I produce the book, if your Honor please.

SHELDON, J: Do you put the book in evidence?

25 Mr. HEMENWAY: Yes.

[Book marked "Exhibit 502, Nov. 13, 1907, G. C. B."]

Q. Now the records have been read, and there is nothing in the records—I wish you would notice this question—there is nothing in the records to show any order to pay these different sums to Luce and others, amounting to $19,500? That is correct?

A. No.

Q. What?

A. That is correct.

Q. Now is there any paper in your possession, or anything showing authority on the part of the company to pay out that money?

A. I do not know, I am sure. I did not have charge of that part of the transaction.

Q. Well, you don't know of any authority?

A. No, I do not.

Q. You don't know of any authority in the votes; it simply was paid?

A. That is all, yes.

Q. Are there any votes, to your knowledge, other than those that have been recorded in the books of the company,—any that had not been recorded?

A. No.

Q. You don't know of any such?

A. I don't know of any such.

Q. Now, prior to the 18th day of September, is there any paper in your office—and by "your office" I mean the office of the company—from the beginning—authorizing in any way the opening of a subscription for the stock of the company?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. There is none? Do you know of any subscription list, other than that which has been put in here and called the subscription list of July 18, that was ever sent out by the company?

A. No.

Q. In whose possession have these books been since April, 1902?

A. In mine.

Q. So far as you know, that stock certificate book—stubs—is in the condition it was always?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. And that "For vote of Syn." has always been there, so far as you know, from the day when it was entered?

A. Yes.

Q. In both cases?

A. Yes.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is all. One moment. I will offer one of those letters that was produced by you or to you.

[Mr. Hemenway confers with Mr. Brandeis.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: I state this: That it is one of the papers that Mr. Hyams produced for you to read and you read it and you 26 did not put it in. Now Mr. Hyams will testify that, you can take my word for it.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: If it may be assumed that he would so testify, then we have no objection to its going in.

SHELDON, J.: It goes in on the ground it was produced by Mr. Hyams, at your request, and examined by you.

Mr. BRANDEIS: We have no objection. If it is such a letter, we do not object to its competency.

SHELDON, J.: I understand that statement is accepted?

Mr. MCCLENNEN: Yes, your Honor.

SHELDON, J.: Then you may put it in.

Mr. HEMENWAY (reading):

"SEARS BUILDING, BOSTON, MASS., Aug. 23, 1895.

You are hereby notified that at the request of Mr. Matthew Luce [crossed out in pencil] you have been allotted 100 shares of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company at $25 per share. Notice will be sent in due course when payment for this shall be made and also time when stock will be ready for delivery.

A. S. BIGELOW."

Mr. BRANDEIS: It does not appear to be addressed.

Mr. HEMENWAY: What do you mean?

Mr. BRANDEIS: There is no form of address on it.

[Letter marked "Exhibit 503, Nov. 13, 1907, G. C. B."]

Mr. HEMENWAY: I do not think it will be necessary to make a formal opening in this case, because the opening would be substantially a repetition of the testimony. I shall require some considerable time for argument, because the testimony has been brought out in an irregular way by the plaintiffs. By "irregular" I mean not consecutively, as you would put in a case for yourself.

ALLEN W. EVARTS, sworn:

By Mr. TREADWELL:

Q. What is your full name?
A. Allen W. Evarts.
Q. Your residence?
A. The city of New York.
Q. Your occupation?
A. Lawyer.
Q. What is your present firm, if any?
A. Evarts, Tracy & Sherman.
27 Q. In the year 1895 what was your firm?
A. I was a member of the firm of Evarts, Choate & Beaman.
Q. How was that firm then constituted?
A. There were seven members of the firm. Do you wish me to give you the names of them all?
Q. If you please.
A. Mr. William M. Evarts, Joseph H. Choate, Mr. Charles C. Beaman, Mr. J. Evarts Tracy, Mr. Treadwell of Cleveland, Mr. Prescott Hall Butler, and myself.
Q. In the year 1895 were you—was your firm—professionally employed as counsel for the Lewisohns, or Lewisohn Brothers, in New York?
A. They were clients of the firm at that time.
Q. Do you recollect having any business with Lewisohn Brothers in that year in connection with the company known as the Baltimore Old Dominion Company?
A. I do.
Q. About what time in the year?
A. In June.
Q. What business—what came under your knowledge in that connection? What transactions did you take part in with the Messrs. Lewisohn, or either of them?

A. With respect only to the Baltimore Company?

Q. I refer to the Baltimore Company?

A. Personally I went over to Baltimore with Mr. Leonard Lewisohn to take over the control of the Baltimore Company, the stock of which had been acquired by him and his associates.

Q. Can you fix the date when you went over with Mr. Lewisohn?

A. I went over on the 19th of June, and was present in Baltimore on the 20th.

Q. Was there a meeting of the Baltimore Company at that time, on the 20th?

A. There was a meeting of the board of directors of the Baltimore Company on the 20th of June.

Q. At that time was the control taken in the interest of the Messrs. Lewisohn and their associates?

A. It was.

Q. Do you know whether or not, prior to that time, the Messrs. Lewisohn and their associates had acquired the capital stock of that company; and do you recollect what the division was in fractions of the amount they acquired, and the form of the interests they acquired?

A. I knew that they did acquire a certain interest from the Simpson estate and a certain interest from Mr. Keyser of Baltimore.

Q. Do you remember the ratio of the interests?

A. The Simpson estate, I recall, owned five sevenths, and Mr. Keyser two sevenths, of the Baltimore Company.

Q. Prior to going to Baltimore had you heard anything about any outside claims which were not vested in the Baltimore Old Dominion Company?

28 A. Yes, I had been informed that there were certain claims supposed to be in the interest of the Baltimore Company to which the Baltimore Company had not the title.

Q. Who had title to those claims?

A. William—I think his name was William—William Keyser.

Q. Had that property been acquired by the Lewisohns and others in their interest at the time you went over to Baltimore?

A. I should state that it had been acquired, but that the deed, as I recall, was given on the 20th of June; I am very sure of that.

Q. The contract or agreement with Mr. Keyser had been completed?

A. It had been completed before; and the deed was executed, I think, that day in Baltimore.

Q. The date of your going to Baltimore you fix as June 20. At or about that time had you in mind, or before going to Baltimore, the formation of any new company on behalf of Lewisohn Brothers?

Mr. McClennen: Just one moment. That particular question seems to be objectionable.

Sheldon, J.: I think I will have to receive it.

Q. [Question repeated.]

A. At or about that time.

Q. Are you able to fix the date?

Mr. McCLENNEN: Just a moment. He has not completed his answer.

The WITNESS: No, I had not finished. I had not, as I now recall, any knowledge of the formation of a company at the time I was employed to go over to Baltimore to take over this company. That is the best answer I can give.

Q. A letter has been put in evidence by the plaintiff, dated June 28, 1895, which reads as follows:

"C. C. BEAMAN, Esq., Messrs. Evarts, Choate & Beaman, 52 Wall Street.

DEAR SIR: We merely desire to confirm our messages both by wire and on the telephone this afternoon that Mr. Leonard Lewisohn would like to hear from you at your convenience whether it would be best to reorganize the Old Dominion Copper Company under the laws of Arizona or whether it would be more advantageous to do so under the laws of some other State.

Very truly yours,
LEWISOHN BROTHERS."

Now does that letter in any way refresh your mind as to when, if ever, the question of forming a new corporation arose?

A. What is the date of the letter?

29 Q. June 28, 1895.

A. I should say that I had information of the intention to form a new corporation after my visit to Baltimore and after the time of that letter; yes, that is my impression.

Q. Did you make any investigation into the laws of Arizona?

A. I did examine the laws of Arizona.

Q. What was the result of that investigation?

A. The result of that examination was that our clients were advised that there was no special advantage, in our opinion, in forming a corporation under the laws of the state of Arizona over that of forming a corporation under the laws of the state of New Jersey.

Q. Was it then contemplated to form a corporation under the laws of the state of New Jersey?

A. We were instructed to incorporate under the laws of the state of New Jersey after that.

Q. And for what amount of capital?

A. 150,000 shares at $25 each, equivalent to $3,750,000 capital.

Q. For what was capital to be issued?

A. For the property of the——

Mr. McCLENNEN: It appears definitely for what it was issued.

Mr. TREADWELL: Perhaps I will withdraw the question in that form.

Q. For what was that amount of capital fixed?

Mr. McCLENNEN: Again it seems that involves practically the same objection. What was done speaks for itself.

SHELDON, J.: What you wish for is what information he received from Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Lewisohn's associates, and the conclusions to which they came. If you desire to put that directly, you may.

Mr. TREADWELL: Well, that is what I am getting at. Of course, Mr. Lewisohn is dead and Mr. Beaman is dead.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The court rules you may ask it.

SHELDON J.: What took place between the witness, Mr. Lewisohn, Mr. Bigelow, and their associates?

The WITNESS: May I go on in my own way and state my instructions and what was done?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Certainly, if your way is within the rules of the court.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I should be glad to have Mr. Evarts do it in that way, if I may ask to have it stricken out if it is objectionable.

SHELDON, J.: I should not allow it to be stricken out if I allow it to be taken de bene, as the other testimony has been.

Mr. McCLENNEN: But the only way to save this de bene objection is by calling your Honor's attention.

SHELDON, J.: I realize that, and you may save it in that way.

The WITNESS: Our instructions were——

(By SHELDON, J.:)

Q. That is, instructions from Mr. Lewisohn?

A. From Mr. Lewisohn. If I may preface this, as it is taken in this way, as I have never been a witness before, and as I know the difficulties of being a witness—Mr. Beaman was the responsible counsel in charge of this matter. What I did, I did under instructions from Mr. Beaman and Mr. Lewisohn. And the instructions received were to form a corporation in New Jersey under the New Jersey law for the purpose of taking over from Mr. Lewisohn and his associates the properties relating to the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore which they had acquired, and the sum of $500,000 cash which was paid in for working capital.

(By Mr. TREADWELL:)

Q. Did those properties include not only the Baltimore Old Dominion Company of which they held title, but also the so-called Keyser claims?

A. They did.

Q. Was there any distinction made in those properties, or were they then considered as alike?

SHELDON, J.: You were to ask what was said.

Mr. TREADWELL: I will withdraw the question.

Q. Subsequently, and after the formation of that corporation, did you attend to the meetings and the organization?

A. I attended to all the detail work of organizing the corporation, of attending the corporation organization meeting and the subsequent meeting of July 11, when the book was written up and sent on to Boston; I also attended afterwards to the preparation of the deeds and other papers necessary to carry out the contracts which were made at those meetings.

Q. The minutes of the corporation which are in evidence show the holding of a meeting at 243 Washington street in Jersey City on the 9th day of July, 1895, and you were present at that meeting?

A. I was.

Q. The minutes of the meeting of July 11, which are in evidence, recite yourself as being present. That meeting appears to have been held at 81 Fulton street in the city of New York. You were present on that occasion?

A. I was.

Q. Mr. Montgomery appears to have been one of the directors at that meeting who was not then present. Who was Mr. Montgomery, or what was he at that time, as you remember?

A. He was a clerk in the office of my firm.

Q. Had he been notified by you to attend that meeting?

A. He had.

31 Q. Have you any recollection whether Mr. Bigelow was present at that meeting?

A. I think Mr. Bigelow was present, but I was not personally acquainted with Mr. Bigelow, and I could not at this late day swear to any independent recollection of his presence. I think he was there.

Q. And it is your present recollection that the statement in these minutes that he was present, and, being present, took his seat, was correct?

A. I have no doubt of it.

Q. At that time it is recited in these minutes that two offers were submitted. I hand you plaintiff's Exhibits 1 and 2, and ask whether they bear your signature?

A. Exhibit 2 is signed by me as secretary of the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore.

Q. In whose handwriting is the interlineation, or are the words written in, in the first blank, "one hundred thousand"?

A. The blank filled in with the words "one hundred thousand" is in my handwriting.

Q. And the blank filled in on the last line, the date?

A. The word "first" is in my handwriting.

Q. Referring to plaintiff's Exhibit No. 1, being the offer of the Keyser claims, state in whose handwriting the blanks, if any, are filled in, in there.

A. The blank filled in with the words "thirty thousand" is filled in by me, in my handwriting, and the date "11th" is in my handwriting.

Q. What can you say of the words "Please issue said stock, thirty thousand shares of stock, to Mr. A. S. Bigelow, and myself"?

A. Those words at the foot of the offer marked "Exhibit 1" were written by me.

Q. And signed by whom?

A. Signed by Mr. Leonard Lewisohn.

Q. Mr. Lewisohn was present on that day, was he not?

A. He was.

Q. You have stated that the entire property of the Baltimore

Old Dominion Company was to be turned over to the New Jersey corporation: for how much stock.—the entire property of the old company was to be turned over to the New Jersey company for how much of its stock?

A. I thought I had stated that: 130,000 shares. The stock of the company was to be 150,000 shares at $25. It was to receive the Baltimore Company's property and $500,000 cash from Mr. Lewisohn and his associates. That would make 130,000 shares for the Baltimore Company's property, and 20,000 shares for the cash.

Q. These properties seem to have been offered in two parcels: can you explain why those offers were made separately?

Mr. McCLENNEN: I wish to save an objection to this.

SHELDON, J.: This is taken de bene. Of course the question involves what was said between him and Mr. Lewisohn.

32 Mr. TREADWELL: Both their own ideas as counsel and the ideas of the parties.

SHELDON, J.: The ideas of counsel, so far as they were spoken to Mr. Lewisohn,—anything that was said to Mr. Lewisohn.

A. I cannot recall at this date exact conversations, but I had conferences with Mr. Beaman and with Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, at which this question of the Baltimore Company's properties was considered, and with reference to these two propositions. As the result of those conferences those two propositions were drawn by me and presented—executed and presented.

Q. Was the title at that time in such a position that it could have been transferred by the Baltimore Company?

SHELDON, J.: Do you care to put that question? It already appears that it had been in the Keysers and was now in the Lewisohns.

Mr. TREADWELL: I only wanted to cut out the possibility that it had been transferred. I did not want to leave any misunderstanding on that subject.

Q. How was the amount fixed in those offers as to the number of shares which each parcel was offered for?

A. It was an arbitrary division of the 130,000 shares.

Q. Were the properties known as the Keyser claims supposed to have absolute value at that time, or was there any doubt at that time as to their exact value?

A. I can only testify as to what I learned at those conferences between my partner and our client.

Q. That is all I am referring to.

A. The outlying properties, as I call them, the title to which was in Mr. Keyser, were then to us represented, or by Mr. Keyser, to be of little or no value, and were always represented to us, as I learned at that time, to be held by him for the beneficial interest of himself and the Simpson estate. They were turned over, as I think must appear, without any consideration further than the purchase of the stock, and were regarded by Mr. Lewisohn, by himself, and his associates, as a part of the acquisition of the property of the Baltimore Company. They were not admittedly, as I was informed at the time, of no value; they were old mining claims, I am sure, at least one, and mining claims, one that had not been worked for some years, and its real, actual value in any state uncertain, but they were regarded as one property. The titles, the legal titles, were in different hands. The Baltimore Company had title to this main property, and Mr. Lewisohn had acquired for himself and his associates the legal title from Mr. Keyser of the outlying property, all of which we were instructed to put into this corporation, and it was a 33 matter of indifference as to what valuations should be put upon them, but it was, as I have said, an arbitrary distribution of the amount of shares.

Q. Mr. Evarts, had you become interested or had you rather taken an interest in the so-called Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. Well, had I? I do not remember I had. Yes, I did have an interest before the company was—I don't know when—I did have a subscription to the syndicate.

Q. Do you remember the amount of that interest?

A. $2000.

Q. From whom did you take that interest?

A. From Leonard Lewisohn.

Q. At the time you took that interest was there any agreement made as to any particular profit that you were to receive therefrom?

A. No.

Q. Was anything said as to whether you should receive more or less stock therefrom?

A. No, nothing was said on that subject.

Q. How much stock did you ultimately receive?

A. Well, I suppose it was,—a $2000 interest, that was 40 shares,—I don't really remember.

[Recess until 2 p. m. and resumed.]

Q. I was asking you just before recess how many shares of stock you received under your agreement with Lewisohn Brothers?

A. 160 shares.

Q. Now, Mr. Evarts, I understand you to have testified that the Old Dominion Company of New Jersey, the present corporation,—that you were instructed to form the Old Dominion Company, the present corporation, with a capital of 150,000 shares or $3,750,000, all of which was to be issued to Lewisohn and Bigelow, for all the properties of the Old Dominion Company and $500,000 in cash.

Mr. McClennen: Just a moment. The witness' own version, I think should not be affected by such a leading form of question.

Mr. Treadwell: This is simply a preliminary question.

Sheldon, J.: I do not see how I can admit it, even as a preliminary question.

Q. Well, whom were you told were to pay that cash?

A. Mr. Lewisohn and Mr. Bigelow.

Q. What were you told they were to do?

A. I cannot remember the exact words, but I was told by Mr. Lewisohn that he and Mr. Bigelow would assume the obligation of that payment.

Cross-examined.

(By Mr. McCLENNEN:)

Q. It has appeared, Mr. Evarts, that the firm of Evarts, Choate & Beaman, or perhaps Mr. Beaman of that firm, had been consulted with reference to the option on this matter as early as or prior to the 4th of May, 1895, and in some various matters concerning it thereafter. What was the first part of the service of the firm that was performed by you, personally?

34

A. Going to Baltimore.

Q. How long before your going to Baltimore had the matter first been called to your attention as requiring any consideration by you?

A. Not at all. I assume you mean professional consideration, because I knew that Mr. Beaman was employed, but I was not called upon for any professional service.

Q. But prior to that time you may have known that that matter was in the office?

A. I may or may not; I presume I did.

Q. When you were asked to go to Baltimore, by whom specifically were you asked, if you recall?

A. By Mr. Beaman. I remember of being asked by Mrs. Beaman.

Q. Did you personally make the investigation or supervise the making of the investigation of the Arizona law, made in consequence of the letter of June 28?

A. I looked up the Arizona statutes and conferred with Mr. Beaman on the subject.

Q. Was that as the result of receiving that letter or of a conference with Mr. Beaman after he had received that letter?

A. Well, I do not remember, but I should suppose after conference with Mr. Beaman, but I have no independent recollection. I think the letter speaks something about telephonic communication, doesn't it? I don't remember.

SHELDON, J.: Previous communication by telephone.

Q. Have you any recollection or any means of being of assistance in determining whether this letter or telephonic conversation that that letter referred to was the first that had been said by Mr. Lewisohn with reference to the possibility of using Arizona as the state for incorporating?

A. No, I think not.

Q. Have you any recollection that would assist you in saying whether or not your investigations of the law of Arizona had, in fact, gone before or after that particular?

A. No. What was the date of it?

Q. June 28.

A. No, not absolutely. There is a circumstance which, perhaps, might fix it in my mind, if you want that.

Q. If you will refer to that circumstance and let me have your statement.

A. Well, it could not have been many days before; it must have been almost immediately before.

Q. Almost immediately before the 28th?

A. If it was not after, it must have been immediately before; I have a reason for fixing that.

Q. After you had completed the work of the Baltimore
35 meeting on June 20, do you recall whether there was anything pending requiring your personal attention?

A. I do not quite understand the purport of your question.

Q. I mean, do you recall when you had concluded the specific work of seeing that the transfer of June 20 was made properly in Baltimore; was there then anything for you to do in the matter?

A. No.

Q. Or did you then await further instructions?

A. I should say no, from the same circumstance.

Q. Do you recall whether or not you personally had heard of the question of the new corporation before the question of the Arizona law was called to your attention?

A. I do not recall.

Q. Do you keep a diary?

A. I keep a personal diary.

Q. Have you that handy?

A. I have not brought it here.

Q. Have you consulted it at all?

A. Yes, I have looked at it.

Q. Were you continuously in the office at about this time?

A. I found—is that what you want me to say?

Q. Yes, I want to find out just what your career was at that time.

A. I wanted to see if I could find anything. I do not keep a complete diary, by any means, but when I leave town I usually put it in. I found, on consulting this diary, that I left on the 19th for Baltimore on the 3:20 train and came back the next day at 5 o'clock, and that I went to Vermont the next day or the day following, and was there for about a week, so I did not get back to New York until about this time.

Q. Up to the time of your return from Vermont had your connection with the matter been such that the question of what was to be done next would naturally have come to your attention?

A. I don't know whether to say no or yes.

Q. [Question read.]

A. I should say no.

Q. Then, to put it in another form, is it accurate to say that, barring the one matter of attention to the Baltimore meeting, your first connection with this matter was with reference to the formation of a new corporation?

A. Yes, that is right.

Q. Was the division of labor in your office such that the formation of a corporation in Mr. Beaman's larger matters would have come to you personally to attend to?

A. It was.

Q. Have you in your office any papers relating to this matter?

A. I have.

Q. Have you consulted them recently?

A. I have.
Q. Have you brought them with you?
A. I have brought some.
Q. Is there among them any that sheds any light upon 36 the date when the subject of the reorganization of this company first came to the attention of the office?
A. Not any definite date.
Q. Have you the correspondence from Mr. Lewisohn to Mr. Beaman?
A. I have not looked at it. We have it in the office, but I have not looked it up in connection with this matter at all.
Q. What, in general, are the papers that you have inspected recently in connection with this matter?
A. Why, they are mostly drafts; there is scarcely anything else except drafts. There is a letter, I think that same letter that is here, I think I have that letter; there are one or two letters and the drafts of this incorporation and minutes.
Q. Did the subject of a corporation with a capital stock of $2,500,000 or 100,000 shares of $25 each ever come to your attention in connection with this matter?
A. $2,500,000?
Q. $2,500,000.
A. I think not.
Q. Who gave you the information as to who was to contribute the $500,000 cash?
A. Mr. Lewisohn and Mr. Beaman.
Q. Was it in conference?
A. It was in conference with them.
Q. Was your attention called to the fact that stock was to be put upon the market?
A. No.
Q. That stock of the new company was to be put upon the market?
A. No.
Q. You personally were not aware of the existence of the intention, if it did exist, of obtaining $500,000 from outsiders?
A. On the contrary, I understood it was not to be obtained from outsiders.
Q. That is, you acted at this time supposing or understanding that the corporation was to remain held by Mr. Lewisohn and Mr. Bigelow and his associates?
A. Not forever.
Q. Well, as far as anything——
A. As far as the formation was concerned, yes.
Q. As far as the formation was concerned?
A. Yes, I did so understand.
Q. You were not apprised of the intention to open or prepare a subscription list substantially immediately?
A. No, I understood that was not the intention. That was my understanding.
Q. You spoke of the property having been acquired by Mr. Lewi-sohn, Mr. Bigelow, and his associates—their associates, as I understood you?

A. No, I think I said Mr. Lewisohn and his associates. I was not personally acquainted with Mr. Bigelow at that time.

37 Q. Pardon me. Whom did you intend by the term "associates"?

A. I meant Mr. Bigelow, whom I had met at that time.

Q. Were you sufficiently informed of the details of the matter so that you knew that, as far as the payments had been made up to, we will say, the 1st of July, the major part of the money had been furnished by persons other than Mr. Lewisohn and Mr. Bigelow?

A. I did not know it.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is not in evidence, nor understood to be the fact.

SHELDON, J.: I think there is evidence from which that fact might be inferred, that the greater part of what money had been furnished had been furnished by others.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: Now I will put my question again, or if the stenographer will read it——

[Question read.]

Mr. MCCLENNEN: Perhaps I will reframe it. I did not understand there was any difference between us.

Q. Were you sufficiently familiar with the details of this matter to have been informed of the fact, if it was a fact, that up to the first of July such payments as had been made for this property had been with money the major part of which had been furnished by persons other than Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn?

A. I think not.

Q. Had you been informed by Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow, up to the 11th of July, that you were in fact acting as attorneys for the Old Dominion Syndicate, if such was the fact?

A. I do not recall.

Q. Did you have anything to do with the preparation of the bill for services in this matter rendered by Evarts, Choate & Beaman?

A. No, I don't think I ever saw it until within the last two or three days.

Q. Do you know whose was the selection of the name "Old Dominion Syndicate," as the person or combination of persons who were charged for your services?

A. I can only say it must have been Mr. Beaman.

Q. And Mr. Beaman's connection with the matter, as you have already indicated, was very much more intimate than your own?

A. Yes.

Q. Would it be a fair characterization of your connection with the matter to say that it was at all times confined to the carrying out of specific portions of the matter called to your attention by Mr. Beaman, either alone or in conjunction with Mr. Lewisohn?

A. It would, except so far as I might be called upon in carrying those out, to give some advice as to some detail.

38 Mr. MCCLENNEN: I am very much obliged to you.

Redirect examination.

(By Mr. TREADWELL:)

Q. One question, Mr. Evarts. Was the matter of the existence of the outside claims which Keyser held known to you when you went to Baltimore with Mr. Lewisohn?

A. Yes. The deed, I think, was executed there that day.

Q. Well, had the existence of those claims been discussed, or had the matter been brought to your attention, that there was an effort to get those claims into the ownership of Bigelow and Lewisohn?

A. Yes. I knew there were those claims. The deed, I think, was drawn by me, and executed in Baltimore on the 20th, if I am right in my recollection.

Q. The deeds from the Baltimore Old Dominion Company of the property that was sold: were they prepared by you?

A. The deeds from——

Q. The Baltimore Old Dominion Company.

A. To the new?

Q. Yes,

A. Yes.

Q. How long was it, if you remember, before they were completed?

A. Oh, it took some months. There was a great deal of detail work, and it took a great deal of time—I think December or January.

EDWARD C. PERKINS, sworn.

(By Mr. FARLEY:)

Q. Your full name is Edward C. Perkins?

A. Edward C. Perkins.

Q. You live in Milton?

A. In Milton.

Q. Your are a counsellor at law, practicing in Boston?

A. Yes.

Q. With an office in the Sears building?

A. In the Sears building.

Q. What, in 1895 and prior thereto and thereafter, was the general character of your practice?

A. Well, from the beginning, mainly, I began as a clerk and student with George S. Hale and afterwards was his partner, and his business was largely corporations. He was counsel for the Boston & Albany and for the Western Union here in Boston. Then, I was with him until 1879,—with General Walcott, we had a partnership; then I went to Colorado on account of my deafness. Before I went I was for two years attorney for the Bell Telephone Company at the beginning of their starting here, that is, their local attorney, not their patent attorney, but their local attorney. I gave that up and had to go West in the latter part of 1878. I was West for about five years; then I came back in 1883, and I took an office
39 in the spring of 1884 in the Sears building, and then the first practice that I had after that was that I was attorney for the Chicago, Burlington & Northern when that was organized, and

I was also attorney for the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy. Then after that I had a good many corporations, mainly those that Mr. Bigelow was president of, besides the two railroad corporations, so that my practice has been substantially, outside of trust matters, a corporation lawyer, as I have never been able to go to court on account of my deafness.

Q. Were you, in 1895, consulted about the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, the Old Dominion Copper Company of New Jersey?

A. Well, I was consulted about the Old Dominion Company, the one that was organized, I think, in New York, by Evarts, Choate & Beaman, if my memory serves me. I was local attorney here.

Mr. FARLEY: Now if you will produce that bill.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: It is not here.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Of course the original would be preferable to help a man's memory.

Mr. BRANDEIS: It will be here shortly.

Q. Do you recollect whether or not you sent a bill for services rendered to that company, or for that company?

A. Yes, I sent a bill for the year 1895.

Mr. FARLEY: Understanding that the original will be here later, I will ask him to refer to his letterpress copy.

Q. Have you a copy of that bill?

A. I have a press copy here in my book.

Q. Will you find it, please?

A. This is rendered the 1st of January, 1896, for the year from the 1st of January, 1895.

Mr. FARLEY: I will later call your Honor's attention to this, but merely state that is one of the plaintiff's exhibits, the original of which will be here.

SHELDON, J.: Yes. I think it was read.

Q. In connection with the matters for which this bill was rendered, were you consulted with regard to the status of certain stock; and, if so, by whom?

A. I was consulted by Mr. Nelson in regard to stock that stood in his name.

Q. And, if you recollect, about when?

A. I could not fix anything except by—in a very general way, it was during that year.

Q. Will you read from this copy of your bill the next to the last item?

A. "Consultation with Mr. Nelson in regard to stock standing in his name on the company's books and advice in regard thereto."

Q. Will you read the item preceding that?

40 A. "Consultation with Mr. Nelson and Mr. Bissell in regard to meeting of directors and meeting of stockholders in regard to what votes should be passed at such meeting and preparation of votes to be passed."

Q. As I understand, that bill was rendered January 1, 1896?
A. Yes. I will not swear it was turned in that day.
Q. But somewhere thereabouts?
A. It covered until that date.
Q. Now it appears from the records of the company that a meeting was held of the Old Dominion Copper Company's directors September 18, and that subsequent to that meeting a general approval of the stockholders of the company was appended to the records, and that the next meeting thereafter was not until November 24, 1897. Refreshing your recollection by referring to those records, and noticing that Thomas Nelson, "Treas." signed the approval of stockholders, can you state what Nelson consulted you about, what he said, and, so far as you can, what you advised?

Mr. McClennen: I object.
Sheldon, J.: This is taken de bene. Go on.

A. I can say this: I was consulted in a general way about all of the affairs of the company and prepared papers for them, and either drew or redrew by-laws; I do not remember whether I drew the original set or whether they were afterwards changed by me. Mr. Nelson consulted me about stock standing in his name as treasurer, and he told me that that was not treasury of the Old Dominion Company, and on that I advised him that he could vote it.
Q. Did he state anything further in regard to the stock?
A. Not that I can remember. He did say that it was not treasury stock of the Old Dominion Company, and on that I told him he could vote it. It was held by him as an outside party, just as if he had been treasurer of the Boston & Albany Railroad, or anything else.
Q. Well, beyond that, do you remember whether he stated anything as to whether or not the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company had any interest in the stock?
A. He said it was distinctly outside of the Old Dominion Company.
Q. Was it on that statement of Mr. Nelson's that you based the advice?
A. Certainly.
Q. Now if you will again state what that advice was?
A. My advice was to him that he could vote that stock, as it did not belong to the Old Dominion Company, but that if it was Old Dominion Company's stock, and stood in his name as treasurer, then they could not vote it. That is, that an officer could not vote treasury stock.
Q. Was it pursuant to that advice, if you know, that these records were made?
41 A. I have not a shadow of doubt, although I will not say I remember absolutely, but seeing them here and knowing from our bill that this whole thing was prepared by me, supervised from the beginning, because my bill shows a charge for it.
Q. Will you now read the last paragraph of those records aloud, and see if that further refreshes your recollection?

A. "The undersigned stockholders of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company do hereby approve the action of the directors shown by the above record of meeting held on the 18th day of September, 1895: Leonard Lewisohn, A. S. Bigelow, Thomas Nelson, Philip A. Dumaresq." No, it does not refresh it in any way.

Q. Do you know who Leonard Lewisohn was?

A. Yes, very well.

Q. Who was he?

A. He was a New York merchant who dealt very largely in coppers of all kinds. I met him a good many times.

Q. Had he, if you know, been associated with Mr. Bigelow?

A. Oh, yes, I had seen him with Mr. Bigelow, and they called me down when Mr. Lewisohn — there about several things.

Q. Mr. Bigelow, as you understand, is president of different companies?

A. Yes, I am told so.

Q. Thomas Nelson, did you know?

A. I knew him very well indeed.

Q. And Mr. Dumaresq?

A. Yes, for fifty years.

Q. Who was Mr. Dumaresq?

A. Who was he? He was the son-in-law of Captain——

Q. No, I mean what was his position with Mr. Bigelow?

A. That I would not say from memory, but he was transfer agent for a good many of the companies for a long time; I would not say from memory whether he was at that time particularly. The way he came into it at first was because he was a connection of Tom Nelson's.

Q. Mr. Perkins, it appears by the stub of certificate No. 73, which was a certificate issued to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, for 20,000 shares, as expressed by the stub, that that was for the vote of the syndicate?

A. Yes.

Q. Will you state whether or not that was in accordance with what Mr. Nelson told you?

[Objected to.]

A. That I cannot say.

SHELDON, J.: I do not think I could take it even to put it on the record.

Mr. FARLEY: In that case I think I will ask no more questions.

Q. Have you that bill yet?

Mr. BRANDEIS: No, it has not come.

42 Cross-examination.

(By Mr. McCLENNEN:)

Q. Have you any way of stating, Mr. Perkins, when this conversation with Mr. Nelson occurred?

A. No, there was no conversation.
Q. Have you any way of stating when the particular interview curred in which he told you that he did not hold that stock in his me as treasurer of the company?
A. You mean the date?
Q. Yes.
A. No, not the slightest.
Q. Could you by reference to these records in any way fix the te on which that conversation took place?
A. I could not any more than I see the date of the record, that all. I could say it was probably some time before that.
Q. That is, it was before the meeting at which those votes were be passed that you gave him this advice?
A. Let me understand what meeting it is. Yes, probably where e by-laws came in; yes, because I prepared the by-laws.
Q. It was in connection with preparing those by-laws that you d this conversation?
A. No, sir; I had general consultation about all that kind of thing, pecially about that one particular thing of the stock. I remem-r that, you see. That stood "treasurer," and that brought up the estion because I had an opinion that he could not vote the treasury ck if it belonged to the company. That brought up the whole scussion.
Q. Was this discussion as to his right to vote treasury stock at e time that you were discussing the passing of these new by-laws?
A. Well, probably that went over lots of days. I didn't make by-ws in an hour. We were at this thing for days.
Q. What was the vote which you advised him that he could vote on if he did not hold for the company, and could not vote upon if e did hold for the company?
A. Any vote that was presented.
Q. Do you now recall what votes were under consideration?
A. Nothing more than by reference back to the things; I see what there.
Q. Well, will you read through those records, beginning, if you ease, with the record of the meeting of the 11th of July, and going rough all those of September?
A. Read them to myself?
Q. Read them to yourself, if you will.
A. Is this the one?
Q. This is the meeting of July 11. If you will, read that and e one of July 24 and the one of September 18 that run along to-ether, and see if they will refresh your recollection as to the votes out which there was a question.
A. You don't want me to read this schedule of mining properties t in the West, do you?
Q. I don't think that would do you any good at all.
A. [Having perused the record.] No I don't. My advice was simply that he could vote that stock like any other stock-holder; that is all.
Q. And that reading of the record does not enable you to state when that advice was given, on what particular vote, or anything else?

A. He simply wanted to know if he could vote that stock, and he had told me it was not the property of the Old Dominion Company; and I said certainly he could vote it, as any other stockholder could.

Q. Do you recall anything about how much stock there was standing in his name at the time of this advice?

A. No, I could not remember that from memory at all, only that there was stock standing in his name as treasurer, and he explained the matter to me that it was not as treasurer of that company. Dealing, as I was, with that question all the time with corporations, I had told them, time and again, they could not vote treasury stock; and that brought up the question instantly.

Q. Did you inspect the records at the time you gave him that advice?

A. The previous records? I cannot say.

Q. Were you aware whether or not, at the time of that advice, the corporation had passed any vote authorizing the issue of any stock to Thomas Nelson?

A. I cannot say; my memory will not let me.

Mr. FARLEY: At what time?

Mr. MCCLENNEN: At the time that he gave that advice.

Q. Was this a directors' or a stockholders' meeting about which he was asking your advice?

A. He was not asking specially about any meeting; he was asking my advice all along the line. These by-laws and everything were coming up all the time; we were weeks on it.

Q. Was there more than one occasion on which he asked your advice on this particular subject?

A. That I could not answer you certainly, but I think so.

Q. You think there was more than one?

A. I think so. I talked it over with him; I talked with him—I think with Mr. Bigelow; I think also with Mr. Bigelow, but I am not absolutely certain.

Q. And on each of those occasions he informed you that this stock stood in his name as treasurer?

A. I don't think he took the trouble to tell me that; he told me once, and he thought I would understand.

Q. I am trying to get it as specifically as I can.

A. Of course it was twelve years ago and what not; and as for dates, I do not pretend to remember them. I know I looked over my office papers I have got, and things come back to me; and I remember it distinctly, because it was a curious case, that I advised him to vote stock which apparently stood in his name as treasurer.

44 Q. He was treasurer of a number of Mr. Bigelow's companies?

A. Oh, lots of companies.

Q. And held stock in his name as treasurer in those various companies?

A. I do not remember.

Q. You don't know about that?

A. No, I don't remember whether he did or not. Whether he owned any treasury stock or not, I do not know.

Q. And the curious thing about that case at that time was that stock standing in the name of a man as treasurer on the books of the company should not belong to the company?

A. Not on the books of the company; I did not say that. When I saw the certificate of the treasurer I inquired, I think, of Bissell first, and then I talked with Nelson, and I was informed that it was not treasury stock of the Old Dominion; that the Old Dominion had nothing to do with it.

Q. Would this certificate No. 73 bring back anything to your mind?

A. Not the slightest; not the remotest.

Q. But when he advised with you there was a certificate already in his name?

A. That is my impression.

Q. Then would the fact that the certificate is dated the 18th of September, and that the stock went out of his name on the 19th of September, assist you at all in fixing the time of the conference?

A. No; the stock must have been, the certificate must have been made out. I cannot remember about that.

Q. Then I think I misunderstood you on that. Didn't you say that he showed you the certificate?

A. I don't know that. I said he told me he had stock. He may have showed me a certificate. I don't think I said anything of that kind, because I am not intending to tie myself down to that statement. I understood he had stock simply in his name as treasurer.

Q. You were counsel for Mr. Nelson in other companies, were you?

A. Yes, I was acting for most all of the companies at that time.

Q. Acting for Mr. Bigelow?

A. Well, Mr. Bigelow was president and Mr. Nelson was treasurer. I was acting for most of the companies.

(By Mr. FARLEY:)

Q. Have you any doubt, in spite of the fact that Mr. Nelson consulted you on other matters and so forth, that this advice for which you have charged, about which you have testified, was in relation to the Old Dominion Copper Company?

A. No, not the slightest.

58 Deposition of Cleveland H. Dodge.

Mr. FARLEY: I will read the deposition of Cleveland H. Dodge, taken in behalf of the defendant, under the same conditions as the others [reading down to the first objection].

Mr. MCCLENNEN: We should like to save an objection from now on.

SHELDON, J.: Very well, the rest of the deposition is taken de bene.

[Mr. Farley finished reading the deposition.]

Deposition of Joseph F. Costello.

Mr. FARLEY: This is another deposition taken on behalf of the defendant, pursuant to the same stipulation and agreement [reading down to the first quotation].

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I should like to make objection to the admission of these articles from the "News Bureau."

SHELDON, J.: I think I ought to follow the usual course, Mr. McClennen. They are all spread out on the deposition. If I exclude them, in case of an appeal they might not go up. I think it is better I should receive them de bene as I have the rest, even if it does protract the hearing.

Mr. FARLEY: Mr. Hemenway suggests that the evidence is offered for the purpose of showing the publicity of this transaction.

SHELDON, J.: It does not make any difference what the purpose is.

[Mr. Farley completed the reading of the deposition.]

Deposition of Thomas H. O'Neil.

Mr. FARLEY: I will read the deposition of Thomas H. O'Neil, taken under the same conditions.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I would like to save the same objection.

SHELDON, J.: This is taken de bene.

Mr. FARLEY: This evidence is offered simply for the sake of showing the publicity of the transaction [reading the deposition].

Mr. HEMENWAY: Does that complete the reading of the testimony that was taken?

Mr. MCCLENNEN: Yes, I believe that is everything.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Of course I could not check it off.

59 Statutes and Citations.

Mr. TREADWELL: We offer in evidence the record of the Court of Appeals in the state of New York in the case of Blum v. Whitney et al., which may be found reported on page 232, volume 185, of the New York reports, together with the printed copy of the papers on appeal.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I do not think it is necessary to go into those.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I object generally to the New York law.

SHELDON, J.: The New York law is taken de bene.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I had supposed, anyway, that the particular record of a case that is not carried forward into the printed reports was in no way admissible. I should like to make further objection to that.

Mr. HEMENWAY: It is my impression that the record of a case may be read, any part that is admissible, in order to understand the opinion.

SHELDON, J.: The record of a case, so far as reported in the volume of reports, is competent, of course. I suppose a printed copy of the papers of appeal does not go in, but it may be put in de bene.

Mr. TREADWELL: There is a printed report of the Circuit Court of Appeals in many of the large libraries of the various states, which contains the whole record of the decision, and that is sent out by the Court of Appeals, and in that form I have cited it on my brief. But we have here for convenience what I have offered, a printed copy of the record which I happened to have, and which I assumed the other side would permit the use of for the purpose of saving the trouble of going to the volume.

SHELDON, J.: And as that is not available, as I understand it, in any law library, it had better be marked as an exhibit.

Mr. TREADWELL: I think it is available. There is certainly one in New York, one at Washington, and, I think, one in Boston.

SHELDON, J.: I think it will be safer to put it in. If I have to pass upon the law I shall want everything there is put in evidence.

Mr. TREADWELL: I will state, if I may, that there were no questions of fact. It went up to the Court of Appeals purely on questions of law.

SHELDON, J.: Well, you may have it marked as an exhibit if you desire.

[The pamphlet "Papers on Appeal," in Blum v. Whitney et al., was marked "Exhibit 501, Nov. 13, 1907, G. C. B."]

Mr. TREADWELL: I wish also to offer in evidence the two cases in the federal court for the circuit of New York——

60 SHELDON, J.: Are those, being under the law of New York, admissible under our statutes?

Mr. TREADWELL: We contend that as adjudications in New York they are admissible.

SHELDON, J.: It is a foreign court, of course.

Mr. FARLEY: Just as to their effect upon the determination we make no contention; as to the fact that they do represent the law in that jurisdiction, whatever its effect——

SHELDON, J.: Well, they may come in de bene; the two cases being——

Mr. TREADWELL: Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. v. Lewisohn, in the 148th Federal Reporter, 136, one being the case in the Circuit Court and the other being the case on appeal.

SHELDON, J.: May I consider it agreed, as stated by the plaintiff, that an appeal from the last decision is now pending at Washington?

Mr. TREADWELL: Not an appeal, but a certiorari.

Mr. FARLEY: I would also offer—I will not put in the volumes—

McCracken v. Robinson, 57 Fed. Rep. 375.

Barr et al. v. N. Y. & C. R. R., 125 N. Y. 263.

Seymour v. Spring Forest Assoc., 144 N. Y. 333.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Our evidence is somewhat more brief than we expected. We expected to occupy the time until adjournment. It is possible that in the morning I may want to put on another witness.

SHELDON, J.: Have you any other witness here, or any other testimony?

Mr. HEMENWAY: No, your Honor.

SHELDON, J.: Will there be anything in rebuttal?

Mr. MCCLENNEN: There are two or three things we can put right in now without asking Mr. Hemenway to rest.

SHELDON, J.: Very well.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I should like to put in evidence, without waiving my objection to the New York law, the following:—

Gettey v. Devlin, 54 N. Y. 403.
Brewster v. Hatch, 122 N. Y. 349.
Sage v. Culver, 147 N. Y. 241.
Coulton Improvement Co. v. Richter, 55 N. Y. Supp. 486.

61 SHELDON, J.: That, I suppose, might be open to the same objection as some of the other citations put in.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I had assumed that the decision of any court of the state of New York, however inferior in character, was admissible——

SHELDON, J.: Well, that may be.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: —and that the objection went merely to its weight rather than to its admissibility. But I did think the federal decisions were not admissible in any respect.

SHELDON, J.: I must confess my own opinion is that a decision of the federal court, it being entirely a foreign court, is not competent, but I prefer to take them de bene.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I should like to offer from the files of the Old Dominion Company a letter from C. W. Barron to Thomas Nelson, dated October 22, 1895.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Note my exception.

SHELDON, J.: It is taken de bene.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: [Reading:]

"C. W. Barron, Manager Boston News Bureau, 13 Exchange Place, P. O. Box 231.

BOSTON, Oct. 22, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Sears Building, Boston.

MY DEAR MR. NELSON: Can you not arrange in the matter of my Old Dominion subscription now? I want to put those 80 shares away in the bottom of a new security box and see what will grow atop of it.

Very truly yours,

C. W. BARRON.

[In pencil:]

Bigelow	10 shares
Nelson	10 shares
Luce	10 shares
Coram	10 shares
	40 shares

C. T. F. 40 shares mailed Barron Jan. 20, 1896."

62 I should also like to have the fact appear in evidence, which shows entirely from an inspection of the files, that the file from which letters appear removed, as stated in the correspondence of Mr. Altmiller and Mr. Bigelow, is the file of 1895, terminating with January 6, 1896, or thereabouts; and that letter to Mr. Barron, although dated October 22, 1895, appears in the file of 1896, between a letter of January 15 and a letter of January 20, 1896. I think it has already appeared to your Honor that other 40 shares came out of the treasury, making up the 80.

Mr. FARLEY: If your Honor please, that 40 shares which Mr. McClennen says came out of the treasury, came out of the much-discussed stock which we contend did not come out of the treasury, and we do not wish to accede to his statement.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: From the transfer book of the company I will offer transfer No. 352 which shows a transfer on January 11, 1896, by J. A. Coram to C. W. Barron of 10 shares.

SHELDON, J.: This is also taken de bene.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: Transfer No. 353, a transfer by Thomas Nelson to C. W. Barron, January 11, 1896, of 10 shares; transfer No. 354, a transfer by A. S. Bigelow to C. W. Barron of 10 shares, January 11, 1906; transfer No. 351, a transfer by Matthew Luce on January 11, 1896, to C. W. Barron of 10 shares. It appears from the margin of these transfers that the 40 shares made up from those four are in the certificate No. 573. The 40 shares that were referred to as coming from the treasury, to be more specific, were in certificate 93, September 19, 1895, coming out of certificate No. 73 of Thomas Nelson, treasurer.

I think that is all we have at the moment to fill up the time.

SHELDON, J.: Well, you ought not to be called upon to rest, of course, until the defendant does, and the defendant has in mind one more witness. Well, I think I can let you go now, gentlemen, and as I have two habeas corpus cases assigned for to-morrow morning, which of course you will not be interested in, I will not hold any of you until half past 10 o'clock to-morrow forenoon.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The case will be argued at that time?

SHELDON, J.: You will be ready, will you not? The testimony so much of it has been in writing that you are all familiar with it.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I can see no better time than while the testimony is fresh in your Honor's mind.

SHELDON, J.: It will be of material assistance to me now to hear the arguments, of course. We will commence the case, and if we can we will finish it to-morrow.

[Adjourned to Thursday, November 14, 1907.]

THURSDAY, November 14, 1907.

SHELDON, J.: I suppose, Mr. Hemenway, if you have further evidence, that would come first.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I will simply put in the statute of New Jersey, the corporation act of 1875, par. 55 of section 4; also the Public Laws of 1889, p. 414, and Public Laws of 1893, p. 444. I do not think it is necessary to read that. It is simply that stock issued for property purchased shall so state on the certificate, and for cash if it is for cash.

Mr. TREADWELL: Those two sections were the law in force just before the incorporation in 1895.

SHELDON, J.: If you have the statutes here, Mr. Hemenway, perhaps you had better read them.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Mr. Farley has them.

Mr. TREADWELL: I have a copy here of one of the sections, if your Honor please.

SHELDON, J.: Of the act of 1895?

Mr. TREADWELL: Yes. It reads—

"That section fifty-five of the same act be and hereby is amended so as to read as follows:

"55. And be it enacted, That the directors of any company incorporated under this act may purchase mines, manufactories, or other property necessary for their business, or the stock of any company or companies owning, mining, manufacturing or producing materials or other property necessary for their business and issue stock to the amount of the value thereof in payment therefor, and the stock so issued shall be declared and be taken to be full paid stock and not liable to any further call, neither shall the holder thereof be liable for any further payment under any of the provisions of this act; and said stock shall have legibly stamped upon the face thereof 'issued for property purchased' and in all statements and reports of the company to be published, this stock shall not be stated, &c., reported as being issued for cash paid into the company, but shall be reported in this respect according to the fact."

Then came the following section that operated and applied only where straight stock was issued, then the section applying where there was stock and cash paid for property. In that case it was not required to be stamped, but was considered as full payment for property.

64 I do not like to have your Honor take my statement, but I presume it will be conceded by the other side that Mr. C. C. Beaman was dead before this suit was begun.

SHELDON, J.: That is agreed?

Mr. BRANDEIS: Yes.

Mr. TREADWELL: Relative to Mr. Evarts' testimony, I do not know exactly what the statute is in this state. The statute with us is that counsel cannot testify as to communications from his clients unless and after a deliberate waiver by the client; and if that may be considered to be any objection——

SHELDON, J.: There is no such statute in this state. Mr. Evarts was called and testified.

Mr. HEMENWAY: If your Honor please, one moment. As I stated, the matter has nothing to do with the evidence here, but inasmuch as the evidence is to be used in New York, he thought it would be safer to put in a waiver.

SHELDON, J.: Well, you may do it.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The stipulation, if your Honor please, I understand is confined to depositions taken out of court.

Mr. TREADWELL: I understand it extends to all the testimony here given.

SHELDON, J.: In this case, Mr. Evarts having been called by the party in whose interest he acted in this suit, I should have held, if the occasion had arisen, that Mr. Bigelow could not object to Mr. Evarts testifying as fully as the other side might desire on cross-examination. Of course in this case no such question could have arisen. The mere calling of him by Mr. Bigelow, so far as Mr. Bigelow could have made that objection, was a waiver of any such objection.

Mr. TREADWELL: Under the stipulation I understand the testimony which is adduced here can be filed and stipulated into the record in the federal court in the case against Lewisohn, therefore I thought a waiver as far as that is concerned might be made.

SHELDON, J.: You can file such a waiver. I thought perhaps a statement would be sufficient.

That closes the testimony for the defence?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Yes.

SHELDON, J.: Have you anything further, Mr. McClennen?

Mr. McCLENNEN: I want to add one of the New York cases I did not mention yesterday, namely, Campbell v. Cypress Hills Cemetery Co., 41 N. Y. 34. That is the only further testimony.

65 SHELDON, J.: This closes, then, the testimony.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Now, if your Honor please, the testimony being closed, I move you, with respect to each one of the pieces of evidence, interrogatories and answers that have been introduced over our objection, and admitted de bene, be stricken out.

SHELDON, J.: Well, you may minute the fact that the request is made——

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendant makes a like motion.

SHELDON, J.:—and that the defendant makes a like motion, and that each motion is denied.

Mr. McCLENNEN: We save our exception.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Yes, and we save an exception.

[Mr. McClennen handed up requests for rulings.]

SHELDON, J.: You have considered, I suppose, whether you want to make regular requests for rulings? As, in case of appeal, the whole case will go up on appeal, you might be found to have hampered yourselves, perhaps. But you have considered that?

Mr. McCLENNEN: I have considered that.

SHELDON, J.: And as Mr. McClennen has spoken of the length of the argument, although I had not intended to do so, I ought to ask, before you begin the arguments, whether you are content with the usual time of an hour apiece?

Mr. HEMENWAY: I shall ask to have my time extended.

SHELDON, J.: What time do you think you would like?

Mr. HEMENWAY: A reasonable length of time.

SHELDON, J.: Well, there is certainly a good deal of ground to cover, and I think that while I will not give you unlimited time for argument on each side, I will not feel myself called upon to interfere unless I think I ought to. In view of that, do you wish to look over these requests of the plaintiff before argument, Mr. Hemenway?

Mr. HEMENWAY: If your Honor please, it would take some little time to look them over as to the findings. I think we could more profitably spend the time in making my argument, and then subsequently let me except to them, or except to them now without reading.

SHELDON, J.: Well, I will allow either one of you, if you desire, as to whatever rulings I make, to save an exception. But whether you would not prefer to save all your rights, whatever my findings may be, would be for the full court to consider. I do not want to restrict your rights on either side at all. You can proceed, then, with the argument, Mr. Hemenway.

[Arguments omitted.]

Stipulation.

In the above-entitled cases it is stipulated and agreed that copies, duly certified by the notaries before whom they were taken, of the testimony hereinafter set out, and the exhibits thereto, taken in the above-entitled cases or in the case of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company v. Lewisohn, pending in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, may be filed in the above-entitled cases by either party at any time before the hearing, and may be read and used as evidence in these cases; reserving, however, to each party all rights to object to the relevancy, competency, and materiality of any of said depositions or documents, and to any interrogatories or answers therein contained, and reserving the right of the respondent to cross-examine. Signatures waived.

68 Circuit Court of the United States, Southern District of New York.

No. 1.

OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING AND SMELTING CO.
v.
FREDERICK LEWISOHN et al.

Taken before Howland Twombly, Esq., Notary Public, at 220 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass., March 24 et seq., 1903.

Appearances:

Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., for the Plaintiff.
Edward Lauterbach, Esq., Alfred Hemenway, Esq., for Defendants.
George C. Durpee, Stenographer.

Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
220 DEVONSHIRE ST.,
BOSTON, March 24, 1903.

Deposition of Albert S. Bigelow.

ALBERT S. BIGELOW, Esq., being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by L. D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. State your full name, age, residence, and occupation.
A. Albert S. Bigelow; fifty-seven years old; president of mining companies; residence in Cohasset, Mass.

Q. 2. State how long prior to April 30, 1895, you first considered purchasing an interest in the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City.

A. I could not say.

Q. 3. Have you the original option given by the Simpson estate to J. M. Meredith, for the purchase of their stock in the 69 Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, which option was dated April 30, 1895, as stated in your answer in the suit of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company v. A. S. Bigelow in the Supreme Judicial Court for the county of Suffolk? (A copy produced.)

Mr. LAUTERBACH: It is my impression that I have the original option in my possession. The copy now produced by the witness is admitted, subject to possible correction; if the original is in my possession, it may be inspected by plaintiff's counsel and substituted, if desired.

[Copy of option from Simpson estate to Meredith, dated April 30, 1895, marked "Exhibit 1, G. C. B., March 24, 1903."]

Q. 4. What communication did you have with Leonard Lewisohn concerning this option of April 30, 1895, before that date?

A. It is impossible for me to remember.

Q. 5. Do you have any recollection of any communication with Mr. Lewisohn?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I want to note an objection that, Mr. Leonard Lewisohn being deceased, any conversation with him is not admissible under our New York statute.

A. Do you mean with respect to my getting an interest in it?

Q. 6. In respect to that, yes, partly.

A. Well, so far as I can remember, the first thing I heard of it was through the telephone from Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, in which he said that he would give me half of this option that he had secured on the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City on the shares of the Simpson estate.

Q. 7. Did not you have some communication with Mr. Lewisohn or with Mr. Meredith before any option had been secured at all?

A. I do not remember whether I did or not; it was probably before; I should think so; it would be before the option was secured.

Q. 8. Did not Mr. Lewisohn talk with you about having Mr. Meredith get an option?

A. Not that I remember.

Q. 9. Did not Mr. Lewisohn talk with you about that fact that Mr. Meredith was going to try to get an option?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: My objection applies to all conversations with Lewisohn.

A. It is impossible for me to remember so far back.

Q. 10. Will you examine your letter book, "Letters to," and see whether there is not, prior to April 30, 1895, some letter-press copy to Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers, or some one connected with that concern, or to you from Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers, to you or Mr. Hyams, some letter or telegram relating to the proposed option on the Simpson stock in the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City?

70 A. I have looked these all through myself; so I have put my marks in, and I know how far back they go. The first letter I find is dated May 16, I think [shown to Mr. Brandeis]. Shall I read it?

Q. 11. No; if you will not read that just at present, we will come to it a little later. That is the first letter from you to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn or to Lewisohn Brothers?

A. That is the first.

Q. 12. Now what is the date of the earliest letter which you received from Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers, or any one connected with them, in relation to this matter?

A. May 15.

Q. 13. Do you not recall that, prior to the obtaining of this option on April 30, 1895, Mr. J. Morris Meredith came into your office and telephoned from your office to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn relating to this proposed purchase?

A. It would be impossible for me to recall anything like that.

Q. 14. How soon after April 30, 1895, did you have any communication with Leonard Lewisohn regarding that option?

A. It is impossible for me to say.

Q. 15. Have you in your possession the revised option, dated May 4, 1895, from the Simpson estate to J. Morris Meredith for the purchase of the Simpson stock in the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City?

A. [Copy produced; original will be exhibited.]

Mr. LAUTERBACH: It is my impression that I have the original in my possession. The copy now produced by the witness is admitted, subject to possible correction; if the original is in my possession, it may be inspected by plaintiff's counsel, if desired.

[Copy of revised option, dated May 4, 1895, marked "Exhibit 2, G. C. B., March 24, 1903."]

Q. 16. Do you recall whether you had any communication with Leonard Lewisohn in regard to the proposed purchase of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City before this revised option of May 4 was executed?

A. I could not recall that.

Q. 17. Have you any recollection of being in New York at the time this revised option was drawn up?

A. I do not think I was there.

Q. 18. You have no recollection whatever about it?

A. No, sir.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I understand my objection is intended to cover all this, and that it will be fully entered.

Mr. BRANDEIS: When we get through you can dictate the objection in exact form, so that the stenographer will have it.

71 Q. 19. What is the earliest date that you can recall as to your agreement with Leonard Lewisohn to take the half interest in the option for the purchase of the stock of the Simpson estate in the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City?

A. I shall have to refer to my letter from Mr. Leonard Lewisohn of May 15. Shall I read the letter?

Q. 20. Yes.

A. This was addressed to me:

"DEAR SIR: Enclosed please find statement. I suppose you understand I paid Mr. Meredith two thousand dollars for the option on the Old Dominion property. At your convenience at any time, will you kindly send us your half, as I understand you are going to take a half interest in this matter. Yours truly."

Q. 21. I would like to ask this question before we leave the option of May 4: Will you state in whose handwriting the memorandum in pencil at the bottom of the copy of the May 4 option is: "Are any contracts out with Keyser for selling, smelting, refining, or other contracts; are any liabilities, mortgages, liens, etc., against the company? Want twenty days instead of fourteen."

A. I cannot make out. I do not know whose writing it is. It looks like Leonard Lewisohn's writing; I think it is Leonard Lewisohn's writing.

Q. 22. Have you the statement enclosed in Mr. Lewisohn's letter of May 15, 1895?

A. I am sure I don't know. I have been unable to find it.

Q. 23. Have you any recollection of what the statement was?

A. I have not any recollection except that I received it; that is all. If you will hear this letter, I will read this letter to Leonard Lewisohn, May 16:

"Herewith find my check for $1000, being one-half of the $2000 which you paid to Mr. Meredith for the option on the Old Dominion property. Your understanding that I am going to take a one-half interest in the matter is correct. Please receipt your statement and return it to

Yours very truly."

Q. 24. But you have no recollection as to what statement it was?

A. No.

Q. 25. What, at that time, was the relation of Mr. Godfrey M Hyams to you and Mr. Lewisohn; what business relation?

A. The same as it is now.

Q. 26. State what it was please.

A. Well, I do not know; it is impossible for me to say.

Q. 17. Will you state?

A. He never had a title, I might say; he acted as consulting engineer.

72 Q. 28. And what else?

A. Well, I don't know.

Q. 29. Secretary?

A. Private secretary? Almost everything.

Q. 30. I asked whether he was private secretary?

A. No.

Q. 31. If you will, state as fully as you can what Mr. Hyams' duties were. I want to have it appear what his relations were to you at that time. Just state it in your own way.

A. He was in our employ, by the different companies.

Q. 32. What were his relations to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers?

A. I do not know of any, beyond that of being a friend.

Q. 33. What was the relation to the companies which you were then managing of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Lewisohn Brothers acted as our selling agents.

Q. 34. And were largely interested as stockholders in the companies?

A. Yes.

Q. 35. And as officers?

A. In some of the companies.

Q. 36. In which companies were you and Leonard Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, both interested as stockholders and officers?

A. You mean back at that time?

Q. 37. At that time.

A. Tamarack, Osceola,—I am not sure that Mr. Lewisohn was director in these companies at that time, he was not director in all of them, at any rate,—Boston & Montana, Butte & Boston; I believe that is all.

Q. 38. Merced?

A. I do not think he had any official relations with that company.

Q. 39. Lewisohn Brothers were the selling agents?

A. No, sir, not of that company.

Mr. SMITH: That is a gold company.

The WITNESS: It did not need any selling agent.

Q. 40. As a matter of fact, Mr. Hyams went, at your request and at the request of Leonard Lewisohn, to examine this Old Dominion property shortly after the option was obtained?

A. Do you put that as a question? Yes, sir.

Q. 41. Are you able to fix the date when Mr. Hyams left Boston to make that investigation?

A. No, sir.

Q. 42. Have you not some letters to Mr. Hyams relating to this matter which will enable you to refresh your recollection in this respect?

A. No, I have not.

Q. 43. Have you with you the letter-press copy book which would contain any letters addressed to Mr. Hyams on this subject, assuming that there were such, after he left Boston?

A. Yes. These are the only books that I have here.

Q. 44. Have you made search in that book to see whether there was any letter written to Mr. Hymans about that time?

A. I have.

73 Q. 45. During what period has your search covered?

A. I have really looked through this whole book. It begins May 29, 1893, and the last date is October, 1896.

Q. 46. How is that letter book designated?

A. "A. S. B., Private."

Q. 47. Is there not some other letter book covering the period of April and May, 1895, which may contain letters from you to Mr. Hyams or to Mr. Lewisohn?

A. [Referring to another letter-press book.] This book is designated "A. S. B."

Q. 48. What period does that cover?

A. 1892, to February, 1897.

Q. 49. Have you examined that book also to see whether there is any letter to Mr. Hyams in April or May?

A. Yes, sir, I have.

Q. 50. What is the earliest letter that you find there?

A. There is not any.

Q. 51. None whatever?

A. None that I know of. I do not find any.

Q. 52. You had, in May, 1895, certain interests in Great Falls, Mont., did you not?

A. At what time?

Q. 53. In May, 1895.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 54. And, assuming that Mr. Hyams was at Great Falls, Mont., in May, 1895, in what letter book would copies of letters to him be contained?

A. They would doubtless be in the companies' letter books.

Q. 55. The Great Falls Manufacturing Company?

A. There was no manufacturing company. The Boston & Montana did its smelting.

Q. 56. Is that book in your possession?

A. No, sir.

Q. 57. Is the letter of May 15, 1895, from Leonard Lewisohn, which you have read, the earliest letter or written communication of any kind from any person relating to the acquisition of the option on the Simpson interest in the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, or the formation or proposed formation of a syndicate to take over that interest?

A. It is the earliest I can find.

Q. 58. What is the date of the earliest paper of any kind which you have relating to the organization of the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. May 21, 1895.

Q. 59. Will you let me see the paper?

[Witness produces a subscription paper dated May 21, 1895, which is marked "Exhibit 3, G. C. B., March 24, 1903."]

Q. 60. Will you kindly produce the other subscription papers bearing date later than May 21?

[Witness produces a subscription paper dated May 24, 1895, which is marked "Exhibit 4, G. C. B., March 24, 1903;" also another subscription paper dated June 14, 1895, which is marked "Exhibit 5, G. C. B., March 24, 1903."]

74 Q. 61. Was there not some paper prior to May 21, 1895, embodying some agreement in regard to the Old Dominion Syndicate, between yourself and J. A. Coram, Matthew Luce, Henry M. Whitney, J. Morris Meredith, Thomas Nelson, or some of them?

A. I have been unable to find any paper.

Q. 62. Was there not, prior to May 21, some agreement with those gentlemen, or some of them, in relation to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. It would be impossible for me to say what the date was.

Q. 63. Was not there some such agreement at some date prior to this earliest subscription paper, dated May 21?

A. I think there was.

Q. 64. Will you state what that agreement was?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 65. Have you no recollection whatever in regard to it?

A. No.

Q. 66. You have been unable to find anything in any of your books and papers relating to that agreement?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 67. Do you find any copy of any letter from you or Hyams, or to you or to Mr. Hyams, or any other paper relating to Old Dominion matters prior to May 21, 1895, except the letter from Leonard Lewisohn to you dated May 15, and your reply under date of May 16, quoted above?

A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. 68. Were Mr. Hyams' letters in matters relating to Old Dominion Syndicate copied in your letter book, or letters to him from Leonard Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, relating to the matter, kept among your letter files?

A. No, sir. Mine are private. These are my private letter books; absolutely private.

Q. 69. Are those three subscription papers, dated, respectively, May 21, May 24, and June 14, 1895, being Exhibits 3, 4, and 5, the only papers of any kind which were ever executed between you and the members, or any of the members, of the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. There were undoubtedly other subscription papers which I believe to be of the same tenor, as the papers submitted do not figure up to the full amount of the subscription. I find, also, one additional paper without date or day of the month, in the year 1895, in precisely the same form.

[Subscription paper, no date, 1895, marked "Exhibit 6, G. C. B., March 24, 1903."]

Q. 70. Were there no other papers of any kind besides such additional subscription papers in the same form as Exhibits 3, 4, and 5, relating to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. Not unless they are here. I do not remember of any. [Inspecting a bunch of papers.] I do not find any. There may have been a prior agreement with Coram and others referred to.

75 Q. 71. I call your attention to the fact that on the Exhibits 3, 4, 5, and 6, neither you nor Messrs. Nelson, Whitney, Meredith, Luce, or Hyams appear as subscribers. Does not that fact refresh your recollection so that you are able to testify definitely that there was some other agreement between yourself and them relating to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. Certainly it does, if that is the fact. I have not looked over it. [Inspecting.] I find that is the fact.

Q. 72. Are you able to recall now what that agreement was between yourself and Messrs. Nelson and the others?

A. You mean the wording of it?

Q. 73. The substance of it.

A. I really cannot, but I think it is very similar to one of these [referring to Exhibits 3, 4, 5, and 6]; I think the wording was very similar to it, if I remember.

Q. 74. What is the earliest communication from you to Leonard Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, or Hyams, or from any of them to you, after May 16?

A. June 11, 1895.

Q. 75. June 11, 1895, is the earliest letter from yourself to Leonard Lewisonn?

A. Yes.

Q. 76. In your private letter book?

A. Yes.

Q. 77. Now in the other letter books?

A. Well, just the same. This [book] is what you might call one of these detail books; there would not probably be anything here to Lewisohn. June 11, 1895, is the earliest letter to Leonard Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, or to Mr. Hyams in my letter book marked "Private;" in my other letter book, marked "A. S. B.," there is none earlier than June 11.

Q. 78. Now in regard to letters from any of them.

A. A letter from Mr. Hyams; impossible to say where it was written from; I think it is "Granite,"—dated May 11.

[Mr. Hyams en route.]

Q. 79. What is the earliest date of any communication to or from any of the subscribers to the syndicate agreement, Exhibits 3, 4, 5, and 6?

A. May 27, 1895.

Q. 80. What was that communication?

A. It was addressed to D. M. Anthony, Esq.

Q. 81. Just read that, will you?

A.—

"DEAR SIR: Enclosed herewith you should find receipt of your favor for $700, being the first payment of 14 per cent of your subscription of $5000 to the Old Dominion syndicate."

Q. 82. Were letters in that form sent to all of the sub-
76 scribers on Exhibits 3, 4, 5, and 6?

A. I could not say they were sent to all; some might have come in and paid, and got their receipt over the counter, or in my office, probably; there were quite a number here on May 27, as you will see.

Q. 83. Have you not some copy of some letters or receipts given to Messrs. Coram, Nelson, Whitney, Meredith, and Luce for the payment of the first instalment, called May 27?

A. Yes, I find two receipts.

Q. 84. Now will you read those?

"BOSTON, MASS., May 27, 1895.

Received of Henry M. Whitney the sum of $7000, being first payment of his subscription of $50,000 towards the purchase of stock in the Old Dominion Copper Company according to the terms set forth in a certain paper which said Whitney has signed, and a copy of which he has."

"BOSTON, MASS., May 27, 1895.

Received of J. Morris Meredith the sum of $3500, being first payment of his subscription of $25,000 towards the purchase of stock in the Old Dominion Copper Company according to the terms set forth in a certain paper which said Meredith has signed, and a copy of which he has."

Q. 84½. Have you not also a letter from J. Morris Meredith dated May 25; and if so, will you read it?

"BOSTON, May 25, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq.

DEAR SIR: Enclosed you have check for $3500 on account of my share in the Old Dominion Copper Mining purchase.

Yours very truly, J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

Q. 85. How long prior to May 27 had you and Mr. Lewisohn decided to accept the option for the Simpson stock?

A. It is impossible for me to remember the date.

Q. 86. I show you a copy of a letter from Leonard Lewisohn to you dated May 28, 1895, with a copy of an agreement annexed, and now marked for identification 7, and ask you whether you have not the original letter of which that is a copy?

A. I have not.

[STIPULATION.—It is stipulated that the original is believed to be in the possession of Mr. Lauterbach, and will be produced.]

77 Q. 87. Are you able, after reading the letter of Leonard Lewisohn to you on May 28, to recall whether or not you were in New York on that day?

A. On May 28?

Q. 88. Yes. Or whether Mr. Leonard Lewisohn was in Boston on that day? I refer specifically to the reference in the letter to the fact that you had endorsed notes of Leonard Lewisohn.

A. I do not remember. It does not say what the notes are, or the amount, does it? You want to know whether I remember that Mr. Lewisohn was here or in New York?

Q. 89. Yes.

A. I do not remember.

Q. 90. The letter of Lewisohn to you of May 28, 1895, Exhibit 7, refers to your having paid—you and Mr. Lewisohn having each paid—to the executors of Simpson on that day, $50,000 in part payment for the purchase of the Simpson estate's stock. What further sum or sums did you personally pay in carrying out the agreement to purchase the Simpson stock?

A. I do not remember. You ask, "What further sums?" It is impossible for me to remember.

Q. 91. Have you any books which will enable you to determine?

A. I have not any books except a check book.

Q. 92. Have you not any book of account in which your transactions in connection with the Old Dominion stock are entered?

A. Only in a check book.

Q. 93. The stub of the check book?

A. That is all. I keep no books.

Q. 94. I mean you have not at any time since 1895?

A. No.

Q. 95. Did you before 1895?

A. No.

Q. 96. You never have?

A. Never have kept any books, no, except a check book.

Q. 97. In what books have your large or great transactions been recorded?

A. My check books.

Q. 98. You mean on the stub of the check book?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 99. And those check books or stubs have been preserved?

A. Yes, sir, so far as I know.

Q. 100. Has any book been kept showing the operations of this Old Dominion Syndicate? I mean the receipts of the money by the Old Dominion Syndicate and the disbursements.

A. I would not keep those books. It would not be in my province to keep them. There were no account books kept for the Old Dominion Syndicate. All the transactions can be determined by the deposits and checks drawn in my several individual bank accounts; all of the funds were received and paid out, out of my indi-
78 vidual bank account. No separate account was kept in which the Old Dominion Syndicate funds were deposited and from which they were drawn.

[Recess until 2 p. m., and resumed.]

Q. 101. Can you not, by reference to the Old Dominion Syndicate receipt book, which is produced by you, determine the amount of money that you had received from the Old Dominion Syndicate subscribers on or before May 28, 1895?

A. There was received on May 27 and 28, $30,450 on Old Dominion Syndicate, as the first instalment of 14 per cent on Old Dominion Syndicate there was also received on May 27, $10,500, as appears by the receipts of Henry M. Whitney and J. Morris Meredith, quoted above in answer to Int. 84; there was also received on May 29, $3640, as first subscription of 14 per cent on Old Dominion Syndicate; making an aggregate of $44,590.

Q. 102. Will you please examine the Old Dominion Syndicate receipt book and state whether or not it is not a fact that in the receipts of the first instalment of Old Dominion subscriptions for the purchase of Old Dominion stock, aggregating $44,500, there is not included any subscription from Thomas Nelson, Matthey Luce, or Mr. Volkman?

A. I have examined the book, and find there is no receipt given to either of them.

Q. 103. There was produced by Mr. Lauterbach, in the taking of the depositions in New York, in the suit of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. v. Bigelow, a copy of a letter of June 4, from Lewisohn Brothers to you: "We today received the Old Dominion syndicate blanks, for which we are obliged. Kindly send us bill and we will remit." Are you able to find that letter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 104. What is the date of the earliest letter after May 15 received by you from Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers?

A. That I have, you mean? June 3. A. S. Bigelow.

Q. 105. You stated, in answer to Int. 104, that the earliest letter that you find you received from Lewisohn Brothers, or Leonard Lewisohn, after May 28 is June 3: will you please read that letter?

"NEW YORK, June 3, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: In going over the Old Dominion matter, the undersigned finds the due dates of the notes given to the trust company to be 60, 90 and 120 days, which would make the due dates of 79 those notes July 27, August 26 and September 25, respectively. Now, in the syndicate form we find payments noted down as one day earlier than the notes are due. Has this been done on purpose or were the notes dated May 27 instead of May 28, as the writer thinks? Kindly enlighten me on this subject.

Yours truly, By J. RECKERT."

Q. 106. Also read the reply thereto, under date of June 4.

A. "Replying to your letter of June 4, the payments on Old Dominion syndicate subscriptions were fixed one day earlier than the due dates of the notes on purpose so as to get more money in to pay them when they mature. Yours truly."

Q. 107. Have you among your files a letter from Leonard Lewisohn dated June 10, 1895, of which a copy was produced by Mr. Lauterbach at the deposition taken in New York in the suit of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. v. Bigelow? Will you produce a letter from Leonard Lewisohn to you dated June 10, 1895, and will you read the letter of Leonard Lewisohn to you dated June 10, 1895, and your reply thereto, under date of June 11, 1895?

"NEW YORK, June 10, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: As per telephonic conversation with Mr. Meredith, I have communicated by telephone with Mr. Keyser, accepting his two-sevenths 'net,' and expect to get an answer sometime tomorrow.

Mr. Meredith also stated that you had proposed we should give him (Mr. Meredith) 14 453rds of the interest in profits which our share derives ultimately in the Old Dominion matter—after the principal and interest actually paid in have been repaid. I have informed Mr. Meredith, that I will accept anything you say in the matter, but I wish to state that in reality, as I am getting only one-third of the Keyser purchase and you two-thirds, I am paying Mr. Meredith pro-rata actually more than you are, considerably. However, I am perfectly satisfied, and only hope I will have to pay him a lot of money!!

Please confirm that this understanding is correct.

Very truly yours, LEONARD LEWISOHN."

Q. And the answer?

A. My reply?

80 Q. 109. Yes.

"BOSTON, MASS., June 11, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq.

MY DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 10th referring to Mr. Keyser's interest in the 2 7 of the Old Dominion is received. Your understanding that we should give Mr. Meredith 14 453rds of the interest in profits which our share derives ultimately in the Old Dominion matter after the principal and interest actually paid in have been repaid is in accordance with our understanding. This demand of Mr. Meredith does not relate simply to the 2 7ths of Keyser's, but it has a bearing on the whole question. You were very anxious we should pay Mr. Meredith something rather than have him stick out for his commission and thus imperil the trade with Keyser; and I think it has as close a connection with the whole business as it has with the 2 7ths. It was on that account therefore that we made this arrangement with Mr. Meredith. Unfortunately, as you know, you will have a much greater share in the profits than any other one person, but the manifest difference is that you obtain this by taking one-half of the 5 7ths and by putting up the money for it, but not only were we willing but anxious to take any part of this from you. You will understand that this 14 453rds which you are to pay Mr. Meredith is to come out of the whole of the interest which you subscribed for, or in other words is a charge against your one half of the 5 7ths and one third of the 2 7ths. Not that you alone shall pay it out of profits which you keep to yourself but that others associated with you shall bear their share of it.

Yours very truly."

Q. 110. Is that the only letter under that date of June 11, 1895, which you have?

A. Yes. This other letter is out of place as June 11.

Q. 111. Will you now read the letter of Lewisohn Brothers to you, dated June 11, 1895, and the copy of the telegram from William Keyser therein referred to?

"JUNE 11, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Please find enclosed herewith copy of telegram received today from Mr. William Keyser, addressed to our Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, which explains itself.

Yours very truly,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS,
——— ———, General Manager."

81

[Telegram.]

"BALTIMORE, MD., June 11, 1895.

To Leonard Lewisohn, 81 Fulton St., New York.

I confirm sale Baltimore stock terms your letter yesterday. Am prepared to deliver at once also to surrender control of corporation. Have telegraphed stoppage all work. Will advise about Ladenburg matter in few days. Will turn over my interest, which is one-half, in Old Dominion and other claims.

WILLIAM KEYSER."

Q. 112. Will you now read in chronological order the further correspondence which passed between you and Leonard Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, between June 12 and June 17, both dates inclusive?

A.—

"JUNE 12, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.,

DEAR SIR: Your letter of the 11th instant received, which is perfectly in accordance with our understanding.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS,
L. LEWISOHN,
General Manager."

"JUNE 12, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.,

DEAR SIR: This morning I spent fully two hours with Mr. Keyser and Mr. Beaman, and some hours again this afternoon in the matter; and even remained in the city on this account, instead of going to my home in the country; but I have not been able to get Keyser to sign the paper—after having agreed everything with Mr. Beaman. This afternoon he made some few small objections and on that account said he would rather not sign until he had showed his father, which he expected to do tomorrow; and he will then telegraph us if his father signs.

82 I hope to send you the papers tomorrow after I hear that Mr. Keyser has signed. Meanwhile I hold his telegram of yesterday that he confirms the sale.

Very truly yours,

L. LEWISOHN.

"Copper looks well again, and we have reason to believe Europe will advance again."

This is a copy of a letter addressed to A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.:

"JUNE 13, 1895.

DEAR SIR: After a long telephonic communication between Messrs. Beaman, Keyser and myself this afternoon, we have arranged as per enclosed copy of agreement, which Mr. Keyser has signed in Baltimore today and is sending me, and which I have signed at Mr. Beaman's office and am sending him.

Besides, please find enclosed plan of procedure for meeting of the directors of the Old Dominion Copper Company next Thursday, June 20th, when transfer is to be made.

Mr. Allen W. Evarts and I will be in Baltimore on that day, and I should be very pleased if you could make arrangements to be there also.

Very truly yours,

LEONARD LEWISOHN.
Per JESSE LEWISOHN."

[The original Keyser agreement is introduced in evidence and marked "Exhibit 8, G.C.B., March 25, 1903," and the plan of procedure is marked "Exhibit 9, G.C.B., March 25, 1903."]

"NEW YORK, June 14, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.:

To avoid any delay and to facilitate the transfer of the Old Dominion Copper Company, I propose that you see the Old Colony Trust Company and arrange with them that Mr. Keyser shall have the notification before 10:30 a. m. on Thursday, June 20, that the money has been paid and the notes given for the Simpson and Keyser shares, so that when I have a meeting with Mr. Keyser in Baltimore on Thursday morning, matters may progress without delay, as otherwise Mr. Keyser might decline to finish the transaction, saying that we had not paid the money over, &c.

83 To do this it will probably be best to deposit the money on Wednesday afternoon or else arrange with the trust company that they will take your word that the money shall be paid on Thursday. But what we specially want is that Mr. Keyser shall have received notification by 10.30 a. m., Thursday, of the deposit of the money and notes, and also that the Old Colony Trust Company shall notify us of the deposit of Keyser's and Simpson's stock. It would be well if you would see either Mr. Simpson or Mr. Butler and obtain from them in writing their agreement to deliver us their half of the interest in the Old Dominion, Keystone, New York and Chicago claims and whatever others there may be, as Mr. Keyser has transferred to us the other half interest which he has in those claims. Mr. Butler stated to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn when the matter was closed with the Old Colony Trust Company on the 28th of May in the presence of Mr. Beaman that the estate of Simpson would certainly transfer whatever interest it had in those claims.

All we want is to be sure that everything will go in perfect order, as we believe it will; but it is better to be fully prepared.

Very truly yours,

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

Please telephone Saturday regarding this."

"JUNE 15, 1895.

Lewisohn Brothers, New York.

GENTLEMEN: Your favors of the 13th and 14th were duly received, the former enclosing an agreement with Keyser and a plan of procedure for meeting of the directors of the Old Dominion Copper Company, both of which seem to be all right. It will be impossible for me to be at Baltimore on Thursday, but as our Mr. Altmiller from this office and Mr. Hyams will be there on that day, you will probably get along just as well.

In the matter of the directors, I see that you propose to allow three of the present Baltimore directors to remain, but that they shall place their resignations in your hands. There is one point in this which I wish to call your attention to, though it may not matter at all. If for any reason they should desire to kick up a row, would it not require a majority of the board present to accept their resignations? It might be well for you to see Mr. Beaman about this. I see that you did not make your point with Keyser that they should pay expenses due to the 20th day of June. I have been telephoning you about the amount which it will be necessary for us to pay in to the Old Colony Trust Company which we will have there in time so that the trust company will be able to certify early Thursday morning that it has been paid. We make the amount here for us to pay $183,650.89, plus interest $501.48, making a total of $184,152.37; leaving for you to pay, including interest —, which I suppose you will remit so that we will have it here Wednesday. I have figured the interest 23 days, carrying it up to Thursday, although we request payments to be made on Wednesday. I do not see how this can be avoided. I called upon the Old Colony Trust Company today and saw 2475 shares of stock there in their hands, which leaves 25 shares for qualification of directors. I have telephoned to Mr. Simpson and he and Mr. Butler re both coming here today between one and two o'clock about their greement to deliver us their half interest in the Old Dominion, eystone, New York and Chicago claims and whatever else they ave. Like you, I believe in making everything sure so that there ill be no hitch.

I have regretted very much to learn that your Mr. Leonard was ot to be present with us at the Osceola meeting on Tuesday next. had looked forward with pleasure to having him with me at my ouse.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

I do not think the postscript to that letter ought to go in.

Here is a letter of June 15, 1895:

"JUNE 15, 1895.

. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.,

DEAR SIR: Confirming conversation with Mr. Bissell over telehone today, we agree with him in the amount that has been paid in he Old Dominion Copper Company matter, viz:—$184,152 37.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS,
LEONARD LEWISOHN,
General Manager;
By JOSEPH RECHERT."

My next letter would be June 16. Shall I read this of mine of he 16th?

Mr. BRANDEIS: You read only one letter of yours of the 15th to Mr. Lewisohn.

The WITNESS: This is June 15. "Second letter."

85 "OLD DOMINION SYNDICATE, Sears Building,

Second Letter.

BOSTON, MASS., June 15, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Box 1247 New York,

DEAR SIR: I have just returned from an interview with Mr. Simpson. He tells me that he saw young Mr. Keyser and gave him authority to transfer their one-half interest in the Old Dominion, Keystone, New York and Chicago claims and whatever others there may be to us. Mr. Simpson also tells me that he proposes to be in Baltimore Thursday morning at the meeting; consequently this will render all chance of any misunderstanding impossible. Mr. Simpson and Mr. Butler seemed to think that Mr. Keyser expected his payment to be made in Baltimore. I do not see how I can do this now, as I have made all the arrangements for the money to be paid in here on Saturday. I shall be over to the Old Colony Trust Co. on Wednesday and show them that I propose paying in that money to them the first thing Monday morning so that they will be able to wire the first thing Thursday morning to Mr. Keyser that the money has been paid. This should surely satisfy all parties.

215

Yours very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW.

Mr. Keyser has the receipt of the Old Colony Trust Co. for his stock which he can assign to you."

"JUNE 17TH, 1905.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.,

DEAR SIR: In answer to your second letter of June 15th; we wish to say that we have had a conversation over the telephone this morning with Mr. Keyser regarding the way in which payments are to be made; and Mr. Keyser understands fully, and wishes us to make the payment in Boston—so that all the payments will be made in Boston at the office of the Old Colony Trust Company.

We also hear from Mr. Keyser that Mr. Bigelow has arranged with the Old Colony Trust Company that the money will be paid on Thursday. Mr. Abbott has written to this effect to Mr. Keyser.

Mr. Keyser is writing a letter to Mr. Abbott to-day telling him on payment of this money, to hold the shares to the order of Mr. Lewisohn—although we understand that the shares will have to be retained by the Old Colony Trust Company until the last note is paid.

86 Mr. Keyser is sending copies of the letters he is writing, of which we will send you copies.

In regard to the 25 shares of stock which Mr. Keyser is holding over; he is doing this as each Director needs 5 shares to qualify, and he thought it best to have these on hand in case they are needed at the Meeting, so that the Directors are qualified. Mr. Beaman also says this is necessary. We saw Mr. Beaman this afternoon and this gentleman says he believes that as regards the three Directors who, they promise, will resign, this will go quite in order; but he says he understood Mr. Bigelow had some relative or friend residing in Maryland who could be a Director—that if Mr. Bigelow desired this and that gentleman could be present, he could act as a director. Please telephone regarding this, if you desire your friend to act.

If there is anything further you wish us to do, please let us know over the telephone and we will be glad to attend to it.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS.
L. LEWISOHN,
General Manager;
Per JESSE LEWISOHN.

P. S.—Mr. Leonard Lewisohn was not at office today but will be here tomorrow."

Q. 113. Have you any letter from, or copy of letters to, any of the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate prior to June 11, 1895, other than the copies of letters dated on or about May 27, 28, or 29 to subscribers acknowledging the receipt of the first payment of 14 per cent, about which you have testified?

A. The first letter I find, except mere acknowledgments of credited receipts and a letter acknowledging payment from Mr. Belches, who was a subscriber through the Lewisohn syndicate in New York, is a letter dated Boston, Mass., June 8, 1895, to Albert O. Smith, Esq., of Boston, Mass. [reading]:

"JUNE 8, 1895.

Albert O. Smith, Esq., 55 High St., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: By accident your favor of May 27 was overlooked for a few days. I will do what I can for Mr. Mawhinney, but will tell you frankly that the subscription is already very largely oversubscribed. We may be able to obtain the other 2/7ths of 87 the property, and in that case Mr. Mawhinney can come in with the others who wish to subscribe. No interest will be allowed on anticipated payments.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW
W. A. S. CHRIMES."

Q. 114. Have you any letter from, or copy of letters to, any of the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate prior to June 11, 1895, other than the copies of letters dated on or about May 27, 28, or 29, to subscribers acknowledging the receipt of the first payment of 14 per cent, about which you have testified?

A. I find in my letter books no other letter to any subscriber prior to June 11; I find no letter from any of the subscribers prior to June 11, other than letters enclosing payment of first instalment, except the letters of May 24 and May 27, from A. O. Smith, those letters being referred to in the letter quoted above. These letters are as follows:

"MAY 24, 1895.

Mr. Albert S. Bigelow, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: My friend Mr. Hugh H. Mawhinney would like $2000 of the Dominion syndicate stock, and I hope you will arrange to let him have it, for in my opinion it will aid very much in making him a good client for you. When we called together week before last, you told him that you would let him in when you had any new scheme, and I hope you will be able to do it in this one.

Truly yours,

ALBERT O. SMITH."

"BOSTON, May 27, 1895.

Mr. Albert S. Bigelow, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Please inform me when you will probably know if the Dominion project is to be carried through and what interest will be allowed on anticipated payments of future assessments. I do not wish to be importunate, but hope you will be able to let H. H. Mawhinney have the $2000, about which I wrote you on the 24th instant.

Respectfully yours,

ALBERT O. SMITH."

88 Q. 115. Now, Mr. Bigelow, will you read the letter to Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., of June 11, 1895?

A. There is something about other matters to begin with in that letter, but I will read this:

"JUNE 11, 1895.

Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., 2033 G St., Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: * * * In the letter which you wrote to me some days ago you said you heard that I had become interested in an Arizona property. This is true. Some time since we bought 5/7ths of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company which was owned by an estate here, for $714,285. The reason I did not write to you about this at that time was that on account of Mr. Lewisohn of New York insisting upon taking one-half of this purchase, we had but a small portion here for our friends. Since then we have been negotiating for the other 2/7ths on the same terms, and I think we shall get them. The terms of sale were $1,000,000 for the whole property. We have already made the first payment on our contract for the 5/7ths which was $100,000 and given three notes for the balance due upon the following dates, viz:—

204,761.66, August 26, 1895.
204,761.66, Sept. 25, 1895.

Mr. Lewisohn having taken one-half of this, of course left only one-half to be taken here, but in taking the 2/7ths which I think we may be able to secure—we shall know about it positively today or tomorrow—Mr. Lewisohn takes only one-third, leaving two-thirds for us here. Out of this 2/3rds I can offer you an interest. The terms of payment for the 2/7ths will be practically the same as that for the 5/7ths. I enclose you a paper which you can sign, if you please, which is the same as others have signed, and which tells you the dates of payment and so forth. All this interest is to be held as a syndicate until the reorganization of the company is effected.

The Old Dominion is a company of many years' standing and has been a considerable copper producer in the past. It has an efficient plant and is today capable of producing from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 pounds of copper per month. Mr. Hyams examined the property for us carefully, and he reports that there are four years' ground opened ahead, and that he sees a profit in working the mine of from $350,000 to $500,000 a year. I firmly believe that

89 we shall make a great deal of money out of the purchase; but this was not the incentive that induced us to go into it. Our reason for securing it was, as I have often expressed to you, to secure yet more control of the copper market than we now have; in other words, to place our office first in the world as a copper producer; and we feel bound, when we have a chance to buy well known and developed copper properties, to take hold of them largely and protect ourselves.

We have not yet decided what plan we shall pursue in regard to the Old Dominion. It will however be something like this, viz: The present company is organized with a share capital of 25,000 shares. We shall doubtless reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares, and our present idea is to place somewhat less than half of this in Europe at a price that will pay back to the subscribers their money and give them their stock in the new company for nothing. These are the terms on which the other subscribers have come in.

Please let me know as soon as you can whether you wish to take any, and how much, for I have many applicants on my list and there really is not a great deal of it to go around.

Perhaps you had better wire me your answer about this.

Very truly yours,

A. S. BIGELOW."

Q. 116. Will you now read the telegram received by you from Mr. Woodhull in answer to your letter of June 13? It is annexed to a long slip of paper.

A.—

"WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Sears Building, Boston:

I will subscribe $15,000 to Old Dominion Copper syndicate. See letter.

M. WOODHULL."

Q. 117. Also the letter or letters?

A.—

"2033 G STREET,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Sears Building, Boston, Mass.,

DEAR Mr. BIGELOW: I received by the last mail Saturday afternoon your letter of the 11 instant, in which you offer me a chance to subscribe to the syndicate which has just bought the stock 90 of the Old Dominion Copper Company, for which letter and the chance offered I beg you to accept my thanks. I have just telegraphed you in reply thereto as follows:

"WASHINGTON, June 13—10.30 a. m., 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Sears Building, Boston, Massachusetts:

I will subscribe $15,000 to Old Dominion Copper syndicate. See Letter.

M. WOODHULL."

As I understand it, subscriptions are made to the capital of the syndicate and not for a given number of shares. My subscription is therefore $15,000 to the capital of the syndicate. I can make the first payment of 14 per cent whenever you call upon me for the same. The balance of the subscription will, I infer from your letter, be due and payable at the same time as the other payments to the syndicate are due, viz:

July 26, 1895, 28 2/3 per cent; interest 5 per cent from date of last payment (or what date exactly?)
August 25, 1895, 28 2/3 per cent, do
Sept. 24, 1895, 28 2/3 per cent do
Is this a correct statement?

I shall be in Boston either Monday or Tuesday morning. Is not Monday, the 17th, a holiday? Will you kindly acknowledge receipt hereof under special delivery stamp as it is now Thursday, and I should like to get your answer this week.

Very truly yours,

M. WOODHULL."

"2033 G STREET,
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 13, 1895—Afternoon.

Albert S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.,

DEAR MR. BIGELOW: Your letter of June 12, 1895, in re subscription to Old Dominion Copper syndicate has just been received. In it, in the postscript, you say:

'Since writing you the foregoing I find that there may be some change made in payments as outlined, and that the 14 per 91 cent cash and the 28 2/3 per cent of July may have to be paid next week. I will duly notify you as soon as I know myself.'

I wrote you this morning subscribing for $15,000 of the syndicate subscription.

14 per cent upon that subscription equals	$2,100
Second payment, 28 2/3 per cent	4,300
	$6,400
Third payment, 28 2/3 per cent	4,300
Fourth payment, 28 2/3 per cent	4,300
Total	$15,000

I assume from your letter of the 12th instant now under consideration that my subscription of $15,000 will be accepted. I therefore sign the subscription paper enclosed in your letter of June 11, 1895, in the sum of $15,000, and return the same enclosed herewith.

As you say that the cash payments will be due next week and that you will duly notify me in respect to said payment, I shall not send you my check herein for the first payment, but shall await your promised notification. Please write under a special delivery stamp, as I shall go over to Boston Monday and shall want to hear from you before leaving Washington. I shall hope to see you Tuesday morning. I beg to refer to my letter of this morning as a part hereof.

Very truly yours,

M. WOODHULL.

One enclosure as stated above."

Q. 118. What is the next communication from Mr. Woodhull?
A. A telegram.

"WASHINGTON, D. C., June 14, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Sears Building, Boston, Mass.:

Will you allow rebate if I will pay Old Dominion Copper subscription in cash. Telegraph in reply.

M. WOODHULL."

Q. 119. What next?
A. A letter.

92 "JUNE 15, 1895.

Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., 2033 G St., Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: I have various communications from you to acknowledge; two letters on the 15th, telegram on the same day, another telegram on the 14th, all referring to Old Dominion syndicate matter. I have wired you today as follows:

'Have entered your Old Dominion subscription of $15,000. Have 42 2/3 per cent payment here Wednesday which we understand amounts to $6413.74. No rebate allowed on anticipated payments.' which I now confirm. Your understanding of the subscription is correct; they are made to the capital of the syndicate, not for a given number of shares. In figuring the interest on the different payments at 5 per cent they are figured from the 23rd of May up to the time when the notes on the contract are due. I call in the money from the different subscribers on the day before so as to be sure to have it in time. In this way they lose one day's interest, but I do not see how it can be avoided. For instance, in sending you the figures of your remittance, which I wish to have here on Wednesday, namely, $6413.74, I have figured 23 days' interest on $4300. You will have to excuse this brief note, as I am so busy and particularly as I am to have the pleasure of seeing you so soon. I will see you here on Tuesday when we can talk over the matter very fully.

Yours very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

Q. 120. Was there any other letter written to or received from any member of the Old Dominion Syndicate to June 11; if not, what was the earliest date of any such letter or copy of letter in your list?

A. [Read by Mr. Brandeis.] A telegram under date of June 12, 1895, to Leonard Wheeler of Worcester, asking him as follows:—

"Have obtained other two-sevenths Old Dominion. How many dollars interest do you want?

A. S. BIGELOW."

Mr. HEMENWAY: The admission of this letter [following] is objected to for the reasons stated as to other similar letters. [See page 94.]

93 "BOSTON, MASS., June 12, 1895.

Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., 2033 G Street, Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: Looking over my letter to you of yesterday you may have observed an apparent discrepancy between the paper which you were asked to sign and my letter giving the time when the notes are due. The reason for this is that I must have the money here the day before the notes are due so as to be prepared to take them up on the following day. Since writing my letter I learn from Mr. Lewisohn of New York that they have actually secured the 2/7ths, therefore the first payment by you of 14 per cent is now due. I do not see anything else that my yesterday's letter does not contain.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW.

P. S.—Since writing the foregoing I find that there may be some change made in the payments as outlined and that the 14 per cent cash and the 28⅔ per cent of July may have to be paid next week. I will duly notify you as soon as I know myself. The reason for this change is that our contract for purchase says that in order to have the control of the management of the company turned over to us, we must take up the payments due in July with a cash payment. You of course see that by prepaying you save 5 per cent interest any way.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

Q. 121. What is the next?

A. That was a telegram. Here is a letter: [Read by Mr. Brandeis.] On the same day, a letter to Joseph A. Brown as follows:

"DEAR SIR: Mr. Bigelow is extremely busy today and requested the writer to inform you that he had obtained the other two-sevenths of the Old Dominion. Mr. Bigelow would like to know immediately how much of an interest you would like.

Yours respectfully,

W. A. S. CHRIMES,
For A. S. BIGELOW."

Q. 122. Mr. Chrimes was a clerk of yours?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I move to strike out all testimony of all transactions affecting the syndicating of the Bigelow interest in 94 the matter in Boston as having no reference and as being irrelevant, impertinent, and immaterial to the issue in this action, and as not affecting in any respect the transactions of Mr. Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers in the matter.

[Adjourned to Wednesday, March 25, and resumed.]

The WITNESS: Shall I read this [showing letter to Mr. Hemenway]?

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendants object to the admission of the letter of June 12, 1895, from A. S. Bigelow to Moses T. Stevens, it being immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent, and as being res inter alios.

DEAR SIR: Mr. Luce was in the office yesterday and told me that he had reserved a $10,000 subscription in the Old Dominion syndicate for you. I enclose paper which please sign and return. Some little time since we bought the Old Dominion property for $1,000,000, and have already made the first payment which was 14 per cent. There will therefore be due from you to be returned with the enclosed paper signed, your check for $1400; then there will be 28⅔ per cent of your subscription payable on July 26; 28⅔ per cent payable August 25, and 28⅔ per cent payable Sept. 24, these last three payments bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. It is proposed to reorganize this company, and the scheme as at present outlined is to float a little less than one-half of the new stock in Europe, which we have reason to believe we can do successfully, and then to pay back to subscribers their subscriptions, leaving their stock in the new company costing them nothing. The Old Dominion is a company of many years' standing, and has been a considerable copper producer in the past. Next is a letter to Mr. Charles S. Randall.

Mr. HEMENWAY: This is objected to for the reasons above stated.

These are all I know of, excepting these, my receipts.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Suppose we run through them, and we will make one general statement about those when we get through.

Q. 123. Is this a correct statement? I find no copy of any letter to any of the Old Dominion subscribers between this date and July 1 except letters acknowledging receipt of the first and second payments and the receipts given therefor, and the letter to A. O. Smith of the 15th, in which I say that the subscriptions are all taken up.

A. Yes. That is all in that book. Now would you like those in the other book?

Q. 124. Now let us see the letters of the 18th.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

Old Dominion Syndicate—Simpson.

DEAR SIR: Enclosed I hand you Certificate of Deposit with the New York Guarantee & Indemnity Company, of $102,708.07, which I understand you will use with the $102,708.07 more to be paid by yourself—to anticipate Note due July 28th, given to the Simpson Estate for $204,761.66, with interest.

When you have paid this Note, you will kindly get from the Old Colony Trust Company the Note which I have given, May 28th, for the above amount; and, after cancelling your endorsement thereon, please return this Note to me by registered mail—and also see that the Simpson Estate give a letter to the Old Colony Trust Company requesting them to transfer the stock over to us on the payment of the last Note.

We enclose also the original agreement between the Simpson Estate and Meredith, which is assigned to me, with the receipt for the $100,000, in cash thereon. We think that the Executors of the Simpson Estate should either give a receipt for the above Note on this paper, or give us a special receipt.

97 Kindly return the Memorandum of Agreement, together with the Note, by registered mail, and oblige.

Very truly yours,

L. L."

"JUNE 18TH, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: We have this afternoon written Mr. Keyser asking him to instruct the Old Colony Trust Company to give you a letter stating that they hold all the Old Dominion shares which they will deliver over to Leonard Lewisohn upon the payment of the last note due to Simpson and Keyser. We think it would be well for you to get the Simpson estate also to ask the trust company to give you a similar letter for the shares we bought from Simpson.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS.
L. LEWISOHN,
General Manager."

"JUNE 18TH, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Enclosed herewith please find copies of letters received from Mr. William Keyser this morning.

Yours very truly,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS.
L. LEWISOHN,
General Manager."

"BALTIMORE, June 17th, 1895.

Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, New York City.

DEAR SIR: I enclose herewith copy of letter sent to Mr. Gordon Abbott, vice-president of the Old Colony Trust Company, also copy of an order given him in regard to the payments by you on the 20th and the details connected therewith, which explain themselves and which I trust you will find in order. If there is anything further you can suggest, please let us hear from you.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM KEYSER."

98 "BALTIMORE, June 17th, 1895.

Mr. Gordon Abbott, Vice-President Old Colony Trust Company, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: I have your favor of the 15th instant and have wired you that the understanding in regard to the payment for the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company is correct and I enclose herewith a form of order which I trust you will find satisfactory. If anything further is needed, please wire me immediately upon receipt of this. It is proposed to hold a meeting here on Thursday the 20th instant, and it is necessary that we know as early as possibly on that date that the payments as arranged in the enclosed order have been made. Will you kindly, therefore, wire us as early as possible just what has been done both in connection with payment on account of the 2/7ths, also on account of the notes heretofore given for the 5/7th interest in the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM KEYSER,
Per R. BRENT KEYSER."

"BALTIMORE, June 17th, 1895.

Old Colony Trust Company, Boston, Mass.

GENTLEMEN: I enclose herewith copy of agreement between Mr. Lewisohn and myself, dated June 13, 1895, which gives the details of the sale of the 2/7ths of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company. In accordance with this agreement, cash and notes specified, hold the 7118 shares of the stock of the above company deposited with you by me on the 14th instant as collateral security for the payment of the notes as therein provided, the notes to be drawn by Leonard Lewisohn and endorsed by A. S. Bigelow and Lewisohn Brothers. You will note a difference of 25 shares between the number of shares of stock mentioned in the enclosed agreement and the number left with you. Those 25 shares are held to qualify directors and will be given to Mr. Lewisohn personally on the 20th instant. Upon receiving settlement of the above, will you please telegraph me at once, forwarding the cash and notes to me here in due course?

Yours truly,

WILLIAM KEYSER,
Per R. BRENT KEYSER."

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

Old Dominion Syndicate—Keyser Matter.

DEAR SIR: As I understand, the two-sevenths interest which we have bought from Mr. William Keyser in the Old Dominion matter is to be divided differently from the Simpson five-sevenths, viz:

You and your associates are to have two-thirds of the Keyser shares and I am to have one-third.

I send herewith Cashier's check on the Importers & Traders National Bank for $40,722.22, which will be in payment of the one-third of the $40,000. cash and also in payment of the one-third of the first note to be given of $81,905.—which makes $40,722.22.

I understand that you will add to this your two-thirds, so as to make the full cash payment and the payment of the first note—which is to be anticipated in order to get the control now.

In addition to this I send you my note, endorsed by Lewisohn Brothers, for $81,905, payable August 26th at the office of the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston—with interest at 5 per cent. per annum from May 28th; and also my note for $81,905., endorsed by Lewisohn Brothers, payable September 25th, at the office of the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston, with interest at the rate of five per cent. per annum from May 28th.

The above-mentioned check and two notes—together with the payment of the two-thirds of the cash which you will add—constitute the settlement for the purchase of the two-sevenths interest from Mr. William Keyser.

As soon as this is all arranged, you will kindly see that the Old Colony Trust Company telegraph or telephone to Mr. William Keyser that these payments and notes have all been arranged for, so that Mr. William Keyser will transfer, on Thursday, June 20th, in Baltimore, the control of the Company over to us—which will really be transferring to us the three Directorships. You will also please get from the Old Colony Trust Company a letter stating that they hold the 7143 shares subject to the conditions of the agreement—which conditions are that they will transfer these shares to Leonard Lewisohn or his order on receipt of the payment of the last Note.

I will have Mr. Beaman draw up a little paper in this two-100 sevenths agreement; as the division of these two-sevenths is two-thirds and one-third between us, as against half and half for the Simpson share.

Trusting this will be satisfactory, I remain

Very truly yours,

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

P. S.—The two notes above mentioned are in a registered letter together with the original agreement.

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

P. S.—You will understand that you will have to endorse the two notes over to the order of William Keyser."

Q. 125. Now there is one other letter of June 18.

A. Those are all the letters of June 18 which I can find.

Q. 126. Have you not a letter dated June 18, 1895, which is the original of the copy produced in connection with the deposition of Ferdinand Royhauser, taken in New York in the suit of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. v. A. S. Bigelow, marked "Exhibit 59," and reading as follows:

"JUNE 18TH, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: I wish to inform you that we have today received a telegram from Mr. Hyams reading:

'Your telegram today. I have deed in Boston,' referring to the deed from Keyser to the Old Dominion.

You telephoned today that Mr. Butler said that deed from Keyser to Old Dominion was in Baltimore; but what Mr. Butler refers to are the deeds to these properties which they claim are not worth anything and which Mr. Keyser will transfer to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn in Baltimore.

The other deeds were sent to us by Mr. Keyser and were taken to Arizona to be looked over out there, and Mr. Hyams no doubt has these as he telegraphs. If he has not them in your office no doubt he has them at home.

Yours very truly,

J. L. LEWISOHN BROTHERS,
—— ——, General Manager."

101 A. I cannot find it.

Q. 127. Do you recall the conversation with Mr. Butler referred to in that letter?

A. No, sir.

Q. 128. Have you any recollection whatsoever in regard to the matter except so far as stated in that letter?

A. None whatever.

Q. 129. Is there any letter from you to Leonard Lewisohn on the 18th,—if not on the 19th,—of June?

Lewisohn Brothers, New York. JUNE 19, 1895.

GENTLEMEN: I have several favors of yours of the 18th to acknowledge: First, enclosing two notes for $81,905 each, and also your original agreement with the Simpson estate; second, enclosing cashier's check on the Importers & Traders Bank, New York, for $40,722.22 in payment of one-third of the $40,000 cash, and I suppose one-third of the payment on the first note to be given of $81,905; third, enclosing certificate of deposit of the New York Guarantee & Indemnity Company for $102,708.07 in payment of your one-half of note given to the Simpson estate for $204,761.65 with interest.

I have today been over to the Old Colony Trust Company and have left with them the above enclosures which you sent me and have also left with them a Boston bank check for $184,152.37, which is my one-half of the payment due on account of the Simpson contract and two-thirds of the amount due on the Keyser contract.

I enclose you copy of a letter which I got from the Old Colony Trust Company which is practically a receipt from them with explanations of what they hold for our account to be used by them tomorrow in fulfillment of the arrangement, which is to take up the first note on both the Simpson and Keyser interests and the cash payment to the Keyser interest. I thought it was just as well to do this today so that there would be as little delay as possible tomorrow at the office of the Old Colony Trust Company and to enable them to telegraph Keyser in Baltimore very soon after ten o'clock that everything on our part had been done.

Yours very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

102

"JUNE 20, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq.,

MY DEAR SIR: I have just come from the Old Colony Trust Company, where I have closed up everything, I think satisfactorily, with regard to the agreements made with the Simpson estate and William Keyser for the purchase of all the shares of the Old Dominion Copper Company, less the 25 shares which were kept in Baltimore for the qualification of directors. I enclose with this, marked duly paid, your note for $204,761 66, dated May 28, 60 days, given to the Simpson estate and endorsed by me. This should be carefully preserved by you for the reason that when you come to ask for the stock when the last note is paid under the agreement made with the Simpson estate you will have to present all the paid notes given to the estate before you can get the stock from the Old Colony Trust Company. In my yesterday's letter I enclosed a copy of a letter received from the Old Colony Trust Company of yesterday's date, and now enclose copy of letter which I gave today to the Old Colony Trust Company, with instructions as to what use they should make of the funds in their hands which I left with them yesterday. I also enclose a letter addressed to you by the Old Colony Trust Company stating that they hold 7118 shares of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company to be kept by them and eventually delivered to you in accordance with the terms of the agreement between you and Mr. Keyser. I presume everything has gone through satisfactorily at Baltimore. I have been trying to get you over the telephone, without success thus far. (11.25 A. M.). There is one little thing to which I wish to call your attention. The notes that were made to Mr. Keyser were a little different from those given to the Simpson estate. Those to the Simpson estate were so drawn up that they had to be held by that estate until paid, thereby giving us the power, should we choose to exercise it, of anticipating them at any time. Those to Keyser are so drawn that he can use them if he chooses; and, naturally, if they should fall into other hands we would not be able to anticipate the payment of them. If I can get you on the telephone I shall explain this matter to you while you are in Baltimore so that you may have a chance to arrange with Mr. Keyser that he will hold them.

I also enclose you your original agreement with the Simpson estate showing the receipt of Mr. Butler as one of the executors of the estate, of the payment of the note of $204,761.66.

Then in one of your letters of the 18th I see that you ask the Simpson estate to give a letter to the Old Colony Trust Company 103 requesting them to transfer the stock over to you on payment of the last note. I spoke to the counsel of the Old Colony Trust Company about this, and he said that was all expressed in the agreement; the Simpson estate would have to transfer the stock on payment of the last note, and that asking the estate for a letter to that intent was in his opinion superfluous and might lead them to think that we thought we were weak in the agreement.

Yours very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

Q. 130. Now what is the next one that you have?

A. Under date of June 21, Lewisohn Brothers, by Adolph Lewisohn, acknowledge receipt of the letter of the 19th, and there is also the following letter on the 21st:

"JUNE 21, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: I have today received your favor of yesterday covering original agreement with the Simpson estate, and also note for $204,761.66 paid on the 19th inst.

Yours very truly,

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

P. S.—You will receive all papers next week."

Q. 131. Now what is the next letter you have, either to or from Leonard Lewisohn? Let us see whether this is correct: the next letter of mine to Lewisohn Brothers, of which I find a copy in either of my letter books, is dated July 12, and the next date of a letter received from Lewisohn Brothers is July 15; is that correct?

A. Yes.

Q. 132. Do you find any copy of a letter or telegram to any of the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate, or from any of the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate, between July 1 and July 12, both dates inclusive?

Mr. HEMENWAY: As to all these letters to and from third parties our objection is saved as above, as in all other cases.

A. I find no copy of any letter or telegram to any Old Dominion subscriber except a telegram to A. J. Coram, in which appears "Old Dominion subscription 75 per cent premium bid."

Q. 133. Is there not a telegram to Henry M. Whitney? If so, please read it.

A. There is a telegram to Henry M. Whitney [reading]:

104 "BOSTON, July 5, 1895.

Henry M. Whitney, Sydney Hotel, Cape Breton, Nova Scotia.

Want you to be a director in reorganized Old Dominion with Lewisohn, Nelson, Moses T. Stevens, Joseph G. Ray and myself.

A. S. BIGELOW."

Q. 134. Do you find among your papers any answer to that telegram to Mr. Whitney?

A. No, I do not seem to find any at all.

Q. 135. I call your attention to the following copy of a letter, being Exhibit No. 1 produced in connection with the deposition of Frederick Roxhauser in New York in the case of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. v. A. S. Bigelow; viz:

"JULY 5, 1895.

Allen W. Evarts, Esq., New York City.

DEAR SIR: Since this morning I have communicated with Mr. A. S. Bigelow, who desires me to have for the first year the following seven directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company namely, Mr. A. S. Bigelow, Mr. Thomas Nelson, Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, Mr. Edgar Buffum, Mr. Moses T. Stevens, Mr. Joseph G. Ray and Mr. J. A. Coram.

Yours very truly,

L. L."

Was the communication with Mr. Lewisohn, there referred to, in writing?

A. Probably not. I should say it was by telephone, as we had a private telephone with Mr. Lewisohn's office at that time.

Q. 136. I call your attention to the record of the directors' meeting of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company on July 11, 1895, in which it appears that Mr. Henry M. Whitney of Boston was elected a director; are you able to recall whether or not you received any reply from him to the telegram of July 5, between that date and July 11, when he was so elected?

A. I do not recollect of having received any communication from Mr. Whitney.

Q. 137. Have you any further answer to make in reply to Int. 132, which is: "Do you find any copy of a letter or telegram to any of the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate or from any of the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate between July 1 and 105 July 12, both dates inclusive?"

A. A letter from Charles J. Hodge, dated July 8, 1895, addressed to me.

"When do you expect to reorganize Old Dominion Copper Company and place it on the market? Lake people are hungry for it."

This is a quotation from my letter to Charles J. Hodge, dated July 12, 1895:

"I was over in New York yesterday for the very purpose of getting Old Dominion Copper Company into shape, and I should think some time in the course of a couple of weeks we should open the bag just a little to the public. Lake people are not the only ones who are hungry for it; in Boston they seem to be starving for it."

Mr. BRANDEIS: If there is anything else we will put it in to-morrow.

Q. 138. I call your attention to a copy of the record of the minutes of the meeting of the directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, at the office of Lewisohn Brothers, 81 Fulton street, New York, July 11, at 12 o'clock noon. This is merely a copy, but we will have here in the morning the original record. I will put this question now and we will assume that the original is here, and ask whether that is the meeting of the directors referred to by you in your letter to Mr. Hodge?

A. I do not know.

Q. 139. Whether that meeting was the visit in New York to which you referred?

A. That I do not know; I should suppose it was, from the letter which has been presented.

Q. 140. Have you no recollection? I wish you would just look over the records there.

A. I have looked over the original.

Q. 141. Have you no recollection other than what appears by the correspondence which has been put in evidence in connection with your deposition and the records of the directors' meeting of July 11, 1895, now shown you, as to what took place in connection with the organization of the company, or any conversations with Leonard Lewisohn, or any other person in relation thereto?

A. No, sir.

Q. 142. I call your attention to the offer made by the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, A. S. Bigelow, president, for the sale of all its property to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for 100,000 shares of its capital stock, and which is embodied in the record of the minutes of the directors' meeting of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company on July 11, now shown you, and ask you whether you have any recollec-106 tion in regard to the making of that offer, or of the action taken thereunder or in relation thereto, except so far as appears by the record of that meeting?

A. No, sir.

Q. 143. I call your attention also to the offer made by Leonard Lewisohn for the sale of the Old Dominion mine, the New York mine, the Chicago mine, the Keystone mine, a certain lot of land near Bloody Tanks to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for 30,000 shares of its capital stock, a copy of which offer is embodied in the records of the meeting of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company on July 11, 1895, now shown you, and ask you whether you have any recollection in regard to that offer or the action taken thereunder, or any transaction in relation thereto, except as appears by the record of that meeting?

A. I have not.

Q. 144. Do you mean by your answers to the last two questions that your recollection upon that matter is a blank except so far as refreshed by the records of the meeting?

A. Entirely; I do not remember being present at the meeting.

Q. 145. In your letter to Mr. Woodhull of June 15 you stated that you expected to see Mr. Woodhull on the following Tuesday, which appears to be June 18: do you recall whether or not you did see Mr. Woodhull, during that day or soon thereafter?

A. No, sir; I could not possibly tell.

Q. 146. Do you recall any conversation which you had about that time with Mr. Woodhull about this matter?

A. No, sir.

Q. 147. Or whether you had any at all?

A. I do not, no, sir.

Q. 148. Have you any recollection of talking with Mr. Woodhull within the next few months after that?

A. No, sir.

Q. 149. Are you able, by reference to the Old Dominion Syndicate receipt book, produced by you, to determine whether or not this subscription list, Exhibit 6, on which the month and day is left blank, should actually bear date before June 1?

A. Undoubtedly it should.

Q. 150. Is it not a fact that the subscriptions on Exhibit 5, which is dated the 13th day of June, were subscriptions taken on or after that date?

A. Undoubtedly.

Q. 151. Were the subscriptions which appear on Exhibits 3, 4, 6, and 5 taken or signed wholly in your presence and at your office, or were they signed elsewhere, in part?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 152. Have you any recollection in regard to whether those subscriptions were signed in your presence?

A. No, sir.

Q. 153. Have you any recollection except so far as appears by the correspondence already introduced, as to whether the subscrip-
107 tions appearing on Exhibits 3, 4, 6, and 5 were obtained by you personally or by some one of your associates?

A. I cannot remember.

Q. 154. You have no recollection whatsoever in regard to that?

A. No.

Q. 155. Have you any recollection in regard to any of the circumstances as to any of these subscriptions other than that which appears by the correspondence?

A. None at all.

Q. 156. Then your mind is a complete blank as to anything which may have occurred in connection with any of these subscriptions, except so far as appears by the correspondence, or so far as has been testified to by you?

A. It is.

Q. 157. Did you personally conduct any negotiations with the Simpson estate, or any one representing the Simpson estate, with a view to the purchase or transfer of any of this property?

A. I think not.

Q. 158. You have no recollection whatever in regard to the matter?

A. No.

Q. 159. You mean either in writing or orally?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 160. That is, you do not remember that you did anything?

A. No.

Q. 161. Did you personally, either orally or in writing, conduct any negotiations whatsoever in connection with the Keyser interest, or purchase of the Keyser interest, or transfer of any of the property?

A. I did not, no, sir.

Q. 162. Did you personally, so far as you recall, conduct any negotiations with the Simpson or Keyser interests, indirectly through Mr. Meredith?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 163. Have you any recollection other than that which is shown by the copies of letters and other papers which have been introduced in connection with your testimony, what has been testified to by you, concerning any conferences, negotiations, consultations or interviews with Mr. Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers in regard to the purchase of either the Simpson or the Keyser interest, or in regard to the formation of a syndicate or the operation of a syndicate?

A. No, sir.

Q. 164. Do you mean, by your answer to that last question, that you have no recollection whatsoever as to what passed between you and Mr. Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers in regard to the matter, except so far as already appears by what has gone in evidence, in regard to the matters that I have mentioned?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 165. Will you now state, after examining the Old Dominion Syndicate receipt books, what amount was received from the subscribers between June 1 and June 18, both dates inclusive?

A. $27,848.12, E. & O. E.

Q. 166. Will you kindly give also, separately, the amount of money received from the subscribers on June 19, June 20, June 21, and June 22?

A. Separately or in the aggregate?

108 Q. 167. Separately.

A.—

On the 19th	$103,018 32
June 20	14,303 32
June 21	15,817 05
June 22	10,027 49
Being a total of	$142,166 18

[Adjourned to March 26, 1903.]

THURSDAY, March 26, 1903.

Q. 168. Are there any other letters from subscribers between July 1 and July 12?

A.—

"Houghton, Michigan, July 12, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.,

Dear Sir: I presume the subscription for the Old Dominion has been closed; if not, I would like to take some of it. Can you tell me where it will be listed, and about what price? * * *

Yours truly,

J. B. STURGIS."

Q. 169. Will you now give us the correspondence between you and Leonard Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, between July 12 and August 1, 1895, in regard to the Old Dominion Syndicate or the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company,—the correspondence from and to Lewisohn?

A. The first I find after July 12 is July 24.

Aside from the letters transmitting checks to Lewisohn Brothers to be credited on account of notes given by me in the Old Dominion matter, the first letter I find is one of July 14, to Leonard Lewisohn:

"Dear Sir: Referring to conversation with Mr. Hyams yesterday, your proportion of the 50,000 shares referred to will be 453/1000ths. These will be turned over to you personally, to be disposed of as you see fit. I think this will answer your question.

Yours very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

109 Q. 170. What is the next one after that, Mr. Bigelow?

A. The only letter I find from Leonard Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, between July 12 and July 31, except the letter of July 15, enclosing a check for $175, being one half of the amount paid to the Old Colony Trust Company, and the letters acknowledging receipts of my remittances, is a letter of July 31, 1895, which is as follows:—

"New York, July 31, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.,

Dear Sir: According to your circular received on July 19, I beg to state that I shall take the entire 18,120 shares which will come to me in the new company of the Old Dominion Company in lieu of the money which was originally advanced and which was to be repaid from the proceeds of the sale of the new stock. Please confirm and oblige.

Very truly yours,

LEONARD LEWISOHN,
Per JESSE LEWISOHN.

P. S.—As telephoned yesterday.

L. L."

My letters to Lewisohn Brothers, sending remittances between July 12 and August 1 were as follows:—

July 15, 1895	$43,003 90
July 16, 1895	55,999 14
July 17, 1895	25,474 26
July 18, 1895	10,105 79
July 19, 1895	4,333 25
July 20, 1895	2,888 57
July 22, 1895	28,889 63
July 24, 1895	44,936 43
July 25, 1895	8,670 47
July 29, 1895	4,337 51
July 31, 1895	7,520 86

Q. 171. Now please turn to the Old Dominion Syndicate receipt book, and see what amounts were received by you from the Old Dominion Syndicate subscribers between July 12 and August 1, giving the amounts received by you each day.

July 15, 1895	$42,568 39
July 16, 1895	50,225 99
July 17, 1895	31,247 41
July 18, 1895	10,105 79
July 19, 1895	4,333 25
July 20, 1895	2,888 57
July 22, 1895	28,889 63
July 24, 1895	44,936 43
July 25, 1895	8,670 47
July 26, 1895	289 06
July 29, 1895	4,048 45
July 31, 1895	7,520 86

being a total of $236,189.81, or $235,724.30, subject to correction.

Q. 172. Is there not among the receipts on these dates which you have read a receipt of a payment by J. Morris Meredith? If so, kindly read the receipt.

A. $14,432.88.

"BOSTON, July 16, 1895.

Received from J. Morris Meredith fourteen thousand four hundred and thirty-two dollars and eighty-eight cents, being bal. payment and interest of subscription of twenty-five thousand dollars to the Old Dominion syndicate, second payment of 28 2/3 per cent and 5 per cent interest, due July 26, 1895, third payment of 28 2/3 per cent and 5 per cent interest due August 25, 1895, fourth and last payment of 28 2/3 per cent and 5 per cent interest due Sept. 24, 1895.

No. 179.

A. S. BIGELOW."

Q. 173. Have you not in the same Old Dominion Syndicate book a receipt from J. Morris Meredith, under date of June 21, No. 155, for $7189.56, being the second payment on account of subscription of $25,000 to Old Dominion Syndicate? And if so, state whether or not that receipt is in all respects the same in form as No. 179, except as to the amount and the number of the subscription, and that it is for the second instalment instead of the third or final, and the words "and interest."

A. Yes.

Q. 174. Are not those two receipts that were given to J. Morris Meredith on the same printed form of receipt, and in substantially the same form, as the receipts given to all the syndicate subscribers whose names appear on Exhibits 3, 4, 6, and 5?

A. Yes, where the payments were made in a similar number of instalments.

111 Q. 175. Will you now please produce the correspondence between yourself and the several syndicate subscribers from July 12 to July 31, inclusive?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Of course all this is objected to.

Harold Williams, Esq., Nantucket, Mass.,

DEAR SIR: Your favor of July 14 has been received and contents noted. Mr. Bigelow was so very busy today that he has requested me to answer your letter for him. Your original subscription to the Old Dominion syndicate was $5000, and the balance due is 28 2/3 per cent, plus 28 2/3 per cent, equals 57 1/3 per cent, equals $2866.67; interest on this amount from May 28 to July 24, say 57 days, at 5 per cent, equals $22.70; which, added to the $2866.67 makes the total amount due $2889.37. If we do not receive your check for this amount until July 24, you should add 40 cents extra for another day's interest, as we have to send the money to New York and do not get credit for it until it is received there. Mr. Bigelow says you could not have a better writing outfit.

Yours truly,

Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., The Aldine, Springlake Beach, N. J.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 22nd instant has been received and contents noted. As I had already written you on the same date that I intended to take my proportion of subscription stock to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. at $25 a share in lieu of cash, I did not think it necessary to telegraph you. The original members of that syndicate will not have any special right to subscribe to the balance of the subscription stock above their pro rata share. Your subscription of $15,000 to the original syndicate and $15,000 of subscription stock will entitle you to 1200 shares; that is, you put in no more money, but receive stock instead of cash for your bonus as a member of the original syndicate. The original stock of the new company is 150,000 shares of the par value of $25 each. 60,000 shares are issued for subscription at $25 a share cash; the proceeds of 40,000 shares, or the shares themselves, going to the original members of the syndicate as a bonus, and the proceeds of 20,000 shares, or, say, $500,000, going to the company as a working capital.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Sears Building, Boston, Mass.

Dear Mr. Bigelow: The papers are writing so much about the proposed reorganization of the Old Dominion syndicate and its conversion into a company that I write to ask you what you propose to do about subscribing to the stock of the new company. I propose to do, within the range of my operations, what you do yourself; that is to say, under the suggested plan of reorganization of the company, as outlined in your letter to me, informing me of the syndicate, you said substantially that your purpose was to organize a new company on the basis of returning the cash paid by the syndicate plus a proportion of the stock equal to the amount subscribed to the syndicate. Now, do you propose to subscribe this cash to the capital of the new company or not? Whatever you do, I shall do. My subscription was, as you know, $15,000. If you subscribe to the stock of the company instead of drawing down your cash, I also will subscribe this $15,000 to the stock of the new company. I congratulate you on the advance in coppers, but go slow. It is time enough to push prices up after the first of October. We are not yet out of the woods. Patience, just now, is better than almost any other quality. If we have good crops this fall (and the crops are not yet assured) and without future heavy gold exports, then the time for a bull campaign will have come; now it is premature.

MY DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 12th is received. The Old Dominion Company was reorganized last week with a capital of 150,000 shares, par value $25 each. 60,000 of those shares are to be sold at $25 a share: 40,000 of them for account of the original syndicate subscribers and 20,000 for a working capital. The subscription for those has not really been opened yet, but my friends have come in and told me what they want to pay for this, and asked me to put their names on the list. These foot up over 30,000 shares, and while I stand ready to take the balance, I am willing to let my friends in if they will signify what they wish. It may be that these subscriptions will have to be pro rated, as it looks as if the amount might be oversubscribed. You had better, therefore, wire, on receipt of this, what you would like to take. We cannot at present say just when we will ask for the money from the subscribers; we shall probably require it in one payment, but it is not likely that it will be wanted before the 1st of October. If it is not too much trouble, will you kindly notify those whom you know are my friends in your region, so that they may have an opportunity to subscribe?

H. Wallerstein, Esq., P. O. Box 2737, New York.

MY DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 20th instant is received and contents have been fully noted. I do not in any way consider you a bore or peculiar, you simply try to do what all the rest of us are triving for, and that is to make a few dollars. The original subscription to the Old Dominion was not offered freely to brokers in Boston, and I have no idea how it was offered to Mr. Stanton. In the first purchase at 5 7ths of the property, Messrs. Lewisohn Brothers took one-half and allowed me to take the other half, though I think they would have preferred to have me take only such portion as I absolutely wanted for myself. Then when we afterward bought the 2 7ths completing the entire purchase, I rather insisted I should have two-thirds of that. You will therefore see that I had very little to offer even to my immediate friends. One particular friend of mine who lives out of town said to me the other day, 'How was it I did not get any Old Dominion originally?' I told him it was simply because he was not here right under my nose where I could see him. I then told him we had built a little ladder, and he could come in on the third round, which he was very glad to do. But even this third round is now all filled up, and there is no room for anybody else. I am informed that you were told the middle of last week that you had better get in on this basis rather than not at all, but until today I have heard nothing from you. I did not tell Lewisohn Brothers originally to offer you any Old Dominion. So far as I know they simply took one-half of the 5 7ths and one-third of the 2 7th, and I know nothing as to what they have done with their friends in the matter. * * * You have done nothing to forfeit my esteem or friendship in any way, and I am very sorry you did not have a chance to get into the Old Dominion at the start, but you have no idea how fast these things go when they begin, and a day's delay often leaves a man outside. * * *

Yours very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

"NEW YORK, July 20, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston.

MY DEAR SIR: I do not want you to consider me a bore or peculiar, and I only write these lines to say that accidentally I heard 124 this week for the first time about the Old Dominion Copper mine. I understand that the original subscription to the first syndicate had been offered freely to brokers in Boston as well as to people like John Stanton here, and surprise was expressed to me that I, as one of your past particular friends had not been taken in also. When I applied to Mr. Lewisohn a few days ago, he was going to the Mountains and referred me to his son; and when I went to see him, Mr. A. L. he said he would give me 500 shares in the present subscription at $25. I then asked him if, as I had learned, there had been a previous subscription with certain rights attached. He replied that was ancient history and that he could do nothing for me in that direction. Now, to me it was not ancient but perfectly modern history, and I hope I have not done anything to forfeit your esteem or friendship, as outside of any money considerations. I have always had the best of regards for you and could only believe that you cherished similar feelings for me. Of course I should have liked to have had a little participation in the first syndicate, and would have been satisfied to take 200 shares of the old subscription and 200 shares of the new subscription; and I would like to know from you, if not presuming too much upon your time, whether you told Lewisohn to offer me originally any participation in the Old Dominion. Of course, consider this confidential, as I shall also consider any answer which you wish to give me. I am sorry that I could not invest largely in Montana. I have had to use a good deal of money in my business, but still could and would have gone moderately into Old Dominion had it been offered to me. * * *

126 Q. 178. Are you able to recall anything in regard to that letter to Mr. Webster?

A. No, I cannot.

Q. 179. Will you now produce the correspondence between yourself and Lewisohn Brothers, or Leonard Lewisohn, or one of that concern, during the period from August 1, 1895, to October 1, 1895?

A. The correspondence in relation to Old Dominion matters other than that consisting merely of the transmission and receipt of checks, is as follows:

"SEARS BUILDING,
"BOSTON, MASS., August 2, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Box 1247, New York.

DEAR SIR: Answering yours of July 31, we have entered your subscription for the entire shares which will come to you in the new company in lieu of the money originally advanced. The shares will not be exactly 18,120, as we do not take the fractions into account. Your proportion however will be for some few shares less than that. Of course we will notify you of the number later.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

"AUG. 29, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Box 1247, New York.

DEAR SIR: I take pleasure in forwarding a copy of the report of Messrs. Hyams and Colquhon on this company's mine at Globe, Arizona. I am glad to say that this report more than confirms all that was originally claimed for the property.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

"SEPT. 18, 1895.

Adolph Lewisohn, Esq., Box 1247, New York.

DEAR SIR: You should find herein certificate No. 74 covering the 30,000 shares of the capital stock of this company to A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn for property purchased in accordance with the vote of the directors of the company. Please endorse said certificate on the back as attorney for Leonard Lewisohn and return it to me.

Yours very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

127 Now the letters relating to payments, remitting checks to Bigelow, show the following:

September 24	5,828.89
September —	21,333.33
Footing (to be verified)	$100,625.37

Q. 181. Now let us go back to the 1st of August for the private letters. We are now bringing up the subscribers' letters from August to October 1.

128 "AUGUST 5, 1895.

R. R. Goodell, Esq., Houghton, Michigan.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 31st ultimo is at hand. We duly received your wire for another 200 shares of Old Dominion stock, but it came too late for you to get any additional. In fact, we are oversubscribed as it is, and I do not know how much of your first lot you will get. You will get something any how. Please say nothing to anyone else, but the insiders themselves who took 20,000 shares of the subscription have given up their rights in those to accommodate subscribers. * * *

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

"BOSTON, August 7, 1895.

MY DEAR MR. GROUT: Your two letters of August 5 have been received and contents noted. In all probability you will get 1000 shares; that is, I do not think there is much doubt about it. Please do not say anything about this, however, as it will be a special favor to you if you do get that amount of stock. I am glad to be able to say that the copper market is very strong and the outlook for the future promising. In haste.

Yours very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

"Hon. W. W. Grout, Barton National Bank, Barton, Vt.

BARTON, VERMONT, Aug. 5, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq.

MY DEAR SIR: I notice that the papers are telling about the subscriptions to the Old Dominion Company being scaled down. That will not, of course, affect my 1000 shares, taken, as you will remember, immediately after the formation of the first syndicate and which really ought to have included me in that. You will not of course forget that my relation to the office is such that no question arises about my subscription.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM W. GROUT."

"BARTON, VERMONT, Aug. 5, 1895.

MY DEAR MR. BIGELOW: It occurred to me that possibly you might want a letter with which to suitably explain my re-
129 lation to the Old Dominion subscription and that I did not leave it in the best possible shape by simply signing the paper I did the other day, and that your letter to me suggesting that I confirm my subscription for 1000 shares, &c., when replied to by me would put you in possession of material with which to satisfy any one who might be dissatisfied with the assignment of stock, that I was entitled to my stock without any scaling down. Hence I wrote a letter to enclose with this which will furnish an explanation of the situation; is such as to make it necessary, though I presume it is not. I know, in fact, that the whole matter is in your hands and expect you will take care of my 1000 shares any way. I want it not to sell but to keep, and I am in shape to carry it, and shall, except a little I wish to have to spare to some friends to whom I have promised participation. If this letter will not help, as I presume to be the case, throw it aside, but do not fail to save the 1000 shares.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM W. GROUT."

"BOSTON, MASS., Aug. 7, 1895.

Henry Wood, Esq., Green Acre Inn, Eliot, Me.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of Aug. 6th has been received and contents noted. It is probable that you will get the whole amount of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock for which you subscribed."

[No signature.]

"AUG. 6TH, 1895,
GREEN ACRE INN, ELIOT, MAINE.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., President Old Dominion Company.

DEAR SIR: Please kindly inform me if the allotment of Old Dominion Mining stock is yet made, and if my small subscription of 100 shares is to be cut down.

Yours truly,

HENRY WOOD.

Present temporary address as above."

"AUG. 7, 1895.

J. B. Sturgis, Esq., National Bank of Houlton, Michigan.

DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of your favor of Aug. 3rd. It is probable you will get the full amount of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock for which you subscribed.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

130

"OLD DOMINION SYNDICATE,
BOSTON, MASS., Aug., 22, 1895.

J. B. Sturgis, Esq., Houlton, Michigan.

DEAR SIR: Replying to your favor of Aug. 17 anent Old Dominion subscription, it is true that you subscribed for 1050 shares, but you were allotted 1000 shares.

Yours very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW,
By W. A. S. CHRIMES."

"HOULTON, MICHIGAN, Aug. 3, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow.

DEAR SIR: Referring to my subscription for 1050 shares of Old Dominion stock for myself and friends, can you give me some idea of the number of shares we shall be able to get? It would be of some advantage to me to know, on account of holding the money for an investment. The newspapers state the stock has been oversubscribed. A reply will oblige.

Yours truly,

J. B. STURGIS."

"HOULTON, MICHIGAN, Aug. 17, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 13th instant notifying me 1000 shares of Old Dominion stock had been allotted on my subscription is received. My subscription was for 1050 shares. Did you make an error in the allotment or was there a scaling of the subscription?

Yours truly,

J. B. STURGIS."

"OLD DOMINION SYNDICATE,
BOSTON, MASS., Aug. 21, 1895.

S. N. BROWN, Esq., 77 Milk St., Boston.

DEAR SIR: Replying to your favor of August 19, the notices to which you refer were sent only to those subscribers of Old Dominion stock at $25 per share to whom stock was allotted.

Yours truly,

W. A. S. CHRIMES,
For A. S. BIGELOW."

131

"BOSTON, Aug. 19, 1895.

DEAR MR. BIGELOW: Mr. Williams tells me he has received a notice as to award of Old Dominion Copper stock. I have not heard from mine. Did the notice to me miscarry?

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL N. BROWN."

"BOSTON, Aug. 22, 1895.

DEAR MR. BIGELOW: Thank you for yours of the 21st relative to distribution of Old Dominion copper stock.

Very truly yours,

SAMUEL N. BROWN."

"SEPT. 12, 1895.

W. B. Mosman, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Your letter of Sept. 11 is at hand. Your first question was answered by notice in regard to payment on Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock, mailed you yesterday.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

"AUGUST 17, 1895.

Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIRS: Your favor of the 13th instant notifying me that 15 shares of the stock of your company had been allotted to me at $25 per share is received. Please address all notices or other communications hereafter to me at 24 State St., New York City, N. Y., and oblige,

Yours truly,

OSWALD CAMMANN."

"Aug. 15, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Sears Building.

Dear Sir: We note that we are awarded 100 shares Old Dominion at $25 a share as per your favor of the 13th.

Yours truly, FOOTE & FRENCH.
Per FOGG."

132

"Aug. 20, 1895.

My Dear Mr. Bigelow: In answer to your circular letter of the 17th, I shall be very glad to pay both the August and September payments to the $8000 Old Dominion syndicate in the name of Henry T. Coe. If you will kindly have the account made up with interest I will plan to call Thursday and hand you check.

Very sincerely yours,

SAMUEL B. CAPEN."

"Franklin, Mass., Aug. 24, 1895.

Mr. A. S. Bigelow.

Dear Sir: Your notice of August 13 saying I have been allotted 400 shares Old Dominion copper stock was received through Mr. Matthew Luce. My address is Franklin, Mass. Will you please send all future notices there and greatly oblige.

Yours very truly,

CHARLES J. McKENZIE."

"Maplewood Hotel.
"Maplewood, N. H., August 25, 1895.

My Dear Mr. Bigelow: Pursuant to your notice of the 17th, I enclose my check for present instalment of subscription to Old Dominion syndicate made up with interest to the 28th instant, which will cover remittance to New York $5805. You may send receipt to my office in usual course. * * *

STEPHEN M. CROSBY."

"South Poland, Me., 22 July, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq.

Dear Sir: In reply to your communication of the 19th instant, I beg leave to say that it is my wish to avail myself of the opportunity offered thereby to take the shares in the new company formed by the Old Dominion syndicate at their par value of $25 in lieu of the money originally advanced which was to be repaid from proceeds of the sale of the new stock.

Very respectfully,

R. M. FIELD."

"Bethlehem, N. H., July 27, 1895.

My Dear Mr. Bigelow: I hereby confirm my subscription for 400 shares of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

Very truly yours, SAMUEL N. BROWN."

133 "JULY 24, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq.

DEAR SIR: Your notice to the subscribers of the Old Dominion syndicate was duly received. As I understand it, having $3000 in the syndicate which was to be paid back to me, I can put that amount into new stock if I so desire. If I am correct about it, you will please put me down for that much stock, which would be 120 shares, giving me 240 shares in all. Please let me know if I am correct in the matter and oblige. I would like to pay my subscription in full on Aug. 1st. Please let me know the amount due, and I will see that it is paid on that day.

S. S. SPAULDING."

"NANTUCKET, MASS., July 24, 1895.

DEAR BERT: Your circular letter of July 19 in re Old Dominion mine was duly received. In reply I would say that I will take all my subscription in stock. Will you kindly let me know how many shares in the mine I shall thus receive when the certificates are issued? Thanking you again for your kindness, and with my sincerest regards, I am

Ever yours,

HAROLD WILLIAMS.

POSTSCRIPT.—My subscription was $5000. Shall I receive 400 shares or what?"

"BOSTON, July 29, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Please take notice I do accept the option lately offered by you. I will take the bonus on my original subscription to the Old Dominion syndicate in subscription stock at $25 a share instead of in cash.

Yours truly,

JOHN H. PIERCE."

"BOSTON, July 29, 1895.

Mr. A. S. Bigelow, 303 Sears Building.

MY DEAR SIR: Will you please add my name to the number who subscribed for the Old Dominion stock in the new company at the par value of $25 a share in lieu of the money which I advanced and which was to be repaid to me? I am

Yours very truly,

N. E. HOLLIS."

134 "JULY 30, 1895.

Mr. A. S. Bigelow, Boston.

As per your letter of the 19th instant please enter my subscription to be taken in the shares of the new company at their par value of $25 per share.

STEPHEN O. METCALF."

"BOSTON, July 31, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Sears Building.

DEAR SIR: At the request of Mr. Luce, I wrote to say that he would like to have you include the following names in the list of those who wish additional shares in the Old Dominion in place of their original subscription: Moses T. Stevens, Timothy E. Hopkins, Isaac Fenno.

Respectfully yours,

F. H. MANNING."

The others are simply notices.

Q. 182. Does that include all the letters?

A. Yes.

Q. 183. You mean up to that date of October 1?

A. That is everything in there.

Q. 184. From subscribers?

A. Yes.

Q. 185. Have you not, in your letter book marked "A. S. B.," on pages 385 and 386, copies of forms of allotment of subscriptions to Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock? If so, will you now read the same, giving the page on which each appears?

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendants object to the admission of forms on pages 385 and 386, which do not appear to have been sent to anybody by Mr. Bigelow or by anybody else.

A.—

"SEARS BUILDING, BOSTON, MASS., August 13, 1895.

Referring to your subscription to the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, you are hereby notified that — shares have been allotted to you at $25 per share. Notice will be sent in due course when payment for this should be made. Besides this you will receive — shares on subscription of — dollars to the Old Dominion syndicate, being the stock taken by you in accordance with the circular of July 19, 1895, and of course, in addition, the — shares to which you are entitled under your original subscription to the Old Dominion syndicate, in other words on the further payment by you of — dollars, you will be entitled to — shares of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company. When the stock is ready for delivery you will be notified.

A. S. BIGELOW."

[Adjourned to Friday, March 27, and resumed.]

Q. 186. Your letter dated July 19, 1895, to Herrick refers to your enclosing an article to him about the Old Dominion: do you recall what that article was?

A. I do not.

Q. 187. Have you no recollection whatever in regard to it?

A. I should suppose it was a newspaper article, from the reading of the letter.

Q. 188. Is there not a subscription list containing the names of the subscribers to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 189. Will you kindly produce it?

A. Yes, sir. I now produce it.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The admission of this list is objected to as being incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and as a matter between others than the plaintiff and defendants in this action.

[The witness produces a subscription list dated Boston, July 18, 1895, which reads:]

136 "We the undersigned, each for himself and not for the others, hereby subscribe for and agree to take and pay for stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, organized under the laws of the State of New Jersey, to the number of shares set opposite our names respectively, at twenty-five dollars ($25) a share on or before October 1st, 1895."

[This paper is marked "Exhibit 10, G. C. B., March 27, 1903."]

Q. 190. Is that the only list of subscriptions for stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company? In other words, does that list include all the subscriptions taken referred to in the letters which have been introduced in evidence and include, as stated in the letter to Maxwell Woodhull of July 24, in the clause "60,000 shares are offered for subscription at $25 cash: the proceeds of 40,000 shares or the shares themselves going to the original members of the syndicate as a bonus and the proceeds of 20,000 shares, say $500,000, going to the company as a working capital"?

Mr. HEMENWAY: The question is objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent, and res inter alios, and also as being a declaration subsequent to the transactions complained of.

A. That is the only one I have ever seen.

Q. 191. Is there any other subscription list that you have had anything to do with or know of?

A. I cannot recollect of any now.

Q. 192. I ask you to examine the subscription list [Exhibit 10] and state whether it does not appear to be the fact that all of the subscriptions up to the subscription of Ben F. Meservy, 100 shares, are in the handwriting of the party subscribing or in the handwriting of some person purporting to act as attorney for the subscriber?

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. It would appear so.

Q. 193. I will ask you whether the signatures commencing with George H. Lyman and ending with H. S. Goodwell do not appear to be all in the same handwriting, and whether you are able to state in whose handwriting those signatures are?

A. I would not want to answer that question; I would not dare to say.

Q. 194. Are you able to recall any correspondence with any of these subscribers which has not already been introduced in evidence,—any of these subscribers, prior to October 1, 1895, which has not been already introduced in evidence by you?

A. In relation to the Old Dominion matter?

Q. 195. Any correspondence, letters, telegrams, or other written communications.

A. No, sir, I cannot.

137 Q. 196. Are you able to recall, prior to October 1, 1895, any conversations with any of these subscribers except so far as such conversations may have been referred to or embodied in the correspondence which you have produced, in relation to the Old Dominion matter?

A. The only recollection of any conversations that I have, in a general way, is that they set forth the plan as outlined in that letter to Woodhull.

Q. 197. Do you recall any person with whom you had such a conversation?

A. I cannot.

Q. 198. You mean you cannot recall any person?

A. Any specific conversation, no.

Q. 199. Do you recall distinctly that you had any conversation with any one of these subscribers?

A. I think that question has been answered before. It is only in a general way that I recall conversations, if I had any.

Q. 200. What was the total amount of subscriptions to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock at $25 a share which was actually allotted?

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant, and as res inter alios.

A. 60,000 shares.

Q. 201. I call your attention to the fact that, according to Mr. Hyams' footing, the aggregate number of shares subscribed for, as per Exhibit 10, was 77,120. Can you state how the allotment of the 60,000 shares was distributed against those 77,120 shares subscribed for?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. To the best of my recollection, I do not think there was any general rule for doing it; to the best of my recollection, it was left discretionary with me.

Q. 202. Do you recall in what way you exercised your discretion?

A. I cannot, beyond, of course, what is stated in any letters that have been read.

Q. 203. Do you recall whether Lewisohn Brothers, or Mr. Lewisohn, were allotted any of this stock at $25 a share?

A. Judging from Mr. Lewisohn's letter of July 31, I should say that he did take some stock. I have no recollection beyond what is contained in that letter of July 31 to me, which has been already read in evidence.

Q. 204. In what way was this allotment of 60,000 shares distributed between the 20,000 shares that were sold for the purpose of providing a working capital for the company and the 40,000 shares that were sold to repay the members of the syndicate their original investments?

A. I do not remember now.

Q. 205. What was your cash contribution to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

138 Mr. HEMENWAY: That is objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. I could not tell without reference to my check book.

Q. 206. I call your attention to a certificate in the Old Dominion receipt book produced by you, certificate No. 218; also to the stub of certificate No. 254, the stub and certificate being as follows:—

"Not Negotiable.
$30,487.60
A. S. Bigelow
July 24, 1895.
Balance instalment on 50,000
No. 218."

"Receipt.

$30,487.60. BOSTON, July 24, 1895.

Received from A. S. Bigelow thirty thousand four hundred and eighty-seven dollars and sixty cents, being balance payment and interest on subscription of fifty thousand dollars to the Old Dominion syndicate; second payment of 28 2/3 and 5 per cent interest due July 26, 1895; third payment 28 2/3 and 5 per cent interest due August 25, 1895; fourth and last payment 28 2/3 and 5 per cent interest due Sept. 24, 1895.

No. 218.

A. S. BIGELOW."

[Stamped] "Not negotiable."
[Stub:]
"Not Negotiable.
$21,333.33.
A. S. Bigelow.
42 2/3 per cent instalment on $50,000
No. 254."

Then, written over it, "14 per cent, 28 2/3 per cent, [added] 42 2/3 per cent;" underneath the 42 2/3 per cent is "(57 1/3 per cent);" "paid, July 24, Receipt 218; [added up] 100 per cent."

I will ask you whether by reference to those stubs you do not recall that the total amount contributed by you was $50,000?

A. Yes.

Q. 207. The total amount paid by you, $51,820.93, being a $50,000 contribution to the syndicate, with interest at 5 per cent to the time of the payment?

139

A. So it appears, by the receipts.

Q. 208. Will you now state what you received from the operation of the syndicate in stock and in money?

A. I should have to look over my private memoranda and check books before I could answer.

[Examination of the witness suspended.]

FRIDAY, April 10, 1903.

[The taking of the deposition of Albert S. Bigelow was resumed at 10 a. m. at the office of Messrs. Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, 220 Devonshire street, Boston, Mass.]

Q. 209. Mr. Bigelow, have you since the adjournment of the taking of your deposition found any other papers of any kind which bear upon the matter of your examination?

A. No, sir.

Q. 210. Have you been able to recall any facts which bear upon the matter?

A. No, sir.

Q. 211. Your memory has not in any way been refreshed by reading over the depositions or by looking over the papers as to the transactions?

A. Only so far as I have stated.

Q. 212. Is it not a fact that up to the annual meeting of April 4, 1902, when Mr. Charles Smith and his associates were elected directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, you and Mr. Lewisohn, through your own stock and that of other persons whose proxies you held, retained control of the company?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to as to substance, because it has no bearing upon the issues in this action; and as irrelevant to the issues, incompetent, and immaterial.

A. The only evidence I have of that is what is contained in the records of the company at the annual meetings which were held.

Q. 213. As a matter of fact, you remained president of the company up to April 4, 1902?

A. If that is the date, yes.

Q. 214. You mean if that is the date of the meeting at which Mr. Smith came in?

A. That I was kicked out.

Q. 215. And all of the persons who were elected directors prior to the meeting of April, 1902, were either selected by you or Mr. Lewisohn or with your or his approval, were they not?

140 Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection as stated above.

A. I really cannot remember about all those things.

Q. 216. Is it not a fact that you did select the directors?

A. I think Mr. Lewisohn and I together did.

Q. 217. Will you state whether or not up to the time of the acquisition by the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company of the properties in Globe, Ariz., formerly belonging to the Old Dominion Mining Company of Baltimore City, or to Simpson and Keyser, you had any knowledge of those mines except that furnished of the report of Messrs. Hyams and Colquhoun?

A. Only in a general way. I had heard of them.

Q. 218. [Presenting a report.] Do you recognize that as a copy of the report of Messrs. Hyams and Colquhoun?

A. I think it is. I have not the original.

[It is stipulated that this copy of report may be treated as a copy, subject to correction by comparison with the original; and the copy is marked "Exhibit 13, G. C. B., April 10, 1903."]

Q. 219. Mr. Bigelow, you called my attention, on the last day of the taking of your deposition, to certain pages in your letter book which had been cut out; will you give the numbers of the pages that are cut out and the date before and after such pages? Just read the memorandum, if any, in the margin of the book at that point.

A. "June 15, 1895. Pages 309 to 313, inclusive, were spoiled." The date before is "June 15, 1895," and the date after is "June 15, 1895."

Q. 220. Can you state in whose handwriting the lead pencil memorandum "June 15, 1895, pages 309 to 313, inclusive, were spoiled" is? I want to know in whose handwriting that is.

A. I could not say as to that. It is not in my handwriting.

Q. 221. I call your attention to a printed report dated Boston, April 3, 1901, entitled, "To the stockholders of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company," and to a printed report entitled, "Report of the directors to the stockholders—report of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for the year ending December 31, 1901," and ask you whether it is not a fact that these two reports, of which these are copies, were issued by the company and were the only reports issued by the company to the stockholders of the company prior to April 4, 1902?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to on the ground that whether the reports were or were not issued is of no relevancy to this action against Leonard Lewisohn, there being no evidence of any 141 duty devolving upon him to issue or cause to be issued any report, and on the general ground of the irrelevancy, immateriality, and incompetency of the question.

A. I cannot remember; these reports were doubtless sent out, but whether they are the only ones ever sent out, I cannot say.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I move that the answer be stricken out in regard to the sending out and circulation of the reports, on the ground that Leonard Lewisohn is not shown to have had any connection with the making or preparation of the report, or any knowledge of its having been communicated to the stockholders.

Q. 222. You have no recollection, have you, of any other reports than the two exhibited to you having been sent out?

A. No, sir.

Mr. BRANDEIS [to the stenographer]: Now if you will mark those as exhibits; you need not copy them.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I object to their introduction.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I want them marked as exhibits.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I object to their introduction as exhibits, as being irrelevant, immaterial, and incompetent; that they are not shown to have been authorized by Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, or that he had any knowledge of them, and that they are reports concerning the company long subsequent to the time of the transactions set forth in the bill of complaint; and have no bearing upon the issues presented.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I think that is all I want to ask Mr. Bigelow until I get that account from Mr. Hyams.

[The two reports referred to in Int. 221 were respectively marked "Exhibit 14, G. C. B., April 10, 1903," and "Exhibit 15, G. C. B., April 10, 1903."]

[The further taking of this deposition was suspended until Thursday, April 16, 1903, at 10 A. M.]

THURSDAY, April 16, 1903.

[The further taking of the deposition of ALBERT S. BIGELOW, Esq., was resumed at the office of Messrs. Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, No. 220 Devonshire street, Boston.]

(By Mr. BRANDEIS:)

Q. 223. I hand you an account entitled "Old Dominion Syndicate" which has been furnished by Mr. G. M. Hyams, as being an account made up from the stub of your check 142 book, showing the amounts received from subscribers, and the amounts paid out, and showing a balance on the whole transaction of $50,464.15 contributed by you to the syndicate, which will be marked Exhibit 16; I also hand you an account entitled "A. S. Bigelow Old Dominion Investment Account," also furnished me by Mr. Hyams as being the result of the entries on your check book showing the amounts of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock received by you, the disposition of that stock by sale, and the portion of stock retained by you, and I ask you whether or not these statements prepared by Mr. Hyams are correct?

A. To the best of my knowledge and belief they are.

[The account entitled "Old Dominion Syndicate" is marked "Exhibit 16, April 16, 1903, G. C. B." and the account entitled "A. S. Bigelow Old Dominion Investment Account" is marked "Exhibit 17, April 16, 1903, G. C. B."]

[For text, see B Exhibit 46 and B Exhibit 47.]

Q. 224. Is it not a fact that from the time of the first meeting of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, held July 9, 1895, by the incorporators and stockholders for the purpose of organization, up to April 3, 1901, no meeting whatever of the stockholders was held, with the exception of the annual meeting held April 5, 1899, and the special meeting held June 15, 1899?

A. On examining the minute book of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, I find that only such meetings of stockholders took place as stated in your question, but I find that on the 18th of September, 1895, as appears on page 27, the following minute or record which immediately follows the record of the meeting of the directors on that date:—

"All action taken by directors at above meeting is fully confirmed and approved of in all respects.

A. S. BIGELOW.
THOMAS NELSON.
M. T. STEVENS.
LEONARD LEWISOHN.
HENRY M. WHITNEY.
JOSEPH G. RAY.
EDGAR BUFFUM.

143 The undersigned common stockholders of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company do hereby approve of the action of the directors shown by the above record of meeting held on the 18th day of September, 1895.

[In pencil]

30,000 shs. LEONARD LEWISOHN.
A. S. BIGELOW.
20,000 shs. THOMAS NELSON, Trens.
100,000 shs. PHILIP A. DUMARESQ.

150,000 shs."

Q. 225. Are you able to state in whose handwriting the pencil figures of the number of shares on page 27, to which you have referred, are?

A. No; I could not say. I do not think I ever wrote "shares" in that way.

Q. 226. Have you, since the last adjournment, found any papers of any kind relating to the subject under consideration, or relating to the Old Dominion matters, in addition to those which you have already produced or which have been produced by Mr. Hyams at the taking of his deposition?

A. No, I have not.

Q. 227. Have you, since the last adjournment, seen any papers other than those of which you and Mr. Hyams had possession of, relating to this matter?

A. I do not think so.

Q. 228. Have you, since the last adjournment, in any way refreshed your recollection so that you are able to give any testimony on the matters inquired about in addition to that which you have already given?

A. You mean with regard to the whole subject?

Q. 229. With regard to the whole, or any part.

A. Why, certainly.

Q. 230. How have you refreshed your recollection?

A. By looking over the letters that have been submitted.

Q. 231. You mean by looking over the record of the testimony?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 232. Now will you state fully all that you have been able to recall, in addition to that which has been testified to by you?

A. Well, I can recall the matter of the purchase of the Simpson 5/7ths; I can recall as to that; and I can recall as to what led us to go into it; and I can recall what ideas we had regarding it.

Q. 233. Is that all?

A. I think it is, yes.

Q. 234. Now will you state fully what you have been able to recall as to the Simpson 5/7ths interest?

A. The letters that have been submitted show that I was interested in the purchase of that Simpson interest to the extent of one half.

144 Q. 235. I do not want to ask questions, but you may just go on and state as fully as you can what you remember in regard to the matter.

A. My recollection of the matter is that we considered it of great value. There was nothing fully determined, as I recollect, at that time, as to what should be done with the property. As I remember it, we decided to keep on working the property as it was, in the shape that it was. Then I recollect afterwards—I could not say exactly whether it was afterwards or not—when we got the Keyser interest, that it was thought Mr. Lewisohn could float a minority interest in Europe, which I think is also stated in some of the letters which have been submitted, for a price that would reimburse us for what we had paid for the property. There was nothing, to my recollection, entered into as to forming a new company under New Jersey laws until the last part of June, 1895. Up to that time, the matters in connection with the property were left, pretty much, in charge of Mr. Lewisohn. After the New Jersey company was formed I assumed more or less charge. My recollection is that the plan to be adopted was that a New Jersey corporation should be formed with 150,000 shares of stock; then that, as Mr. Lewisohn and I owned the entire property, we should turn over that entire property as a whole, with $500,000 in money, as a whole, to the company for its entire capital stock; the details to be carried out by the counsel who had been employed by Mr. Lewisohn, Mr. Beaman, of Evarts, Choate & Beaman. That, in a nutshell, is as I recollect the matter.

Q. 236. Is there anything else that you recollect in regard to the matter?

A. I do not now remember.

Q. 237. You have, I presume, refreshed your recollection by conference with counsel since the last adjournment, as well as by reading the record, have you not?

A. I do not see how counsel could refresh my memory.

Q. 238. You have conferred with them?

A. Certainly.

Q. 239. And you recall nothing additional to what you have testified beyond what you testified at the previous sessions and beyond what you have now given?

A. I could not recall anything more, unless some specific question were asked me as to details.

Q. 240. You stated, in answer to Int. 235, that "There was nothing fully determined, as I recollect, at that time, as to what should be done with the property:" what time did you refer to?

A. At the time we first got the option from Simpson.

Q. 241. You say "nothing was fully determined:" what was discussed?

A. There were no plans discussed at that time beyond getting Mr. Hyams' and Mr. Colquhoun's report on the property. Soon after it was discussed as to placing the property in Europe.

145 Q. 242. And forming a new company to take that over?

A. No, sir.

Q. 243. I do not mean there was discussion of forming a particular company, but there was talk, was there not, of a reorganization?

A. There was talk of a reorganization of the old company,—of the Baltimore Company.

Q. 244. Was not there talk of transferring the interest to the new company?

A. Not that I remember.

Q. 245. I mean shortly after the taking of the option?

A. Not that I remember. As I say, these details were left largely to Mr. Lewisohn, and he was the party in interest who was going to negotiate to see whether he could place the property in Europe upon certain terms which I do not remember; if the negotiations had been carried out in Europe of course then I should have heard what th terms would be.

Q. 246. And that came up almost immediately after the optio was taken?

A. I do not think that came up for some little time afterwards.

Q. 247. Well, at this time, when you first discussed the matte who were interested in the property besides yourself and Mr. Lew isohn?

A. The parties who had signed these syndicate papers.

Q. 248. Not all of them, were they? When did Mr. Coram, Mr Nelson, Mr. Luce, and Mr. Meredith become parties and get thei interest in the Simpson option?

A. Not later than May 16, 1895.

Q. 249. I call your attention to Int. 8 of your deposition and th answer thereto, viz.,—

"Q. 8. Did not Mr. Lewisohn talk with you about having Mr Meredith get an option? A. Not that I remember."

Have you been able to recall anything in regard to that matter?

A. I do not remember any special talk with Mr. Lewisohn about that, as I have already testified in answer to that interrogatory, but I think it is more than possible that he did talk it over with me. We were apt to meet together pretty nearly every morning on the telephone and discuss matters in general.

Q. 250. I will also ask you about Int. 13 and the answer thereto, viz.,—

"Q. 13. Do you not recall that prior to the obtaining of this option of April 30, 1895, Mr. J. Morris Meredith came into your office and telephoned from your office to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn relating to this proposed purchase? A. It would be impossible for me to recall anything like that."

Have you been able to recall anything further?

A. No, sir.

146 Q. 251. I call your attention also to Int. 14 and the answer thereto, viz.,—

"Q. 14. How soon after April 30, 1895, did you have any communication with Leonard Lewisohn regarding that option? A. It is impossible for me to say."

Have you been able to recall anything further in regard to that?

A. Nothing definite.

Q. 252. Anything further at all?

A. I could not change my answer to that. It is impossible for me to say.

Q. 253. I call your attention also to Int. 16 and the answer thereto, viz.,—

"Q. 16. Do you recall whether you had any communication with Leonard Lewisohn in regard to the proposed purchase of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City before this revised option of May 4 was executed? A. I could not recall that."

Do you recall anything further in regard to that?

A. I could not recall anything now. There is no doubt but what I had communication with Lewisohn all the time.

Q. 254. I also call your attention to Ints. 62, 63, 64, 65, and 66, inclusive, inquiring whether you have not some recollection of some subscription paper prior to the paper of May 21, which you produced, and to your answer that you had no recollection, that you thought there was such a paper, but you had no recollection as to what the agreement was: have you any recollection now as to what that paper provided?

A. What the wording of it was? No.

Q. 255. I do not mean the exact wording, but what the purport of it was?

A. I do not recollect. Mr. Hyams has, however, just handed me the following, which he says is a copy of an agreement which was signed by Messrs. Coram, Lewisohn, Nelson, Whitney, Meredith, and myself. Mr. Hyams recollects that he last remembers of seeing the original in Mr. Lauterbach's possession some time after the demand was first made upon me and upon Mr. Leonard Lewisohn for the syndicate in this matter by the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company:

"Whereas, A. S. Bigelow has contracted to purchase eight thousand nine hundred and twenty eight (8928) shares of the Old Dominion Copper Company, a corporation organized under the laws of Maryland and owning property in Arizona, at forty (40) dollars per share, or thereabouts, the undersigned hereby agree to take the number of shares set opposite their respective names and pay for the 147 same at the rate of forty (40) dollars per share; the said stock to remain in the hands of A. S. Bigelow and the management of the property to be left with him. Payments to be made as follows:

May 27, 1895, fourteen per cent (14%).

July 26, 1895, twenty eight and two thirds per cent (28 2/3%) with interest at five per cent (5%) from the date of the first payment.

August 25, 1895, twenty eight and two thirds per cent (28 2/3%) with interest at five per cent (5%) from the date of the first payment.

September 24, 1895, twenty eight and two thirds per cent (28 2/3%) with interest at five (5%) from the date of the first payment.

The stock to be delivered on final payment.

The conditions, covenants and agreements herein contained shall be binding on the substitutes, successors, heirs representatives and assignees of the respective subscribers hereto.

In witness whereof we have hereunto set our hands and opposite thereto the amount of our subscription respectively this twenty second day of May, 1895."

Q. 256. My question asked whether you did not have some agreement earlier in date than the first Old Dominion subscription introduced by you in connection with your deposition, which was marked "Exhibit 3," and which was dated May 21, 1895? The paper you have just read is dated May 22. Was there not some paper earlier than May 21; in other words, some paper as early or earlier than May 16, when it appears that Messrs. Coram, Nelson, Meredith, and Luce, made their first payment to you towards the one half of the $2000 for the Simpson-estate option?

A. I do not believe there is any earlier paper than that which the stenographer has just taken a copy of [referring to the paper of May 22]. I believe that is the earliest paper that there was.

Q. 257. Do you have any recollection as to what the agreement with Messrs. Meredith, Whitney, Coram, and Nelson was on which they paid you the $720 on May 16?

A. I do not believe there was any agreement.

Q. 258. Well, if they paid you $720 on that date, it must have been upon some agreement or understanding, must it not?

A. That I cannot recollect. I cannot recollect anything more than that account shows.

Q. 259. Well, you do not mean to testify that there was no agreement or understanding, but you do not recall what it was?

A. I do not recall what it was or whether there was any agreement.

148 Q. 260. I call your attention to Ints. 87, 88, and 89, inquiring as to whether Mr. Leonard Lewisohn was in New York or Boston on May 28, and your answers thereto, and ask you whether you now have any recollection on that subject?

A. No, sir.

Q. 261. I call your attention to Ints. 127 and 128, inquiring whether you have any recollection as to the conversation with Mr. Butler, referred to in the letter of Lewisohn Brothers to you on June 18, 1895, and ask you whether you have now any recollection on that subject?

A. I do not recall anything further.

Q. 262. I call your attention to Int. No. 141, viz.,—

"Q. 141. Have you any recollection other than what appears by the correspondence which has been put in evidence in connection with your deposition and the record of the directors' meeting on July 11, 1895, now shown you as to what took place in connection with the organization of the company or any conversation with Leonard Lewisohn or any other person in relation thereto? A. No, sir."

You have to-day testified to some fact, you have given some testimony in addition to that previously testified to, have you not?

A. What I understood by that question was, at the time of the meeting; as to what took place at the meeting, of the organization. I do not believe I took in the question fully. Was not the organization meeting held in New Jersey?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Yes, the records say so.

The WITNESS: And I was not there.

Mr. BRANDEIS: But the meeting of July 11 was held at the office of Lewisohn Brothers.

The WITNESS: That was not the organization meeting.

Q. 263. But the meeting of July 11, about which you were inquired of and the record of which you looked over before answering, was the meeting held July 11, 1895, at which you and the others voted to purchase the property of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City for 100,000 shares and certain mining claims standing in the name of Keyser for 30,000 shares. Now what has refreshed your recollection in regard to what took place? What, if anything, has refreshed your recollection as to what took place at that meeting?

A. Nothing has refreshed my recollection there except what is contained in the records. As I said, I do not remember of being present at that meeting. But I want to state here, Mr. Brandeis, that there is nothing I have heard since the last hearing, or since 149 the adjournment of the taking of my deposition, that has refreshed my memory as to the fundamental facts that are in my mind as to the organization of the New Jersey Company, what was to be done by that company and by Mr. Lewisohn and myself.

Q. 264. I call your attention to Int's. 145, 146, 147, and 148, inquiring about any interview with Mr. Woodhull, and your answers thereto, and ask you whether you have been able to refresh your recollection in regard to that?

A. No, sir.

Q. 265. I call your attention to Int's. 151, 152, 153, 154, 155, and 156, in which I inquired as to your recollection in regard to the subscriptions taken to the Old Dominion Syndicate, Exhibits 3, 4, 6, and 5, and ask you whether you have any further recollection in regard to any of the matters therein inquired about.

A. If you ask me if I have any recollection, I have no recollection.

Q. 266. I call your attention to Int's. 157, 158, 159, 160, 161, 162, 163, and 164, in which I inquire as to what part you had, if any, in conducting negotiations in connection with the purchase of the Simpson and Keyser interests, and ask you whether you have any recollection in regard to the matter other than what you have already testified to?

A. I remember nothing additional, and I can recall nothing except what appears by the letter of Lewisohn Brothers to me, dated June 18, which has been put in evidence. I have no recollection, but there were doubtless consultations had by me with Lewisohn Brothers or with Mr. Leonard Lewisohn.

Q. 267. I call your attention to Int. 191 and the answer thereto, in which I asked whether there was any subscription list to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock other than the list introduced and marked "Exhibit 10;" you stated that you could recollect no other. Have you any further recollection on that subject?

A. That is the only list I know of.

Q. 268. I call your attention to Int's. 194, 195, 196, 197, 198, and 199, inquiring in regard to correspondence and conversations with subscribers to the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, and ask you whether you have been able to recall anything further than what you have already testified to on that subject?

A. I testified before, didn't I, that I could not recall any specific conversation? I doubtless had conversation with many of them.

Q. 269. Have you any recollection other than that which you have already given?

A. No, I have not.

Q. 270. I call your attention to Ints. 201 and 202, in which I inquired as to your recollection concerning the way you exercised your discretion in allotting the 60,000 shares of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock to subscribers, and ask you whether you have now any recollection on that subject?

150 A. I do not change my answers to Ints. 201 and 202.

[Recess until 2.15 P. M., and resumed.]

Mr. BRANDEIS: I believe that is all that I have to ask Mr. Bigelow at present.

Cross-examination:

[In answer to cross-interrogatories propounded by Edward Lauterbach, Esq., counsel for the defendants, the witness further deposes and says:]

X 271. Mr. Bigelow, you have been all through your adult life, as far as business is concerned, dealing in metals, mining stocks, and mining properties?

A. Yes, sir; I began when I was seventeen, and with the exception of about two years' interlude, when I was in Chicago,—I went through the great fire there,—I have been in the copper-mining business all my days since.

X 272. You succeeded your father in the business?

A. Yes, my father was in the business before me.

X 273. So that before, and during the transactions which are being considered here, you were familiar with mining properties and their values, and the values of stocks?

A. Yes, sir.

X 274. Your business relations with Leonard Lewisohn, and the firm of Lewisohn Brothers, were very intimate in 1895, and prior to that time?

A. Very intimate indeed, yes.

X 275. And transactions, other than the one in question, had been carried on between you?

A. Yes, sir.

X 276. The firm of Lewisohn Brothers were largely engaged in dealing in metals and mining properties?

A. Yes, sir.

X 277. Your business relations with them were so close that, as you have testified, you had connection with them by private telephone?

A. By private telephone, yes.

X 278. And such that you had daily conversation with them over the wire?

A. Yes, sir.

X 279. Had you known by repute the Old Dominion properties prior to 1895?

A. Yes, sir.

X 280. You knew of the mine by reputation?

A. Yes, sir.

X 281. It was a dividend-paying concern?

A. I believe it was, yes sir.

X 282. And you believed it to be a valuable property?

A. Very.

151 X 283. From your relation with the Lewisohns, and in the course of business that was transacted between you, can you tell me what, according to your best recollection, was the first intimation that some negotiation in respect to the Old Dominion property was on foot?

Mr. BRANDEIS: That is objected to as calling for an inference, and not a recollection?

X 284. State your best recollection.

A. According to my best recollection we had conversations, doubtless, before the option on the Simpson interest was obtained.

X 285. You did not communicate in the first instance, so far as you recollect, to Mr. Lewisohn that the property could be acquired?

A. No, sir.

X 286. Your best recollection is that the first intimation came from him to you?

A. Yes, sir.

X 287. Judging from the correspondence that took place, and the options, and the records generally, do you know at about what time your attention was first called to the matter?

A. I should say it was probably some time in April, 1895.

X 288. And your recollection is that the possibility of the acquisition of the Simpson interest in the mine was called to your attention?

A. Yes, sir.

X 289. On the basis of a million dollars for the whole property?

A. Yes, sir.

X 290. And what was your judgment of that price, as to the reasonableness of that price?

A. We thought it was very cheap at that price.

X 291. You had been engaged in other similar transactions with Lewisohn Brothers, in the purchase of mining properties?

A. Yes, sir.

X 292. And in this transaction Mr. Beaman acted as counsel, did he not?

A. Yes.

X 293. He had your full confidence?

A. Yes, sir.

X 294. You knew that at about the time the first option, for the five sevenths, was obtained, Mr. Beaman was advising Mr. Lewisohn?

A. Yes, sir.

X 295. Before the Keyser option was obtained, what, if you recollect, was the policy pursued, or intended to be pursued, in respect to the management of the mine?

A. It was to run the mine as it was in its then condition, having the Keyser interest as a minority interest.

X 296. And it was not until the acquisition of the Keyser option that any change in the policy could have been made?

A. No, sir, I do not think so.

X 297. You gathered from the record, and you state the fact to be, that upon obtaining the option on the five sevenths you were to be interested one half and Mr. Lewisohn one half?

A. Yes, sir.

152 X 298. And you knew that that would necessitate the contribution by you of one half of the purchase price of the Simpson interest?

A. Yes, sir.

X 299. And you immediately made arrangements for raising the money?

A. Yes, sir.

X 300. By associating with yourself whom?

A. By associating with myself Mr. Henry M. Whitney, Mr. Matthew Luce, Mr. J. A. Coram, Mr. Thomas Nelson, and Mr. J. Morris Meredith.

X 301. It is in evidence that you received from certain subscribers on the 16th of May a contribution towards the first payment that you were called upon to make of $1000 towards the $2000 paid by Mr. Lewisohn for that option; and it is also in evidence that on the 22d of May a formal subscription was made by these gentlemen, as you have testified?

A. Yes, sir.

X 302. And it appears that shortly thereafter, that is, on May 28, you repaid to these gentlemen the amounts that they had contributed towards the $1000?

A. Yes, sir.

X 303. From those facts do you not gather that some arrangement, either oral or in writing, was entered into between you and them before the 22d of May?

A. Doubtless there was.

X 304. And that the contribution made by them on the 16th of May was in the proportion it was contemplated they should enter into the arrangement with you?

A. Yes, sir.

X 305. And it is fair to assume that the repayment of money to them was based upon the same proportion?

A. Yes.

X 306. And is the proportion that was afterwards carried out, under the terms of the agreement of May 22?

A. I believe it is, yes, sir.

X 307. Do you happen to recall what the subscriptions of the respective parties were to the agreement of May 22, as a matter of memory?

A. I would not dare to swear to that.

X 308. Mr. Bigelow. I call your attention to a letter of June 28, 1895, from Lewisohn Brothers to C. C. Beaman, as follows:

"DEAR SIR: We merely desire to confirm our message to your clerk on the telephone this afternoon that Mr. Leonard Lewisohn would like to hear from you at your convenience whether you would consider it would be best to reorganize the Old Dominion Copper Company under the laws of Arizona, or whether it would be more advantageous to do so under the laws of some other State.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS."

153 Bearing that letter in mind, can you recollect whether you had any intimation at any date earlier than June 28 of any intention to organize a New Jersey corporation?

A. No, sir, I do not.

X 309. You do not recall anything prior to that date? Does the reading of that letter refresh your memory as to when the subject of the organization of a corporation other than under the laws of Arizona was called to your attention?

A. It was probably some little time after that.

X 310. The old corporation was really a Maryland corporation, and it was an error to speak of it as a corporation under the laws of Arizona?

A. Yes, sir.

X 311. Had you conceived of the policy of organizing a New Jersey corporation, or any corporation other than a Maryland corporation, at any time prior to June 28?

A. No, sir.

X 312. Or for several days thereafter?

A. No, sir, not according to my recollection.

X 313. Have you any recollection of being consulted by Mr. Lewisohn in reference to the extent of the capitalization of the New Jersey corporation when it was about to be formed?

A. Why, certainly we discussed it together.

X 314. What was the nature of that discussion?

A. The nature of the discussion was that it should be a company formed with 150,000 shares of stock, with a par value of $25 a share.

X 315. And this discussion was after the exercise of the option?

A. So I understand.

X 316. Can you recall any discussion as to the distribution of the stock of the company when formed?

A. Why, certainly; that is the fundamental thing of the whole business, as I understand.

X 317. What was it?

A. It was that we should receive all the stock of the new company for the entire property of the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore, located in Arizona, and $500,000 in money.

X 318. Which you were to furnish?

A. Yes, sir.

X 319. Were you aware at any time of having a change in that policy; if so, when?

A. No, sir, I am not aware of any change.

X 320. It appears in evidence that in form the property of the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore, other than the mines and mining claims conveyed to Mr. Lewisohn by Mr. Keyser, was conveyed for a separate consideration of 100,000 shares of the new company, and those mining claims for a separate consideration of 300,000 shares of the new company: was there an arrangement
154 or agreement or understanding at any time that separate values should be placed on the two classes of property?

A. No, sir.

X 321. Did any discussion ever take place in your presence in which the relative values of the Old Dominion property and the mining claims spoken of was considered or canvassed?

A. No, sir; to the best of my recollection.

X 322. Under whose direction was the organization of the new company, the transfer of property to it, and the issue of the stock of the new company conducted?

A. By Mr. Beaman, of the firm of Evarts, Choate & Beaman.

X 323. And you relied upon his advice in the matter?

A. Entirely and absolutely.

X 324. Do you know of any reason why a separation in the issuance of the stock was made?

A. No, sir; I cannot understand why it was done.

X 325. Was your attention ever called to the separation referred to?

A. I do not think it was called to my attention until Mr. Brandeis came into the office, at the time I read the record to Mr. Brandeis.

X 326. Is the same statement true of the separation of the 20,000 shares from the 130,000 shares?

A. Yes, sir, absolutely.

X 327. And you assumed up to that time that 20,000 shares with the 130,000 shares had come into your possession as owners of the property in bulk?

A. Entirely into my possession and Mr. Lewisohn's.

X 328. Was that the first occasion on which you read the letters?

A. I think so, to the best of my knowledge.

X 329. Did you personally make any of the records of the company except as your signature may appear upon the records in your own handwriting?

A. No, sir, I do not think so.

X 330. In providing moneys through the stock-subscription agreement of July 18, how much money did you contemplate raising by the sale of stock under that agreement? I am speaking now of the agreement that resulted in the subscription for 72,000 shares that was scaled down to 60,000 shares.

A. A million and a half of money.

X 331. Which was to repay the million dollars, the purchase price of the Old Dominion of Baltimore stock, and to provide a working capital for the new company?

A. The Old Dominion stock and the other properties.

X 332. And to provide a working capital for the new company?

A. Yes, sir.

X 333. The subscribers to the agreement of May 22 were not called upon to take up the eight thousand and odd shares of stock to which they had subscribed, were they, at any time?

A. No, sir.

155 X 334. That agreement referred to your one half interest in the stock that you were to acquire?

A. That agreement referred to my one half interest in the stock I acquired in the Old Dominion of Baltimore, Md.

X 335. And the money was raised by subscriptions to the Old Dominion Syndicate agreement, Exhibits 3, 4, 6, and 5?

A. Yes, sir.

X 336. To which agreement some of the subscribers to the agreement of May 22 became parties?

A. Yes, sir.

X 337. In securing subscriptions, either to the original subscription of May 22, or to the Old Dominion Syndicate, or to the stock-subscription syndicate of July 18, did you at any time solicit any one to make subscriptions?

A. No, sir, not one.

X 338. Did you at any time refrain from giving any information to any one of the subscribers to any of the papers referred to upon request?

A. No, sir.

X 339. Or did you ever withhold any information that was requested of you by any subscriber?

A. No, sir.

X 340. Did you ever make any statement or representation to any subscriber, or to any one, that was not truthful?

A. No, sir.

X 341. Did you at any time suppress any information?

A. No, sir.

X 342. In the letters which you addressed to those who became subscribers, did you state truthfully the situation as you believed it to be at the time the letter was written?

A. Why, certainly.

X 343. I call your attention to a letter of June 11, written by you to Maxwell Woodhull of Washington, D. C., in which you wrote that you had become interested in an Arizona property. That was true, was it not?

A. Yes, sir.

X 344. That you "had bought five-sevenths of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company, which was owned by an estate here, for $714,285." That was true?

A. I said we had.

X 345. That was true?

A. Yes, sir.

X 346. "Since then we have been negotiating for the other two-sevenths on the same terms, and I think we shall get them." That was true?

A. Yes.

X 347. "The terms of the sale were $1,000,000 for the whole property." That was true?

A. Yes, sir.

X 348. "We have already made the first payment on our contract for the five-sevenths, which was $100,000, and given three notes for the balance, due upon the following dates," and the dates follow. That was true?

A. Yes, sir.

X 349. "But in taking the two-sevenths, which I think 156 we may be able to secure—we shall know about it positively today or tomorrow—Mr. Lewisohn takes only one-third, leaving two-thirds for us here." That was true?

A. Yes, sir.

X 350. "The terms of payment for the two-sevenths will be practically the same as that for the five-sevenths." That was true?

A. Yes, sir.

X 351. "All this interest is to be held as a syndicate until a reorganization of the company is effected." That is true?

A. Yes, sir.

X 352. "The Old Dominion is a company of many years' standing, and has been a considerable copper producer in the past." That was true?

A. Yes, sir.

X 353. "It has an efficient plant, and is today capable of producing from 1,500,000 to 2,000,000 pounds of copper per month. Mr. Hyams examined the property for us carefully, and he reports that there are four years' ground opened ahead and that he sees a profit in working the mine of from $350,000 to $500,000 a year. I firmly believe that we shall make a great deal of money out of the purchase, but this was not the incentive that induced us to go into it. Our reason for securing it was, as I have often expressed to you, to secure yet more control of the copper market than we now have, in other words, to place our office first in the world as a copper producer, and we feel bound when we have a chance to buy well known and developed copper properties to take hold of them largely to protect ourselves." All those statements are true?

A. True, to the best of my knowledge and belief.

X 354. And your statement in respect to Mr. Hyams' examination of the property—you knew that he had examined it?

A. Yes.

X 355. And you believed his report?

A. Oh, yes.

X 356. And your statement in regard to his report was based upon his report?

A. Yes, sir.

X 357. "We have not yet decided what plan we shall pursue in regard to the Old Dominion." That was on June 11. And that was true?

A. Yes, sir.

X 358. "It will have to be something like this, viz: The present company is organized with a share capital of 25,000 shares. We shall doubtless reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares." That was of the existing company?

A. Yes, sir.

X 359. An increase of the stock of the existing company?

A. It refers to that company.

X 360. "Our present idea is to place somewhat less than half of this in Europe at a price that will pay back to the subscribers their money and give them their stock in the new company for nothing. Those are the terms on which the other subscribers have come in." You believed that to be entirely true?

A. Yes, sir.

157 X 361. And in all statements in all letters written to subscribers, or intending subscribers, you stated what you believed to be true?

A. Certainly.

X 362. On the 24th of July, 1895, the new corporation had been formed?

A. It had been.

X 363. And when the stock-subscription agreement of July 18 was subscribed to, the company had been formed?

A. Yes.

X 364. And a new policy had been adopted?

A. Yes, sir.

X 365. After that period, at any time when subscriptions to the stock-subscription agreement of July 18 were made, did you answer fully and truthfully any questions that were propounded at any time?

A. Yes, sir.

X 366. By any subscriber?

A. Yes, sir.

X 367. And in your letters to subscribers you endeavored to state what was truthful and correct?

A. Yes, sir.

X 368. I refer to your letter to Mr. Woodhull of July 24, in which you say, "Your favor of the 22nd has been received and contents noted. As I had already written you on the same day that I intended to take my proportion of the subscription stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company at $25 per share in lieu of cash, I did not think it necessary to telegraph you. The original members of the syndicate will not have any special right to subscribe to the balance of the subscription stock above their pro rate share." That was correct?

A. Yes, sir.

X 369. "Your subscription of $15,000 to the original syndicate and $15,000 to the subscription stock will entitle you to 1200 shares." That was correct?

A. Yes.

X 370. "That is, you put in no more money, but receive stock instead of cash for your bonus as a member of the original syndicate. The original stock of the new company is 150,000 shares of the par value of $25 each."

A. Yes.

X 371. "60,000 shares are issued for subscription at $25 a share cash; the proceeds of 40,000 shares or the shares themselves going to the original members, of the syndicate as a bonus and the proceeds of 20,000 shares, or, say $500,000, going to the company as a working capital." That was a truthful statement?

A. Yes, sir.

X 372. And, so far as you know, in all other correspondence to subscribers or others you stated what was truthful concerning the stock?

A. Yes.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Whatever he stated was truthful.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Yes; I understand the distinction.

X 373. In availing of the options of the Simpson estate and of the Keyser, was any one interested in the purchase except Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, and yourself and your associates, under the agreement of May 22?

A. I do not think so.

158 X 374. And no one else was interested in the purchase at the time of its consummation?

A. Not that I know of.

X 375. And the interest of those mentioned in the agreement of May 22 extended only to the purchase, to furnishing funds for the purchase of your one half of the stock?

A. That is all.

X 376. And, as you have stated, that agreement was never availed of?

A. No; I knew it could be availed of very well.

X 377. You knew nothing of the details of any syndicate which Mr. Lewisohn might have formed in order to furnish the money for the purchase of his share of the stock?

A. No.

X 378. You had nothing whatever to do with that?

A. Nothing at all.

X 379. And he had nothing to do originally with the raising of your share of the purchase money?

A. No, sir.

X 380. And the subscribers to the agreement of May 22 had no connection with the share of stock that Mr. Lewisohn was to purchase?

A. Not that I know of.

X 381. And no relation of partnership or otherwise existed between you and the subscribers to that agreement except as termed by the agreement itself?

A. No, sir.

X 382. You had no general partnership relation with Mr. Leonard Lewisohn?

A. No, sir.

X 383. No interest in the firm of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. No, sir; not that I know of.

X 384. No relation with them in this purchase except that you were to acquire a half interest in the five sevenths and a two thirds interest in the two sevenths, and that they were to acquire an interest of one half in the five sevenths and one third in the two sevenths?

A. That was all.

X 385. And no partnership relation existed between you?

A. No, sir.

X 386. In exercising the option, did you rely upon the report of Mr. Colquhoun and Mr. Hyams?

A. I relied on the report of Mr. Hyams mostly.

X 387. Had you ever any intention, or did Mr. Lewisohn ever express to you any intention, of keeping apart from the transactions the mining claims conveyed by Keyser to him, Leonard Lewisohn?

A. No, sir.

X 388. They were to form a part of the whole transaction?

A. Why, surely.

X 389. Had you ever any intention, or did Mr. Lewisohn ever express to you his intention, of keeping from the syndicate, or from the transaction, or out of the transaction in which the syndicate would be interested, these mining claims or their proceeds?

A. No, sir.

159 X 390. It was intended that they should form part of the whole transaction?

A. Surely.

X 391. Were the mining claims kept out of the original underwriting or syndicate of May 22, or out of any of the subsequent agreements?

A. They were not supposed to be.

X 392. And not in fact, so far as you know?

A. No, sir.

X 393. Mr. Bigelow, let me see if I understand the general scheme properly. In order to provide funds for your share of the seventeen thousand and odd shares acquired from the Simpson estate, you may have orally, and you did in writing, on May 22, provide for the underwriting of those shares?

A. Yes, sir.

X 394. With Mr. Lewisohn's purchase money you had no connection?

A. Nothing to do with it at all.

X 395. Instead of relying upon the underwriting, you received subscriptions to Exhibits 3, 4, 6, and 5 in order to raise the amount necessary to acquire the Simpson interest—your share of the Simpson interest?

A. Yes, sir.

X 396. And you subscribed yourself whatever was necessary to make up that amount?

A. Yes, sir.

X 397. Fifty thousand dollars?

A. Yes.

X 398. Which rendered it unnecessary for the underwriters to furnish the money?

A. Yes, sir.

X 399. And that applied, as well, to the money necessary for the payment for the Keyser interest?

A. Yes, sir.

X 400. So that the additional subscriptions were taken after the Keyser option had been obtained, in order to raise the whole of the money?

A. Yes, sir.

X 401. After the incorporation of the new company, the stock subscription of July 18 was opened, and subscriptions were received thereto?

A. Yes, sir.

X 402. With the intention of raising a million and a half of dollars,—a million to pay back the whole of the purchase money, and $500,000 as a working capital for the new company?

A. Yes, sir.

X 403. And that became oversubscribed?

A. Yes, sir.

X 404. The subscriptions amounting to 72,000 shares and more?

A. Yes, sir.

X 405. It required, then, 60,000 shares for the purposes mentioned?

A. Yes, sir.

X 406. And an allotment was made, so that 60,000 shares only were issued to subscribers?

A. Yes, sir.

X 407. Those who had subscribed to the Old Dominion
160 Syndicate were notified that in lieu of the return of the money to which they were entitled they could receive shares?

A. Yes, sir.

X 408. And in most instances the selection was made to receive the shares?

A. Yes, they were given the option.

X 409. And that was exercised generally?

A. Yes, sir; an option to take the shares or to take the money.

X 410. And in very few instances the money was taken?

A. Yes, sir.

X 411. And they became subscribers to the stock subscription of July 18?

A. Yes, sir.

[The further taking of this deposition was postponed until Thursday, April 23, at 10 a. m.]

BOSTON, April 23, 1903.

[The taking of this deposition was resumed at the office of Messrs. Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, at 220 Devonshire street, Boston, Mass., at 10 a. m., on Thursday, April 23, 1903, when, in answer to cross-interrogatories by Edward Lauterbach, Esq., counsel for the defendants, the witness further deposes and says,—]

X 412. Mr. Bigelow, I show you a copy of a letter of Lewisohn Brothers to the Old Colony Trust Company dated July 8, 1895, being Exhibit 82 in the suit of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company v. A. S. Bigelow, pending in the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, which reads as follows:—

"JULY 8th, 1895.

The Old Colony Trust Company, Boston Mass.

GENTLEMEN: In accordance with our telephonic conversation, I am sending you, under separate cover, registered:

$50,000.00, draft on Boston National Bank, Boston,
155,956.11, cashier's check N. Y. Guaranty & Indemnity Company

Total $205,956.11

This is in payment of my note due Sept. 25th, for $204,761.67, endorsed by Lewisohn Bros. and A. S. Bigelow, and interest from May 28th, to July 9th, 42 days, at 5 per cent; amounting to $1194.44. Total as above, $205,956.11.

Kindly strike out my signature on this note, and hold the note there. And, as stated to you by telephone, you will receive 161 from Mr. Wm. Keyser, Baltimore, on Wednesday morning another note endorsed as above, for $81,905.00, due Sept. 25th. I shall tomorrow send you the following three notes from here:

$204,761.66, due July 27th,
204,761.67, " Aug. 26th,
81,905.00, " " "

So that on Wednesday morning you will have on hand the following five notes in the Old Dominion matter, $204,761.66, due July 27th; $204,761.67, due Aug. 27th, $204,761.67, due Sept. 25th, $81,905.00, due Aug. 26th and $81,905.00, due Sept. 25th.

I will also send you from here tomorrow, the 9th, two receipts for the following cash payments which we made to you in this matter, namely, May 28th, $100,000.00 and June 20th, $121,905.00.

After you have had these notes and receipts in your possession you will kindly send to me by express, the total stock certificates of the Old Dominion Copper Company, namely 24,975 shares; also the five notes as stated above, and the agreement which contains the two receipts above mentioned.

Please telegraph me, at my expense, as soon as you receive the two checks above mentioned.

Very truly yours."

Does the reading of that letter refresh your recollection as to the time when the final payment to be made by the Lewisohns and yourself for the Keyser and Simpson stock was made?

A. Yes, sir.

X 413. That date would be the 9th of July?

A. The 9th of July, 1895.

X 414. And that letter was written prior to the incorporation of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, which took place on the 9th of July?

A. Yes, sir.

X 415. And the first meeting of the board of directors of that company, as appears from the records, took place on the 11th of July?

A. Yes, sir.

X 416. So that on the 10th of July you and Mr. Lewisohn had become the owners of all the stock of the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore, and of the Keyser mining claims, and were in a position to make a disposition of the property of the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore and of those mining claims; and such disposition was made, was it, at the first meeting of the company?

A. Yes, sir.

X 417. And you and Mr. Lewisohn received, therefore, what?

A. We received all the stock of that company.

162 X 418. The 150,000 shares?

A. Yes, sir.

X 419. And left you obligated at the time of the transfer to furnish a capital to the new company of $500,000?

A. As a working capital, yes, sir.

X 420. The subscription to stock under the subscription agreement of July 18 referred to what stock?

A. It referred to stock belonging to Mr. Lewisohn and me.

X 421. To a part of the 150,000 shares?

A. Yes, sir.

X 422. And the 60,000 shares allotted under that subscription agreement was part of that stock?

A. Yes, sir.

X 423. In fact the company had no other stock except that 150,000 shares?

A. No, sir.

X 424. Out of the 60,000 shares allotted, 20,000 shares were distributed by Mr. Nelson, were they not?

A. Yes, sir.

X 425. In accordance with your directions?

A. In accordance with the directions of Mr. Lewisohn and myself.

X 426. Mr. Lewisohn and yourself acting as the syndicate?

A. For the syndicate.

X 427. And to the subscribers named on the agreement of July 18?

A. Yes, sir.

X 428. Was there, so far as you know, any subscription to any stock to the company directly?

A. Not at all.

X 429. I am referring to the 20,000 shares.

A. Yes, sir.

X 430. And your answer is that no part of that was subscribed directly to the company?

A. No, sir.

X 431. So far as you know, had the company solicited any subscription?

A. No, sir, it had not.

X 432. Or had it issued any prospectus?

A. No, sir, it had not.

X 433. And none was in fact ever issued?

A. No, sir.

X 434. I refer to paragraph third of the bill of complaint in this action, Mr. Bigelow, in which it is alleged that at some time prior to May 24, 1895, you and Leonard Lewisohn formed the plan of acquiring all the stock of the said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and certain real estate which then stood in the name of Keyser, with a view to organizing a new corporation to acquire, and of selling to such new corporation, all the property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and the real estate held by said Keyser. Did you at that time or at any time, prior to July 1, contemplate the creation of any company to which the property referred to was to be conveyed?

A. No, sir.

163 X 435. It is alleged in that paragraph that at that time you intended to incorporate such new company for the purpose of putting its shares upon the market and selling them to such of the public as might be induced to buy the same a large number of said shares in order to provide the same with a working capital and make necessary improvements in the plant and acquire additional mining claims, and thereby securing to yourselves and such persons as they might associate with you a large profit from the purchase and resale to said new corporation to be organized by you of said property. Had you any such intention at that or at any other time?

A. No, sir.

X 436. It is further alleged in that paragraph of the complaint that you and Leonard Lewisohn conspired together to carry out said plan. Had you any such intention?

A. No, sir.

X 437. Or any intention to injure the corporation to be formed and its future stockholders?

A. No, sir.

X 438. Or to secure for yourselves, as promoters and organizers thereof, a large secret, or any profit?

A. No, sir.

X 439. Had you any other plan or purpose at the time of availing of the options of Keyser and Simpson than to become the purchasers of the stock of the Old Dominion Company and the mining claims of Keyser, to which I have referred, for yourselves?

A. No, sir.

X 440. In the fourth paragraph of the bill of complaint it is alleged that you caused to be organized the Old Dominion Syndicate pursuant to the plan or conspiracy referred to in the third paragraph of the complaint. Had you any such purpose?

A. No, sir.

X 441. You have already stated the only purpose for which the Old Dominion Syndicate was formed?

A. Yes, sir.

X 442. At the time that the subscriptions to the Old Dominion Syndicate were taken, was it known what the interest of the subscribers would be, or was that matter left to your discretion?

A. It was left entirely to me.

X 443. So that the allegation that at the time of that subscription it was intended to distribute $2,000,000 of the stock of the company to the subscribers to the syndicate is incorrect?

A. Yes, sir.

X 444. It is alleged that the first payment made under the syndicate was made on the 24th of May. So far as the record shows, it appears to have been made on the 27th of May?

A. Yes, sir.

X 445. It is alleged in the fifth paragraph of the bill of complaint that on or about the 2d of May, 1895, you made an agree-164 ment with the executors of the will of said Michael H. Simpson for the purchase of 17,857 shares of the capital stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, being five sevenths of the total capital stock of said corporation for the purpose of carrying out the plan and conspiracy referred to. Had you any such purpose at that time?

A. No, sir.

X 446. Had you any purpose at that time other than acquiring the interest of Simpson?

A. None other.

X 447. And of continuing the affairs of the corporation in conjunction with the minority stockholders?

A. No, sir.

X 448. The price stated for the five sevenths in the bill of complaint is $613,137.39. In fact, the payment made was $714,285.70?

A. Yes, sir.

X 449. It is alleged in that paragraph of the complaint that the agreement with the executors of Simpson was in the form of an option, for which a sum not exceeding $100,000 was paid. The fact is that for the option only $2000 was paid, is it not, and that the $100,000 was the first payment on account, after its acceptance?

A. Yes, sir.

X 450. In the sixth paragraph of the complaint the price to be paid for the Keyser interest is stated to be $175,182.11; the correct price is $356,145, is it not?

—. Yes, sir.

X 451. In the seventh paragraph of the complaint it is alleged that you and Lewisohn, for your common benefit, acquired from Keyser certain parcels of real estate in Arizona, the title to which then stood in the name of said Keyser, as above set forth, to wit, the four mining claims known as said Old Dominion mine, said New York mine, said Keystone mine, and said Chicago mine, and said parcel of land near the Bloody Tanks. Did you differentiate, in the acquisition of those Keyser claims, in any respect from the transaction involving the purchase of the stock of the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore?

A. No, sir.

X 452. It was an entirety?

A. Yes, sir.

X 453. And you purchased those as you did the rest?

A. Certainly.

X 454. And with the same intent and purpose?

A. Yes, sir.

X 455. And they were purchased absolutely, as was the stock of the Old Dominion Company, for Mr. Lewisohn and yourself?

A. Yes.

X 456. And not in pursuance of any plan or conspiracy?

A. No, sir.

X 457. It is alleged that for the purpose of carrying out the plan or conspiracy referred to in the third paragraph of the complaint, and in other portions of the complaint, that on or about July 8, 1895, you caused the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, the complainant herein, to be organized under the 165 general corporation laws of the state of New Jersey. Did you cause such organization to be made for any such plan or conspiracy, such as is set forth, or any other plan or conspiracy?

A. No, sir.

X 458. It was incorporated only for the purposes that you have testified to?

A. Yes, sir.

X 459. In the eleventh paragraph of the complaint it is alleged that you completed the purchase of the shares of stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company in pursuance of the plan and conspiracy referred to in the third paragraph of the bill of complaint. Such purchase was not made in pursuance of such plan or conspiracy, or any plan or conspiracy, was it?

A. No, sir.

X 460. Referring to the twelfth paragraph of the complaint, as to what transpired at the meeting of the directors on the 11th of July, it is stated that those proceedings were had as part of the plan and conspiracy referred to. Such is not the fact?

A. No, sir.

X 461. In the thirteenth and fourteenth paragraphs of the bill of complaint, the separation of the offer for the sale of the property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company for 100,000 shares, and of the claims and mines referred to as the Keyser claims, the one to be conveyed for 100,000 shares and the other for 30,000 shares, is referred to. Was your attention at the time of the meeting called to the fact of the separate offers for each?

A. Not that I remember.

X 462. I think that you have stated that your first knowledge of that was when your attention was called to it when the record was read in the presence of Mr. Brandeis and yourself about a year ago?

A. Yes.

X 463. In the fifteenth paragraph of the complaint it is alleged that you and Mr. Lewisohn caused to be offered 20,000 shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for public subscription and sale at the price of $25 per share. Was that 20,000 shares offered by you for subscription or sale in any respect except as you have already testified to as being made under the subscription agreement of July 18?

A. No, sir.

X 464. And it is alleged that such subscription was pursuant to the original plan and conspiracy. Had you any plan or conspiracy in contemplation in disposing of any of the shares?

A. No, sir.

X 465. And it is alleged in the fifteenth paragraph that the shares were subscribed for and sold, and the price therefor paid by the subscribers to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting 166 Company. Is that true, except that the subscriptions were paid in by nominees whom you designated to Mr. Nelson?

A. That is the way in which it was done.

X 466. And in no other way?

A. In no other way.

X 467. The 20,000 shares referred to in the fifteenth paragraph of the bill of complaint are alleged to have belonged to the complainant corporation. Did they, in fact, belong to that corporation, or did they belong to you?

A. They belonged to Mr. Lewisohn and me.

X 468. In the seventeenth paragraph of the complaint it is alleged that the property conveyed to the complainant by the Baltimore Old Dominion Company was, at the time of such conveyance, fairly worth not more than $1,000,000, and that said parcels of real estate sold and conveyed by Leonard Lewisohn to the complainant as aforesaid were not fairly worth more than $5000. Mr. Bigelow, having in mind the report of Mr. Hyams to yourself and your knowledge of the Old Dominion property, and the condition of the copper market and its prospects, what can you say of the value of the whole property conveyed to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. Well, we thought it was worth much more than we paid for it.

X 469. Judging from its probable earning capacity, as stated in the report of Mr. Colquhoun and Mr. Hyams, and from its past history as you understood it, and from the condition of the copper market at that time and its prospective condition as you believed it to be, did you believe that the capitalization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company at $3,750,000 was in any respect excessive?

A. No, sir.

X 470. Or that the disposition of its stock at $25 per share was in any way excessive?

A. No, sir.

X 471. It is alleged in the seventeenth paragraph of the complaint that you knew, and that Leonard Lewisohn knew, when you acquired the stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and when Leonard Lewisohn acquired the title to said parcels of real estate, and when offers to sell to the complainant were made by said Baltimore Old Dominion Company and by said Leonard Lewisohn, that the value of the property referred to in the offers was not in excess of $1,000,000 for the property of the Old Dominion Company, and of $5000 for the other property referred to in that paragraph of the complaint. So far as your knowledge extended had you any such knowledge as that?

A. No, sir.

X 472. It is alleged in that same paragraph that the stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company and the said parcels of real estate were acquired by you in the manner already stated, with intent, on your part and that of Lewisohn, to sell the said property of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company and said parcels of 167 real estate for a large price. At the time of the acquisition of that property had you any such intent?

A. No, sir.

X 473. Of course, when you sold the property to the new company, you intended to sell it for all its stock?

A. Yes.

X 474. And did so sell it?

A. Yes.

X 475. And thought it a reasonable price for it?

A. Yes, sir.

X 476. At the time of that sale you were the sole stockholders of the new company?

A. Yes, sir.

X 477. Except what was needed to qualify directors?

A. That is all.

X 478. And that was your stock, in point of fact?

A. Yes, sir.

X 479. The allegation is made in the same paragraph that you made no disclosure to the corporation of the fact that the value of the property was less than that for which it was sold to the corporation. The fact is that the corporation knew of the whole transaction?

A. Yes, sir.

X 480. And you were really the corporation?

A. Yes.

X 481. You and Mr. Lewisohn?

A. Yes, sir.

X 482. It is alleged that no disclosure was ever made by you to any of the persons who subscribed for, or who afterwards purchased stock in the complainant corporation, or to any other persons of the facts as to the purchase of said properties, or as to the reasonable value thereof. Did you ever fail to disclose, upon request, any fact connected with the transaction?

A. No, sir.

X 483. Was not the whole transaction a matter of public knowledge?

A. Yes, sir.

X 484. So far as the members of the Old Dominion Syndicate were concerned, the whole transaction was left to your discretion?

A. Yes, sir.

X 485. In the eighteenth paragraph it is stated that by the transactions set forth in the complaint you carried out the plan and conspiracy referred to. There was, as you say, no plan or conspiracy?

A. No, sir.

X 486. There was none to carry out?

A. No.

X 487. It is alleged that you acquired all the capital stock of the Baltimore Old Dominion Company for a sum less than $800,000. There is no foundation for that at all?

A. No; no truth in that.

X 488. And that you acquired it without making any further payment than the $800,000. That is not true?

A. No, sir.

X 489. You and Mr. Leonard Lewisohn acquired it by the payment of $1,000,000?

A. Yes, sir.

168 Redirect examination:

[Upon redirect examination, in answer to questions propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, the witness further deposes and says,—]

R. 490. Referring to Cross-Int. 295 and the answer thereto:

"Before the Keyser option was obtained, what, if you recollect, was the policy pursued, or intended to be pursued, in respect to the management of the mine? A. It was to run the mine as it was in its then condition——"

You mean by that answer to say that that was the intention?

A. At the beginning, yes, sir.

R. 491. Well, up to the time the Keyser option was obtained?

A. I cannot say the exact date, but of course we recognized that Keyser still had an interest in it.

R. 492. Well, is it not a fact that you did not intend to run that mine with Keyser as a minority interest, but that your intention was to acquire that minority interest?

A. Why, certainly, if we possibly could.

R. 493. And you made an effort at once to do so?

A. So I understand.

R. 494. And further than that, as soon as you acquired the majority interest,—I mean the Simpson interest,—you gave directions to shut down the mine, did you not?

A. I do not remember as to that.

R. 495. Has not your counsel, when refreshing your recollection of the testimony at the beginning of the cross-examination, called your attention to the letter of June 3, 1898, produced as Exhibit 18, in connection with the testimony of Frederick Royhauser in the suit of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. v. A. S. Bigelow, viz.,—

"JUNE 3RD, 1895.

William Keyser, Esq., President, Old Dominion Copper Co., Baltimore, Md.

DEAR SIR: The expert has returned from the Old Dominion Copper Company and—as you were doubtless advised by Mr. Butler—the first payment was duly made and good and sufficient notes given for balance.

The new owner would be obliged to you if under the circumstances you would send directions to the line to stop all work of every kind except pumping and such other work as is necessary for the protection of the property.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS,
General Manager."

169 A. I do not remember that. These matters were left with Mr. Lewisohn at that time.

R. 496. In answer to Cross-Int. 311, "Had you conceived of the policy of organizing a New Jersey corporation, or any corporation other than a Maryland corporation, at any time prior to June 28," you answered, "No, sir." And in answer to Cross-Int. 434, "Did you at that time or at any time prior to July 1 contemplate the creation of any company to which the property referred to was to be conveyed," you answered, "No, sir." Are those answers correct?

A. To the best of my knowledge and belief, yes, sir.

R. 497. Did not your counsel in conferring with you, preparatory to your cross-examination, call your attention to the letter of Lewisohn Brothers, by Jesse Lewisohn, General Manager, to Adolph Lewisohn, dated May 24, 1895, which was produced in connection with the deposition of Frederick Royhauser, in the suit of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. v. A. S. Bigelow, viz.,—

"NEW YORK, May 24th, 1895.

Adolph Lewisohn, Esq., London.

DEAR SIR: Mr. Meredith got back from Baltimore yesterday and had a conference of a couple of hours' duration with Mr. Keyser, but is none the wiser as to whether this gentleman intends to let us have his two-sevenths of the Old Dominion or not. He intimates that if we make it a different company with a higher capitalization, he would probably not remain in; but he had not decided and is not compelled to decide for sixty days. Having three directors out of five, they control; and we would have to get one of those directors to our side—otherwise they would have the running of the company until next February when a meeting will be held and new directors appointed.

We will have to take our chances on this matter, and we hope he will act fairly.

Mr. Lieberman of Arizona is one of the directors, we understand, and Mr. Leonard Lewisohn believes we will be able to win him over, and Mr. Simpson also promised to help us in gaining our point there, and it is probable that this matter will right itself in course of time as it is not likely that Keyser will be very mean when there is not much for him to gain thereby.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS.
LEWISOHN, General Manager."

170 A. No, sir, he did not.

R. 498. Having this letter now called to your attention, and particularly the sentence that "He intimates that if we make it a different company with a higher capitalization, he would probably not remain in;" and the further fact that the letter states that "Mr. Meredith got back from Baltimore yesterday,"—which would have been May 23,—do you not recall that the subject of forming a different company with a higher capitalization was considered by you and Mr. Lewisohn at some time prior to May 23?

A. No, sir, it was not.

R. 499. That is, you do not recall the fact?

A. I am very positive such was not the fact.

R. 500. Are you equally positive that there was no discussion of a new company before June 28, or July 1, as you have answered in answer to your counsel's question?

A. To the best of my knowledge and belief, there was not.

R. 501. I call your attention to the following passage in your letter of June 11, 1895, to Maxwell Woodhull: "We shall doubtless reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares, and our present idea is to place somewhat less than half of this in Europe at a price that will pay back the subscribers their money, and give them their stock in the new company for nothing," and I call your attention specifically to the expression "their stock in the new company," and I ask you whether you do not now recall that there was at some time, on or prior to June 11, some discussion between you and Mr. Lewisohn as to the formation of a new company?

A. I do not think there was, sir.

R. 502. Do you mean by your last answer to say that you made the statement which you did to Mr. Woodhull without consultation with Mr. Lewisohn, and upon your own individual initiative wholly?

A. It would be very likely to be the case.

R. 503. And therefore you wish to have it understood, and wish the court to understand, that, according to your best recollection, while you considered the question of a new company, you did not discuss that with Mr. Lewisohn?

A. I do not admit it was a question of a new company.

R. 504. You admit that in your letter you said you were going to give to the stockholders stock in the new company for nothing, do you not?

A. I meant by that letter that the old company was to be reorganized; if I used the words "new company," it meant a reorganization of the old Baltimore Company.

R. 505. Well, will you kindly look through that letter, and point out to me anything in that letter which enables you to refresh your recollection so as to testify that you meant by the words "new company" the old company?

A. This one of June 11, do you mean?

R. 506. The letter of June 11 to Maxwell Woodhull.

171 A. Simply this paragraph: "The present company is organized with a share capital of 25,000 shares. We shall doubtless reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares."

R. 507. That is all that you can point out?

A. That is what I think refers to the old company, and there was no other idea in my mind at the time.

R. 508. I ask you to point to anything and everything in that letter which enables you to testify now, as a matter of recollection, that when you used the words "new company," you meant the old company.

Mr. HEMENWAY: "The old company reorganized," is what he said.

A. I have pointed it out.

R. 509. And that is all, is it?

A. That is all that I can see.

R. 510. I call your attention also to your letter of June 12, 1895, to Moses T. Stevens, as follows: "It is proposed to reorganize this company, and the scheme, as at present outlined, is to float a little less than one-half of the new stock in Europe, which we have reason to believe we can do successfully, and then pay back to subscribers their subscription, leaving their stock in the new company costing them nothing." Did you, in that letter to Stevens, of June 12, when you used the words "new company," also mean the old company?

A. Yes, sir.

R. 511. Now will you point out to me anything in that letter which enables you to refresh your recollection so that you can testify that when you used the words "new company," you meant old company?

A. "It is proposed to reorganize this company."

R. 512. Is that all?

A. Yes, that is what I meant.

R. 513. I call your attention also to another letter of yours, to Charles S. Randall, dated June 12, 1895, in which you use the expression: "It is proposed to reorganize this company, and the scheme as at present outlined is to float a little less than one-half of the new stock in Europe, which we have reason to believe we can do successfully, and then pay back to subscribers their subscription, leaving them their stock in the new company costing them nothing." When you used the words "new company," in this letter did you also mean the old company?

A. Yes, sir.

R. 514. Are you able to point to anything in that letter which enables you to refresh your recollection to the extent that you can testify that when you used the words "new company" you meant old company?

A. Except for the words "It is proposed to reorganize this company."

R. 515. And you think if any one uses the words "to reorganize this company," or "the company," it must necessarily mean to simply make a change in that company under the laws of the same 172 state, and not to transfer the property to another company to be organized under the laws of a different state?

A. That was the intention, and that is what I recognized by these letters. It was to increase the stock of the old company.

R. 516. And is that what you mean—what you understand as the meaning of that language?

A. The meaning of those letters, yes, sir.

R. 517. I mean the meaning of the words "to reorganize the company."

A. "To reorganize this company," it is said there.

R. 518. Well, "to reorganize this company," to use that term generally?

A. That is what I mean to convey.

R. 519. Now is it not a fact, Mr. Bigelow, that, according to the ordinary parlance, in every, or nearly every, reorganization which has taken place about which you have knowledge, the expression "to reorganize the company" does not mean merely making a change in the organization of that particular company as it stands, but making such a change as may involve a new company to take over the property, as in the case of a number of railroad and other reorganizations with which you have been familiar?

A. It did in this case, to the best of my recollection.

(By Mr. LAUTERBACH:)

Q. What did it mean in this case? Your answer is not very clear. What did you suppose in this case it meant?

A. It meant to increase the capital stock of this company.

R. 520. What do you find in these letters to indicate that this particular reference to this company, which is used in one or two of the letters, was used in that narrow, that contracted, sense by you?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to, as it is by no means a narrow and contracted sense, but a very justifiable method of construction.

A. I find enough to refresh my memory enough to remember that that was the intent at that time.

R. 521. Now I call your attention to the letter of Lewisohn Brothers to C. C. Beaman, which your counsel incorporated in Cross-Int. 308, viz.,—

"DEAR SIR: We merely desire to confirm our message to your clerk on the telephone this afternoon that Mr. Leonard Lewisohn would like to hear from you at your convenience whether you would consider it would be best to reorganize the Old Dominion Copper Company under the laws of Arizona, or whether it would be more advantageous to do so under the laws of some other State.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS."

173 Now will you note the use of the expression "to reorganize the Old Dominion Copper Company under the laws of Arizona, or whether it would be more advantageous to do so under the laws of some other State?" Do you not see that there the term "to reorganize the old company" was applied to the reorganization of the corporation under the laws of a different state to which the company was to be transferred,—a different company?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That question is objected to on the ground that the letter bears its own interpretation, and on the further ground, as suggested by Mr. Hemenway, that the letters before referred to were the letters of Mr. Bigelow himself, and that this is a letter of Mr. Lewisohn, and the witness' interpretation of the letter is not properly called for, and the letter is not binding upon him.

A. If it calls attention to other states,—of course, I am trying to interpret what he did mean, whether he meant to form a new company in another state under some other state law.

R. 522. That is, under the law of Arizona, or under the law of some other state?

A. Yes, at that time.

R. 523. Now to a leading question by your counsel, "The old corporation was really a Maryland corporation, and it was an error to speak of it as a corporation under the laws of Arizona," you answered "Yes." Who committed that error?

A. Well, sir, I do not know.

R. 524. What did you mean by answering "Yes" to that question?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to on the ground that the question referred to the attitude of the Old Dominion Company being incorporated in Maryland, and the reference was to its being incorporated under the laws of Arizona, which was evidently an error. That was my question and his answer.

A. I do not know.

R. 525. Why did you answer "Yes" to that question of your counsel?

A. Because it was an error to speak of it in that way.

R. 526. Who spoke of it as a corporation organized under the laws of Arizona?

A. I do not remember.

R. 527. Why did you answer "Yes, sir," to that question of your counsel?

A. Simply it was in answer to his question.

R. 528. Point out any error that any one committed with reference to that use of the word "Arizona" in connection with the Old Dominion Copper Company.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to because the question referred to was simply that if the company was referred to as the Old Dominion Company of Arizona, it was an error, because it was

174 the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore, incorporated under the laws of Maryland, and that was the only question that was asked, and to that the witness answered that if the existing company was referred to as a company under the laws of Arizona it was an error.

A. I do not find, I cannot see, where there is any error.

R. 529. Now is not the fact, Mr. Bigelow, this: that that letter of Lewisohn Brothers to Mr. Beaman shows that, prior to the writing of that letter, the question of reorganization by forming a new company had been discussed, and the question was whether a new company should be organzied under the laws of Arizona, where the property was situated, and under whose laws many mining companies are organized, or whether it would be more advantageous to organize a new company under the laws of some other state than Arizona?

A. I do not remember.

R. 530. You stated that, according to your recollection, the intention was, prior to July 1, not to organize the company under the laws of any other state, but to increase the capital of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, a Maryland corporation: is that correct?

A. That is as I understand it.

R. 531. Now will you explain to me in what way, according to your recollection, this old company, this Maryland corporation, could be reorganized with the result of having a capital of 100,000 shares, of which all but a majority would be sold abroad and the money raised to pay back to the syndicate subscribers their $1,000,000, and let them get the other half of the stock in the Baltimore Company for nothing?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That question is objected to, as it is a matter of legal procedure not within the ken of the witness.

A. I do not recollect.

R. 532. You have no explanation to give?

A. None.

R. 533. Now it was a fact, was it not, that when you took over the Baltimore Company, the Simpson and Keyser interests, in pursuance of an agreement with Mr. Lewisohn and yourself, you stripped it of all the cash assets or working capital, turning over the company only with merely its mining property, plant, and a small quantity of supplies?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to on the ground that the agreements speak for themselves.

Mr. BRANDEIS: No, I am not asking for the agreements, I am asking whether it was not practically done.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Well, the objection is that the agreements speak for themselves as to what was to be done.

175 A. I do not remember outside of what is in here.

R. 534. Do not you remember that the company was turned over without any working capital, even copper on hand?

A. I should say by the agreement that it was.

R. 535. Now it was necessary, was it not, to raise a working capital with which to operate that mine?

A. To operate which mine?

R. 536. The Old Dominion mine.

A. — of Maryland, do you mean?

R. 537. I am not talking of the company, but of carrying on the mining operations of the property which you purchased, and which was vested in the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City. You have to have a working capital, and a large one, too.

A. You have to have money to carry on the work, of course.

R. 538. Well, how large an amount of money did you need?

A. I do not recollect as to that.

R. 539. Now how did you propose to raise that money which was required for a working capital?

A. At what time do you mean?

R. 540. At the time when it was arranged that you should take over the mine without any working capital.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The question is objected to on the ground that working capital is not essential to the conduct and operations of a mine; that there are other methods of securing that operation.

A. I do not recollect.

R. 541. I call your attention again to the clause in your letter to Mr. Woodhull of June 11, "We shall doubtless reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares, and our present idea is to place somewhat less than half of this in Europe at a price that will pay back to subscribers their money and give them their stock in the new company for nothing," and particularly to the following: "These are the terms on which the other subscribers have come in." Now I ask you if it was a fact that when you used the words, "new company," you meant new company; whether it does not appear from the very expression, "These are the terms on which the other subscribers have come in," that you had that same new company and reorganization in contemplation at the time that the subscribers to the several papers of May 21 and May 23 subscribed their names thereto?

A. No, sir.

R. 542. Why not?

A. That refers to the syndicate subscription, in my opinion, on reading the letter.

R. 543. You mean that it does not refer to that which immediately precedes it?

A. No, sir; I do not think so.

R. 544. What do you find in that letter to indicate that "These are the terms upon which the other subscribers have come in"

176 does not refer to what it would naturally appear to refer, namely, the clause immediately preceding it in the same paragraph?

A. I think it refers to the whole letter and to the syndicate subscription, and that there was no decision made as to the plans, as I say, "We have not yet decided," but if there were any profits in it, why, they were to share in any profits the same as all other syndicate subscribers.

R. 545. Your counsel examined you in relation to the fourth paragraph of the bill of complaint, called your attention to the allegation, namely, that the amount so subscribed, the $1,000,000, and paid in, should be used, so far as required, for the purpose of acquiring the property and all the capital stock of said Baltimore Old Dominion Company, and that the subscribers to said syndicate should receive, in cash or in stock of the new corporation to be formed to purchase said property from said company, $2,000,000, to be distributed pro rata according to their several subscriptions; and your counsel asked you, in Cross-Int. 443: "So that the allegation that at the time of that subscription is was intended to distribute $2,000,000 of the stock of the company to the subscribers to the syndicate is incorrect?" And you answer, "Yes, sir." Now I ask you whether, refreshing your recollection from the statements, from the clauses read to you from the letter to Maxwell Woodhull of June 11, from the letter to Moses T. Stevens of June 12, and from the letter to Charles S. Randall of June 12, you do not recall that at that time it was the intention to get for the syndicate subscribers $2,000,000 in stock and cash for what they had paid $1,000,000?

A. I cannot change my answer to that.

R. 546. Is it not a fact that at the time of the writing of those letters it was your intention and expectation that the syndicate subscribers who contributed $1,000,000 in cash should receive $2,000,000 in stock or cash, or partly in stock, $1,000,000 in stock and $1,000,000 in cash?

A. I did not know what they were going to receive at that time.

R. 547. I asked you whether it was not your intention and expectation, at the time of the writing of those letters, that the syndicate subscribers who contributed $1,000,000 in cash would receive $2,000,000, $1,000,000 in stock and the other $1,000,000 in cash?

A. I do not recollect.

R. 548. Are not you able by reading the letters and those passages in the letters to refresh your recollection in that respect?

A. I do not think anything was specified, or anything definite in my mind.

R. 549. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that when you used in the letter of Maxwell Woodhull of June 11 the expression,

"We shall doubtless reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares, 177 and our present idea is to place somewhat less than half of this in Europe at a price that will pay back to subscribers their money and give them their stock in the new company for nothing. These are the terms on which the other subscribers have come in;" and when you stated in the letter to Moses T. Stevens of June 12, 1895, "It is proposed to reorganize this company, and the scheme as at present outlined is to float a little less than one-half of the new stock in Europe, which we have reason to believe we can do successfully, and then to pay back to subscribers their subscription, leaving their stock in the new company costing them nothing;" and when you used in the letter of June 12, 1895, to Charles S. Randall, the expression, "It is proposed to reorganize this company, and the scheme as at present outlined is to float a little less than one-half of the new stock in Europe, which we have reason to believe we can do successfully, and then pay back to subscribers their subscription, leaving them their stock in the new company costing them nothing," it was your intention and expectation to make such a disposition of the stock in the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, or of the property owned by that company, so that you should give to the syndicate subscribers who contributed $1,000,000 their money back and stock to the amount of $1,000,000 without the payment of any other compensation?

A. I do not see where it says so in the letters. It says "give them their money back and their stock in the new company for nothing;" it does not say how much stock. That was left entirely discretionary with me under the syndicate papers.

R. 550. You wish now to be understood as testifying that it was not your intention to give them stock of the par value of $1,000,000 do you?

A. That I could not say. The thing was quite indefinite at that time. I intended to try to get them their money back and show them a profit.

R. 551. Well, I call your attention to the fact that you speak in your letter to Woodhull of June 11 of the present company being organized with a share capital of 25,000 shares which were of the par value of $20, and that it was proposed to reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares. Does not that fact enable you to recall that it was then your intention to give back to stockholders their money in cash and shares of an equal par value to the amount which they had contributed?

A. No, sir, it does not. There is no par value mentioned in that letter.

R. 552. It was your intention, was it not, at the time you took subscriptions to the syndicate, to reorganize the company?

A. I cannot remember.

R. 553. Well, what is your best recollection; that it was or was not?

A. My intention to reorganize the company?

178 R. 554. At the time when you took subscriptions to the syndicate.

A. I do not think anything definite was settled then when they signed that paper.

R. 555. I am not asking you whether anything definite was settled; I am asking whether it was your intention at the time you took subscriptions to reorganize the company.

Mr. HEMENWAY: His answer is complete on that. He says there was nothing definite settled then.

A. I do not think it was definitely settled in my mind then.

R. 556. Were you considering, at the time when you took subscriptions, the reorganization of the company?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The question is objected to unless the term "reorganization" is more fully defined, because there has been some parrying about that word for some time.

A. I cannot remember.

R. 557. Is it your best recollection that you were or were not?

A. The subscriptions were taken at so many different times, when that matter was settled I do not know.

R. 558. Were not subscriptions taken at the time when you were considering the reorganization of the company, or after you had begun to consider the reorganization of the company?

A. That I do not remember.

R. 559. Have you no recollection whatever upon that?

A. I do not remember about that.

R. 560. I call your attention again to the letters of June 11, 1895, to Woodhull, of June 12, 1895, to Stevens, and of June 12, 1895, to Randall, and ask you whether, at the time of writing those letters, the question of reorganization was not under consideration?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Do you include in that term "reorganization" an increase of the capital stock? Otherwise, I think it is confusing to the witness.

Mr. BRANDEIS: He can state what he wishes.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I am trying to make it clear.

Mr. HEMENWAY: He can answer only as questions are put to him.

A. I simply say in the letter to Mr. Woodhull, "We have not yet decided what plan we shall pursue in regard to the Old Dominion. It will, however, be something like this."

R. 561. What I ask you is whether, at that time, you were not considering the question of the reorganization of the company?

A. Reorganizing the old company under the Maryland laws.

179 R. 562. I ask whether you were not considering the reorganization? It is a perfectly definite expression.

A. To the best of my knowledge and belief, on reading that letter, we were considering the reorganization of the Old Dominion Company under the laws of Maryland, with increased capital.

R. 563. When, according to your best recollection, did that idea of increasing the capital of the Maryland Company enter your mind?

A. What time?

R. 564. Yes, with reference to the taking of subscriptions.

A. I cannot recollect what time.

R. 565. Well, it did enter your mind before June 11, didn't it?

A. Probably it did.

R. 566. And it was, was it not, your settled purpose at some time before June 11 to effect in some way a reorganization?

A. I do not think it was a fixed purpose.

R. 567. I call your attention to the following passage in the letter of June 11 to Maxwell Woodhull. After stating the purchase of the five sevenths, or the Simpson interest, and the proposed purchase of the two sevenths, or the Keyser interest, you say, "I enclose you a paper which you can sign if you please, which is the same as others have signed, and which tells you the dates of payments, &c. All this interest is to be held as a syndicate until the reorganization of the company is effected." Does not the reading of those words "all this interest is to be held as a syndicate until the reorganization of the company is effected," refresh your recollection that it was then a settled purpose to effect the reorganization of the company?

A. To effect the reorganization of the company at some time, certainly; it was not going to be held as a syndicate forever.

R. 568. Now it is a fact, is it not, that after June 11 a large number of subscriptions were taken to the syndicate?

A. Does not that appear by the records that have been submitted?

R. 569. Well, does it not so appear in the subscription paper, Exhibit 5, which is dated June 14, and covers $179,119 of subscriptions?

A. It does so appear.

R. 570. I call your attention to the questions put by your counsel, viz., Cross-int. 316 [p. 153]:

"Can you recall any discussion as to the disposition of the stock of the company when formed?

"A. Why, certainly; that is the fundamental thing of the whole business, as I understand.

"X 317. What was it?

"A. It was that we should receive all the stock of the new company for the entire property of the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore located in Arizona and $500,000 in money.

180 "X 318. Which you were to furnish?

"A. Yes, sir.

"X 319. Were you aware at any time of having a change in that policy; if so, when?

"A. No, sir, I am not aware of any change."

I call your attention to the passages in the letter to Woodhull of June 11, 1895, in the letter to Stevens of June 12, 1895, and in the letter to Randall of June 12, 1895, above quoted, in which you state, "We shall doubtless reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares," and ask you whether the policy of reorganizing on a basis of 150,000 shares was not a change from that under contemplation on June 11 and June 12, when you wrote the letters above referred to?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The question is objected to because the question of counsel referred to a period after the formation of the new company with a capital of 150,000 shares, and had no reference to anything anterior to that time, and the answers referred only to a period after the formation of the new company.

A. No, sir; for the reason that they did not relate to the same subject.

R. 571. I call your attention to the question put to you by your counsel:

"X 320. It appears in evidence that in form the property of the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore, other than the mines and mining claims conveyed to Mr. Lewisohn by Mr. Keyser, were conveyed for a separate consideration of 100,000 shares of the new company, and those mining claims for a separate consideration of 30,000 shares of the new company. Was there any arrangement or agreement or understanding at any time that separate values should be placed on the two classes of property?

"A. No, sir.

"X 321. Did any discussion ever take place in your presence in which the relative values of the Old Dominion property and the mining claims spoken of was considered or canvassed?

"A. No, sir, to the best of my recollection.

* * * * * * *

"X 325. Was your attention ever called to the separation referred to?

"A. I do not think it was called to my attention until Mr. Brandeis came into the office, at the time I read the record to Mr. Brandeis."

A. At the time the record was read to Mr. Brandeis.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Well, that has been changed since.

R. 572. I call your attention to the original offer of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City to sell to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company its properties for 100,000 shares of the capital stock of the plaintiff company, which offer is dated July 11, 1895, and is as follows:

181 To the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of New Jersey:

The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Maryland being the owner of certain mines and mining properties at Globe in the Territory of Arizona described in the annexed Schedule and of machinery, lumber, wood, tools, implements and other personal property for use for and in connection with the operation and maintenance thereof hereby makes the following proposition.

To convey, assign and transfer all its property, both real and personal of every kind and nature whatsoever and wheresoever situated by good and sufficient deeds and instruments properly executed so as to confer absolute title thereto to the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company upon receiving from said company one hundred thousand shares of its capital stock to be issued to said Old Dominion Copper Company or to its nominees.

It being understood that the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company shall assume all obligations of The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City incurred since the first day of June 1895, and shall be entitled to all earnings and profits of said company since that date.

July eleventh 1895.

A. S. BIGELOW, President.

A. W. EVARTS, Secretary."

Tenth. The Mining claim called and known as the Hypatia Mine, situate, lying and being in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Territory of Arizona, and more particularly described in the notice of location recorded at page sixty six (66) Book 2, Records of Mines, Gila County Records, to which Record reference is made for a more definite description of said Mine; said Mine was formerly known as the Southwest Alice Mine, being the same mining claim conveyed to said Michael H. Simpson, lately deceased, by deed of William H. Cook, dated November 18th, 1884, and recorded with Gila County Deeds, Book 2, page 305."

and ask you whether the signature of A. S. Bigelow to that offer is not in your handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

R. 573. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that you did not know what you signed when you signed that paper?

A. Yes, sir.

R. 574. This book of records, Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, has been in your and Mr. Hyams' possession, and has been produced by you here in response to call, has it not?

A. Yes.

R. 575. I call your attention to the following record of the special meeting of the board of directors of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, held at New York, July 11, 1895:—

"NEW YORK CITY, July 11, 1895.

A special meeting duly called of the board of directors of this company was held at 11 o'clock in the forenoon at the office of Lewisohn Brothers, 81 Fulton St., in the city of New York.

Present: Messrs. A. S. Bigelow, Leonard Lewisohn and R. Brent Keyser.

The president, Mr. Bigelow, in the chair:

The assent in writing of all except two shares of stock to the making and carrying out of a proposition to convey all of the company's property to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company was presented by Mr. Lewisohn and read as follows:

[Side note in margin:]

Mem. July 11th, 1895. The assent of these two shares obtained."

[For text of this offer, see pages 181-183 of this deposition.]

184 "We, the undersigned, being all the stockholders of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, do hereby approve of and assent to the making and carrying out of the foregoing proposition, and request and authorize the board of directors to take all necessary steps to make and carry out the same.

July 11th, 1895.

A. S. BIGELOW,
LEONARD LEWISOHN,
	Twenty-four thousand nine hundred and seventy-five (24,975) shares.
A. S. BIGELOW,	Five (5) shares.
LEONARD LEWISOHN,	Five (5) shares.
R. BRENT KEYSER,	Five (5) shares.
*WILLIAM KEYSER,	Five (5) shares.
*GEORGE A. POPE,	Five (5) shares.

*Added after this meeting.

and it was stated that the like assent of the remaining ten shares was promised and would be promptly obtained, whereupon Mr. Lewisohn moved and Mr. Keyser seconded the adoption of the following resolutions.

Whereas a corporation has been formed in the interest of the stockholders of this company under the laws of the State of New Jersey by the name of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company which it is proposed shall, among other things, acquire and operate the mining property of this company at Globe, Arizona, and

Whereas said New Jersey corporation has perfected its organization and is duly authorized to transact business and issue its capital stock, and

Whereas the assent of every stockholder of this company to the making and carrying out of a certain proposition to convey all of this company's property to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company has been practically obtained,

Resolved that such proposition, duly signed, be submitted in writing to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, and

Resolved that the proper officers of this company execute and deliver all conveyances, assignments and transfers necessary to carry out and complete the transaction involved in such proposition, and that the president and treasurer be and they are hereby appointed a committee to supervise and carry out the same on behalf of this company with full power and authority to name the persons 185 to whom the said 100,000 shares of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company shall be issued, and to dispose of and distribute said stock and to do any other matter or thing in the premises that may seem to them necessary or proper.

The president and secretary thereupon reported that they had duly executed on behalf of the company the proposition authorized to be submitted to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

Mr. Evarts then offered his resignation as secretary which was, on motion, duly accepted, to take effect at the close of the meeting, and Mr. Thomas Nelson was duly chosen as secretary in his place.

The meeting then adjourned.

A. W. EVARTS, Secretary."

and call your attention to the fact that the record shows that you were present at that meeting; that there was presented, signed by you, at that meeting, an offer to sell the property of the Old Dominion Copper Company to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for 100,000 shares of its stock; that you, as a stockholder of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, signed, with Leonard Lewisohn, an assent to the making and carrying out of that proposition twice, once generally with Leonard Lewisohn, as the owner of 24,975 shares, and once individually as the holder of five shares; and that the record shows that you, as president, together with the secretary, reported that you had executed, on behalf of the company, the proposition so authorized; and I ask you whether you wish to have it understood that in performing the several acts set forth in that record you did not know what you were doing?

A. I left all those matters to the counsel, Mr. Beaman, to carry out those meetings in every respect; left it entirely to him and did not follow it up myself; supposed it was properly done.

R. 576. There is no evidence that Mr. Beaman was present at that meeting.

A. Was not there a partner of his there?

R. 577. Mr. Evarts?

A. That was the firm that was employed, Evarts, Choate, & Beaman.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I also introduce here as Exhibits 18 and 19, a copy of the record of the meeting of the directors of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, of June 17, 1895, and a copy of the record of the meeting of the directors of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City on June 20, 1895.

186 [For text of the meeting of June 17, 1895, Exhibit 18, April 23, 1903, G. C. B., see Bigelow Exhibits, p. 258; for text of the meeting of June 20, 1895, marked "Exhibit 19, April 23, 1903, G. C. B.," see Bigelow Exhibits, p. 259.]

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I object to the admission of these records on the ground that Mr. Bigelow was not present at either of the meetings of the 17th or the 20th.

R. 578. I call your attention to the original offer purporting to be signed by Leonard Lewisohn, dated July 11, 1895, to sell to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for 30,000 shares of its stock, the Old Dominion, the New York, the Chicago, the Keystone mining claims, together with a certain parcel of land at Bloody Tanks, which is as follows:—

"To the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company:

I hereby offer to convey the following described property now owned and held by me upon receiving thirty thousand shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company to be issued to me or to my nominees;

1st. The Old Dominion Mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December, 1883, in the United States Land office at Tucson, Arizona, Entry No. 267, Lot No. 45 situated in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

2nd. The New York Mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December 1883, in the United States Land office at Tucson, Arizona, Entry No. 268, Lot No. 46 in Globe Mining District in Gila County, Arizona.

3rd. The Chicago Mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December, 1883, in the United States Land office at Tucson, Arizona, Entry No. 269, Lot No. 51 in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

4th. The Keystone Mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December, 1885, in the United States Land office at Tucson, Arizona, Entry No. 384, Lot No. 54 in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

5th. A lot or parcel of land situated near the Bloody Tanks and deeded by E. A. Saxe to the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company, Deed recorded in Book 1 of Deeds to Real Estate at page- 126
187 and 127 in the office of the Recorder of Gila County, Arizona, and reference is hereby made to said record for a fuller description of said parcel of land.

New York, July 11th, 1895.

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

Please issue said 30,000 shares of stock to Mr. A. S. Bigelow & myself.

LEONARD LEWISOHN."

and ask you whether the signature of Leonard Lewisohn is in his handwriting?

A. I think it is, yes.

R. 579. I now call your attention to the record of the meeting of the directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company on July 11, 1895, as follows:—

"Minutes of a Meeting of the Directors Duly Called, Held at the Office of Lewisohn Brothers, at 81 Fulton St., in the City of New York, on the 11th Day of July, 1895, at 12 o'clock Noon.

Present: Messrs. Lewisohn, Evarts, Buffum, Welch, Riddlesborffer and Rowe.

The president, Mr. Evarts, in the chair.

The resignation in writing of Mr. Montgomery as a director of the company was presented and read and, on motion, was accepted, and Mr. A. S. Bigelow of Cohasset, Massachusetts, was duly elected a director in his place, and, being present, took his seat as such.

The resignation in writing of Mr. Rowe as a director of the company was presented and read and, on motion, duly accepted, and Mr. Leonard Lewisohn of New York was duly elected a director in his place, and, being present, took his seat as such.

The resignation in writing of Mr. Welch as a director of the company was presented and read and, on motion, duly accepted, and Mr. Henry M. Whitney of Boston, Massachusetts, was duly elected a director in his place.

The resignation in writing of Mr. Jesse Lewisohn as treasurer was presented and read, and on motion, duly accepted, and Mr. Thomas Nelson was duly elected as treasurer in his place.

The resignation in writing of Mr. Jesse Lewisohn as a director of the company was presented and read and, on motion, duly accepted, and Mr. Thomas Nelson of Boston, Massachusetts, was duly elected a director in his place.

The resignation in writing of Mr. Evarts as president was 188 presented and read and, on motion, duly accepted, and Mr. Bigelow was thereupon duly elected as president in his place and thereupon took the chair.

The resignation in writing of Mr. Biddlesborffer as a director was presented and read and, on motion, duly accepted, and Mr. Joseph G. Ray of Franklin, Massachusetts, was duly elected a director in his place.

Mr. Evarts presented and read a proposition from the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City as follows:

[For text of this offer, see pages 181-183 of this deposition.]

Whereupon Mr. Lewisohn moved and Mr. Evarts seconded the adoption of the following resolutions:

Whereas the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City has made and submitted a proposition to convey all of its property to this company which has just been presented and read; and

Whereas it is reported and appears that such property is reasonably and fairly worth the par value of the stock proposed to be paid and issued and received therefor,

Resolved that said proposition be and the same is hereby accepted and that this company do purchase and acquire all said property upon the terms contained in the said proposition and in payment therefor issue 100,000 shares of its capital stock to said The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City or to its nominees, all such stock to be full paid and not subject to assessment; and

Resolved that Messrs. Bigelow and Nelson be appointed a committee to supervise and carry out the details of such purchase and issue of stock.

Which were thereupon duly adopted.

Mr. Lewisohn presented and read a written proposition as follows:

[For text of this offer of Leonard Lewisohn, to Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, see pages 186 and 187 of this deposition.]

Whereupon Mr. Evarts moved and Mr. Buffum seconded the adoption of the following resolutions:

Whereas Mr. Leonard Lewisohn of the city of New York has made and submitted a proposition to convey certain mining properties in Arizona to this company, which has just been presented and read;

189 and whereas it is reported and appears that such properties are reasonably and fairly worth the par value of the stock proposed to be paid and issued and received therefor,

Resolved that said proposition be and the same is hereby accepted and that this company do purchase and acquire said properties upon the terms contained in said proposition and in payment therefor issue 30,000 shares of its capital stock to said Leonard Lewisohn or to his nominees, all such stock to be full paid and not subject to assessment; and

Resolved that Messrs. Bigelow and Nelson be appointed a committee to supervise and carry out the details of such purchase and issue of stock.

Which were thereupon duly adopted.

The following resolution was thereupon, on motion, duly adopted:

Resolved that Niles S. Berray of Globe, Gila county, in the Territory of Arizona, be and he is hereby appointed the agent of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company in and for said Territory upon whom all notices and processes, including the services of summonses may be served, which, when so served, may be deemed taken and held to be a lawful personal service on said company for all purposes whatsoever.

And the president and secretary were requested to attend to the prop- filing of a copy thereof in the office of the Recorder of Gila county, Arizona.

The secretary reported that he had caused the statements of officers, directors, &c., required by law to be filed in the office of the Secretary of the State of New Jersey on the 10th instant, and had received an official certificate to that effect and that he had caused to be filed in said office on the same day a certificate as to issue of additional stock.

The resignation in writing of Mr. Buffum as secretary was presented and read and, on motion, duly accepted, to take effect at close of meeting, and Mr. Thomas Nelson was duly elected as secretary in his place.

EDGAR BUFFUM, Secretary." and ask you whether you wish to be understood as testifying that when you voted at that meeting as is there stated to make the sale of the property of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City for 100,000 shares, in accordance with your offer as president, and to make the sale of the mining claims standing in the name of Lewisohn for 30,000 shares, as there stated, you did not know what you were doing.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Do the records show that he voted as president? You said that he voted.

Mr. BRANDEIS: He presented it as president of the other company, and he voted as a director.

A. I do not recollect being present at that meeting, and, after reading the record, I doubt very much if I noticed what the particular forms of votes were that were passed. My instructions to Messrs. Evarts, Choate & Beaman, as the lawyers in the case, were that they should carry out the programme in this way; that we owned all the properties of the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company of Maryland, and all those standing in the name of Keyser, and that we should receive all the stock of the new company for those properties and for $500,000 in money. What methods Mr. Beaman took in carrying out my instructions I would not have been likely to have noticed, supposing that to have been done in accordance with my instructions.

R. 580. I call your attention to a passage in the records:

"The resignation in writing of Mr. Montgomery as a director of the company was presented and read and, on motion, was accepted and Mr. A. S. Bigelow of Cohasset, Massachusetts, was duly elected a director in his place, and, being present, took his seat as such."

Do you now have any doubt as to your being present at that meeting?

A. Why, if the records state it, there certainly should be no doubt, I should think.

R. 581. I call your attention to Int. 141, and your answer thereto:

"Have you no recollection other than what appears by the correspondence which has been put in evidence in connection with your deposition and the record of the directors' meeting on July 11, 1895, now shown you, as to what took place in connection with the organization of that company or any conversations with Leonard Lewisohn or any other person in relation thereto? A. No, sir."

And also to numerous other interrogatories in which I endeavored to refresh and exhaust your recollection as to conversations or communications with Leonard Lewisohn, and other facts in regard to the organization of the plaintiff company, and the transfer of the property to it, and ask you how, in view of the answers then given, and the fact that at the several sessions at which you were examined by me on the direct you had no recollection as to the terms on which this property was going to be turned over to the company, you have now been able to testify with the directness with which you have testified on these facts in regard to the turning over of the property?

191 A. I think I have answered that by saying that I supposed your interrogatories referred to a meeting of the organization at which I was not present; but that I always had remembered the fundamental fact which I have stated here before.

R. 582. I call your attention to the following passages in the record of the meeting of the directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining

& Smelting Company held in Boston September 18, 1895, at page 26 of the record book; viz.,—

"Upon a report of the committee appointed at a meeting of the stockholders of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, held at New York July 11, 1895, on motion of Mr. Ray, seconded by Mr. Stevens, it is Voted that one hundred thousand (100,000) shares of this company's full paid stock be issued to Mr. Philip Dumaresq.

Upon the report of Messrs. Bigelow and Nelson, the committee appointed at the meeting of the directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company held at New York July 11, 1895, on motion of Mr. Ray, seconded by Mr. Stevens, it is Voted that thirty thousand (30,000) shares of this company's full paid stock be issued to Messrs. A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn."

I also call your attention to the fact that you were present at that meeting and presided, and I ask you whether you wish to be understood as testifying that you did not understand at the time the purport of the votes which have just been called to your attention?

A. That meeting was probably outlined by the attorneys, and I followed whatever programme they laid out.

R. 583. That does not answer my question.

[R-Int. 582 repeated.]

A. I probably could have understood them if I had given my attention to them.

R. 584. I also call your attention to the fact that after the record of the meeting there is a statement, "All action taken by directors at above meeting is fully confirmed and approved in all respects," to which are appended the names of the directors, yours being the first, and ask you whether you wish to be understood as testifying that when you signed that statement you did not understand its purport?

A. I could have understood it if I had read it. I probably did not read it.

R. 585. I also call your attention to the fact that following the statement signed by the directors as above, there is the following:—

"The undersigned, stockholders of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company do hereby approve of the action of the directors shown by the above record of meeting held on the 18th day of September, 1895."

192 and to which statement is subscribed, after the name of Leonard Lewisohn, your name; and I ask you whether you wish to be understood as testifying that when you signed your name to that statement you did not understand its purport?

A. I probably signed that in the same way as the one before.

R. 586. I call your attention to the following Cross-Ints. and your answers thereto:—

"X 317. What was it? A. It was that we should receive all the stock of the new company for the entire property of the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore located in Arizona and $500,000 in money.

"X 318 Which you were to furnish? A. Yes, sir.

* * * * * * *

"X 417. And you and Mr. Lewisohn received therefor what? A. We received all the stock of that company.

"X 418. The 150,000 shares? A. Yes, sir.

"X 419. And left you obligated at the time of the transfer to furnish a capital to the new company of $500,000? A. As a working capital, yes, sir.

"X 420. The subscription to stock under the subscription agreement of July 18 referred to what stock? A. It referred to stock belonging to Mr. Lewisohn and me.

"X 421. To a part of the 150,000 shares? A. Yes, sir.

* * * * * * *

"X 467. The 20,000 shares referred to in the fifteenth paragraph of the bill of complaint are alleged to have belonged to the complainant corporation. Did they in fact belong to that corporation or did they belong to you? A. They belonged to Mr. Lewisohn and me."

Do you wish by your answers to those questions, particularly the last, to be understood as testifying that the 20,000 shares of stock was not treasury stock?

A. I understood it belonged to us, sir; that we were to give the $500,000 in money for it.

R. 587. And that it was not treasury stock?

A. Not as I understand the meaning of those words.

R. 588. Is it not a fact that under date of August 8, 1895, you wrote to Mr. Woodhull as follows: "I received your letter of the 7th. You are right in presuming the 20,000 shares which has been offered to be treasury stock?"

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to on the ground that the witness is entitled to see the letter before answering. It does not appear that any such letter was written.

193 A. Naturally I do not know that it is a fact.

R. 589. Will you make further search in your letter book for a copy of that letter of August 8 1895; also for the original letter of August 7, 1895?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I think he has already made answer that he has made search, and he has no other letter.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I still believe that the search is not yet complete.

Mr. HEMENWAY: It is a matter that is not material.

The WITNESS: How is the letter signed, Mr. Brandeis?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: This is mythical.

R. 590. To Cross-Int. 373, put to you by your counsel.—

"In availing of the options of the Simpson estate and of the Keyser, was any one interested in the purchase except Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers and yourself and your associates under the agreement of May 22?"

you answer, "I do not think so." Is that answer true?

A. I thought it was when I made it.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is my mistake, Mr. Brandeis. It is correct as to the Simpson, and incorrect as to the Keyser. I will make the statement that in asking the question I was mistaken in including the Keyser option, since the Keyser option was only availed of on June 12, and subscriptions to the Old Dominion Syndicate had been made in the mean time, and those subscribers may be looked upon as being parties in interest. If those subscriptions are to be looked upon as creating an interest in the purchase, then the error was mine in framing the question.

R. 591. Is not your answer to Cross-Int. 373 correct, with the amendment now submitted by Mr. Lauterbach?

A. To the best of my knowledge and belief, it is.

R. 592. Is it not a fact that the option to take the Simpson shares was not availed of until May 28, as appears by Exhibit —?

A. Yes, if the evidence shows it.

R. 593. Is it not also a fact, as appears by Exhibit 3, that one syndicate subscription paper was dated May 21, and, as appears by Exhibit 4, another subscription paper was dated May 24?

A. It appears so.

R. 594. Is it not also a fact that there were paid in to you by subscriptions of May 27, $—?

A. It appears so.

R. 595. You said, in answer to your counsel,—

"X 375. And the interest of those mentioned in the agreement of May 22 extended only to the purchase, to furnishing funds for the purchase, of your one half of the stock? A. That is all.

191 "X 376. And, as you have stated, that agreement was never availed of? A. No. I knew it could be availed of very well."

Now I call your attention to the receipts given to Henry M. Whitney and J. Morris Meredith for their subscriptions under date of May 27, 1895, introduced by you in answer to Int. 84, namely,—

"Received of Henry M. Whitney the sum of $7000, being first payment of his subscription of $50,000 toward the purchase of stock in the Old Dominion Copper Company according to the terms set forth in a certain paper which said Whitney has signed, and a copy of which he has."

and ask you whether those payments made by Mr. Whitney and Mr. Meredith were not made under the agreement of May 22?

A. I think those were really payments on the Old Dominion Syndicate.

R. 596. It is obvious they do not so read, is it not?

A. It does not appear so.

R. 597. I call your attention to Cross-Int. 391, and your answer thereto, viz.,—

"X 391. Were the mining claims kept out of the original underwriting or syndicate of May 22, or out of any of the subsequent agreements? A. They were not supposed to be."

371

Do you wish to be understood as testifying that those mining claims,—by which I assume you refer to the Keyser claims,—were supposed to be included in the agreement of May 22?

A. They were included in the Keyser option.

R. 598. Mr. Lauterbach's question to you was, "Were the mining claims kept out of the original underwriting or syndicate of May 22," which is an agreement——

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Oh, no, the underwriting agreement, I mean.

A. What I mean to say is they were not supposed to be kept out. As we understood at the time, we were to buy all the claims they owned down there, but we found afterwards that some stood in the name of Mr. Keyser.

R. 599. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that you knew nothing whatever about those so-called Keyser claims at that time?

A. Not at that time, no, sir.

R. 600. You did not know anything whatever in regard to them until Mr. Hyams returned from the West and told you, from his previous knowledge, that there were some such claims?

A. That was my first information that I remember.

R. 601. And, learning that there were such claims, Mr. Lewisohn and you undertook to get them included in the Keyser agree-
195 ment, and also undertook to get the Simpson estate to agree to the transfer of their interest in them?

A. So I understand.

R. 602. Now it is a fact, is it not, that these claims did not belong to the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City?

A. I think they did, sir.

R. 603. They were not included in any of the list papers or lists of properties which were sent by the Old Dominion people, and on which Mr. Hyams examined the property, were they?

A. As I understood it, they stood in Mr. Keyser's name, but were held by him for the Old Dominion Copper Company at Baltimore.

R. 604. I ask you, is it not a fact that they were not included in the list of properties which was furnished to Mr. Hyams and Mr. Colquhoun for their examination?

A. That I do not remember.

R. 605. Now is it not a fact that the interest of Mr. Keyser, and of the Simpson estate in these mining claims was entirely different from the interest which they had in the Old Dominion Copper Company, namely, that in the Old Dominion Copper Company they had a five sevenths interest to Simpson, and a two sevenths interest to Keyser, but in these mining claims, Keyser owned one half, and the Simpson estate the other half?

A. That I do not remember.

R. 606. I call your attention to your letter to Leonard Lewisohn dated June 15, 1895, and introduced in evidence [p. 85] as part of your answer to Int. 112, which is as follows:—

"Old Dominion Syndicate,
Sears Building,
(Second Letter.)

BOSTON, MASS., June 15, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Box 1247, New York.

DEAR SIR: I have just returned from an interview with Mr. Simpson. He tells me that he saw young Mr. Keyser and gave him authority to transfer their one-half interest in the Old Dominion, Keystone, New York, and Chicago claims and whatever others there may be to us"— and ask you whether that does not refresh your recollection that the Simpson estate had a one half interest in these claims?

A. It would appear so by that letter.

R. 607. And those are the same claims, are they not, referred to in Lewisohn Brothers' letter to you of June 18, 1895, [p. 100], inquired about in Int. 126, where it is stated, "You telephoned today that Mr. Butler said that deed from Keyser to the Old Dominion was in Baltimore. But what Mr. Butler refers to are the deeds of 196 those properties which they claim are not worth anything, and which Mr. Keyser will transfer to Mr. Lewisohn in Baltimore"?

A. Whose letter is that?

R. 608. Lewisohn's to you. I ask you whether they are not the same thing?

A. The same claims? That I do not remember, whether they are the same or not.

R. 609. Did you have any report upon the value or character of these mining claims conveyed by Mr. Keyser to Mr. Lewisohn, and by Mr. Lewisohn to the company, for which the 30,000 shares appear to have been used?

A. Only the report of Mr. Hyams, saying he thought it was very important they should go in.

R. 610. You mean the early statement that he made to you?

A. Yes, sir. I do not know whether it was made to me or through Mr. Lewisohn first, and then through him to me.

R. 611. I call your attention again to the pages which were cut out of your letter book, namely pages 309-313, inclusive, under the date of June 15, 1895, referred to in Int. 219, and ask you whether you will permit an examination of the index of the letter book, and of the letter book, to be made, to ascertain if possible, what letters were copied on the pages which have been cut out?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I see no objection. That is for us to answer, and not for the witness.

R. 612. Will you also permit the index to be examined with a view to searching the index and book for the letter to Woodhull of August 8, 1895?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: If you will give us a copy of the letter to which you refer that would make it very simple.

Mr. BRANDEIS: August 8, 1895.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I do not want to be placed in the position of saying that there is no such letter.

The WITNESS: I have often written letters to Mr. Woodhull, and I have no copy of them.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Well, we have given you the date. I am asking for the letter of August 8.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Yes. I think there is objection to that.

Mr. BRANDEIS: We ask whether you will permit it?

R. 613. And will you also permit the index and letter books to be examined for the purpose of ascertaining whether there is not in them a copy of a letter to Woodhull of August 8, 1895?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The answer to that is that you have referred, in the examination of Mr. Bigelow, to what purports to be 197 the original of a letter so sent. If you have the original, there is no need of our furnishing secondary evidence by looking for a copy. If you will exhibit the original, we will see if we have a copy, and it may be unnecessary so to do, if the original is produced; but in the present attitude of the evidence we decline to make any further examination.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I think that is all, subject to that information that we may get.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: After we have read the minutes there may be a few questions we may want to ask Mr. Bigelow, and I will reserve that right. We will take an adjournment, I suppose, until some date that is agreeable.

[The further taking of this deposition was suspended until Thursday, April 30, 1903, at 10 a. m.]

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
220 DEVONSHIRE STREET, BOSTON,
TUESDAY, May 5, 1903.

Cross-examination of ALBERT S. BIGELOW resumed:

[Mr. Lauterbach states that he has found the original agreement, dated that 22d of May, of which a copy, without signatures, has been introduced in answer to Int. 255 of Mr. Bigelow's deposition; he produces it, and it is admitted in evidence as Exhibit 20; (for text of this exhibit, see Bigelow Exhibits, p. 262) that he has also found a telegram from Mr. Meredith to Lewisohn Brothers, dated Boston, May 25, 1895, which is admitted in evidence as Exhibit 21. (For text of this exhibit, see Bigelow Exhibits, p. 263.)

[Mr. Brandeis offers in evidence the certificate of incorporation, found in the record book of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City on pages 3, 4, 5, and 7; also the record of the first meeting of the corporation, found on pages 8 and 9 and part of page 10 of the same record.]

[A copy of this record is designated as Exhibit 22, and the text will be found at page 263 of Bigelow Exhibits.]

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The admission of this record is objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.

[In answer to cross-interrogatories propounded by Mr. Lauterbach, counsel for the defendant, the witness further deposes and says—]

X 614. Mr. Bigelow, referring to Exhibit 20, just taken in evidence, and referring to Exhibit 3, that is, the subscription list, dated May 21, and to the respective dates of the two exhibits, Exhibit 3 being dated the 21st day of May and Exhibit 20 being dated the 22d day of May, have you any recollection as to which of the two papers was in fact first executed in point of time?

198

A. Yes, I have.

X 615. Will you give us your best recollection on that subject?

A. This one [Exhibit 20] was the first.

X 616. Did you know Mr. Stanton, whose name is referred to in some of the correspondence?

A. Yes, sir.

X 617. Did you know him?

A. Know John Stanton?

X 618. Yes.

A. Yes, sir; "honest John Stanton."

X 619. Did you have any dealings with him in regard to the Old Dominion Copper Company matters?

A. No, sir.

X 620. Neither directly nor indirectly, so far as you know?

A. No, sir.

X 621. I have asked you the question whether you solicited any one to join the Old Dominion Syndicate or the stock-subscription syndicate, and you said you did not. Did any one, in your behalf or to your knowledge, solicit any one to join the syndicate?

A. No, sir; they did not solicit any one.

X 622. Or request anybody to solicit?

A. No, sir.

X 623. Some reference has been had to newspaper articles. Did you or Mr. Hyams, to your knowledge, or any one connected with you, to your knowledge, cause any newspaper statements concerning the Old Dominion Copper Company, or its successor company, or concerning the syndicate, to be published?

A. No, sir, not to my recollection.

X 624. Or of the stock subscription or the Old Dominion subscription?

A. No, sir.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I notice that on page 154 of this deposition I asked the witness: "Int. 328. Is that the first occasion on which you read the letters?" The next interrogatory shows that the words "letters," should read "records," and I would like to have that correction made. The interrogatory before that is, "Int. 327. And you assumed, up to that time, that the 20,000 shares with the 130,000 shares had come into your possession as owners of the property in bulk? A. Entirely into my possession and Mr. Lewisohn's." "Int. 328. Is that the first occasion on which you read the letters? A. I think so, to the best of my knowledge."

That is all, Mr. Bigelow, that we have. Mr. Brandeis may have some more questions.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I think I have no questions.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: You will find another error in the copy
199 of a letter from Bigelow to Woodhull, in which he says, "Copper is rising, but so slow;" it should read, "go slow."

A. S. BIGELOW.

Boston, May 6, 1903.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 6th day of May, 1903.

TUESDAY, May 22, 1906.

Deposition of ALBERT S. BIGELOW, resumed.

ALBERT S. BIGELOW, having been again duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., a notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by Edward F. McClennen, Esq., of counsel for plaintiff, further deposes and says.—

Q. 625. Mr. Bigelow, this letter on page 48 of the company's letter book, dated July 10, 1895, was signed by you?

A. It was signed by me, yes.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: This letter I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: It does not seem material.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:—

"JULY 10TH, 1895.

N. S. Berray, Esq., Supt. Old Dominion Copper Company, Globe, Arizona.

DEAR SIR: The bearer, Mr. S. A. Parnall, has been appointed Manager of the reorganized Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company. If your arrangements with Mr. Simpson will permit it, we should be pleased to have you remain a week or two at Globe with him, in order to give him the benefit of your experience before turning over to him the affairs of the Company.

In this connection we wish to thank you for your consideration in staying on with us as you have done, up to the present time.

Very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW, Pres't."

Q. 626. Mr. Bigelow, is the company which you refer to 200 in this letter as the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, the present company?

A. I surely do not remember.

Q. 627. Was there any company except the present company that had that name?

A. I do not know.

Q. 628. Did you ever know of any other company of that name?

A. No.

Q. 629. And the name of the company whose stock you acquired was what?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 630. You have no recollection on that subject at all?

A. I do not remember what the name was.

Q. 631. Do you remember whether it was the Old Dominion Copper Company?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 632. Does that name sound familiar to you?

A. "Old Dominion" does, that part of it.

Q. 633. But you do not recall the rest?

A. No.

Q. 634. Well, having in mind the date of that letter——

A. What was the date, please?

Q. 635. July 10, 1895,—would it enable you to state whether or not it was the present company to which you referred?

A. I could not possibly say.

Q. 636. With your knowledge of the tran-action, to what company other than the present company could it refer?

A. That I do not know.

Q. 637. Do you think of any company other than the present to which it could refer?

A. I do not.

Mr. McClennen: The option recites it as the Old Dominion Copper Company; whether "of Baltimore City" was part of the title, I do not know.

Q. 638. Now I show you a letter of July 13 or 15, 1895, to N. S. Berray, which appears on page 51 of the letter book: is that signed by you?

A. That is signed by me.

Mr. McClennen: This letter I will offer.

Mr. Hemenway: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. McClennen: The letter reads as follows:—

"July 13th, 1895.

N. S. Berray, Esq., Supt., Globe, Arizona.

Dear Sir: We have completed today the reorganization of the Old Dominion Co. and appointed the new officers. It is necessary to have an Agent in Arizona and we have appointed you as our agent, as you have been advised by Mr. Evarts, which appointment you 201 will please file in the usual way with the Recorder. We were obliged to do this temporarily until our Manager, Mr. Parnall, got out to Globe, as the Agent's appointment must be a continuous one. Of course, Mr. Parnall will be our permanent Agent there, after his arrival.

Will you please look over all the papers of the Company at Globe and forward to Mr. Evarts all the deeds, conveyances or other legal documents connected with the Company, which you find. There are some deeds and conveyances, such as the title to the saw mills and others that are at Globe and we wish to have them all here so as to have them recorded as the Statutes require. Please give this your prompt attention; also make a list of all claims of the Company on which assessment work for 1895 has yet to be done for Mr. Parnall.

We expect that our Mr. Parnall will arrive during the first week in August. Mr. Evarts, of the Firm of Evarts, Choate & Beaman, New York, will forward you some papers for filing which you will please attend to.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW, Pres't."

Q. 639. In the first line of that letter, where you say "We have completed today the reorganization of the Old Dominion Co." to which company did you refer; the old or the new?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 640. Is there anything in the language of that letter that would enable you to answer that question?

A. No.

Q. 641. For instance, you say, "We have completed today the reorganization of the Old Dominion Co." speaking as of July 13 or 15. Do you remember whether you were at work at that time upon the reorganization of the old Old Dominion Company?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 642. Do you remember anything ever being done towards the reorganization of the old Old Dominion Company?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 643. Then I am right that so far as you now remember nothing was done?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 644. Now on the preceding June 11, as appears in your testimony at page 170, you had written to Mr. Maxwell Woodhull, "We shall doubtless reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares, and our present idea is to place somewhat less than half of this in Europe." Was the reorganization there referred to the same one that you now refer to in this letter of July 13?

A. I do not know.

202 Q. 645. Do you entertain any doubt on that subject?

A. I do not know that I do, sir.

Q. 646. From your recollection of the matter, coupled with your desire at the present time to give us all possible information, do you entertain any doubt on that subject?

A. I cannot answer that question.

Q. 647. Do you mean by that you do entertain any doubt as you sit there?

A. I say I do not know anything about it.

Q. 648. I now ask you if you will state as nearly as possible, in the terms of yes or no, whether you entertain any doubt, in view of your recollection, as to whether you were talking about the same reorganization in the two letters?

A. I could not say whether I had any doubt or not; it might be the same and might not.

Q. 649. What is there that stands in your way, as you sit there, that prevents you from saying?

A. Because I do not know.

Q. 650. You do not know whether you entertain any doubt?

A. I say I do not know whether one refers to the other or not, therefore I suppose——

Q. 651. There is some doubt in your mind?

A. I suppose an inference can be drawn there.

Q. 652. What is in doubt in your mind on that subject?

A. Simply I do not know whether they refer one to the other, that is all.

Q. 653. Is there anything about the language of those letters that causes you to believe that they refer to different companies?

A. Well, I should like to see the two letters and compare them. I do not remember either letter.

Mr. HEMENWAY: What are the dates of the two letters?

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The one to Mr. Woodhull was June 11, and the one to Mr. Berray was July 13 or 15, both 1895.

The WITNESS: I do not know whether they referred to the same or not.

Q. 654. Do you see anything in them leading you to conclude that they refer to different companies?

A. Not if you do not.

Q. 655. How will my position in the matter assist you in determining?

A. By simply reading the two letters.

Q. 656. And you see nothing in them leading you to believe that they refer to different companies?

A. I do not see anything that they refer to different companies or to the same companies.

Q. 657. I am right in assuming, am I not, that you are desirous of investigating and as far as possible refreshing your recollection and giving us every information possible?

A. Certainly.

203 Q. 658. Does anything occur to you to assist you in determining whether those refer to different companies?

A. Nothing.

Q. 659. If for your own purposes you desired to find out, what would you do?

A. Well, I could not go beyond those letters, so far as I know.

Q. 660. Well, now, in one of them you say, "We shall doubtless reorganize on a basis of 100,000 shares." You never reorganized the old company on the basis of 100,000 shares, did you?

A. Not that I remember.

Q. 661. So it is clear to you that that phrase refers to the new company?

A. It is not clear to me.

Q. 662. What difficulty is there in the way?

A. Well, I think in my former testimony I said that we contemplated increasing the capital stock of the old company at first. I think that is in my testimony.

Q. 663. And you think that when you refer to reorganizing with 100,000 shares you have reference to that?

A. Well, I do not know.

Q. 664. That is to say, with all the facts before you that have come out, you do not know on June 11 whether you referred to the new corporation or to the old one?

A. I do not.

Q. 665. If you wanted to find out you would be obliged to simply draw an inference that was to be drawn from the text of the letter?

A. So far as I know.

Q. 666. I show you on page 81 of the letter book a letter purporting to be signed by Thomas Nelson. Is that in Mr. Nelson's handwriting?

A. Which one?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Let me see it first.

Q. 667. The one dated September 18.

A. It looks like his signature.

Mr. McCLENNEN: That letter I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads:

"SEPTEMBER 18TH, 1895.

Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., 2033 G Street, Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 17th inst., enclosing note for Fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000.) in favor of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, and two receipts as stated, has been received.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas."

204 Q. 668. Have you no recollection, Mr. Bigelow, for what that note was given.

A. No.

Q. 669. Do you recall now whether or not Mr. Maxwell Woodhull did give a note for some portion of his stock?

A. That I do not remember.

Q. 670. You have no recollection on that subject?

A. No.

Q. 671. Do you recall the fact that has appeared that he received 600 of the shares that were sold for cash?

A. For what?

Q. 672. Cash.

A. I do not remember anything about it.

Q. 673. You do not remember anything about that?

A. Not a thing.

Q. 674. Do you recall the fact that those shares which were sold for cash were sold on the basis of $25 a share?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 675. You do not recall that?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 676. You have no recollection of the price at which those shares were sold?

A. Not at all.

Q. 677. You have no knowledge at the present time of anything other than stock for which Maxwell Woodhull would be giving his note to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. I really do not have any memory of anything.

Q. 678. Have no memory of anything? There is nothing standing in the way of this note for $15,000 having been given for 600 shares of the treasury stock of the corporation?

A. I do not remember anything about it.

Q. 679. Do you remember whether you took any note of Maxwell Woodhull for any stock?

A. I do not.

Q. 680. You have no recollection of taking any note?

A. No, I have not.

Q. 681. Or any recollection of Mr. Lewisohn's taking any such note?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 682. Do you chance to know, Mr. Bigelow, as to whether any of the following persons are deceased: Horace Stevens?

A. He is dead.

Q. 683. H. C. Moses?

A. He is dead.

Q. 684. Moses T. Stevens?

A. I believe he is dead; I think he is.

Q. 685. Samuel S. Stevens?

A. I do not know.

Q. 686. W. A. Tower?

A. I do not think he is dead.

Q. 687. William Keyser?

A. I believe he is dead.

Q. 688. Mr. Bigelow, is this letter of June 12, 1902, one received by you from Mr. Altmiller?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

205 A. I do not know. It probably was. It is addressed to me.

Q. 689. That is Mr. Altmiller's signature?

A. That I do not know. I think it is, as near as I can remember.

Mr. McCLENNEN: That letter I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The contents of that letter are objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads:

"Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co.

Office 35 Congress Street.

Chas. S. Smith, Pres't.
Charles H. Altmiller, Sec'y & Treas.

BOSTON, June 12, 1902.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq.

DEAR SIR: When the new management assumed control of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, I requested to be delivered to me all of the books and papers of the company.

On June 9th we had occasion to refer to some of the earlier correspondence, and upon looking at the letter book and files of letters, found there had not been sent to us any letter book showing letters sent from your office earlier than January 10th, 1900, nor any letters received at your office earlier than May 1st.

Early on June 9th I requested your Mr. Bissell to deliver these earlier books and papers to us. Mr. Bissell stated that he did not feel at liberty to do so until he had consulted you, and told me later on the 9th that he had had no opportunity to do so but would mention the matter to you on the following day.

On June 10th I again called the matter to Mr. Bissell's attention and not getting any satisfaction from him, I called again at the office and saw you. You stated that you did not wish to send us the books and papers until Mr. Hyams had looked them over and that you expected Mr. Hyams on the following day.

On the following day, June 11th, I called at the office again and then learned that Mr. Hyams had not returned from New York, but that he was expected to return today.

Today I called again and saw you and was informed by you that Mr. Hyams had been very busy, and that you had not had an opportunity to take up the matter with him, but would do so promptly, and you stated further that the business was at first conducted by the Old Dominion syndicate and not by the company and 206 that there might be some of the syndicate matter mixed up with the company matter, and you wanted Mr. Hyams to look it all over.

I realize that both you and Mr. Hyams have considerable other business, but do not think that you have treated us properly in deferring so long the sending us of the books and papers of the company, which are the company's property and which should have been sent to the company's office two months ago in accordance with the promise.

I must also protest against your taking from the books or files of the company anything that is in them. There should be nothing in those files that does not properly appertain to the company's business, and I believe that the company is entitled to all the information and assistance which any matter upon its files would give.

I must request you again to let me have these books and papers today.

Yours very truly,

C. H. ALTMILLER, Treas."

Q. 690. Mr. Bigelow, will you read our copy of a letter of June 24, 1902, and see whether you recall receiving such a letter?

A. Only that one?

Q. 691. Yes, that is all. Do you recall receiving such a letter?

A. No.

Q. 692. Now the letter of Mr. Brandeis to Mr. Bigelow, July 16.

A. About the same time as that last one?

Q. 693. No, this is June 24.

A. I was off on my boat a good deal at about that time.

Q. 694. I show you this letter of July 16, produced from your files, from Mr. Brandeis: do you say that you recall receiving that letter?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No.

Q. 695. Do you know in whose handwriting are the pencil notations on it?

A. It is signed by Mr. Chrimes.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent and irrelevant, being simply a statement of plaintiff's counsel.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads:

207 "JULY 16, 1902.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., 303 Sears Building, Boston.

DEAR SIR: I have completed to the extent of the information available, the investigation undertaken at the request of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. concerning the organization of that company, the issue of its capital stock and the acquisition of its property.

I regret that you and the executors of Mr. Leonard Lewisohn have seen fit to deny to the company and myself access to the papers and other information in your possession directly bearing upon this subject, which I requested on June 25th and which obviously would afford the best evidence of the facts relating to the matter.

Upon all the information available to me you appear to be under liability to the company for a very large amount and I should be glad to confer with you or your counsel at an early day with a view to a possible adjustment.

Yours very truly,

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS."

Mr. McCLENNEN: I now offer a letter of July 21, 1902, from Mr. Chrimes to Mr. Brandeis.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent and immaterial, being correspondence between Mr. Chrimes and Mr. Brandeis.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads:

"Sears Building, Room 303, P. O. Box 5104, Boston, Mass.

JULY 21, 1902.

Louis D. Brandeis, 220 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of July 16th to Mr. A. S. Bigelow was duly received. Mr. Bigelow is away on his vacation and will not return until the latter part of this month.

The writer was at home ill last week, hence the late acknowledgment of your letter.

Yours very truly,

W. A. S. CHRIMES, Sec'y."

208 Q. 696. Mr. Chrimes was your secretary at that time?

A. So far as I know. I do not know what that date is. If he signed himself as secretary, he was.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Now may I have the letter to the executors of the estate of Leonard Lewisohn from Mr. Brandeis?

Mr. TREADWELL: I have not any such letter.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It is addressed to the executors of the estate of Leonard Lewisohn.

Mr. TREADWELL: I want to call your attention to this [showing a paper, not described].

Mr. McCLENNEN: Then I will offer that [referring to a page of a letter-press copy book].

Mr. HEMENWAY: I object. It is a mere copy. It does not appear it was ever received.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I now offer a letter-press copy of a letter of July 24, 1902, from Mr. Brandeis to the executors of the estate of Leonard Lewisohn.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, being simply the declaration of Mr. Brandeis; also because it is a matter between parties other than parties to the suit in which Mr. Bigelow is party defendant; also because it is not yet shown to have been either signed by Mr. Brandeis or received by the executors of the estate of Leonard Lewisohn, it only appearing in the letter book of Mr. Brandeis.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I suppose it is conceded that counsel for Mr. Bigelow and counsel for the Lewisohn estate received notice to produce for this hearing the correspondence covering all this period.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Merely giving notice does not make the whole of Mr. Brandeis' correspondence competent evidence even in this case.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I quite agree with you that you cannot use a copy of a letter unless there is notice to produce; I simply ask if you concede there has been notice to produce.

Mr. HEMENWAY: So far as I am concerned, I will say there was a letter to produce given to me.

Mr. McCLENNEN: And the same to Mr. Treadwell?

Mr. HEMENWAY: It is not a letter which is in possession of my client, and it does not purport to be.

Mr. McCLENNEN: And you received also, Mr. Treadwell, notice to produce?

Mr. TREADWELL: Well, I only got this on the morning of Saturday. The only question is whether I have had reasonable 209 time to search for these letters. So far as my own opinion goes, I do not think I would find any more than I did find. Yes, I will concede that, because I know we have not got the letter.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter is as follows:

"JULY 24, 1902.

To the Executors of Leonard Lewisohn, deceased, 81 Fulton Street, New York City.

DEAR SIRS: As you have already heard from Mr. Hyams, we were requested by our clients, the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, to investigate the facts concerning the organization of that company, the issuing of its capital stock and the acquisition of its property.

In connection with that investigation we made a request of Mr. Bigelow for access to the papers and other information in his possession, mainly of the Old Dominion Syndicate, directly bearing upon the subject which would obviously have afforded the best evidence of the facts relating to the matter.

We have been informed by Mr. Hyams that you had instructed Mr. Bigelow to deny our request and had even given notice that you would hold Mr. Bigelow liable for any damages which might result from a failure to observe your instructions.

We have now completed our investigation to the extent of the information available, and, upon the facts as far as ascertained, you appear to be under liability to the company for a very large amount.

I should be glad to confer with you or your counsel at an early day with a view to a possible adjustment.

Yours very truly,

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS."

Mr. McCLENNEN: I will now offer a letter from Mr. Walter Lewisohn to Mr. Brandeis, dated August 1, 1902.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"Estate of Leonard Lewisohn, 11 Broadway.

NEW YORK, Aug. 1, 1902.

Mr. Louis D. Brandeis, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: We beg to acknowledge receipt of your letter of the 24th ult.

Mr. Edward Lauterbach, of the firm of Hoadly, Lauterbach & Johnson, of New York, is counsel to the executors of the 210 estate of Leonard Lewisohn, deceased, with whom any conference that you may desire to have upon the matters affecting the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company may be had.

We observe that you add to the desire for a conference with our counsel the view that some adjustment of a claim which you state exists against the estate may be had.

In respect to this view we desire to say in order that no misconception may be had, that we believe that any claim such as that which you refer to is absolutely unfounded.

Very truly yours,

ESTATE OF LEONARD LEWISOHN.
WALTER LEWISOHN, Executor."

Q. 697. Is this letter of August 2, 1902, to Mr. Brandeis from Mr. Bigelow, signed by you?

A. It is.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"Sears Building, Room 303, P. O. Box 5104, Boston, Mass.

AUG. 2, 1902.

Louis D. Brandies, Esq., 220 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Upon receipt, on my return, of your letter of July 16th I communicated with the Estate of Leonard Lewisohn.

I am informed that Mr. Edward Lauterbach, of the firm of Hoadly, Lauterbach & Johnson, of New York, is of counsel to the executors, and that any conference that you desire to have in respect to the affairs of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company so far as they concern that estate, may be had with him.

Some such conference would perhaps render it unnecessary for me to refer you to counsel for a similar purpose, at least until after you had conferred with him.

I desire to add that I believe your statement that any obligation or liability from me to the company exists is entirely unfounded.

Very truly yours,

A. S. BIGELOW."

211 Mr. McCLENNEN: Now a letter to Mr. Bigelow from Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, dated August 6, and of the same date to the Lewisohns.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter reads:

"AUGUST 6, 1902.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., P. O. Box 5104, Boston.

DEAR SIR: We are in receipt of your letter of the 2nd to Mr. Brandeis. Last week Mr. Brandeis left town on a vacation, and will not return before the first of September. On his return he will take the matter up.

Yours very truly,

BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER."

Mr. TREADWELL: I have not any such letter of any such date.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Then a letter of September 4, 1902, from Mr. Brandeis to Mr. Bigelow, also to the Lewisohns.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Now I offer the letter of September 4, 1902, from Mr. Brandeis to Walter Lewisohn.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the reasons heretofore stated.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter reads as follows:—

"SEPT. 4, 1902.

Walter Lewisohn, Esq., Executor of Estate of Leonard Lewisohn, 11 Broadway, New York City.

Re Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Co.

DEAR SIR: Upon my return from my vacation I find your letter of August 1st.

If you desire that I should confer with your counsel, Mr. Edward Lauterbach, I shall be glad to arrange for an interview with him at an early date.

The tone of your letter leaves me, however, in doubt as to whether you desire that such conference should be had, or prefer that without such conference the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company shall take such action as it may deem best to protect its interests.

Yours very truly,

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS."

MR. MCCLENNEN: A letter of the same date to Mr. Bigelow reads as follows:—

"SEPT. 4, 1902.

212

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Sears Building, Boston.

DEAR SIR: Upon my return from my vacation I find yours of August 6th.

As I previously advised you, I am requested by the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company to investigate the facts concerning the organization of that company, the issue of its capital stock, and the acquisition of its property with a view to determining the legal rights of the company. Recognizing that you were in the possession of the papers and other information directly bearing upon the subject which would afford the best evidence of the facts relating to the matter, I applied to you for access to the same, and was denied the opportunity of getting information through you.

I therefore completed to the extent of the information available the investigation which I had undertaken and reached the conclusion that you were under a large liability to the company. I notified you of the result and suggested an interview with you or your counsel.

I do not understand that Mr. Edward Lauterbach is your counsel in this matter. If he is, I should be glad to arrange through you for an interview with him here at an early time. If he is not your counsel, I do not see how any interview which may possibly be had with him as counsel for the estate of Leonard Lewisohn could render unnecessary a conference with you.

Will you kindly let me know promptly whether you prefer a conference or whether it is your preference that without such conference the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company take such action as it deems proper to protect its interests? Awaiting your reply.

Yours very truly,

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS."

Mr. McCLENNEN: I will now offer a letter from Edward Lauterbach, Esq., to Mr. Brandeis, dated September 9, 1902.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads.—

"SEPT. 9, 1902.

Louis D. Brandeis, 220 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: The executors of the estate of Leonard Lewisohn have sent to me your letter to them of the 4th inst. in which you 213 express a desire to arrange for an interview with me upon the subject of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company.

I shall be very glad to have you call upon me at any time that may suit your convenience, suggesting that you notify me a day in advance of your coming.

Very truly yours,

EDWARD LAUTERBACH."

Mr. McCLENNEN: Now a letter of September 10, 1902, Brandeis to Bigelow.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The letter is objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:—

"SEPTEMBER 10, 1902.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Sears Building, Boston.

DEAR SIR: Will you kindly let me have before noon tomorrow an answer to my letter of September 4th?

Yours very truly,

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS."

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter reads as follows:—

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: [Reading:]

"Sears Building,
Room 303, P. O. Box 5104,
Boston.

SEPT. 10, 1902.

L. D. Brandeis, Esq., 220 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: I have yours of September 4th. Permit me to correct the statement in the first paragraph of your letter. I have not only never refused, but have been more than ready to furnish any facts in my possession bearing upon the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company or its affairs, to which, in my judgment, the stockholders and directors of the company are legitimately entitled. A general verbal request of yours to be allowed to have access to all the papers in relation to the original purchase of the property was very properly refused.

In order, however, that there may be no misconception as to my position in the matter, and as to just what information I have 214 refused to give you, will you kindly send me a list of the questions which you wish answered, and I shall be pleased to promptly reply to them if they appear to call for information which your clients should legitimately possess.

If after the receipt of my answers you are still of the opinion that you would like to arrange for an interview with my counsel, I shall be prepared to take up the matter then.

My only desire is to have specific points upon which we may base a conference and it seems to me that the method I have suggested is the shortest way of coming at such a basis. I think the course I have recommended suggests my answer to the question in the last paragraph of your letter.

Very truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

Mr. McCLENNEN: Now a letter of September 11, to Mr. Bigelow from Mr. Brandeis.

Mr. HEMENWAY: This letter is objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, and impertinent.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter reads as follows:—

"SEPT. 11, 1902.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Sears Building, Boston.

DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of your letter of the 10th.

The statement in my letter of September 4th to which you take exception is, I assume, the following:

'Recognizing that you were in the possession of papers and other information directly bearing upon the subject which would afford the best evidence of the facts relating to the matter, I applied to you for access to the same, and was denied the opportunity of getting information through you.'

The statement is substantially a repetition of the statement made in my letter of July 16, 1902, to which you replied under date of August 2, 1902, without indicating in any way that you deemed it incorrect. The statement in my letter of July 16th was as follows:—

'I regret that you and the executors of Mr. Leonard Lewisohn have seen fit to deny to the company and myself access to the papers and other information in your possession directly bearing upon this subject, which I requested on June 25th, and which obviously would afford the best evidence of the facts relating to the matter.'

215 These statements made by me in my letters of July 16th and September 4th express, I believe, accurately the facts as to the past.

You say, however, that you are ready to furnish facts; but your remarks justifying the refusal of access to 'the papers in relation to the original purchase of the property' and your limitation of the information to the facts 'bearing upon the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company or its affairs to which in my [your] judgment the stockholders or directors are legitimately entitled' leads me to fear that even you are not disposed to furnish access to the papers and information which I have deemed and still deem important for determining the rights of my clients.

I desire to have access to those papers in your possession,—including in this term agreements, correspondence, and other documents, bearing upon the formation and acts of the syndicate formed by yourself or Mr. Leonard Lewisohn ,the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company was issued to you and your associates, the acquisition of the property by the syndicate by yourself or Mr. Leonard Lewi-ohn, the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, the conveyance of the several properties to that company, and the taking of subscriptions for and the issue of such portion of the stock of that company which was issued for cash.

I understood from my interview with your secretary Mr. Hyams that substantially all such papers or copies of them are at your office.

If access to those papers is furnished me, I shall undoubtedly after examining them, desire to ask you specific questions, which I shall be glad to do in the presence of your counsel.

I feel clear that it would not be profitable for me to adopt the method which you suggest of formulating questions for you to answer. If, however, you prefer to talk with me before replying definitely to my request for access to the papers referred to above, I should be glad to make an appointment to see you at my office tomorrow, Friday, morning, at eleven o'clock, if you will let me hear from you some time today.

Yours truly,

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS."

Mr. McCLENNEN: I will now offer a letter of September 11, 1902, which reads——

Mr. HEMENWAY: One moment. Objected to as immaterial.

216 Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:—

"SEPT. 11, 1902.

Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., 220 Devonshire street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: I have yours of even date. As your request takes in all matters relating also to the late Leonard Lewi-sohn's connection, I have forwarded your letter to the counsel for the estate, Mr. Edward Lauterbach, with whom I understand you have been in correspondence on the matter, and shall act according to his instructions.

I have telephoned his office this afternoon that an important letter is on the way, so that he may get it to-morrow and there be no delay.

Yours truly,

A. S. BIGELOW."

Mr. McCLENNEN: Now the letter of Mr. Brandeis to Mr. Bigelow of September 12, 1902.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I offer this letter, which reads as follows:—

"SEPT. 12, 1902.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Sears Building, Boston.

DEAR SIR: I received your letter of the 11th this morning, and have not heard from you since.

As our clients are desirous that there should be no delay I enclose herewith a letter addressed to yourself and the Executors of Leonard Lewisohn relating to a part of the claim concerning which we have written you.

I may add that in the event of no adjustment being reached we are directed to commence proceedings, and in that event we should like to have an attachment bond in the amount of $500,000. The claim considerably exceeds that amount, but our clients have expressed a willingness to accept a bond for that amount.

Yours very truly,

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS."

Mr. McCLENNEN: Now a letter from the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company of the same date to Mr. Bigelow and the executors of the estate of Leonard Lewisohn.

217 Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter I offer reads as follows:—

"OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING AND SMELTING CO.
Office 35 Congress Street.

Charles S. Smith, Prest.
Charles H. Altmiller, Sec'ty and Treas.

BOSTON

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., and the Executors of the Estate of Leonard Lewisohn, Deceased.

DEAR SIRS: Shortly after the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co., Mr. A. S. Bigelow and Mr. Leonard Lewisohn caused 30,000 shares of the stock of that company to be issued to themselves, ostensibly as the consideration for a conveyance to the company of certain mining properties and claims, the title of which we are advised then stood in the name of Mr. Leonard Lewisohn and which in the record of the meeting of the company held July 11, 1895, were described as follows:

First, The Old Dominion mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December, 1883, in the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, entry #267, Lot #45, situated in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

Second, The New York mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December, 1883, in the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, entry #268, Lot #46, in Globe Mining District, in Gila County, Arizona.

Third, The Chicago mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December, 1883, in the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, entry #269, Lot #51, in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

Fourth. The Keystone mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December, 1885, in the United States Land office at Tucson, Arizona, entry #384, Lot 54, in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

Fifth. A lot or parcel of land situated near the Bloody Tanks and deeded by E. A. Saxe to the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company, deed recorded in Book 1 of deeds to real estate at pages 126 and 127 in the office of the recorder of Gila County, Arizona, and reference is hereby made to said record for a fuller description of said parcel of land.

218 The Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company is advised that these shares were issued under circumstances which entitle it to rescind the transaction, and hereby offers to reconvey the property to you or either of you, or to such person as you or either of you may name, upon the return by you or either of you of the 30,000 shares, or if and so far as said shares have been disposed of upon a proper accounting therefor.

Yours truly,
OLD DOMINION COPPER MINING & SMELTING CO.
By CHARLES S. SMITH, Prest.,
CHARLES H. ALTMILLER, Treas."

Mr. McCLENNEN: I will now offer a letter from Mr. Hyams to Mr. Brandeis, dated September 12, 1902.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: [Reading]:

"G. M. Hyams,
Sears Building,
P. O. Box 5104, Boston.

SEPT. 12, 1902.

Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., 220 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Your letter of today to Mr. Bigelow was received at 4:45 p. m., after he had left the office for the day.

You do not say whether you have forwarded a copy of the Old Dominion Company's letter to the executors of the estate of Leonard Lewisohn. I have called up their office in New York but every one had gone, nor had Mr. Lauterbach, their counsel, heard anything.

To make sure, I am sending him a copy of the Old Dominion Company's letter and requested that he call me up on the telephone tomorrow, as soon as he has read it.

Very truly,
G. M. HYAMS.
B."

Q. 698. Mr. Hyams was acting for you in this connection, was he?

A. He was in the office as general manager of all the different companies.

Q. 699. Mr. Bigelow, after the change in the office of the company which occurred in 1902, and up to the time of this 219 letter of September 12, 1902, did you have any conversation with Mr. Brandeis about the subject of the alleged claim of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company against you?

A. I do not remember what the time was; I remember his calling at the office once.

Q. 700. You remember it was after the change?

A. That I do not remember. It was about that time, I should say; but I do not remember.

Q. 701. Do you remember what the conversation was?

A. No, it is very hazy. I just remember his being there.

Q. 702. Did it include a request by him to you for access to all the papers connected with the affairs of the old company?

A. That I do not remember.

Q. 703. In view of the letters that have been read, is your memory refreshed at all?

A. Well, simply from what those letters tell me, that is all.

Q. 704. In a general way, do you recall that from that time on until the time suit was brought, there was constant activity on the part of counsel?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant. The activity of counsel has nothing to do with the issues in this case.

A. Will you repeat the question?

Q. 705 Do you remember that from the time of the change of management of the company in 1902 up to the time suit was brought, there was practically constant activity on the part of counsel?

A. I do not remember at all. I do not remember how soon suit was brought after the changes.

Q. 706. You do recall that there was considerable communication on the subject?

A. No, I do not. I remember Mr. Brandeis came into the office once.

Q. 707. How long was he there; have you any recollection?

A. He made himself quite inquisitive, I remember that.

Q. 708. Was that the only thing.

A. I believe I was not in the office at the time, or the result might have been different.

Q. 709. Well, then, did he ever have the pleasure of meeting you in the course of these negotiations?

A. As I remember it, when he came in I went into the back office, —I do not know why, but it may have been to look after some of the things he wanted. Then when I came back there had been quite a little disturbance.

Q. 710. Do you recall that that related to the information that Mr. Brandeis attempted to get?

A. That I do not remember; it is so hazy now.

Q. 711. Were those waters that you spoke of composed of Mr. Brandeis and Mr. Hyams?

A. They were. I do not think Mr. Brandeis would have 220 said what I was told he had said if I had been there.

Q. 712. The substance of the interview was reported to you, was it, by Mr. Hyams?

A. Yes, certainly. Mr. Ladd, I believe, was there.

Mr McCLENNEN: That is all.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is all. We will notify you after we have seen Mr. Lauterbach whether we desire to cross-examine.

[EXHIBIT 1, MARCH 24, 1903. G. C. B.]

BOSTON, April 30, 1895.

In consideration of two thousand dollars ($2,000) paid Frank E. Simpson of Framingham, Massachusetts, by J. Morris Meredith, receipt whereof is hereby acknowledged, the said Simpson hereby covenants and agrees to sell and convey to the said Meredith, his heirs or assigns, any time prior to the expiration of fourteen days from the date of this agreement, his five sevenths (5-7ths) of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company of Maryland, with property in Arizona, for the sum of seven hundred and fourteen thousand, two hundred and eighty-five dollars ($714,285) on the following terms and conditions, to-wit:

From the property of the said Old Dominion Copper Mining Company shall be reserved to the said Simpson five sevenths (5-7ths) or its equivalent of copper, cash or notes receivable, not to exceed three hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($350,000) from the company's surplus, and the purchase money shall be paid in the following manner: One hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) down in cash prior to the expiration of said fourteen days from the date of this agreement, the balance in three notes of equal amount each, bearing interest at the rate of 5% per annum and payable respectively in sixty (60) ninety (90) and one hundred and twenty (120) days from the date of conveyance. Said notes to be secured by the to be conveyed stock of the company as collateral and also by good and satisfactory indorsements and it is understood and agreed that said Simpson shall be the sole judge of what indorsements are satisfactory.

As the above sold stock is in the possession of said Simpson as trustee under his father's will sufficient time shall be allowed for the necessary legal steps to transfer said stock, but nothing in this 221 condition shall relieve said Simpson from his obligations to complete this sale as soon as possible and in the event of such delay the purchase money shall be deposited in some trust company agreeable to both parties.

Under this agreement the place for paying the money and passing the other necessary papers shall be at the office of the said Simpson in Boston, county of Suffolk, and Commonwealth of Massachusetts, and it is also agreed that at the time of making the conveyance as above and paying the said purchase money, a good and satisfactory guarantee shall be given to said Simpson that at any time within sixty (60) days, on sight, the purchasers shall take and pay for at the same pro rata price and on the same terms and conditions as the above sale, any part or all of the remaining two sevenths (2-7ths) of the capital stock of the said Old Dominion Copper Mining Company.

Witness said Simpson's hand and seal the day and year first above written.

FRANK E. SIMPSON.

G. H. GREENWOOD.

[Mem. in pencil: Are any contracts out with Keyser for sale of smelting, refining or other contracts; are any liabilities, mortgages, liens, etc., against Co. Want twenty days instead of fourteen.]

[EXHIBIT 2, MARCH 24, 1903. G. C. B.]

Memorandum of agreement between Frank E. Simpson of Framingham, Massachusetts, and William Butler of Boston, Massachusetts, for themselves and the other executors of Michael H. Simpson, parties of the first part, and J. Morris Meredith of Boston, Massachusetts, party of the second part, made at New York this fourth day of May, eighteen hundred and ninety-five.

The Old Dominion Copper Company is a corporation organized under the laws of Maryland, having a capital of five hundred thousand dollars ($500,000) divided into twenty five thousand (25,000) shares of twenty (20) dollars each and owns certain property in Arizona known as the Old Dominion mine, which has been worked for some years and other property in Arizona and elsewhere The estate of Michael H. Simpson is the owner of seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock of said company and is desirous of selling the same. The property owned by the company consists of mines, mining rights, smelting furnaces, 222 buildings, mining tools and other appurtenances; also ores in dump and in process and in the furnaces; also pig or ingot copper and cash and certain notes receivable and amounts due.

Mr. Meredith is desirous of buying the seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock owned by the said Simpson estate.

Now, therefore, in consideration of two thousand dollars paid to the parties of the first part by the said Meredith, the party of the first part agree with the said Meredith, his executors, administrators and assigns as follows:

First. The said parties of the first part agree to sell, transfer and deliver to the said Meredith seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock of the said Old Dominion Copper Company at and for the price of seven hundred and fourteen thousand two hundred and eighty five dollars ($714,285) and an additional sum not exceeding two hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($250,000), such additional sum to be equal to the value of five sevenths of the pig or ingot copper and of the cash and notes receivable and amounts due which shall constitute part of its assets when the first payment on account of said sale shall have been made as hereinafter provided and which are hereinafter called surplus earnings.

Second. Payments for said stock are to be made as follows: One hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) on the deposit of the said capital stock endorsed in blank with the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston on or before the twenty eighth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five, said stock to be held by said trust company in trust to secure to the said parties of the first part the balance of the said payments. The balance of said seven hundred and fourteen thousand two hundred and eighty five dollars ($714,285), namely, six hundred and fourteen thousand two hundred and eighty five dollars ($614,285) shall be evidenced by three notes made by the said Meredith or his assigns, of equal amount each, namely, for two hundred and four thousand seven hundred and sixty one dollars and sixty six cents ($204,761.66), bearing interest at the rate of five per cent per annum and payable respectively in sixty, ninety and one hundred and twenty days from the date of the deposit of said stock, said stock to be held as security for the payment of said notes and the said notes also to have an endorsement satisfactory to the said parties of the first part.

Third. It is understood and agreed that the payment of any or all of said notes may be anticipated by the said Meredith with interest down to the date of payment, and the stock shall be delivered to the said Meredith when all of the said notes are paid, and the said parties of the first part will try in all practicable ways to cause such steps to be taken that whenever the first of said notes shall have been paid, the majority of the board of directors of said Old Do-
223 minion Copper Company shall be persons satisfactory to said Meredith or his assigns, and that the president or other officers of said company and the superintendent of said mine shall be persons satisfactory to the said Meredith or his assigns.

Fourth. It is further agreed that the value of the five sevenths of said surplus earnings shall be determined as follows: As soon as practicable and prior to the fourteenth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five the parties of the first part will give to the said Meredith a written memorandum showing in detail said surplus assets, and if the said Meredith purchases the said seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock, such of the surplus assets as remain shall either be retained by the company and five sevenths of the value thereof be paid by said Meredith to the parties of the first part or shall be divided in kind pro rata to the said parties of the first part and to the holders of the remainder of the capital stock of said company.

Fifth. The said parties of the first part guarantee and agree that the said mining company and its property is or will be at the time of sale of said stock free from all debts, claims, liens or mortgages, and that there are no outstanding contracts between it and any other person or corporation except as stated in the list thereof to be furnished to the said Meredith on or before the fourteenth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five.

Sixth. It is also agreed that at the time of depositing said seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of stock as above provided and paying said one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) said Meredith shall give a good and satisfactory guarantee to the said parties of the first part that at any time within sixty days thereafter on ten days' notice and tender he will take and pay for at the same pro rata price and on the same general terms and conditions as hereinbefore provided any part or all of the remainder of the capital stock of said company.

Seventh. Said parties of the first part give to said Meredith the option until and during the twenty eighth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five to purchase said shares of stock on the terms herein set forth and agree that meanwhile and until that time said Meredith shall have every facility by himself or by his assigns to examine the property of said company and its title thereto.

Eighth. It is understood and agreed that the two thousand dollars ($2000) paid on the signing of this agreement shall form part of the first one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) to be paid thereunder.

Ninth. It is understood and agreed that the foregoing agreement finds the estate of Michael H. Simpson and is for the benefit 224 of the executors, administrators and assigns of the said Meredith.

In witness whereof the parties hereto have set their hands and seals this — day of — eighteen hundred and ninety five.

I, Lucius W. Smith of Boston, Massachusetts, one of the executors of Michael H. Simpson, for value received do hereby approve, ratify and make the agreement hereinbefore made by Frank E. Simpson and William Butler for themselves and other executors of Michael H. Simpson with J. Morris Meredith.

[Note.—The following is written in ink on the margin of the first page of this agreement.]

"Received from Leonard Lewisohn, assignee of J. Morris Meredith, one hundred thousand dollars, being the payment due this date under the within agreement on the deposit with the Old Colony Trust Co., of 17,857 shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company.

BOSTON, May 28, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq., Boston, Mass.

DEAR MR. BIGELOW: As you know, I am the assignee of J. Morris Meredith under a contract between him and Frank E. Simpson and William Butler and others, executors of Michael H. Simpson, under which contract the executors of Simpson agree to sell to Meredith or his assigns seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company. In pursuance of the terms of that contract you and I have each paid today fifty thousand dollars ($50,000) to the executors of Simpson, and I have made an agreement pursuant to the sixth article 230 of said agreement by which I have agreed to buy the balance of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company on the same general terms and conditions and you have warranted my performance of said agreement, in which warranty Lewisohn Brothers have also joined.

I have also given the three (3) notes called for by said contract, each for —, you have endorsed those notes and they have also been endorsed by Lewisohn Brothers. It is understood that you are to pay one-half of those notes when they become due or are sooner paid, and on your making such payments it is understood that you and I will be equally interested as owners of the seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company, and if any additional shares of the stock are bought in pursuance of said agreement, you and I are to pay equally therefor and to be equally interested therein.

Yours truly,

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

[Attached to this exhibit is the following:]

For value received and for other good and valuable considerations, I, Leonard Lewisohn, of New York City, agree with Frank E. Simpson, William Butler and others, executors of Michael H. Simpson, who have this day deposited seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company with the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston, that I, Leonard Lewisohn, who have this day paid to the said Simpson and Butler one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) on account of the purchase of said shares of stock, will at any time within sixty (60) days hereafter, at ten (10) days' notice and tender, take and pay for at the same pro rata price and on the same general terms and conditions as provided in the agreement between said Simpson and Butler and J. Morris Meredith of Boston, dated — day of ——, 1895, any part or all of the remainder of the capital stock of said company; this agreement being given and received in performance of the sixth article of the said agreement between the said Simpson and Butler and the said Meredith; the said Meredith having assigned to me all his right, title and interest in the said agreement.

May 28th, 1895.

For value received we jointly and severally warrant and guarantee the performance by Leonard Lewisohn of the foregoing agreement between him and Frank E. Simpson and William Butler and others, executors of Michael H. Simpson.

May 28th, 1895.

231 [EXHIBIT S, MARCH 25, 1903, G. C. B.]

William Keyser of Baltimore and associates are the owners of seven thousand one hundred and forty three shares of twenty dollars each of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City. Leonard Lewisohn and associates have already bought seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven shares of the capital stock of the said company from the estate of Michael H. Simpson, and Lewisohn and associates are desirous of buying the other seven thousand one hundred and forty three shares and Keyser and associates and Lewisohn and associates have agreed together as follows:

Keyser and associates agree to sell their shares of stock for two hundred and eighty five thousand seven hundred and fifteen dollars, forty thousand dollars of which shall be payable on Thursday the twentieth day of June, and the balance of the payments shall be made by three promissory notes, each for eighty one thousand nine hundred and five dollars bearing interest at five per cent from the twenty eighth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five, and running respectively sixty, ninety and one hundred and twenty days from that date. The payments of any or all of these notes may be anticipated, and on the payment of the first note Keyser and associates agree to do everything practicable to turn over to Lewisohn and associates the board of directors and the absolute management of the company.

The stock is to be deposited with the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston as security for the parties here and for the payment of the notes, the general understanding being that this sale is made in pursuance of and in general accordance with the agreement made between Frank E. Simpson and others representing the estate of Michael H. Simpson and J. Morris Meredith for himself, dated the first day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five, Lewisohn and associates having become the assignee of the rights of said Meredith under said contract.

It is further understood that so far as this particular sale is concerned of the seven thousand one hundred and forty three shares Lewisohn and associates are to protect Keyser and associates from any claim for commissions by J. Morris Meredith, the understanding being that Keyser and associates are to receive their agreed price nett.

There are certain mines in Arizona near the property of the Old Dominion Copper Company which are known as the Old Dominion mine, the Keystone mine and the Chicago and New York mine. Those mining properties now stand in the name of William Keyser, but he states that he is only interested to the extent of one-half thereof, and that Michael H. Simpson's estate is the owner of 232 the other half thereof, and Mr. Keyser agrees that in consideration of the purchase of the stock hereinbefore arranged for, he will transfer, deliver and assign to Leonard Lewisohn or to his order all his interest in the said mines without any additional consideration than the purchase of the stock herein provided for.

Keyser and associates agree to guarantee to Lewisohn and associates that they will hold them and the Old Dominion Copper Company harmless from all debts, claims, liens or mortgages or outstanding contracts existing between it and any other person or corporation as of May twenty eighth. It is understood that in this matter William Keyser represents himself and all associates, and that payments may be made to him and the notes made payable to his order.

Baltimore, June 13th, 1895.

WILLIAM KEYSER.

Witness:
N. S. WHEAT.

Received June 20th, 1895, of Leonard Lewisohn & associates one hundred & twenty two thousand one hundred & 66 100 dollars and two notes of eighty one thousand nine hundred and five dollars each in accordance with the foregoing agreement, said money and notes having been paid to the Old Colony Trust Co., Boston, for my account.

Plan of Procedure on Thursday, June 20, 1905. G. C. B.

At least three of the present board of directors of the Old Dominion Copper Company will meet in Baltimore pursuant to a regular notice to all directors.

Directors not present, who are not residents of Maryland, will send in their resignations. Those resignations will be accepted by the irectors present, and thereupon Leonard Lewisohn and A. S. Bige-w or some of their appointees will be elected directors in place of he directors thus resigning.

The president and treasurer of the company will then resign and ppointees of Lewisohn and Bigelow will be elected as president and reasurer respectively.

The Maryland directors will remain temporarily at the desire of Lewisohn and Bigelow and will give them their resignations 33 so that if desired new men can be put in their places in the board. The law, however, seems to require that a majority f the board shall be residents of Maryland.

This meeting herein outlined is not to take place except with the pproval of Messrs. Keyser and the Simpson estate and on the as-umption that the first note due them has been paid or they are atisfied, but it is expected that the cash payment to Keyser will be nade on this date, Thursday the 20th of June, and that the first note o the Simpson estate will be paid on the same date and that the irst note to Keyser and associates will be paid on the same date and t the same time the stock held by Keyser and associates will be handed over to the trust company and notes given to Keyser and ssociates for the balance of the amount due to them.

WILLIAM KEYSER.

237 [EXHIBIT 13, G. C. B., APRIL 10, 1903.]

CLIFTON, ARIZONA, June 18th, 1895.

To Messrs. A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn.

GENTLEMEN: In compliance with your instructions we have examined the property of the Old Dominion Copper Co., of Globe, Ariz., and we now take pleasure in submitting our report on the same.

Globe is situated about 100 miles to the Northwest of the Clifton copper belt and is reached by the G. V. G. & N. Ry. which terminates at Fort Thomas, 61 7/10 miles distant from the connection with the Southern Pacific Railway at Bowie, and 71 miles distant from Globe. From Fort Thomas freight and passengers are presently conveyed by wagons and by stage. We may here state that for the proper and economical working of the Globe properties it is necessary that the G. V. G. & N. Ry. should be extended to Globe.

In our calculations we have considered the completion of the railroad as an assured fact. The property of the Old Dominion Co. comprises the following:—

The Globe Mine.
" Globe Ledge.
" Fraction.
" S. E. Globe.
" Interloper.
" Globe, S. W.
" Hidden Globe.
" Alice.
" S. W. Alice or Hypatia.
" S. E. Globe Millsite } of these the present Smelting Plant is " Interloper " } built.
" Hidden Globe " }
" S. W. Globe Millsite.
" Hypatia "
" Alice "

Smelting Plant.

The smelting Plant consists of 2-60-ton water jacket furnaces and 1-40-ton furnace, each supplied with an independent Baker blower propelled by independent engines. The steam boilers and machinery we found ample for the requirements of the plant. The building covering the plant and the ore bins we found roomy and 238 commodious, the ore bins having a capacity of 3500 tons. On a self-fluxing charge the furnaces could be pushed to 80 or 90 tons per day, as the ore is probably the finest smelting ore in the world, being remarkably free from fines and admirably suited for rapid and economical running. For matting the ores a somewhat larger furnace, say 7 ft. x 3′ 3″ would be required. But if the object be to make black copper, in that case the present plant is probably as economical as any, and it had the advantage of being ready to commence work at a moment's notice. The admirable condition of everything connected with this plant showed that the management had taken the greatest pains to keep everything in perfect order.

The Interloper shaft, the main outlet for the Mines, is situated less than a quarter of a mile from the Smelting Works on an upper slope of the same hill, and a Bleichert tramway, with a capacity of 200 tons in 10 hours, furnishes a cheap and exceedingly convenient method of haulage. For the present system of working, the Smelting Plant and the haulage leave but little to be desired.

Mines.

In locating the Mines of the property the locators have been singularly happy in covering in length and width what we cannot but regard as the principal lode of the district and one of the largest in Arizona. The surface level and the first level are tapped without hoisting, both delivering their ores direct to the Bleichert tramway. The second, third, fourth, fifth, sixth and seventh levels are connected to and deliver their ores through the Interloper shaft, which has been sunk to the eighth level, the latter being at the present time no more than a pumping station. The levels have not been run in straight lines and they are therefore longer than is shown by the figures given below, which represent the length in a straight line opened up by each level.

239 ### Surface Level.

The surface level, run in at an average depth of 50 feet below the surface of the hill, exposes large ore bodies at three different points on each of which stoping to a considerable extent has been done. At the main outcrop the vein is 200 feet in width and practically all ore, mainly of the low grade self fluxing character. The tremendous outcrop, the most noticeable feature on the property, at once stamps the lode as one of extraordinary character. In stoping here, as on all the other levels, only the rich streaks have been followed and the main portion of the vein has, therefore, been but little disturbed.

The rich ore descends in sheets with layers of the low grade ore and occasionally of vein matter between. This characteristic we found repeated on the lower levels. A careful examination satisfied us that there is every reason to expect a continuous ore body for a distance of 700 feet on this level. In opening up this ground the footwall should be closely followed and in stoping upwards the ore should be followed to its junction with the hanging wall, and this also applies to the lower levels. The low grade ore in the backs will nearly all pay to smelt and in running we expect that sheets of richer ore will be uncovered.

First Level.

Development on this level has been done altogether between the Moony shaft and the outcrop, the total length of vein broken into being 600 feet, the main working being on the downward extension of the outcrop which showed as strong here as it did on the surface 160 feet above. With the exception of the work on the extension of the outcrop, stoping has not been conducted to a height greater than from 20 to 25 feet above the level, the lower grade ores being as usual left untouched in the backs. The promising ground lying to the Southwest of the Moony shaft lies untouched. Here there should be no difficulty in finding the extension of the ore body. It is evident that this level should produce much more than it has done heretofore.

Second Level.

On this level ore has been touched in spots for a length on the vein of 1200 feet, but only over a distance of 500 feet has stoping been done to a considerable extent and that altogether on the hanging wall and away from the main contact. At the Moony shaft, ore is to be seen in place on the footwall. Ore is again exposed at a point 50 feet to the Southeast of the same shaft. At this point the vein narrows to a few feet in width, but it opens out immediately. In the belt of ground 1400 feet in length practically no work has 240 been done along the footwall. Judging from the relative position of the stopes it would appear as if the ore body might have left the footwall immediately below the first level and folding out horizontally had again descended on the hanging wall. This theory, however, finds no support in the developments on the levels above and below which invariably expose the main ore body making on the footwall. The development of the ore bodies on the hanging wall has no doubt been due to the driving of the main levels through the limestone. These ore bodies will I have no doubt be ultimately followed to their starting point,—the footwall. With ore to commence upon at the Moony shaft it should not be difficult to prove up this ground.

Third Level.

With the exception of two small stopes on the footwall on the S. W. end of the property, all the development work has been done in the hanging wall. The work to the N. E. of the Moony shaft has been run too far into the country rock and has been done in ground which cannot be considered as in the vein or as likely to be ore bearing. We consider this level as practically so much undeveloped ground. As the ore is very strong on the footwall in the fourth level we see no reason why it should not be found in the same position on the third.

Fourth Level.

With the exception of a block of 90 ft. the ore has been followed on the footwall and found to be continuous for a distance of 900 feet. All of this work has been done to the S. W. of the Moony shaft. Stoping as usual has been done only on the rich ore sheet, good fluxing ore being left in the back. Ore has also been mined to a considerable extent along the footwall. The vein shows a width between walls of fully 200 feet for quite a distance. Much good stoping ground remains, and between the walls there is a big unprospected territory which can hardly fail to be highly productive. The ground lying to the N. E. of the Moony shaft should be tested along the footwall.

Fifth Level.

On this level the ore body on the footwall has been shown up and stoped for a distance of about 800 feet on the vein, the work being done to the S. W. of the Moony shaft. Most of this ground being inaccessible on account of a large cave due to insufficient timbering, it is impossible to judge with any degree of accuracy how much ore has been left. As only the rich ore was stoped, it is obvious that the bulk of it will pay to turn over, and we should expect it to 211 yield besides the low grade fluxing ores quite abundantly in high grade ore. With the exception of a stope situated 600 feet to the Northeast of the Moony shaft no ore has been developed or touched on the extension of the vein in that direction. No doubt this is due to the fact that the main level and all cross-cuts have been driven in the country rock and away from the vein. In a distance of 850 feet not a single crosscut has been run to test the footwall. While indications point to a narrowing of the vein on its Northeast extension there is good reason to believe that ore will be found by prospecting along the footwall and by following up the ore body in the stope last referred to. This view is strengthened by the work on the sixth and seventh levels which show the extension of the vein for a distance of 600 feet N. E. of the Moony shaft.

Sixth Level.

Ore has been stoped at intervals for a total distance of 1100 feet on the vein. In a total number of nine crosscuts run in to cut the footwall, no less than eight of them struck ore, which is an excellent proof of the continuity of the ore body and emphasizes the need of systematic work in this direction. The most noticeable feature of this and of the fifth level has been the development of the ore body to the S. W. of the Interloper shaft. The ground in this direction justifies further prospecting in height, length and width. We consider it very important ground.

Seventh Level.

The continuation of the ore body in depth is shown by three large stopes opened at widely separate points on the vein. As on the upper levels the bulk of the development work has been done in the hanging wall and in no case has ore been found on this level in crosscutting into the limestone. All the ore found has been discovered in crosscutting towards the footwall. Rich sulphide ore in pay streaks shows for a considerable distance, along the floor and roof of the main level. These streaks should be followed downward and upward, especially downward in order to develop the sulphides as rapidly as possible. So little real development work has been done that this level must be regarded as new and undeveloped. The vein is undoubtedly slimmer here than on the upper levels, but it is still wide enough to hold large ore bodies. Development work to the S. W. of the Interloper should also be pushed with vigor as the ground is very favorable and inviting.

Summary.

We need not encumber this report with a detailed description of the geological conditions which obtain in the Mines at Globe.
242 It will suffice for your clear understanding of the situation if we explain only its more important features. The ores occur altogether in a strong fissure between the diorite which forms the footwall and the limestone which is the country rock lying to the East of the vein. The ore body has been found in the various levels, at intervals, over a total length of 1800 feet, and it has been followed to a depth of 515 feet from the surface of the main outcrop to the floor of the seventh level, where such small developments as have been made go to show that it is still a strong body. Near the fissure the limestone has been fractured, leaving fissures and pockets in it which have in places been filled with ore derived no doubt from the same source which impregnated the main vein. This is particularly evident on the third level where the ore makes in the limestone and away from the vein. On the same level the ore is also found in the vein on the footwall. The nature of the vein being such—and in this it resembles most limestone formations—it was impossible to block out and measure the ore in sight, and we were compelled to rely altogether on our own judgment of the ground, assisted, of course, by our knowledge of what it had produced in the past, and by our experience in other limestone formations and also by a close study of the geological conditions. The immensity of the vein and of the ore bodies in sight made this a fairly simple task. Particularly were we impressed by the enormous bodies of low grade fluxing ores, nearly all of which can be treated to profit with the assistance of the cheap coke which will be obtained when the railroad is completed. With coke ranging from 40 to 60 per ton, all low grade ore had to be avoided, and wherever struck it was left standing in the mine. Sulphide ore, in like manner, whenever found were at once abandoned, on the ground that it was difficult to treat.

Metallurgy.

The method of treatment heretofore followed has been the simple one of smelting oxidized ores into black copper of high grade. The same method can still be followed and with good profit, but there are heavy losses in it which can be avoided by converting all the ores into copper matte and then bessemerizing. But to make the ores, a great deal more sulphur will be required than is presently in sight. It is therefore highly necessary that while the plant is shut down the development of the sulphides should proceed with vigor. The sinking of the Interloper shaft for a further depth of 300 feet we look upon as an immediate necessity. At the same time winzes should be sunk on the sulphide ores to prove them in depth and thus work should keep pace with the shaft sinking. As this work proceeds, short campaigns should be made in smelting to treat 243 the ores now in stock and those that will be derived from the prospecting. If necessary the production of black copper may be commenced at any time; but as the present shaft would not be able to keep up a large output and at the same time allow of its being sunk, we deem it better to sink before commencing to smelt on the large scale. The rich sulphide ores will probably be found for a considerable depth, possibly 200 to 300 feet below the eighth level, and much of it will be associated with considerable vein matter, forming a low grade ore which will require to be concentrated. For the treatment of this ore a concentrator will be required. Later it will be necessary to erect a leaching plant, but this need not be thought of until a sufficiency of iron pyrites has been developed. Since the commencement of the Company there has been produced about 68,000,000 lbs. fine copper, and we think that a very conservative estimate would give a like amount still to be extracted from the ground opened by the old Company. This would give a supply of five and a half years at the rate of 6,000 tons copper per annum. Taking the figures of the Old Company as a basis and reducing them to figures based on present situation of the railroad showing a wagon haul of 65 miles, will show a net profit at present price of black copper (10½c.) of $60 per ton, or $360,000 on 6,000 tons of copper per annum. To this can be added $60,000, when the railroad is completed into Globe.

Of course when the low grade sulphides are mined and the matter obtained treated by the Bessemer process, this yield can be materially increased, but of this we have taken no account in our calculations. Calculating on a yearly output of 6,000 tons of black copper and on a market value of the same of 8½ cents per pound, and also the completion of the railroad, the profit should be $180,000. per annum; with black copper realizing 9½c per pound, the profits should be $300,000. per annum; with black copper realizing 10 cents per pound, $360,000. per annum, and with black copper realizing 10½ cents, $420,000. per annum.

In this estimate we have counted upon a yield from the ores of 9 per cent. of copper, an average which can easily be sustained, and we have not counted upon the richer sulphides, likely to be opened out in depth. With this much assured from the ground already opened out, and with every prospect of an extension of the ore bodies both in length on the vein and in depth, we consider the property as certain to be a heavy producer for many years to come.

Attached hereto is a plan showing the ground covered by the various claims and also the trend of the footwall through the Globe Ledge and Globe Claims, which have produced nearly all of the ore so far produced.

244 The following analysis shows the composition of the ore, amounting to 4,600 tons, now in the furnace bins and ready for smelting. The sample was taken from all over the surface of the ore pile:

	Per cent.
Moisture and volatile matter	12.40
Silica	22.18
Oxide of copper (Metallic copper 16.9%)	21.18
Oxide of iron (FeO)	27.26
Alumina	9.44
Oxide of Manganese	2.09
Lime (CaO)	1.35
Alkalies, Oxygen and loss	3.80
	100.00

This ore should form a slag not exceeding 36% in silica. It is perfectly self fluxing. Samples of the sulphide ores taken from various parts of the Mine assayed as follows:—

	Per cent. copper.
Sulphide streaks in raise from 5th level	28.85
" " " main drift "	9.60
" ore from stope near 7th level	12.90
" from main drift 7th level	34.90

During the 18 months ending at the time the Works were closed down, 50,947 tons of ore were smelted, resulting in a yield of 6,068 tons of black copper, being equal to an average yield of 11.9%.

The cost of Pochohontas coke during the same time was $13.10 per ton at Wilcox or $39.60 per ton at Globe. Timber is obtained from the Pinal Mountains where the Company own a saw mill. The fuel is wood from the same mountains. Water is obtained from Pinal Creek which flows past the smelter dump. A small quantity will also be obtained from the Mines.

We consider that the railroad should make you a rate of $5 per on on coke, coal and copper hauled between Bowie and Globe and ice versa. On all other material they should be allowed to make heir own rates.

For smelting purposes an ample supply of water can be 245 obtained from the creek and from the Mine. The latter will undoubtedly give an increased supply in depth.

Globe is situated at an elevation of 3500 feet above sea level. The climate is superb, being cool and pleasant every night in the year. The water being of most excellent quality, and the climate so superior, Globe has long been considered the healthiest camp in Arizona.

In conclusion we would say that we consider the property one of very great value. We have found nothing either above ground or below the surface pointing in the slightest degree to a shortening or narrowing of the ore bodies either in depth or length. The work done in the past has served to open up vast ore bodies from which only the richest streaks running from 15 to 30 per cent. copper have been removed, while the large bodies of rich sulphide ores have hardly been touched. The Mining and Smelting Plant is ample for present purposes except a boiler or two, and everything about the property is in excellent shape. We have no hesitation in recommending it as a safe and profitable investment and one which will undoubtedly increase rapidly in value as new development work is completed.

All of which is respectfully submitted.

JAMES COLQUHOUN.

At the time of the purchase of the Old Dominion Copper Company, there was upon the property a small but complete Smelting Plant, and a Mine equipment sufficient to supply this Plant with ore. The Gila Valley, Globe & Northern Railroad had been built north from Bowie some thirty miles towards Globe, and all supplies had to be hauled at great expense to the Mine from the end of the road. Steps were promptly taken to secure the completion of the Railroad line into Globe, but it was only after long negotiations that this was accomplished. Meantime, the Plant was run upon a small scale, more to encourage the builders of the Railroad than for any great profit. As soon as the completion of the road was assured, steps were at once taken to put the property in shape to produce largely. For this purpose, new hoisting works and pumping appliances were necessary. These have been completed, as also the necessary enlargement to the Smelting Plant. New machine, carpenter and blacksmith shops have been built, new boiler houses built, and new boilers installed both at Mine and Smelter.

247 The great problem, however, to be solved was the finding of sulphuretted ores in the Mine, which could be used, together with the richer oxidized ores, so as to make a more economical smelting mixture. To this end very extensive exploration work has been done and much more money spent than would ordinarily be the case. Of course, this money will come back later to us, as this work will not have to be done in future.

Up to date we have not succeeded in finding any large sulphide ore bodies, although the oxidized ore bodies have continued in depth.

In order to provide ourselves with a supply of sulphides, the Continental Group of Mines was purchased in 1899. While we have developed a sufficient quantity of these ores to many times pay back the original price of the property, developments in depths have not warranted any large expenditures of money at present.

The Company has been producing at the average rate of 750,000 pounds of fine copper per month during the past twelve months, and the Mines are now developed sufficiently to insure an average monthly product of not less than this amount, and we have every reason to anticipate a steady gradual increase monthly.

At the Stockholders' Special Meeting held June 15, 1899, an increase of 50,000 shares of new stock was authorized. This is the stock now in the Treasury of the Company, the Directors having considered that it was better to use the Net Earnings of the Company as long as they were sufficient, for developing the Mines and increasing the smelting facilities rather than increase the amount of outstanding stock, reserving this new stock for the erection of larger works later on when the still further developments of the Mines warrant such expenditure.

The Directors had intended to use part of this new stock to build a railroad to the Continental Mines, but developments there are not such as to warrant the expenditure at present.

When the time comes to issue this new stock such an amount of it as will be needed will be offered to the stockholders at par, pro rata to their holdings of the present outstanding stock.

By Order of the Board of Directors.

A. S. BIGELOW, President.

The result of the operations for the year 1901 for the first time enables the Management to place before the stockholders an intelligent and safe basis for determining what the costs of mining and producing copper are at Globe. Prior to this time the various vicissitudes of a new mining property were encountered; much development work had to be done and this, together with various unforeseen difficulties and expenses, made up a total cost which the Management knew was abnormally high, and which could not form any basis for obtaining a fair average cost.

As stated in our last report, the great problem to be solved was the finding of sulphuretted ores in the Mines which could be used to furnish a more economical smelting mixture. The richer oxyidized ores are not at all refractory in the sense of being difficult to smelt, but on the contrary, owing to the ease with which they can be 250 smelted into metallic copper they occasion an undue loss of the metal in the slag. By the use of a sulphuretted ore this loss can be to a great extent obviated by changing the process of smelting. During the present year we have succeeded in finding in the bottom of the Mine some limited ore bodies containing rich sulphide ores, but we have not yet been fortunate enough to discover any ore bodies of this nature sufficient to furnish us with the requisite amount of sulphides to warrant us in changing our method of smelting. With this end in view we purchased, as stated in our last report, the Continental Group of Mines, but while these Mines have developed a certain amount of ore, they cannot help more than in a certain degree to supply our needs.

Operations at the Mine are shown in the report of Mr. F. W. Hoar, the Acting Superintendent, who took charge upon the resignation of Mr. S. A. Parnall. It will be seen from this report that the condition of the Mine as far as oxydized ores go is very satisfactory, and that we have in the lower levels, as already mentioned, proven the existence of sulphide ore bodies which await further development before their extent can be determined. We have always had at the Mine to contend with a large amount of water which seems to come at irregular periods. This has been the case since the opening of the Mine twenty years ago, and during the latter part of the year 1901 we were practically shut off from extensive developments in the lower levels on this account. Since Mr. Hoar's report was written, however, the water has subsided to a large extent and we are again prosecuting development work in the lower levels with very favorable results.

At the Smelter everything has progressed smoothly during the year. It will be noticed that the time lost during the whole year was less than five days. While we have a Smelting Plant much in excess of our present production, the Management have deemed it best only to smelt a quantity of ore which could be produced from the Mines without exhausting unduly the reserves. In the present condition of the copper market this policy has been a fortunate one for the Company, as, if we had rushed production unduly, besides having exhausted our ore reserves we should have piled up a large quantity of copper which could not be sold at present without making a loss.

Had it not been for the sudden drop in the price of copper and had the Company been able to sell its total production at the price ruling early in the year, the financial report would have been a highly satisfactory one. When it was found that our copper was not being disposed of as rapidly as produced, the officers of the Company, upon consultation with the United Metals Selling Company, the successors of Lewisohn Brothers, who had been the Selling Agents of 251 the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company from the beginning, found that owing to a very great shrinkage in the foreign demand all of the copper made in this country could not be disposed of without a serious fall in the price which it was deemed inadvisable to bring about, as it was supposed the falling off in demand was only temporary. As various copper producing Companies who sold their copper through other sources than the United Metals Selling Company had expressed the same ideas and the same feeling, the officers of the Selling Company felt that it would be very unwise for them to initiate a general break-down in prices, in which the officers of this Company thoroughly concurred. When it was found later in the year that the outside Companies were systematically and secretly cutting prices and underselling the market under the protection of our maintaining the price, instructions were given to our Selling Agents to dispose of a sufficient quantity of our copper at cut prices to pay all our operating expenses for the year. The result has been that we have obtained for the copper produced during the year an average of 12½ cents per pound. It should be borne in mind, however, that had we initiated this policy early in the year the result would have been that we should have obtained a still lower average for our product, as we should then have lost the benefit of all the copper that we disposed of at high prices.

At present prices for labor, supplies, freights, etc., and setting aside a fair amount for development work, copper cannot be produced, refined and sold by our Company for less than 12 cents per pound, which is just about the price which it will bring in the market at present. Although at this price no profit can be made, the Management consider it unwise to close down the property, as it would deteriorate very rapidly owing to the large quantity of water which would accumulate in the Mine. As soon as the sulphide ore bodies are developed to a sufficient extent to warrant the installation of a Converting Plant it will be at once erected, and the cost of production will be considerably reduced. At present, however, it is not thought wise to proceed with this plant, as it can be erected in a comparatively short time.

Superintendent's Report.

GLOBE, ARIZONA, January 24, 1902.

To the President and Directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company.

GENTLEMEN: I herewith submit a general report of the operations at the Mines and Smelter for the year ending December 31, 1901.

As maps showing where the year's work has been done, also the annual cost sheet where will be found tabulated the cost of each department, together with the construction expense for the year, have been sent, I will not here repeat.

*In addition to the assets in this item there are sulphide and Continental ores on the dumps at Smelter and at Globe and Continental mines; also fine dust at Smelter, containing in all about 1,675,000 pounds fine copper of which no account is taken in this statement.

Globe Mine.

Operations.

The total material hoisted in the Interloper Shaft, together with that which came from the surface levels, is as follows:

253

Total cars	Quartz Ore	72,666
" "	Iron Ore	20,006
" "	Mixed	10,743
" "	Waste	66,154
	Grand Total	169,569 cars.

From which we obtained 82,005 tons of ore, exclusive of 935 tons of sulphide ore.

Development Work.

The number of feet opposite each level is the total of all drifting, raising or sinking on that level:

Surface level	494.5 feet.
First "	459.0 "
Second "	490.0 "
Third "	719.0 "
Fourth "	365.5 "
Fifth "	171.0 "
Sixth "	886.0 "
Seventh "	167.0 "
Eighth "	229.0 "
Ninth "	2,273.5 "
Tenth "	1,790.5 "
Eleventh "	1,222.0 "
Twelfth	1,046.0 "
Total	10,313.0 feet.

The diamond drill was used in connection with the development work, the extent of which being as follows:

Drilled	205 feet	6 inches	on	9th level.
"	129 "	6 "		10th "
"	81 "	0 "		11th "
"	162 "	9 "		12th "

Total, 579 feet 9 inches.

254

Ore Reserves.

From the surface to and including the 8th level we now have as much ore in sight as at any time in the history of the Mine to my knowledge.

On the 9th and 10th levels are some good bodies of ore, the extent of which can only be proved by further development.

On the 11th and 12th levels, have developed sulphide ore carrying varying percentages of copper.

The development of the lower levels has shown more to encourage the Management than all other development work so done. This work has shown that which the Management has always endeavored to prove, namely, the existence of sulphide ore bodies. The extent of said ore bodies can only be proved by further development, and at such a time as the water supply will permit.

From the development of the lower levels, the low grade or concentrating sulphide ores have been dumped in a pile in connection with our mine surface dump. The high grade sulphide ores, of which we had on hand December 31, 1901, 935 tons, are piled separately.

Smelter.

In a stock pile at the Smelter, we have 1,500 tons of quartz ore, 1,400 tons of iron ore, and 1,500 tons of lime, which we keep as a reserve in case of accident or derangement at the Mine.

Operations at the Smelter were as follows:

Smelter in operation	361.13 days.
Delays caused by power plant	1.59 "
Delays caused by furnace	0.28 "
Holidays	2.00 "
Total	365.00 days.

Having smelted 81,015 tons of ore, from which we produced 9,248,093 pounds of pig copper and 1,737,331 pounds of matte.

The pig copper was all shipped, but the matte was placed with that previously produced, making a total on hand December 31, 1901, of 3,797,837 pounds of matte, containing about 2,650,000 pounds fine copper.

The flue dust made during the year not treated was 2,850 tons. This being placed with the flue dust previously made, gives a total of 5,924 tons on hand December 31, 1901.

255

Construction.

The main items were as follows:

Fuel Oil Installation.

Experimenting with fuel oil for boiler fuel at the Smelter resulted in showing a saving over coal and the adoption for the entire plant thereof. This required the installation of oil storage tanks, pipe lines, and pumps, about three-fourths of the total installation expense having been charged out in year 1901.

Excavation

On account of the movements of the surface ground, it was necessary to relieve the pressure on the hoisting engine foundation, which required the removal of a large amount of ground back of the engine house.

Continental Mine.

Operations at this Mine were discontinued on February 14, 1901.

Development Work,

Including raises, winzes and drifts, was as follows:

Continental	1st level	23.0 feet.
"	2d level	48.5 "
"	3d level	222.5 "
"	5th level	25.0 "
"	6th level	13.0 "
Selby Claim		30.0 "
Railroad Claim		36.0 "
Total		398.0 feet.

During the time the Mine was in operation there were 208½ tons of ore delivered to the Smelter at Globe Mine, being placed on slag dump with the ore previously delivered.

General.

On July 25th, I received the official appointment of Acting Superintendent of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company to succeed Mr. S. A. Parnall, and on the following day assumed the duties and powers thereof, previous to which time, during the absence of the Superintendent, I also held the position of Acting Superintendent.

I wish to state that all the officials, more particularly Mr.
256 Frank Juleff, Mine Foreman, Mr. H. B. Paull, Chief Clerk, Mr. E. F. Lundgren, Master Mechanic, and Mr. Paul Michaelson, Boss Carpenter, have performed the duties of their respective positions in the most satisfactory manner, always showing faithful devotion to the interest of the Company.

Yours respectfully,

F. W. HOAR,
Acting Superintendent.

A special meeting duly called of Board of Directors in this company was held at company's office.

Present, Messrs. Frank E. Simpson, H. Irvine Keyser, George A. Pope and R. Brent Keyser.

260 Mr. R. Brent Keyser moved, and Mr. Simpson seconded that Mr. Pope take the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were then read and approved

Mr. Simpson moved and Mr. R. B. Keyser seconded the following resolution:

Resolved that the dividend paid by the President on June 19th, being dividend No. 28 for 26%—$130,000.00 be, and the same is hereby approved by the board of Directors—which motion was carried.

Mr. Simpson then moved and Mr. H. Irvine Keyser seconded the following Resolution:

Resolved that any right, title or interest this company may have in any claim or claims vs. the Societe des Metaux, the Comptoir d'Escomptes, or Moreau, the Liquidateur of the Comptoir d'Escomptes be sold and assigned to Wm. Keyser for $100 with full power to him to collect and receipt for any moneys coming to this company from said claim. Approved.

Mr. R. Brent Keyser then handed in the resignation of Mr. H. Irvine Keyser as a director, to take effect at once.

On motion of Mr. Frank E. Simpson duly seconded Mr. Keyser's resignation was accepted.

Mr. R. B. Keyser moved and Mr. Simpson seconded the nomination of Leonard Lewisohn to Mr. Irvine Keyser's position as Director in this company.

Mr. Lewisohn was duly elected, and, being present, took his seat.

Mr. Frank E. Simpson then tendered his resignation as a Director to take effect at once and on motion of Mr. Keyser duly seconded Mr. Simpson's resignation was accepted.

On motion of Mr. R. Brent Keyser seconded by Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, Mr. A. S. Bigelow was elected to Mr. Simpson's position as a Director in this company.

Mr. Pope then read Mr. William Keyser's resignation as President of this Company to take effect at the pleasure of the Board of Directors.

On motion duly seconded Mr. Keyser's resignation as president was accepted.

On motion of Mr. R. B. Keyser, seconded by Leonard Lewisohn, Mr. A. S. Bigelow was unanimously elected to succeed Mr. William Keyser as president of the company.

Mr. R. Brent Keyser's resignation was then handed in as treasurer of this Co.

On motion duly seconded Mr. Keyser's resignation as treasurer was accepted.

On motion of Mr. R. Brent Keyser, duly seconded, Mr. Leonard Lewisohn was unanimously elected to succeed Mr. R. D. Keyser as treasurer of the company.

261 Mr. Weld offered his resignation as secretary of the Co. to take effect at the end of this meeting. On motion of Mr. R. B. Keyser, duly seconded, same was accepted.

On motion of Mr. Leonard Lewisohn seconded by Mr. R. Brent Keyser, Mr. A. W. Evarts was unanimously elected to succeed Mr. Weld as secretary of the company.

Mr. Lewisohn then moved and Mr. Keyser seconded the following resolutions:

Resolved that the resignation of Messrs. William Keyser, R. Brent Keyser and George A. Pope as directors now tendered in writing, be received and filed, and that the gentlemen be requested — retain their offices for the present.

Butler, being citizens of the United States, and a majority of whom are citizens of the State of Maryland do hereby certify that we do, under and by virtue of the General Laws of this State, authorizing the formation of corporations, hereby form a corporation under the name of "The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City."

2. We do certify further, that the said corporation so formed, is a corporation for conducting any kind of mining business in this State and for selling or otherwise disposing of the products of said business; and also, for washing, dressing, smelting and otherwise preparing for and bringing to market and selling the ores of all kinds of metals, that the term of existence of the said corporation is limited to forty years; and that the said corporation is formed upon the articles, conditions, and provisions herein expressed, and subject in all particulars to the limitations relating to corporations, which are contained in the General Laws of this State;

3. We do further certify, that the general operations of the said corporation are to be carried on in the State of Maryland and that the principal office of the said corporation will be located in Baltimore City.

4. We do further certify, that the aggregate of the capital stock of the said corporation is Five hundred thousand Dollars and that the said capital is divided into twenty-five thousand shares of the par value of twenty dollars each;

5. We do further certify, that the said corporation will be managed by five Directors and that William F. Frick, John S. Gilman, R. Brent Keyser, Frank E. Simpson and William Butler are the names of the Directors who will manage the concerns of the said corporation for the first year.

264 In witness whereof, we have hereunto set our hands and seals this first day of December in the year eighteen hundred and eighty-seven.

I hereby certify, that the aforegoing is a true copy, taken from the "original" filed for record on the 27th day of December A. D. 1887 at 10.50 o'clock A. M.

In testimony whereof, I hereto set my hand and affix the seal of the Superior Court of Baltimore City this 27th day of December A. D. 1887.

JAS. BOND,
Clerk of the Superior Court of Baltimore City.

[Seal of the Superior Court of Baltimore City in the 8th Judicial Circuit of Maryland.]

At a meeting of the Corporators of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, held in the City of Baltimore on the 29th day of December in the year 1887, at 12 o'clock, pursuant to adjournment, the committee appointed at the previous meeting to obtain subscriptions in cash to the capital stock of the Company, reported that they had performed the duty assigned to them and procured subscriptions to the same in full.

The committee delivered to the chairman the subscription list which they had obtained, and a copy of the same was ordered to be entered on the minutes of this meeting, which is done accordingly, as follows:

We, the undersigned, do hereby subscribe for the number of shares set opposite our names respectively, of the capital stock of The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, chartered by a certificate of incorporation, recorded in the office of the Clerk of the Superior Court of Baltimore City, on the 27th December 1887.

And we do hereby, each of us, agree to pay in cash for the number of shares, subscribed by us respectively, at the rate of $20 per share, whenever such payment may be called in by the Board of Directors of the Company.

266 The chairman then reported to the meeting that he had received a written offer from William Keyser of Baltimore to sell and convey to the company, in consideration of $400,000 certain valuable mine property, and from the executors of Michael H. Simpson of Boston a written offer, in consideration of $50,000.00 to sell and convey to the company, certain other mine property adjoining the former, and recommended that the same should be submitted to a regular called meeting of the stockholders of the company, for their consideration and action.

Whereupon it was, on motion, unanimously,

Resolved, that a meeting of the stockholders of the company should be called to be held on the succeeding day at 12 o'clock, for the consideration of said propositions, and such other matters as might be brought before them.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

JOSEPH CLENDENIN, Jr., Secretary.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the original deposition of Albert S. Bigelow taken before me in the case of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Co. v. Frederick Lewisohn et al. pending in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, and of the exhibits annexed thereto.

Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
220 DEVONSHIRE ST., BOSTON, March 27, 1903.

Deposition of Godfrey M. Hyams.

GODFREY M. HYAMS, Esq., being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by L. D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. Please state your full name, age, residence, and occupation.

A. Godfrey M. Hyams; forty-six years; Boston; manager.

267 Q. 2. Please state fully what your connection has been with Mr. A. S. Bigelow, and how long that connection has existed.

A. Well, I first became connected with Mr. Bigelow in the days of the old Santa Fé Mining Company in 1885 or 1886; at any rate, it was before the early '90s; then I had nothing more to do with him. That was merely in a consulting way. Then I had nothing more to do with him until 1891. I was then hired by the Boston & Montana Company as consulting engineer, if you please, in regard to the Great Falls works which were then being built; from that time on I took over the direction of various other enterprises with which Mr. Bigelow was connected, and gradually became more and more of a personal representative of Mr. Bigelow as a sort of connecting link between the East and West. In addition to that, I have been a sort of confidential clerk, adviser, or whatever you may please, with Mr. Bigelow, and been interested with him in a great many investments.

Q. 3. You have had your office with him?

A. Yes.

Q. 4. Please state what, during this period, your connection and relations have been with Lewisohn Brothers or Leonard Lewisohn and the members of the concern.

A. Well, I have never had any official connection with any of them, but Mr. Leonard Lewisohn was interested financially, and was an officer, in a great many of the corporations with which Mr. Bigelow was identified. I got to know him in that way, and he asked my advice on a great many things, and in that sort of a natural growth I became more or less intimately connected with Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, and he asked my advice on all sorts of questions, and we became interested together in little investments and things of that kind; and it was just in that natural line of advice that I had anything to do with Old Dominion.

Q. 5. What was your first connection with the purchase or the proposed purchase by Mr. Lewisohn and Mr. Bigelow of the interest in the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City?

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendants object to this interrogatory, and to all similar interrogatories, on the ground of their immateriality, irrelevancy, and on the ground that they are matters wholly between parties other than the parties to the suit, and in no way binding on the defendants in this action, in this suit.

A. Well, I positively cannot recollect how I first heard of it. My impression is—and I have no record to verify it, my impression—that I was at Lake Superior and got a telegram from Mr. Lewisohn asking me what I knew about the Old Dominion mine, or something of that kind; it is an impression, and nothing more. And I do not know—I am like the fellow who woke up in the morning and did not know what had happened over night—the next thing 268 that I remember is that I was in New York, and I think I went up to Mr. Lewisohn's house, and he told me that he thought he could get control of the Old Dominion property. I told him I did not believe it.

Q. 6. Is that all that happened?

A. Whether it all happened at that interview, I cannot tell. Within a very short time, my impression is it was within a day or two, I was on the train going out to look at that Dominion mine; and I remember going there and examining it, and meeting Mr. Colquhoun at some intermediate station, and hiring a train and going up to the mine, as far as we could towards the mine, and examining it; and taking another train and coming down and wiring to accept. Now I must have had,—I must have known what they were to accept, naturally; but I have no recollection of just how the details got to me; what I got or what I did not get.

Q. 7. Have you stated all that you recall in regard to the matter prior to your sending that telegram advising them to accept?

A. I think so, yes.

Q. 8. Have you that telegram?

A. No.

Q. 9. Do you recall the date of that telegram?

A. Why, it developed that it must have been on the 27th of May, if it was received on the 28th.

Q. 10. Have you in your possession any letters or papers, or copies of letters or papers, relating to the option to purchase, or the proposed purchase of interests in the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore City prior to May 27?

A. I have got some letters here. The reason I happen to have them is that I searched through my papers and found these papers, and I have no reason why I should have them rather than Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn, but I have got them.

Q. 11. Will you now produce such letters as you have in your possession from Mr. Meredith?

Mr. HEMENWAY: It is understood that Mr. Lauterbach may object to this testimony as if personally present to make objection now.

Mr. BRANDEIS: You can put that at the beginning, if you like, or anywhere.

A.—

"BOSTON, April 30, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Fulton St., New York.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of yesterday received. In accordance with your instructions of this morning over the telephone, I sent for Mr. Simpson, who was out of town, at his mill, and he only arrived late this afternoon, too late to consult you or any one. I found it harder than I supposed to pin him down. He showed a strong desire 269 before committing himself, to consult with some one, and, as he stated it, that giving an option might ruin another negotiation under way. My reply was that it appeared that he had got to ruin one or the other; that my instructions were to settle the matter forever at my first interview; and that I would not allow him even to use the long distance; if I left without a bond, he would be sure he never would hear from my people again. My acquaintance with him permitted me to be a little more severe with him than otherwise. After two hours, he has given me a bond, copy of which I enclose. We had to write it ourselves, as neither of us wanted to leave the other for fear of the long distance. If any of the details of the form are very objectionable, wire me tomorrow 'Form of bond impossible' and send me by night's mail a form provided by your lawyer, and I will try to get him to change it. Mr. Simpson is a fair-minded man, and I believe he will be perfectly reasonable with me. He goes West in two days, leaving his power of attorney at his office. He says that the company has got on hand an actual surplus of over $350,000 in copper, cash and notes receivable which are undeclared dividends, and that he will not include those in the sale. He has nothing else connected with this company except an interest in the store, which is a private enterprise. The provision for delay in transfer is because it might turn out that he would have to apply to the Probate Court. But there is no one to consult but himself. I think some of your warm friends in the street will be much troubled if this sale is completed. You may send me your check for $2000. He expects an expert to be sent by me down to the mine so as to report within fourteen days. You will know if this is necessary. He has no idea who my people are. If I have done wrong in any thing correct me. It was a difficult matter.

Yours very truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

Another letter from Meredith to Lewisohn, dated May 1, 1895, written from the Somerset Club, Boston:

"Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Fulton St., New York.

DEAR SIR: Your favor over the telephone today was duly received. Mr. Simpson, not feeling very well, did not come to town today, so this afternoon I had to go out to his house at Saxonville to see him. My form of bond was of course unsatisfactory, but knowing him to be a thoroughly honorable man, and having 270 asked him verbally about many of the points you suggest, I deemed it better to lock him in with an unsatisfactory bond, rather than to let him talk to Baltimore, and I still think I was right. He shows every willingness this afternoon to put the bond in any form that is absolutely fair. He agrees that of course the corporation of which you buy the shares owns all the mines, smelters, furnaces, buildings, mining tools and other appurtenances, also all the ores on dump or in process, copper bottoms, and so forth, and that all he wishes to reserve from the sale is any finished copper product, such as pig copper or ingot copper, cash or notes receivable which have been in the company's possession before this time, the total not to exceed in any case over $350,000, so-called company surplus. The clause about legal delivery of the stock from his father's estate was put in by prudence. Tomorrow I consult an attorney as to whether it is not in his power to absolutely deliver it. I think it is. He agrees with me that this must be put in such shape that no outside influence can interfere; but, when it comes to terms, he not knowing, you understand, who my people are, refuses longer time, in doing away with satisfactory endorsements; as he expresses it, he either runs the mine or sells it; and $100,000 cash is nothing to him if he loses the control of the mine and then has to take it back. He remarks that if my people are as strong as I state them, the terms named are ample. He agrees to be in New York with me on Friday and sign any new bond from which day the fourteen days shall run, but insists that he must go West Friday night and that after that day he cannot change the terms of the bond. Therefore you must consult your attorney and have him ready on Friday to prepare a bond, and I can again see Mr. Simpson without his disclosing you in the matter at all.

Telephone me tomorrow if this is all right, and I will wire you about his father's will. I should not be surprised if he believes the purchasers to be Anaconda and Calumet & Hecla, who buy to whip Montana and Tamarack.

Yours very truly, J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

May 6 is the next one from Mr. Meredith as follows:

"BOSTON, May 6, 1895

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Fulton St., New York.

MY DEAR SIR: Mr. Butler did not find Mr. Keyser at Old Point Comfort and was to follow him to Baltimore hoping to return 271 to Boston tomorrow morning. I have secured the third executor's signature to the option, and have written Mr. Beaman to that effect. Mr. Bigelow has agreed to let me have, or rather take and pay for a small share of his interest in this venture. I only mention this to show my desire to aid your side of the copper business. I think I can help you on the railroad situation with Mr. Huntington. His private secretary, Mr. Tweed, formerly a partner of Evarts, Southmayd & Choate, I have known for years, and our relations are always of the pleasantest. Mr. Johnson wires me that the senior of the banking house cannot be reached for a day or two more. I will consult with you on this on Wednesday when I shall be in New York. Tonight Mr. Hyams is to coach me thoroughly on the railroad situation. My rough idea is to try and get a five years' contract before the option is closed. It will greatly strengthen the situation and enhance the value of the property. But we will talk this over when I meet you.

All comes to those who know how to work for it. Believe me,

Yours truly, J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

"BOSTON, May 7, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., P. O. Box 1247, New York.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of yesterday enclosing check to my order for the $2000 paid out by me under agreement of May 4, received with thanks. I shall hope to see you tomorrow, and will call at the office. My hotel will be the Waldorf.

Yours very truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

The only other letter I have is one of June 12, which we will get around to in time.

Q. 12. Well, you might as well read that, and then we will have them in order. Have you any letters from J. Morris Meredith, or copies of letters to him, relating to Old Dominion matters, covering the period from April 1 to July 1?

A. A letter from J. Morris Meredith to Leonard Lewisohn:

"BOSTON, June 12, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., of Lewisohn Brothers, Fulton St., New York.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 11th instant received and is satisfactory excepting, of course, that my deviation from the pres-
272 ent basis of arrangement would throw me back on my rights under my commission contract unless we make another arrangement. I hope you will get the two-sevenths.

Yours very truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

"BOSTON, June 10, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., of Lewisohn Brothers, Fulton St., New York.

DEAR SIR: According to our understanding by telephone today, I am to have, for surrendering all claim to commission on the two-sevenths minority stock in the Old Dominion Copper Co. deal, fourteen four hundred and fifty third (14 453) parts of any profit coming to you, or those under you, taking the four hundred and fifty three one thousandths (453/1000) interest in the entire deal, and I also get for the same reason a similar interest of $15,000 in the Boston pool profits. Kindly write me a line agreeing to this.

Yours very truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH.

J. S.—This is what Messrs. Bigelow and Nelson think is fair, and it was suggested by them."

"JUNE 11, 1895.

J. Morris Meredith, 15 Congress St., Boston.

DEAR SIR: Yours of the 10th instant received and contents noted. Provided we are able to secure the two-sevenths interest from Mr. Keyser at a proportionate price to that at which we secured the five-sevenths from Mr. Simpson, of which we individually are to get one-third and Mr. Bigelow and his people two-thirds, we agree to the payment to you of fourteen four hundred and fifty thirds (14 453) of the profits coming to us or to those taking the four hundred and fifty three one thousandths (453 1000) interest in the entire deal—this in consideration of the fact that Mr. Keyser will not pay the commission and provided the arrangement goes through on the present basis without any material modification.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS.

———, General Manager.

L. L."

Q. 13. Have you any letters from William Keyser, or copies
273 of letters to him, relating to Old Dominion matters, covering the period from April 1 to July 1?

A. A letter from William Keyser to Leonard Lewisohn, dated—

"BALTIMORE, May 11, 1895.

Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, New York City.

DEAR SIR: I have your favor of the 13th instant, also your telegram in regard to description of the Old Dominion Copper Company's property. The deeds, etc., sent you were forwarded by express and not by registered mail. The package you have received therefore is the only one sent you. I enclose a list of the property at Globe which I trust will give you the information desired. As stated in my letter of the 11th instant the records and details covering the smaller pieces are in the company's office at Globe, and your representative when there can obtain full information from Mr. Bersay, our superintendent. I trust this will give you all the information you desire. If not, I will send you such information as I can.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM KEYSER."

Attached to that is the following:

The next letter I have is a copy of a letter from Mr. C. C. Beaman to William Keyser, Esq., Baltimore, Md.:

"JUNE 14, 1895.

William Keyser, Esq., Baltimore, Md.

DEAR SIR: Referring to the memorandum we sent you yesterday signed by Lewisohn, we understand, of course, that the words 'as of May 20th' which you suggest mean that the old stockholders are responsible only for obligations made prior to May 28th, at the same time we understand that you have not, as managers of the company, since May 28, done anything in the way of making obligations or debts of any kind except such as relate to the ordinary every-day working and operation of the mines, the idea being that when Lewisohn takes the property on the 20th of June he will be responsible for no debts prior to May 28th, and that there have been no debts between May 28 and June 20 except such as the ordinary and usual operation of the mines necessitate. Please confirm this understanding.

We understand that you are to arrange to have your stock on deposit with the Old Colony Trust Company of Boston on Wednesday or Thursday next. If you will have it there on Wednesday, Lewisohn will arrange to make his payment so that you can arrange for telegraphic communication from the Old Colony Trust Company on Thursday that the payment has been made and the notes delivered.

Yours very truly,

C. C. BEAMAN."

"BALTIMORE, June 19, 1895.

Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, New York City.

DEAR SIR: I have your favor of the 18th instant, and have written the Old Colony Trust Company in accordance with your request contained therein as per enclosed copy.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM KEYSER.

P. S.—This covers only the stock purchased from me. Mr.
275 Bigelow will doubtless have no trouble in obtaining whatever authority is necessary from the Simpson executors in Boston, it being necessary that any instructions in connection with their stock should come from them."

"BALTIMORE, June 19, 1895.

Old Colony Trust Company, Boston Mass.

GENTLEMEN: Referring again to my letter of instructions of the 17th of June, you are hereby authorized to deliver to Leonard Lewisohn the 7118 shares of stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City upon the payment of the last note mentioned therein. The understanding is that I have sold the stock to Mr. Lewisohn subject to the payments mentioned in our agreement of June 13, and subject to its being held as collateral until the payment of the last note, after which time I have no further interest in the stock. I was under the impression that my letter of the 17th instant, taken in connection with the copy of the agreement sent you made this point clear, but write this at the request of Mr. Lewisohn to avoid any misunderstanding.

WILLIAM KEYSER,
pp. R. BRENT KEYSER."

"BALTIMORE, June 20, 1895.

Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, New York City.

DEAR SIR: Referring to the notes to be given to me today in payment for my two-sevenths of the interest in the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company, I hereby agree that the said notes shall be held by me during the time of their existence, and not negotiated.

Yours truly,

WILLIAM KEYSER,
pp. R. BRENT KEYSER."

Q. 14. Have you any letters from Frank E. Simpson, or copies of letters to him, relating to Old Dominion matters, covering the period from April 1 to July 1, 1895?

A.—

276 "BALTIMORE, May 13, 1895.

Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, of Lewisohn Brothers, New York City.

DEAR SIR: I am just in receipt of your telegram as follows:

Hope to receive by tomorrow list of debts, claims, etc., as per clause fifth of agreement.

LEWISOHN BROTHERS.

By referring to clause fifth of the agreement I see that the property is sold free from all debts, claims, liens or mortgages, and that there are no outstanding contracts between it and any other person or corporation except as stated in the list thereof to be furnished to the said Mr. Meredith. I beg to say that, as stated by Mr. Butler in his communication to you on Friday last, there are no claims, liens, mortgages or outstanding contracts with any person or corporation and that therefore under this clause there is no list to be sent.

Yours very truly,

FRANK E. SIMPSON."

"MAY 14, 1895.

Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, Lewisohn Brothers, New York.

MY DEAR SIR: In reply to your telegraph of yesterday, sent to Baltimore, I would say that having just returned from the West I fear it will be impossible for me to accompany Mr. Hyams on his trip to Globe, but I do not think that I should have been of any assistance to him; he will find everything open for inspection.

Yours very truly,

FRANK E. SIMPSON."

The WITNESS: Now this appears to be the original deed of assignment, Meredith to Leonard Lewisohn, dated the 4th day of May, 1895.

Q. 15. I will ask you whether you have the original assignment from Meredith to Leonard Lewisohn of the option of May 4?

A. Yes [producing the paper].

[The original assignment, Meredith to Leonard Lewisohn, of the option of May 4 is marked "Exhibit 2A, G. C. B., March 27, 1903."]

[For text, see Exhibits.]

277 The WITNESS: This [referring to a paper] appears to be a copy of an option which Lewisohn was advised to sign, agreeing to take the two sevenths of Keyser's at the same price, within sixty days after it was offered.

[This copy of an option, signed by Lewisohn, was marked "Exhibit 7A, G. C. B., March 27, 1903."]

[For text, see Exhibits.]

The WITNESS: The next thing appears to be the Old Dominion Copper Company's statement of June 19.

[This statement was marked "Exhibit 11, G. C. B., March 27, 1903."]

[For text, see Exhibits.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is objected to on the ground that it does not appear to be made by anybody or addressed to anybody, or where it came from. It is immaterial, and is not competent proof of anything

Q. 16. How do you happen to have in your possession the various letters to Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers, which you have produced, and the original papers which you have produced?

A. I have already answered that by saying how I got those papers: that I found them in the back of a drawer in my desk, and they were done up in a piece of paper, and they were given to me at some time; the probability is they were given me at some time when I was in New York to bring over to Boston. I carefully brought them over and put them in the drawer, and they got side-tracked.

Q. 17. How long have they been in your possession?

A. I should imagine, from the amount of dust on the package, that they had been there a long, long time. You can see they are not in relation to any one particular thing, but they were a lot of papers in a bundle tied up with a string.

Q. 18. Are those papers which you have produced the only papers which you found in that bundle?

A. Those papers, as far as I recollect, are everything I found in that bundle; at least, that is all I have.

Q. 19. Have you now produced in evidence, during your deposition, everything that you have found?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 20. Were there not some letters subsequent in date to July 1 which were in the same package?

A. Haven't I read them?

Q. 21. No, you have not.

A. Well, do you want me to look through and see?

Q. 22. I want you to look through and see that your answer is correct; that is all. Were there not some letters subsequent 278 in date, relating to the Old Dominion Copper Company purchase, the organization of the syndicate, the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, or subscriptions to the syndicate or to the company, which were in that same package, and which are now in your possession?

A. I probably got other letters later than July 1; I have probably got them in here,—yes, in my letter book.

Q. 23. But you have produced everything that you have found in that package? What letters have you, subsequent to July 1, if any, from Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers, or any member of that concern? Just let me see if I am right. You testified you had no letters whatever from Lewisohn up to July 1: that is right?

A. I have got a letter from Leonard Lewisohn, dated July 3, as follows:—

"NEW YORK, July 3.

Mr. G. M. Hyams, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Please find enclosed herewith copy of letter of Mr. R. Brent Keyser dated July 2, 1895; copy of letter of Mr. William Keyser dated July 2, 1895.

Yours very truly,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS
L. LEWISOHN,

BALTIMORE, July 2, 1895.

Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, New York City.

MY DEAR SIR: We confirm our telephone conversation this morning, and in accordance with your request we have wired Mr. N. S. Berray at Globe to pay off all June pay-rolls as usual, drawing upon us here for the money, and as soon as we receive the draft we will advise you and you can then remit us. We will also forward to you the papers and documents in connection therewith should they come to us. We were under the impression from what Mr. Hyams said when he was here on the 20th that he would advise Globe in regard to this matter. In the meantime we were to pay any drafts that were drawn prior to said advice and charge same to your account. Not having heard from Globe, we supposed the matter had been arranged, and hence did nothing about it until this morning when we received advices that the June pay roll had not been provided for.

We will write you in regard to the Ladenburg, Thalmann
279 matter, and are writing you today in regard to the Commercial Company's affairs, as we agreed with you that it would be well to get these matters settled if possible before your departure.

Yours very truly,

R. BRENT KEYSER."

"BALTIMORE, July 2, 1895.

Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, New York City:

DEAR Mr. LEWISOHN: I write you in reference to the Old Dominion Commercial Company of Globe, thinking that you and your friends might like to purchase the stock and operate the concern which during the few years it has been in existence has been very profitable to the owners, besides being of considerable assistance to the Old Dominion Company. The capital stock of the concern is $22,500, one-third of which is owned by Mr. Simpson and myself, the balance—two-thirds—being owned by our officers and their friends in Globe. The profits earned have been as follows:

1891	$22,000
1892	19,000
1893	18,500
1894	15,800

The reduced amounts in the past two years being caused by the curtailment of the operations of the copper company. With a concern operated on the basis upon which you will doubtless start your new company, I think there is no doubt but that the profits would be larger, and that the advantage to your copper organization would be very material. The company has been used as a general banking place by the men, the cash deposits without interest being from $15,000 to $30,000; in addition to which we have paid off at the store and availed ourselves of their assistance when currency was scarce. The assets at the present time are:

Cash on deposit	$20,326 26
Bills receivable	836 86
Outstanding accounts	7,522 29
Lumber yard	500 00
Stock at lumber yard	2,000 00
Merchandise stock, say	30,000 00
	$61,187 41

280 And liabilities:

Capital stock	$32,500 00
Due depositors	18,048 70	40,548 70

This estimate would be improved by careful inventory so that the stock at the present time could be converted into cash by closing out the business at about 200 per cent of its face value. The business is well organized and equipped, and has, I think, the good will of the larger part of the community. We have given a good deal of attention in organizing it, and would not sell it except that we do not care to have such a small interest so far from home. We think the business should be worth, as it stands, $50,000. If you would like to buy the stock upon this basis, we can, we think, control and turn the organization over to you in its present effective condition promptly.

Yours very truly,

WILLIAM KEYSER."

Mr. BRANDEIS: Well, I do not think that has anything to do with our inquiry. Do you want it in?

Mr. HEMENWAY: I would just as soon have it go in.

[The witness produced a number of letters: one dated July 8, 1895, from Adolph Lewisohn to Hyams concerning Trippel; another from Adolph Lewisohn to Hyams, dated July 8, 1895, enclosing letter from James Colquhoun, dated Clifton, Ariz., July 3, together with copies of several bills therein mentioned, and at the request of counsel reads the following:]

"Nov. 26, 1895.

Mr. G. M. Hyams, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Confirming our conversation over the telephone this afternoon, we have looked up the papers and find the information given us by our clerk was wrong. According to the document amongst our papers, 'order of procedure for Thursday, June 20th,' we find that June 20th was the date on which the transfer of Mr. Keyser's two-sevenths interest was transferred. We believe you have copies of all the papers, and you will doubtless find this paper amongst the same if you need it.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS,
A. LEWISOHN, General Manager."

281 Q. 24. Have you, in your possession, any letters from any of the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate or to the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, relating to the syndicate, its operations or subscription to the stock of the company?

A. None except what have already been read. I have these in my possession.

Q. 25. You mean those have been already read in the deposition of Mr. Bigelow?

A. In the deposition of Mr. Bigelow. Here are the letters which were taken out of the Old Dominion letter files. [Shown to Mr. Brandeis.]

Q. 26. Have you, in your possession, the letters which were taken out of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company letter files before their delivery to the new management?

A. I have.

[The witness produces a file of letters from Which plaintiff's counsel takes the following, which he requests him to read:]

The WITNESS: [Reading:]

"JULY 23, 1895.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq.

DEAR SIR: I send to you by express today the minute book and secretary's files of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City of which I was recently the secretary.

Yours very truly,

A. W. EVARTS.

To A. S. Bigelow, Esq., 199 Washington St., Boston Mass."

"NEW YORK, Dec. 6, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Esq., Treasurer Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co.

DEAR SIR: We enclose herewith a bill against the Old Dominion syndicate for professional services and abstracts which we send at the request of Messrs. Lewisohn Brothers of this city.

Yours very truly,

EVARTS, CHOATE & BEAMAN."

"DEC. 9, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Esq., Treasurer Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co., 199 Washington St., Boston.

DEAR SIR: We beg to acknowledge the receipt of your favor of Dec. 7 in reference to the sub-division of our bill for profes-282 sional services rendered to the Old Dominion syndicate. Our Mr. Beaman who has this matter particularly in charge is now absent in the West and is not expected here again until Saturday next, when your letter will be handed to him for his personal attention.

Yours very truly,

EVARTS, CHOATE & BEAMAN."

"DEC. 18, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Esq., Treasurer Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co., 199 Washington St., Boston.

DEAR SIR: Replying to your letter of Dec. 7th, in reply to our letter of the 6th, enclosing our account against the Old Dominion syndicate, we would say that our first employment in this matter was by Messrs. Lewisohn Brothers for account of syndicate, but that appears to be separate from Mr. Meredith's contract. Mr. Meredith's contract at that time was not in a condition satisfactory to us and we afterwards advised with Mr. Meredith and with Mr. Simpson and put the contract in such shape that it was afterwards found to be satisfactory and could not be avoided. We afterwards attended to the business of the syndicate in making the payments at Boston, and so forth, and afterwards in reference to the organization of the new company and the turning over of the property by the old company. We never, strictly speaking, considered Mr. Meredith in any way a client, but on the other hand it may be very fair that between him and the syndicate he should pay part of our bill. Our charge for services to the syndicate, including services to Mr. Meredith, would be $5000; our charge for services in reference to the organization of the new company and the turning over of the property of the old company would be $2500. Speaking generally it would seem to us fair that the $5000 charged to Mr. Meredith and the syndicate the amount should be equally paid by Mr. Meredith and the syndicate; but as we have already stated, we never considered Mr. Meredith our client and have not felt justified in sending any bill to him. I am,

Yours very truly,

EVARTS, CHOATE & BEAMAN."

That is written by Mr. Beaman.

Q. 27. Have you at any time had access to the files of papers in the office or connected with the office, of Lewisohn Brothers relating to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. Not since.—well, before the death of Leonard Lewisohn.

2833 Q. 28. Has, so far as you know, everything, all papers relating to the Old Dominion Syndicate, the purchase of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, the Old Dominion Syndicate, and the organization, the subscription for stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, which are in your possession or which were in the possession or control of Mr. Bigelow, been produced at this examination by you to-day or by Mr. Bigelow during the preceding days?

A. I have made a thorough search everywhere. Every paper that can be found, that we have or can get hold of, or that Mr. Bigelow can get hold of, has been produced at this hearing.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Has that indemnity bond been put in?

Mr. BRANDEIS: We will consider that as having been put in, and it will be marked "Exhibit 12, G. C. B., March 27, 1903."

[For text, see Exhibits.]

Q. 29. Were you yourself one of the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. You mean on the paper? No, I was on no paper. [Inspecting.] No, sir; my name is not on the paper.

Q. 30. Did you contribute any money toward the purchase of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City?

A. I think I was charged in my account with Lewisohn for part of that subscription. I had a running account with them for a great many years. I should have to get them to give me the facts.

Q. 31. Will you do that?

A. I will ask them, yes, sir.

Q. 32. You are going to go to New York yourself, so you can look it up.

A. Yes.

Q. 33. Now were you a subscriber to the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company? If so, how many shares did you subscribe for and how many were allotted to you?

A. My name is down here for 4000 shares, and that is absolutely the extent of my knowledge; just how much I got, I have forgotten all about it, and do not know. Whatever I got, I probably sent right over to Mr. Lewisohn to be credited on my account, and I would probably have to get that same figure from them.

Q. 34. Did you have any part in the soliciting or receiving the subscriptions for the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock?

A. Well, do you mean did I take a paper and go around with it? Because I do not know that any solicitation was ever made.

Q. 35. Well, the expression used was, "soliciting or receiving."

A. Whether I remember? I see I signed Mr. Lewisohn's name there, or Leonard Lewisohn's.

284 Q. 36. Have you any recollection?

A. They probably called me over the telephone, but, as for any recollection as to who I saw or what I did, I have no idea whatever.

Q. 37. Have you any recollection of any interviews or any conversations between Mr. Bigelow and any of the subscribers to the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. No, not any.

Q. 38. Have you any recollection of any such conversations between Leonard Lewisohn, or Adolph Lewisohn, or Jesse Lewisohn, or any of the subscribers?

A. I have not the faintest idea, sir; I could not remember. That is eight years ago. I could not remember that.

Q. 39. Have you any recollection of anything that was done in connection with the purchase of the interest of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, or the operations of the syndicate, or the organization of the company, or the subscriptions to the stock other than what has been testified to by you or by Mr. Bigelow, or other than what has appeared by the papers which have gone in, in evidence?

A. Well, I would not want to answer that until I went over it and saw what there was, what I had done.

Q. 40. Do you recall anything now?

A. I do not recall what has been said, to tell the truth, right here in the last few days. I do not know how the thing would connect. I will tell you in the beginning. I cannot remember to-day, though I have been trying, ever since this thing started, to see how I first got into communication or connection with this thing. I cannot remember. I would like to read over. I see an expression in a letter there which you showed me from Lewisohn to me which has given me the idea that I was at an entirely different place.

Q. 41. You mean the letter of May 14?

A. Yes, which was sent to me.

Q. 42. Which indicated you were in the West at that time?

A. Yes. But I evidently went by the way of Great Falls. Now I would not like to say anything about it. I would like to read that correspondence over to know where I stand, because I want to stand on what I say; I do not want to come back here a week after and say I recollected something that I had told you to-day I did not recollect.

Q. 43. You do not at the present time recall anything in regard to the purchase of the property or the operations of the syndicate or the organization of the company or the making of the allotment of the subscriptions that you have not testified to?

A. No, I do not want to say that I do.

Q. 44. I mean you do not now do it?

A. I have got sort of confused ideas I cannot correlate; that is absolutely the fact. I do not want to tell you I don not know 285 anything. I have ideas, and they do not match up with what I read in these letters.

Q. 45. To what points have you reference?

A. On the points of talking with Mr. Leonard Lewisohn and talking with Mr. Meredith. I see in a letter there that I was to post Mr. Meredith up about the railroad situation, that I had posted him. I should have gone on the stand and sworn I never said anything to him about it. I do not want to state that.

[The further taking of the deposition of this witness was suspended.]

[Adjourned to Friday, April 3, 1903.]

FRIDAY, April 10, 1903.

[The taking of the deposition of Godfrey M. Hyams was resumed at 10 a. m. at the office of Messrs. Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, 220 Devonshire St., Boston, Mass.]

Q. 46. Have you, since the adjournment of the taking of your deposition, found any other letters or papers in any way bearing upon the matter in controversy?

A. I have found no book or paper not already introduced in evidence; I have brought with me the record book of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City which I had found at the time you requested me to bring the record book.

Q. 47. I call your attention to Int. 39 of your deposition and your answer thereto, which I will read:

"Q. 39. Have you any recollection of anything that was done in connection with the purchase of the interest of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City or the operations of the syndicate or the organization of the company or the subscriptions to the stock, other than what has been testified to by you and Mr. Bigelow, other than what has appeared by the papers which have gone in evidence?

A. Well, I would not want to answer that until I went over it and saw what there was, what I had done * * *" and ask you whether since the adjournment you have refreshed your recollection or otherwise been able to recall any such facts?

A. I have tried to piece out what I thought, what I remembered, and verify it by the letters and papers and other documents, and think I am pretty clear; I know I am pretty clear as to my recollection of what happened in the beginning.

Q. 48. Well, do you recall any facts other than those that you have testified to?

A. Yes.

Q. 49. In what connection?

286 A. Well, in the first place, in connection with my original knowledge of the matter, and in connection with the furnishing of the money and with reference to the railroad situation. I have been able now to see, by going over all the correspondence and the letters, just the sequence of affairs, and have got considerable light on the matter in a systematic way.

Q. 50. Well, now will you state what you have been able to recall, following the order which you have indicated?

A. I was engaged in work at Lake Superior at some of our properties, and was called East about the end of April, and I had conversations with Leonard Lewisohn, and probably with Mr. Bigelow over the telephone. I find no letters from him in regard to the Old Dominion property, and the chance of its being valuable, and the desirability of taking an option or control of that stock, and the questions that would naturally be asked by a business man of an engineer who was supposed to know about mining properties. It is evident that I stayed in New York longer than I thought when I testified before. And I can remember now of meeting with Mr. Meredith before I went away to examine the property, and discussing with him the manner in which mining options were taken; something of that kind is in my mind; that we talked over the form of option, and whether it would be desirable to only get a controlling interest. I must have been in New York until after the option of May 4, and when that was obtained I evidently started West immediately to examine the property, but went by the way of Montana, for I find at least one letter on the train, one or two letters on the train, about the 14th of May. Evidently Mr. Simpson was to go with me to the property; that was the original plan. And, seeing that letter, that brought me back to remember of my talk with Mr. Meredith as to the form of the option. And I told him at the time that the property had always been very closely held and information was very hard to obtain, and I did not really think that unless one of the owners was on the ground I would get very much insight into the actual conditions. That seems to me to clear up pretty well the hiatus that existed in my mind as to how I came into connection with this thing, how I got started, and how those letters happened to be dated as they were. After I returned, which must have been later than the 1st of June, for there is a telegram referred to by me in Globe as of the 27th of May, I found preparations had been made to take over the five sevenths of stock upon which he had an option, and that the first payment had been made. And the question then came up as to operating the property. And it was in that connection that the railroad situation came to be discussed. At the time of the purchase there was a railroad whose terminus was to be in Globe, and had been constructed part of the way, and the builder of it had stopped on account of lack of funds. This road was tribu-

287 tary to the Southern Pacific. And, in talking with Mr. Meredith originally about the condition of affairs, he had told me that he knew he could be of considerable assistance to us if we ever took the property, because he was a particular friend, I believe, in some way connected in business with Mr. Tweed, who was the confidential man and general counsel for Mr. Huntington of the Southern Pacific road. And that is undoubtedly what is referred to in some of his letters, stating that I had posted Mr. Meredith as to the railroad situation. I explained to him what we wanted, what rates we ought to have, about what could be done, and he was to take it up with Mr. Tweed, and through Mr. Tweed with Mr. Huntington, to see how much he could help us along. But naturally he had to get the facts and the data first. I did not remember anything about that until I read the letter. Even as late as my return, I had figured on operating the property as representing people who owned a control, and never expected to get anything more than a control.

Q. 51. I am asking you for what you recollect, of course, not anything as to what occurred.

A. I am trying to tell you how I recollected it.

And it was a question of most carefully considering every step so that we would not furnish any ground for a hostile minority to annoy us. And it was for that reason that I suggested getting a man of our own as a manager, and not trusting to the manager who was there and of whom we knew nothing. I remember this end of it by seeing letters in reference to their man being willing to stay until we replaced him. That is in some letters of Mr. Keyser's; you will remember that he telegraphed he would be pleased to stay until the 1st of July, or something of that kind. I remember now, although I cannot fix the exact date, of calling Mr. Lewisohn's attention to the fact that all the claims which were always supposed to be owned by the Old Dominion Company were not included in the deeds which he had furnished to Mr. Colquhoun; and I know that he must have taken some steps in the matter; for in the option from Mr. Keyser I find that these other claims are referred to and included. I remember of explaining to Mr. Lewisohn that the Old Dominion Company originally was founded and based upon the Old Dominion mine, and that the property had been considered, even before the first reorganization of the company, quite a valuable property. I may say here that many years ago I had been in Globe for some time and remembered my first memory of the property. At that time the Old Dominion mine was the principal source of ore for the Old Dominion company, but I had known nothing of the property at all for years. I also remember telling Mr. Lewisohn that the company originally, before it was the Old Dominion Company, had been formed and had located a smelter at the point called "Bloody Tanks,"

288 where the New York and Chicago claims were situated, based on the ore supplies of these mines, these claims being some miles from Globe. After the option upon the Keyser stock was obtained and exercised, I remember now my visit to Baltimore with Mr. Lewisohn, to take over the company as a company. I cannot be absolutely positive, but I am quite sure that there was no one else from our office, from the Boston office, who went with me, but I looked over the books myself. After the transfer was made, or at the time the transfer was made, it is evident that we asked to have all work stopped until we could get it commenced with our own man; and that, evidently, explains the telegram. I remember that from seeing a telegram that was sent on Thursday by one of the directors to their manager there, to stop the work until our man came. In going over Mr. Bigelow's accounts I find, as the accounts will show,—or first I will say that in going over the accounts, I found that I had received none of the 60,000 shares of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, although I had subscribed for 1000,—and in going over Mr. Bigelow's figures and looking at the stock books I found I had received a certain number of shares; and that started another train of remembrance, and I remember now that up to the time I went away the idea of what was to be done or how we were going to do it was very indefinite, because we did not know whether we were going to take the property at all. But I can remember I was promised an interest in it if we took it, in lieu of fees or anything of that kind; that I was to receive no fees, and as a matter of fact I did receive no fees. I found when I came back that an arrangement for the purchase of the five sevenths had been made, and I was left out. And I can remember that I thought perhaps I had not been properly treated, and asked about it, as to why I had been left out, and I was told that the demand for a participation was so great that everybody had taken less than he wanted, and that I might expect to get something finally, and the thing was left in a very indefinite way; I do not find my name upon the first Old Dominion Syndicate paper of June, which was extended to take up the two sevenths, and therefore it is evident that I was not allowed to participate in that, undoubtedly for the same reason. I can remember, in a very general way, the notices or whatever you have a mind to call them, in the papers about the matter——

Q. 52. Just state what papers.

A. Well, all the daily papers. The Boston papers, all of the Boston papers, had so-called financial articles every day—they comment on various things going on, and in that connection they commented quite frequently on Old Dominion business, perhaps might refer to letters; you would see frequently references in the papers saying so-and-so about Old Dominion, or discussing Old Dominion; that is, the articles all pointed out——

289 Mr. BRANDEIS: I object to that testimony as to the contents of the newspaper articles because we can get those.

The WITNESS: My remembrance is that those articles all pointed out the great value that was going to come from subscriptions to this Old Dominion, and I have been trying to think who it was finally advised me to agree not to take any. What I am trying to get at in this whole thing is to tell you how I remembered not getting on that second paper. At any rate, it was decided that I should not have any of it. Later, after the formation of the company, and when it was decided that some of the shares were to be sold, it is evident that I was permitted to participate in that, from the fact that I did participate as far as signing the paper; but on looking at the stock book I find I received none of that subscription; and I remember that I was told again that it was best for the interests of everybody that I waive any rights I might have there, and that I would be taken care of in some way. That is what I can, up to date, remember in anything like a connected way.

Q. 53. Have you now stated, together with what you testified in the earlier part of your deposition, everything that you recall?

A. I think I have stated substantially everything.

Q. 54. Do you remember how many shares you ultimately did get in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. I do not remember. I can only tell you now what the record shows. The stock book shows that I received, as a subscriber under Leonard Lewisohn, a certificate for 2240 shares on October 3, 1895. I did not remember that until I saw it upon the statement that was furnished me in New York in the testimony you took there in the suit of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co. v. Bigelow; but I find that there was transferred into my name in December, 1897, a certificate for 1460 shares which had stood in Mr. Bigelow's name, and immediately transferred out of my name to Lewisohn. That is the only record I can find of any stock in my name at any time of the Old Dominion Company; and I have gone over the stock ledger, which, of course, is an absolute record, and that is confirmed.

Q. 55. Have you now stated your whole recollection as to the nature of your interest and the amount paid for it?

A. I have received from Mr. Bigelow, which will show on his statement, 3230 shares, and that shows on account of the Old Dominion, but does not seem to tell me how I got it, any more than as I have told you that was always promised me as a consideration for my giving up all sorts of participation in the syndicate and stock of the company in lieu of services, etc. Now, as I say, that is not, with me, so much a matter of recollection as it is a 290 matter of finding the facts out in going over the stock books of the company and the accounts of Lewisohn Brothers and of Mr. Bigelow.

Q. 56. Does the report of James Colquhoun and G. M. Hyams, dated Clifton, Ariz., June 18, 1895, addressed to Messrs. A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn, which was introduced as Exhibit 13 in the deposition of Mr. Bigelow, contain a report of all of the properties which you examined in their behalf in connection with the Old Dominion purchase?

A. To the best of my knowledge, it does. I cannot tell whether everything I saw at Globe is included in this report, but I have mentioned here a certain number of claims, on the first page.

Q. 57. Then, to the best of your recollection, that report contains a list of all of the claims and properties which you examined for Messrs. Lewisohn and Bigelow in that connection, does it not?

A. I think so.

Q. 58. And the claims on which you make report are the same claims referred to in the memorandum attached to the letter of William Keyser which is in evidence, in answer to Int. 13 of your deposition?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 59. It is a fact, is it not, that you made no examination of the several mining claims, namely, the Old Dominion mine, the New York mine, the Chicago mine, and the Keystone mine, or of the parcel of land near Bloody Tanks, all of which were deeded by Leonard Lewisohn to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, in pursuance of the vote at the directors' meeting of July 11, 1895?

A. I did not examine those claims.

Q. 60. Are those the claims that you referred to as being called the Old Dominion mine, as being called to Mr. Lewisohn's attention as not being included in the deeds and papers furnished by Mr. Keyser?

A. Yes.

Q. 61. As coming under the Simpson option?

A. Those are the claims that I called to his attention as being owned, according to common repute, by the Old Dominion Company.

Q. 62. And not being included in the list furnished by Mr. Keyser?

A. Not included in the list furnished by Mr. Keyser.

Q. 63. You speak of the Old Dominion Mining Claim Company, a claim on which the original company had been based. You refer, do you not, to a company that existed prior to the Old Dominion Company of Baltimore City?

A. Yes.

Q. 64. Which failed and was subsequently reorganized?

Mr. HEMENWAY: There is no evidence of that whatever.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I am asking what he referred to.

291 A. I cannot say about failing, or anything of that kind. I know what I wanted to say was that there was an Old Dominion Company which took its name from the Old Dominion claim.

Q. 65. And which had gone out of existence?

A. That I cannot, from knowledge, say, whether it had gone out of existence or not.

Q. 66. It was not the company known as the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City, was it?

A. I cannot tell you that, sir.

Q. 67. Now have you made any examination at any other time of these claims known as the Old Dominion mine, the New York mine, the Chicago mine, the Keyser mine, or the parcel of land situated near Bloody Tanks?

A. I have never made a technical examination of the claims, but I have passed them about, and being in the same mining camp, naturally I would know, in a general way, what claims were producing; in tonnage, I mean.

Q. 68. What do you mean when you say you have "passed" them?

A. I was engaged in work at Globe.

Q. 69. When?

A. Somewhere in the 80's.

Q. 70. How early?

A. I should say somewhere between 1884 and 1886.

Q. 71. It was then that you got such information as you had?

A. That was the first information that I had, because that was the time at which the properties were first worked. Subsequently to that I had visited Globe and the surrounding country several times.

Q. 72. When?

A. Oh, up to 189–, certainly in the early 90's, I cannot tell you the dates, but some years after I had left the town of Globe.

Q. 73. Well, did you at any time subsequent to 1884 or 1886, see any of these properties known as the Old Dominion mine, the New York mine, the Chicago mine, the Keystone mine, and the parcel of land near Bloody Tank?

A. Well, just say how long "since" refers to. Do you mean up to date?

Q. 74. Any time between 1884 and August 1895?

A. Well, I could not have helped seeing the Old Dominion mine every time I went in that part of the country, because it was right on the main road; the other mines are located on another road that was some six or seven miles away; but I am quite certain every time I went through Globe I must have seen the Old Dominion mine.

Q. 75. You mean, simply seen it in passing?

A. Yes.

Q. 76. You made no examination?

A. I made no examination.

Q. 77. Of either that or any of the other properties?

A. No, sir.

Q. 78. Do you know whether or not at any time at any of your visits between 1886 and August, 1895, any of those properties
292 were being worked; I mean either the Old Dominion mine, the New York mine, the Chicago mine, or the Keystone mine were being worked, or anything being done on that parcel of land near Bloody Tanks?

A. I could not say now, sir; I could not say whether they were being worked or not.

Q. 79. You have no recollection of their being worked?

A. I have no recollection one way or the other.

Q. 80. When you were out in Globe making an examination on which you and Mr. Colquhoun reported, under date of June 18, 1895, to Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn, did you gather any information in regard to these properties known as the Old Dominion mine, New York mine, Chicago mine, Keystone mine, or the parcel of land near Bloody Tanks?

A. I do not now recollect of doing so.

Q. 81. Well, do you know what the character of the ores, if any, in those properties called the Old Dominion mine, the New York mine, the Chicago mine, the Keystone mine was or is?

A. Yes, sir; they are what is generally known as oxidized copper ores.

Q. 82. The same as the mines at Globe generally operated by the Old Dominion mine?

A. There is the same character of ores in those mines as in the mine now operated by the plaintiff company; there are other characters of ore in some of the mines operated by the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

[The further taking of this deposition was suspended until Thursday, April 16, 1903, at 10 A. M.]

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
220 DEVONSHIRE STREET, BOSTON.
TUESDAY, May 5, 1903.

Deposition of Godfrey M. Hyams, Resumed.

[In answer to interrogatories propounded by Mr. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, the witness further deposes and says:]

Q. 83. Mr. Hyams, you stated you would examine the records to ascertain the facts in regard to your relation to the Old Dominion Syndicate and embody that in an account. Is the account which you now present, which is marked "Exhibit 23," a statement showing your relation to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I object to its admission as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

293 A. That is right, sir.

Q. 84. That is correct?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 85. Have you, since the adjournment of the taking of your deposition on April 10, 1903, found any further papers bearing upon the question at issue which you have been inquired of about?

A. No, sir.

Q. 86. Have you made any investigation of the records which has disclosed to you any facts, or recalled to you any facts, which you were not in possession of at the time you testified?

A. Well, I have gone over the record pretty carefully and every time I have gone over it I have got the thing a little clearer in my mind.

Q. 87. That is not the question. What record have you gone over?

A. The testimony; I assumed you meant, by "the records," that.

Q. 88. You mean your own testimony?

A. I mean everything that has been taken here.

Q. 89. That is, the report of your testimony and of Mr. Bigelow's testimony?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 90. Other than that, you have not had access to any books or papers or sources of information which have in any way refreshed your recollection, have you?

A. No, I do not think so, sir.

Mr. HEMENWAY: There is one thing I do not know, whether it is included in that answer or not, and that is you requested him to go through Mr. Bigelow's letter books and see if there were any letters indexed that were on those missing pages of the letter book.

The WITNESS: I had a purpose in not mentioning that, because that was not refreshing my recollection.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I simply suggested the inquiry whether that was in or not.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I do not see why you cannot leave in the record what you have said about that.

Q. 91. Now will you state, Mr. Hyams, what the result of your examination of that index was,—what the result of your examination of the index, which was to be made for the purpose of determining whether there was in the index any reference to any letters on pages 309–313, inclusive, was?

A. I went over the letter book and looked at the index, and found that the missing pages were in between notices sent to the members of the syndicate, and there is no index number in the index at all referring to either of those pages.

Q. 92. That is, referring either to pages 309, 310, 311, 312, or 313?

294 A. Yes, sir. They appear evidently to have been copies that for some reason or other were wrongly written or spelled in some way.

Q. 93. That is simply your inference?

A. I say that is my inference from the fact that they were between, right in the middle of, a lot of notices, and the date is the same before and after.

Q. 94. Will you state whether, in making search or otherwise, you have been able to find a letter, or a copy of a letter, to Mr. Woodhull dated August 8, 1895?

A. That is the one we did not attempt to do anything with at all.

Q. 95. Do you wish to be understood now as testifying that you have no knowledge whatsoever in regard to the existence of any copy of that letter of August 8, 1895?

A. I do not know what letter you refer to; I have never seen the letter. You read some words off of a piece of paper; that is all I know.

Q. 96. Do you now wish to be understood as testifying that you have never seen, so far as you can remember, any letter of Mr. Bigelow to Mr. Woodhull under date of August 8, 1895, or any copy of a letter of that date, containing, among other things, the passage quoted in Redirect Int. 588 of the deposition of Mr. Bigelow, viz., "I received your letter of the 7th. You are right in presuming the 20,000 shares which has been offered, to be treasury stock."

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I renew the objection made when the question referred to was put: That if the plaintiff has in his possession such a letter, it ought to be exhibited to the witness before he is required to answer concerning its contents; that if the plaintiff is not in possession of any such letter, and will so state, and desires an examination to be made to see if a copy of such a letter exists, we are perfectly willing to make it; but in the absence of such statement by the plaintiff, we do not feel called upon to search for secondary evidence, if the best evidence exists.

Q. 97. [Int. 96 read.]

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I supopse the answer to that is, "No, sir."

A. No, sir.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Whether you have seen such a letter.

Mr. BRANDEIS: No, that is not the question; the question is whether you wish to be understood as so testifying. Please read the question.

Q. 98. [Int. 96 read.]

A. You have simply inverted the question. The answer is, "Yes, sir."

Q. 99. Do you wish to be understood as so testifying? That is what you mean to state?

A. Yes.

Q. 100. Is it not a fact that since the examination of April 23, 1903, when this matter was called to Mr. Bigelow's attention, 295 you have made an examination of the letter-press copy books to see whether or not there was a copy of such a letter written?

A. No, sir.

Q. 101. And you wish also to be understood as testifying that, so far as you know, no examination has been made, and no search has been made for such a letter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 102. And that no such letter or copy thereof is in the possession of Mr. Bigelow or of his counsel?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. 103. Or has been at any time since this deposition has been commenced?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Cross-Examination.

[In answer to cross-interrogatories propounded by Edward Lauterbach, Esq., counsel for the defendants, the witness further deposes and says,—]

X 104. Mr. Hyams, before Redirect Int. 588 was asked by Mr. Brandeis of Mr. Bigelow, had you examined all the letter books and records and files of Mr. Bigelow, and your own so as to find the originals and copies of all letters and telegrams and papers affecting the Old Dominion Copper Company and the purchase of its stock by Bigelow and Lewisohn, and the original guarantee syndicate of May 22, 1895, and the Old Dominion Syndicate, and the stock-subscription syndicate of July 18, 1895 (Exhibit 10), and all correspondence with subscribers to the various syndicates, so as to produce them while Mr. Bigelow was being examined, and while you were being examined?

A. I examined them originally and marked them, and then, from time to time, as you probably remember, during the examination, we were constantly going over them again, and I am quite certain Mr. Brandeis stood at my elbow while I was looking at them, trying to find everything; and I remember distinctly of looking in the index for letters to Maxwell Woodhull, and tallying them one after the other as they were indexed, with Mr. Brandeis.

X 105. And during that examination no such letter as that which Mr. Brandeis has referred to came under your observation?

A. No, sir.

X 106. Or at any other time?

A. No, sir.

X 107. Do you know of any written evidence in Mr. Bigelow's possession or yours, or under his control or yours, or in the possession of the Lewisohns, pertaining to the matters referred to in my last question that has not been produced?

A. No, sir.

296 X 108. Mr. Hyams, referring to Exhibit 13, which is the report of Mr. Colquhoun and yourself to Messrs. Bigelow and Lewisohn, was that report, so far as you know, an accurate statement concerning the mines that you examined?

A. Yes, sir.

X 109. In addition to examining the physical condition of the mines, did you examine the books and records at Globe in order to make up your report?

A. I went over them very carefully, and was obliged to do so in order to base any figures of cost of production or probable profits, costs of supplies, etc.

X 110. And the basis of your report in respect to such matters was furnished by the books of the Baltimore Company. In making that examination did you examine the books of the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore?

A. I do not think they kept any books containing that information at Baltimore.

X 111. Well, I refer to Exhibit 11, which has been introduced in evidence. Was any such statement as that examined by you in order to ascertain the condition of the property and its value?

A. Well, that is a statement made June 19.

X 112. That statement had not then been made?

A. No, sir; but I did not examine the Baltimore books at all, because that would have been nonsense; the records were all at Globe, and the only books at Baltimore would be just the financial books of the company, and they would not have shown anything so far as the real value of the property was concerned.

X 113. Referring to Exhibit 11, I see that there is an item "Real Estate, Globe, $450,000." Would that have indicated to you anything concerning the value of the property if you had seen such a statement as that in the books of the Old Dominion Copper Company or on any balance sheet such as that which was made up on the 19th of June?

A. Absolutely nothing. That is simply a balance entry to cover the capital stock.

X 114. There is no indication of value?

A. Nothing whatever, absolutely nothing.

X 115. And would the exhibition of any such balance sheet, or of the books from which it was made, as is contained in Exhibit 11, have given you any information concerning the actual value of the property?

A. Well, only as far as—it would have shown me that the property had no debts, but it would not have shown me what supplies it had on hand; the supplies I would get at Globe; and the debts,—as I remember the opinion, it was stated that the property was to be turned over free of debt, so that would not interest us at all.

X 116. You are familiar with the matter of keeping books of mining companies?

A. Yes, sir.

X 117. You consider yourself an expert in that respect?

297 A. I am familiar with the books of mining companies.

X 118. And have had how many years' experience in that?

A. Ever since I have had to do with the management of mines I have naturally had to know about the keeping of books.

X 119. And a balance sheet, or the books upon which such a balance sheet would be founded, or the statement of value contained in such a balance sheet or on its books, would be no criterion of actual value, in your opinion, would it?

A. A statement of the property of any mining concern is of no value as showing its real value. For instance, a great many corporations are organized in Maine, if you please, that have only one dollar paid in—I believe that is all that is necessary—and yet their real estate and property account shows the full value of the capital stock; on the other hand, a great many of the largest mining companies in this country show a real-estate and property account of a nominal amount; that is, simply a book-keeping entry. If you took that, you would have to mark it up and down constantly if you wanted to get a true idea of the value of the concern. But, of course, as you extract the ore from any mining property, the real estate becomes less and less valuable, and you would have to keep cutting that down constantly. Do you get my idea?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Perfectly.

The WITNESS: The value of a property is, in my judgment, best shown by an examination of the property rather than by what somebody else has been willing to put it on the books at.

X 120. Referring again to Exhibit 13, I observe that you placed you estimate upon the value of copper at the "present price of black copper, 10½ cents."

Mr. BRANDEIS: At the then present price of black copper, 10½ cents.

X 120. ([continued.] With black copper realizing 10 cents per pound, you prognosticate the profits to be $360,000 per annum, and with black copper realizing 10½ cents per pound, $420,000 per annum. What was the fact as to the increase or decrease of the market value of black copper after the purchase of the stock by Lewisohn and Bigelow?

A. My impression is that it went up.

X 121. It went up steadily from that period, did it?

A. I think so.

X 122. How much was it, do you remember?

A. I don't, sir, but I will submit a table showing the price of copper from May 28, 1895, up to April, 1902, quarterly, which may be marked "Exhibit 24."

[For text of this exhibit see Hyams Exhibits, page 324.]

298 X 123. Now is there anything concerning that report that you want to state?

A. Well, just on that point that there are two factors in determining the profit of a copper mine. One is the value of the product, and the other is the copper contents of the ore. The profit set down here was based, as I have stated, upon a yield of 9 per cent copper. When we started up the property the yield, instead of being 9 per cent, was less. Consequently, although the price of copper might have gone much higher, the company might have still made a loss in its profits, owing to the lower yield of the copper in the rock; and that is exactly what happened.

X 124. Did the books indicate the percentage prior to your examination?

A. Yes.

X 125. What was that percentage?

A. That percentage was about 9 per cent, as I have stated.

X 126. And the basis of your calculation was 9 per cent?

A. I have stated in the report "Taking the figures of the old Company as a basis."

X 127. And that basis was about 9 per cent?

A. About 9 per cent.

X 128. But, in point of fact, after the purchase the ore turned out to be a lower grade of ore?

A. We found that the old management had made a careful selection and had only taken out the better grade of material and worked in a limited way. When we came to work in a larger way, a supply of that grade was not forthcoming, and it dropped down.

X 129. You spoke of working the mine in a larger way; was the working done under the Lewisohn and Bigelow regime, if I may call it such, conducted on a larger basis than it had been done before?

A. It was conducted on a larger basis in this way: that the old company had only run their smelting plant at intervals, and during the intervals of the closing down of the smelting plant they had continued mining and accumulated a reserve, so that, while they smelted a good deal while they ran, they did not smelt all the time. When the new management took hold, our policy was to keep on smelting continuously; and that, of course, called for a larger daily ore production.

X 130. What was the condition as to the operation of the smelter at the time of the transfer of the control of the property by Keyser and the Simpson estate to Lewisohn and Bigelow?

A. The smelter had been closed down since the preceding year, since, I believe it was, August or September. And, just on that point, the mine had been run in the interval and was running when I went there.

X 131. That is to say, the ore production continued?

A. The ore production continued.

X 132. And the smelter was discontinued?

A. The smelter was discontinued.

299 X 133. And there was consequently a large accumulation of ore?

A. There was a large accumulation of ore, and that was the reason that I recommended the cessation of mining operations until our man could get to the mine so we could start smelting at once. They had been mining for seven or eight months and storing the ore and every nook and corner of the place was filled with ore; and that made it very expensive, making a double handling; and I recommended that they stop this mining—they were not doing anything particularly except taking out ore—that they stop this mining until we could start the smelter and get rid of this accumulation of ore.

X 134. What you desired was to send out a man competent to run the smelter?

A. He could not come until, I think it was in July, some time the end of July—he could not get there. Of course, at that time we did not know who we were going to get.

X 135. This discontinuance of the operation of the mining of ore was in consequence of your suggestions, and for the reasons you have stated?

A. Purely so, and for the reasons I have stated.

X 136. Mr. Hyams, did you, at my request, look into the subject of the payment by Whitney and by Meredith of the sum of $7000 by Whitney, and of $3500 by Meredith on May 27, 1895, referred to in Int. 84 of Mr. Bigelow's deposition, and can you tell me whether any further amounts, whether any other receipts than the receipt of $7000 and the receipt of $3500, as being part payment under the original guarantee syndicate of May 22, were ever paid by Whitney or Meredith?

A. There was no record anywhere of any further payment.

X 137. And can you tell me what, in fact, was done with the payment of $7000 and of $3500 made, apparently, on the guarantee syndicate of May 22?

A. It was treated as a first payment on the Old Dominion Syndicate.

X 138. And all subsequent payments by Whitney and Meredith were charged as contributions to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. Yes, sir.

X 139. And in the division of the stock finally, was this contribution of money treated as a contribution of the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. Treated as a contribution to the Old Dominion Syndicate only.

X 140. And were they treated as subscribers to the guarantee syndicate of May 22 in the same way as the other subscribers to the syndicate that had contributed in proportion?

A. Exactly in the same proportion.

X 141. So that their treatment was twofold; in the one capacity as subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate, and in the other as members of the original guarantee syndicate?

A. Yes, sir.

300 X 152. Mr. Hyams, as to Mr. Bigelow's relations to the various syndicates: he was a member of the original guarantee syndicate, was he not?

A. Yes.

X 143. And in that respect was a guarantor or underwriter?

A. As an underwriter.

X 144. He was a subscriber to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. Yes, sir.

X 145. And in that respect stood on the same basis as the other subscribers to the syndicate?

A. Yes, sir.

X 146. He was also a subscriber to the stock subscription or agreement of July 18, was he not?

A. Yes.

X 147. And was also part owner by purchase of the stock of the Old Dominion Company and the Keyser mining claims?

A. Yes, sir.

[In order to secure easy access to certificates, stubs, and books necessary to the inquiry, the further taking of this deposition was continued on the same day at the office of the Old Dominion Mining & Smelting Company, No. 35 Congress street, Boston, Mass., as follows:—

X 148. Mr. Hyams, I refer to Exhibit 17, it being a statement which you have called "A. S. Bigelow Old Dominion Investment Account," in which Mr. Bigelow appears to be charged with 31,425 shares, and to be credited with the disposition of part of those shares. From what sources did you obtain that information?

A. From the stock books, the stock certificates, transfers, and stock ledgers of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

X 149. Which are now before you?

A. Yes, sir.

X 150. Will you kindly explain in detail how you arrived at those figures and how you made up the account?

A. On the 18th of September, 1895, certificate No. 71 was issued to P. K. Dumaresq for 100,000 shares, stamped "Issued for property purchased."

Certificate No. 73 was issued to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, for 20,000 shares.

Certificate No. 74 was issued to A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn for 30,000 shares. This certificate is also stamped "Issued for property purchased."

Certificate No. 71 stub contains the following:—

"No. 71.
100 Shares."

(This evidently a mistake for 100,000 shares, as the certificate calls for 100,000 shares.)

301 "Issued to Sundries
Dated September 18, 1895.
for Sundries.
Returned and cancelled
Received the above Certificate ."

Certificate No. 73 stub contains the following:—

"No. 73.
20,000 Shares.
Issued to Thomas Nelson, Treasurer.
Dated September 18, 1895.
For Vote of Syn.
Returned and cancelled
Transferred from
Received the above Certificate ."

"No. 74.
30,000 Shares
Issued to A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn.
Dated September 18, 1895.
For
Returned and cancelled
Transferred from
Received the above certificate ."

On the same day certificate No. 71 was split up, 4 shares being transferred to each of the following persons:—

Moses T. Stevens, 4; A. S. Bigelow, 4; Leonard Lewisohn, 4; Edgar Buffun, 4; J. G. Ray, 4; H. M. Whitney, 4.

Sixteen (16) transferred shares to Thomas Nelson, and a balance certificate, No. 82, issued to P. K. Dumaresq, for 99,960 shares.

Certificate No. 73 was on the same day split up into certificates to the following persons, whose names will be found in Exhibit 25, May 5, 1903, G. C. B.

[For list see H Exhibits, p. 324.]

Certificate No. 82, in the name of P. K. Dumaresq, for 99,960 shares, was on the 19th of September, 1895, exchanged for 302 some small certificates aggregating 520 shares and a balance certificate, No. 140, issued to P. K. Dumaresq, for 99,420 shares.

On the 27th of September, 1895, this certificate was split up to the persons and in the number of shares shown in Exhibit —, May 5, 1903, G. C. B. [see H Exhibit p. —], these people being the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate.

Among those certificates was one to A. S. Bigelow for 4000 shares. And that explains the first item of 4000 shares on Exhibit 17.

It appears from Mr. Bigelow's check book that, disregarding small items of interest, he paid out on Old Dominion account $50,000 more than he received from Old Dominion Syndicate subscribers, as shown by Exhibit 16. As a subscriber to this syndicate, he was entitled to receive his $50,000 back and 2000 shares of stock, or to subscribe the $50,000, on the list of July 18, to shares of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for an equivalent number of shares at par, that is, 2000 shares, so that I have said here that his subscription for $50,000 entitled him to 4000 shares, which he received accordingly. And a balance certificate No. 262, was issued to P. K. Dumaresq for 20,000 shares. Upon this list, with the 4000 shares which went to Mr. Bigelow, there was also a certificate, No. 269, issued to Leonard Lewisohn for 36,190 shares.

On the 17th of October, 1895, certificate No. 74, in the name of A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn, for 30,000 shares, and certificate No. 262, in the name of P. K. Dumaresq, for 20,000 shares, equalling 50,000 shares, were split up into certificates No. 419, in the name of Leonard Lewisohn, for 22,650 shares, and certificate No. 520, in the name of A. S. Bigelow, for 27,350 shares. This explains the second debit item on Exhibit No. 17, marked "For Underwriting Syndicate, 27,350 shares."

I find from Mr. Bigelow's check book that on the 8th of October, 1897, he purchased 25 shares, for which he paid $625, and on the 1st of December, 1900, he purchased 50 shares, for which he paid $1575. This accounts for the total amount charged to him, 31,425 shares, but does not include the 4 shares to each director taken out of certificate No. 71.

Now, coming to the other side, certificate No. 421, issued in the name of A. S. Bigelow, for 27,350 shares, on October 17, was, on the same day, split up into the following certificates, all in the name of A. S. Bigelow:—

Certificate No. 427, for 6220 shares, was retained by A. S. Bigelow.

Certificate No. 428, for 5240 shares, to J. A. Coram.

Certificate No. 429, for 5240 shares, to Matthew Luce.

Certificate No. 430, for 4240 shares, to Thomas Nelson.

303 Certificate No. 431, for 1960 shares, to J. Morris Meredith.

Certificate No. 432, for 1460 shares, G. M. Hyams.

Certificate No. 433, for 2990 shares, to Henry M. Whitney.

I have examined the stock ledger of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, and find that the greatest number of shares with which Mr. Bigelow was ever charged was 31,425; which aggregate is made up of the 4000 shares, the 27,350 shares, the 25 shares, the 50 shares, and the 4 directors' shares testified to by me above.

Referring again to the credit side of Exhibit 17, it appears that on the 17th of October there was transferred to J. A. Coram, 5240 shares; to Matthew Luce, 5240 shares; to Thomas Nelson, 4240 shares; to

467

J. M. Meredith, 1960 shares; to H. M. Whitney, 2990 shares; being the balance of the 27,350 shares received by Mr. Bigelow for the underwriting syndicate, less the amount reserved to himself, and the amount 1460 shares, appearing as transferred to G. M. Hyams, December 10, 1897.

On December 19, 1895, Mr. Bigelow transferred to Mrs. Bigelow, 200 shares; on the 11th of January, 1896, to C. W. Barron, 10 shares.

On the 22nd of September, 1897, it appears from Mr. Bigelow's check book that he sold to M. Fay 50 shares, for which he received $1250. That is the first sale of stock that he made. On the 9th of December, 1897, he sold to various parties 315 shares for $7870.62. On the 10th of December, 1897, as already stated, there was transferred to G. M. Hyams, 1460 shares. In 1898 he sold from February 8 to March 2, 1960 shares, aggregating $57,295; from April 28 to May 2, 2000 shares, aggregating $51,900, on May 5, 700 shares aggregating $18,168.75; on the 9th of May 500 shares, aggregating $13,957.50; on the 10th of May, 350 shares, aggregating $9656.25; on the 11th of May, 1150 shares, aggregating $31,399.25; from December 3, 1898, to January 3, 1899, 2010 shares, aggregating $74,408.69; on November 30, 1900, 1000 shares, aggregating $31,000; and he had on hand December 31, 1900, 50 shares.

This shows the total distribution of 31,425 shares, and a total receipt in cash of $296,886.06.

On the 31st of December, 1900, there was credited to G. M. Hyams the proceeds of 3230 shares at average of $29, $93,670, on B. & M. joint account, leaving a balance of $151,016.06, this balance being the difference between the two sides of the account. This credit to G. M. Hyams is merely a transfer to the credit of my account 304 on a joint account existing between Mr. Bigelow and myself and has no bearing upon the Old Dominion Syndicate transaction.

GODFREY M. HYAMS.

Subscribed and sworn to this 26th day of June A. D. 1903, before me. Right to testify further reserved.

[SEAL.] Notary Public.

SATURDAY, February 16, 1907.

Deposition of GODFREY H. HYAMS resumed:

[The taking of the deposition of Godfrey M. Hyams was resumed at 9 a. m., at the office of Messrs. Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter, 161 Devonshire street, Boston, Mass.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: In the first place, you have asked us to produce a letter dated June 24, 1902 (Altmiller to Bigelow). Mr. Hyams has looked, and cannot find any such letter; but, on looking through the testimony, we find that there was testimony of Mr. Bigelow in regard to it.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I remember Mr. Bigelow could not find it: I did not know but Mr. Hyams might.

Mr. HYAMS: I hunted all through and could not find it, and then I thought I would look at the testimony.

[In answer to further interrogatories propounded by Mr. McClennen, counsel for the plaintiff, the witness, Godfrey M. Hyams, deposes and says,—]

Q. 151. Mr. Hyams, I understand you have looked for a letter from Mr. Altmiller to Mr. Bigelow, dated June 24, 1902, and you cannot find it?

A. No, sir.

Q. 152. You have recently looked at the text of that letter?

A. I do not find any such letter.

Q. 153. I mean of a copy of it in the testimony?

A. I do not find any copy in the testimony.

Q. 154. In looking to find the text of it, did you look at a copy of Mr. Altmiller's testimony given at the last hearing?

A. I do not think I have that.

Q. 155. Well, that is the explanation of it, then. Referring to Mr. Altmiller's testimony, given on July 24, 1906, at page 305 72, will you look at the copy of a letter there which Mr. Altmiller identified, and see whether you recall having, at this time, seen a letter which was of somewhat that text?

A. I do not recall of ever seeing the original.

Q. 156. Do you remember some correspondence with the officers of the company in the summer of 1902, which called Mr. Bigelow's attention, or yours, as his lieutenant, to the fact that there were letters missing from the books or from the files?

[Objected to immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. I do not remember, sir.

Q. 157. Do you remember, in negotiations that went on from the time of the election in April, 1902, up to the time of bringing suit, that the matter of letters being missing from the files was discussed in your presence?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I do.

Q. 158. You do remember that?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 159. Without going into detail, is it true that, from the spring of 1902 up to the time suit was brought, communications with reference to getting information were pretty constant?

A. I cannot answer that without going into details.

Q. 160. Then will you go into detail and state what occurred in that summer?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I think I have already gone into that in my testimony.

Q. 161. Well, I am not certain at the moment.

A. Then I will suggest that you look at the testimony, or permit me to do so.

Q. 162. Well, I would be very glad to have you do that. But, without stopping now to look up the testimony, do you remember how many interviews you had with Mr. Brandeis?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not, sir.

Q. 163. It was more than two, was it not?

A. I do not remember, sir.

Q. 164. Do you remember how many interviews you had with Mr. Altmiller?

A. No, sir.

Q. 165. Do you remember how many interviews you had with Mr. Smith?

A. I do not.

306 Q. 166. Your memory has become quite hazy on the transactions of that summer of 1902, has it?

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

A. What is that; a conclusion, an inference, or what? What do you want me to say?

Q. 167. Whatever the fact is.

A. I do not know that there is any fact. I do not see any fact.

Q. 168. You were acting in this matter for Mr. Bigelow to some extent in the summer of 1902, were you not?

A. I assisted him, yes.

Q. 169. Having a position that might properly be described as private secretary in this matter?

A. Describe it as you please, sir.

Q. 170. How would you describe it most accurately to conform to the truth?

A. Assisting Mr. Bigelow upon this matter.

Q. 171. Were the communications that were had from time to time brought to your attention?

A. Some of them.

Q. 172. Most of them?

A. I could not tell. I could only tell what was brought to my attention.

Q. 173. You have been into the thing in detail since?

A. Yes.

Q. 174. You have been present at practically all of the taking of the testimony in the case?

A. Yes.

Q. 175. Have you come across, in your experience, anything connected with those negotiations which was not at the time brought to your attention during the summer of 1902?

A. I should have to go over all the testimony to look that thing up.

Q. 176. With your recollection in its present shape you do not recall anything of the kind, do you?

A. You will have to repeat the previous question.

[Ints. 175 and 176 are read.]

The WITNESS: I cannot answer that question offhand, sir.

Q. 177. Then I will put it the other way: Will you state such things, if any, as do now come to your mind that were not known to you in the summer of 1902?

A. I cannot answer that question offhand, sir.

Q. 178. Now will you state all that you recall of your conversations with Mr. Brandeis in the summer of 1902?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

307 A. I think I have already testified to that, sir.

Q. 179. Are you indisposed to testify to it again now?

A. I do not quite understand.

Q. 180. Do you have any personal objection to testifying again to it if you have already testified to it?

A. I think my former testimony was based upon what I recalled at the time; I do not know how much of that I still remember. In other words, I should prefer to read my former testimony before I attempted to say anything which might do me an injustice.

Q. 181. Were you informed that some further testimony of yours was to be taken this morning?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 182. Have you investigated your former testimony at all with reference to it?

A. No, sir.

Q. 183. Have you made any other effort to refresh your mind as to matters connected with this case since you learned that you were to testify this morning?

A. Only by searching for that letter.

Q. 184. Did you have a conversation with Mr. Brandeis between the period when Mr. Smith became the president of this company and the time when this suit was begun?

[Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. I certainly did, sir.

Q. 185. Do you remember anything whatever that occurred in that conversation?

A. I do not think I do.

Q. 186. Did you have more than one conversation with Mr. Brandeis during that summer?

A. I do not remember. I do not remember how many conversations I had.

Q. 187. Well, your memory does not go far enough to remember even whether it was as many as two, do I understand?

A. I do not remember, really.

Q. 188. Was Mr. Bigelow present at the time of the conversations that you had with Mr. Brandeis?

A. To what period are you referring?

Q. 189. Between the election of Mr. Smith as president of the company in April, 1902, and the institution of this suit in the fall of 1902.

A. I do not remember.

Q. 190. Do you now remember and conversation you had with Mr. Brandeis when Mr. Bigelow was not present?

A. I do not, sir.

Q. 191. You are desirous, I assume, of remembering as 308 far as possible everything that occurred in that summer that I have asked about, are you not?

A. I cannot tell what you are going to assume.

Q. 192. Well, you think you are or you are not desirous of giving me the fullest benefit you can of your recollection of what occurred in that summer?

A. I am desirous of telling you all that I can remember.

Q. 193. Are you a man of fairly accurate memory?

A. I do not really know how to answer that; I might be considered somewhat conceited if I answered that question in one way.

Q. 194. I shall not object to your stating the truth even if it seems presumptuous.

A. I think I have a fair memory.

Q. 195. For instance, you thought a short time ago you remembered that you testified about all this sort of things.

A. I don't know; that is a very general question.—"all these things."

Q. 196. Conversations with Mr. Brandeis in the summer of 1902.

A. I think I remember to have testified to everything I remembered at the conversations with Mr. Brandeis.

Q. 197. What had you done by way of refreshing your recollection as to those conversations at the time you testified?

A. I had heard all that had been said before, all that had been testified before, and I had gone over all the correspondence, everything in the case that I could find, to be prepared to give you the best information I could as to my knowledge of the case.

Q. 198. Now have you exhausted entirely your present recollection as to those conversations?

A. I think so, yes.

Q. 199. Did Mr. Brandeis, in any of those conversations, request the production of any letters or papers connected with the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I told you I did not remember anything further in regard to the matter.

Q. 200. You mean by that, you do not remember now that he made any such request?

A. I do not remember. I am not trying to hide anything, but I do not remember anything further than Mr. Brandeis talking at some time with me about something connected with the case; I have not any memory as to the details, but my only recollection is that I did years ago testify to what I then remembered, and I should have to stand on that.

309 Q. 201. Do you remember that your conversation with Mr. Brandeis related to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not remember that.

Q. 202. Is there in your mind any other matter than the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company which was discussed in those conversations?

A. Nothing in my mind at the moment, sir.

Q. 203. Would your recollection go so far as to permit you to say that, as far as you now recall, the subject matter of those conversations was the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. That would simply be a matter of assuming, a matter of weeding out everything else, as you have done. I have told you I do not remember, sir. I do not remember.

Q. 204. Does it now lie in your mind that you have had any dealings with Mr. Brandeis at any time other than in connection with the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. Not to my recollection.

Q. 205. Does it lie in your mind that any of the conversations which you have had with Mr. Brandeis related in any way to the obtaining of information by Mr. Brandeis concerning the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, and the facts connected with the promotion and organization thereof?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. He certainly asked me about that, sir.

Q. 206. But to an extent your recollection is absolutely barren whether in the course of those conversations he called attention to the fact that there were letters or papers missing from the files or the letter books which he desired to obtain?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I do not remember that, sir.

Q. 207. Was this letter, copied in the company's letter book at page 167, on January 13, 1896, written by you?

A. There are two letters there, both dated January 13.

Q. 208. The second one on the page?

A. That is my signature.

310 Q. 209. Were the facts set forth in that letter within your recollection at the time you wrote the letter?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. How can I tell?

Q. 210. By the exercise of your reasoning faculties, I suppose; that is what I want you to do.

A. I should assume, having signed the letter and finding it in the company's letter book, that I knew what I was writing about.

Q. 211. Have you any independent recollection at the present time of the promotion expenses of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No, sir.

Q. 212. Will you refer to the letter of January 13, 1896, to which I have just called your attention, and state in as much detail as you can, with the assistance of that letter, what they were?

[Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.]

Mr. McCLENNEN: What is the remark you are making to counsel, Mr. Hyams?

Mr. TREADWELL: He says it is a copy of a letter.

Q. 213. Mr. Hyams, what was your reason for calling to the attention of Counsel, Mr. Treadwell, that this was a copy of a letter to which your attention was directed?

A. It was really to correct your misstatement.

Q. 214. You wanted to correct my misstatement in speaking of it as a letter?

A. Yes.

Q. 215. Then I will consider that as corrected. Will you now refer to that copy of a letter—if in my first question I said "letter," I will say "copy of a letter"—in the letter book, and tell me from that what the promotion expenses were?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Well, I will read from the copy the figures in the copy.

Mr. TREADWELL: Please repeat the question.

Q. 216. Then I will consider that as corrected. Will you now refer to that copy of a letter—if in my first question I said
311 "letter," I will say "copy of a letter"—in the letter book and state what were the promotion expenses of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

Mr. TREADWELL: Do you now ask the witness to state the contents of the paper before him or to give his memory of what were the promotion expenses, so far as the letter may refresh it?

Mr. McCLENNEN: I am asking the witness to exercise his best recollection, his best mental faculties, with the assistance of the letter which he wrote on January 13, 1896, and to state the facts of the promotion expenses connected with the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company. I should like to have him use his independent recollection as far as he can, and to supplement it by an inspection of the letter referred to.

Q. 216 (continued). Now, with that explanation, will you answer the question and give us those expenses?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. This copy does not refresh my memory a particle. It consists of figures. I can quote from this copy what those figures are.

Q. 217. I wish you would make use of all sources of information that you have at the moment within your reach and do the best you can to give us all the expenses connected with the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company promotion.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendant objects to placing upon the record figures taken from a letter if he does not remember in regard to the way those figures are made up. If, as a refreshing paper, it does not refresh his memory, it is incompetent.

A. I can only repeat; I see figures here; they do not in the slightest assist me to remember what the expenses were other than as stated in this copy. This letter is now ten years old, over ten years old.

Q. 218. I intended to convey that to you at the time I put the question and stated the date. In view of the fact that it is now over ten years old, do you entertain any doubt but what the statements contained in it were true at the time that you signed the letter?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I do not think the date of the letter has anything to do with it.

Q. 219. Why did you call my attention to the fact that it was over ten years old if you do not think the date of the letter has anything to do with it?

A. I do not think it has anything to do with the question you asked.

312 Q. 220. Were you as conversant as any one at the time of the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company with the detail of expenses connected therewith?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not think I was, sir.

Q. 221. Who had more specific information than yourself at that time?

A. I should say Mr. Thomas Nelson.

Q. 222. He is now deceased?

A. Yes.

Q. 223. Do you know whether or not you got the facts set out in this letter of January 13, 1896, from Mr. Nelson?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not.

Q. 224. Have you any independent recollection of the promotion expenses connected with the formation of that company?

A. No, sir.

Q. 225. Is it a fact that the expenditures incurred by the Boston Syndicate were $1024?

[Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.]

A. I could not say, sir.

Q. 226. Is it a fact that the proportion of Evarts, Choate & Beaman's bill belonging to the syndicate was taken at $3000?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I cannot say, sir.

Q. 227. Is it a fact that the bill was divided by Mr. Bigelow in the proportion in which they took the 50,000 shares of stock, namely, 455/1000ths?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I cannot say, sir.

Q. 228. Is it a fact that the total expenses of the syndicate were $5581.31?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I cannot say.

Q. 229. You have in your recollection at the present time
313 nothing that would conflict with that being the approximate amount of the entire expenditures of the syndicate in connection with the promotion of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I have no recollection whatever.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Now I will offer the letter.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The letter is objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I understand Mr. Treadwell does not object.

Mr. TREADWELL: If you have laid a foundation for it, I have no objection. I understood that was secondary evidence. Of course the letter itself may be incompetent.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter offered reads:

[The Company's Letter Book, Page 167.]

"JAN. 13*th*, 1896.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Box 1247, New York.

DEAR SIR: We enclose you memorandum showing division of expenses of the Old Dominion syndicate. There is a balance due from you of $2528.35. The amount due from the syndicate, $5581.31, is made up by taking from Lewisohn Brothers' bill of $10,399.83 those items which properly belonged to the syndicate, $1557.31, and adding to this the expense incurred in Boston by the syndicate, $1024,—and the proportion of Evarts, Choate & Beaman's bill belonging to the syndicate as suggested by Mr. Evarts, namely, $3000. This amount has been divided between yourself and Mr. Bigelow in proportion to the percentages of the 50,000 shares of stock which were given to each of you; that is to say, your share was 455/1000. If this is not plain you can call me up on the telephone and I will try to make it so.

Very truly, G. M. HYAMS."

Q. 230. Is it your recollection that Mr. Lewisohn called you up on the telephone after the receipt of that letter?

[Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.]

A. I do not recollect.

314 Q. 231. Is there in your recollection any fact in conflict with the statement of facts made in that letter signed by you on or about January 13, 1896, of which a copy has just been shown you and read into the record?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I have no recollection in regard to the matter, sir.

Q. 232. Do you entertain any doubt whatever at the present time but that those items in that letter were a true statement of facts?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I assume it was a true statement.

Q. 233. Well, now, referring to the statement which you assume to be true, made at about the time, will you state all the facts that you can state from an inspection of this letter which you believe to be a true statement?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. The statements are all in the letter. I can read the letter again to you if you wish me to. That is all that I could do.

Q. 234. Is it a fact that the facts were as stated in that letter——

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I cannot say.

Q. 235. —as far as you now recollect?

A. I cannot say, sir. I have no recollection.

Q. 236. Is there within your recollection any more definite way of discovering what were the expenses of the promotion of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company at the present time than this letter, a copy of which I have shown you and just read into the record?

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

A. I do not know.

Q. 237. Are you willing to investigate such sources of information as you have most readily at hand that would assist your recollection in any way and see if you can tell us anything whatever as to what were the expenses of that promotion?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

315 A. Do you refer to this source?

Q. 238. Any sources.

A. I have no other source.

Q. 239. You have no other source?

A. Here.

Q. 240. Do you deem this letter of January 13, 1896, a copy of which has been shown you, as sufficiently veracious so that you would dare to trust it as a refresher of your recollection?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. That is a question of opinion.

Q. 241. If you answer it I will take it as being an expression of opinion.

[Objected to as incompetent.]

A. I certainly repeat what I have said already, that I do not think

I signed things that were not correct; if the figures were furnished me and I put them into a letter I took what was given me.

Q. 242. Do I understand you that the figures there were figures given to you?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I do not know; I do not remember.

Q. 243. And you do not know whether those figures were your own figures or Mr. Nelson's figures?

A. No, sir.

Q. 244. Now I show you a letter—pardon me—a letter-press copy on page 81 of the company's letter book, of what purports to be a letter of September 18, 1895, to Maxwell Woodhull: is that signature in the handwriting of Thomas Nelson?

A. It looks like his writing.

Q. 245. Was Thomas Nelson's position in the company such that he would have knowledge of the receipt of a note from Maxwell Woodhull, if one was sent to the company?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Mr. Nelson was treasurer of the company.

Q. 246. And he is now deceased?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. McCLENNEN: That letter I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: And the letter reads:

316 [Company's Letter Book, Page 81.]

"SEPT. 18TH, 1895.

Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., 2033 G Street, Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of 17th inst. enclosing note for fifteen thousand dollars ($15,000) in favor of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company and two receipts as stated, has been received.

Yours truly, THOMAS NELSON, Treas."

Mr. TREADWELL: How does that read,—as if it were an original letter?

Mr. McCLENNEN: No, a copy of a letter.

Q. 247. Maxwell Woodhull resides where?

A. I have not heard from him for some years.

Q. 248. So you cannot really say whether he is residing in Washington or not?

A. No, sir.

Q. 249. Was he a resident of Washington the last you heard of him?

A. Yes.

Q. 250. Do you have any recollection yourself whether Maxwell

Woodhull gave any notes to the company in connection with his subscription for stock?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant, and as assuming a fact which does not appear.]

A. I have no recollection and no knowledge.

Q. 251. At the time of the promotion of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, or, rather, from the period beginning at or about the date of the first option, about April 30, 1895, up to the 1st of October, 1895, were you in conference to some extent with Mr. Leonard Lewisohn?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I was in conference with Mr. Leonard Lewisohn on all subjects during these periods.

Q. 252. Was he apprised of what was going on in Boston, in a pretty general way, connected with the promoting of the company, getting subscriptions, and so forth?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant, and as leading.]

317 A. I suppose so.

Q. 253. Mr. Lewisohn knew of the fact of the various syndicate agreements in Boston, did he not?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I suppose so.

Q. 254. Your conferences with him, either in person or over the telephone, were matters of perhaps almost daily occurrence during this time?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I think so.

Q. 255. On these subjects?

A. I did not say that.

Q. 256. Well, do you mean to make a distinction?

A. A very marked distinction.

Q. 257. For instance, how often should you say you conferred with Mr. Lewisohn, either in his personal presence or by telephone, on the subject of Old Dominion during that summer of 1895?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. From recollection, I should say a very small proportion of the conferences we had had relation to this matter.

Q. 258. By that process of elimination, how often should you say, as nearly as your recollection, which you are trying to exert at present, would enable you to state?

A. I cannot say any more definitely than I have. Mr. Lewisohn was our selling agent, and questions in relation to these matters would come up constantly.

Mr. HEMENWAY: "Our selling agent"—I do not know what that means. I want him to elaborate it.

The WITNESS: Mr. Leonard Lewisohn was a member of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers, which firm was the selling agent for all the copper produced by the various mining companies in which Mr. Bigelow was interested.

Copies of Exhibits to be Attached to the Deposition of Godfrey M. Hyams.

[EXHIBIT 2 A. MARCH 27, 1903. G. C. B.]

In consideration of two thousand dollars ($2,000) paid to me by Leonard Lewisohn of the city of New York and the assumption by him of all and every obligation of mine under a contract made this day between me and Frank E. Simpson and William Butler, executors of Michael H. Simpson, giving to me the option to purchase seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company, I do hereby sell, transfer and assign unto the said Leonard Lewisohn, his executors, administrators and assigns, all my right, title and interest in and to the said contract or arising therefrom.

In witness whereof I have hereunto set my hand at New York this fourth day of May eighteen hundred and ninety five.

J. MORRIS MEREDITH.

Witness:
CHARLES C. BEAMAN.

[EXHIBIT 7 A. MARCH 27, 1903. G. C. B.]

For value received and for other good and valuable consideration I Leonard Lewisohn of New York City agree with Frederick E. Simpson, William Butler and others executors of Michael H. Simpson who have this day deposited seventeen thousand eight hundred and fifty seven (17,857) shares of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Company with the Old Colony Trust Company in Boston that I Leonard Lewisohn, who have this day paid to the said Simpson and Butler one hundred thousand dollars ($100,000) on account of the purchase of said shares of stock, will at any time within sixty (60) days hereafter at ten (10) days' notice and tender, take and pay for at the same pro rata price and on the same general terms and conditions as provided in the agreement between the said Simpson and Butler and J. Morris Meredith of Boston, dated the fourth day of May 1895 any part or all of the remainder of the capital stock of said company. This agreement being given and received in performance of the sixth article of said agreement between said Simpson and Butler and the said Meredith; said Meredith having assigned to me all of his right title and interest in the said agreement.

May 28th, 1895.

[No signature.]

319 For value received we jointly and severally warrant and guarantee the performance by Leonard Lewisohn of the foregoing agreement between him and Frank H. Simpson and William Butler and others, executors of Michael H. Simpson.

[EXHIBIT 12, MARCH 27, 1903. G. C. B.]

Know all men by these presents: That we, Frank E. Simpson, William Butler, Lucius W. Smith and Thomas C. Simpson, executors &c. of Michael H. Simpson, deceased, of Boston, Massa-
321 chusetts, and William Keyser of Baltimore, Maryland, are held and firmly bound unto Leonard Lewisohn of the city of New York and the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore, a corporation organized and existing under the laws of the State of Maryland, in the sum of fifty thousand dollars lawful money of the United States of America, to be paid to the said Lewisohn, his executors, administrators and assigns and the said company, its successors or assigns for which payment well and truly to be made we bind ourselves, our heirs, executors, administrators and successors firmly by these presents sealed with our seals. Dated the twentieth (20) day of June one thousand eight hundred and ninety five.

Whereas we have sold, assigned and transferred unto the said Leonard Lewisohn all the capital stock of the said Old Dominion Copper Company and as part of the consideration therefor have agreed to assume and discharge any and all claims and demands against and debts and obligations of the said company of every kind and nature whatsoever which were existing and outstanding on the 28th day of May, eighteen hundred and ninety five.

Now, the condition of this obligation is such that if the said above bounden Frank E. Simpson, William Butler and Lucius W. Smith as executors, &c., and William Keyser, their executors, administrators, assigns or successors, or any of them, shall well and truly pay or discharge all and every of said claims, demands, debts and obligations and indemnify and save harmless the said Leonard Lewisohn, his executors and administrators, and the said Old Dominion Copper Company, its successors and assigns, from and against any and all suits, actions, damages, costs, charges, expenses by reason of any such claims, demands, debts or obligations, then this obligation is to be void, otherwise to remain in full force.

FRANK E. SIMPSON. [SEAL.]

Stenographer.]

JUNE 19, 1903.

Bacon & Burpee, 617 Tremont Building, Boston, Mass.

MY DEAR MR. BURPEE: I have had considerable trouble in getting the figures of average costs for past years as there was considerable discrepancy in the various tables. This accounts for the delay in answering your letter.

I enclose now the average price of electrolytic copper for the years 1895 to 1902 inclusive, given monthly.

I also enclose a statement of my Old Dominion account. I cannot tell you whether the wording is exactly the same as the former one as I cannot find it, but the figures are correct. I am still quite positive that I gave the account to Mr. Brandeis at the office of the Old Dominion Company.

Very truly, G. M. HYAMS.

I hereby certify that the foregoing is a true copy of the original deposition of Godfrey M. Hyams taken before me in the case of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company v. Frederick Lewisohn et al., pending in the Circuit Court of the United States for the Southern District of New York, and of the exhibits annexed thereto.

HOWLAND TWOMBLY,
Notary Public.

[SEAL.]

Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

OFFICE OF MESSRS. BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET, BOSTON, June 15, 1904.

Deposition of Joseph A. Coram.

JOSEPH A. CORAM, Esq., being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for plaintiff, deposes and says:

330 Q. 1. Will you state your full name, age, residence, and occupation?

A. Joseph A. Coram; fifty-two; Lowell, Mass.; mine owner.—I am connected with mines.

Q. 2. You are personally interested in a number of mines at the present time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. Will you state what mines and where?

A. I am connected with the Bingham Consolidated, the Bingham Copper & Gold Mining Company, the Montana Coal & Coke Company, and some others.

Q. 4. You are president of the Bingham Copper & Gold Mining Company?

A. Yes.

Q. 5. How long have you been connected with the copper-mining business, approximately?

A. Fifteen years or more.

Q. 6. Were you at any time associated with A. S. Bigelow in connection with copper mining and enterprises of a like nature?

A. You mean, associated——

Mr. BRANDEIS: In the same office.

A. Yes.

Q. 7. Were you, during any period, associated in connection in the same offices with him?

A. Yes, I made his offices my headquarters.

Q. 8. During what years?

A. Well, I do not remember exactly, but I should say from 1888 or 1889 to 1897; I do not remember exactly, but it was several years.

Q. 9. During that time were you connected with him in connection with the Old Dominion Syndicate and the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. Merely as a stockholder.

Q. 10. What was your first connection with the Old Dominion Syndicate, so called?

A. Well, as I remember that, the first connection I had was that I subscribed for $100,000.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

Q. Was that subscription in writing?

A. I am not sure, but I think it was.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Then the defendants object to the witness stating the contents, and require that the writing be produced.

Q. 11. Will you state the circumstances as nearly as you recall them—how you first became connected with this syndicate?

[The defendants object to the statement of the circumstances, on the ground that such circumstances are immaterial, provided that what was done finally resulted in a written agreement of any kind; so that it is immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

331 A. Well, I do not know that I quite understand what you mean by my "first connection with the syndicate."

Q. 12. You stated that you took a $100,000 interest in it: where were you when you took that interest?

A. I was at Mr. Bigelow's office.

Q. 13. And to whom did you indicate your purpose to take that $100,000 interest?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question, that it does not apepar that he indicated to anybody and as assuming a fact that is not proved; and also because, if the witness is to be examined with reference to a subscription in writing, the writing should be produced; and therefore the question is irrelevant, incompetent, and immaterial.]

A. I was solicited or invited by Mr. Bigelow to be one of a few to subscribe to the raising of $300,000, or of $300,000 and some odd, towards the purchase of an interest from some estate called, I think, the Simpson estate.

[Counsel for defendants objects to this form of answer, that if it refers to a conversation between Mr. Bigelow and himself he should give that conversation as it took place, as far as he can remember it.]

Q. 14. If you can recall any of the circumstances of that conversation any further than you already have, you may do so.

A. Mr. Bigelow told me that he and Mr. Lewisohn had acquired an option, or a certain interest, from the Simpson estate in a certain mine called the Old Dominion, and wanted me to subscribe to the raising of $100,000, which I did.

Q. 15. Are you able to fix approximately when that was?

A. No; but I think it was in 1895.

Q. 16. I hand you herewith a paper marked "Exhibit 3, March 24, 1903," and dated May 21, 1895, which is an exhibit introduced in connection with the testimony of A. S. Bigelow in this suit, and ask you whether the signature of "J. A. Coram, $9000" is in your handwriting?

A. Yes.

Q. 17. Is there anything else in that paper which is in your handwriting?

A. "A. S. Maltman, by J. A. Coram," is in my handwriting.

Q. 18. $10,000?

A. Yes.

Q. 19. Are the words "twenty-first" and "May" in your handwriting?

A. Yes, I should say they were.

332 Q. 20. What, if anything, did you have to do with the procuring of the other signatures on that paper?

[Counsel for the defendants objects to the interrogatory on the ground that it is immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. I believe that this is my subscription for the $100,000 which I agreed to raise, and the names hereto annexed, all with the exception of that of H. H. Stevens, were obtained by me.

Q. 21. Are you able to state when, with reference to what date, you obtained those subscriptions

A. I could not state that from my memory.

Q. 22. Whether it was done on May 21, or before or after that date, as nearly as you can recall.

A. No, I could not remember.

Q. 23. Can you state whether or not the conversation with Mr. Bigelow in regard to your making a $100,000 subscription to the Old Dominion Syndicate or purchase was had before or after you commenced to get the signatures on this paper?

A. Before.

Q. 24. Do you recall whether or not, before you commenced getting the signatures on the paper which is shown you, you had made any money contribution towards the purchase, or any payment on account of the purchase, of that interest in the Old Dominion?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as leading, and also because it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I could not remember that. All I remember in that connection is that I did contribute some money towards some expenses, but whether it was before I obtained the subscriptions, or whether it was before the money was paid in or not, I do not know.

Q. 25. I hand you now a paper marked "Exhibit No. 20, May 5, 1903," which was introduced in evidence as an exhibit in connection with the deposition of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, dated May 22, 1895, and ask you whether the name "J. A. Coram," signed to that paper, is in your handwriting?

A. I should say it was.

Q. 26. And the figures, "$100,000," against it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 27. Are you able to recall whether or not that paper was, in fact, signed before or after the paper dated May 21, 1895?

A. I could not say.

Q. 28. Are you able to state whether, at the time that you had the conversation with Mr. Bigelow already testified to by you, 333 in which you say that you agree to take a $100,000 subscription, you signed any paper, or whether this paper was signed some time after that conversation?

A. As I said before, I do not remember whether I signed the paper at that time or not, or whether it was by verbal conversation.

I remember, distinctly, that I agreed to get a subscription to the amount of $100,000.

Q. 29. State whether or not, at the time you subscribed, or at the time that you obtained this subscription, there was any agreement, any understanding, with Mr. Bigelow, as to forming at any time a corporation to take over the interest which was being purchased.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as leading, and also as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent, and that asking for an understanding is too indefinite, the witness being competent to only testify as to what was said or written by Mr. Bigelow to himself in reference to the subject inquired of.]

A. I could not say there was any definite understanding, any definite plans.

Q. 30. What do you mean by saying there were no "definite plans"?

A. Well, just as these papers would show; they do not show any definite purpose except for the temporary raising of this money.

Q. 31. When you say there were no definite plans, do you mean to be understood as saying that there was no plan or any understanding, any reference to the formation of any corporation at any time for the purpose of taking them over?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the interrogatory, for the reason stated in the objection to the last interrogatory.]

A. No, I do not mean that.

Q. 32. Will you state exactly what you do mean?

A. Well, it was understood that sooner or later we would form a corporation, or a corporation would be formed.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question for the reasons stated in reference to the last inquiries.]

Q. 33. To take over the properties?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as leading.]

A. To take over these properties and to get stock for our subscription.

[Counsel for defendants objects also to the answer as being 334 a conclusion rather than a statement of what actually took place between the witness and Mr. Bigelow.]

Q. 34. When you say that it was understood, do you refer to any words spoken or acts in that connection? If so, state what, as nearly as you can remember, what was said or done in reference to that matter?

A. The time being so long, it is very difficult to remember accurately as to the statement. The impression in my mind is——

[Counsel for defendants objects to a mere impression.]

The WITNESS: Well, my recollection is that there was to be a corporation formed.

Q. 35. Was that a subject which was talked over between you and

Mr. Bigelow, or referred to in your conversations with him on this subject at that time?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as leading, and as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: When do you mean by "at that time"?

Mr. BRANDEIS: That is, at the time of your subscribing to $100,000 of stock.

The WITNESS: That is, on May 22?

Mr. BRANDEIS: Well, in May. I do not refer to any particular date, but at the time that your subscription was made.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Whenever this subscription was made.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Or when you were obtaining these subscriptions from these persons that appear on the paper dated May 21, 1895.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as leading, immaterial, and incompetent, for the reason that conversations leading up to written subscriptions are of no consequence.]

A. It is impossible for me to remember the dates.

Q. 36. Please bear in mind that I am not asking specifically as to any day or dates; but I am asking whether the conversation to which you refer took place at a certain period, which is the period of the taking of these subscriptions?

Mr. HEMENWAY: That seems to be a date.

Mr. BRANDEIS: No, it is a period; it is not one date.

Mr. HEMENWAY: It refers to an act.

335 A. The conversation concerning the whole matter was between Mr. Bigelow and I, and I cannot fix the date; but my recollection is it was prior to the date of either one of these subscriptions.

Q. 37. According to your recollection, it was prior to the date of either one of these subscriptions that you talked with him of ultimately forming some corporation to take over the interest which was to be purchased?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as leading, not stating anything that has already been testified to by the witness, the witness having stated that he has no recollection when the alleged conversation inquired about did take place.]

A. Yes, in my judgment; my recollection is it was prior to those dates.

Q. 38. What, if anything, did you have to do with the formation of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Counsel for the defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I have no recollection of having had anything to do with it.

Q. 39. What, if anything, did you have to do with the transfer to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company of the Old Dominion properties?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. I do not remember that I had anything to do with it.

Q. 40. Do you recall whether or not you were consulted by Mr. Bigelow or by Mr. Lewisohn in regard to the formation of the company?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as leading, and also as involving a conclusion from acts or words or writings, which, if material, should be put in evidence.]

A. I have no recollection at this time about it at all.

Q. 41. Or that you were consulted by either Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn in regard to the fixing of the amount of the capital of the company?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question for the reasons stated in his objection to the last interrogatory.]

336 A. I do not recollect that I was consulted about that at all.

Q. 42. Or that you were consulted by either Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn in regard to the amount of stock to be issued by the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for the Old Dominion properties?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question for the reasons stated in the objections to the last two interrogatories.]

A. I do not remember of being consulted by them at all.

Q. 43. Do you recall whether or not you were informed by Mr. Bigelow as to the amount of stock to be issued, or actually issued, by the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for the Old Dominion properties?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as leading, and also on the ground that it is immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. You mean by a question like that—a question like that in form means a positive statement?

Q. 44. Well, yes. If there was any information which was given to you, state what it was.

[Counsel for defendants requests that the witness, in answer to this interrogatory, should be confined to the words or substance of what was said to him, and specify by whom it was said.]

Mr. BRANDEIS: I would be glad to have you conform to Mr. Hemenway's request, so far as possible, Mr. Coram.

A. I positively cannot recollect any positive statement. The time is too far back. My recollection regarding such points as that is just general impressions I had on my mind,—fixed on my mind.

Q. 45. Do you mean by "impressions" your recollection?

A. Yes.

Q. 46. Will you state that recollection?

A. My recollection regarding that is that originally we thought of organizing a company——

Mr. HEMENWAY: You were asked to tell what was stated to you, not what "we thought," or anything of that kind. If you do not remember, that is the end of it. You are undertaking to give a recollection now of what was stated to you, and not any inference therefrom. Of course, if you have no recollection, that is an answer to the question.

337 Mr. BRANDEIS: The witness undertook to state "we thought." I suppose it could ordinarily be supposed to mean that they talked about such a subject.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That would hardly be my interpretation, and that illustrates why I insist upon the objection to conclusions rather than to testimony of what was said on the point by the respective parties.

Q. 47. Mr. Coram, will you please state as nearly as your recollection enables you to, the conversation? Of course, as you cannot probably remember the words, or any specific words, you must, as nearly as you can, state the substance of any conversation as to which you are testifying.

A. [Previous answer read] —with a capitalization of not less than 100,000 shares.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the answer as being irresponsive.]

Q. 48. Do you recall anything further in regard to the capitalization,—the fixing of the capitalization of the company that was to be formed or actually was formed?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question on the ground that the witness has already given his whole recollection upon the point, and that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Of course I recollect that a corporation was formed for 150,000 shares.

Q. 49. Now do you remember when you first learned of that fact?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. My recollection is that I was away West during the time.

Q. 50. During what time

A. During the time of the organization of the Old Dominion.

Q. 51. For how long a time, approximately?

A. My stays used to be from three weeks to six or seven weeks.

Q. 52. Was any stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company ever issued to you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 53. Are you able to state approximately, or actually, the amount of stock that was actually issued to you?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question on the ground that it is irrelevant, incompetent, and immaterial; also that,

338 as to the issue of any stock to the witness, that would be a matter of record that should be produced before the witness is examined with reference to it.]

A. I could not remember that; I should have to see the figures.

Q. 54. I call your attention to Exhibit 11, annexed to the deposition of A. S. Bigelow, in which it appears—particularly to the item under date of October 17, 1895—that there was transferred to you from Mr. Bigelow, 5240 shares of stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, and ask you whether it is a fact that such stock was transferred to you by Mr. Bigelow?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question on the ground that the exhibit shown to the witness is a mere typewritten copy, and that the only way of showing the transfer of any stock to Mr. Coram would be by the books of the corporation, which are in the possession of the plaintiff.]

[The certificates of stock were sent for, and in the mean time certain other interrogatories were put to the deponent as follows:]

Q. 55. Whether or not you ever received any stock in this company as a subscriber to the syndicate?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. As a subscriber? Yes, sir.

Q. 56. Are you able to recall how many shares of stock you received as such subscriber?

A. No.

Q. 57. Whether or not you ever received any stock from Mr. Bigelow in addition to that which you received as a subscriber?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. Are you dividing any subscriptions?

Q. 58. My first question asked you whether you had received any stock as a subscriber to the syndicate?

A. And my answer is that I did.

Q. 59. And I refer to the subscription on the paper shown you, dated May 21, 1895, on which you appear as subscriber in your own name for $9000, and Mr. Maltman, by you as attorney, for $10,000. Now did you receive any stock for that subscription?

339 [Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and also as leading.]

A. That paper referred to as of date May 21 has my subscription completing my obligation to raise $100,000, and whatever stock distribution came to my subscription on that paper would be as a subscriber to $9000.

Q. 60. Now do you recall how much stock you received for that subscription of $9000?

A. No, I do not.

Q. 61. Or on what basis that stock was issued?

A. No, I do not.

Q. 62. Was there any other stock which you received besides that which you say you received on account of your subscription on that paper of May 21?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. Yes, I remember of receiving a bonus in stock.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the answer as immaterial.]

Q. 63. Now state fully what you remember with reference to that subject.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and as being also apparently matters between the witness and others than parties defendant.]

A. It is a broad question, and I cannot answer it.

Q. 64. From whom did you receive that bonus?

A. It was handed to me by Mr. A. S. Bigelow.

Q. 65. Was it handed to you at the same time, or at a different time from the time when you received the stock which you say was under the subscription paper of May 21, 1895?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I could not remember.

Q. 66. Are you able to recall the amount of this bonus that you received?

A. From memory?

Q. 67. Yes.

A. No, sir.

Q. 68. Do you recall where this bonus stock was delivered to you?

340 [Counsel for defendants objects to the question as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. In Mr. Bigelow's office.

Q. 69. Are you able to recall approximately when it was?

A. No, sir.

Q. 70. Was anything said by Mr. Bigelow to you at the time of delivering to you that bonus stock?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Yes. He said I would not need to distribute that among the rest of my subscribers.

Q. 71. Is the answer which you have given to the last question all that you remember of the conversation between you and Mr. Bigelow at that time?

[Counsel for defendants says the conversation is still objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant, as is also the answer of the witness to the last interrogatory.]

A. No, it is not.

Q. 72. State as nearly as you can recollect the whole of that conversation.

A. Well, I told Mr. Bigelow I would have to distribute it to my subscribers, because I had promised them that they would get their shares at the same price as I got mine, and inasmuch as I had put Mr. Maltman down without even consulting him, I would have to distribute, in equal proportions, those shares.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the answer as being irresponsive.]

Q. 73. Was anything else said at that conversation by Mr. Bigelow or by you?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question for the reasons already stated as to this conversation.]

A. I do not remember.

Q. 74. Do you remember whether or not he stated to you at that time the amount of bonus stock which was distributed?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

341 A. I do not.

Q. 75. Do you remember whether or not he stated at that time anything about the amount of stock which had been taken by him and his associates as a bonus?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No, sir, I do not. That is all of that conversation that I remember.

Q. 76. Do you remember whether at any time Mr. Bigelow informed you what the amount of stock was that was taken as a bonus?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No.

Q. 77. Did you learn at any time what amount of stock was taken by Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn as a bonus?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I have no recollection that I ever did.

Q. 78. I hand you herewith a certificate of stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, No. 428, for 5240 shares, dated October 17, 1895, standing in the name of A. S. Bigelow, and endorsed by A. S. Bigelow, "Assigned and transferred to J. A. Coram," "All" shares represented by that certificate, and ask you whether or not after examining that certificate you are able to say whether certificate was delivered to you by Mr. Bigelow.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I could not say.

Q. 79. Is the handwriting on the back of that certificate, "J. A. Coram," in your handwriting?

A. It is not.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the last interrogatory as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

Q. 80. Are you able to say in whose handwriting that is?

342 [Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. No. It is not mine.

Q. 81. Or in whose handwriting the word "All" is on the back of that certificate?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. No.

Q. 82. What disposition did you make of the bonus stock which you say you received from Mr. Bigelow?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as to its incompetency, irrelevancy, and immateriality to the issue between these parties.]

A. I distributed it among the subscribers obtained by me who furnished the $100,000, with the exception of H. H. Stevens.

Q. 83. Was H. H. Stevens a subscriber through you?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. He was not a subscriber through me, but he was a subscriber on my paper.

Q. 84. Did you have any conferences or discussions in connection with the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company with any of the subscribers other than A. S. Bigelow to the agreement of May 22, 1895, which is Exhibit 20, introduced in connection with the deposition of A. S. Bigelow?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, the witness being inquired of in relation to matters between himself and others than parties to the record.]

A. I do not remember that I did.

Q. 85. I call your attention to a paper dated July 18, 1895, which was introduced in evidence as Exhibit 10, in connection with the deposition of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, and particularly call your attention to the words "J. A. Coram, by Thomas Nelson, four thousand shares (4000)," and ask you whether or not you have any recollection in regard to the signing of that paper?

343 A. No, I have no recollection, of course. My name does not appear on it except by Mr. Nelson.

Q. 86. Do you recall whether or not you authorized that signature?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question on the ground that it is irrelevant, immaterial, and incompetent.]

A. I do not recall whether I did or not. If he obligated me, I would have stood to the obligation.

Q. 87. Do you recall whether or not you took any stock under that subscription paper?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I do not remember; it is too long ago.

Q. 88. Mr. Thomas Nelson is dead?

A. Yes, I believe so.

Q. 89. And Mr. Matthew Luce, whose name also appears on the paper of May 22, is dead also?

A. Yes, sir.

[Stipulation: The deposition of the witness is now closed, but it is agreed that if Mr. Lauterbach, for whom Mr. Hemenway now appears, desires to examine Mr. Coram, counsel for plaintiff will recall Mr. Coram so that he may do so with the same rights as upon cross-examination.]

OFFICE OF MESSRS. BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,

161 DEVONSHIRE STREET.
BOSTON, June 15, 1904.

Deposition of Galen L. Stone.

GALEN L. STONE, Esq., being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. State your full name, age, residence, and occupation.

A. My full name is Galen L. Stone; I am forty-one years and seven months of age; my residence is in Brookline, county of Norfolk; my occupation is that of a stockbroker.

Q. 2. You are a member of the firm of Hayden, Stone & Company?

A. Yes.

Q. 3. And have been for how long?

A. Since February, 1892, when it was organized.

Q. 4. I hand you herewith a paper dated June 14, 1895, marked "Exhibit 5," which is an exhibit put in evidence in connection with the testimony of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, and call your attention to the words of "Hayden, Stone & Co. ten thousand dollars" affixed to that paper: will you state whether or not that is in your handwriting?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as being immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. That is in my handwriting.

Q. 5. Will you state whether or not, prior to the signing of that paper, you had any conversation with Mr. A. S. Bigelow in relation to your subscribing to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question on the ground of its immateriality, as relating to a conversation with a third party.]

A. I did.

345 Q. 6. Where was that conversation held?

[Counsel for defendants makes the same objection to this question as to the prior interrogatory.]

A. The first conversation with relation to a subscription to the stock of the Old Dominion Company which I recall was held in the alleyway between Washington street and Young's Hotel, right by Thompson's Spa. I have a very vivid recollection of meeting Mr. Bigelow there, and his speaking to me and telling me that they had this enterprise in view.

Q. 7. Will you state, as nearly as you can, what you remember?

[Counsel for defendants objects to this conversation as being irrelevant, immaterial, and incompetent.]

A. Mr. Bigelow told me that they had made a purchase of what was known as the Old Dominion property, that they proposed to organize a syndicate to purchase it, and he offered me an opportunity, which I considered valuable, to subscribe to the shares.

Q. 8. What, if anything else, was said in that connection, if you recall?

A. That is all that I can recall as having been said distinctly at that time.

Q. 9. Did you have any other conversation with him before you signed the subscription paper?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I did, in his office in the Sears building.

Q. 10. How soon after the first conversation?

A. Well, it would be impossible for me to say, but I do not recall that there was any delay in closing the matter up after I heard of it.

Q. 11. State, as nearly as you can remember, the conversation that you had at Mr. Bigelow's office.

[Counsel for defendants objects to this interrogatory as calling for that which is immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant, being a conversation with a third party.]

A. Mr. Bigelow explained to me briefly the purchase of the property, what they hoped to do with it, told me how it was to be capitalized, and invited me——

346 Mr. HEMENWAY: Well, if you remember, you are to give the conversation, what he said and what you said; not how it was to be capitalized, but exactly what he did say about the capitalization.

The WITNESS: Among other things, Mr. Bigelow stated to me that a syndicate had been formed to purchase the Old Dominion mine; that a corporation would be organized to own and operate this property; that the syndicate would raise $1,000,000; that he offered me an opportunity to subscribe for $10,000 in the syndicate, and told me for that I was to receive 400 shares of stock of the Old Dominion Company to be organized, and 400 shares were to go as a bonus; and further stated distinctly at that time that a company would be organized with a capital of $2,500,000, that is, 100,000 shares of a par value of $25 each, and 80,000 shares would be used in raising $1,000,000, exactly on the terms I have stated in my own case; and that there would be 20,000 shares left in the treasury, which would later be sold to provide a working capital; and at that time he also told me that the price at which the 20,000 shares would be sold would be considerably greater than the price at which I made the first subscription.

Q. 12. Was there anything else which he said on that occasion which you can remember?

A. I do not remember anything else.

Q. 13. Do you remember whether anything was said on that occasion to the effect that Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn were going to take a large block of this stock for themselves as a bonus to themselves?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. Certainly nothing of that sort was said.

Q. 14. Was there anything said by Mr. Bigelow as to his and Mr. Lewisohn's having terms more favorable than those which were offered to you?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question because it is immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent, as well as leading.]

A. No, sir.

Q. 15. Did you have any conversation with Mr. Bigelow in reference to the Old Dominion matter other than those two that you have testified to before you signed the paper Exhibit 5?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the interrogatory because it is immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

347 A. I cannot swear that I did or that I did not; it is quite probable that I did, as I thought a great deal of Mr. Bigelow and of his judgment, and naturally would have wished to inquire about the opportunity a great deal, but I cannot recall distinctly.

Q. 16. Do you recall where it was that you put your name on that paper?

A. I do not.

Q. 17. Did you have any conversation with Mr. Bigelow at any time before you heard that the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company had actually been organized, relating to the organization of the company, or its capitalization, other than that you have testified to?

[Counsel for defendants objects to this interrogatory because it is immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. I do not recall of any conversation on that subject.

Q. 18. I hand you, herewith, a paper marked "Exhibit 10," dated Boston, July 18, 1895, which is an exhibit introduced in connection with the testimony of A. S. Bigelow in this case, and call your attention specifically to the signature of "Hayden, Stone & Co., two thousand shares," and ask you whether or not that is your signature?

A. That is not.

Q. 19. Whose signature is that?

A. That is the signature of Mr. Charles Hayden.

Q. 20. Were you aware of that subscription being made to stock in the name of Hayden, Stone & Company at that time?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question because it is incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I was.

Q. 21. Whether or not that subscription was made by, or the signature to the paper signed by, Mr. Hayden in or after consultation with you?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent, calling for conversations between third parties.]

A. It was.

Q. 22. State whether or not, at the time of the making of that subscription on that paper, you knew, or to your knowledge Hayden, Stone & Company knew, that Bigelow and Lewisohn had caused to be conveyed to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting 348 Company the Old Dominion properties, not for 80,000 shares of the stock, but for 130,000 shares of the stock.

[Counsel for defendants objects to this interrogatory as being an inquiry about matters that are immaterial, and that the evidence is irrelevant and incompetent.]

A. I did not know that.

Q. 23. Did you, at the time of making that subscription, know that Bigelow and Lewisohn had caused to be issued to them for themselves any stock in connection with the transfer of the Old Dominion properties to that company other than the 80,000 shares of stock about which Mr. Bigelow had told you before making your subscription of June 14?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the interrogatory as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. I did not.

Q. 24. Had Mr. Bigelow, up to the time of subscribing by your firm on July 18, 1895, said anything to you to the effect that he and Lewisohn, or either of them, were taking for themselves as a bonus or as compensation any stock other than what would form a part of the 80,000 shares which were to be issued by the syndicate?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as leading, incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. He had not.

Q. 25. State whether or not Hayden, Stone & Company paid the amount of $10,000 which they subscribed to the Old Dominion Syndicate, as appears by the paper of July 14, 1895, which you have examined.

[Counsel for defendants objects to this interrogatory as being immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. I cannot state as a fact, of course, that I remember the payment.

Q. 26. Beg pardon?

A. I should answer yes. You can look at my books, of course.

Mr. HEMENWAY: You simply say you cannot, and you immediately say you can, it appears, that is all.

349 The WITNESS: Well, I think I might ask Mr. Brandeis to be instructed about a thing like that, in answering such a question as that. That, of course, will show through a check in my office. I may have signed that check, or my partner may have signed it. I cannot testify to the actual physical act of making that payment, but my recollection is that we did make that payment.

Q. 27. And have you any recollection as to whether or not you took and paid for any stock in pursuance of the subscription, or of any part of the subscription, appearing on the paper of July 18?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the interrogatory as being immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. My recollection is that we paid for that stock and received it.

Q. 28. Will you state whether or not, at any time subsequent to the signing of that paper by Hayden, Stone & Company, dated July 18, 1895, you ascertained that Bigelow and Lewisohn had taken to themselves as a bonus or compensation a large amount of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Counsel for defendants objects to this interrogatory as being immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant, and also leading.]

A. My recollection is that some months after——

Mr. HEMENWAY: When you testify "my recollection is," you recall a fact and swear to the fact, of course; not that you think it is so.

The WITNESS: Well, you know what "recollection" means.

Mr. HEMENWAY: You are swearing to a fact, not to the recollection of a fact. If you cannot recollect the thing, it did not take place, of course.

Mr. BRANDEIS: It is perfectly proper, of course.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Yes, if he means that.

The WITNESS: I do not know. I want to tell the truth as far as I know. Some months after the second subscription was made I became aware that the Old Dominion had capital issued amounting to 150,000 shares.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the answer as not being responsive.]

Q. 29. Had you, before that time, learned that Bigelow and Lewisohn had taken any of the Old Dominion stock as a bonus to themselves or their associates?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the interrogatory as being leading, and as inquiring for information that is immaterial and incompetent.]

350 A. May I ask you to instruct me? Do you mean before I found out there were 150,000 shares?

Q. 30. Yes.

A. No. After I found out there were 150,000 shares, that was the first I knew of it; I had not heard anything previous to that.

Q. 31. After you found out there were 150,000 shares in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, what, if anything, did you do with reference to Mr. Bigelow?

[Counsel for defendants objects to this interrogatory, it being incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial what his action was with reference to Mr. Bigelow.]

A. As soon as I learned that the company had issued a capital of 150,000 shares I went to Mr. Bigelow and stated to him that my understanding clearly was that there was to be a capital of 100,000 shares, and I asked him to explain the increase in capital.

Q. 32. What, if anything, did Mr. Bigelow say to you on that occasion?

[Counsel for defendants objects to any testimony with reference to what Mr. Bigelow said to this witness as being incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant in this suit.]

A. I will not attempt to repeat Mr. Bigelow's words, but I came away with an——

Mr. HEMENWAY: One moment. It is the words you are asked for and not what you went away with.

The WITNESS: Shall I answer just the way I was going to and let you see how much is to go into the record?

Mr. HEMENWAY: No.

Q. 33. State, as nearly as you can, the substance of what Mr. Bigelow said to you, if you cannot state the words.

A. The substance of his statement to me was that the 50,000 shares extra had been taken as a profit by himself and associates.

Q. 34. Is that all of the conversation that you remember?

A. Well, that is the substance of it, as I say.

Q. 35. Were Hayden, Stone & Company, at that time, at the time of that conversation, stockholders in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the interrogatory as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant to the issues in this suit.]

A. I cannot answer that.

351 Q. 36. That is, you do not recall whether or not——

A. —whether we had sold our stock or not. I do not know.

Q. 37. Did Hayden, Stone & Company sell their stock which they subscribed for?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the interrogatory as being immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. They did.

Q. 38. Have you any recollection as to when they sold their stock?

A. Only that it was within a comparatively short time.

Q. 39. What, if anything, did you say to Mr. Bigelow after he told you that he and Lewisohn had taken 50,000 shares to themselves?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the interrogatory as calling for a conversation or statements which are immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. I cannot recall, Mr. Brandeis.

Q. 40. Whether or not anything was said expressing satisfaction or assent or dissatisfaction with the statement that was made?

[Counsel for defendants object to the answer to the last interrogatory.]

A. I was very much dissatisfied.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That you were not asked. That I object to.

Q. 41. [Int. 40 is repeated.]
A. I cannot remember.

[STIPULATION.—The deposition of the witness is now closed, but it is agreed that if Mr. Lauterbach, for whom Mr. Hemenway now appears, desires to examine Mr. Stone, counsel for plaintiff will recall Mr. Stone so that he may do so with the same rights as upon cross-examination.]

Deposition of Charles H. Altmiller.

CHARLES H. ALTMILLER, Esq., being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. Please state your full name, age, residence, and occupation.
A. Charles H. Altmiller; thirty-eight years; 86 Highland street, Roxbury; secretary and treasurer of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.
Q. 2. How long have you been secretary and treasurer of that company?
A. Since about April, 1902, I believe.

Q. 3. Were you connected with the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company prior to April, 1902?

A. Yes, I have been connected with it since the start.

Q. 4. Since the organization of the company in July, 1895?

A. Since the organization of the company.

Q. 5. In what capacity?

A. Well, clerk or bookkeeper, whatever you have a mind to call it.

Q. 6. Were you connected with Mr. A. S. Bigelow, or with his companies prior to the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. Yes.

Q. 7. For how long a time?

A. About fifteen years.

Q. 8. For how long a time had you been head bookkeeper of those companies?

353 A. Well, I had been clerk and bookkeeper ever since I had been in there; I don't know how much head bookkeeper there was about it. I suppose the treasurer was the head bookkeeper.

Q. 9. Who were the bookkeepers under you in 1895?

A. Well, there was one that used to work for me—Mr. Beal.

Q. 10. Is he still living?

A. He is still living.

Q. 11. And in the employ of Mr. Bigelow?

A. Still.

Q. 12. Any other?

A. No, that is all that I remember.

Q. 13. In what business were you bookkeeper for Mr. Bigelow prior to the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. I do not know that I understand what you mean.

Q. 14. Well, for him personally, or for the companies in which he was interested, or which he managed?

A. Companies in which he was interested and managed, I suppose.

Q. 15. Was there one, or more than one?

A. There were twenty, or twenty-two, I think.

Q. 16. They had an office together?

A. All in one office.

Q. 17. In Mr. Bigelow's suite of offices in the Sears building?

A. Well, previously in the Advertiser building, afterwards in the Sears building.

Q. 18. Were those companies mining companies?

A. Mining companies, water companies, electric-light companies, and land companies.

Q. 19. Were those companies in which Mr. Leonard Lewisohn was interested, any of them?

A. I think he was interested in all of them.

Q. 20. Was there any general designation by which those companies were known?

A. I think they used to be called the Bigelow & Lewisohn Syndicate.

Q. 21. Was Mr. Leonard Lewisohn consulted about the organization of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company at its organization?

A. Yes.

Q. 22. At that time there was a private wire between Mr. Bigelow's office and Mr. Lewisohn's office?

A. Yes.

Q. 23. [Presenting a record book.] I will ask you now to turn to the record book of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company: are these the records of the meetings of the stockholders and directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. They are.

Q. 24. Will you now turn to those records and give the dates of each of the meetings of the stockholders from the date of the meeting of the incorporators for organization up to the annual meeting of April, 1902? [To counsel for defendants.] If you will per-354 mit me, I will call attention to this.

A. Well, I don't know much about that part of it.

Q. 25. Well, the meeting of the incorporators.

A. July 8, 1895.

Mr. HEMENWAY: He kept these records?

The WITNESS: No, I did not.

Mr. BRANDEIS: He didn't keep them before he was secretary.

The WITNESS: When I was at Mr. Bigelow's office I did not keep them; previous to 1902 I did not keep them.

Q. 25*a*. The 9th day of July, 1895, is the meeting for organization?

A. Yes.

Q. 25*b*. The next meeting is the annual stockholders' meeting, held April 5, 1899?

A. Yes.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Is there no record of any intermediate meeting?

Mr. BRANDEIS: No; as a matter of fact, there was none.

The WITNESS: The next is a special meeting of the stockholders, June 15, 1899, and the next is the annual meeting of the stockholders, April 3, 1901.

Q. 26. Will you now turn to the record book and give us a list of all the meetings of the directors?

A. The first was on July 9, 1895; then on July 11, 1895, July 24, 1895, September 18, 1895, November 24, 1897, December 16, 1897, May 10, 1899, February 13, 1900, March 2, 1901, Apirl 10, 1901, October 17, 1901, March 4, 1902, March 25, 1902.

Q. 27. I call your attention to the record of the first meeting of the incorporators on July 9, 1895, at which Jesse Lewisohn, Allen W. Evarts, Edgar Buffum, Charles W. Welch, Sidney Riddlesdorffer, William B. Rowe, and William R. Montgomery were elected as directors, and ask you who Edgar Buffum was?

A. He was a clerk in the office of Lewisohn Brothers at that time.

Q. 28. Has he remained as a clerk there since?

A. As far as I know, he is there to-day.

Q. 29. I now call your attention to the meeting of the directors on July 11, 1895, and to the fact that the following directors were elected; namely, Thomas Nelson in place of Jesse Lewisohn; H. M. Whitney in place of Charles W. Welch; Joseph G. Ray in place of Sidney Riddlesdorffer; Leonard Lewisohn in place of William B. Rowe, and A. S. Bigelow in place of William R. Montgomery, and ask you how long Thomas Nelson remained a director of the company?

A. I suppose until his death.

Q. 30. Do you recall the date of his death, approximately?

A. I think it was in 1897, the fall of 1897; I do not know exactly.

355 Mr. HEMENWAY: Of course it is understood that this witness is testifying from what he finds in the books?

Mr. BRANDEIS: Yes, he is testifying as to these dates.

Mr. HEMENWAY: As appearing upon the books, only, and not as a matter of his own personal knowledge.

The WITNESS: No; it is simply what is on the books.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

Q. Will you give me the date of Nelson's death again?

A. In 1897.

Q. 31. I will next call your attention to the directors' meeting of July 24, 1895, to the election of Moses T. Stevens in place of Allen W. Evarts; and to the directors' meeting of November 24, 1897, in which it appears that E. V. R. Thayer is elected a director in place of H. M. Whitney, resigned, and W. J. Ladd in place of Thomas Nelson, deceased. As far as you can remember, were all of the other persons who had been directors, elected directors previously, still on the board at that time?

A. Yes.

Mr. HEMENWAY: It is not as far as he remembers, but as far as it appears by that book?

The WITNESS: Yes.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I suppose he has some recollection, but I mean so far as it appears.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: You are not endeavoring to get his recollection?

Mr. BRANDEIS: No, not on this point. I just want to get the dates on the record.

Q. 32. And the W. J. Ladd elected at that meeting is the director who was elected secretary and treasurer of the company, and remained such until the change of management at the April meeting in 1902, after which you became secretary and treasurer?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 33. Now, turning to the annual meeting of April 5, 1899 at which it appears that Albert S. Bigelow, William J. Ladd, Joseph G. Ray, Joseph S. Bigelow, Leonard Lewisohn, E. V. R. Thayer, and Edgar Buffum were elected directors. I ask you who Joseph S. Bigelow is, who was then elected a director?

A. A brother of A. S. Bigelow.

Q. 34. Turning now to the meeting of the directors on March 2, 1901, at which it appears that C. H. Bissell was elected a director in place of J. G. Ray, deceased, I ask who Mr. Bissell was?

A. A clerk in the office, a clerk in the employ of the Bigelow & Lewisohn Syndicate, a clerk in the office.

356 Q. 35. And Mr. Bissell is still in the employ of Mr. Bigelow, in his office?

A. Yes.

Q. 36. Now, turning to the special meeting of the stockholders on June 15, 1899, in which it appears that F. M. Stone called the meeting to order and represented A. S. Bigelow and his proxy, I will ask you who F. M. Stone is?

A. A partner of Mr. Perkins of Perkins & Stone, lawyers, counsel for Mr. Bigelow.

Q. 37. Now, turning to the annual stockholders' meeting on April 3, 1901, at which it appears that P. K. Dumaresq was elected secretary of the meeting, and represented by proxy 85,520 shares, who was P. K. Dumaresq?

A. Transfer agent of the various companies.

Q. 38. He had been transfer agent throughout the time from the time of the organization?

A. Yes, sir, he was.

Q. 39. He was the general transfer agent?

A. Of all the companies.

Q. 40. That is, the transfer agent of all the Bigelow-Lewisohn companies of which you were clerk?

A. Yes.

Q. 41. And for a time, also, assistant secretary and treasurer of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. Yes, I believe that was also his title,—assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of all the companies,—transfer agent and assistant secretary.

Mr. Brandeis: Now I offer in evidence, and annex hereto, the records of all of the meetings of the stockholders and of the directors which have been referred to by the witness.

Mr. Lauterbach: I object to that, of course.

Mr. Brandeis: And, subject to that objection, I assume it is agreeable to you to have annexed to the deposition a copy of the records?

Mr. Lauterbach: Perhaps I had better state the objection. It is objected to on the ground that the witness did not personally keep the records, and has no knowledge of them except from the records themselves; and on the further ground, as Mr. Hemenway suggests, that the records are immaterial and irrelevant.

Mr. Brandeis: I will furnish a copy of the records to be annexed to the deposition as an exhibit.

[A copy of the records, as furnished by Mr. Brandeis, will be found annexed to this deposition, marked "Exhibit 1, Oct. 11, 1904, G. C. B." at Exhibits p. 412.]

357 Q. 42. I will ask you now, Mr. Altmiller, to turn to the entry in the journal of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company relating to the issue of the stock. It is the first entry in the journal, is it?

A. The first two entries.

Q. 43. Will you read those entries?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Do you offer them now?

Mr. BRANDEIS: Yes.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The introduction of the entries in the books is objected to on the ground that they are irrelevant and incompetent, and especially on the further ground that the witness did not keep the record.

Q. 44. Whose handwriting is that?

A. J. S. Beal's.

Q. 45. And J. S. Beal was your assistant?

Mr. HEMENWAY: He has not stated that.

Mr. BRANDEIS: He said, "assistant under me."

Mr. HEMENWAY: He said, "He was with me."

Mr. BRANDEIS: He used the expression, "assistant under me."

A. We worked together, and he took instructions from me in making the entries.

(By Mr. LAUTERBACH:)

Q. Do you recall that you gave instructions about these particular entries?

A. No, not about these particular entries, but all of these entries on the books, every entry, I guess, is in his handwriting; I would tell him in what form to make the entries, and he would make them.

Q. 46. Now will you read those entries?

A. "Boston, 1895. Real and property account, Dr. to capital stock, $3,250,000."

"100,000 shares at $25 each, $2,500,000. This stock was part of the consideration given in payment for the real estate and property of this company."

"30,000 shares at $25 each, $750,000. This stock was part of the consideration given in payment for the real estate and property of this company."

Then there is a line or rule under that.

"Treasury stock Dr. to capital stock. 20,000 shares at $25, $500,000. This issue of stock authorized at the meeting of directors held Sept. 18, 1895."

Q. 47. Now will you turn in the ledger of the company to the account of treasury stock? In whose handwriting is that?

A. That is Mr. J. S. Beal's.

Q. 48. Also made under your direction?

A. Yes.

Q. 49. Will you read that entry?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to as irrelevant, incompetent, and immaterial.

A. "Treasury stock."—of course this is ruled all off, you know,—on the debit side, "1895. To capital stock, $500,000.00

358 On the credit side: "1895, September. By cash, $485,350. "1897, September, By cash, $14,650."

Total under each, "$500,000."

Q. 50. From what book of the company are those entries posted in the ledger?

A. From the cash book.

Q. 51. Now will you turn to the corresponding entry in the cash book?

A. Page 2 of the cash book.

Q. 52. Will you read that entry?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

A. On the debit side of the cash book, under date of September, "To treasury stock, cash, $485,350."

Also on the same side, page 56, on the debit side, "September 21, To treasury stock, cash, $14,650."

Q. 53. In whose handwriting is that entry?

A. That is in my handwriting.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

Q. What do you point out as being in your handwriting?

A. All this [referring to the page of the book.] Mr. Beal was sick at that time.

Q. 54. Now will you turn to the book of original entry which contains the items from which the item of $485,350, under date of September, 1895, is made up?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

A. They are entered first on the stub of the check book.

[Shown to counsel.]

Q. 55. Now will you give us the dates of payment, the parties by whom the payments were made, and the amounts of payment, the figures comprising the items from which this aggregate of $485,350 is made up?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection. You will insert that?

Mr. BRANDEIS: Yes, I will give it to the stenographer.

A. 1895.

Those items aggregate $503,750. Against those were credits aggregating $19,500, representing moneys to the people who did not take their stock, as follows:

1895, Sept.	28,	J. S. Kendall	$5,000
Oct.	1,	D. M. Anthony	5,000
Oct.	1,	A. D. Harding	2,000
Oct.	31,	M. Luce	7,500

And there was an additional item of $1000 for 40 shares of stock for C. W. Barron, which was received later; and $100 received for 4 shares issued to Edgar Buffum.

361 Q. 56. Will you state whether or not those amounts were paid by the respective parties to the Old Dominion Company on the dates named?

A. They were.

(By Mr. LAUTERBACH:)

Q. You mean you have no knowledge except as appears by the book? You do not remember the fact, do you?

A. No, I could not say that; I could not swear to that.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: It is objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Q. 57. You knew that fact at the time of the payments?

A. Oh, at the time of the payments, yes.

Q. 58. But you mean you have no recollection independent of the fact that they are entered in the books?

A. No.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

Q. — That is all in your handwriting?

A. No, this is not; none of this.

Q. 59. Will you turn to the item of September 28, "J. S. Kendall, $5,000," and read the entry as it appears upon the stub of the check book?

(By Mr. LAUTERBACH:)

Q. The same is true as to all the entries, as to your knowledge?
A. Yes.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I make the same objection.
The WITNESS: I suppose I knew at the time what was going on.

A. "Sept. 28, 1895, Suspense account. J. S. Kendall, $5000. He took 600 shares and $5000 for 200 shares which he did not take."
Q. 60. Now the entry of October 1.
A. "Oct. 1, 1895, Albert E. Harding, balance of $2000, money instead of shares.
"Oct. 1, H. H. Anthony"——
Q. 61. Are those lead-pencil entries?
A. They are.
Q. 62. In whose handwriting?
A. In the handwriting of W. A. S. Chrimes.
Q. 63. And the entries under Harding and Kendall are in Mr. Chrimes' handwriting?
A. All in Mr. Chrimes' handwriting.
Q. 64. Who is Mr. Chrimes?
A. He is Mr. Bigelow's private secretary.
Q. 65. And was at that time?
A. Yes.
Q. 66. And remains so?
A. Yes.
"H. H. Anthony, suspense account, $5000, money instead of shares.
"Oct. 31, 1895, check to Butte City Water Co. on account of subscription of Mr. Luce to Water Company bonds, $7500."

362 Q. 67. In regard to these several payments that you have testified to, did you know of them at the time they were made?
A. Yes, I suppose I did, but I have forgotten it to-day. I suppose I knew at the time.
Q. 68. Now coming to the entries under date of September, 1897, about which you were beginning to testify, did you know of those at the time?
A. Yes, I did, as near as I can remember now. It was stock which was in the treasury, and we wanted to close up that treasury account on the books, so I spoke to Mr. Nelson——

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Well, never mind that.

Q. 69. Well, the stock was sold?
A. The stock was sold.
Q. 70. That is, you had personal knowledge of the matter at the time?
A. Yes.
Q. 71. Now will you refer to the books and tell us just what was done?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

A. The stock was sold by Stackpole & Gay, and they gave a return for it; it was turned in and turned to the credit of the company.

Q. 72. Tell us just precisely what the transaction was.

A. —.

On September 21, 1897, 125 shares of treasury stock at 28⅛	3,515.63
450 shares of treasury stock at 28	12,600.00
Total	16,115.63
Commission	71.88
Balance	16,043.75

STACKPOLE & GAY.

September 23, sold through Stackpole & Gay 10 shares treasury stock at 25, less commission $1.25	273.75
October 1, '97, sold through Stackpole & Gay 1 share treasury stock at $25, less commission, 25 cts	24.75

That accounts for 586 shares. Do you want these 4 shares?

Q. 73. Yes.

A. Under date of January 16, 1896, in settlement with Lewisohn Brothers, they deducted "less amount due from Edgar Buffum for 4 shares of stock, $100."

Q. 74. Now I notice in the statement aggregating $485,350 a single sale on January 6, to C. W. Barron, 40 shares, $1000?

A. Yes.

Q. 75. And that was settled for on that date?

A. Settled for on that date, through Mr. Bigelow's account.

363 Q. 76. Now the amounts which you have read as being the proceeds of the sale, through Stackpole & Gay, of the 586 shares of stock, appear as to $14,750 which you have entered in the ledger or cash book under the treasury stock. What disposition was made of that difference?

A. The balance was placed to the credit of interest account; the difference between what we received for them and $25 per share was placed to the credit of interest account.

Q. 77. Will you turn to that item in the ledger?

A. Do you want the cash book and ledger?

Q. 78. Yes.

A. It appears in the cash book on page 56, three items:

Under date of September 21, interest account, cash	1,643.75
September 23, cash	273.75
October 1, cash	24.75

Q. 79. Where was that placed on the ledger; on what page?

A. On page 38. It includes other items, you see. [Exhibiting page 38 of the ledger.]

Q. 80. I hand you now a paper beginning, "New York, December 1, 1895. Old Dominion Syndicate. To Evarts, Choate & Beaman, Dr. No. 52 Wall St.," being a bill for services and disbursements aggregating $7689.66, and ask whether or not that bill was paid by a check of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company; and if so, on what date?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to on the ground that it is incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. Yes, it was, under date of January 1, 1896.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I will introduce this in evidence, and it will be marked "Exhibit 22."

[A copy of the bill produced by Mr. Brandeis will be found annexed to this deposition, marked "Exhibit 2, Oct. 11, 1904, G. C. B." at page 462.]

Q. 81. I hand you herewith a paper entitled "Boston, January 1, 1896. Old Dominion Copper Company to Edward C. Perkins, Dr.," being a bill for services from January 1, 1895, to January 1, 1896, for $1000, and ask you whether or not that bill was paid by check of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company; and if so, on what date?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is objected to for the reasons stated above.

A. It was, on January 27, 1896.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I will introduce that bill in evidence, and it will be marked "Exhibit 3."

364 Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection to the bill.

[A copy of the bill produced by Mr. Brandeis will be found annexed to this deposition, marked "Exhibit 3, Oct. 11, 1904, G. C. B." at page 464.]

Q. 82. I hand you herewith a paper entitled "Old Dominion Copper Co. in account with Lewisohn Bros.," being an account showing a balance in ink of $10,393.83 with "$6" added in pencil, making $10,399.83, and ask you whether or not that account was paid by a check of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company; and if so, on what date?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

A. It was, on January 16, 1896.

Q. 83. I call your attention to the papers attached to this account of Lewisohn Brothers, and ask you whether or not those are the vouchers which accompanied that account and are referred to in it?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

A. They are.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I now introduce in evidence this account with the annexed papers, and ask that it be marked "Exhibit 4."

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

[Account and vouchers produced by Mr. Brandeis will be found annexed to this deposition, marked "Exhibit 4, Oct. 11, 1904, G. C. B." at page 465.]

Q. 84. Among these vouchers I call your attention to one of July 1, 1895, of "L. Barta & Co. for 1 vol. 300 receipt- 2 to the page, with stub 1st, 2nd and 3rd and extra lettering, $6.50." What does that bill refer to?

A. If I can remember, it was receipts for payments of subscriptions, 28⅔, 28⅔, and another. I believe that is the form.

Q. 85. That is the form of the receipts which were used here in Boston?

A. Used here in Boston; I would not say for that; perhaps used in New York.

Q. 86. It was the same form?

A. The same form as those used in Boston; probably used in New York by the parties interested in the payments.

Q. 87. Now will you turn to the books and let us know whether, besides the payments made to Evarts, Choate & Beaman, Edward C. Perkins, and Lewisohn Brothers, there were any other payments made relating to the expenses of the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. Yes, I suppose to Hyams and Bigelow.

Q. 88. What was the amount of the payment made to Mr. Hyams?

365 Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

A. Do you want the gross paid to Hyams?

Q. 89. Give the gross now.

A. $604.

Q. 90. And that is subject to a deduction?

A. A deduction of money due on these bills of $67.48.

Q. 91. Leaving a net of $536.52, for which a check was given on what date?

A. January 20, 1896.

Q. 92. What payment or credit was made to Mr. Bigelow?

A. Do you want the total amount? You see we paid him $420 as against the $604 for Mr. Hyams.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

Q. Paid whom?

A. Mr. Bigelow.

Mr. BRANDEIS: A credit.

Q. 93. Will you state whether or not certain payments were made in to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company towards the several bills which you have just testified were paid by it?

A. The stub of the check book shows, on January 6, 1896, there was a check from J. Morris Meredith for $202.32; ditto $1500; total..... $1,702.32

Also ditto Meredith.....	20.98
Also Luce	665.56
Also Coram	665.55
Also Leonard Lewisohn.....	2,528.35
Also T. N.....	665.56

Also A. S. B.	665.55
Account Barron	1,000.00
	$16,603.53
Less	420
Net	$16,183.53

[For correction, see Altmiller recalled, 514, and Nov. 1907, page —.]

Q. 94. That is the $420 about which you have just testified?

A. Yes.

Q. 95. Now this $1000, account Barron, is an amount also that you have testified about?

A. It is.

Q. 96. A payment through Mr. Bigelow for 40 shares to Barron?

A. Yes.

Q. 97. I will ask you whether subsequent to January there was any payment made on account of a further payment made to Evarts, Choate & Beaman?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

366 A. Yes, there was, on April 29, 1896; $344.34.

Q. 98. For what was that paid?

A. It reads, "Evarts, Choate & Beaman, in accordance with their letter of April 28, 1896."

Q. 99. I hand you herewith a file of letters of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, and ask you whether you find there this letter of April 28, 1896, referred to?

A. I do.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I will introduce that letter.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

[The letter referred to by Mr. Brandeis will be found annexed to this deposition, marked "Exhibit 5, Oct. 11, 1904, G. C. B." at page 469.]

Q. 100. How was this bill, or the amount paid to Evarts, Choate & Beaman for services in winding up the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company, charged upon your books?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

A. I suppose to expense account; it may be to suspense account. The cash book, under date of April 29, on the credit side: "Suspense account, Evarts, Choate & Beaman, $344.34." I have not that account, but later on I know it was put into the account with others. On the journal, under date of April 30, 1896, this entry was made: "Expense account, Dr. to balance account, account transferred this day, $344.34."

Q. 101. I call your attention now to the company's letter file for 1896, to a notice entitled "Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company. 199 Washington Street, Room 303. Oct. 9, 1895," partly printed and partly written: in whose handwriting is that portion that is written?

A. Mr. Chrimes'.

Q. 102. That is, the words on it, "Mr. Nelson said call this unsold," that is in Mr. Chrimes' handwriting?

A. Yes.

Q. 103. That is in red ink. And the words in black ink "100" and $2500," and the words "are now ready and," and the words "O. N. Pierce, Esq."?

A. They are all in his handwriting.

Q. 104. In whose handwriting are the words "Grinnell Mfg. Co., New Bedford, Mass."?

A. I don't know; I do not think that is his writing.

Q. 105. Now the word "over," and the words on the back, "There was a misunderstanding as to this stock being in my name. I do not care for it. Yours truly, O. N. Pierce 10/5 95"?

A. I suppose that to be in Mr. Pierce's handwriting.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Now I will introduce that in evidence.

367 Mr. LAUTERBACH: Note the same objection.

[The letter referred to by Mr. Brandeis will be found annexed to this deposition marked, "Exhibit 6, Oct. 11, 1904, G. C. B." at page 470.]

Q. 106. Was there kept by the company as it was organized more than one line of certificates?

A. Yes, there was.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The books will show for themselves.

Q. 107. What were they?

A. A book of miscellaneous, a book of 50's and a book of 100's.

Q. 108. That is, three separate books?

A. Three separate books.

Q. 109. Were each of those sets of 50's numbered from 1 consecutively?

A. They were; the 50's had a B before the number, and the 100's had an A.

Q. 110. Will you turn to the earliest No. 1 certificate book of each of those three sets? Turn first to the book entitled "Miscellaneous," which you call the miscellaneous book, and will you proceed with that and tell us what the first seven certificates were which were issued from that book?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

(By Mr. LAUTERBACH:)

Q. That is not in your handwriting?

A. No.

A. [Ans. to Int. 110.] No. 1, 16 shares, issued to Jesse Lewisohn, dated July 9/95, for Articles ass'n.

No. 2, 4 shares, issued to A. W. Evarts, dated July 9/95.

No. 3, 4 shares issued to Edgar Buffum, dated July 9/95, for Articles ass'n.

No. 4, 4 shares, issued to C. W. Welch, dated July 9/95, for Articles ass'n.

No. 5, 4 shares, issued to Sidney Riddlestorffer, dated July 9/95, for Articles ass'n.

No. 6, 4 shares, issued to William P. Rowe, dated July 9/95, for Articles ass'n.

No. 7, 4 shares, issued to W. R. Montgomery, dated July 9/95, for Articles ass'n.

Q. 111. Making in the aggregate 40 shares of stock?

A. Forty shares.

Q. 112. Now I call your attention to the first entry upon the stub of the check book: "Received from Lewisohn Bros. July 12, '95, $1000, for 40 shares of stock at $25, to qualify directors," and ask you whether or not that $1000 was actually received from Lewisohn Brothers?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

A. It was.

Q. 113. And that was the $1000 in payment for those 40 shares that you have given us the memoranda of the certificates for?

A. Yes, sir.

368 Q. 114. Where is that $1000 entered in the books of the company?

A. Well, that is entered first in suspense account; then it is worked out later in the payment made Lewisohn Brothers, January 16, 1896.

Q. 115. What do you mean by saying it is worked out in that payment?

A. It is included in that payment.

Q. 116. Do you now refer to the item for which the bill is rendered by Lewisohn Brothers to the Old Dominion Copper Company?

A. Yes; and the item under date of July 9, 1895, "deposited in the Market and Fulton Bank, remitted to T. Nelson, $1000."

Q. 117. Will you turn to any entry upon the books covering that $1000?

A. That is on the cash book, page 2, on the debit side, "1895, July, to balance account, Lewisohn Bros., $1000."

Q. 118. Now will you follow that through suspense account and show what became of that item?

A. It is entered on the credit side, "July, cash, $1000." Then it is included in that entry there.

Q. 119. What do you mean by "included in that entry there," what do you refer to?

A. To the entry on the debit side, under date of January, 1896, "Cash, $12,032.12."

Mr. LAUTERBACH: All this is taken under the same objection.

The WITNESS: In the cash book, on the credit side of the cash book, "Jan. 31, suspense account, cash, $12,032.12."

Q. 120. It is not a fact that that $1000 for which Lewisohn

Brothers rendered their account is included in the various items for which Lewisohn Brothers rendered their account, and which is settled by a check of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, under date of January——

A. January 16, 1896. In other words, it was paid back to Lewisohn Brothers in that check.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

Q. 121. Now, returning to the miscellaneous certificate book, will you show what the next certificates were issued by this company?

A. No. 8, 16 shares, issued to Thomas Nelson, dated July 11 '95, for certificate No. 1, transferred from Jesse Lewisohn.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Just one moment. The original certificates are here, of course, but I do not want to use them. Suppose, with your consent, Mr. Hemenway and Mr. Lauterbach, I put in here the certificate book and the original certificates therein referred to.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Subject to our objection as to relevancy, but not as to form; any formal objection being waived.

369 The WITNESS: [Continuing his answer:]

No. 9, 4 shares, issued to Moses T. Stevens, for certificate #2, transferred from A. W. Evarts, and marked "Cancelled."

No. 10, 4 shares, issued to Henry M. Whitney, dated July 11 '95, for certificate #4, transferred from C. W. Welch.

No. 11, 4 shares issued to Joseph G. Ray, dated July 11 '95, for certificate #5, transferred from S. Riddlestorffer.

No. 12, 4 shares, issued to Leonard Lewisohn, dated July 11 '95, for certificate #6, transferred from W. P. Rowe.

No. 13, 4 shares, issued to A. S. Bigelow, dated July 11 '95, for certificate #7, transferred from W. R. Montgomery.

No. 14, 4 shares, issued to Moses T. Stevens, dated July 24 '95, for certificate #2, transferred from A. W. Evarts.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

Q. Were there two transfers of #2?

A. The first one was canceled, marked "Cancelled" across the face of it. There was no delivery under that.

Q. 122. Now I call your attention to the stub of the miscellaneous certificate book covering certificates from No. 15 to No. 66, inclusive, and ask you also to look at the certificates themselves, and state whether or not any of the certificates covered by those numbers were ever actually issued.

A. No, they were all canceled. [Referring to the certificates.] They were all canceled.

Q. 123. Those were not only canceled, but were not signed?

A. No. I have examined the stub and also the certificates, as requested, and find that all of those certificates were canceled, and that none of them bear the signature of any officer of the company; also that all of those certificates are dated September 19, 1895, and that the respective numbers of those certificates, names and amount of shares, are as follows:—

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection. The certificates, never having been signed and executed, have no validity or effect, and are incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

[Following is the list furnished by the witness to complete his answer to the above interrogatory 123:]

371 Q. 124. In whose handwriting is the writing in the body of the certificates?

A. Mr. Bazeley's.

Q. 125. Who is Mr. Bazeley?

A. He was one of the transfer clerks.

Q. 126. In Mr. Bigelow's office?

A. Yes.

Q. 127. Is he now living?

A. Yes.

Q. 128. Is he still in that office?

A. No.

Q. 129. Where is he now?

A. He is in the real-estate business, I think, in the Exchange building.

Q. 130. I call your attention, now, to the stub of certificate No. 67, and ask you what it shows.

A. No. 67, 100,000 shares, issued to P. K. Dumaresq, dated September 13, 1895, for "ctf. of orig." issue, marked "Cancelled." The original certificate also was not signed by any officer of the company.

Q. 131. And the written words in the certificate are in the handwriting of whom?

A. Mr. W. A. Shepard.

The next one is No. 68, 30,000 shares, issued to A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn, dated September 13, 1895, for original stock issue, marked "Cancelled." The certificate, also, as far as I know, is in Mr. Shepard's handwriting, and is not signed by either the president or the treasurer.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

The WITNESS: No. 69, 1300 shares, issued to Hayden, Stone & Company, dated September 19, 1895, for certificate No. 36, canceled and that is canceled. The certificate is also canceled and is not signed by either the president or the treasurer.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

Q. 132. Now No. 70.

A. No. 70, 40 shares, issued to P. K. Dumaresq, dated September 18, 1895, for sundries. This certificate is signed by P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, canceled, and no signature of the president.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: The same objection.

Q. 133. Now will you read No. 71?

A. The stub is in Mr. Shepard's handwriting. It is made out for 100 shares, for sundries, dated September 18, 1895, and marked "Cancelled." The certificate itself is signed by P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, and C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and is registered by the Atlas National Bank; it is for 100,000 shares, while the stub is for 100 shares, and there is stamped across it in red ink the words "Issued for property purchased." There is an indorsement upon the certificate assigning and transferring unto Moses T. Stevens, 4 shares; A. S. Bigelow, 4 shares; Leonard Lewisohn, 4 shares;
372 Thomas Nelson, 16 shares; Edgar Buffum, 4 shares; Joseph G. Ray, 4 shares; Henry M. Whitney, 4 shares; "to myself" 99,960 shares, all under date of September 18, 1895.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: It is understood that my objection applies to this all through, and that I need not continue to repeat the objection.

Q. 134. Now No. 72.

A. The stub of No. 72 is as follows, the words written in ink being underscored [italicized]:—

"No. 72.
30,000 Shares.
Issued to A. S. Bigelow.
Dated Sept. 18/95.
For Vote of Syn.
Returned and Cancelled.
Transferred from

Received the above Certificate"

Marked across the face "Cancelled."

The certificate itself is signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, and is marked "Cancelled." It is not registered by the Atlas Bank.

The stub of No. 73 is as follows, the words written in ink being underscored [italicized]:

"No. 73.
20,000 Shares.
Issued to Thomas Nelson. Treas.
Dated Sept. 18/95.
For Vote of Syn.
Returned and Cancelled.
Transferred from

Received the above certificate."

The certificate itself is signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, and registered by the Atlas

National Bank, and bears a transfer on the back in blank appointing W. H. Shepard attorney to make the transfer; this under date of September 19, 1895.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Executed by Thomas Nelson, treasurer.

373 Q. 135. Are there any words printed on the face of this certificate indicating it was issued for property purchased?

A. No. The face of the certificate and the endorsement thereon are as follows:

"Incorporated under the Laws of the State of New Jersey.

Registered Atlas National Bank.

By J. L. Foster, Assist. Cash.

No. 73. 20,000 Shares.

This Certifies, That Thomas Nelson, treasurer, is entitled to Twenty Thousand shares of the Capital Stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, transferable only on the books of said Company, by the holder thereof, in person, or by Attorney, on surrender of this Certificate.

Boston, Mass., Sept. 19, 1895.

C. H. BISSELL,
Assist. President.
P. K. DUMARESQ,
Assist. Treasurer.

Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company. 1895.

'Notice.' The Signature of this Assignment must correspond with the name as written upon the Face of the Certificate in every particular without alteration or enlargement or any change whatever.

For Value Received —— —— hereby assign and transfer unto —— ——, — Shares of the Capital Stock represented by the within Certificate and do hereby irrevocably constitute and appoint W. H. Shepard Attorney to transfer the said stock on the books of the within named Company, with full power of substitution in the premises.

Dated this 19th day of Sept., 1895.

THOMAS NELSON, Treas."

Witness:
W. H. SHEPARD.

Q. 136. The transfer of the certificate appears as Exhibit 25 annexed to the deposition of Godfrey M. Hyams in this case?

A. Yes.

Q. 137. Now No. 74.

A. No. 74, 30,000 shares, issued to A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn, dated September 18, 1895. This certificate is signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and registered by the Atlas
374 National Bank, and has printed across it in red ink the words "Issued for property purchased," and bears a transfer under date of September 20, 1895, assigning unto Leonard Lewisohn 2650, and to A. S. Bigelow, 27,350 shares, the transfer being signed "Leonard Lewisohn, by Adolph Lewisohn, attorney, in the presence of Sidney Riddlestorffer," and "A. S. Bigelow, in the presence of C. H. Bissell." The transfer appoints C. H. Bissell attorney to register the transfer.

Q. 138. Who is Sidney Riddlestorffer?

A. He is in Mr. Lewisohn's office.

Q. 139. A clerk or assistant there?

A. He is in their employ; I do not know in what position.

No. 75, 4 shares, issued to Moses T. Stevens, dated September 18, 1895, for part of certificate 71; transferred from P. K. Dumaresq.

No. 76, 4 shares, issued to A. S. Bigelow, dated September 18, 1895, for part of certificate 71.

No. 77, 4 shares, issued to Leonard Lewisohn, dated September 18, 1895, for part of certificate 71.

No. 78, 16 shares, issued to Thomas Nelson, dated September 18, 1895, for part of certificate 71.

No. 79, 4 shares, issued to Edgar Buffum, dated September 18, 1895, for part of certificate 71.

No. 80, 4 shares, issued to Joseph G. Ray, dated September 18, 1895, for part of certificate 71.

No. 81, 4 shares, issued to Henry M. Whitney, dated September 18, 1895, for part of certificate 71.

No. 82, 99,960 shares issued to P. K. Dumaresq, transferred September 18, 1895, for balance of certificate 71. This certificate is signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, and registered by the Atlas National Bank; is endorsed by Mr. Dumaresq, September 19, 1895, transferring to Foote & French, 100 shares; H. T. Coe, 200 shares; J. T. Herrick, 100 shares; Henry F. Woods, 100 shares; Oswald N. Cammann, 15 shares; David W. Cheever, 25 shares; "to myself," 99,420 shares, with W. H. Shepard as attorney, but no other transfer.

Q. 140. No. 83 is a blank, and appears never to have been issued, likewise No. 84? A. Yes.

Q. 141. Now No. 85,—this is a new list, is it?

A. That is a new list.

Certificates 85 to 138, inclusive, with the exception of 97, 104, and 122, hereafter referred to, are all certificates dated September 19, 1895, to the parties and for the number of shares as follows:

375

No. of certificate.	No. of shares.	Name.	Date.
85	145	Charles H. Altmiller	Sept. 19, 1895.
86	200	D. M. Anthony	Sept. 19, 1895.
87	200	Edward P. Abbe	Sept. 19, 1895.
88	200	Joseph S. Beal	Sept. 19, 1895.
89	20	Wm. A. L. Bazeley	Sept. 19, 1895.
90	260	Richard F. Bolles	Sept. 19, 1895.
91	500	J. W. Belches & Co.	Sept. 19, 1895.
92	20	Chas. P. Bond	Sept. 19, 1895.
93	40	Clarence W. Barron	Sept. 19, 1895.
94	140	W. A. S. Chrimes	Sept. 19, 1895.
95	140	Chas. H. Cole, Jr.	Sept. 19, 1895.
96	1,250	Clark, Ward & Co.	Sept. 19, 1895.

No. 167, 20 shares, issued to Elbridge Torrey, dated September 20, 1895, for sundries.

Q. 143. What is the meaning of "sundries" appearing in the stub of a certificate?

A. Well, when they transfer from one party to another if there is more than one certificate to make up the number of shares that a party buys, they might put it down "sundries;" that is, there are two or more certificates.

(By Mr. LAUTERBACH:)

Q. You aggregate them?

A. Yes.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

Q. If I bought 20 shares and it belonged to you three, you would put it down "sundries"?

A. Yes [continuing to read from the certificate stubs].

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is admitted, subject to the same objection.

Q. 145. I call your attention to the stub of certificate A4, Samuel B. Bartholomew, particularly to the words on the stub, "Cancelled and issued to T. N." In whose handwriting are those words?

A. Well, I think that is Shepard's.

Q. 146. Will you now turn to that certificate?

A. I produce the original certificate No. A4, dated September 19, 1895, signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, registered by the Atlas National Bank, the certificate reading to Samuel B. Bartholomew. The certificate is marked in red ink, "Cancelled," and bears no endorsement.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

Q. —. Do the by-laws provide for an assistant president?

A. Yes. They were too busy to sign certificates, and so Mr. Bissell was elected assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq was elected assistant treasurer.

Q. 147. I call your attention also to the stub of certificate A5, to A. Eldredge, and particularly to the words "Cancelled and issued to T. Nelson, treasurer." In whose handwriting are those words?

A. Mr. Shepard's.

Q. 148. Now, turning to the original certificate A5——

A. I produce herewith the original certificate, which is signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, 387 assistant treasurer, registered, "Atlas National Bank," and the name "A. Eldredge," cancelled in red ink, and bearing no endorsement.

Q. 149. I call your attention to the stub of certificate A 13, issued to O. N. Pierce, and to the words "Cancelled and issued to T. Nelson, treasurer;" that is also in Mr. Shepard's handwriting?

A. Yes.

Q. 150. Will you produce the certificate?

A. I produce certificate A 13, dated September 19, 1895, signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, registered by the Atlas Bank, in the name of O. N. Pierce, "Cancelled" in red ink, and bearing no endorsement.

Q. 151. Will you now produce certificate book B, containing 50-share lots, and furnish a list of the certificates issued prior to September 27, 1895?

A. I herewith produce the certificate book B. The 50-share lots are as follows, from B 1 to B 70, inclusive:—

Q. 152. I call your attention to the stub of certificate B3, H. A. Goodell, under date of September 19, 1895, 50 shares. The words thereon, "Cancelled and issued to Thomas Nelson, treasurer," in whose handwriting are they?

A. Mr. Shepard's.

Q. 153. Will you now produce the original certificate No. B3?

A. I herewith produce such certificate. It is signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer; registered by the Atlas Bank, in the name of H. A. Goodell, and marked in red ink "Cancelled." The certificate bears no endorsement.

Q. 154. Will you now produce the certificate issued in place of these certificates of 350 shares, namely, transferred to Nelson from Bartholomew Eldridge, O. N. Pierce, and H. A. Goodell?

A. I herewith produce certificate No. 409, duly signed and registered for 350 shares, dated October 10, 1895, in the name of Thomas Nelson, treasurer. The assignment on the back of the certificate, under date of September 21, 1897, is signed by Thomas Nelson, treasurer, his signature being witnessed by W. A. S. Chrimes. The assignment is to Stackpole & Gay, of the whole 350 shares, E. J. Young being appointed attorney to make the transfer.

Q. 155. Proceeding now in the miscellaneous certificate book, I call your attention to certificate 197, and ask you to read the stub of the same.

A. "No. 197, 40 shares, issued to Charles H. Altmiller, dated Sept. 27, 1895, for certificate 140, original subscription."

Q. 156. Certificate 140 being a certificate to P. K. Dumaresq for 99,420 shares?

A. Yes.

Q. 157. Will you now furnish us a list of all the certificates issued under date of September 27, 1895, other than certificate 140 for 99,420 shares?

A. Yes.

Q. 158. Referring to miscellaneous certificate book, comprising certificates 197 to 269, A certificate book, comprising Nos. 128 to 161, and B certificate book, comprising Nos. 72 to 79, all of said certificates being dated September 27, I call your attention in miscellaneous certificate book to certificate No. 201, 200 shares, issued to Harold M. Anthony, dated September 27, 1895, for certificate 140 sundries, and ask you to produce that certificate.

A. I herewith produce the original certificate No. 201. The certificate is dated September 27, 1895, signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, in the name of Harold M. Anthony, marked "Cancelled" on the face. It is not registered, and is not endorsed.

Q. 159. I call your attention to the stub No. 202, for 1600 shares, issued to John H. Ball, dated September 27, 1895, for certificate 140 subscription, marked "Cancelled," and ask you to produce the original of that certificate.

A. I herewith produce certificate No. 202. It is dated Sep-
393 tember 27, 1895, signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, in the name of John H. Ball, and is marked "Cancelled." It is not registered, and bears no endorsement.

Q. 160. I call your attention to the stub of certificate No. 232, for 36,190 shares, issued to Leonard Lewisohn, and marked "Cancelled," dated September 27, 1895, and ask you to produce the original certificate.

A. I produce the original certificate in the name of Leonard Lewisohn for 36,190 shares. The certificate is not signed nor dated, nor registered nor endorsed in any way.

Q. 161. I call your attention to the stub of certificate No. 234, for 200 shares, issued to Benjamin F. Messervy, dated September 27, 1895, and marked "Cancelled," and ask you to produce the original certificate.

A. I herewith produce the certificate. It is signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, dated September 27, 1895, in the name of Benjamin F. Messervy, and marked "Cancelled." It is not registered nor endorsed.

Q. 162. Will you please produce the original certificate A143?

A. I produce, as requested, the orignal certificate A143, dated September 27, 1895, in the name of Miss Annie R. Anthony, signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and by P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, registered at the Atlas National Bank. A. On the back of the certificate are endorsed the words, "This stock was unclaimed and unpaid for, and therefore is returned to the treasurer. William H. Shepard, transfer clerk."

Q. 163. Will you also produce certificate A 161, in the name of George E. Sanborn?

A. I produce, as requested, the original certificate A 161, dated September 27, 1895, to George E. Sanborn. The certificate is signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, registered by the Atlas National Bank. This certificate bears on the back, in writing, "Oct. 31, 1895. This stock was uncalled for and not paid for, and for that reason returned to the treasurer. W. H. Shepard, transfer clerk."

Q. 164. Will you refer to the transfer book and state out of what certificate the 36,190 shares were taken?

A. Out of certificate 140.

Q. 165. Will you please produce the original certificate No. 269 (miscellaneous), dated September 27, 1895, in the name of Leonard Lewisohn, for 36,190 shares?

A. I herewith produce that certificate dated September 27, 1895, signed by C. H. Bissell, assistant president, and P. K. Dumaresq, assistant treasurer, registered by the Atlas National Bank, for 36,190 shares. The certificate is endorsed to transfer as follows, the transfer being signed "Leonard Lewisohn, by Adolph Lewisohn, attor-394 ney," with Sidney Riddlestorffer as witness, on the date of September 28, 1895, and attached thereto is a letter of Lewisohn, which appears to be signed by Adolph Lewisohn, general manager, as follows:

Q. 169. I call your attention to the stub (miscellaneous) No. 420, to A. S. Bigelow, 27,350 shares, for sundries, marked "Cancelled," and ask you to produce that certificate.

A. I herewith produce that canceled certificate No. 420; it is unsigned, undated, and not registered.

397 Q. 170. I ask you now to produce certificate No. 421 to A. S. Bigelow for 27,350 shares, dated October 17, 1895.

A. I herewith produce that certificate, dated October 17, 1895, duly signed and registered. The certificate bears on itself no endorsement, but there is noted upon it in pencil a memorandum showing the disposition of the 27,350 shares.

Q. 171. I call your attention to the stub of miscellaneous certificate No. 409, for 350 shares, issued October 10, 1895, to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, and ask you to examine the transfer book to ascertain whether that certificate was issued in exchange for the certificates to Bartholomew, Eldredge, Pierce, and Goodell, as above testified to by you?

A. I do not think you can find any transfer for that; they simply canceled the old certificates and issued new ones.

Q. 172. Will you now produce the original of miscellaneous certificates No. 8, to Thomas Nelson, for 16 shares; No. 10, to Henry M. Whitney, 4 shares; No. 11, to Joseph G. Ray, for 1 shares; No. 12, to Leonard Lewisohn, for 4 shares; No. 13, to A. S. Bigelow, for 4 shares, and No. 14, to Moses T. Stevens, for 1 shares?

A. I do not think you can find all of them here. You see, these are the first ones, and if the others remained directors they would be held there for some time. I herewith produce the certificates called for. They are all duly signed and registered, and are endorsed, by the respective parties, under date of September 16 or 18, 1895.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: They appear to be transferred to Dumaresq.

Q. 173. Will you now produce certificate No. 75, issued to Moses T. Stevens, for 4 shares; No. 76, to A. S. Bigelow, for 4 shares; No. 77, to Leonard Lewisohn, for 4 shares; No. 78, to Thomas Nelson, for 16 shares; No. 79, to Edgar Buffum, for 4 shares; No. 80, to Joseph G. Ray, for 4 shares, and No. 81, to Henry M. Whitney, for 4 shares?

A. I do not think you will find any of those here. Those were qualifying shares. They are not here; they are at the office.

[The further taking of this deposition was postponed until Tuesday, the 18th day of October, at the same time and place, and was then resumed, as follows:]

Q. 174. Have you now the certificates called for in Int. 173?

A. Yes. I herewith produce the original certificates. They are all dated September 18, 1895. Nos. 75, 76, 77, 78, 80, and 81 are endorsed by the respective parties in whose names the certificates stood, and are assigned to Thomas Nelson, treasurer; and all of those, except certificate 81, are stamped on the back "Transferred Nov. 4, 1895." The transfer of certificate No. 75 is dated November 2, 1895; that of No. 76, October 31, 1895; that of 77, November 2, 1895; that of No. 78, October 31, 1895; that of 80, 398 November 2, 1895; the transfer on the back of 81 is not dated. Certificate No. 79, to Edgar Buffum, is endorsed by Edgar Buffum, under date of January 17, 1896, to Laurent Oppenheim, and is stamped "Transferred April 8, 1897."

Q. 175. Will you now produce the certificate which was issued to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, for the 36 shares transferred to him from the certificates referred to in Ints. 173 and 174?

A. I herewith produce the original certificate, No. 466, dated November 4, 1895, for 36 shares, to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, under date of September 21, 1897, transferring 25 shares to Stackpole & Gay and 11 shares "to myself."

Q. 176. Will you now produce certificate No. 409, for 350 shares, to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, referred to in Int. 171?

A. I herewith produce the original certificate No. 409, endorsed Thomas Nelson and Thomas Nelson, treasurer, transferring the same, under date of September 21, 1897.

Q. 177. Will you now produce the original certificate issued to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, in exchange for certificate A143 referred to in Int. 161, and A161 referred to in Int. 163?

A. I herewith produce the original certificate No. 465, dated October 31, 1895, in the name of Thomas Nelson, treasurer, for 200 shares. This certificate is endorsed by Thomas Nelson, treasurer, transferring the same to Stackpole & Gay, under date of September 21, 1897.

Q. 178. Will you now produce the original certificate for 11 shares, issued to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, being the balance remaining of the 36 shares issued to him by certificate 466, after transferring 25 shares to Stackpole & Gay?

A. I herewith produce the original certificate No. 1203, dated September 20, 1897, to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, endorsed by him, under date of September 24, 1897, as follows: "To Stackpole & Gay, 10 shares; to myself, 1 share."

Q. 179. Will you now produce the certificate for 1 share to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, being the balance remaining out of certificate No. 1203 after transferring 10 shares to Stackpole & Gay?

A. I now produce the original certificate No. 1255, dated September 23, 1897, to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, for 1 share, and endorsed by Thomas Nelson, treasurer, assigning this 1 share to Stackpole & Gay.

Q. 180. Referring to the printed circular referred to in Int. 101, of which a copy is annexed to your deposition as Exhibit 6, I ask you whether or not the printing of that circular was paid for by the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

A. I find that it was.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: All these questions are taken subject to our general objection, are they?

399 Mr. BRANDEIS: Well, I suppose so. I do not know what the general objection is.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That they are immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant, and that the witness has no personal knowledge.

Mr. BRANDEIS: That, I think, we cannot have as a general objection.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: No, but I make that objection specifically.

Q. 181. Will you state under what date that circular was paid for?

A. October 30, 1895.

Q. 182. How is it paid for?

A. By check from the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

Q. 183. Of what amount?

A. With other items, $269.

Q. 184. To whom was that check paid?

A. Well, I suppose it was paid to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

Q. 185. That is your handwriting?

A. No, sir, that is T. C. Cummings'.

Q. 186. Who is T. C. Cummings?

A. He used to be a clerk there.

Q. 187. Where is he now?

A. At Towle & Fitzgerald's, 18 Post Office square. I suppose that was paid for by the check of the Montana Mining & Smelting Company.

Q. 188. Explain why your check was made to the Boston & Montana Mining Company; that is, how this account was kept.

A. The Boston & Montana had a general expense book, and the small sundry bills of various companies in which Mr. Bigelow was interested were paid for by petty cash and charged in this book. Then at the end of the month the various charges were itemized on a statement such as you have here, and a check given by that company to the Boston & Montana Company.

Q. 189. Now will you read the statement which you have here to which you have just referred?

A.—

400 (By Mr. LAUTERBACH:)

Q. Where is the item for this circular?

A. The item of $2.25.

Q. 190. Is this paper which you have just read in answer to Int. 189, the original voucher of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. It is.

Q. 191. Do you know in whose handwriting that voucher is?

A. I think that is Charles H. Coe's; I would not say for sure; I do not know.

Q. 192. Have you, and will you produce, also the original voucher of L. Barta & Company for printing these circulars?

A. I have, and I produce the same.

[Voucher introduced in evidence, as follows:]

"L. Barta & Co. Printers. 144 and 148 High Street.

BOSTON, MASSACHUSETTS, Oct. 1, 1895.

In account with Old Dominion Copper & Silver Mining Co.

Sept. 11, 100 ½ note circular, 5½ x 8½ 2.25

Received Payment Oct. 7, 1895.

L. BARTA & CO.,
Per COLLAMORE."

Q. 193. Have you measured the circular introduced as Exhibit 6, and attached to your deposition, and can you state—if so, please state—what the dimensions of the circular are?

A. I have not measured it, but so far as I saw you measure it, it is 5½ x 8½.

Q. 194. Well, that is the measurement, is it not?

A. Yes.

Q. 195. Will you now give a list of the certificates issued in exchange for certificate 419 in pursuance of the transfer set forth in Int. 168?

A. I herewith present such a list.

Q. 196. It appears by an examination of the stubs of the miscellaneous certificate book and of certificate book A, and of certificate book B that the stub, in referring to the certificate for which a given certificate is issued, does not distinguish, in giving the number, between the three certificate books. In what manner can you determine whether a certificate referred to on the stub of any one of these books is an original certificate taken out of the miscellaneous certificate book, or out of A, or out of B?

A. By referring to the transfer book.

Q. 197. Will you compare the stubs of those three certificate books with the transfer book, and furnish a list which shall show as follows:

First, what certificates in the miscellaneous book are issued for certificates in A book and what in B book?

Second, what certificates in A are issued for certificates from the miscellaneous book and what from book B?

Third, what certificates in book B are issued from certificates in miscellaneous book, and what from book A?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: There is no objection to the form of the interrogatory, or to the method of proof, but we object to it because it is immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. First. The following certificates in the miscellaneous book were issued for certificates appearing in A book and B book:

409 [The further taking of this deposition was postponed without date, subject to the right of defendants' counsel to cross-examine.]

[Cross-examination waived.]

CHARLES H. ALTMILLER.

Subscribed and sworn to this 2d day of January, 1905, before me.

GEORGE C. BURPEE,
Notary Public.

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET, BOSTON,
TUESDAY, July 24, 1903.

Deposition of Charles S. Altmiller Resumed.

HARLES S. ALTMILLER, having been again duly sworn by E. F. lennen, Esq., a notary public, in answer to interrogatories pro- ded by Edward F. McClennen, Esq., of counsel for plaintiff, ner deposes and says,— 198. Your name is Charles H. Altmiller?

It is.
199. You are treasurer of the Old Dominion Copper Mining melting Company?
Yes.
200. You have heretofore testified in this case, on October 11 October 18, 1904?
I have.
201. On page 19 of that testimony, in the answer to Int. 93, your attention been called to an apparent error in a footing?
It has.
202. From what source were the figures taken which you gave he answer to that interrogatory?
From the stub of the check book.
203. Have you that stub of the check book here?
I have.
204. Will you refer again to the stub of the check book, and whether the items in that answer to Int. 93 are correct?
They are.
205. Now will you compute for us what the footing should be?
There should be a gross footing of $7913.87, and a net footing 7493.87.
206. Now, Mr. Altmiller, will you refer to your answer, in testimony of October, 1904, to Int. 184, page 59? Is the ver as there given correct?
It is not.
207. What should the answer be?
Boston & Montana Consolidated Copper & Silver Mining Company.

Q. 208. That is, this check of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for this disbursement was given he Boston & Montana Consolidated Copper & Silver Mining pany, which you have just mentioned?

A. Yes, to the Montana Company.

Q. 209. How long were you connected with Mr. Bigelow's office with all the companies in which he was interested prior to April, 2?

A. About fifteen years.

Q. 210. Did you observe the method adopted by those companies which he was interested, or by him, in their organization, as to issue of treasury stock?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I did.

Q. 211. Will you describe the method pursued in the issue of treasury stock in the companies in which Mr. Bigelow was interested at the time you were in his office?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant, it being a matter concerning which there could be no habit or usage.

A. At any time when an authorization of treasury stock was made, for the total number of shares authorized a certificate was issued in the name of the treasurer for that number of shares, and from that certificate were issued to the various subscribers to the stock the number of shares they subscribed for, and at the end of each day the total number of shares so issued was deducted from the total number of shares of the treasury stock certificate, and the balance made out for that number of shares.

411 "JUNE 24, 1902.

A. S. Bigelow, Boston, Mass.,

DEAR SIR: On looking through four of the books containing the files of letters of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, which you sent us on June 13th, 1902, we were surprised to find that a number of letters were taken out of the books before you sent them to us, although we wrote you under date of June 12th, 1902:

'I must also protest against your taking from the books or the files of the Company anything that is in them. There would be nothing in those files that does not properly appertain to the Company's business, and I believe that the Company is entitled to all the information and assistance which any matter upon its files would give.'

We find that letters received sometime about the following dates have been taken out of the books:

One or more between July 17th and July 24th, 1895.
One or more between Sept. 13th and Sept. 18th, 1895.
One or more about October 5th, 1895.
One or more between Nov. 2nd and Nov. 11th, 1895.
One or more between Nov. 27th and Nov. 29th, 1895.
One about December 7th, 1895.
One or more between Dec. 27th and Dec. 28th, 1895.
One or more between Jan. 8th and Jan. 15th, 1896.
One or more about January 20th, 1896.
One or more about February 24th, 1896.
One or more between March 18th and March 25th, 1896.
One or more about April 1st, 1896.
One or more between December 11th and Dec. 16th, 1896.

We must request you to send these letters to us at once.

Yours very truly,

C. H. ALTMILLER, Treas."

Present: Messrs. Jesse Lewisohn, Allen W. Evarts, Edgar Buffum, Charles W. Welch, Sidney Riddlestorffer, William V. Rowe and William R. Montgomery, being all of the incorporators and all of the stockholders of the Company.

The meeting was called to order by Mr. Lewisohn and thereupon Mr. Evarts was elected Chairman and Mr. Buffum, Secretary.

Mr. Lewisohn presented a certified copy of the certificate of organziation of the Company and a waiver of notice of the first meeting which were read and by resolution directed to be spread upon the minutes and are as follows:

This is to certify that We, the undersigned, Jesse Lewisohn and Allen W. Evarts, of the City, County and State of New York; Edgar Buffum of Newark in the county of Essex in the State of New Jersey, Charles W. Welch of the City of Brooklyn in the State of New York, Sidney Riddlestorffer, William V. Roe and William R. Montgomery of the City, County and State of New York, do hereby associate ourselves into a company under and by virtue of the provisions of an Act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey entitled "An Act concerning corporations" approved April 7, 1875 and the several supplements thereto and acts amendatory thereof for the purposes hereinafter mentioned, and to that end we do by this our Certificate set forth:

First. That the name which we have assumed to designate such Company and to be used in its business and dealings is "Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company."

Second. That the place in the State of New Jersey where the business of such Company is to be conducted is the City of Jersey City in the County of Hudson. That the principal part of the business of such Company within said State of New Jersey is to be transacted at said Jersey City in the County of Hudson and the places out of said State where the same is to be conducted are the town of Globe and other places in the Territory of Arizona, the City of Boston in the State of Massachusetts, the City of New York, the States of Massachusetts and New York and such other States and Territories of the United States and such foreign countries
413 as shall, from time to time, be deemed necessary or convenient for any of the purposes of the Company.

That the objects for which such Company is formed are the purchase, acquisition and sale of copper and other mines and mining property and the working, operation and maintenance of the same, the holding, purchase and conveyance of real property useful or convenient for the purposes of its business either in or out of the State of New Jersey and the mortgaging or leasing thereof; the construction and maintenance of water works, reservoirs, dams and aqueducts; the erection and maintenance of works, mills, factories, shops and other structures, engaging in and carrying on the business of treating, smelting and refining copper and other ores; manufacturing, buying, selling, and dealing in copper, copper ores and other metals and ores and articles made wholly or in part of the same; issuing bonds, debentures or other obligations and securing the same by mortgage of any of the property, rights and franchises of the Company the acquisition, purchase and sale or other disposition of the stocks, bonds or other securities of other companies; and in general doing all acts and transacting all business necessary for and incident to the objects aforesaid or in any wise connected therewith.

That the portion of the business of such Company which is to be carried on out of the State of New Jersey is the owning and operation of mines and such other part of its business as may be lawful and as may, from time to time, be deemed necessary or convenient by reason of locality or other conditions or circumstances.

That the principal office and place of business of such Company out of the State of New Jersey is to be situated in the town of Globe in the County of Gila in the Territory of Arizona. That such Company proposes to carry on operations in the town of Globe and other places in the Territory of Arizona, the States of Massachusetts and

New York and in such other States and Territories of the United States and in such foreign countries as shall from time to time, be deemed necessary or convenient for any of the purposes of the Company.

Third. That the total amount of the capital stock of such Company is to be three million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars, divided into one hundred and fifty thousand shares of the par value of twenty five dollars each.

That the amount with which said Company will commence business is one thousand dollars divided into forty shares of the par value of twenty five dollars each as aforesaid.

Fourth. That the names and residences of the stockholders and the number of shares held by each are as follows, to wit:

"Filed Jul- 8, 1895.
HENRY C. KELSEY,
Secretary of State."

We, the subscribers being all the parties named in the certificate of organization of the "Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company" do hereby waive notice of the time, place and purpose of the first meeting of said Company and do fix the ninth day of July A. D. One thousand eight hundred and ninety-five at three o'clock in the afternoon as the time and the office of the New Jersey Corporations Agency at Number 243 Washington Street in Jersey City as the place of the first meeting of said Company; and we do also hereby consent that said Company may at such meeting increase its capital stock and the number of shares therein to any amount not exceeding the amount named in the original certificate of organization viz:—three million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($3,750,000.) with the same validity and effect as it might or could so increase the same at a meeting specially called for that purpose, notice of which such meeting we do hereby waive.

Jersey City, July 8th, 1895.

JESSE LEWISOHN.
ALLEN W. EVARTS.
EDGAR BUFFUM.
CHARLES W. WELCH.
SIDNEY RIDDLESTORFFER.
WM. V. ROWE.
WM. R. MONTGOMERY.

Mr. Lewisohn reported that he had received the sum of one hundred dollars in money each from Messrs. Evarts, Buffum, Welch, Riddlestorffer, Rowe and Montgomery for their subscriptions to the stock of the Company and had in hand the sum of four hundred dollars for his own subscription thereto and now held the total amount thereof viz: one thousand dollars for the use of the Company and he was thereupon by resolution duly passed requested to turn over such amount to the treasurer of the Company when 416 elected.

Mr. Evarts presented a draft of proposed By-laws of the Company which were read and adopted and directed to be spread upon the minutes and are as follows:—

I. Annual Meetings.

The annual meeting of the Company for the purpose of electing Directors, and for the transaction of such other business as may legally come before the meeting, shall be held at the office of the Company at Jersey City, in the County of Hudson, State of New Jersey, on the first Wednesday of April in each year, at twelve o'clock noon.

VI. Board of Directors.

The Directors shall be seven in number and shall be chosen by ballot at each annual meeting of the Company after the year 1895, and shall hold their offices for one year and until others are chosen and qualified in their stead. The first Board of Directors shall be chosen at the first meeting of the Company at which these By-laws are adopted, and shall hold office until their successors are chosen and qualified at the next succeeding annual meeting. At 417 every election the persons receiving the greatest number of votes shall be chosen as Directors, but each must be a stockholder of record at the time of his election. When any vacancy occurs among the Directors or officers by death, resignation, removal or otherwise it shall be filled for the remainder of the year by a majority vote of the remaining Directors. The Board of Directors shall be invested with the management, control and direction of the Company and its affairs. They shall render an account of the annual meetings of the Company showing the condition of its property and financial affairs.

VII. Officers.

The officers shall be a President, a Vice President, a Treasurer and a Secretary, who shall be chosen annually by the Directors and hold their offices until others are chosen and qualified in their stead. All of them must be Directors of the Company. The offices of Secretary and Treasurer may be held by one person. The Directors may also in their discretion appoint and fix the compensation of a General Manager or Superintendent and such other officers, agents and committees with such powers and duties respectively as they may from time to time deem proper.

VIII. Quorum of Board of Directors.

Four of the Directors shall constitute a quorum at all meetings thereof. Regular meetings of the Directors shall be held on the second Wednesdays of the months of January, April, July and October in each year. Special meetings of the Directors may be called at any time by order of the President, or on the written request of any of their number of which one day's notice in writing shall be given.

IX. President.

The President shall be the chief executive officer of the Company. He shall preside at all meetings of the Company and of the Directors. He shall sign all stock certificates and it shall be his duty to exercise a careful supervision over the business and affairs of the Company.

X. Vice President.

The Vice President shall exercise all the authority and perform all the duties of the President during his absence or incapacity.

XI. Treasurer.

The Treasurer shall be the custodian of the funds of the Company and shall deposit the same in its name in such banks or trust 418 companies as the Directors shall direct; he shall sign all checks, drafts, orders or other obligations for the payment or borrowing of money, and pay out and dispose of the same under direction of the Directors. He shall sign all certificates of stock and perform such other duties as may be prescribed by law, or as shall be from time to time required by the Directors. He shall, if required by the Board of Directors, give a bond for the faithful discharge of his duties in such amount and with such sureties as said Board may require and approve.

XII. Secretary.

The Secretary shall keep the minutes of the meetings of the Directors and of the meetings of the Company, and attend to giving and serving all notices required by law and by these By-laws; he shall affix the seal of the Company to all certificates of stock when signed by the President and Treasurer; shall have the charge and custody of all the books and papers of the Company, subject to the supervision of the Directors, and to the inspection thereof by them at all reasonable times. He shall perform all other duties incident to his office and such as are required by law or as may from time to time be directed by the Directors. He shall be sworn to the faithful discharge of his duties as required by statute.

XIII. Acting Officers.

In the event of the absence or incapacity for any cause, of both the President and Vice President or of the Treasurer or Secretary respectively, the Board of Directors may appoint an acting President, Treasurer or Secretary who shall have and exercise all the powers of such officers respectively during their absence or incapacity.

XIV. Certificates of Stock.

Each holder of stock shall be entitled to a certificate under the seal of the Company signed by the President and by the Treasurer stating the capital stock of the Company, the number of shares into which it is divided, the par value of each share, the number of shares to which such holder is entitled, and the manner in which said certificate is transferable. All certificates shall be issued in order from certificate books and duly numbered and registered in the order of their issue opposite each certificate in the margin of said books; it shall be the duty of the Treasurer to enter the name and address of the owner thereof, and in case of the transfer or cancellation of such certificate, the date of such transfer or cancellation in said margin; and at the time of issue of any certificate it shall be receipted for on said margin by the owner thereof or by his duly authorized agent.

The Mining Claim called and known as the Hypatia Mine, situate, lying and being in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Territory of Arizona, and more particularly described in the notice of location recorded at page sixty-six (66) Book 2, Records of Mines, Gila County Records, to which record reference is made for a more definite description of said Mine; said Mine was formerly known as the South-west Alice Mine, being the same mining claim conveyed to said Michael H. Simpson, lately deceased, by deed of William H. Cook, dated November 18th, 1884, and recorded with Gila County Deeds, Book 2, page 305.

Whereupon Mr. Lewisohn moved and Mr. Evarts seconded the adoption of the following resolutions:

426 Whereas the Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City has made and submitted a proposition to convey all of its property to this Company which has just been presented and read; and

Whereas it is reported and appears that such property is reasonably and fairly worth the par value of the stock proposed to be paid and issued and received therefor.

Resolved; that said proposition be and the same is hereby accepted and that this Company do purchase and acquire all said property upon the terms contained in said proposition and in payment therefor issue one hundred thousand shares of its capital stock to said The Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City or to its nominees, all such stock to be full paid and not subject to assessment; and

Resolved that Messrs. Bigelow and Nelson be appointed a Committee to supervise and carry out the details of such purchase and issue of stock, which were thereupon duly adopted.

Mr. Lewisohn presented and read a written proposition as follows:

To the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company:

I hereby offer to convey the following described property now owned and held by me upon receiving thirty thousand shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company to be issued to me or to my nominees:

1st. The Old Dominion Mine entered by the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company on the 17th day of December 1883 in the United States Land Office at Tucson, Arizona, Entry No. 267, Lot No. 15, situated in Globe Mining District, Gila County, Arizona.

New York, July 11th, 1895.

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

Please issue said 30,000 shares of stock to Mr. A. S. Bigelow & myself.

LEONARD LEWISOHN.

Whereupon Mr. Evarts moved and Mr. Buffum seconded the adoption of the following resolutions:

Whereas Mr. Leonard Lewisohn of the City of New York has made and submitted a proposition to convey certain mining properties in Arizona to this Company which has just been presented and read: and

Whereas it is reported and appears that such properties are reasonably and fairly worth the par value of the stock proposed to be paid and issued and received therefor:

Resolved that said proposition be and the same is hereby accepted and that this Company do purchase and acquire said properties upon the terms contained in said proposition and in payment therefor issue thirty thousand shares of its capital stock to said Leonard Lewisohn or to his nominees all such stock to be full paid and not subject to assessment: and

Resolved that Messrs. Bigelow and Nelson be appointed a Committee to supervise and carry out the details of such purchase and issue of stock, which were thereupon duly adopted.

The following resolution was thereupon on motion duly adopted.

Resolved that Niles S. Berray of Globe, Gila County, in the Territory of Arizona, be and he is hereby appointed the Agent of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company in and for said Territory, upon whom all notices and processes, including service of summons, may be served, which when so served may be deemed taken and held to be a lawful personal service on said Company for all purposes whatsoever.

And the President and Secretary were requested to attend to the proper filing of a copy thereof in the office of the Recorder of Gila County, Arizona.

The Secretary reported that he had caused the statement of officers, directors, etc., required by law to be filed in the office 428 of the Secretary of State of New Jersey on the 10th instant and had received an official certificate to that effect and that he had caused to be filed in said office on the same day a certificate as to issue of additional stock.

The resignation in writing of Mr. Buffum as Secretary was presented and read and on motion duly accepted to take effect at close of meeting and Mr. Thomas Nelson was duly elected as Secretary in his place.

The President makes the following statement:—

"Arrangements have been made for the purchase of a large group of mining claims located near Globe, and known as the Continental Group, containing thirteen claims.

"This group contains, already developed, quite large sized ore bodies of copper sulphides, which is the character of ore that has been anxiously sought for in the mines of this Company, not so much for the copper values contained as for the fluxing qualities which will render more economical the treatment of the Old Dominion Ores, and make possible a closer saving of the copper values.

"In order to properly develop these claims, it will be necessary to build about seven miles of railroad, and also to erect a concentrating and converting plant later on. This will call for a large amount of money; and at a meeting of the Directors held May 10, 1899, it was voted to call a special meeting of the stockholders for June 15, 1899, to authorize the increase of the capital stock of the Company to 200,000 shares, by issuing 50,000 new shares, a portion of which, if authorized, are to be offered to the stockholders at par.

"The railroad from Bowie to the Mines at Globe is completed, and the new furnaces are now running smoothly, so that the Company from this time forward should make a handsome profit on its operations. With the new stock authorized, there will be no further need of accumulating these profits towards the creation of a surplus fund to cover future improvements."

"Whereas, it is considered by the Board advisable for the purposes of this Company to purchase a group of mining claims located near Globe known as the Continental Group: and 440 Whereas, for the purchase of such group, developing the same and other necessary expenses, a large amount of money will be needed.

Voted: That is is advisable for the purposes connected with such purchase that the Capital Stock of this Company be increased from one hundred and fifty thousand shares of twenty-five dollars each to two hundred thousand shares, and

Voted: That a special meeting of the stockholders be called for the fifteenth day of June, 1899, at the office of the Company, 243

Washington Street, Jersey City, New Jersey, at 11 o'clock in forenoon, to consider and act upon the question of making suc increase of the capital stock from one hundred and fifty to two dred thousand shares, and that notice be sent to all stockho signed by the President for the Directors.

Upon motion of Mr. Lewisohn, seconded by Mr. Ray, it was Voted: That the Secretary be and is hereby instructed to the President's statement sent to the stockholders in the form circular, accompanied by a notice for a Special Meeting.

Upon motion, duly seconded, it was Voted: To adjourn.

In all 107,348 shares out of a total of 150,000 shares, the total capitalization of the Company.

The meeting was organized by unanimously choosing Mr. F. M. Stone as Chairman and Mr. P. K. Dumaresq as Secretary.

Mr. King presented to the meeting the affidavit of Mr. Edmund Grinnell showing that according to law in such case made and provided, he had himself served the notice of said meeting by depositing in the Post Office in the city of Boston, Massachusetts, with the legal postage prepaid, on May 12, 1899, at least ten (10) days before June 15, 1899, the date fixed for holding such meeting, a written or printed copy of said notice, addressed to each stockholder of record appearing on the books of the Company at the address given in such books, specifying the objects of the meeting, the vote of the Board of Directors, the time and place, when and where such meeting would be held, and the amount to which it would be proposed to increase the capital stock of the Company; and he presented to the meeting a copy of the notice that had been so sent to each stockholder.

On motion of Mr. King, duly seconded by Mr. Sheehan, it was Voted:—That a copy of said notice together with a copy of said affidavit be spread upon the minutes of this meeting, which are as follows:

"ROOM 303, SEARS BUILDING,
BOSTON, June 13, 1899.

Edmund Grinnell being duly sworn deposes and says:

That he is Clerk of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company of New Jersey, and that by order of the Board of Directors of said Company, he served the notice of the special meeting of the stockholders of said Company, called for June 15, 1899, of which the annexed is a true copy, upon all the stockholders of said Company in accordance with the law in such case made and provided, at least Ten (10) days before the date of the meeting, to wit: on May 12th, 1899.

That he served said notice himself by depositing on May 12th, 1899, in the Post Office in the City of Boston, Mass., with the legal postage prepaid thereon, a copy of said notice addressed to each stockholder of record to his, her or their Post Office address, as appeared on the books of said Company at the close of business on said May 12th, 1899.

EDMUND GRINNELL.

COMMONWEALTH OF MASSACHUSETTS,
County of Suffolk, ss:

On this 13th day of June, A. D. 1899, before me, the subscriber, a Commissioner for the State of New Jersey, resident in Massachusetts, personally appeared Edmund Grinnell, known to me to be the person who signed the foregoing affidavit and made oath that the above affidavit signed by him is true.

In testimony whereof I hereunto set my hand and affix my official seal.

[COMMISSIONER'S SEAL.] CLARENCE H. BISSELL,
Commissioner for the State of New Jersey."

"To the Stockholders of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company:

Notice is hereby given that a special meeting of the stockholders of this Company will be held on Thursday, June 15, 1899, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon at the office of the Company, 243 Washington Street, Jersey City, New Jersey, to consider and act upon the question of increasing the capital stock of the corporation pursuant to the following vote of the Board of Directors passed at their meeting on May 10, 1899, to wit:

'Whereas, it is considered by the Board advisable for the purposes of this Company to purchase a group of mining claims located near Globe, known as the Continental Group; and

'Whereas, for the purchase of such group, developing the same and other necessary expenses, a large amount of money will be needed,

'Voted:—That it is advisable for the purposes connected with such purchase that the capital stock of this Company be increased 451 from One hundred and fifty thousand shares of Twenty-five dollars each to two hundred thousand shares, and

'Voted:—That a special meeting of the stockholders be called for the fifteenth day of June, 1899, at the office of the Company, 243 Washington Street, Jersey City, New Jersey, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, to consider and act upon the question of making such an increase of the capital stock from One hundred and fifty thousand to Two hundred thousand shares, and that notice be sent to all stockholders signed by the President for the Directors.'

The stock books of the Company for the transfer of stock will be closed from May 20, 1899, to June 15, 1899, both days inclusive.

By order of the board of directors:

A. S. BIGELOW,
President."

Boston, Mass., May 10, 1899.

Mr. Sheehan then read the circular issued from the office of this Company signed by order of the Board of Directors with reference to the proposed plan for the increase of the capital stock of the Company from One hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) shares of Twenty-five ($25.) each to Two hundred thousand (200,000) shares of Twenty-five Dollars ($25.) each.

On motion of Mr. King, duly seconded by Mr. Sheehan, it was Voted:—That a copy of said circular be spread upon the records of the meeting. Said copy is as follows:

"Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company.

Circular to Stockholders.

Arrangements have been made for the purchase of a large group of mining claims located near Globe, and known as the Continental Group, containing thirteen claims.

This group contains, already developed, quite large sized ore bodies of copper sulphides, which is the character of ore that has been anxiously sought for in the mines of this Company, not so much for the copper values contained as for fluxing qualities which will render more economical the treatment of the Old Dominion ores, and make possible a closer saving of the copper values.

In order to properly develop these claims, it will be necessary to build about seven miles of railroad, and also to erect a con-
452 centrating and converting plant later on. This will call for a large amount of money; and at a meeting of the Directors, held May 10, 1899, it was voted to call a special meeting of the stockholders for June 15, 1899, to authorize the increase of the capital stock of the Company to 200,000 shares, by issuing 50,000 new shares, a portion of which, if authorized, are to be offered to the stockholders at par.

The railroad from Bowie to the mines at Globe is completed, and the new furnaces are now running smoothly, so that the Company from this time forward should make a handsome profit on its operations. With the new stock authorized, there will be no further need of accumulating these profits towards the creation of a surplus fund to cover future improvements.

By order of the board of directors.

A. S. BIGELOW,
President."

On motion of Mr. King, duly seconded by Mr. Sheehan, the following votes were passed by a stock-vote, 107,348 shares voting in favor and no shares voting against the same, out of One hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) shares, the total stock of the Company, to wit:

In accordance with the vote of the Board of Directors passed at their meeting held May 10, 1899.

Voted:—That the Company does hereby increase its capital stock from One hundred and fifty thousand (150,000) shares of Twenty-five dollars ($25.) each, to Two hundred thousand (200,000) shares of Twenty-five dollars ($25.) each, that is from the present capitalization of Three million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars ($3,750,000) to a capitalization of Five million dollars ($5,000,000.) said additional Fifty thousand (50,000) shares to be disposed of by the Board of Directors.

Voted:—That the President and Secretary are hereby authorized and directed to execute and file for record any and all certificates required by the laws of the State of New Jersey with reference to the increase of the capital stock of the Company as voted at this meeting, and to take any other steps that may be necessary to make the action of this meeting effectual.

Whereupon it was declared that the said votes were passed by more than two-thirds (2/3) of the entire capital stock of this Company according to the law in such case made and provided.

On motion of Mr. King, duly seconded by Mr. Sheehan, it was 453 Voted:—That all acts, matters and things which have been entered into or performed by the Board of Directors are hereby approved, ratified and confirmed.

No other business coming before the meeting, the meeting was then dissolved.

P. K. DUMARESQ,
Secretary of the Meeting.

BOSTON, MASS., February 13, 1900.

A meeting of the Directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company was held this day at Room 301 Sears Building, No. 199 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., at eleven ten o'clock a. m.

Present: Messrs. A. S. Bigelow, W. J. Ladd, J. S. Bigelow and E. V. R. Thayer.

The President called the meeting to order and at his request the Secretary read the record of the last Directors' Meeting, which was upon motion duly seconded — approved.

The President presented an assignment by Lewisohn Bros. to the United Metals Selling Company, transferring all existing contracts between this Company and Lewisohn Bros., for the sale of copper and other metals, also an assent by this Company to said assignment.

Whereupon, on motion of Mr. Thayer, seconded by Mr. J. S. Bigelow, it was Voted: That the President and Secretary of this Company be and they are hereby authorized and instructed to sign such papers as may be necessary to transfer to the United Metals Selling Company said contracts now existing between this Company and said Lewisohn Bros.

On motion of Mr. Thayer, duly seconded by Mr. J. S. Bigelow, the following was unanimously adopted as an amendment to the By-laws of this Company, to go into effect immediately, to wit:

"Dividends shall be declared and paid as voted by the Board of Directors."

The President then presented a Bond of Indemnity for $140 from Eva Kildreth Foster of Boston, Mass.; also affidavit in regard to the loss of certificate No. 2857, for one share of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company standing in her name; also letter from Mr. William A. Tucker, of Tucker,

Anthony and Company, Boston, Mass., in relation to the financial standing of the sureties upon said Bond; whereupon, on motion of Mr. Thayer, seconded by Mr. J. S. Bigelow, it was unanimously 454 Voted: That the proper officers of this Company be and they are hereby authorized to issue a duplicate certificate to said Eva Kildreth Foster for said stock.

No other business coming before the meeting, upon motion of Mr. Bigelow, seconded by Mr. Thayer, it was Voted: To adjourn.

Attest:

W. J. LADD,
Secretary.

BOSTON, MASS., March 2, 1901.

"Notice of Annual Meeting of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company.

The Annual Meeting of the stockholders of this Company will be held on the second day of April, 1902, at 12 o'clock noon, at the office of the Company, Hudson County National Bank Building, Nos. 243 and 245 Washington Street, Jersey City, New Jersey (office of New Jersey Corporations' Agency) for the purpose of electing a Board of Directors and receiving and acting upon the reports of the officers, and for the transaction of such other business as may lawfully come before the meeting.

In accordance with the laws of the State of New Jersey, no stock can be voted on which has been transferred on the books of the Company, within twenty days next preceding this election.

The transfer books will be closed from March 13, 1902, to April 2, 1902, both days inclusive.

Dated Boston, Mass., March 5, 1902.

W. J. LADD, Secretary."

No other business coming before the meeting, upon motion duly seconded, it was,

Voted:—To Adjourn.

Attest:

W. J. LADD, Secretary.

BOSTON, MASS., March 25, 1902.

A called meeting of the Directors of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company was held this day at Room 301 Sears Building, No. 199 Washington Street, Boston, Mass., at ten thirty o'clock a. m.

Present: Messrs. E. V. R. Thayer, W. J. Ladd, J. S. Bigelow, Edgar Buffum, and C. H. Bissell.

In the absence of the President, the Vice-President called the meeting to order, and at his request the Secretary read the record of the last Directors' meeting, which was approved.

462 Upon motion duly seconded, it was unanimously

Voted: That Article V of the By-laws is hereby amended to read as follows:

"At all meetings of the stockholders a majority in interest represented in person or by proxy shall constitute a quorum. The President, Vice-President, Treasurer, or in their absence any person named in writing by either of them shall call the meeting to order, and before any business is transacted shall appoint two or more inspectors of election who shall ascertain the amount of stock represented at the meeting in person or by proxy and their report shall be at once presented to the meeting. If a quorum is present, nominations for permanent Chairman and Secretary shall then be made and the temporary chairman shall present the various names to the meeting and call for a stock vote, and shall declare elected persons having a majority of the votes present.

"All meetings at which a quorum is present may be adjourned from time to time by a stock vote without further notice."

No other business coming before the meeting, upon motion duly seconded, it was Voted: To adjourn.

Attest:

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

471 OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET.
BOSTON, July 19, 1905.

Deposition of William Howard Reed.

WILLIAM HOWARD REED, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by E. F. McClennen, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. What is your full name?
A. William Howard Reed.
Q. 2. And you reside where?
A. Brookline, Mass.
Q. 3. You are in business in Boston, Mass.?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 4. In 1885 what was your business, Mr. Reed?
A. Wool broker.
Q. 5. I show you a paper marked "Exhibit 6," of March 24, 1903, of the deposition of Mr. Bigelow in this case——

A. Excuse me, is the date 1903?

Q. 6. No; being an undated paper in 1895. I call your attention to the words, "W. H. Reed, $5,000;" is that in your handwriting?

A. Wool broker?

Q. 7. Have you any recollection of when you signed that paper?

A. No, sir.

Q. 8. Have you any recollection of where you signed that paper?

A. No, sir.

Q. 9. I now show you a paper marked "Exhibit 10, March 27, 1903," of the deposition of Mr. Bigelow, being a paper dated July 18, 1895, and call your attention to the words and figures, "William H. Reed, 400:" is that signed by you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. Have you any recollection of when and where you signed that?

A. No, sir.

Q. 11. Will you refer to your check stubs and inform us whether, in the summer of 1895, you gave any checks to Albert S. Bigelow?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant. This line of testimony is objected to as though the objection was repeated to each question, the objection being in the same general form.

A. Yes, sir; May 27, payment of $700.

Q. 12. That was by a check to whose order?

A. On my stub, "A. S. Bigelow."

Q. 13. And for what was that payment made?

A. I have on my stub, "First payment on subscription of Old Dominion Syndicate, $700."

Q. 14. Now what is the next?

A. June 19, 1895, "Second assessment on Dominion, $1437.91."

Q. 15. That check was made payable also to the same or-472 der?

A. Presumably; that is the way it is on the stub.

Q. 16. Now the next payment?

A. The next payment, July 16, 1895, "A. S. Bigelow, for balance of subscription on Dominion Copper, $2886.58. This is the total subscription of $5,000 with interest added at 5% from May 28 to July 17." I presume on the balance, but that I don't know.

Q. 17. For convenience, that makes what total by the three checks?

A. That makes the total by the three checks, $5024.49.

Q. 18. Did you during 1895 give to Mr. Nelson any check?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 19. And when was that, and for what amount, and how was it drawn?

Mr. HEMENWAY: This is also objected to for the same reason as stated.

A. "September 19, 1895. Thomas Nelson, Treasurer, subscription for 200 shares O. D. copper, $5,000."

Q. 20. It appears, Mr. Reed, from the Exhibits 25 and 26 of the deposition of Mr. Hyams, that there was issued to you in September 200 shares, and 400 shares additional, on certificates therefor, of the stock of this company; have you any recollection about the receipt of those?

A. No, sir.

Q. 21. You mean you have no recollection one way or the other about them?

A. No, sir.

Q. 22. Prior to making your first subscription on this Exhibit 6, which we have referred to, had you had any conversation with any one with reference to subscribing?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. I presume that I had.

Q. 23. Do you mean by that that you have no definite recollection of that conversation?

A. No, sir.

Q. 24. Do you remember whether it was stated to you by any one what the terms were by which you were subscribing?

A. No, sir.

Q. 25. Do you remember, as a matter of fact, how many shares of stock you received for your $5000 subscription; that is, your first subscription on Exhibit 6?

A. No, sir.

Q. 26. Did you at any time have any conversation with Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn relative to the company or the syndicate?

A. No, sir.

Q. 27. Were you informed by them, or either of them, at any time, that they had taken, or intended to take, any profits for the promotion of this company, or in any other way?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as leading and immaterial and incompetent?

473 A. No, sir.

Q. 28. Did you at any time in 1895 receive from any source any information relating to the question of any profit in connection with the promotion of this corporation?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. Not to my recollection.

Q. 29. Putting it specifically, do you recollect of having heard from any source in 1895 that Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn, or any one connected with them, had taken, or intended to take, 50,000 shares of the stock of the company as a profit, or for their services?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.

A. No, sir.

Q. 30. Do you recall having heard anything relating to the general subject matter to which my last question refers?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. No, sir.

Q. 31. Have you at any time been informed of the fact that any profit was taken by the promoters of the corporation?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. No, sir. How do you mean in regard to that; simply newspaper talk?

Q. 32. Well, I mean anything that has come to your attention recently.

A. Directly?

Q. 33. Yes.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. No, sir; except through a newspaper.

Q. 34. Do you recall when that was?

A. The newspaper?

Q. 35. Yes.

A. No, sir; I do not.

Q. 36. Well, could you fix at all the time; whether it is recently or not?

A. No; I saw an account,—I think it was a decision of the court in a newspaper.

Q. 37. That is, a decision in this very case?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 38. That was some time during the current year?

A. Yes, I should say so.

Q. 39. And that, I understand you, was the first intimation you had of this?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: That is all.

[Counsel for the defendant reserves the right of cross-examination, and will notify counsel for the plaintiff within a week whether 474 they desire such cross-examination.]

[Counsel for the plaintiff agrees to this, but does not stipulate to produce the witness, and the deposition shall be considered as closed if he is not produced.]

WILLIAM HOWARD REED.

Subscribed and sworn to before me this 12th day of September, 1905.

GEORGE C. BURPEE,
Notary Public.

Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET,
BOSTON, July 19, 1905.

Deposition of Samuel N. Brown.

SAMUEL N. BROWN, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, q., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, unsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. Your full name, Mr. Brown?
A. Samuel N. Brown.
Q. 2. And you reside in Boston?
A. Yes.
Q. 3. And your occupation?
A. Merchant and manufacturer.
Q. 4. What is your business?
A. Scale business.
Q. 5. Fairbanks Scale Company?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 6. And was that your business in 1895?
A. Always has been.
Q. 7. How many years?
A. Sixty-two.
Q. 8. I call your attention to the paper marked "Exhibit 3," of arch 24, 1903, put in evidence in connection with the deposition Albert S. Bigelow in this cause, and ask you whether the "Samuel Brown, $10,000," which appears on that paper is in your hand-iting?
A. It is.
Q. 9. Can you recall when your signature was put to that paper?
A. No.
Q. 10. Or where you signed it?
A. No.
Q. 11. Do you recall whether or not prior to the signing of your name to that paper you had any conversation with y one in regard to the Old Dominion Syndicate or the proposed ganization of the Old Dominion Mining Company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. I will answer as nearly as I can remember. Mr. Bigelow came me and asked me if I would like to join in a new copper company, d I presume this was the name of it at that time,—the Old Dominion Copper Company, whatever it may be, and I said "Yes," and finally settled with him upon agreeing to take $10,000 of the interest in it.
Q. 12. Now have you stated all that you remember of that conversation with Mr. Bigelow?
A. Yes, except that I have an impression that he said that most of eir business heretofore in copper had been in Montana, and he was clined to go into this Old Dominion region on account of being a little different sort of ore; but that is a very indefinite recollection. That is all I remember about it.

Q. 13. Do you recall whether anything was said in that interview by Mr. Bigelow as to whether or not he, or he and Mr. Lewisohn, were to have any compensation, or to take any special part of the stock for their services in promoting the enterprise?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to.

A. I don't think anything was ever said about it at all; I have no recollection whatever of anything of that sort.

Q. 14. Did you have any conversation with Mr. Bigelow about that time, shortly after the signing?

A. Not that I recollect of.

Q. 15. Now you subsequently paid your contribution of $10,000?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 16. Can you give us the dates?

A.—

May 27, 1895	$1,400.00
June 19, 1895	2,875.83
July 15, 1895	5,772.35
Making in all	$10,048.18

The $48.18, I take it, included interest; I probably had deferred payments.

Q. 17. Did you subsequently receive certificates of stock representing your interest in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. Have you anything to show when you received those certificates?

A. I don't recollect them at all.

Q. 19. Can't you recall whether or not at any time you heard anything from Mr. Bigelow or from Mr. Lewisohn in regard to 476 their taking a part of the stock of that company as compensation for their services for promoting it?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. No.

Q. 20. Can you recollect whether at any time you heard, whether from them or any one else, that they had taken such stock?

A. No, except as I have seen it in the papers of late.

Q. 21. What do you mean "of late;" within what period?

A. Since the matter was talked about.

Q. 22. That is, since this suit was in litigation?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. Since the suit was begun?

A. I presume it was since then; it was quite lately, in the papers,—only as I have seen it in the newspapers.

Q. 24. And that is within the last year or two?

A. I should say so.

Q. 25. Are you able to state to whom these checks were paid?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. No, I cannot say now.

Q. 26. That is, you have no memoranda here that would enable you to tell?

A. No, I don't think the checks are in existence, but I am not sure; I don't know where to find them.

Q. 27. From what source have you taken this memorandum which you have here?

A. My memorandum book.

Q. 28. Of that date?

A. At the time that those were made.

Q. 29. Is that memorandum book here?

A. Yes. That first one, $1400, is there.

[Witness shows counsel memorandum book.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: Counsel objects to the admission of the memorandum book as being incompetent and irrelevant testimony, to be used as refreshing the witness' memory.

Q. 30. I call your attention——

A. Do you want to see the check stubs?

Q. 31. Yes.

A. The first one, I think, was on the Merchants Bank, and I cannot find that, but this second one is here.

Q. 32. Will you read what appears on the stubs of the check book?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. "June 19, 1895. $2875.83." The check book says, "A. S. Bigelow for Old Dominion Copper Co."

Q. 33. Are you able to say from that stub to whom the check was made payable?

A. Not absolutely, but I should think, from the writing of it, it was A. S. Bigelow—made to A. S. Bigelow; but I am not sure about it.

477 Q. 34. I call your attention now to Exhibit No. 10, dated March 27, 1903, introduced in evidence in connection with the deposition of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, and will ask you whether the following on that paper, "S. N. Brown, 400," is in your handwriting?

A. No, it is not.

Q. 35. Do you know in whose handwriting it is?

A. I do not.

Q. 36. Do you remember whether or not you made any subscription to the Old Dominion enterprise other than the $10,000 which you have testified to?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. No; have no recollection of any.

Q. 37. Do you remember whether or not you took all of the shares that you had a right to take under that subscription?

A. I find on that memoranda 800 shares; and as I have sold 600 and have 200 left, that verifies it.

Q. 38. I will call your attention, Mr. Brown, to a letter of August 19, 1895, from you to Mr. Bigelow, which appears on page 106 of the testimony of Mr. Bigelow in this cause, and a reply to that letter under the date of August 21, and your reply to Mr. Bigelow under date of August 21, 1895, and ask you whether or not those letters were written by you?

A. Yes.

Mr. BRANDEIS: That is all.

Cross-examination.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

X 39. Let me see that memorandum book from which you have testified.

A. [Witness handing book to Mr. Hemenway] I have turned the page down there in three places.

[Mr. Hemenway examines the memorandum book presented by Mr. Brown.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is all.

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,

BOSTON, July 19, 1895.

Deposition of Richard Fairfax Bolles.

RICHARD FAIRFAX BOLLES, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. Your age, residence, and occupation?

A. Forty-nine; stockbroker; my legal residence is Cohasset.

Q. 2. And your business is in Boston?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 3. I show you the paper marked "Exhibit 6," introduced in evidence as an exhibit, dated March 4, 1903, in connection with the testimony of Albert S. Bigelow, in this cause, and call your attention to the signature "Richard F. Bolles, $6,000," and ask you whether that is your signature?

A. It is.

Q. 4. Are you able to state when you signed that paper?

A. No; I cannot.

Q. 5. Are you able to state where you signed it?

A. No.

Q. 6. Can you state whether or not previously, or about the time of signing the paper, you had any conversation with Albert S. Bigelow?

A. No.

Q. 7. Can you state whether or not you had any conversation at or about that time with Leonard Lewisohn?

A. Never.

Q. 8. Do you mean by that that you do not recall having any conversation with Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn, or that you know that you did not?

A. I think I never saw Mr. Lewisohn but once in my life, and that had nothing whatever to do with any business; I merely happened to meet him.

Q. 9. You were acquainted with Mr. Bigelow?

A. Yes.

Q. 10. And had been long previously to signing that paper?

A. Yes.

Q. 11. Had you any conversation with Mr. Bigelow with relation to your subscription?

A. Not that I recollect.

Q. 12. Did you make the payment called for by the paper?

A. I did; that is, I presume I did; I cannot show you the stub.

Q. 13. Did you receive the certificates of stock?

A. Yes, I think I did.

Q. 14. Can you recall whether, at or about the time that you received the certificates of stock under this subscription, you had information from any source that Lewisohn and Bigelow were to take any part of the stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company as compensation for their services?

479 Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetnet, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I never heard of it.

Q. 15. You say you never heard of it?

A. No, not on or about that time.

Q. 16. Do you mean that you did hear of it subsequently?

A. Afterwards; some time afterwards.

Q. 17. Some time after you had paid your money and received your certificates?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 18. How long after?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. No; I cannot tell how long.

Q. 19. Do you recall whether or not your subscription was put upon that paper at the invitation of any person?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. I think Matthew Luce called my attention to it.
Q. 20. Mr. Luce died some years ago?
A. Yes, sir, three years ago.
Q. 21. Do you recall what Mr. Luce said in regard to the matter?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.

A. No, I cannot tell exactly, except the company was to be gotten up, and I was invited to subscribe.
Q. 22. What company was to be gotten up?
A. The Old Dominion Mining Company, or the mine was to be purchased that I was invited to underwrite.
Q. 23. Whether anything was said about forming a corporation to take over the mine?
A. I don't remember about that.
Q. 24. Do you recall whether or not, at the time that you made your subscription, you were told that the mine was to be purchased?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. I don't know.
Q. 25. Are you able to fix the date of your first payment?
A. No.
Q. 26. Would you be able to give us that from books and furnish it to the stenographer later?
A. I might possibly have my check stub, and if you could give me the dates I could look that up and see. That is all I can say about that. If you will give me the dates I will see if I have check stubs, and that is all could give you. I have no ledger account.

Mr. BRANDEIS: We will furnish you with the probable dates, and if you will look that up, and you can furnish it later to the stenographer.

480 Cross-examination.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

X 27. Do you remember, Mr. Bolles, just how many shares of stock you got for this subscription to the Old Dominion Syndicate?
A. What do you mean?
X 28. How many shares of stock did you get?
A. I could not tell that from memory; I suppose I received what I subscribed for.
X 29. You have no memory whatever about it, as a matter of fact?
A. No. I don't quite understand your question, Mr. Hemenway.
X. 30. It appears by your subscription here that it was $6000, and it says, in the heading, "We, the undersigned, propose to form a syndicate to be called the Old Dominion syndicate, and we hereby agree to pay A. S. Bigelow the sums set against our respective names." Now you paid that sum of $6,000?

A. Yes.

X 31. Now the question I asked is, eventually how many shares of stock in a corporation subsequently formed did you receive for your $6000?

A. Exactly what I subscribed for, $6000, I presume.

X 32. That doesn't answer the question. You simply subscribed $6000 to the syndicate, but it does not state here what you were to get for the $6000.

A. I could not tell, except that I received the par of my subscription in stock.

X 33. Did you not receive double your par?

A. I underwrote so much; I understand I underwrote $6000, and there was a commission.

X 34. Here is where you wrote your signature and $6000. Now what I want to know is what you received for your $6000. If you can determine from any memoranda you have,—and as you are going to look up to see when you paid your $6000 by check, you might at the same time look that up.

A. I will look and see, certainly.

Redirect examination.

(By Mr. BRANDIES:)

Q. 35. I call your attention, Mr. Bolles, to another paper, introduced as Exhibit 10, dated July 18, 1895, and to the name, "Richard F. Bolles, 500 shares," on that paper: is that in your handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 36. I show you herewith a certificate, No. 203, for 480 shares, to Richard F. Bolles, and appearing to be endorsed by Richard F. Bolles under date of September 28, 1895, and ask you whether that is your signature?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 37. Do you recall whether or not that certificate of 480 shares is the certificate representing the amount of stock received by you on your subscription paper, first named, of $6000?

A. I should say it was.

481 Q. 38. The subscription stock being issued to you at the rate of $12.50 a share?

A. Yes, I should say it was; that is what it should be.

[On July 20, 1905, Mr. Bolles was recalled, and in reply to interrogatories by Mr. McClennen further deposed and said:]

Q. 39. Since the early part of your testimony have you looked over your check stubs?

A. I have.

Q. 40. From them will you tell me the dates, and the amounts of payments which you made in connection with the Old Dominion Syndicate, and in connection with your subscription to the Old Dominion stock?

A. On the 28th day of May, 1895, I paid $840; on the 18th day of June I paid $1725. The first one is a Metropolitan Bank check, and this, the second one, is a National Bank of the Republic check. On August 22, 1895, I paid $3481.57. There was one more payment: in September, on the 20th of September, 1895, I paid $6500.

Q. 41. That makes a total, apparently, of $12,547.07?

A. Well, I have not added it.

Q. 42. Your subscription to the syndicate paper was $6000?

A. $6000.

Q. 43. Your subscription to the paper of July 18 was 500 shares?

A. Five hundred shares at $25 a share.

Q. 44. You received in all, including what you said in your first testimony, a certificate of the company which I now show you, No. 203, for 480 shares in your name?

A. Yes.

Q. 45. And certificate No. 90 for 260 shares in your name?

A. Yes.

Q. 46. And those two cretificates are endorsed by you?

A. That is my signature.

Cross-examination de bene:

[In answer to cross-interrogatories put de bene by Mr. Hemenway, of counsel for the defendants, the witness further deposes and says:]

X 47. The first payment of $840 was made to A. S. Bigelow by a check payable to A. S. Bigelow?

A. Yes.

X 48. The second payment of $1725.50 was made June 18, 1895, to A. S. Bigelow?

A. Yes.

X 49. The third payment of $3481.57 was by check made payable to A. S. Bigelow?

A. Yes, on August 22, 1895.

482 X 50. And the payment of $6500 on September 20, 1895, was also made payable to A. S. Bigelow?

A. Yes.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is all.

BOSTON, July 19, 1905.

Deposition of Charles R. Batt.

CHARLES R. BATT, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. Your full name?
A. Charles R. Batt.
Q. 2. You are president of the National Security Bank of Boston?
A. I am.
Q. 3. And were president of that bank in 1895, were you?
A. No,—cashier.
Q. 4. Were you a subscriber to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I should not be able to answer that I was or was not from my memory.
Q. 5. Are you able to testify from any memoranda which you have?
A. Well, I did have some stock, I find, and I did pay some money.
Q. 6. To whom did you pay money?
A. I cannot tell.
Q. 7. Are you able to state when you paid money?
A. I cannot find even when I paid the whole of it, but I think I paid some in June, and some July 19.
Q. 8. I show you herewith certificates numbered 78 and 79, each for 50 shares in the name of Charles R. Batt, and certificate No. 152 for 100 shares in the name of Charles R. Batt, all these certificates being dated Septemebr 27, 1895, and ask you whether the signatures on those certificates are in your handwriting?
A. They are: that is my name, and my writing.
483 Q. 9. I call your attention to Exhibit No. 5, introduced as evidence in this cause, under date of March 24, 1903, as a part of the testimony of A. S. Bigelow, and call your attention to the name on that of "C. R. Batt, by H. H. S., $2500," and ask you in whose handwriting that is?
A. I could not swear to it, I could only guess. I have no doubt about it; I should say Horace H. Stevens wrote it for all these names that are given. H. H. S. stands for Horace H. Stevens, and the nearest I can guess is that Horace H. Stevens suggested that I should do something or other, which I did.
Q. 10. That is, you mean by "doing something or other," making an investment in this syndicate?
A. That is right, whatever it may be.
Q. 11. And these 200 shares of stock which appear in your name under date of September 27, 1895, was stock received by you in pursuance of that subscription?

A. It might or might not have been. I have no reason to doubt it. You might show me somewhere that I bought some stock, but I don't know.

Q. 12. You do know you made some payments in June and July preceding the September when you got the certificates?

A. I do.

Q. 13. What payments do you find you made?

A. I see a payment of $368.94.

Q. 14. What is the date of that?

A. That, I think, is June 24, and July 19, $1443.68. In running my eye over it I do not find anything else. Of course I know I paid for anything I had, but that makes only about $1800.

Q. 15. The balance of the $2500 you do not find any memorandum of?

A. No. And then I find I sold some within twelve days.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is objected to as inadmissible.

Q. 16. Now I ask you whether or not you had any conversation with A. S. Bigelow at any time?

A. Never.

Q. 17. In regard to this matter?

A. Never.

Q. 18. Or with Leonard Lewisohn?

A. Never.

Q. 19. Or with anybody connected with the promotion of this company other than Mr. Stevens, if he was connected?

A. No, sir; I have no remembrance of anything, or even of any talk with Mr. Stevens.

Q. 20. Do you recall being informed at or about the time you subscribed, or when you paid in your money under this subscription, that A. S. Bigelow or Leonard Lewisohn, or those associated with them, were to take any amount of this stock as compensation for their services in promoting the enterprise?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as irrelevant, immaterial, and incompetent.

A. I have no remembrance of anything about it.

Q. 21. Did you at any time before testifying here, hear
484 that Bigelow or Lewisohn had taken any part of the stock of this company as compensation for their services in promoting the enterprise?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.

A. Nothing more than a vague reading of something in the paper.

Q. 22. How recently was that reading?

A. I am sure I don't know, it was not of enough moment to me to impress my mind.

Q. 23. Well, I mean was it within a month, or a year, or two years?

A. Perhaps you might say two months.

Q. 24. Within two months?

A. Yes; but it is all indefinite hazy; it meant nothing to me, so I have no memory about it.

Q. 25. Is what you refer to some report of a decision, or reference to a decision, in the case of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company against Bigelow?

A. I really cannot tell you; I don't know anything about it. I do remember indistinctly that there was something about a suit of Mr. Bigelow about Old Dominion. That is all the interest I took in it, and all I cared about it, and I forgot it.

Q. 26. And that is what you refer to now as something you saw within two months?

A. Yes, I think so.

Mr. BRANDEIS: That is all, Mr. Batt.

Mr. HEMENWAY: No questions.

Deposition of W. B. Mossman.

W. B. MOSSMAN, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by E. F. McClennen, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

485 Q. 1. What is your full name?

A. W. B. Mossman.

Q. 2. You reside where?

A. In Brookline.

Q. 3. And what is your business?

A. Merchant.

Q. 4. What was your business in 1895?

A. The same.

Q. 5. And your place of business was in Boston?

A. Yes.

Q. 6. I show you, on Exhibit 10, of March 27, 1903, to Mr. Bigelow's deposition, the subscription paper of July 18, 1895, the words and figures, "W. B. Mossman, 100," is that in your handwriting?

A. I should judge so.

Q. 7. And do you recall paying the sum of $2500 in the fall of 1895?

A. I do not recall it.

Q. 8. Do you remember, on seeing that signature, that you did subscribe to stock of this company?

A. This signature here?

Q. 9. Yes.

A. That signature, I think, is mine.

Q. 10. Do you remember when you signed that, or where?

A. No. I have nothing by which I could find any facts in regard to it; so much so that I denied that I had subscribed to it until you proved the contrary to me.

Q. 11. Do you remember having any conversation with Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn with reference to the matter?

A. No, I do not.

Q. 12. Were you ever informed by them that they had taken, or proposed to take, any profit in connection with the promotion of this corporation?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as irrelevant, immaterial, and incompetent.

A. No.

Q. 13. Did you ever learn that fact from any source?

A. No.

Q. 14. You have this morning seen here a certificate for 100 shares issued in September, 1895, to you?

A. Yes, sir, whatever the date was.

Q. 15. And the endorsement on it is in your handwriting?

A. Yes.

Q. 16. And from that it is apparent to you that you received 100 shares?

A. Yes, that is right.

Q. 17. You have no means at present of stating how much you did in fact pay?

A. No, I have no memory about it.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: I think that is all.

Mr. HEMENWAY: No cross-examination.

Deposition of Charles L. Davenport.

CHARLES L. DAVENPORT, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by E. F. McClennen, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. What is your full name?
A. Charles L. Davenport.
Q. 2. And you reside where?
A. In Malden.
Q. 3. Your place of business is where?
A. Boston.
Q. 4. What is your business?
A. The salt business.
Q. 5. What is it at the present time?
A. The salt business.
Q. 6. On this paper, marked "Exhibit 10" in the deposition of Albert S. Bigelow, on March 27, 1903, I show you the words, "C. L. Davenport, 120:" is that your handwriting?
A. No, sir; it is not.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

Q. 7. Do you know whose handwriting it is?
A. No, I do not.
Q. 8. Do you have any recollection of subscribing to the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?
A. All my transactions were done through Mr. Fitzgerald.
Q. 9. He is a broker?
A. Yes. I think that was done under Leland, Towle & Company after Mr. Fitzgerald went there.
Q. 10. I show you a certificate of stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, No. 100, for 120 shares, September 19, 1895: is the endorsement upon that in your handwriting?
A. It is.
Q. 11. Do you recall that you received 120 shares?
A. Yes, I do.
Q. 12. Do you remember what amount you paid therefor?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

487 A. Twenty-five dollars a share.
Q. 13. In connection with your subscription and the receipt of the stock, did you have any talk with Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn?
A. I never saw either of them in my life.
Q. 14. Did you, from any source, hear anything in 1895 with respect to either Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn, or any one, taking promoter's profits?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompet irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I never heard of it.

Q. 15. Specifically did you hear, from any source, that Mr. B low or Mr. Lewisohn, or any one associated with them, were go to take, or had taken, 50,000 shares, or any other number of sha as promoter's profits?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompet irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I did not.

Q. 16. Or that they intended to or had taken such number, any other number, of shares for their services as promoters?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompet irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I did not.

Q. 17. When, if at all, did you first hear of anything of this k before this hearing today?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompet irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I think I read it in the paper, as near as I can recall.

Q. 18. When was that?

A. It might have been within a year; I did not pay much att tion to it, and did not fix my mind on it.

Q. 19. Were the things which you read in the paper, and to wh you refer, some references to the suit which has been brought?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompet irrelevant, and immaterial.]

488 A. My impression is that they were.

[No cross-examination.]

Deposition of Homer V. Snow.

HOMER V. SNOW, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by E. F. McClennen, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says.—

Q. 1. What is your full name?
A. Homer V. Snow.
Q. 2. You reside where?
A. 1661 Beacon street, at the present time.
Q. 3. What is your business?
A. Real estate.
Q. 4. In 1895 what was your business?
A. I was out of business then, sir.
Q. 5. You then resided where?
A. I think at the Nottingham Hotel, in 1895. There was one year I was away from there, in Newbury street; I went back the next year; I forget what year that was.
Q. 6. I show you Exhibit 10 in the deposition of Albert S. Bigelow, March 27, 1903, being a subscription of July 18, 1895, the words "Homer N. Snow, 500:" is that your handwriting?
A. No, sir; I should say not.
Q. 7. That is not your handwriting. Do you recall having authorized a subscription for that amount?
A. Yes. My recollection of the affair, which is very meagre at the present time—I had not thought of it until Mr. Smith called my attention to the fact that I subscribed for this stock through Joseph G. Ray——

[Counsel for defendants objects to the answer as not responsive.]

489 THE WITNESS: I am not sure whether the transaction was completed through Mr. Ray or taken up at the office; but my impression is I paid Mr. Ray for the stock. I have no data to substantiate my statement.
Q. 8. That is simply an impression?
A. That is all.
Q. 9. I show you a certificate of stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, No. 141, for 500 shares, dated September 19, 1895; is the endorsement upon that in your handwriting?
A. That is made in my handwriting, yes, sir.
Q. 10. Do you recall that you did get 500 shares of the stock of the company? A. Yes, sir; I have no doubt about it.
Q. 11. Do you recall what you paid for it?
A. My impression is $25 a share, the par value of the stock.
Q. 12. Mr. Ray is dead?
A. He is dead; yes, sir.
Q. 13. It appearing from the deposition of Mr. Altmiller, the treasurer of the company in this case, that on the stub of the check book of the company, on September 19 a check of H. V. Snow for $12,500 was deposited for 500 shares, would that affect at all your testimony as to whether you gave the check to Mr. Ray?

A. No, sir; for I really cannot remember whether I gave the check to Mr. Ray. It does not state whether Mr. Ray's endorsement is on that check?

Q. 14. No; it simply appears it was a check you signed.

A. I might have passed the check to Mr. Ray, and I might have passed it to Mr. Bigelow; I cannot say.

Q. 15. In connection with this subscription and the receipt of this stock, did you have any talk with Mr. Bigelow?

A. I do not think so. I think as far as I can remember the entire transaction was with my friend, Mr. Ray, who advised me to buy the stock.

Q. 16. Did you have any talk with Mr. Lewisohn?

A. No; I never met Mr. Lewisohn.

Q. 17. Did Mr. Bigelow say anything to you at any time with reference to taking any promoter's profits or shares for services in forming the corporation?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Never in the slightest degree.

Q. 18. Did Mr. Ray give you any such information?

490 [Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Never.

Q. 19. Did you, from any source, hear in 1895 that it was the intention to take, or that there had been taken, any shares, either as a profit or for promoter's services in connection with the promoting or organization of the company?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Never, sir.

Q. 20. Specifically was it called to your attention in any way that Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow had taken 50,000 shares of the stock for any of these reasons?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I have no recollection of anything of the kind, and I am very positive that nothing of the kind ever occurred.

Q. 21. When, if at all, prior to the hearing to-day did this matter come to your attention?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. This hearing? Well, I have heard it during the last—since Mr. Smith's coming into the presidency of the company, perhaps, in an indirect way.

Q. 22. What do you mean by that?

A. That there was some irregularity; I might as well state it in that way.

[Counsel for defendants objects to the answer as incompetent and not responsive.]

Q. 23. It being the fact that Mr. Smith became president in 1902, do I understand that prior to that you had never heard?

A. Prior to that time I had never heard anything of the kind.

By Mr. LAUTERBACH:

Q. Although you knew about it at the time, and say that Mr. Ray advised you to subscribe for and to take so much stock, you took it?

A. I took it on his recommendation and advice; yes, sir.

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,

BOSTON, July 19, 1905.

Deposition of Arthur W. Hale.

ARTHUR W. HALE, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by E. F. McClennen, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. What is your full name?

A. Arthur W. Hale.

Q. 2. You reside where?

A. Winchester.

Q. 3. Your place of business is where?

A. 53 State street.

Q. 4. Boston, Mass.?

A. Boston, Mass.

Q. 5. In 1895 were you connected with the firm of C. A. Putnam & Company?

A. I was.

Q. 6. I show you Exhibit 10 of the deposition of A. S. Bigelow, March 27, 1903, being a subscription purporting to be dated July 18, 1895, the words "C. A. Putnam & Co., 500;" is that your handwriting?

A. No; that is Mr. Middleton's handwriting.

Q. 7. Was he connected with the firm?

A. He was a partner in it, yes.

Q. 8. I show you a certificate of stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, in the name of C. A. Putnam & Company, No. 111, for 400 shares, endorsed on the back "C. A. Putnam & Co.;" in whose handwriting is that endorsement?

A. Mr. Middleton's.

492 Q. 9. Did you have anything to do with this subscription for this stock?

A. Yes; I think I made all the arrangements with Mr. Bigelow.

Q. 10. Do you have any knowledge of when and where the subscription paper was signed?

A. I do not know about that; I think it was sent into the office and my partner signed it.

Q. 11. Did you, as far as you now recall, see any one other than Mr. Bigelow in connection with this subscription or the organization of this corporation?

A. I think not.

Q. 12. Do you know whether it was before or after this subscription was signed that you saw Mr. Bigelow?

A. Before.

Q. 13. Have you any idea how long before?

A. I cannot remember.

Q. 14. Was it a matter of days, weeks, or months?

A. I really cannot say.

Q. 15. Do you recall anything of the conversation which you had?

A. No; it was so long ago I cannot tell what was said.

Q. 16. Was anything said with reference to Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn, or any of those associated with them, taking 50,000 shares of the stock of the corporation either as profits or for promoters' services or otherwise?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I do not remember any conversation of that sort.

Q. 17. Do you remember any conversation with Mr. Bigelow with reference to profits or any number of shares?

A. No.

Q. 18. Or about his taking any compensation in any way?

A. No.

Q. 19. When you say you do not recollect, do you mean that your mind is barren on that subject or that no such conversation took place?

A. What I mean to say is this: I made arrangements with Mr. Bigelow to take this number of shares purely as a speculation, and I went in, as I suppose others did, on the street, believing that it was a good thing and that the prestige of the office would carry it up—purely as a speculation.

Q. 20. Now during the entire year of 1895 did you learn from Mr. Bigelow, or from any source, that it was intended to take any profit, anything for promoters' services, or that any such profit had been taken by Bigelow and Lewisohn?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

493 A. I might have heard about it, but it did not make any impression on me.

Q. 21. When prior to to-day's hearing did you first hear of any profit having been taken or of any shares having been taken for services?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. In the papers, I think.

Q. 22. Do you now refer to the items that have appeared in the papers relative to this present suit?

A. Yes. I might say this, that in talking with Mr. Belches I remember at the time——

[Counsel for defendants objects to the answer as not responsive and as purely hearsay.]

Q. 23. I will ask you this: Do you recall the price which you paid for this stock?

A. It is so long ago I cannot say certainly, but it was either $20 or $25.

Q. 24. You mean by that $20 or $25 per share?

A. $20 or $25 per share, yes.

Cross-examination:

[In answer to interrogatories propounded by Edward Lauterbach, Esq., of counsel for defendants, the witness further deposes and says:]

X 25. Were you or your firm later on subscribers to the syndicate?

A. No, this is all that we had anything to do with.

X 26. The only transaction?

A. Yes, that is the only thing I know about.

ARTHUR W. HALE.

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET.
BOSTON, July 19, 1905.

Deposition of Samuel B. Capen.

SAMUEL B. CAPEN, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. What is your full name?
A. Samuel B. Capen.
Q. 2. You are of the firm of Torrey, Bright & Capen?
A. I was; it is now a corporation, of which I am the treasurer.
Q. 3. Formerly it was a firm?
A. Yes.
Q. 4. Of Boston?
A. Yes.
Q. 5. In 1895 you were also a member of that firm?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 6. I show you an exhibit marked 3, Exhibit No. 3, which was put in evidence on March 24, 1903, in connection with the deposition of Albert S. Bigelow in this case, and I call your attention to the words in this paper in ink "Henry T. Coe," then in pencil, "S. B. Capen," then in ink again "$6000," and ask you in whose handwriting the words that I have read are?
A. "Henry T. Coe" is in his own handwriting; I do not know whose the "S. B. Capen" in pencil is. The figures, I suppose, are Mr. Coe's; they look like it.
Q. 7. I call your attention to another exhibit, being Exhibit 5, which was put in evidence as part of the deposition of A. S. Bigelow, under date of March 24, 1903, in this case; and call your attention to the words "Henry T. Coe by S. B. C., $2000."
A. Yes, that is my own handwriting.
Q. 8. That is your own handwriting?
A. Yes.
Q. 9. You are the "S. B. C." there referred to?
A. Yes.
Q. 10. The words in the witness clause "fourteenth" and "June:" are those also in your handwriting?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 11. I also call your attention to Exhibit No. 10, which was introduced in evidence in connection with the deposition of A. S. Bigelow on March 27, 1903, and call your attention to the words and figures "Henry T. Coe, six hundred shares, 600:" in whose handwriting is that?
A. That is Mr. Coe's.
Q. 12. Who is Henry T. Coe?
A. He was the bookkeeper of Torrey, Bright & Capen.
Q. 13. Where is Mr. Coe at present?
A. He is on his way from Vermont to Boston; he will be here tomorrow; he is on his vacation.

495 Q. 14. He was then and is now a bookkeeper in the employ of Torrey, Bright & Capen?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. Whether or not you personally had any part in taking the subscription or this interest in the syndicate or in the subscription for the stock referred to in the several papers which were shown to you?

A. Yes, sir, I did.

Q. 16. Now will you tell what part you had?

A. In the first subscription I had personally 50 shares.

Q. 17. If you will pardon me, before you answer that I will ask you whether or not you caused Mr. Henry T. Coe to sign for you on that subscription?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I did, yes, sir.

Q. 18. And why?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Because this was for six or eight different people, and this paper was to be shown to many people, and I did not care to have my own personal affairs put on a piece of paper; and instead of doing as some people do, act through a broker, I had our clerk do it. It would not have been a fair statement if I had put it that I subscribed for it all, because I had only 50 shares of it. So he signed for us all.

Q. 19. Referring to the paper earliest in date, in which the name of Henry T. Coe, and in pencil "For S. B. Capen, six thousand" appears, which paper is dated May 21, 1895, I will ask you whether prior to the signing by Mr. Coe of that paper you had had any conversation with Mr. Bigelow in regard to taking an interest in the syndicate?

A. I had.

Q. 20. State what that was.

A. I applied to him or to Mr. Nelson for it, I don't know which; I presume to Mr. Bigelow in the first instance. I heard of this mine, so I subscribed, and asked if I might be interested for myself and friends.

Q. 21. Where did you see Mr. Bigelow?

A. At his office.

Q. 22. Was the subscription in Mr. Coe's name for $6000 taken immediately after that interview?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 23. Whether or not at the time of that interview, or at any time before the making of the subscription, anything was said to you by Mr. Bigelow as to his or Mr. Lewisohn's, or any one associated with him, taking any specific number of shares, or 496 any shares, as compensation for services as promoter or as profits, or promoter's profits?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I have no recollection of any such conversation.

Q. 24. Now whether or not, between the time of the signing of the first paper and the time when you signed, in Mr. Coe's name, the paper dated June 14, 1895, there was anything said to you by Mr. Bigelow that he and Mr. Lewisohn, either of them, or any one associated with them in getting up the company, would take any number of shares as any compensation for services in promotion?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No, sir.

Q. 25. Whether between that time and the signing of the third paper dated July 18, Mr. Bigelow stated to you anything as to his or Mr. Lewisohn's or any one associated with him, intending to take, or that they had taken as compensation for their services as promoters any number of shares of stock in this company?

A. No, sir.

Q. 26. Or that they would do it?

A. No, sir.

Q. 27. I call your attention to a certificate dated September 27, 1895, No. 210, for 640 shares of stock in the name of Henry T. Coe, which certificate bears an endorsement as follows: "Transferred to Elbridge Torrey, 200 shares; Samuel B. Capen, 160 shares; Joshua W. Davis, 80 shares; Mrs. Laura E. Wilkins, 100 shares; Mrs. Frances M. Perkins, 100 shares."

I also call your attention to certificate No. 137, dated September 19, 1895, for 200 shares, in the name of Henry T. Coe, and to certificate dated September 19, 1895, for 80 shares, certificate No. 138, in the name of H. T. Coe; and on certificate No. 137 an endorsement, H. T. Coe to Samuel B. Capen, trustee, 30 shares; Miss Mary W. Capen, 2 shares; Elbridge Torrey, 120 shares; Samuel B. Capen, 50 shares; Mrs. Helen W. Capen, 25 shares; Miss Elizabeth G. Bright, 40 shares; Miss Josephine B. Bright, 10 shares; Edward W. Capen, 3 shares; and ask you whether any parts of the assignments on the backs of these certificates are in your handwriting?

A. Yes, the fillings in there are mine,—all of these.

Q. 28. That is, all of the names and the number of shares?

A. Yes, all of them.

497 Q. 29. The names and the number of shares which they represent are all in your handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 30. Whether or not you acted, in subscribing for an interest in the syndicate and for the shares, as appears by the exhibits,—whether you acted on that occasion for the persons who appear as the transferees of the shares from the assignment of H. T. Coe?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I did.

Q. 31. Now will you state whether the payment for those 280 shares represented by the two certificates 137 and 138, dated September 19, 1895, was made by you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 32. To what amount?

A. $7000.

Q. 33. To whom was the check made payable?

A. To Thomas Nelson, treasurer.

Q. 34. Now whether the payment to the syndicate for the interest in the syndicate which was afterwards represented by the 640 shares shown by certificate No. 210 was made by you?

A. I presume it was. There are so many of these different ones I can only trace my own. I have got that here, worked out.

Q. 35. What are the payments that you made personally?

A. You mean from this check book? There are 160 shares that belong to me in the second lot. I paid May 27, $140; June 14, $140—those were 14 per cent of the $2000. Then June 20, 28⅝ per cent on the $2000, or $575.17; on August 22 I paid the balance of that $2000, or 57½ per cent and interest; $1160.52 is that payment, making a total of $2015.69, which was the whole amount for 160 shares with interest.

Q. 36. To whom were those checks made payable?

A. To A. S. Bigelow, treasurer, or to A. S. Bigelow, not the treasurer.

Q. 37. Whether at any time before any of these payments which you have referred to were made, the certificates which have been shown to you were delivered, anything was said to you by Mr. Bigelow in regard to his taking, or Lewisohn's taking, or any of his associates taking, any shares of stock in this Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, or in a company to be formed, as compensation for his profits or services as promoter?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

498 A. No, sir.

Q. 38. Whether or not, at any time prior to the receipt of these certificates by you, any such information or statement of intention was made to you by any one of Mr. Bigelow's — having that intention,—was made to you by any one, or any information came to you from any source to that effect?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No, sir.

Q. 39. Whether at any time during the year 1895 any such information came to you from any source?

A. No, sir.

Q. 40. When, if ever, prior to your being called upon to testify in this case did you hear that Bigelow, Lewisohn, either of them, or their associates, had taken 50,000 shares, or any number of shares, as compensation for their profits in connection with their promotion of this company?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I should say within a year or two.

Q. 41. That is, from the newspapers?

A. Yes.

Q. 42. Within a year or two of the present time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. Was that reference in the papers in connection with litigation that had been brought by the company against Bigelow and Lewisohn?

A. Yes, sir.

Cross-examination:

[In answer to cross-interrogatories propounded by EDWARD LAUTERBACH, Esq., counsel for defendants, the witness further deposes and says:]

X 44. As I understand it, then, you were a subscriber to the syndicate arrangement to the extent of $6000, and to another syndicate subscription to the extent of $2000, and a purchaser of stock to the extent of $7000?

A. I think that is correct; yes, sir.

X 45. This was in about June, 1895?

A. Yes, sir.

X 46. The only one that you saw with reference to these matters was Mr. Bigelow, was it not?

A. I might have seen Mr. Nelson, possibly, and probably Mr. Bigelow together.

499 X 47. And Mr. Nelson was associated with Mr. Bigelow?

A. Yes, sir.

X 48. Did Mr. Bigelow call upon you at that time, or did you call upon him?

A. I called upon him.

X 49. Did he solicit you or did you ask him?

A. I asked him, sir.

X 50. You thought it a favor to be permitted to become a member of the syndicate?

A. Yes.

X 51. Copper-stock subscriptions at that time were thought to be good investments and speculations?

A. Yes.

X 52. And you were content, in making your subscriptions, to have Mr. Bigelow act in the matter as he thought proper?

A. Yes, I had no criticism to make.

X 53. You asked him no question concerning the nature of the investment?

A. Well, probably I asked some question about the mine there.

X 54. And he spoke well of the mine?

A. He did.

X 55. But whether or not he was to make a profit or not was a matter that was immaterial to you?

A. Not immaterial; I supposed when I put my money in I was to make profit.

X 56. And, in fact, you did make a profit, didn't you; I mean that, as to that $6000 and $2000 subscription, you received two for one in securities finally?

A. Yes, my 160 shares, I think, I received two for one.

X 57. That is, assuming the stock to be par, for your $8000 subscription you received 640 shares; now if that had been subscribed for at par you would only have received 320 shares for your participation in the syndicate?

A. Yes.

X 58. And that was entirely satisfactory to you?

A. Yes.

X 59. Your subscription to the $25 a share stock was that made with Mr. Bigelow as well?

A. Yes.

X 60. And you saw him only in respect to that?

A. Yes.

X 61. You had nothing to do with the Old Dominion Copper Company, as such, only with Mr. Bigelow?

A. No.

X 62. And your transactions in all three matters were entirely with him?

A. Yes, sir.

X 63. Did he decline to answer any question that you asked him in respect to the matter?

A. No, sir.

Redirect examination:

[On redirect examination, in answer to further questions by Mr. BRANDEIS, of counsel for plaintiff, the witness further deposes and says:]

500 Q. 64. Do you remember whether you saw Mr. Bigelow after that first interview you had prior to Mr. Coe's signing the paper of May 21,—whether or not you personally saw Mr. Bigelow after that?

A. I could not tell you; I should think I would, the second time

Q. 65. That is, you think the time that you signed yourself this June 14 paper, when you wrote in a part on the 14th of June?

A. I have no knowledge, but I guess so.

Q. 66. Do you know whether or not you saw Mr. Bigelow subsequently?

A. Probably not when I made the payments.

Q. 67. There was a paper afterwards, the July 18 paper, which was not signed by you, but was signed by Mr. Coe; do you have any recollection of seeing Mr. Bigelow at that time?

A. I have no recollection; no, sir.

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET,
BOSTON, July 19, 1905.

Deposition of Walter A. S. Chrimes.

WALTER A. S. CHRIMES, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. State your full name, age, residence, and occupation.

A. Thirty-eight; residence, Hingham; occupation, assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of mining companies.

Q. 2. What mining companies are you assistant secretary and assistant treasurer of?

A. Tamarack, Osceola, Ilse Royale, Ahmeek, and Seneca.

501 Q. 3. Are these all mining companies in which Mr. A. S. Bigelow is interested as an officer and stockholder?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. And what was your occupation in 1895?

A. I was clerk in the office of those mining companies.

Q. 5. And were they mining companies controlled by A. S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn?

A. I don't know that they were controlled by them; they were stockholders.

Q. 6. What other companies were there besides the ones you have named?

A. Boston & Montana and Butte & Boston.

Q. 7. And afterwards in the Old Dominion Copper Company?

A. Yes.

Q. 8. How long had you been with Mr. A. S. Bigelow prior to July, 1895?

A. About twelve years.

Q. 9. Twelve years prior to that time; so you have been with Mr. Bigelow twenty-two years?

A. Twenty-two years last January.

Q. 10. And you acted to a certain extent as secretary to him individually, personally, did you not?

A. Yes.

Q. 11. And did at that time—1895?

A. Yes, but in a small way.

Q. 12. But since that time you have to an increased extent?

A. Yes.

Q. 13. To what extent, in 1895, did you have access to, or charge of the books and papers in relation to Mr. A. S. Bigelow's mining enterprises, and particularly that of the Old Dominion Syndicate and Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. Mr. Bigelow did not keep any books; I did some writing in his check book. The general books of the office were kept by the other clerks, and I had no control of and knew nothing about them.

Q. 14. What did you have to do with Mr. Bigelow's letter book?

A. Nothing; that is, if you mean by filing away the letters, or copying the letters, I had nothing to do with them; that was done by some boy in the office.

Q. 15. Under you?

A. No, not particularly; things were done under his direction.

Q. 16. What do you mean by "his direction," who is "his"?

A. Mr. Bigelow.

Q. 17. Well, in Mr. Bigelow's absence, the correspondence was conducted by you, was it not?

A. Yes.

Q. 18. Now what books, letter-press copy books, did Mr. Bigelow have at that time, 1895,—keep regularly?

A. Well, he kept an ordinary business man's file.

Q. 19. You mean an ordinary file in which letters received were pasted in?

A. Pasted in, and an ordinary copy book in which letters were copied.

502 Q. 20. How many copy books were kept?

A. I think one; possibly two.

Q. 21. Have you not brought with you here certain letter-press copy books?

A. I have brought a lot of books. I have not looked to see what is in the package yet.

Q. 22. Will you look and let me know what letter-press copy books you have brought here relating to 1895, in which any letters from Mr. Bigelow are copied?

A. There are two [producing two letter-press copy books].

Q. 23. There are two letter books, and how are they designated?

A. One is marked "Letters. 6. Private." The other is marked "Letters. 4. A. S. B."

Q. 24. What is the first and last date in the letter book marked "Letters. 6. A. S. B. Private."?

A. May 29, 1893, is the first. October 20, 1896, is the last.

Q. 25. And are the pages in that book numbered?

A. They are.

Q. 26. What is the number of the first and last page?

A. The first is numbered "1" and the last "728." The last date is October 20, 1896.

Q. 27. Is that letter book indexed?

A. Yes, or partly so.

Q. 28. What do you mean by the statement "or partly so"?

A. Well, I thought there might have been omissions by the person who might have indexed that book.

Q. 29. Are you able to tell from the handwriting who it was who indexed that letter book?

A. No, there are three on the first page.

Q. 30. You mean three different handwritings?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 31. Do you recognize any of them?

A. No.

Q. 32. Now will you give me the earliest date in the letter book marked "letters. 4. A. S. B.," and the last date; and also the first and last page?

A. Page 1 is December 24, without any year, so I don't know when that was.

Q. 33. Well, will you look at the next date?

A. The next is December 27, 1892, on page 1.

Q. 34. What is the last page in the book?

A. April 15, 1893. That is apparently wrong. I will explain here were little things not relating to business was sometimes put in the back of these books, and had no bearing on business matters. For instance, here is a telegram to Mrs. Bigelow away out of date; so you better take a date at some time when the real business was finished.

Q. 35. Will you look through and let me know the last date on the last page when any matters are regularly copied in the book?

A. February 11, 1897.

Q. 36. Will you state with reference to letter book "4. A. S. B." whether that book is indexed?

A. It is.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I object to this line of testimony on be-503 half of the defendant Lewisohn, to the letters of Mr. Bigelow except as they may have been addressed to and received by Mr. Lewisohn and answered by him, as irrelevant and incompetent and immaterial. My objection is to the whole line of testimony.

Q. 37. What is your answer?

A. It is indexed with possibly exceptions or omissions.

Q. 38. Well, are there any omissions from the index, to your knowledge?

A. Not to my knowledge.

Q. 39. Is there in letter book No. 6 any omission from the index, to your knowledge?

A. No.

Q. 40. Will you now turn to the index of letter book "4 A. S. B." to the name of Maxwell Woodhull, and give me the number of the page of letters addressed to Maxwell Woodhull?

A. There is one on page 637, 645, 649, 191, 298, 307, 338, 364, 374, 381, 428, 434, 498, and 544.

Q. 41. Were all of those numbers of pages against the single name of Maxwell Woodhull, or does he appear in several places in the index?

A. He appears in two places, the name appears in two places; the line was filled out and it had to be dropped below here.

Q. 42. Now will you turn to page 191, and let me see the date of that letter?

A. It is a telegram.

Q. 43. A telegram of April 13, 1894?

A. Yes.

Q. 44. Turn now to page 298: that is a letter of what date?

A. Of June 12, 1895. This is the letter which appears in the deposition of A. S. Bigelow, Int. 120.

Q. 45. Now if you will turn to page 307.

A. That is a telegram dated June 15, 1895. This is the telegram referred to in deposition of A. S. Bigelow, Int. 119.

Q. 46. Now turn to page 338.

A. That is a letter dated June 24, 1895, which is as follows:—

"JUNE 24, 1895.

Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., 2035 G St., Washington, D. C.

DEAR SIR: I have yours of June 22nd. Your receipts for the Old Dominion syndicate were made non-negotiable for special purposes, which, however, now longer exists. A copy of agreement made by you with Riggs & Co. was duly received and we are pleased to notify you that we confirm and recognize that agreement and will hold it binding.

Yours truly,

OLD DOMINION SYNDICATE,
By A. S. BIGELOW."

504 Q. 47. Now turn to page 366.

A. A telegram as follows:—

"JULY 26, 1895.

Maxwell Woodhull, care of Chesbrough, 24 State St., New York:

825 a share cash on or before October 1. Due notice will be given when it is required. A. S. BIGELOW."

Q. 48. Now page 374.

A. This is a letter dated July 31, 1895, appearing on page 81, in Int. 173, in the deposition of A. S. Bigelow in this cause.

Q. 49. Now page 381.

A. Letter dated August 7, 1895, which is as follows:—

"SEARS BUILDING, BOSTON, MASS., August 7, 1895.

Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., The Abdine, Spring Lake Beach, N. J.

DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of your favor of August 5 enclosing release from Riggs & Co. of their interest in your subscription to the Old Dominion syndicate. I have made a note of the same upon our books and return you said release herewith.

Yours very truly, A. S. BIGELOW.

Your suggestion anent Tamarack is a good one, but not practical, as I know some of them would not agree to it."

Q. 50. What page of the letter book is this on?

A. 381.

Q. 51. Now will you turn to letter dated August 8 in that letter book? The first one is on page 383.

A. There isn't any letter to Woodhull on that page.

Q. 52. What is the next letter to Woodhull?

A. It appears to be November 18, 1895, by this book, on page 428.

Q. 53. That is a letter written by Mr. Bissell for Mr. Bigelow?

A. It is for him. This letter appears to relate to some mining operations.

Q. 54. Now give me the next letter to Mr. Woodhull.

A. November 26, 1895, on page 434; that is a letter of C. H. Bissell by W. A. S. Chrimes, and relates also, apparently, to mining operations.

Q. 55. Now the next.

A. April 9, 1896, page 498, which is a letter which relates to other matters; it does not relate to Old Dominion matters.

505 Q. 56. Now the next, page 544.

A. Telegram dated July 11, 1896; a telegram of mine to Mr. Woodhull.

Q. 57. Now the next, page 637.

A. Letter dated December 5, 1895, acknowledging receipt of check.

Q. 58. Now page 645.

A. A letter dated December 18, 1896, which does not relate to Old Dominion matters.

Q. 59. Now page 649.

A. Letter dated December 21, 1896. This letter also does not relate to Old Dominion matters.

Q. 60. Now will you turn to this letter book No. 4, and state whether or not from that book any pages have been torn out; and if so, what is the earliest page in the book that has been torn out?

A. There is no way for me to know that except to go through this one page at a time.

Q. 61. I wish you would do it.

A. I find there is no page 88.

Q. 62. Will you give, then, the date of the letter before and after it?

A. The letter preceding is dated July 13, 1893, and the one succeeding is July 18, 1893.

Q. 63. Now if you will proceed.

A. I find an unpaged sheet between 149 and 150 as of the date of about March 6, 1894.

I find an unnumbered page, marked "157 A," as of the date of March 23, 1894, between page 157 and 158.

I find another unnumbered page between 521 and 522, numbered 521½, and bears date June 12, 1895.

I find, after page 545, that 546, 547, and 548 are missing, and apparently torn out, between the date of July 17, 1896, and July 20, 1896.

I find a page without a number; I suppose it is 595; the corner is torn off. The date is September 23, 1896.

I find an extra page, numbered in pencil 6050, between 604 and 605, and between September 30, 1896, and October 1, 1896.

I find also an extra page between 655 and 656, which is numbered 655², between December 31, 1896, and January 4, 1897.

I find that page 657 is apparently missing; it is between January 5, 1897, and January 6, 1897.

There is an extra page numbered in ink 691A, and it is between 690 and 691B, in ink, and between February 11, 1897, and February 13, 1897.

I find that page 694 is missing, and appears to have been torn out. The last letter on page 693 is dated February 11, 1897; the letter on page 695 is dated October 6, 1896.

506 After page 697 the pages have disappeared up to the next page, 715, and that page is dated July 11, 1894; and the previous one, on page 697, is dated October 5, 1896.

There are three pages cut out and one unnumbered page. The next numbered page after 715 is 719, and the date of that is April 1, 1894.

There are again after 719 pages missing up to page 725.

Page 725 has a letter on it dated December 21, 1893.

After page 727 again pages are missing to page 732, and there is on that page a letter dated August 15, 1893.

Pages 733 and 734 are missing. The next is page 735, and the last page is 737 dated April 15, 1893.

After that there are again a number of pages which have been apparently torn out at the end of the book.

Q. 64. Now will you turn to letter book No. "6, A. S. B. Private," and give us the pages appearing in the index of letters to Maxwell Woodhull?

A. Page 92, 210, 214, 216, 220, 222, 228, 233, 235, 238, 240, 241, 263, 270, 278, 280, 298, 304, 326, 332, 338, 354, 360, 378, 382, 390, 410, 412, 414, 421, 432, 433, 443, 449, 474, 495, 559, 587, 601, 609, 649, 659, 680, 689, 697, 717.

Q. 65. What is the last page in the book?

A. 728.

Q. 66. Now will you turn to the first page, 92?

A. That is a letter dated September 11, 1893.

Q. 67. Now turn to the next one, page 210.

A. That is a letter dated June 19, 1894.

Q. 68. Page 214?

A. That is a letter dated June 22, 1894.

Q. 69. Page 216?

A. June 26, 1894.

Q. 70. Page 220?

A. July 6, 1894.

Q. 71. Page 222?

A. July 23, 1894.

Q. 72. Page 228?
A. August 7, 1894.
Q. 73. Page 233?
A. August 9, 1894.
Q. 74. Page 235?
A. August 10, 1894.
Q. 75. Page 238?
A. Letter dated in lead pencil August 13, 1894.
Q. 76. Page 240?
A. Apparently August 17, 1894.
Q. 77. Page 241?
A. August 24, 1894.
Q. 78. Page 263?
A. October 1, 1894.
Q. 79. Page 270?
A. November 12, 1894.
Q. 80. Page 278?
A. November 27, 1894.
507 Q. 81. Page 280?
A. December 3, 1894.
Q. 82. Page 308?
A. January 16, 1895.
Q. 83. Page 304?
A. On page 304 I find the second page of a letter to Frank B. Prentiss of Philadelphia, relating to the Merced Gold Mining Company, but nothing to Woodhull. I find on page 324 a letter of February 9, 1895.
Q. 84. Page 326?
A. A letter dated in pencil, February 18, 1895.
Q. 85. Page 332?
A. March 23, 1895.
Q. 86. Page 338?
A. March 29, 1895.
Q. 87. Page 354?
A. April 20, 1895.
Q. 88. Page 360?
A. April 23, 1895.
Q. 89. Page 378?
A. May 23, 1895. This letter relates to Boston & Montana and Merced.
Q. 90. Page 382?
A. June 11, 1895. This letter referred to in Int. 115, in the deposition of Albert S. Bigelow.
Q. 91. Page 390?
A. Letter dated June 15, 1895. This is the letter referred to in Int. 119 of the deposition of Albert S. Bigelow.
Q. 92. Page 410?
A. July 1, 1895. This letter refers to Boston & Montana.
Q. 93. Page 412?
A. Letter dated July 6, 1895. This letter also relates to Boston & Montana.

Q. 94. Page 414?

A. Letter dated July 12, 1895. This letter also relates to Boston & Montana and other matters, and not to Old Dominion.

Q. 95. Page 421?

A. July 15, 1895. This is the letter referred to in the deposition of A. S. Bigelow, Int. 175, at page 82.

Q. 96. Page 432?

A. Letter dated July 22, 1895. This is the letter referred to in the deposition of A. S. Bigelow, Int. 175, page 82.

Q. 97. Page 433?

A. Letter dated July 24, 1895. This is the letter referred to in the deposition of A. S. Bigelow, Int. 175, page 82.

Q. 98. Page 443?

A. August 20, 1895.

Q. 99. Will you look through the pages and see if there is any letter between pages 433 and 443?

A. There is no letter in the letter book between pages 433 and 443 addressed to Maxwell Woodhull, and no pages are missing. The letter of August 20, 1895, relates to the general conditions of the market.

Q. 100. Page 449?

A. Letter dated August 22, 1895. This letter also relates to general matters.

Q. 101. Page 474?

A. Letter dated October 24, 1895. This letter relates to Boston & Montana.

508 Q. 102. Page 495?

A. Letter dated November 26, 1895; a letter relating to the copper market.

Q. 103. Page 559?

A. Letter dated February 28, 1896, relating to Tamarack.

Q. 104. Page 587?

A. Letter dated March 23, 1896, and relates to Tamarack, with a postscript with regard to Mr. Woodhull's $15,000 note to the Old Dominion.

Q. 105. Page 601?

A. Letter dated April 30, 1896. This is a letter in which Mr. Bigelow reports on the various mining properties in which Mr. Woodhull is interested. The only paragraph relating to the Old Dominion is as follows:—

"Now, as to Old Dominion, which was the next property which we visited: I was exceedingly well pleased with that property. One sure thing about it is that it is a mine well opened for a number of years ahead and rich, and it is only a question of time when it will come to the front as a good dividend payer. On the comparatively small product which we are making today, we are earning quite a nice profit."

Q. 106. Page 609?

A. Letter dated May 8, 1896, relating to Boston & Montana and other matters, and not relating to Old Dominion.

Q. 107. Page 649?

A. A letter dated June 1, 1896, about Tamarack, Merced, and Butte & Boston.

Q. 108. Page 659?

A. Letter dated June 19, 1896. This letter relates to various matters. The only reference to Old Dominion is as follows:—

"The bears are of course about trying to make a dishonest dollar. They made a drive at Old Dominion the other day and knocked it to $15.50, the price yesterday. As to the value of the property, I have no doubt whatever. It is a large, rich mine well opened up ahead and capable of being worked very cheaply. We had to close down the mines on account of the strike by the men, but in my opinion this is a matter of small importance, and I think we shall be running again next month. In May, with a product of only of about 700,000 lbs. we made a profit of $20,000. New furnaces are on the way and should be ready to run next month, by which we can increase our product to from 900,000 lbs. to 1,000,000 lbs. a month, and when run even without the railroad should be able to make from $30,000 to $40,000 profit."

Q. 109. Page 680?

A. A letter dated July 14, 1896, about Boston & Montana.

Q. 110. Page 689?

A. Letter dated July 27, 1896. The only reference to Old Dominion in that letter is as follows:—

509 "Old Dominion looks cheap to me, but, as you know, it is not yet a dividend payer, and the stock will probably fluctuate a good deal until it does become one."

Q. 111. Page 697?

A. A telegram to Woodhull, dated September 10, 1896, which does not relate to Old Dominion.

Q. 112. Page 717?

A. Letter dated September 28, 1896, and does not relate to Old Dominion.

[Recess until 2 p. m. and resumed.]

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Before Mr. Chrimes is further examined, I want to call your attention and his to the fact that you will recall that Mr. Hyams pointed out that among these receipts, among these formal notifications in the month of June, some error must have occurred and some three or four pages eliminated from the book.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Why didn't we find that?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: It was before lunch; we did it unanimously.

* * * * * * *

Mr. BRANDEIS: Mr. Lauterbach calls attention to the fact that Mr. Chrimes, in going over the letter book "4, A. S. G." in the presence of all of us, as to the pages that were missing, omitted to state that the pages between No. 308 and 314 were missing and appear to have been cut out.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is right.

Q. 113. Mr. Chrimes, I call your attention to the memorandum in pencil, June 15, 1895, "pages 309 and 313 were spoiled," the above memorandum in pencil being written on what appears to be the part remaining in the book on page 315. Will you please state in whose handwriting that memorandum is?

A. That is in my handwriting.

Q. 114. Are you able to recall when you made that memorandum?

A. I cannot.

Q. 115. Are you able to state approximately the year within which you made that memorandum?

A. No.

Q. 116. Have you any recollection whatsoever in regard to that memorandum?

A. None whatever.

Q. 117. When did you first see that memorandum, so far as you can remember?

A. About five minutes ago, two minutes ago.

Q. 118. You mean just before Mr. Lauterbach called attention to this fact?

A. I do, just this minute.

510 Q. 119. How do you account for the fact that that memorandum was put upon those pages by you?

A. I cannot account for it.

Q. 120. There is not any other instance in that book, is there, where pages torn out bear any notation of any kind?

A. I do not remember of seeing any when I went through it before.

Q. 121. Can you account in any way for the fact that you did not notice this omission of pages when you went through it before?

A. No.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: It is conceded by all counsel present that all were present and looking over the book while it was being examined by Mr. Chrimes, and while he was giving his testimony, and that no one observed the absence of the pages at that time.

Q. 122. The question you were asked was, "Now will you look through this letter book, and let us know what pages in this letter book are missing 'this letter book' being entitled 'Letters, 6, A. S. B., Private'?"

A. I have been through it.

Q. 123. You have examined it?

A. I have examined it.

Q. 124. Since this question was put?

A. Yes, I examined it after lunch.

Q. 125. Now go ahead.

A. And I find page 4 is out.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: Page 3 being dated May 29, 1893, and page 5 being dated May 29, 1893.

Q. 126. Now go ahead.

A. It was an insertion between pages 8 and 9.

Q. 127. It is between pages 8 and 9, an insertion. What does it consist of?

A. It is evidently something copied in the book.

Q. 128. Being a half page of a letter addressed to J. A. Coram. And pages 243, 244, 245, and 247 from some other letter book, is it not?

A. From some other letter book.

Mr. McCLENNEN: And all bearing date June, 1893.

The WITNESS: Yes.

Q. 129. Now go on.

A. No. 108 is out.

Q. 130. There is a memorandum on the stub of the page between 107 and 109, reading, "One of Mr. Nelson's private letters copied here; see Mr. Nelson's private book." In whose handwriting is that, Mr. Chrimes?

A. I think it is C. H. Bissell's.

Q. 131. What next?

A. There is an insertion at 232½ and 232⅝—pages appearing that way.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Being a letter dated August 9, 1894.

The WITNESS: Pages 287, 288, 289, and 290 are out.

511 Mr. McCLENNEN: 286 being a letter of December 7, 1894, and 291 being a letter of December 11, 1895.

The WITNESS: 293, 294, and 295 are out.

Mr. McCLENNEN: 292 being a letter of December 21, 1894, and a letter of December 29, 1904.

The WITNESS: Pages 300 and 301 are out.

Mr. McCLENNEN: 299 being a letter of January 2, 1895, and 302 a letter of January 3, 1895.

The WITNESS: There is an insertion at 418½.

Mr. McCLENNEN: That being a letter of July 15, 1895, to Brewster & Company.

The WITNESS: About carriages. After 728, which is the last page, there are a number of pages missing.

Q. 132. Will you look now at the pages covering the period from August 1 to August 10, 1895, and see whether there is any letter to Maxwell Woodhull that has not been indexed?

A. I find no such letter to Maxwell Woodhull; I do find letters written by Mr. Bigelow to others, written August 5 and August 8.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is not responsive.

Mr. BRANDEIS: All right. I will put a question.

Q. 133. Do you find any letters of Mr. Bigelow on August 5 or August 8, 1895, in this book?

A. I do, on pages 438, 439, and 440.

Q. 134. And the next letter to that is dated August 15, on page 441. Now, Mr. Chrimes, the letter of August 5, which I refer to as being on page 438, is a letter appearing in the deposition of A. S. Bigelow, Int. 181; then, I ask you, is not there a letter of August 7, 1895?

A. I do not see any.

Q. 135. You mean to say: I do not find it in that book; but there is in the letter book marked "A. S. Bigelow, Letters, 4," a letter of August 7 to Mr. Grant, which appears also in the deposition of Mr. Bigelow at Int. 181?

A. Yes; I should say yes.

Q. 136. Is there not, Mr. Chrimes, some other letter book of Mr. Bigelow's in which letters relating to the matters connected with the Old Dominion may have been copied?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. 137. There were kept in the same office other letter books, were there not, at the same time that these letter books cover?

A. Yes.

Q. 138. What other letter books?

A. Books of other companies, the other mining companies.

512 Q. 139. What letter-press copy books were at that time in use in the office?

A. I should say there might have been fifteen or twenty.

Q. 140. Where are those letter books?

A. In the safe in the Sears building, I suppose.

Q. 141. And those were all letter books relating to different companies in which Mr. A. S. Bigelow was interested?

A. Yes.

Q. 142. And in which you acted in connection with him in one capacity or another?

A. Yes.

Q. 143. Has any examination been made in any of those letter books to see whether there is copied in any one of them a letter of August 8, 1895, from Mr. Bigelow to Mr. Woodhull, relating to the issue of 20,000 shares of the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. I do not know.

Q. 144. You do not know? You do not know whether any investigation has been made by any one?

A. I do not.

Q. 145. Have you made any investigation of any of these books?

A. No, I have not.

Q. 146. Have you made any search other than in these two letter books which you have produced to-day, "Letter book No. 4, A. S. B." and "Private letter book No. 6, A. S. B."?

A. I have not looked that up.

Q. 147. Was there, during the time that these two letter books were in use, so far as you know, any other letter book which appeared as "A. S. Bigelow," or "A. S. B. letter book," specifically?

A. Why, this one, No. 4.

Q. 148. Other than those two?

A. No.

Q. 149. Have you made any search to ascertain whether there was or not?

A. No, I have not.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I recall that Mr. Hyams said he did have search made for another book.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I understand, but he did not testify that Mr. Chrimes had made search.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: You never produced that letter book, Mr. Brandeis? I am speaking from recollection.

Mr. BRANDEIS: No.

Q. 150. Will you take each of the letter books covering the period of 1895, which are in the office at Sears building, between July 1 and September 1, 1895, and see whether there is not copied in those letter books a letter from Mr. Bigelow to Maxwell Woodhull dated August 8, 1895, acknowledging the receipt of a letter from 513 Mr. Woodhull of August 7, 1895, begining as follows, substantially, "I received your letter of the 7th. You are right in presuming the 20,000 shares which has been offered to be treasury stock." And will you, in making that examination, take note of the description of each letter book as shown customarily by the designation of the book, and also if you find such letter, produce the letter book containing such letter, produce that letter book?

A. Yes.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Have we the Woodhull letter in evidence?

Mr. BRANDEIS: No; that I want to call for.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Was the actual letter produced from them to us?

Mr. BRANDEIS: No. He was asked for that, I do not know whether he has found it since.

Q. 151. And will you also, in examining those, look into the index of each of those letter books for letters addressed to Mr. Woodhull, to make sure whether or not there is in the letter book a letter to him bearing date August 8, as well as making specific investigation of the pages covering the letters between the dates named—July 1 and October 1?

A. Yes.

Q. 152. And also note whether between the dates named there are any pages which have been torn from the letter book, and make note of all of those so as to be able to testify in regard thereto after your examination is completed?

A. Yes, I will.

Q. 153. Now, Mr. Chrimes, will you also make search among the letters of Mr. Bigelow, to Mr. Bigelow, to see whether there is among them any letter to Maxwell Woodhull dated August 2, 1895, and if found, produce such letter; and if you do not find the same, be able to state fully what search you have made for the letter?

A. Yes.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I think if you were to show us a letter with what purports to be Mr. Bigelow's signature, we would admit it for what it is worth. If there appears to be a letter of August 8, 1895, purporting to contain his signature, then if you have the letter which called out that letter of August 8, there you are.

[Examination of the witness suspended and subsequently resumed.]

The WITNESS: My duty between now and the — of next month is not only to make out four thousand or more checks and accounts, which must be done and handed back to the dividend clerk to be sent out, but, in addition, to take care of Mr. Bigelow's estate, of Mrs. Bigelow's estate, and attend to the other daily work concerning the transfer of certificates that come into the office. Now if you want me to hunt this up carefully, it is a physical impossibility for me to do it until after that. For instance, Mr. Ladd is 514 going away shortly, about the 1st of August, for a few weeks; Mr. Bigelow is going away and will not be back until September, which leaves me alone in the office there, and it will be impossible for me to take up this thing for more than a month.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Well, we must give you the time which you require to make the investigation thorough and complete so that when you come to testify you will be able to testify as to having made a thorough investigation.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Will you limit the time as far as you can, as to dates? You have now made it from——

Mr. BRANDEIS: From July till October.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Those are the dates you have fixed.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Well, Mr. Chrimes, we must recognize that you have this work to do and that you have to do it.

The WITNESS: There is nobody else to do it.

Mr. BRANDEIS: You go on and do it as fast as you can.

The WITNESS: It is a matter of business; it involves four thousand or five thousand different people.

Q. 154. Now, Mr. Chrimes, what have you had to do, if anything, in the way of the care of letter books and other papers in connection with Mr. Bigelow's office, relating to the Old Dominion Syndicate and the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. Very little.

Q. 155. At the time the testimony of Mr. Bigelow was taken in this case, you will recall that you brought to our office, from the offices of Mr. Bigelow, these papers. What had you had to do with collecting the papers then?

A. Well, Mr. Bigelow, I believe, told me to get what Old Dominion letter books, papers, and so on that there were in the office, and to put them in piles, which I did. Then I was ordered to bring them down here, which I did; meantime they were kept in the safe in one particular place.

Q. 156. Where had they been before you collected them then?

A. Well, if I remember right, they were kept formerly in letter files in the general office in the Sears building.

Q. 157. Were they kept separate and apart from other papers?

A. Well, only so far as—for instance, in a bookcase, Old Dominion might have had one and A. S. Bigelow might have another, and so on.

Q. 158. Did you find all of these at that time together?

A. I do not know; I do not remember.

515 Q. 159. Did you yourself at that time make any examination of these letters or papers?

A. I did not.

Q. 160. Who did make an examination of them after you had collected, in a general way, all that you believed related to that matter?

A. Well, I should say possibly I did go through these letter books, I think, and put in these slips; I think I did put in these little slips.

Q. 161. Did you act under the instructions of Mr. Hyams in that?

A. I think I did.

Q. 162. Was it he or you who made the investigation at that time into all the papers there were relating to this case?

A. I think we did it together.

Q. 163. You worked with him?

A. Yes.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: That is after you requested us to go over them?

Q. 164. Well, do you recall whether or not the collection of the papers and investigation made by you was after you were requested, or Mr. Bigelow was requested, to appear and produce these papers for the purpose of an investigation?

A. I think it was.

Q. 165. Or did you make it earlier?

A. I think it was after the books had been here once.

Q. 166. That is, you did not make any investigation until the books were first produced by Mr. Bigelow?

A. Not that I remember.

Q. 167. Do you recall at any time of making specific search for a letter from Mr. Woodhull, dated August 7, 1895, to Mr. Bigelow?

A. I do not.

Q. 168. Or for the copy of a letter on August 8, from Mr. Bigelow to Mr. Woodhull?

A. No.

Q. 169. Will you now tell me, as well as you can remember, who were the boys or clerks who would have to do with the filing of the letters in 1895 in Mr. Bigelow's office?

A. I could not tell you; there have been so many in and out there since, I do not remember who was there then.

Q. 170. You do not remember who did the work of filing at that time?

A. I do not.

Q. 171. Are any of those who were there in 1895 there in the office now?

A. I should say not. There are only three boys there now and I think they were not there in 1895; but it was the boys' work to file letters in those years.

Q. 172. Who are the boys who are there now?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: They have become men since, I suppose.

516 A. I meant boys when I said "boys." There are three boys there now.

Q. 173. Let me put it in another way: Are there any men there now who were boys in the office in 1895?

A. Well, Mr. Brandeis, I will tell you who there were there in 1895, as far as I can remember; there were C. H. Bissell and J. H. Beal. You mean the clerks, of course, out in the general office?

Q. 174. Yes. Shepard was there?

A. Yes, but he is not there now. I think those are the only two who are there now in the office.

Q. 175. Who assisted you in getting the papers and books together at the time you collected them for Mr. Bigelow's deposition?

A. I think all hands did. I told the clerks to go to work on it to help me get them out.

Q. 176. Who were the ones who helped you?

A. I could not tell you.

Q. 177. You do not know who they were?

A. I do not know; probably Bissell.

Q. 178. What are the names of the boys or men, whoever they were, who might have helped you in the work of getting together the books and the papers?

A. I think Bissell may have been the most active.

Q. 179. Yes, but Beal may have helped you?

A. Yes.

Q. 180. Were not there any of the younger men who helped you?

A. I do not think so.

Q. 181. Do you know who the boys are now who are in subordinate positions who may have been there when you collected these books and papers?

A. There are only two men or two boys, call them what you will, who were in the office in 1895, besides myself; that is Mr. Bissell and Mr. Beal. I think the rest are all newcomers, and the others who were there before have passed out.

Q. 182. What I am referring now to is: I want to find out who the persons were, regardless of when they came into the office, who helped you at the time you collected these books and papers for Mr. Bigelow's deposition?

A. I do not think anybody did; possibly Mr. Hyams might have helped me, Mr. Bissell and Mr. Beal. I do not think of anybody else.

Q. 183. Have you here the letter books containing, or which are supposed to contain, the letters relating to the Old Dominion Syndicate, letters received by Mr. Bigelow?

A. I do not know. I have two or three letter books here, but what they contain I do not know.

Q. 184. Will you take these letter books now and make search in those letter books, and see whether you find in them a letter from Mr. Woodhull to Mr. Bigelow, under date of August 7, 1895?

517 Mr. LAUTERBACH: Mr. Hyams went all through that, you know; but, of course, you are entitled to inquire.

Mr. BRANDEIS: These letter books were not so arranged that there might not have been some error. Cross-examination, I suppose, of this witness will give us the information.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Yes. And that being so, there will be no further witnesses to-day.

Mr. BRANDEIS: No.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Then I might catch the 5 o'clock train?

Mr. BRANDEIS: Why, certainly.

9506

A. [Having examined a letter book.] This book is up to December 23, 1895, and I do not find any such letter.

Q. 185. When does it begin?

A. I have been through book "No. 25 private, A. S. Bigelow," and find no such letter.

Q. 186. You mean you find no letter of Woodhull to Bigelow of August 7, 1895?

A. Yes.

Q. 187. Did you find in this letter book any letter from Woodhull dated August 7, 1895?

A. I think I did.

Q. 188. Was that letter addressed to some person other than Mr. Bigelow?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. It was.

Q. 189. Did that letter have any reference to the Old Dominion enterprise?

A. I did not read the letter, and therefore do not know.

Q. 190. Was the letter addressed to Thomas Nelson?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I do not know.

Q. 191. Do you mean to say that you did not make any investigation as to whom that letter was addressed to?

A. I mean I do not know whether it was addressed to Thomas Nelson personally, or to Thomas Nelson, treasurer; that is what I meant by my answer.

Q. 192. It was addressed to either Thomas Nelson personally, or to Thomas Nelson as treasurer?

518 [Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I think it was.

Q. 193. Thomas Nelson was treasurer of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, was he not?

A. I think so.

Q. 194. Now will you produce that letter?

Mr. HEMENWAY: I prefer that Mr. Lauterbach should have an opportunity to make any objection that he wishes to make before the letter is produced.

Mr. BRANDEIS: You mean by that, Mr. Hemenway, that you decline to permit the letter to be produced at all, or merely that you desire to reserve all objections?

Mr. HEMENWAY: No, I say I will not produce it at this time.

Q. 195. Is it not a fact, Mr. Chrimes, that that letter contained a reference to 20,000 shares of treasury's stock?

[Counsel for defendants objects to the question as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I don't know, Mr. Brandeis; I did not read the letter.

Q. 196. Will you examine the letter and see whether or not it does not relate to the Old Dominion Syndicate, or to the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Until I have consulted with Mr. Lauterbach, I decline to submit the letter to the examination of the witness at this time.

Q. 197. You stated that you found in the files letters from Mr. Woodhull, two on August 5, one on August 7, one on August 19; will you produce those letters?

A. By consent of counsel.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Do counsel consent to those letters being produced?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Not at the present time.

Mr. BRANDEIS: On what ground do you decline to have the letters produced?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Because the letters are incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial; and also for the reason that Mr. Lauterbach is especially interested in this testimony, and that he ought to be allowed to see these letters before they are submittd to counsel on the other side or to the witness for production, these books not being in the custody of this witness. So far as any letters are addressed to Mr. Lewisohn or addressed to Mr. Bigelow, those I will produce,—written on those dates.

519 Q. 198. Is this book in which you found the letter from Mr. Woodhull dated August 7, 1895, to Thomas Nelson or to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, which I am asking you to produce and which Mr. Hemenway has refused to permit you to produce,—was this book containing that letter brought up by you to this examination as in response to the request to produce all letters and books relating to the Old Dominion matter?

A. I think it was.

Q. 199. Well, you know it was, don't you? That is one of the books which you physically brought in your bag to this office, is it not?

A. It was to-day, and I think it was on the other days.

Q. 200. It certainly was brought here to-day?

A. Yes, I brought it to-day.

Q. 201. And that same book was here when Mr. Bigelow was examined, was it not?

A. I believe so.

Q. 202. And that letter was in it at that time, was it not?

A. I do not know whether it was or not; I suppose it was.

Mr. HEMENWAY: I desire to state that the witness brought these books at my suggestion to this office for my use; that the notice was given to me requesting him to produce these books; that the witness does not produce them in accordance with that notice, but in accordance with my request, the books being the private books of Mr. Bigelow; and I do not feel authorized to submit any books or papers that are absolutely incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial at the present time,—in my opinion.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Do you claim this letter is absolutely immaterial and incompetent?

Mr. HEMENWAY: I do, at present.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Do you claim that it is the property of Mr. Bigelow?

Mr. HEMENWAY: I do not know.

Mr. BRANDEIS: It has been produced from Mr. Bigelow's possession, has it not?

Mr. HEMENWAY: It has not.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Where has this letter come from?

Mr. HEMENWAY: This letter was found in Mr. Bigelow's office and I decline to be further interrogated by counsel at this time.

Q. 203. I call your attention Int. No. 589 in the deposition of A. S. Bigelow and a conversation and remarks of counsel there following.

A. Are you talking to me?

Q. 204. Yes. I am calling your attention to this, as follows:—

520 "Will you make further search in your letter book for a copy of a letter of August 8, 1895, also for the original letter of August 7, 1895?

"Mr. LAUTERBACH: I think he has already made answer that he has made search and that he has no other letter.

"Mr. BRANDEIS: I still believe that the search is not complete.

"Mr. HEMENWAY: It is a matter that is not material.

"The WITNESS: How is the letter signed, Mr. Brandeis?

"Mr. LAUTERBACH: This is mythical."

I ask you now Mr. Chrimes, whether you made search at that time, when Mr. Bigelow was being examined, for a letter from Mr. Woodhull of August 7?

A. I do not know. I do not think so. I simply went through that letter book, and I do not think I searched for any particular letter.

Q. 205. Is that the letter book in which are contained the letters which were produced, having been received by Mr. Bigelow from Mr. Woodhull?

Mr. HEMENWAY: How does he know when he was not there at all?

A. I do not know.

Mr. HEMNEWAY: And I further say that if you have any letter from Mr. Bigelow on August 8, 1895, we will admit it at once and avoid all this search and all these questions.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Well, we have here a letter of August 7 from Mr. Woodhull, which is apparently a letter of August 7, which we desire to get, and you do not admit it at once, on the contrary, after having received that letter, you have sedulously refused to admit it. That does not give promise of your admitting anything unless you are obliged to.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Your remarks are entirely unnecessary. The letters of Woodhull are not admissible against Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn's representatives unless they were received by them and answered. You assume to have the answer by your course of conduct. We do not know of and have not found such an answer; if you have in your possession any letter written by Mr. Bigelow we will not put you to the trouble of proving it, but admit it forthwith; and my declining to admit Mr. Woodhull's letters to a third person in no way connected with Mr. Bigelow, as far as this suit is concerned, is not a warrant for saying that I will refuse to admit a letter . . by Mr. Bigelow to Mr. Woodhull.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Do you now state, and wish the court to understand, that Thomas Nelson was in no way connected with 521 Mr. Bigelow in relation to the Old Dominion Syndicate, or the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, or in relation to the stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company which Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn took and for which the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company is now seeking redress in the court?

Mr. HEMENWAY: My statement is on record and I decline further discussion.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I call the attention of counsel for Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn to the fact that Thomas Nelson was the treasurer of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company on August 7, 1895; that he was a director of the company; that he was associated with Mr. Bigelow, and that he received, as appears by the testimony of Mr. Bigelow and of Mr. Hyams, 4240 out of 50,000 shares of stock which are the subject of this suit and of the other suits brought against Bigelow and the Lewisohn estate for the recovery of stock wrongfully taken by the promoters, and again ask Mr. Hemenway whether he desires the court to understand that a letter addressed by Mr. Woodhull, a subscriber to the syndicate and to the treasury stock, and relating to the treasury stock, is a matter which is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial?

Mr. HEMENWAY: I fail to see how a statement which is made by counsel can in any way make these declarations of Mr. Woodhull, either in writing or orally, admissible in this case.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I will put one more question in relation to the search:

Q. 206. When you make that search for letters in the letter books connected with the Bigelow offices, referred to in Int. 153, will you also search for any letter or letters under date of August 8, 1895, addressed to Mr. Woodhull, signed by any one, either in the name of Mr. Bigelow or any other name, relating to the Old Dominion Syndicate, or the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, or which appear to be in answer to any letter of Woodhull to Thomas Nelson or to Thomas Nelson, Treasurer, dated August 7, 1895, which you have seen to-day in your examination here, which Mr. Hemenway has declined to permit you to produce?

A. I will.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I further request that this letter being written and addressed to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, should be delivered to the present officers of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, or to us, as its counsel, and herewith demand the delivery of that letter as being the property of the company and not the property of Mr. Bigelow or of any one whom Mr. Hemenway is authorized to represent. Have you anything to say to that,
522 Mr. Hemenway?

[Mr. Hemenway makes no reply and Mr. Brandeis requests the stenographer to read the demand to Mr. Hemenway.]

[The last preceding paragraph of this record was read by the stenographer.]

Mr. BRANDEIS: Mr. Brandeis further calls Mr. Hemenway's attention to the fact that the letter which he demands, as above stated, is a letter of Woodhull to Nelson, dated August 7, 1895, as to which Mr. Chrimes has just testified.

Q. 207. Mr. Chrimes, Mr. Nelson is dead, is he not?
A. He is.
Q. 208. How long has he been dead?
A. I do not know.
Q. 209. Well, about how many years?
A. I should say about seven; I do not remember the date, Mr. Brandeis, any nearer than that; I think about seven years.

[The further examination of Mr. Chrimes was postponed to a date not fixed.]

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET,
BOSTON, October 27, 1905.

[The taking of the deposition of Walter A. S. Chrimes was resumed, Mr. Brandeis continuing his direct examination.]

Q. 210. Will you now produce the letter of August 7 from Mr. Maxwell Woodhull to Mr. Nelson, which you found in the course of your examination of the letter book at your examination on July 19?
A. Shall I do it, Mr. Hemenway?

[At this point the examination of the witness was suspended for a short time, and upon being resumed Int. 210 and answer were read by the stenographer.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: Your answer to that may be—you have asked me the question—the letter is not in my possession.
THE WITNESS: I haven't the letter to produce, and therefore cannot produce it.
Mr. HEMENWAY: I have the letter in my possession on the table before me.
Mr. BRANDEIS: Mr. Hemenway, will you now produce that letter of August 7, 1895, so that I may put it in evidence?
Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendant produces the letter, but objects to its admissibility, on the ground that it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, it being a letter written by Maxwell Woodhull to Thomas Nelson, Esq., neither Woodhull nor Nelson being 523 parties to this suit.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I offer in evidence the letter, subject, of course, to defendant's objection. The letter is as follows:

"The Aldine,
Spring Lake Beach, N. Jersey,
AUGUST 7th, 1895

Thomas Nelson, Esquire, Treasurer, &c., Old Dominion Syndicate, Boston, Mass.,

DEAR Mr. NELSON: I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of the 6th of August, in which you say:

'We have changed our minds somewhat since then' (when I was last in Boston, August 1st) 'and have pretty much decided—in fact, I suppose we have decided, as it has been left to me to settle—to give up all our rights to the 20,000 shares which we subscribed for in the first place. Now, under these circumstances, I think it is only right to let you increase your subscription to the amount you had intended and requested. Will you please let me know how much that was as soon as possible, as I have to make up my mind about the allotment right off.'

I presume these 20,000 shares are the treasury shares intended to be sold to produce the necessary $500,000 of cash working capital. Is it not so?

In reply to your letter of the 6th I beg to say that I wished when in Boston to subscribe for six hundred shares (600) additional, and, therefore now subscribe firm for six hundred shares (600 shares) additional to my former subscription, to this issue of 20,000 shares of treasury stock of Old Dominion Syndicate stock. This subscription will give 1800 shares.

I am exceedingly sorry that I did not know of this arrangement on August 1st as I had my money arrangements then made to pay for the additional Old Dominion stock. On learning that the subscription was closed, I at once, i. e., before leaving Boston, last Thursday, bought 300 shares of Rock Island, and I have also bought 300 shares C. B. & Q. through Riggs & Co., taking out of my collateral with them my Old Dominion receipts in order to make said purchase. This purchase of 600 shares of R. R. stock within the past few days will make it necessary for me to have as much time as you can give me to arrange for the money to pay you for the six hundred shares of Old Dominion herein subscribed for.

I am going to Narragansett Pier on Thursday, August 15, whence, after settling my mother and sister for a few weeks' stay I 524 shall go West on my usual yearly trip. I shall probably have to run on to Boston to arrange money matters to pay for these new shares of Old Dominion, but don't want to do so before I go hence on the 15th of August for Narragansett Pier, as I should have so soon to retrace my steps.

Please therefore telegraph me tomorrow latest date at which payment on this six hundred share subscription, amounting to $15,000 can be made, and write me fully in the premises, by the same day's mail.

Please note the subscription of my young cousin, Mr. Oswald N. Cammann for (15) fifteen shares Old Dominion Syndicate. I presume that he can get this stock under the present issue.

When will the Old Dominion stock certificates be ready for issue? It's very difficult to do anything with the receipts in the way of collateral. It will be a decided convenience to have the certificates issued as soon as possible.

I am arranging all my money matters so that I can go West a little after the middle of the month. Can you tell me what Dividend Boston & Montana will pay in November? With the increased price of copper, I don't suppose there is any doubt about the December Tamarack dividend.

Very truly yours,

MAXWELL WOODHULL."

Q. 211. Have you found, Mr. Chrimes, a copy of the letter of August 8, addressed to Mr. Woodhull, which contains the reply to this letter of August 7?

A. No, sir.

Q. 212. Have you made any search for such letter?

A. I have.

Q. 213. Will you now describe in detail exactly what search you have made since your examination on July 19 for the letter or copy of the letter of August 8?

A. I will say, Mr. Brandeis, that my wife has been very sick all summer, and I took her away for a month to Europe. A copy of my testimony was given to me on the 4th of October, and, having been away a month, naturally I was busy, and I didn't get to work on it till the 10th of October. I made some notes as I went along, which I have here.

I commenced by numbering our various receptacles for books, and I numbered the different receptacles, and called them cases, from 1 to 6. I also numbered four safes, and called them 1, 2, 3, and 4. I began by counting the books in the different cases. I found 91 books in No. 1, and a miscellaneous lot of certificate books, but no letter books in No. 2 receptacle.

525 Q. 214. Were there any letter books in No. 1?

A. 91 of various kinds, mostly letter books; there were 91 books by count. In case No. 3 there were 207 books and letter books; in No. 4 there were 3 books; in No. 5 there were 50 books, and in No. 6 there were 38 books.

Q. 215. By "books" you mean letter books in each instance, I suppose?

A. Yes; letters copied and received.

Q. 216. Were all the books letter books?

A. No. Some were certificate books; there might have been one or two, or a dozen, but they were principally letter books, and they concerned the Tamarack, the Tamarack agent's book, Kearsarge Mining Company books, Butte Water Company books, Tamarack-Osceola Manufacturing Company; Merced Gold Mining Company, Iroquois Copper Company, Lake Superior Smelting Company.

This is as of October 10. I searched Tamarack book No. 34 from July 1, 1895, to August 19, 1895, and found nothing. I also examined No. 35 Tamarack from September 2 to September 30. Those were both letter books in which were pasted letters received, and they contained nothing on the subject.

October 10. Examined No. 12, letters received, Tamarack-Osceola Copper Manufacturing Company, from July, 1895, to September, 1895, and found nothing.

October 10. Examined Merced No. 2, July, 1895, to September, 1895; found nothing. "Examined books between above dates as fast as found"—that is the note I made as I went along.

October 10. Examined No. 11, Tamarack letters received July to September, 1895. Letters to Woodhull April to October, 1895, pp. 187, 218, 233, 361, 387, 521, 711. Found an extra unnumbered page between 523 and 524, which had been numbered 523½. Nothing concerning O. D. in any of above letters for Woodhull. Spent two and a half hours to-day in research.

The next day is October 12. Continued search of books in case No. 1. Examined Butte Water book, letters received, No. C, between July and September, 1895; found nothing. Examined clerk Tamarack No. 2, July to September, 1895; found nothing. Examined Merced No. 1, received July 1 to 13, 1895; found nothing. Examined Kearsarge No. 5, received; found nothing.

October 12. Examined Iroquois Copper Company, letters received, No. 1; nothing found. Spent about four hours to-day in research, particularly looking for a letter from Woodhull to A. S. Bigelow, dated August 7, 1895. Finished case No. 1.

The next date is October 13. Began on case No. 2; mostly old certificate books; nothing bearing on the subject.

526 Began on case No. 3,—contains Laurium, Dollar Bay, Hancock & Calumet Railroad, Albany & Boston, Osceola, Beaver Mining Company, Detroit & Lake Superior Copper Company. Examined Osceola, letters received, No. 13, and Osceola received, No. 14, July to September, 1895; found nothing. Examined Osceola clerk's, No. 10; found nothing between July and September. Examined Iroquois letters; no number on book; contained copies of letters July to September, 1895; found nothing.

October 13. Still working on case No. 3. Examined agent Kearsarge No. 2, July to September, 1895; found nothing. Examined clerk's No. 2, Kearsarge, July to September, 1895; found nothing. Examined Tamarack, Nos. 30 and 31, letters received; found nothing. Examined Tamarack Junior, letters copied, No. 2. Letters to Woodhull on pages 217 and 378, the first being date November 6, 1891, signed by A. S. Bigelow, president; the second being dated January 23, 1893, from T. Nelson. Found nothing from June 28, 1895, to September 5, 1895. There were no pages missing, neither were there any insertions.

Working on case No. 3. Examined letters copied, No. 14, Osceola, June 29, 1895, to September 3, 1895. No letters indexed to Woodhull, and none copied between June 29 and September 3, 1895. No pages missing and no insertions.

Finished with No. 3 and began work in safe No. 1. Didn't find any letter books dated July to September, 1895.

October 13. Began work in safe No. 2; finished this safe. Didn't find any letter books bearing date July to September, 1895. Spent four hours to-day in research.

October 16. Search began with case No. 4; finished with No. 4; found nothing. Began on No. 5, between June 30, 1895, and September, 1895. Hulbert Mining Company, letters received, no number; found nothing. Letters received, letter A, Butte City Water Company, July 2, 1895, to September 3, 1895; nothing indexed to Woodhull between those two dates, and found nothing. No pages missing and no extra pages. In case No. 5 the books principally were letters received and copied, A. S. B., C. M. H., Tamarack-Osceola Manufacturing Company, advices of sales of wire, etc.; nothing found. Finished with No. 5.

October 16. Began on No. 6. Contains principally letters in files later than 1895, and also letters copied, Osceola, Tamarack, Isle Royale, Ainneek, Butte Water, Merced, W. J. Ladd, Laurium, Seneca, Boston & Lake Superior Mineral Land Company, Kearsarge, and Lake Superior Smelting Company. Examined Lake Superior Smelting Company, July to September, 1895, letters copied, No. 1; nothing indexed to Woodhull; nothing missing nor inserted 527 between those dates. Examined letters copied, No. 3, Kearsarge; nothing indexed to Woodhull in book, and no letters copied between above dates.

October 16. Still on No. 6. Examined letters copied, No. 2, Tamarack-Osceola Copper Manufacturing Company; nothing indexed to Woodhull. Page 551, letter of G. Stellway, treasurer, to W. H. Rowe, dated August 29, 1895, had been torn out and pasted in between pages 549 and 550. Found nothing relating to Old Dominion. Examined letters copied, Dollar Bay Land & Improvement Company; back binding of this book had been removed; found nothing in relation to Woodhull between July and September.

Examined letters copied Boston & Lake Superior Mineral Land Company, without number; nothing found between July and September.

Still on No. 6, October 16. Examined Merced letters copied; back binding of book removed. Found letters indexed to Woodhull on pages 25, 27, 53, 131, 195, 255, 296, 361, 411, 580, 589, 634, 638, 644, 660, 666. The only letter to Woodhull between July 1 and September 4, 1895, was one dated August 6, 1895, signed "Thomas Nelson, by Bissell." This letter was marked "Cancelled" in two places across the face, and had not been indexed, and appeared on page 374. There were no pages missing and no insertion between above dates.

October 16. Still on No. 6. Found nothing further, and finished with No. 6. Examined vault in 311; nothing bearing on subject there. Examined vault in 309; nothing bearing on subject here excepting books which had been brought to the hearings. Spent about four hours in research to-day, and I have made a note at the bottom: "I can think of no other receptacle for books, and therefore discontinue my search."

Q. 217. Do you wish to be understood as saying that you have examined all of the books that are in the Bigelow offices, or the offices of the companies with which Mr. Bigelow is connected, which cover the year 1895?

A. I have done so.

Q. 218. And that you have examined all of those books specifically to see what letters there were between July, and October 1 to Maxwell Woodhull?

A. I have examined all the books in that office.

Q. 219. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that the only copy of any letter that was sent to Maxwell Woodhull that you found, during that period, was this letter of August 6, 1895, signed "Thomas Nelson, by Bissell," and which you said was marked "Cancelled"?

A. During that search, yes.

Q. 220. What do you mean by saying "During that search"?

A. During the search which I have referred to in these notes.

528 Q. 221. What other letters have you found at any other time than during this recent search?

A. Have you any reference to the letters which were found in these books here?

Q. 222. You mean by that the books which have been previously introduced in evidence?

A. I will state that I haven't touched those books since we left here.

Q. 223. When you say that you haven't touched those books since you left here, you refer to letter-press copy books marked "A. S. B. letters 4," and "A. S. B. private letters 6," now shown you?

A. I refer to the letter books which have been brought here to-day; those are a part of them, I suppose.

Q. 224. There is another letter book here marked on the back "Merced;" do you refer, also, to that letter book?

A. That is one that contains the letter which is marked "Cancelled," that I referred to in my notes.

Q. 225. Was that letter of August 6, which you say was marked "Cancelled," the only letter in the letter book marked "Merced," which you have now before you, that is addressed to Mr. Woodhull?

A. That is the only letter to Woodhull that I found relating to Old Dominion in that book.

Q. 226. Were those marks in the book now before you put in by you,—the papers marking place, were they put in by you?

A. The only mark which I put in is this mark which is beside page 374, where the letter to Woodhull is.

Q. 227. Will you now turn to that letter to Woodhull of August 6, and show me the letter?

A. Certainly.

[Counsel for defendant objects to the showing of the letter to counsel, but as a matter of courtesy allows him to inspect it.]

Mr. BRANDEIS: I offer that letter in evidence.

[Counsel for defendant objects to the admissibility of the letter as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, being correspondence between other parties than parties to the suit.]

Mr. BRANDEIS: The letter is as follows:—

"BOSTON, MASS., August 6th, 1895.

Maxwell Woodhull, Esq., The Aldine, Spring Lake Beach, New Jersey.

MY DEAR SIR: I remember you wished to increase your subscription to the Old Dominion, over and above what you 529 had a right to take from your original subscription, and, if I remember rightly, we told you that we could not allow you to do it as there would not be any stock to divide up.

We have changed our minds since then and have pretty much decided,—in fact, I suppose we have decided, as it has been left to me to settle,—to give up all our rights to the 20,000 shares which we subscribed for in the first place. Now, under these circumstances, I think it is only right to let you increase your subscription to the amount that you had intended and requested. Will you please let me know how much that was as soon as possible, as I have to make up my mind about the allotment right off.

Yours very truly,

THOMAS NELSON,
By BISSELL."

[Across the face of the letter is written "Cancelled" "Cancelled."]

Q. 228. Is this Merced letter book indexed?

A. Yes.

Q. 229. This letter of August 6 is on page 374?

A. Yes.

Q. 230. On what page is the next letter to Mr. Woodhull?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. By the index it is 411.

Q. 231. What is the date of that next letter?

A. July 8, 1896.

Q. 232. What search did you make, prior to October 10, for letters bearing in any way upon this controversy?

A. No search excepting that which we made at the last hearing.

Q. 233. You mean at the hearing on July 19?

A. Yes.

Q. 234. When you were examined?

A. Yes.

Q. 235. Hadn't you, previous to that time, made an examination, either alone or in connection with some other person, of the books and papers relating to Old Dominion Syndicate or Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company matters?

A. I don't know as I made any examination of any papers.

Q. 236. Did you have anything to do with any papers; and if so, what,—or books, of course?

A. I think there was a search made for some letters, and I believe I assisted in putting some of those papers in at those various pages; what they were I am unable to say.

Q. 237. Did you make that examination alone or in connection with some other person?

A. I believe Mr. Hyams and I did that together.

530 Q. 238. When did you do it?

A. A short time after we were asked to produce these books, I believe; soon after this suit was started.

Q. 239. Did you at that time examine any letter-press copy book except those marked "A. S. B., No. 6, private," and "A. S. B., letters 4"?

A. Did I look at any others?

Q. 240. Yes, at that time.

A. No, I don't think I did.

Q. 241. Why not?

A. I don't know why I didn't.

Q. 242. Why did you select those books for your examination?

A. Which? Those which are on the table now?

Q. 243. The letter-press copy book marked "A. S. B., 4," and the letter-press copy book marked "A. S. B., private No. 6."

A. I don't think I had any hand in the selection of them.

Q. 244. Who did select those books for examination?

A. I don't know.

Q. 245. By whom were they handed to you for examination?

A. My recollection is that they were never handed to me.

Q. 246. Where did you get them?

A. I believe they were on a table in Mr. Bigelow's office; I believe we went through them there.

Q. 247. You were invited by Mr. Hyams to go through them with him?

A. Either Mr. Hyams or Mr. Bigelow, I don't know which.

Q. 248. And those are the only letter-press copy books that you had examined prior to October 10?

A. I think so; I don't remember any others.

Q. 249. Now were there among the books which you examined on October 10 and subsequently, any letter books of Thomas Nelson?

A. I don't remember seeing a letter book of Thomas Nelson in any of those cases. I believe I made a note of every book that there was in those cases as I went along.

Q. 250. Do you recall that Thomas Nelson had any letter book, or used any book for making copies of letters written by him, other than the books in the office which you examined October 10 and subsequently, and these two letter books marked "A. S. B. No. 4" and "A. S. B. private No. 6," covering this period of 1895?

A. I know that years ago he had a private letter book, of course.

Q. 251. What has become of that private letter book?

A. How do I know? Mr. Nelson has been dead for seven or eight years, and I presume the executors of his estate took those things which belonged to him which were in the office.

Q. 252. You have no knowledge on that subject?

A. No.

Q. 253. So far as you know, the letter book has not been removed from the office since this suit was begun?

531 A. I have not seen the letter book. I don't know anything about whether it was removed since, or before, or whether the executors took it when he died. I have no knowledge whatever of Thomas Nelson's private letter book, in relation to its removal.

Q. 254. When did you last see it, so far as you can remember?

A. I don't know; I haven't any idea.

Q. 255. I show you now a printed circular marked "Exhibit 6, Oct. 11, 1904," which is a paper put in evidence in connection with the deposition of Mr. Charles H. Altmiller, and ask you whether you recall that circular, or the circular of which that is a sample?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not, Mr. Brandeis.

Q. 256. Do you see anything on that circular which is in your handwriting?

A. Why, yes.

Q. 257. What?

A. That writing and that writing, and that and that.

Q. 258. Will you read the words that are in your handwriting?

A. "Mr. Nelson said call this unsold."

Q. 259. That is written in red ink?

A. Written in red ink: "100," "82500," 'Are now ready."

Q. 260. What else?

A. "O. N. Pierce, Grinnell Mfg. Co., New Bedford, Mass."

Q. 261. That circular was made out by you originally—the blank was filled in by you, was it not?

A. Yes.

Q. 262. And subsequently the words, "Mr. Nelson said call this unsold," were written by you, and was recording the statement made by Mr. Nelson to you and the instructions which he gave you?

A. I presume so.

Q. 263. Do you know Mr. O. N. Pierce?

A. I do not.

Q. 264. Or his handwriting?

A. I do not.

Q. 265. Do you recall whether you filled out blanks in the other circulars which were sent out in that form to subscribers to stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 266. Was that a part of your duty at that time?

A. I think it may have been.

Q. 267. You think it was, do you not?
A. I cannot say. In other words, I don't know whether I worked alone on those or not, Mr. Brandeis.
532 Q. 268. That is, either you alone, or you in connection with somebody else, sent out these notices?
A. Yes.
Q. 269. Of which that is a sample,—notices to subscribers, of which that is a sample?
A. Yes.
Q. 270. Who was the other person, or persons, who worked with you, if you didn't do it alone?
A. I think likely Mr. Bissell did.
Q. 271. I wish to ask you now as to whether or not you know of the deaths of certain persons who have appeared on this list as subscribers to the syndicate or to the stock. J. O. Weatherbee?
A. Dead.
Q. 272. Do you know about when he died?
A. I should say about two years ago.
Q. 273. W. W. Grout?
A. General Grout is dead; he died at least four years ago.
Q. 274. Horace Stevens?
A. Horace Stevens is dead. I should say he died two years ago.
Q. 275. R. C. Billings?
A. Robert C. Billings died three years ago.
Q. 276. R. M. Field?
A. Field died about four years ago, at least.
Q. 277. Isaac Fenno?
A. Isaac Fenno has been dead for five years, I should say.
Q. 278. Gordon Prince?
A. Gordon Prince has been dead four or five years.
Q. 279. Joseph Rechert?
A. Five or six years.
Q. 280. George H. Ball?
A. Less than two years.
Q. 281. H. C. Moses?
A. I don't know whether he is dead or not.
Q. 282. Moses T. Stevens?
A. I don't know whether he is dead or not.
Q. 283. Samuel S. Stevens?
A. I don't know whether he is dead or not.
Q. 284. W. A. Tower?
A. I don't know him.
Q. 285. Of Tower, Giddings, Col. W. A. Tower, Henry Woods?
A. He has been dead about three years, I should say.

[This deposition is kept open for cross-examination, or for any further examination by plaintiffs, if, after it is written out, plaintiffs wish to put additional questions.]

Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

533 OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET,
BOSTON, October 27, 1905.

Deposition of Henry Wood.

HENRY WOOD, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., is answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. State your full name, residence, and occupation.

A. Henry Wood; Cambridge; literary work; I am an author.

Q. 2. What was your occupation in 1895?

A. The same.

Q. 3. I show you a paper marked "Exhibit 10, March 27, 1903," being a paper attached to the deposition of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, the paper itself being dated July 18, 1895, and purporting to be a subscription for the stock of the Old Dominion Mining & Smelting Company, and call your attention particularly to the name "Henry Wood one hundred shares (100)" on that paper, and ask you whether that is your signature?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. Where did you write your name and the subscription?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I think that was at Mr. Bigelow's office; that is my recollection.

Q. 5. In the Sears building?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. Did you subsequently take the one hundred shares of the stock for which you subscribed?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. How was the payment for that stock made; whether by check or in cash?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. One check for five hundred and one for two thousand.

Q. 8. Are the two canceled checks now shown you the checks which you gave, to which you have just referred?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. These are the checks.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I now introduce in evidence these checks and read them into the record as follows:

534 [Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

"$500. SEPTEMBER 17, 1895.

Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co.

Pay to the order of Thomas Nelson, Treasurer, Five hundred dollars.
No. 807. HENRY WOOD."

It is endorsed: "For deposit only to account of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Co., P. K. Dumaresq, Assistant Treasurer." It is marked "Paid, Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co."

"$2,000. SEPTEMBER 21, 1895.

Boston Safe Deposit & Trust Co.

Pay to order of Thomas Nelson, Treasurer, Two thousand dollars.
No. 809. HENRY WOOD."

This checks is endorsed: "For deposit only to account of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Trust Co., P. K. Dumaresq, Assistant Treasurer," and is marked "Paid," and canceled.

Q. 9. I show you now what purports to be a letter from you, dated September 17, 1895, addressed to Thomas Nelson, treasurer, and ask you whether that letter is in your handwriting?
A. It is; yes, sir.
Q. 10. The whole of it?
A. Yes, sir; written from Wentworth Hall, Jackson, N. H.
Q. 11. Will you read that letter in evidence?

[Objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. [Reading:]

"WENTWORTH HALL, JACKSON, N. H.,
September 17, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Treasurer.

DEAR SIR: I enclose check for $500 towards the 100 shares of Old Dominion subscribed for by me. I expect to return to the city on Friday and will call on Saturday and pay the balance and get the certificates.

Yours truly,
HENRY WOOD,
Of The Warren, Roxbury."

535 I lived in Roxbury at that time; I moved to Cambridge five years ago.
Q. 12. You did subsequently secure the certificate?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 13. I now hand you certificate No. A17 for 100 shares of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company's stock, standing in the name of Henry Wood, the certificate being dated September 19, 1895, and ask you whether that is the certificate that you received?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. It is the original certificate.

Q. 14. And that is your endorsement on the certificate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 15. Did you, prior to subscribing for that stock, have any conversation with Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn in relation to your subscription?

A. I don't think I ever met Mr. Lewisohn. I think I had a little conversation with Mr. Bigelow, naturally. As to the details of that conversation, I don't remember much.

Q. 16. Were you acquainted with Mr. Bigelow before you made that subscription?

A. Somewhat, yes, sir; I met him a few times.

Q. 17. Whether or not, before making the subscription, Mr. Bigelow stated to you anything as to his, or his and Mr. Lewisohn's, or his and his associates, purporting to take a block of this stock, 50,000 shares, or any number of shares of this stock, as compensation for their services or otherwise in getting up the company?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I don't think I inquired especially about the inside matters of the company. I bought the stock, thinking it was a good investment, on general principles, and I had had stock in Mr. Bigelow's companies before. If I did, I have no recollection of finding out the inside details or history of that stock; I have no recollection of it now.

Q. 18. Did you at any time hear that Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn and his associates had taken a large block of this stock for themselves?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, irrelevant, and leading.]

A. Do you mean previous to the subscription?

Q. 19. Yes, first, whether previous to the subscription?

A. No; I have no recollection of knowing about it previous to the subscription.

Q. 20. Did you at any time subsequent to the subscription hear anything to that effect?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

536 A. More recently from the papers and general notoriety; of course, I have heard of this difficulty, but not being interested in the company at present, I haven't looked into it at all, only in a very general way.

Q. 21. Then you first heard anything to that effect since you ceased to be interested in the company?

A. Yes, sir, so far as I remember.

Q. 22. When did you cease to be interested in the company?

A. In 1891 I sold the last share of stock I had.

[No cross-examination.]

[It is agreed that the original checks may be returned to Mr. Wood, and they are returned to him.]

Subscribed and sworn to before me this — day of November, 1905.

——— ———,
Notary Public.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET,
BOSTON, October 27, 1905.

Deposition of Stephen M. Crosby.

STEPHEN M. CROSBY, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. State your full name, residence, and occupation?

A. Stephen M. Crosby; 364 Marlborough street, Boston; no occupation.

Q. 2. What was your occupation in 1895?

A. I was president of the Massachusetts Loan & Trust Company.

Q. 3. And had been before that?

A. For several years; yes, sir.

Q. 4. When did you cease to be president of that company?

A. I am nominally still president, because the organization is kept alive, but I am not in any active management of matters.

537 Q. 5. I show you a paper marked "Exhibit 3, March 24, 1903," being an exhibit put in evidence in connection with the testimony of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, the paper being dated May 21, 1895, and call your attention to the words and figures on that paper, "Stephen M. Crosby $10,000:" is that in your handwriting?"

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. It seems to have been originally different. That is my signature, but as to the amount against it, I don't know anything about that.

Q. 6. That is, you mean by that to say you don't know whether the figures, $10,000, are in your handwriting or not?

A. I think they are not. My signature and handwriting is $20,000.

Q. 7. I call your attention now to another paper, marked "Exhibit 5, March 24, 1903," being an exhibit put in evidence with the deposition of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, and which exhibit is dated June 14, 1895, and call your attention again to the name and words "Stephen M. Crosby, Ten thousand dollars," and ask you whether that is in your handwriting?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. It is.

Q. 8. All of it?

A. It is all of it in my handwriting, yes.

Q. 9. Did you subsequently make the payment in pursuance of that subscription?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I did.

Q. 10. Are you able to state what payments you made?

A. I haven't any list of them nor any checks.

Q. 11. Did you receive the certificate or certificates for stock in the company in pursuance to this subscription?

[Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. I did; yes, sir.

Q. 12. I now show you certificate No. 213, for 1600 shares of stock in the name of Stephen M. Crosby, and ask you whether that is a certificate of stock received by you in pursuance of that subscription?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. It is.

538 Q. 13. And is the endorsement, "Stephen M. Crosby," in your handwriting?

A. It is.

Q. 14. And the date, September 30?

A. It is.

Q. 15. Referring now to the subscription paper bearing date May 21, 1895, the earlier of the two subscription papers, being Exhibit 3, are you able to state where you signed that paper?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I have no distinct recollection where that was signed.

Q. 16. Do you remember whether or not, prior to signing that paper, you had any conversation with Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn in relation to your subscription to the enterprise?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No, I have no recollection.

Q. 17. Referring now to the other subscription paper, marked "Exhibit 5," which was referred to as being of date of June 14, 1895, I ask you whether you recall where, or under what circumstances, you signed that second subscription paper?

[Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. No, none whatever.

Q. 18. Do you remember whether or not, prior to the signing of that second paper, you had any conversation with Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn in relation to the enterprise?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No, I have no distinct recollection at all.

Q. 19. Did Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow, at any time prior to the signing of either of those papers, say anything about their purposing to take 50,000 shares, or any number of shares, of the stock of this company as compensation for their services in promoting the syndicate or promoting the company, or anything to that effect?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No; I have no recollection of any such statement.

Q. 20. Did any such information come to you from any source prior to your signing either of those subscription papers?

539 [Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. No.

Q. 21. Did any such information come to you from Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow, or any other source prior to your paying the money under these subscriptions?

[Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.]

A. No.

Q. 22. Did any such information come to you from Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow, or any other source prior to your receiving the certificate for the stock in the company?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No.

Q. 23. Has any such information come to you at any time since?

A. Yes.

Q. 4. When?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I should think some two or three years ago. I think I heard it first from Mr. Smith, who had then become president of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

[The answer is objected to as being mere hearsay.]

Q. 25. You were personally acquainted with Mr. Bigelow?

A. Yes.

Q. 26. Met him from time to time?

A. Yes.

Q. 27. Both before and after the subscription and the payment of the money and the receipt of the certificate?

A. Yes.

[No cross-examination.]

Subscribed and sworn to before me this — day of November, 1905.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

540 OFFICE OF BRANDEIS, DUNBAR & NUTTER,
161 DEVONSHIRE STREET,
BOSTON, October 27, 1905.

Deposition of Edwin M. Dodd.

EDWIN M. DODD, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. State your full name, residence, and occupation.

A. Edwin M. Dodd; wool broker; present residence at Hotel Charlesgate; permanent residence, Providence.

Q. 2. What was your residence and occupation in 1895?

A. Residence at Providence, and occupation the same.

Q. 3. I hand you herewith a paper marked "Exhibit 10, March 27, 1903," being an exhibit put in evidence in connection with the testimony of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, being a subscription paper dated July 18, 1895, for stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company at $25 a share, and call your attention specifically to the name and words and figures, "Edw. M. Dodd, by Matthew Luce, fifty (50) shares," and ask you whether you are the Edwin M. Dodd referred to in that subscription?

A. I am, yes.

Q. 4. And did Mr. Luce make that subscription on your behalf with your authority?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. He made a subscription by my authority.

Q. 5. For 50 shares; and you subsequently took and paid for the shares?

A. I subsequently took and paid for some shares. My papers are all in Providence and I couldn't be certain whether the number was 50; it probably was. It was a comparatively small number of shares I took and paid for.

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

Q. 6. I show you now a certificate of stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company marked "B No. 2," in the name of Edwin M. Dodd, dated September 19, 1895, for 50 shares, which certificate is endorsed "Edwin M. Dodd, September 27, 1895," and ask you whether that is the certificate which you received?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

541 A. That is my signature on the back of it, so it must be.

Q. 7. Did you, prior to the time of making that subscription, hear from Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn, or from any other source, that they, or any of them, or their associates, were purposing to take 50,000 shares, or any number of the shares, of the stock in the company, or had taken any such shares in the stock of the company, as compensation for their services in forming the company or otherwise?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I did not.

Q. 8. Did you hear from Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn, or from any other source, any such information at any time prior to the paying of the money under that subscription?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I did not.

Q. 9. Or at any time prior to your getting the certificate?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I did not.

Q. 10. Have you ever heard from Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn any information to that effect?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I never have.

Q. 11. Have you heard from any source, since obtaining the certificate, that Mr. Bigelow, Mr. Lewisohn, and their associates had taken 50,000 shares, or any large number, or any shares, as compensation for their services, or alleged compensation for their services, in forming the syndicate or company, or in that connection?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Not until within a week or ten days, when I first heard of this suit.

[No cross-examination.]

Deposition of William A. Rust.

WILLIAM A. RUST, being first duly sworn by Howard Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. Please state your name, residence, and occupation.

A. William A. Rust; residence, at the present time, East Bri water; president Freemans National Bank.

Q. 2. Freemans National Bank of Boston?

A. Yes, sir, Freemans National Bank of Boston.

Q. 3. What was your occupation in 1895?

A. The same.

Q. 4. I call your attention to a paper marked "Exhibit 10, Ma 27, 1903," being a paper put in evidence as an exhibit in con tion with the deposition of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, wh paper itself is dated, Boston, July 18, 1895, and is an agreem to subscribe for stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Sm ing Company at $25 a share; and I call your attention particula to the words and figures, "Nancy E. Rust, per W. A. R., fo shares (40)," and ask you whether that is in your handwriti

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. And the "W. A. R." indicates who?

A. Myself.

Q. 6. And Nancy E. Rust is Mrs. Rust, your wife?

A. It was; she is not living.

Q. 7. Are you able to state where that paper was signed by you?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I don't know, sir, where.

Q. 8. Was the stock subscribed for by you in Mrs. Rust's na taken and paid for?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Yes, sir.

543 Q. 9. I show you now a certificate of the Old Domini Copper Mining & Smelting Company, No. 247, for eigh shares, in the name of Nancy E. Rust, being a certificate dat
September 27, 1895, and endorsed by Nancy E. Rust, witness, W.
Rust, and ask you whether that is a certificate which you receiv
in pursuance of that subscription?

A. I presume it must be; I don't know anything why it isn
I don't recollect whether I bought any other or not, but I presu
it is.

Q. 10. The endorsement is in Mrs. Rust's name?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 11. And the witness is yours?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. And that is your handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 13. You were acquainted at the time of making that subscri tion with Mr. A. S. Bigelow?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 14. Did you know Mr. Lewisohn?

A. No, sir.

Q. 15. Did you hear from Mr. Bigelow at any time, or from M
Lewisohn, or from any one associated with them, anything to th effect that Mr. Bigelow, Mr. Lewisohn, or they and their associate or any of them, were purposing to take 50,000 shares, or any bloc of this stock for their own services, or otherwise, in connection with the promotion of this enterprise?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I never did.

Q. 16. Did you have any such information from any source at any time prior to the paying in of the money?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I did not.

Q. 17. Or at any time prior to the receiving of the certificate?

[Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.]

A. No, sir.

Q. 18. Have you at any time since receiving the certificate had any information, or heard anything to that effect?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I have never known anything about it except what I have seen in the papers the last few days, and when your man came up to see me.

544 Q. 19. When did you first hear, so far as you know, anything to that effect?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I saw in the paper that there was a suit commenced; that is the first I knew anything about it.

Q. 20. That was some two or three years ago?

A. Oh, no, sir. I didn't know it then; only lately.

Q. 21. Some months ago?

A. I should think it was a few weeks ago I saw it in the paper.

Q. 22. Do you refer to the report in the paper of the decision of our Supreme Court one day?

A. No; I don't know anything about any decision at all. I only saw by the paper something about a suit against Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn; I don't know whether that has anything to do with this or not, but I supposed it was from what you said.

Q. 23. That was the first information you had from any source in regard to this matter?

A. Yes, sir; I didn't know anything about it at all.

[No cross-examination.]

Deposition of Edwin C. Swift.

EDWIN C. SWIFT, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandei counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. State your full name, residence, and occupation.

A. Edwin C. Swift; my residence is Beverly, Mass.; I am in th beef business.

545 Q. 2. What was your occupation in 1895?

A. The same.

Q. 3. I call your attention to a paper marked "Exhibit 6, Marc 24, 1903," being a paper put in evidence in connection with th deposition of Mr. A. S. Bigelow in this cause, and particularly to th words and figures, "E. C. Swift 10,000," signed to that paper, an ask you whether that signature is your handwriting?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. I call your attention also to a paper marked "Exhibit 10 March 27, 1903," being a paper put in evidence in connection wit the deposition of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, which paper is date Boston, July 18, 1895, and purports to be a subscription to the stoc of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company at $25 share, and call your attention particularly to the words and figure signed to that paper, "E. C. Swift, 1000," and ask whether that is i your handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. I now show you a certificate in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, dated September 19, 1895, No. 119 for 1000 shares in the name of E. C. Swift, and purporting to b endorsed "E. C. Swift," and ask you whether the endorsement is i your handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. I also show you a certificate in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company for 800 shares, No. 248, in the name of E. C. Swift, dated September 27, 1895, and endorsed in the name of E. C. Swift, and ask you whether that endorsement is in your handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 7. Did you pay for and take the stock coming to you under the two subscriptions which have been called to your attention?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. So far as I know; yes, I suppose I did.

Q. 8. And those two certificates which I have just shown you are the certificates which were delivered to you in pursuance of those subscriptions?

A. It appears so.

Q. 9. Were you, prior to the taking of the first of those subscriptions, acquainted with Mr. A. S. Bigelow?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 10. And Mr. Lewisohn?

A. Well, I don't think so; I never met Mr. Lewisohn but once, and that wasn't on business—just happened to meet him, and was introduced to him.

546 Q. 11. Do you recall under what circumstances you made the first of those subscriptions?

A. No, sir; I do not.

Q. 12. Or under what circumstances you made the second of the subscriptions?

A. No, sir.

Q. 13. Nor where the paper was signed?

A. No, sir.

Q. 14. Did Mr. Bigelow, prior to your making the first of those subscriptions, say anything to you about its being the intention of himself and Mr. Lewisohn to take 50,000 shares, or any number of shares, of stock of this company as compensation for his services, or otherwise than as a subscriber?

[Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. I have no memory of any such thing.

Q. 15. Was any such information given to you by Mr. Bigelow, or any one else, prior to your making the second subscription?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. I have no memory of any thing of the kind.

Q. 16. Or prior to your paying in the money under either of those subscriptions?

[Objected to as incompetent and irrelevant.]

A. I have no memory of anything of the kind.

Q. 17. Did you, at any time subsequent to the paying in of the money and to the receiving of the certificates, hear from Mr. Bigelow, or from any other source, that Messrs. Bigelow and Lewisohn had taken 50,000 shares, or any large number of shares, of the stock in the company as alleged compensation for their services, or otherwise than as subscribers?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. I have no memory on the subject.

Q. 18. I asked you whether you at any time had heard this?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. If I ever did, I don't remember it.

Q. 19. Have you heard anything recently, I mean? You have heard it talked of recently, haven't you?

547 [Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I haven't heard anything more than has been in the papers.

Q. 20. And that which has been in the papers is what you have seen within the last two or three years, since Mr. Bigelow went out of the management?

A. I should think it was very recent.

Q. 21. I show you what purports to be a letter signed by E. C. Swift, under date of September 24, 1895, and ask you whether that is your signature?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 22. Will you read that letter?

[Letter objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. [Reading:]

"SEPTEMBER 24, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Esq.

DEAR SIR: I am in receipt of your favor of the 23rd acknowledging the receipt of check for $25,000, and handing me certificate for 1000 shares of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company stock.

Yours truly,

E. C. SWIFT."

Q. 23. Have you the letter to which that refers, the letter from Mr. Nelson?

A. I have made diligent search for it, but have not been able to find anything.

Q. 24. I call your attention now to a letter in the letter press copy book of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, purporting to be dated September 23, 1895, which letter reads as follows:

[The admission of this letter is objected to because it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and as being correspondence between others than the parties to this suit.]

"E. C. Swift, Esq., Ames Bldg., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Your late favor covering check for $25,000 to pay for 1000 shares of stock of Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company was duly received. We enclose you herewith certificate No. 119 in your name for one thousand (1000) shares of this Company's stock. Please acknowledge receipt.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treasurer,
By BISSELL."

548 —and ask you whether that is the letter which your letter of the 24th acknowledges the receipt of?

A. I presume it is.

Q. 25. And certificate No. 119 for 1000 shares, shown you a few moments ago, is the certificate referred to in that letter, and which you then acknowledged the receipt of?

A. I presume so.

BOSTON, October 27, 1905.

Deposition of David M. Anthony.

DAVID M. ANTHONY, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. State your full name, residence, and occupation.
A. David M. Anthony; Fall River, Mass.; provision dealer.
Q. 2. What was your business in 1895?
A. Provision dealer.
Q. 3. I call your attention to a paper marked "Exhibit 6, March 24, 1903," being an exhibit put in evidence in connection with the deposition of A. S. Bigelow in this cause, the paper itself being dated 1895, purporting to be a subscription to a syndicate called "The Old Dominion Syndicate," and call your attention specifically to the words and figures, "D. M. Anthony, 5000," and ask you whether that is in your handwriting?
A. I should say it was.
Q. 4. And I will ask you in whose handwriting the name "Harold H. Anthony, 5000" is?
A. That is my son, and I should say that was my writing.
549 Q. 5. Do you recall under what circumstances and where your signature to that paper was given?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I could not bring it to mind at all.
Q. 6. Did you subsequently make payments and receive stock in pursuance of that subscription?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I couldn't say from memory.
Q. 7. I show you now a certificate in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, No. 86, for 200 shares, in the name of D. M. Anthony, the certificate being dated September 19, 1895, and purporting to be endorsed by D. M. Anthony, and ask you whether that is in your handwriting?
A. Yes, sir, I should say so.
Q. 8. And I also show you certificate No. 198, in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, for 400 shares in the name of D. M. Anthony, and purporting to be endorsed "D. M. Anthony," and ask you whether that is in your handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 9. And were those certificates received by you in pursuance of your subscription to the syndicate or to the stock of that company?

A. Well, from the evidence here I should presume so; I couldn't say from memory. It has all passed from my memory.

Q. 10. I show you a letter dated October 2, 1895, purporting to come from the office of D. M. Anthony, wholesale provisions, 83 Davol street, Fall River, and ask you in whose handwriting that letter is?

A. That is my writing.

Q. 11. Will you read that letter, please?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. [Reading:]

"FALL RIVER, MASS., October 2nd, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Esq., Treasurer.

DEAR SIR: Yours of October 1st containing check for $5000 to my order came to hand this a. m. Thanks for the same.

Very truly yours,

HAROLD H. ANTHONY."

550 Q. 12. I call your attention now to a letter under date of October 1, 1895, being a copy in the letter-press copy book of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, and ask whether that is the letter to which the letter of October 2 refers?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant, and as correspondence between parties other than parties to this suit.]

A. Yes.

Q. 13. Will you read that letter?

A. [Reading:]

"OCTOBER 1, 1895.

Harold H. Anthony, Esq., Box 13, Fall River, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Enclosed you should find check of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company to your order for $5,000. Please acknowledge receipt.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treasurer.
By BISSELL."

Q. 14. Were you, prior to the signing of that subscription paper, acquainted with Mr. A. S. Bigelow?

A. I don't think I was; I don't think I had ever met him at that time.

Q. 15. Did you, prior to signing that subscription paper, receive any information from him or Mr. Lewisohn, or from any other person that Messrs. Bigelow and Lewisohn and their associates, or any of them, had taken, or purposed to take, 50,000 shares, or any number of shares, or any profits for promoting this Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. No, sir; I have no recollection of it.

Q. 16. Did you get any such information from any source prior to the payment of the money under that subscription, or any of the money?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. No, sir.

Q. 17. Did you get any such information from any source prior to the receipt of the certificates of stock in the company?

551 [Objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. No, sir.

Q. 18. Have you, since the receipt of the certificates, received any information from any source that Messrs. Bigelow and Lewisohn and their associates had taken 50,000 shares, or a large block of the stock, on account of the promotion of the company, or otherwise, for their services?

[Objected to as incompetent and irrelevant.]

A. Nothing except what I have seen in the public prints recently, since this company came in possession.

Q. 19. You mean by that since the change of management from Mr. Bigelow?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 20. And since Mr. Smith became president of the company?

A. Yes, sir. Perhaps I ought to say in this case of my son, that he was a minor at that time and I was his guardian, and this was really my transaction, although it was done in his name for certain purposes. That is merely an explanation.

[No cross-examination.]

Deposition of George Marshall Preston.

GEORGE MARSHALL PRESTON, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. State your full name, residence, and occupation.

A. George Marshall Preston; 91 Bedford street, Boston; dry-goods commission merchant.

552 Q. 2. You are of the firm of Faulkner, Page & Company?

A. Faulkner, Page & Company.

Q. 3. What was your occupation in 1895?

A. Just the same.

Q. 4. I show you a paper marked "Exhibit 4, March 24, 1903," being a paper introduced in evidence in connection with the deposition of Albert S. Bigelow in this cause, which paper itself is dated May 24, 1895, and is a subscription paper to the formation of the Old Dominion Syndicate, so called, and ask you whether you are the George M. Preston whose name is appended to that paper?

A. Well, all I can say is, I suppose so; I don't know of any other George M. Preston; but I don't know anything more than that. I don't know anything about it.

Q. 5. Will you look at certificate No. 242 in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, for 400 shares in the name of George M. Preston, dated September 27, 1895, and, turning to the back of the certificate, purporting to be endorsed by George M. Preston?

A. That is my signature.

Q. 6. That is your signature?

A. Yes, sir, that is my handwriting in the date there. I filled that in. That is my handwriting, and that is my signature, but further than that I don't know anything about it.

Q. 7. The dating you refer to is the 21st of May?

A. Yes, I mean that date there, that is my handwriting, at the same time I signed that signature. That is all I can say.

Q. 8. You were acquainted with Matthew Luce?

A. Yes.

Q. 9. Did you, through Matthew Luce, subscribe for or take stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I don't know.

Q. 10. Are you acquainted with Mr. Albert S. Bigelow?

A. Yes.

Q. 11. Were you prior to 1895?

A. Yes.

Q. 12. Were you well acquainted with Mr. Luce?

A. Oh, very.

Q. 13. Did Albert S. Bigelow, or Leonard Lewisohn, or any one else, so far as you can remember, inform you at any time prior to your endorsing that certificate No. 242, that Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn, and their associates, had taken, or proposed to take, 50,000 shares, or any number of shares, of stock in this company as compensation, or on account of their having promoted it?

[Objected to as irrelevant, immaterial, and incompetent.]

553 A. No, sir.

Q. 14. Did you get any information prior to that time, in any way, to that effect, or any information relating to any profits which Messrs. Bigelow and Lewisohn, and their associates, purposed taking for themselves in this connection?

[Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. Not that I remember. No, I will answer, no.

Q. 15. Did you, at any subsequent time, hear anything from Mr. Bigelow, or Mr. Lewisohn, or from any other source, as to their having taken 50,000 shares of stock, or any large number of shares or any special profits on account of their acting as promoters or otherwise in connection with this Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

[Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant and incompetent.]

A. No; I haven't heard anything.

Q. 16. Did you hear anything recently on the subject?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Oh, yes, recently.

Q. 17. Then you meant you had not heard until recently?

A. No.

Q. 18. How far do you go back by the use of the word "recently"?

A. About the time that this matter came up; I don't know whether it was a year ago. It was since this matter was started, brought up, whatever it was.

Q. 19. That is, since this litigation was begun?

A. Yes, since this litigation was begun. I don't remember hearing anything before.

[No cross-examination.]

Deposition of James F. Ormand.

JAMES F. ORMAND, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:—

Q. 1. State your full name, Mr. Ormand.
A. James F. Ormand.
Q. 2. Your residence?
A. 1087 Boylston street, now. I have been living in Brookline and have moved into town.
Q. 3. Your occupation?
A. Carriages and carriage man, corner Beacon street and Tremont and the Hotel Bellevue.
Q. 4. What was your occupation in 1895?
A. The same thing.
Q. 5. Did you, in 1895, and prior to that time, know Mr. A. S. Bigelow?
A. I have known him since he was a child.
Q. 6. Did you subscribe for certain stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?
A. I don't remember; if I did it couldn't have been for a great deal.
Q. 7. Do you recall whether or not you subscribed for 50 shares of stock in that company, or any small amount of stock in that company?

[Objected to as immaterial]

A. I may, but I don't remember. I wouldn't be apt to remember.
Q. 8. Have you absolutely no recollection?
A. No, none whatever.
Q. 9. As to whether you subscribed for the stock?
A. I don't think so. I might have bought some for a flyer, or something of that sort, and sold it again, but I don't think I ever did. I may have, too, but I don't think so.

[The examination of the witness is suspended while search is made for his certificate.]

555 Depositions of Witnesses taken at St. Johnsbury in the State of Vermont on the 14th Day of December, 1905, Before George C. Frye, Notary Public, and by Agreement of Counsel, for use in the Above-entitled Cases.

Present:

Alfred Hemenway, Esq., of Boston, Attorney for Alfred S. Bigelow.

Eugene Treadwell, Attorney for Frederick Lewisohn, et als.

Edward F. McClennen, Attorney for Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company.

Deposition of Josiah Grout.

I, JOSIAH GROUT, being duly sworn, on oath depose and say, in answer to interrogatories propounded by Mr. McClennen, as follows:—

Q. 1. Mr. Grout, what is your full name?

A. Josiah Grout.

Q. 2. And you reside where?

A. Derby, Vt.

Q. 3. You are the brother of William W. Grout?

A. William W. Grout was my brother.

Q. 4. And he is now deceased?

A. Yes.

Q. 5. And when did he die?

A. He died October 7, 1902.

Q. 6. You were the executor of his estate?

A. I am the exectuor; I am the administrator, not executor—administrator.

Q. 7. I show you, Mr. Grout, a letter in the file of the complainant company, dated September 13, 1905——

A. [Interrupting:] 1895, you mean.

Q. 8. [Continuing:] 1895, purporting to be signed by William W. Grout; do you recognize that as being in the handwriting of your brother?

A. I should say that is his handwriting.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: That I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendants object to the admission of this letter on the ground that it is incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant, being apparently correspondence with a third party not interested in the action.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:—

"ST. JOHNSBURY EAST, Sept. 13th, 1895.

Thomas Nelson.

MY DEAR SIR: I have your call for money for Old Dominion stock on the 19th inst. I start for Chattanooga Park dedication in 556 the morning, but have arranged with Barton National Bank to send you check for $12,500.00 in payment of 500 shares to be issued in my name and sent by mail to above Bank, Barton, Vt. The other 500 shares to be issued as follows:

100 shares to William H. Bissell
50 shares to A. H. McLeod.
50 shares to Stocker Brothers.
50 shares to F. T. Dwinell
200 shares to Josiah Grout and
50 shares to W. P. Smith.

I have arranged with these gentlemen to make payment directly to you. If I were to be at home would collect and send to you, but in my absence thought best to let them send direct to you. If they fail to make payment, on my return in about ten days will attend to it.

If you want the residence of these men it is as follows: W. H. Blaisdell, Jay, Vt., A. H. McLeod, St. Johnsburg, Vt., W. P. Smith, St. Johnsbury, Vt., Stocker Brothers, Danville, Vt., Josiah Grout, Derby, Vt., F. T. Dwinell, Boston, Mass., 50 State St.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM W. GROUT."

Mr. McCLENNEN: I now offer the reply of the company's letter book.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants object to reply as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The reply from page 87 of the letter book reads:

"SEPT. 21, 1895.

Hon. Wm. W. Grout, St. Johnsbury East, Vt.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of Sept. 13th was duly received. We received checks from the different gentlemen as noted in your letter, with the exception of Mr. Dwinell who has called and made arrangemens to pay which are satisfactory.

Enclosed you should find certificate for 1000 shares stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company in your name. The subscription being in your name, it was necessary to issue the stock to you.

557 Please fill in the names you wish the stock transferred to and sign and return the certificate, and we will do the needful.

Yours very truly,

By BISSELL."

Q. 9. Mr. Grout, I show you the canceled certificate of the complainant company, No. 103, dated September 19, 1895, for 10,000 shares——

DEPONENT [Interrupting:] 1000.

[Continuing:] 1000 shares in the name "W. W. Grout:" do you recognize the endorsement on that as being in the handwriting of your brother?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Object to that as immaterial, incompetent, irrelevant.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Certificate offered in evidence and marked "Complainant's Exhibit 1, of December 14, 1905."

Q. 10. Mr. Grout, I show you, from the company's file, a letter of September 25, 1895: do you recognize the signature to that as being in the handwriting of your brother?

A. Yes, sir, the whole letter is in his handwriting.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter I will offer——

Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants object to the admission of said letter because it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: And it reads as follows:

"SEPT. 25, 1895.

Thomas Nelson.

DEAR SIR: Enclosed find certificate for 1000 shares Old Dominion Copper Co., with 500 shares transferred to different parties whose addresses you have in my letter of a former date and probably from the parties themselves, to whom you had best send certificates directly.

The transaction will leave 500 shares still in my name, which will thank you to send to me at St. Johnsbury East, Vt.

Very truly yours,

WILLIAM W. GROUT."

Mr. McCLENNEN: From the company's letter-press copy book, page 100, I offer a letter of September 27, 1895, to Hon. William W. Grout.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants object to the admission of said copy of said letter because it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: Are you purposing to insist on the fact that it is a copy as an objection?

558 Mr. HEMENWAY: Insist on everything.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"SEPT. 27, 1895.

Hon. William W. Grout, St. Johnsbury East, Vt.

DEAR SIR: We enclose you herewith certificates of this company's stock in your name as follows, viz:

No. A 123 100 shares.
No. A 124 100 shares.
No. A 125 100 shares.
No. A 126 100 shares.
No. A 127 100 shares.

Please acknowledge receipt.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas.
By BISSELL."

Q. 11. Mr. Grout, have you, since your appointment as administrator, taken possession of the papers left by your brother?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 12. Have you found among them the originals of these two letters which I have just—copies of which I have just put in, from the company's letter book?

A. No, sir, I have not.

Q. 13. As far as you know are the originals now in existence?

A. I do not know that they are.

Q. 14. I show you a letter from the company's letter file, dated September 17, 1895: is this in your handwriting?

A. Yes, sir, it is.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter I offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants object to admission of said letter because it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"DERBY, VT., Sept. 17, 1895.

MY DEAR SIR: Enclosed I hand you check for $2500.00 signed by Mary H. Bates, payable to me and duly endorsed to you. This to apply on 200 shares Old Dominion Copper stock which my brother, W. W. Grout, has written you about.

559 I expected the balance to cover this transaction would be in your hands before this but not hearing as I should if such were the case, I fear it is not. I expected the stock to be issued Oct. 1, so to meet Sept. 19th hurries matters some.

If it will answer, and I trust it will, I will see that the bal. reaches you in a few days, say by the middle of next week. If this will not answer, let me know and I will arrange accordingly.

When you issue the stock please put it in 50 share certificates, and put 100 shares in the name of Charles K. Bates and the other 100 shares in my name.

I am, truly,

JOSIAH GROUT.

Thomas Nelson, Sears Building, Boston, Mass."

Q. 15. Mr. Grout, I show you a copy, on page 102 of the company's letter-press copy book, dated September 27, 1895, and addressed to you: is the original of that now in your possession?

A. Well, I can't find it.

Q. 16. You can't find it?

A. No, I don't find any of the correspondence relating to that transaction, or to Old Dominion transactions, and other stock matters.

Q. 17. Does that answer refer to your brother's correspondence as well as your own?

A. Yes; I have looked the papers over; I do not think anything from my brother's ever came into my hands—these letters.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This copy I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Defedants object to the admission of letter-press copy of said letter as being immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.
Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"SEPT. 27, 1895.

Josiah Grout, Esq., Derby, Vt.

DEAR SIR: We enclose you herewith certificates of this company's stock in your name as follows, viz: No. A 121, 100 shares, No. A 122, 100 shares.

Please acknowledge receipt.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas.
By BISSELL."

560 Q. 18. I show you, Mr. Grout, from the company's letter file, a letter of September 9, 1895: is that in your handwriting?

A. No, that is September 23.

Q. 19. September 23, I beg your pardon, 1895.

A. Yes, sir, that is my handwriting.

Mr. McCLENNEN: That I will offer.
Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants object to the admission of this letter as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.
Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"DERBY, VT., 9/23/95.

Thomas Nelson, Sears Building, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: You by this time have the $5000.00 for 200 shares Old Dominion Copper stock which you were to issue subject to my order, as my brother, W. W. Grout, wrote you, or you should have.

If you have, please send the stock as I wrote you in my last. Check M. H. Bates $2500.00, check H. K. Dewey $2500.00, $5000.00.

Truly,

JOSIAH GROUT."

Q. 20. I now show you the company's canceled certificates of stock, one hundred each, Nos. A 121 and A 122, dated September 26, 1895, in the name of Josiah Grout, one endorsed to Payn, Webber & Company, and the other to Mrs. Mary H. Bates: are the signatures to those two endorsements yours?

A. I should say so, sir. You mean assignments there, do you?

Q. 21. The signatures to the assignments yours?

A. Yes.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The admission of said certificates now offered is objected to as immaterial, incompetent, irrelevant.
Mr. McCLENNEN: The certificates are offered in evidence, and marked respectively, "Complainant's Exhibits 2 and 3, of December 14, 1905."

Q. 22. In your letter of September 17, Mr. Grout, you refer to the enclosure of a check for $2500 of Mary H. Bates: was such a check sent?

A. Yes, sir.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Q. 23. In your letter of September 23, you refer to a check of M. H. Bates, for $2500. I assume that is the same check.

A. I should say so; yes, sir.

Q. 24. You also refer in that letter to another check of $2500, of H. K. Dewey: who was H. K. Dewey?

A. Cashier of the Barton National Bank.

561 Q. 25. And prior to writing that letter had you arranged with him for the sending of such a check?

A. I had.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Q. 26. I show you a letter of September 18, 1895, purporting to be signed by H. K. Dewey, cashier, and on the letter paper of the Barton National Bank; do you recognize that as being in Mr. Dewey's handwriting?

A. I do, sir.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: That letter I offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:—

"BARTON NATIONAL BANK, BARTON, VT., Sept. 18, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Esq., Treas., 199 Washington St., Room 303, Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: At the request of Hon. William W. Grout I enclose my check for twelve thousand five hundred dollars ($12,500.00), for which please send me 500 shares of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Co., issued in name of William W. Grout, of Barton, Vermont;

Also my check for two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500.00), for which please send me 100 shares of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, issued in name of W. H. Blaisdell, of Jay, Vt.

Also my check for two thousand five hundred dollars ($2500.00) for credit on account of Major Josiah Grout, of Derby, Vt. He told me — had written you about it.

Please own receipt. If you do not, send stock by first mail.

Yours truly,

H. K. DEWEY, Cashier."

Mr. MCCLENNEN: From the company's letter-press copy book, page 90, I offer letter of September 23, 1895, to H. K. Dewey.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Copy of letter is objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter as follows:—

562 "SEPT. 23, 1895.

H. K. Dewey, Esq., Barton National Bank, Barton, Vt.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of 18th inst. with checks as stated, was duly received. The subscription to the stock being in the name of Gen. Grout, it was necessary that the stock be first issued to him. This has been done, and the stock forwarded to him, with the request that he make an assignment to Mr. Blaisdell, and also an assignment to Josiah Grout. In due course certificates will be mailed to those gentlemen.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas.,
By BISSELL.

Q. 27. Mr. Grout, what was the first that you had to do in any way with the stock of the complainant company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.

A. Why, the first I had to do was getting those shares, one hundred for myself and one hundred for the Bates—Charkes K. Bates or Mary H. Bates, whichever name it was put in; it wouldn't make any difference.

Q. 28. With whom did you have whatever negotiations resulted in your taking that stock?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. The negotiations for securing the stock was with my brother, William W. Grout. The details of paying were with the Barton Bank and the officers of the company in Boston.

Q. 292. Having regard to the date of your letter of September 17, 1895, can you inform me about when you had these negotiations with your brother?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Well, before that time, I should say.

Q. 30. Are you able to state whether it was a considerable period or a short period?

A. No, not very long.

Q. 31. And was this negotiation with your brother in writing or by conversation?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Well, some features of the negotiations were by conversation, and there might have been some correspondence. I am not sure about that.

563 Q. 32. So far as it was by correspondence, if at all, is that correspondence in existence?

A. No, not to my knowledge.

Q. 33. Will you state, as nearly as you can at this length of time, the language of the correspondence and the conversations?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I really have no recollection as to correspondence, and so cannot give any of it. The conversation was that it was——

Mr. HEMENWAY: The conversation is objected to as immaterial, incompetent, irrelevant.

A. (Continuing:) That it was a good thing it was on the ground floor, or near enough to the first floor to be interesting, and he assured me that he was going to take some of the stock, and thought I wouldn't lose anything if I did.

Q. 34. And you arranged to take two hundred shares; one hundred for yourself and one hundred for Bates?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. Did your brother inform you as to his sources of information?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, irrelevant.

A. Yes, so far as I knew—or change that, strike that out, please. So far as——

Mr. HEMENWAY: One moment; you have answered the question.

Q. 36. What did he state to you as his sources of information?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. He stated that his information came from the Bigelow office in Boston.

Q. 37. Did he state with any more particularity as to person from whom he got his information?

A. Well, Mr. Bigelow.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. (Continuing:) He is the oracle that he consulted, and in which he seemed to have a great deal of confidence,—or in whom.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Answer objected to as incompetent, irrelevant.

Q. 38. Can you, at this length of time, state with any more particularity what your brother informed you that Mr. Bigelow had stated to him?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. I think I have, in substance, covered pretty much the conversation that I had with him antedating the taking of the stock. Of course, there would be very much more to the talk by way of filling, but I have given what I should regard the upshot of the conversation.

Q. 39. Did you receive from your brother, from Mr. Bigelow, or 564 from any other source, prior to acquiring the stock, any information as to whether or not Mr. Bigelow, or any of the other promoters, had taken any profit in connection with the organization of the company, or intended to take any such profit?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. In answer to that I will say that I was given to understand in that conversation that I was invited into the charmed circle, and all of the perquisites, emoluments, etc., were merged in the intrinsic value of the stock; that nobody had any shearings from any source whatever in it.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as wholly incompetent.

A. [Continuing:] That is the way it came to me, sir; that is the way I understood it.

Q. 40. To be more specific, was your attention called by any one to the fact, or were you informed of the fact, that Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn, or either of them, had taken, or purposed to take, 50,000 shares of the capital stock of the company, or any part thereof, by way of a profit, or by way of compensation for the services or labor connected with the organization or bringing out of the company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, irrelevant, and leading.

A. I know nothing about Mr. Bigelow or his house receiving anything for promoting the Old Dominion project; never heard any intimation of the kind before—I will take that back, never heard any direct intimation.

Q. 41. Prior to taking your stock had you received any intimation of this kind indirectly?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, irrelevant.

A. No, no, not before taking the stock; I had no intimation of the kind whatever, of that character.

Q. 42. Did you have any information at any time prior to taking your stock as to whether or not the amount for which the company should be organized had or had not at any time been changed from the amount originally projected by the organizers or promoters?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, irrelevant, and leading.

A. I do not recall that I had any such information or intimation of any such.

Q. 43. Had you any information as to the manner in which, or the terms upon which, the properties had been obtained with which to capitalize the company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

565 A. Well, I think that was all recited to me, as my brother always took pains to go into such details, but I shouldn't want to undertake to give any of it in a general way, it is so vague just at this moment in my mind, in my memory.

Q. 44. Well, so far as your recollection will permit, will you state anything that was said upon that subject?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. Well, one thing I was told was that the property had been always a paying property and purchased by the Bigelow syndicate or Bigelow folks for, I should say, a million dollars. That may be a wrong statement of the amount, but I think that was—that is my recollection. I think that was the sum—and then it was to be organized and in its new form issue stock of which I was advised to take some, and that is about as particular as I would care to be now unless you are able to refresh my memory, for my memory sometimes does glow upon such subjects as the old embers are raked over. The fire is pretty much out as far as I know.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Answer objected to as incompetent.

Q. 45. Did you ever have any conversations directly with Mr. Bigelow or with Mr. Lewisohn relative to this matter?

A. Never saw either of the men.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: That is all, Mr. Hemenway.

Mr. HEMENWAY: No cross-examination.

JOSIAH GROUT.

Deposition of Frank D. Stocker.

I, FRANK D. STOCKER, being duly sworn, on oath depose and say, in answer to interrogatories propounded by Mr. McClennen, as follows:—

Q. 1. Your full name is?

A. Frank D.

Q. 2. And you reside where?

A. In Danville.

Q. 3. And you, in 1895, were one of the partners in Stocker Brothers?

566 A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. In connection with the acquisition of stock by you in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, do you, recall whether you had any conversations with any one other than Mr. McLeod?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. No, I do not.

Q. 5. Will you state, as far as you can recall, what your conversations with Mr. McLeod were?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I never had much to say to him about it anyway, but I did talk it over and done the most of the talking with him.

Q. 6. Did you have any conversation with General Grout concerning the matter?

A. No, I don't know as I ever met him.

Q. 7. Or with Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn?

A. No.

Q. 8. At the time the stock was acquired did you have any information concerning the organization of the company?

A. No, sir.

Q. 9. Did you know or receive any information relative to the taking of fifty thousand shares, or any other number of shares, of the capital stock of the company, or of the intention to take them, by Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn, or any one else, by way of a promoters' profit or in return for services rendered?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. No.

Q. 10. When, if at all, did you ever receive any information on this subject?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I don't know as I ever knew anything about it.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: That is all.

Mr. HEMENWAY: No questions.

FRANK D. STOCKER.

STATE OF VERMONT,

567 Deposition of Fred B. Stocker.

I, FRED B. STOCKER, being duly sworn, on oath depose and say, in answer to interrogations propounded by Mr. McClennen, as follows:—

Q. 1. What is your full name?
A. Fred B. Stocker.
Q. 2. You reside where?
A. At Danville.
Q. 3. You are a member of the firm of Stocker Brothers?
A. I am.
Q. 4. And were in 1895?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 5. And of whom did that firm then consist?
A. Of Fred B. Stocker and Frank D. Stocker.
Q. 6. I show you, from the company's letter file, a letter of September 18, 1895; in whose handwriting is that?
A. That is in mine.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter I will offer.
Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants objected to the admission of said letter because it is incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.
Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter reads:

"DANVILLE, VT., Sept. 18, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Treas.

DEAR SIR: Enclosed find check of $1250.00 for 50 shares Old Dominion as per instructions of W. W. Grout.

Yours &c.,

STOCKER BROTHERS."

Mr. MCCLENNEN: From the company's letter-press copy book, page 92, I offer a letter of September 23.
Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants object to the admission of this letter-press copy of letter, because incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.
Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"SEPT. 23, 1895.

Stocker Brothers, Danville, Vt.

GENTLEMEN: Your favor of 18th inst. covering check for $1250.00, to pay for fifty (50) shares of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, was duly received. Certificate will be forwarded to you in a few days.

Yours very truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas.
By BISSELL."

568 Q. 7. Have you the original of the letter a copy of which I have just read?

A. I might be able to find it, but I hardly think so.

Q. 8. Is this the check referred to in the two letters just read?

A. It is.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants object to the admissibility of said check, because incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The check reads on the face as follows:—

"DANVILLE, VT., Sept 18, 1895.

No. — Caledonia National Bank.

Pay to the order of Thos Nelson, Treas. $1250. One thousand and two hundred fifty No /100 Dollars.

STOCKER BROTHERS."

Has stamped on its face: "Caledonia National Bank, paid Sept. 24, 1895, Danville, Vt."

Reads upon its reverse side: "For deposit only to account of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Co., Thomas Nelson, Treas. For collection for account of Atlas National Bank of Boston, Benj. P. Lane, Cashier."

All upon the back, except the words "Thomas Nelson," being in rubber-stamp print.

Check offered, and marked "Complainant's Exhibit 4, of December 14, 1905."

I now offer from the company's letter-press copy book, page 101, a letter of September 27, 1895.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants object to said letter-press copy, because incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter reads:

"SEPT. 27, 1895.

Stocker Brothers, Danville, Vt.

GENTLEMEN: We enclose you herewith certificate No. B68 in your name for fifty (50) shares of this company's stock.

Please acknowledge receipt.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas.
By BISSELL."

Q. 9. I show you, from the company's letter file, a letter of September 26, 1895: is that in your handwriting?

A. It is.

569 Mr. HEMENWAY: Letter objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter reads:

"DANVILLE, VT., Sept. 26, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Treas.

DEAR SIR: Yours with certificate enclosed, for fifty shares Old Dominion Copper Mining stock, received.

Yours, &c., STOCKER BROTHERS."

Q. 10. I show you the canceled certificate B No. 68, for fifty shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, in the name of Stocker Brothers; is the signature to the transfer on the back of this in your handwriting?

A. It is.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The certificate is offered in evidence and marked "Complainant's Exhibit 5, of December 14, 1905."

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Q. 11. With whom, Mr. Stocker, did you have the negotiations which led to your procuring this stock?

A. I think it was through A. H. McLeod.

Q. 12. Of St. Johnsbury?

A. I think it was.

Q. 13. Having regard to the date of the first letter put in, of September 18, 1895, when, as nearly as you can state, did you have your negotiations?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I do not think I could tell anything only the records, from memory.

Q. 14. Was it a matter of days or weeks prior to that?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. I should say we was talking about it for some little time.

Q. 15. Were your negotiations wholly oral or were they to some extent by correspondence?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. I think it was oral.

Q. 16. As nearly as you can state at this length of time, what were the conversations which you had?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I think that Mr. McLeod told us that Mr. Grout had such a number of shares that he was going to have of the Old Dominion Copper Company, and that we could have some if we wished. I think that was about the conversation.

Q. 17. Did he tell you anything about the terms of issue, or the organization?

570 Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. The price was to be 25, which was par for the stock, and I think he told us that it was a very rich mine; it would be a good stock to buy.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Answer objected to.

Q. 18. Did he give you any information, one way or the other, as to whether there were to be any promoters' profits or compensation for services in connection with the issue?

A. I don't think so.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

Q. 19. Did he tell you anything relating in any manner to that subject?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.

A. I don't think he did.

Q. 20. Did you have any conversations, prior to acquiring your stock, with anyone beside Mr. McLeod?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I don't think I did.

Q. 21. Did you have any conversations with either Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow prior to acquiring your stock?

A. Did not.

Q. 22. Did you know or have any information to the effect that Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn, or any of them, or any one connected with them, either had taken or purposed to take fifty thousand shares, or any other number of shares, of the stock of the company as a promoters' profit, or in return for any services rendered?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I did not.

Q. 23. When, if at all, did anything of this nature ever come to your attention?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial.

A. I think when we read it in the papers. It was discussed in the papers.

Q. 24. And as nearly as you can fix it, what was the date?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. I should say it was when the present president, Mr. Smith, isn't it, took hold of the company.

Q. 25. Do you remember whether or not, in connection with your acquisition of the stock, the term "ground floor" was used?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and leading.

A. We supposed we was getting as low as any one, that was about all; the price as low as any one had the stock.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent.

571 Q. 26. Without stating any supposition of yours, can you state anything by way of conversation on that subject, if there was any conversation on that subject?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I couldn't remember the conversation we had now.

Q. 27. Prior to acquiring your stock, were you informed from any source as to whether there had at any time been any change in the amount for which the company was to be organized?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I don't quite understand that question.

Q. 28. At any time prior to acquiring your stock, were you informed as to whether there had been any change in the plan of organization with respect to the amount for which the company should be capitalized?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I had not.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: That is all.

Mr. HEMENWAY: No questions.

FRED B. STOCKER.

STATE OF VERMONT,
Caledonia County, ss:

At St. Johnsbury this 14th day of December, A. D. 1905 personally appeared the above-named Fred B. Stocker, and made oath to the truth of the foregoing statement by him subscribed.

Before me,

GEORGE C. FRYE,
Notary Public.

Deposition of Angus H. McLeod.

I, ANGUS H. MCLEOD, being duly sworn, on oath depose and say, in answer to interrogatories propounded by Mr. McClennen, as follows:

Q. 1. Your first name, Mr. McLeod, is?

A. Angus H.

Q. 2. You reside where?

A. St. Johnsbury.

Q. 3. And resided there in 1895?

A. Yes.

Q. 4. Your business was then what?

A. Milling business, grain and feed.

Q. 5. The business of Stocker Brothers at that time was what?
A. Well, they were farmers, and sold grain, feed, and so on, and they owned part of the stock in our mill at that time.

572 Q. 6. I show you a letter of September 18, 1895, from the company's letter file: is that written by you?
A. Yes, sir.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter I will offer.
Mr. HEMENWAY: Defendants object to the admissibility of the letter on the ground of its incompetency, immateriality, and irrelevancy.
Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:—

"ST. JOHNSBURY, VT., Sept. 18, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Treas., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: By instruction of W. W. Grout I enclose you my check No. 601 for $1250.00, to pay for 50 shares Old Dominion Copper stock.
Kindly make out two certificates of 25 shares each to Angus H. McLeod, St. Johnsbury, and send same by mail.
Yours truly,

A. H. McLEOD.

P. S.—What has struck Merced? Is it likely to go much lower?
A. H. McLEOD."

Mr. McCLENNEN: From the company's letter-press copy book, page 90, I offer letter of September 23, 1895.
Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.
Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads:

"SEP. 23, 1895.

A. H. McLeod, Esq., St. Johnsbury, Vt.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of September 18th, with check for $1250. to pay for 50 shares stock of the Old Dominion Copper Miniing and Smelting Company, was duly received.
The subscription to the stock being in the name of General Grout, it was necessary that the stock be first issued to him. This has been done and the stock forwarded to him with the request that he assign 50 shares in your favor. When this has been done, we will forward certificate in your name.
Only 60 shares of Merced sold at 32. It is held at 38 to 40 today.
Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas.
By BISSELL."

573 Q. 7. Is this the check referred to in the two letters?
A. Yes.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.
Mr. McCLENNEN: The check reads on its face,—

No. 601. "ST. JOHNSBURY, VT., Sept. 18, 1895.

The First National Bank.

Pay to the order of Thomas Nelson, Treas., $1250.00 Twelve hundred fifty and No/100 Dollars.

A. H. McLEOD."

It is stamped on the face: "First National Bank, Paid Sept. 24, 1895, St. Johnsbury, Vt." On the back appears this: "For deposit only to account of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Co., Thomas Nelson Treas. For collection for account of Atlas National Bank of Boston, Benj. P. Lane, Cashier. Endorsement guaranteed, Atlas National Bank," all of which is in rubber-stamp type, except the words written, "Thomas Nelson."

[The check is offered and marked "Complainant's Exhibit 8, of December 14, 1905."]

From the company's letter-press copy book, page 101, I offer a letter.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: It reads as follows:

"SEPT. 27, 1895.

Angus H. McLeod, Esq., St. Johnsbury, Vt.

DEAR SIR: We enclose you herewith certificate No. B 67 in your name, for fifty (50) shares of this company's stock.

Please acknowledge receipt.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas.,
By BISSELL."

Q. 8. Have you, Mr. McLeod, the original letters, the two of which I have just read copies from the company's letter book?

A. I couldn't say whether I have got them or not; I haven't looked for them. If they were the milling company's letters—I ain't so particular of my own letter—I think I could find them.

Q. 9. I show you, from the company's letter file, the letter of September 28, 1895; is that written by you?

A. Yes.

574 Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"ST. JOHNSBURY, VT., Sept. 28, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Treas., Boston, Mass.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of 27th at hand, with certificate No. B 67, for fifty (50) shares of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Co. stock.

Yours truly,

ANGUS H. McLEOD."

Q. 10. I show you a canceled certificate, B No. 67, for fifty shares of the capital stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, in the name of Angus H. McLeod, dated September 26, 1895: is the signature to the transfer on the back of this in your handwriting?

A. Yes.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The certificate I offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It is marked, "Complainant's Exhibit 9, of December 14, 1905."

Q. 11. Mr. McLeod, having regard to the date of your letter of September 18, 1895, when did you have the negotiations which led to your acquiring this fifty shares of stock?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Well, it was a very short time before; I couldn't say, it might have been a week or ten days, or two or three days.

Q. 12. With whom did you have them?

A. General Grout.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.

Q. 13. Did you have any conversations with any one beside General Grout on the subject of stock in this company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent and immaterial, irrelevant.

A. I don't think it.

Q. 14. Did you have any correspondence on the subject other than the remittances to the company?

A. Not as I remember of, at all.

Q. 15. What, as nearly as you can recall it, were the conversations that you had with General Grout?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

575 A. Well, the general, about that time, had been very successful in his stock investments, and it was quite natural for the directors in the bank at our meetings to talk stocks to him a little, although we wasn't in the habit of buying any stock to speak of at all, and among other things, at the time, they were reorganizing the Old Dominion Company, and he said that he had a block of stock we could have, and, I don't know as I remember how he expressed it, but he made us understand that we were on the ground floor,—might not have said it in that words, but there was no profit to anybody, that we were getting in as cheap as anybody was. We had confidence in him, so we were getting in as cheap as he was anyway, and we had the impression that he had the inside, because he was a heavy buyer of stocks,—I know of the time when he had a million dollars' worth of stock, so we had a good deal of confidence in the general at that time.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Object to the answer as incompetent and immaterial.

Q. 16. Did he inform you anything as to the real source of his information?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, irrelevant.

A. His sources of information was from Mr. Bigelow, he said. He used Mr. Bigelow's name.

Q. 17. Now, recurring again to the conversation, and without going into the matters which aroused your confidence, will you state, as nearly as you can, what was said?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. Well, I don't know as I can repeat just what was said exactly, as it was some time ago, but he had this block of stock, and he said any of us directors could have part of it. I told him I would take 50 shares and thought the Stocker Brothers would take 50 shares.

Q. 18. What did he tell you, if anything, that Mr. Bigelow had said to him?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. Well, I don't think I can state anything that he said that Mr. Bigelow had said to him.

Q. 19. What, as nearly as you can state it, in substance, did he say as to the terms upon which you could come in?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, irrelevant.

A. We could come in on the same terms as he did.

Q. 20. And what did he say, if anything, as to the terms upon which he was coming in?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. Well, that we was getting the stock as he was getting the stock; as cheap as anybody.

576 Q. 21. Did you know, or did General Grout or any one else inform you, that Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn, or any one else, had taken, or intended to take, 50,000 shares, or any other number of shares of the capital stock of the company, either as a promoters' profit, or in return for services rendered, or otherwise?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. No, sir.

Q. 22. When, if at all, did you first receive any information upon that subject?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. I didn't get any information until we got it through the press; I think sometime about the time that they changed and Smith got to be president, along about that time somewhere. I can't tell when; it was through the Boston papers that it was first intimated to me.

Mr. McCLENNEN: That is all.

Mr. HEMENWAY: No questions.

ANGUS H. McLEOD.

STATE OF VERMONT,
Caledonia County, ss.

At St. Johnsbury this 14th day of December A. D. 1905 personally appeared the above-named Angus H. McLeod, and made oath to the truth of the foregoing statement, by him subscribed.

Before me,

GEORGE C. FRYE,
Notary Public.

Deposition of Walter P. Smith.

I, WALTER P. SMITH, being duly sworn, on oath depose and say in answer to interrogatories propounded by Mr. McClennen, as follows:

Q. 1. What is your full name, Judge?
A. Walter P. Smith.
Q. 2. You are the judge of probate?
A. I am.
Q. 3. And you held that office in 1895?
A. Yes, I did.
Q. 4. You reside at St. Johnsbury?
A. Yes.
Q. 5. I show you, from the company's letter file, letter of September 18, 1895: is that in your handwriting?
A. It is.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter I offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendant objects to the admissibility of this letter on the ground of its incompetency and irrelevancy.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads as follows:

577 "Office of Probate Court, District of Caledonia,
Walter P. Smith, Judge.

ST. JOHNSBURY, VT., Sept. 18th, 1895.

Thomas Nelson, Treas.

DEAR SIR: I herewith send you my check $1250.00, for 50 shares of Old Dominion Copper stock. This is by direction of Gen. W. W. Grout who informs me that you have been informed that a certificate of 50 shares is to be sent to me.

Yours truly,

WALTER P. SMITH."

Q. 6. Have you the check that was enclosed in that letter?
A. I have. [Check produced.]

Mr. McCLENNEN: This check upon its face——

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendants object to the admissibility of the check on the ground of its incompetency and irrelevancy.

Mr. McCLENNEN [reading]:

No. 1162. "ST. JOHNSBURY, VT., Sept. 18, 1895.

The First National Bank pay to the order of Thomas Nelson Treas $1250.00, Twelve hundred and fifty Dollars.

WALTER P. SMITH."

It has stamped on the face: "First National Bank, Sept. 24, 1895, Paid, St. Johnsbury, Vt."

It has stamped upon the back: "For deposit only to the account of Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Co., Thomas Nelson, Treas. For colection for account of Atlas National Bank of Boston, Benj. P. Lane, Cashier. Endorsement guaranteed by Atlas National Bank," all of which is in rubber-stamp type except the words, "Thomas Nelson," written.

The check is marked "Complainant's Exhibit 6, of December 14, 1905."

I offer, from the company's letter-press copy book, page 93, a letter of December 23, 1895.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads:

578 "SEPT. 23, 1895.

Walter P. Smith, Esq., St. Johnsbury, Vt.

DEAR SIR: Your late favor covering check for $1250.00, to pay for fifty (50) shares stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company, was duly received. Certificate will be forwarded to you in a few days.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas.,
By BISSELL."

Mr. McCLENNEN: From the company's letter-press copy book, page 100, I offer letter of September 27, 1895.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads:

"SEPTEMBER 27, 1895.

Walter P. Smith, Esq., St. Johnsbury, Vt.

DEAR SIR: We enclose you herewith certificate No. 866, in your name, for fifty (50) shares of this Company's stock.

Please acknowledge receipt.

Yours truly,

THOMAS NELSON, Treas.,
By BISSELL."

Q. 7. Have you in your possession, Judge Smith, the originals of the two letters, copies of which I have just read?

A. I am unable to say, I haven't been called upon to look for them; I am not able to say whether I can find them or not.

Q. 8. I show you canceled certificate of the complainant, B No. 66, for fifty shares of its capital stock, in the name of Walter P. Smith, dated September 26, 1895; is the signature to the transfer thereon in your handwriting?

A. It is.

Mr. McClennen: The certificate is offered in evidence.

Mr. Hemenway: Objected to as immaterial.

Mr. McClennen: And marked "Complainant's Exhibit 7, of December 14, 1905."

Q. 9. Having regard to the date of your letter of September 18, 1895, can you recall approximately the time of the negotiations which led to your acquiring this stock?

579 Mr. Hemenway: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Well, a few days before; I am unable to state the exact length of time.

Q. 10. And with whom did you have them?

Mr. Hemenway: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Gen. W. W. Grout.

Q. 11. Did you have—were they conducted by correspondence or conversation?

A. Conversation.

Q. 12. Did you have any conversations, as far as you recall, with any other persons relative to the matter?

Mr. Hemenway: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Relative to the negotiations?

Q. 13. Yes.

A. No.

Q. 14. What, as nearly as you can state, were the conversations?

Mr. Hemenway: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. The conversation that I had with General Grout was upon the occasion of a meeting of the directors at the First National Bank. After the business of the meeting was ended, and as we were about going away, General Grout said something about the Old Dominion Company. Just how the conversation began I am unable to say. It may have been that something was said about stocks generally, and this matter came up. As I remember it now, he said that there had been, or was to be, a reorganization of the Old Dominion Company, and that he was going to take some stock himself, and that there was an opportunity for some of the rest of us to have some if we would like it.

Q. 15. Do you recall whether he gave you any further information in that conversation, or in any other conversation, as to the organization of the company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial.

A. No, I think not. The conversation was brief, and he gave us to understand that it was a good opportunity to get in.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Answer objected to.

Q. 16. Did he state to you anything about the terms upon which you could come in?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, irrelevant, and leading.

A. Except that we could now get the stock at $25 a share.

Q. 17. Did he inform you anything with respect to the terms upon which others were to get the stock?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

580 A. Don't remember that he did.

Q. 18. Did you have any conversations about this matter with any one except General Grout?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Do you mean as to the taking of stock in the company?

Q. 19. Yes, or as to anything connected with its organization?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial.

A. Mr. McLeod, as I remember it, was present. I might have passed a few words with him in regard to taking some of the stock. I remember of telling General Grout at the time that I would take 50 shares.

Q. 20. Did you know, or were you informed, that Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn, or either of them, or any one else, had taken, or purposed to take, 50,000 or any other number of the shares of the capital stock of the company, by way of promoters' profits, or in return for services rendered, or otherwise?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. No.

Q. 21. Was any information given to you in any way bearing upon that subject?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Nothing whatever.

Q. 22. When, if at all, did you ever learn that anything of that character had occurred?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.

A. I don't think I ever heard anything about it until after President Smith came into office and this matter was agitated.

Mr. McCLENNEN: That is all.

Mr. HEMENWAY: No questions.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It is understood that the objections made by Mr. Hemenway are also made by Mr. Treadwell on behalf of Mr. Lewisohn.

WALTER P. SMITH.

STATE OF VERMONT,
Caledonia County, ss:

At St. Johnsbury this 14th day of December, A. D. 1905, personally appeared the above named Walter P. Smith, and made oath to the truth of the foregoing statement, by him subscribed.

Before me:

GEORGE C. FRYE.
Notary Public.

581 Taken Before Howland Twombly, Esq., Notary Public at 161 Devonshire Street, Boston, Mass., May 22, 1906.

Appearances:

Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., and E. F. McClennen, Esq., for the plaintiff.

Eugene Treadwell, Esq., and Alfred Hemenway, Esq., for the defendants.

George C. Burpee, stenographer.

Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

Deposition of Joseph S. Bigelow.

JOSEPH S. BIGELOW, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., a notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by L. D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. Please state your name, residence, and occupation?

A. Joseph S. Bigelow; Cohasset; vice-president of the Webster & Atlas Bank.

Q. 2. What was your occupation in 1895?

A. I had none.

Q. 3. And subsequent to that time until 1902?

A. In 1897 I became president of the Atlas Bank.

Q. 4. And remained president of it until its consolidation recently with the Webster Bank?

A. Yes.

Q. 5. You were for several years a director in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. I was a director of it.

Q. 6. Do you remember when you became a director?

A. I cannot. I have no record of it.

Q. 7. Did you at any time while you were a director of that company know that the company had a cause of action against Mr. Albert S. Bigelow and Mr. Leonard Lewisohn?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I do not know that it was at the time I was a director. I knew there was a cause of action at some time; I do not know whether it was during that time or not.

582 Q. 8. What do you refer to by saying you knew there was a cause of action?

A. I saw in a paper I read there was something going on; what, I did not know, because I did not know anything about it.

Q. 9. That is, you refer to a suit that was commenced against Albert S. Bigelow?

A. A suit commenced against Mr. Lewisohn and Mr. Bigelow.

Q. 10. Was that suit that was commenced the first you ever knew or heard of any cause of action or any claim against them?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. The first I ever knew of it.

——— ———.

Subscribed and sworn to this — day of ———, 1906, before me.

——— ———,

Notary Public.

Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

Deposition of Clarence H. Bissell.

CLARENCE H. BISSELL, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., a notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by L. D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says:

Q. 1. Please state your full name, age, residence, and occupation?

A. Clarence H. Bissell; residence, Winthrop, Mass.

Q. 2. What is your occupation?

A. I am clerk in the office of various mining companies at 303 Sears Building.

Q. 3. Mining companies with which Mr. Albert S. Bigelow is connected?

A. Yes.

Q. 4. How long have you been in the employ of those companies, or of Mr. A. S. Bigelow?

A. Well, something over thirty years.

Q. 5. Have you been during all that time in practically the same capacity, as clerk?

A. Practically, yes.

Q. 6. You were for some time a director in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, were you not?

A. I do not recollect as to that.

583 Q. 7. That is, you do not recall that you ever were a director in that company?

A. I could not swear that I was; no.

Q. 8. You were in some way connected with the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company or acted in relation to the company as clerk, or otherwise, were you not?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. Yes.

Q. 9. When did you cease to act in whatever capacity you did act?

A. Well, I think at the time the company left our office.

Q. 10. You say at the time the company left your office?

A. I think the date was in 1902.

Q. 11. Did you at any time prior to that, or when the company left your office, as you express it, know of the company's having any cause of action against Albert S. Bigelow or Leonard Lewisohn, or the estate of Leonard Lewisohn?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and also as leading.]

A. I saw something of it in the papers.

Q. 12. You mean that you refer to the suits that were commenced against Mr. A. S. Bigelow and the Leonard Lewisohn estate?

A. I do not know that they were commenced at that time.

Q. 13. Well, you refer to whatever was published in the paper after the change in management, when Mr. Charles S. Smith became the president of the company, do you?

A. That is my recollection.

Q. 14. Prior to what you saw in the papers that you have just testified about, did you have any knowledge of any cause of action against Mr. A. S. Bigelow, Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, or Mr. Leonard Lewisohn's estate?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No.

[No cross-examination.]

——— ———.

Subscribed and sworn to this — day of ———, 1906, before me.

———,

Notary Public.

584 Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

Deposition of J. Morris Meredith.

J. MORRIS MEREDITH, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., a notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by E. F. McClennen, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says.—

Q. 1. Mr. Meredith, what is your full name?

A. James Morris Meredith.

Q. 2. And you reside where?

A. I am a resident of Boston; I am living in Topsfield.

Q. 3. And your business is what?

A. Real estate, trustee, agent, and broker.

Q. 4. You had something to do, did you not, with the original acquisition from the Simpson estate of the Old Dominion mine?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I sold the mine for Mr. Simpson.

Q. 5. Have you any correspondence relating to those transactions?

A. All I could find was some copies——

Mr. HEMENWAY: The question is, "Have you any?"

The WITNESS: I have some.

Q. 6. Will you refer to such as you have been able to find, and inform us of the earliest date that you find?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. April 29, 1905.

Q. 7. To whom and by whom was that letter written?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. By me to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn.

Q. 8. Mr. Meredith, you said April 29, 1905?

A. Yes.

Q. 9. Did you [in] fact mean that, or in 1895?

A. In 1895.

Q. 10. Will you read that letter?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial; and I should like to see the letter.]

585 A. Well, before I show it to anybody, I should like to make a remark about it myself. It is marked "Private," and I really do not see why I should be compelled to bring in my private correspondence to you gentlemen. There is nothing I want to hide about it, and I presume there is nothing very material. It is a private communication from me to Mr. Lewisohn; it is marked "Private," and I brought it up here because I was summoned. I do not know that you have any right to this communication. There is nothing that will hurt one side or do the other side any good in it, so far as I can see. At the same time, it is rather extraordinary that I should be asked to produce it.

Q. 11. Well, Mr. Meredith, to relieve you of any feeling of embarrassment on that subject, I show you a letter of Mr. Lewisohn to you of April 29, 1895, which has already been inroduced in evidence in New York and is marked "Exhibit 162:" is the letter to which you have just referred in your answer the same letter?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not know. [Inspecting letter.] Oh, that has nothing to do with this matter at all.

Mr. HEMENWAY: That letter was objected to in the testimony taken in New York.

The WITNESS: That refers——

Mr. HEMENWAY: No, no, there is no question.

Q. 12. You say that is not the same letter?

A. That letter applies to an entirely different subject, and has nothing to do with or to say about the Old Dominion, or anything in connection with it.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: That is Exhibit 162.

Q. 13. Now I show you a copy of a letter of yours of April 30, 1895, introduced in evidence and appearing on page 5 of the testimony of Mr. Hyams. That is a letter to Leonard Lewisohn, of April 30, 1895, from you.

A. You have probably got a copy.

[Letter shown to witness.]

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendant objects to the admission of this letter, or any portion of its contents, it being correspondence between Mr. Meredith and Mr. Lewisohn, neither of whom are parties to this suit against Mr. Bigelow.

The WITNESS: That appears to be the one.

Q. 14. In this letter which you have now read, namely, that of April 30, 1895, you say, "Your favor of yesterday re-586 ceived:" is the letter which you have spoken of as a confidential communication the letter therein referred to?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. No. When I said the letter was private, it was a letter from myself to Mr. Lewisohn, not one from him.

Q. 15. Have you the letter from Mr. Lewisohn referred to as of "yesterday," in this your letter of April 30, 1895?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I cannot find it. You see, this was private business of my own, and whilst I used the copy book of the firm to copy my letters, the letters I received got mixed up and they are where I cannot put my hand on them.

Q. 16. Does the letter which you have characterized as confidential, of April 29, 1895, relate to the matter of the Old Dominion mine?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. It does. As I said before, I can see no harm in showing it, but simply it was correspondence between him and myself; it is nothing that will do you any good or the other side any harm, that I can see.

Q. 17. So that you have no personal objection?

A. I have no personal objection, nor do I know that anybody else has any objection, to showing it, only I did not know that a broker was compelled to show his correspondence in these things; but I am not a lawyer and do not know anything about it.

Q. 18. If it be a fact that under the rules of law a broker is compelled to do it, you have no objection to doing it?

A. I have no objection.

Q. 19. Then I will ask you to produce the letter.

A. Well, on the theory that the law does compel me to?

Q. 20. Let me assure you that it is a fact that the law does compel you to produce it, provided it is relative to the inquiry.

A. All right. I will take your assurance.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter of April 29, 1895, we will offer in evidence, and it reads as follows——

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendant objects to this letter from Mr. Meredith to Mr. Lewisohn as being incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant, having no relation whatever to the issues in this case, and being correspondence between Lewisohn and Meredith, 587 parties other than parties to the suit. And, in order to save time, with Mr. Brandeis' permission, I would like to make the same objection to all the correspondence between Mr. Meredith and Mr. Lewisohn other than correspondence that is brought home to the attention of Mr. Bigelow, if there be any such.

Mr. BRANDEIS: We accept that general objection.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:—

"Private."

APRIL 29TH, —5.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Fulton St. New York.

DEAR SIR: Concerning the property you want me to get hold of, the owner of five sevenths did not sell as I supposed. He is a valued client of mine and we manage some large real estate interests here for him. I have been with him for an hour today.

He cautioned me not to talk with the Bigelow crowd as he apparently has been imbued in Baltimore with the same absurd jealousy and fear.

Something is going on in the way of negotiations now and I have reason to believe Mr. Dodge is in it.

However to day everything is open and I could buy the property or at least five sevenths with an agreement on my part to take the remaining two sevenths if offered, provided no one suspected to whom it was going and Baltimore did not hear of it until accomplished. It is needless to caution you to keep from saying a word to anyone on this subject at present.

The owner expects to leave here in four days to go out there and

I ought to see him again before he goes and know exactly what to say to him.

The mine is shut down awaiting the completion of the S. P. railroad branch which is being built in to it.

If you are really in want of this property now is the time but let no one know it or hear you speak of it.

Wire me early tomorrow where to meet you on the arrival of tomorrow's three o'clock shore line train which gets in about nine and after an hour's talk with you I must return on the midnight train as I must be in Boston Wednesday.

Of course this is only in case you need me.

I ought to be instructed just what to say to him before he goes.

Yr's Very Truly,

J. M. MEREDITH."

588 Q. 21. Mr. Meredith, as far as you now recall, what, if anything, had occurred between you and Mr. Lewisohn prior to this letter relating in any way to the possible acquisition of the Old Dominion mine?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. He had asked me in New York whether I knew that Mr. Simpson had sold his interest in the Old Dominion. I told him that I did not think he had, because I thought Mr. Simpson would have told me if he had; I should have heard of it. And I gathered from him—I do not know whether he told me or I asked him—that it was a property that he would be interested in. And I came to Boston and saw Mr. Simpson, and then wrote Mr. Lewisohn about it. That is my recollection.

Q. 22. And this letter which has just been read was what you wrote?

A. Yes.

Q. 23. I show you Exhibit 1, March 24, 1903, of Mr. Bigelow's deposition, a paper dated April 30, 1895, and signed by Mr. Simpson: is that in your handwriting?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Yes, sir, it is.

Q. 24. Do you recognize that paper as being the option or bond referred to in your letter of April 30, 1895, which you have just read, which appears on page 5 of Mr. Hyams' deposition, by a copy?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Yes, to the best of my belief, it is.

Q. 25. In that same letter you speak of instructions of the morn- from Mr. Lewisohn by telephone: do you have any recollection of that telephone conversation which you had on the morning of April 30 before obtaining this option from Mr. Simpson?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. 26. Have you any recollection, in view of the letters and the option, of the subject to which the conversation related?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

589 A. If there was such a conversation over the telephone it would have applied to that option, undoubtedly.

Q. 27. Just what the details were you have no recollection of?

A. No.

Q. 28. In the letter of April 30 you speak also of the conversation with Mr. Simpson which resulted in your obtaining this option; will you state the substance of that conversation with Mr. Simpson as far as you now recall it?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I cannot recall anything more than what is in that letter; and that I do not recall. I simply see that I have written it.

Q. 29. Are you prepared to say that is a correct recital of the conversation which occurred?

[Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and as leading.]

A. — and impertinent, I should say. I have stated that. I am not in the habit of writing things that are not correct.

Q. 30. Do not understand my question as insinuating the contrary. In view of the rules of procedure, we have to get the facts down.

A. All right, sir.

Q. 31. Now I will put it in this form: Refreshing your recollection from the letter of April 30, will you state, as thereby refreshed, what the conversation was?

[Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. I can simply state that I have no doubt that the conversation occurred as stated in this letter.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I will now offer the letter of Mr. Meredith to Mr. Lewisohn of April 30, 1895, which reads as follows:—

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the reasons heretofore stated.

Mr. McCLENNEN: [Reading:]

"APRIL 30TH, —5.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Fulton St., New York.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of yesterday rec'd. In accordance with your instructions of this morning over the telephone I sent for Mr. Simpson who was out of town at his mill and he only arrived late this afternoon too late to consult you or anyone. I found it harder than I supposed to pin him down, he showed a strong desire before committing himself to consult with some one, due as he stated it that giving an option might ruin another negotiation under way.

590 My reply was that it appeared that he had got to ruin one or the other, that my instructions were to settle the matter for ever at my first interview and that I could not allow him even to use the Long Distance. If I left without a bond he could be sure he would never hear from my people again.

My acquaintance with him permitted me to be a little more severe than otherwise.

After two hours he has given me a bond copy of which I enclose.

We had to write it ourselves as neither of us wanted to leave the other for fear of the Long Distance.

If any of the details or the form are very objectionable wire me tomorrow, 'form of bond impossible' and send me by night's mail a form drafted by your lawyer and I will try and get him to change it. Mr. Simpson is a fair minded man and I believe he will be perfectly reasonable with me.

He goes west in two days leaving his power of attorney at his office.

He says that the Company has got on hand actual surplus of over $350,000 in copper cash and notes receivable which are really undeclared dividends and that he will not include this in the sale.

He has nothing else connected with this Company except an interest in a store which is a private enterprise.

The provisions for delay in transfer is because it might turn out that he would have to apply to the Probate Court but there is no one to consult but himself.

I think some of your warm friends on the street will be much troubled if this sale is completed.

You may send me your check for the two thousand dollars.

He expects an expert to be sent by me at once to the mine so as to report within the fourteen days, you will know if this is necessary.

He has no idea who my people are.

If I have done wrong in anything correct me. It was a difficult matter.

Yr's Very Truly,

J. M. MEREDITH."

Q. 2. What is the next, Mr. Meredith, that you now find in the order of date in the correspondence?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. To Mr. Lewisohn; May 16.

391 Q. 33. Let me call your attention to a letter introduced in the deposition of Mr. Hyams at page 7, and dated May 1, 1895, written from the Somerset Club, and see ——

A. This [referring to copy in hand of witness] is dated May 16, from the Somerset Club.

Q. 34. Do you recall the letter of May 1?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not recall anything about it; although I have no doubt it is quite possible such a letter was written; I have no copy of it.

Q. 35. To do away with any uncertainty, I show you the original of this letter of May 1, 1895; do you recognize that as your handwriting?

A. Yes, I recognize my handwriting and my signature.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter of May 1, 1895, I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the reasons heretofore stated.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads as follows:—

"SOMERSET CLUB, BOSTON, May 1, '5.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Fulton St., New York.

DEAR SIR: Your favor over the telephone today was duly received. Mr. Simpson, not feeling very well, did not come to town today, so this afternoon I had to go out to his house at Saxonville to see him. My form of bond was of course unsatisfactory, but knowing him to be a thoroughly honorable man, and having asked him verbally about many of the points you suggest, I deemed it better to lock him in with an unsatisfactory bond, rather than to let him talk to Baltimore, and I still think I was right. He shows every willingness this afternoon to put the bond in any form that is absolutely fair. He agrees that of course the corporation of which you buy the shares owns all the mines, smelters, furnaces, buildings, mining tools and other appurtenances, also all the ores on dump or in process, copper bottoms, and so forth, and that all he wishes to reserve from the sale is any finished copper product, such as pig copper or ingot copper, cash or notes receivable which have been in the company's possession before this time, the total not to exceed in any case over $350,000, so-called company surplus. The clause about legal delivery of the stock from his father's estate was put in by prudence. Tomorrow I consult an attorney as to 592 whether it is not in his power to absolutely deliver it. I think it is. He agrees with me that this must be put in such shape that no outside influence can interfere; but, when it comes to terms, he not knowing, you understand, who my people are, refuses longer time, in doing away with satisfactory endorsements; as he expresses it, he either runs the mine or sells it; and $100,000 cash is nothing to him if he loses the control of the mine and then has to take it back. He remarks that if my people are as strong as I state them, the terms named are ample. He agrees to be in New York with me on Friday and sign any new bond from which day the fourteen days shall run, but insists that he must go West Friday night and that after that day he cannot change the terms of the bond. Therefore you must consult your attorney and have him ready on Friday to prepare a bond, and he and I can again see Mr. Simpson without his disclosing you in the matter at all.

Telephone me tomorrow if this is all right, and I will wire you about his father's will. I should not be surprised if he believes the purchasers to be Anaconda & Calumet & Hecla, who buy to whip Montana and Tamarack.

Yours very truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

Q. 36. I now show you Exhibit 2, March 24, 1903, of the deposition of Mr. Bigelow, an option between the Simpson estate and yourself of May 4, 1895: do you recall the fact of obtaining a second option?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. There was some paper which Mr. Beaman in New York prepared on the day Mr. Simpson was in New York, and it was executed by Mr. Simpson at the Waldorf, I think, or one of the hotels, in the evening. Whether it was this option or not I do not know.

[Answer objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

Q. 37. Was the paper to which you refer, which was executed by Mr. Simpson at the Waldorf, some form of option upon the Old Dominion stock?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. It was some form to take the place of the one he had signed when I was here in Boston.

[Answer objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

593 Q. 38. That is the one of April 30?

A. Yes.

Q. 39. I show you a letter of May 6, 1895, appearing to be from you to Mr. Lewisohn: is that in your handwriting?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Yes, that appears to be my signature and my handwriting.

Mr. McCLENNEN: This I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the reasons heretofore stated as to the other correspondence.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads as follows:—

"Office of Meredith & Grew, 15 Congress St., Boston, Mass.

BOSTON, May 6, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Fulton St., New York.

MY DEAR SIR: Mr. Butler did not find Mr. Keyser at Old Point Comfort and was to follow him to Baltimore hoping to return to Boston tomorrow morning. I have secured the third executor's signature to the option, and have written Mr. Beaman to that effect. Mr. Bigelow has agreed to let me have, or rather take and pay for a small share of his interest in this venture. I only mention this to show my desire to aid your side of the copper business. I think I can help you on the railroad situation with Mr. Huntington. His private secretary, Mr. Tweed, formerly a partner of Evarts, Southmayd & Choate, I have known for years, and our relations are always of the pleasantest. Mr. Johnson wires me that the senior of the banking house cannot be reached for a day or two more. I will consult with you on this on Wednesday when I shall be in New York. To-night Mr. Hyams is to coach me thoroughly on the railroad situation. My rough idea is to try and get a five years' contract before the option is closed. It will greatly strengthen the situation and enhance the value of the property. But we will talk this over when I meet you.

All comes to those who know how to work for it. Believe me,

Yours truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

594 Q. 40. In this letter, Mr. Meredith, you have referred to the fact that Mr. Bigelow has agreed to let you "have or rather take and pay for a small share of his interest in this venture;" have you any recollection of how long, prior to May 6, 1895, you had had any conference with Mr. Bigelow on this subject?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. My recollection is that after the option——

Mr. HEMENWAY: He simply asks for the time.

The WITNESS: I cannot give the time.

Q. 41. Can you give me the time by reference to any of the transactions?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I think I can.

Q. 42. Well, will you do so?

A. When the option was in Mr. Lewisohn's hands that I had obtained from Mr. Simpson, the commission was stated in the option. Mr. Lewisohn thought he ought to have part of it. I demurred to that. When I came to Boston I told Mr. Bigelow of that. He said that he would give me an interest if I put the money into it, and that under those circumstances he did not believe Mr. Lewisohn would again make his request for part of that commission, which I agreed to.

[Answer objected to as irresponsive and irrelevant.]

Q. 43. From what source had you learned that Mr. Bigelow was interested in this plan?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Oh, I had talked with Mr. Bigelow about it ever since Mr. Lewisohn first spoke to me about it.

Q. 44. Well, do you mean by that before the acquisition of the option?

A. I do not remember, but I think it extremely likely.

Q. 45. Did you learn from Mr. Bigelow what his interest was in the enterprise?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not remember.

Q. 46. Do you remember whether he at the time told you what portion he was to have?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

595 A. I do not remember.

Q. 47. Referring back to your letter of April 29, in which you outlined the possibility of doing something with Mr. Simpson, do you recall whether or not at that writing you had talked with Mr. Bigelow at all about the matter?

[Objected to as leading.]

A. I do not recall any such talk.

Q. 48. Have you any means of fixing how many times you had conferred with Mr. Bigelow, prior to this letter of May 6, which has just been read, relating to the agreement to permit you to contribute to the enterprise?

[Objected to as immaterial and leading.]

A. My recollection is that I went into Mr. Bigelow's office every day after I got working on this, when I was in Boston.

Q. 49. Did you confer with him there on these occasions?

A. I suppose so.

Q. 50. Apart from the conferences at his office, do you remember whether you had any telephone communication from Lewisohn?

A. I cannot recall that—eleven years ago.

Q. 51. Do you remember whether or not—do you remember where you conducted your telephone communications with Mr. Lewisohn referred to in these letters we have just been reading?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not.

Q. 52. Do you remember whether any of those were from Mr. Bigelow's office?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Probably they were.

Q. 53. You refer in your letter of May 6, just read, to the fact of Mr. Butler's not finding Mr. Keyser: do you remember the arrangement which led to Mr. Butler's attempting to find Mr. Keyser?

[Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. Mr. Butler went down to Baltimore for some purpose, undoubtedly to see Mr. Keyser: it would be a mere surmise for me to try to remember exactly why he went.

5961 Q. 54. Do you remember by whom it was arranged that he should go?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. No, I cannot say by whom: no, I could not say.

Q. 55. Do you remember when the possibility of acquiring Mr. Keyser's interest was first discussed by you, either with Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow?

[Objected to as immaterial and as leading, and as assuming a fact not yet proven.]

A. I think it is mentioned in the original bond: I am not sure. You have got it, and I have not.

Q. 56. Let me call to your attention, Mr. Meredith, the fact that the original options of April 30 and May 4, while containing a provision that the purchasers must buy Keyser's share if he so elects, do not contain a provision compelling Keyser to dispose of his share.

A. No.

Q. 57. Having that in mind, will you state the first you recollect with reference to any effort being made, if any there was, to get Mr. Keyser to sell?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. The only thing I remember is there came a time when Mr. Keyser said he would sell, provided he did not have to pay me my commission; and there was a trade made with me, so that I should not insist upon that commission. When that was, I do not know, whether one of these letters will state or not. On June 10 I wrote to Mr. Lewisohn, reciting what he was to give me on that account.

Q. 58. But you have no present recollection of the beginning of the negotiations which led to that?

A. No. May 25, I telegraphed, "Keyser does not care to consult other owners two sevenths until option is acted upon," so I suppose he had not expressed whether he would or would not take it by May 25.

Q. 59. Is this letter of May 7, appearing to be from you to Mr. Lewisohn, written by you?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. It is.

Mr. McCLENNEN: That letter I offer. It reads as follows:
Mr. HEMENWAY: That is objected to for the reasons before stated.
Mr. McCLENNEN [reading]:

597 "Office of Meredith & Grew, 15 Congress St.

BOSTON, May 7, 1895.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., P. O. 1247, New York.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of yesterday enclosing check to my order for the $2000 paid out by me under agreement of May 4, received with thanks. I shall hope to see you tomorrow, and will call at the office. My hotel will be the Waldorf.

Yours very truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

Q. 60. After this letter, Mr. Meredith, am I right that the next letter you find is May 16?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. To Mr. Lewisohn?
Q. 61. To Mr. Lewisohn.
A. Yes.
Q. 62. May I have that?
A. [Copy produced.]

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter I will offer.
Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the reasons heretofore stated as to the other correspondence.
Mr. McCLENNEN [reading]:

"Somerset Club, Boston.

MAY 16, '5.

DEAR SIR: Your kind favor of yesterday received and I have delayed answering until I came up town. At all times business suggested by you will receive my closest attention. I will be in New York next Tuesday and look into the matter of the Alabama coal company with pleasure.

Mr. Simpson goes west on Saturday and Mr. Butler wishes you could give the endorsements on the notes and guarantee before then so that he could pass on them before leaving. I should think you and Mr. A. S. Bigelow would be ample. I will see Mr. Bigelow in the morning and have him call you up.

Mr. Keiser telegraphed today for a ten days option Old Dominion to run from May 28th if you do not take it and it was given to him. I hope the report from Arizona will be favorable.

Hoping to see you on Tuesday, I remain very truly and with thanks.

J. M. MEREDITH.

L. Lewisohn Esq."

598 Q. 63. What is the next letter to Mr. Lewisohn?
A. May 17.

[Copy exhibited.]

Mr. MCCLENNEN: This letter I offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the reasons heretofore stated.

Mr. MCCLENNEN [reading]:

"MAY 17, '5.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., Post Office box 1247, New York.

DEAR SIR: Mr. Simpson agrees that your notes endorsed by Lewisohn Bros. Co. and Albert S. Bigelow will be satisfactory to the Executors of his father's E-tate.

But as to the guarantee to take the minority he prefers Mr. Kaiser to pass on this and I have written under his direction to Mr. Kaiser for his approval. I have no doubt it will be all right. They want the papers to pass at the Old Colony Trust Company here in Boston.

Mr. Simpson desires me to assure you that the only reason for his consenting to give ten days option after the 28th was that Mr. Kaiser was under obligations to do so when asked and that Mr. Simpson under the circumstances could not refuse.

Y'rs Very Truly,

J. M. MEREDITH."

Q. 64. Up to this date, May 17, 1895, Mr. Meredith, had you had any correspondence with Mr. Keyser?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Up to the 17th?
Q. 65. Up to the 17th.
A. I have no copy of any before the 17th.

Q. 66. What is the first correspondence that you had with Mr. Keyser?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. On the 17th [exhibiting a copy].

Mr. McCLENNEN: This letter I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The letter is objected to for the reasons before stated and for the reason that Mr. Keyser is in no way interested in any of these suits at present pending in regard to these matters.

599 Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"MAY 17TH, '5.

Wm. Kaiser, Esq., Kaiser Building, Baltimore, Md.

MY DEAR SIR: Under the option for the Old Dominion Copper Mining Co. given me by Mr. F. E. Simpson and assigned by me to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, Mr. Simpson has agreed that Mr. Leonard Lewisohn's notes endorsed by Lewisohn Bros. Co. and Mr. Albert S. Bigelow will be satisfactory to the Executors of his father's Estate. But as to the guarantee to be given to take any part of the minority offered within sixty days he prefers to have you decide, as it is of more interest to you than to him.

Will you kindly wire me on receipt of this if the above three names will be satisfactory to you.

I think it possible that if you also notified me at once that the two sevenths be tendered I could get the parties to agree to take them at the same time, of course with the understanding that they should at once control the board of directors.

But this is only an idea of my own to make things as pleasant as possible for you.

I remain with respect.

Y'rs very truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

Q. 67. Have you any recollection, Mr. Meredith, whether you had seen Mr. Keyser in this matter prior to the writing of this letter on May 17, 1895?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I have none, sir.

Q. 68. Up to this date had you any correspondence with Mr. Bigelow?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. May 16 is the first letter that I find a copy of to Mr. Bigelow.

Mr. McCLENNEN: That letter I offer.

[Objected to as immaterial.]

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"MAY 16TH, 1895.

600

DEAR BIGELOW: Enclosed is seventy dollars being my share amounting to ($25,000) twenty five thousand dollars of the $2000 paid for option in the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company deal.

Y'rs very truly,

J. M. MEREDITH."

A. S. Bigelow, Esq.

Q. 69. Mr. Meredith, I show you Exhibit 20, May 5, 1903, accompanying Mr. Bigelow's deposition, a so-called underwriting agreement of May 25, 1895; is the signature thereto, "J. Morris Meredith, $25,000," yours?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Yes, that is my signature.

Q. 70. Is the $25,000 interest therein mentioned the one to which you refer in your letter of May 16 to Mr. Bigelow?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Yes, undoubtedly.

Q. 71. Now, in order to date, what is the next letter that you have, either to Mr. Lewisohn, to Mr. Bigelow, or to Mr. Keyser?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. What date are we at now?

Q. 72. The 17th of May. We have had the one of the 17th of May.

A. May 20, to Mr. Keyser [exhibiting copy].

Mr. MCCLENNEN: This letter I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as irrelevant, incompetent, and immaterial.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows:

"MAY 20TH, '5

Wm. Keyser, Esq., Keyser Build'g, Baltimore, Md.

DEAR SIR: Your favor of the 18th received. Altho' everybody supposed that you would desire to retire, I personally am reluctant to cause inconvenience to any gentlemen in a trade where I might be looked upon as an outsider.

I shall be in New York at the Holland House tomorrow and if you will kindly wire me there tomorrow where and when to meet you either in New York or Baltimore as early as possible I will 601 endeavor to keep the appointment. I think after a personal interview I can arrange things to please you all and I hope to be considered a well doer rather than a nuisance. I remain,

Y'rs very truly.

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

Q. 73. What is the next letter in order of date to Mr. Lewisohn, to Mr. Bigelow, or to Mr. Keyser?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I think there is one to each of them on the 25th, if I am not mistaken. I think you will find it there.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I offer a letter of Mr. Meredith to Mr. Bigelow of May 25, 1895.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the reasons heretofore stated

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads as follows:

"MAY 25, '5.

A. S. Bigelow, Esq.

DEAR SIR: Enclosed you have check for thirty five hundred dollars on a/c of my share in the Old Dominion Copper Mine Co. purchase.

Y'rs very truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

Mr. McCLENNEN: I offer a letter from Mr. Meredith to Lewisohn Brothers of May 25, 1895.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the reasons heretofore stated.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads:

"MAY 25, '5.

Lewisohn Bros. Co., Fulton Street, New York:

Keyser does not care to consult other owners two seventhe until option is acted upon assures me if sale is made there will be no captious opposition nor any delay in transfer of property control to new owners. If you get telegram from Hyams tomorrow cannot you repeat to me Somerset Club Boston there is so little time show this to Beaman.

J. M. MEREDITH."

602 Q. 74. Was that a letter or a telegram, Mr. Meredith?
A. It looks like a telegram.

Mr. McCLENNEN: I will offer a letter from Mr. Meredith to Mr. Keyser dated May 25, 1895.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the reasons heretofore stated.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter reads as follows?

"MAY 25, '5.

Wm. Keyser, Esq., Keyser Building, Baltimore, Md.

DEAR SIR: Your favors of May 23rd and 24th both received with my best thanks.

We have not yet received expert reports from the mine but shall no doubt by Monday.

I remain,

Y'rs very truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

Q. 75. In a letter to Mr. Keyser of May 20 you refer to your intention to be at the Holland House in New York on the following day, and in your telegram to Lewisohn Brothers you refer to Mr. Keyser's not desiring to consult the other owners until the option is acted upon; do you recall what course you did in fact pursue so far as Mr. Keyser was concerned?

[Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. I know that at some time I saw Mr. Keyser at the Holland House in New York; I cannot tell you whether on just that date or not.

Q. 75. Do you know whether it was at that conversation that you learned that he did not care to consult the other owners?

[Objected to as immaterial and leading.]

A. I cannot tell you.

Q. 77. It has appeared in the testimony of Mr. Bigelow, at page 173, that a letter was written by Lewisohn Brothers to Adolph Lewisohn, as follows:

603 "NEW YORK, May 24th, 1895.

Adolph Lewisohn, Esq., London.

DEAR SIR: Mr. Meredith got back from Baltimore yesterday and had a conference of a couple of hours' duration with Mr. Keyser, but is none the wiser as to whether this gentleman intends to let us have his two-sevenths of the Old Dominion or not. He intimates that if we make it a different company with a higher capitalization, he would probably not remain in; but he had not decided and is not compelled to decide for sixty days. Having three directors out of five, they control; and we would have to get one of those directors to our side—otherwise they would have the running of the company until next February when a meeting will be held and new directors appointed.

We will have to take our chances on this matter, and we hope he will act fairly.

Mr. Lieberman of Arizona is one of the directors, we understand, and Mr. Leonard Lewisohn believes we will be able to win him over, and Mr. Simpson also promised to help us in gaining our point there, and it is probable that this matter will right itself in course of time as it is not likely that Keyser will be very mean when there is not much for him to gain thereby.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS,
LEWISOHN,
General Manager."

Do you recall whether you had more than one meeting with Mr. Keyser?

Mr. HEMENWAY: The defendant objects to that part of this interrogatory which incorporates the so-called letter from "Lewisohn Brothers, Lewisohn, General Manager," to Adolph Lewisohn as being incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant, the letter itself being objected to, and the next interrogatory having no relation to this letter, apparently, said letter having not yet been proven, and it being between other parties than those to the suits to which Mr. Bigelow is a party; and the last part of the interrogatory is objected to as immaterial.

A. I remember of seeing him at the Holland House, New York, I remember of going to Baltimore and going to the Keyser building, to the office; whether I saw him there or whether I saw somebody else, I have no recollection to-day.

604 Q. 78. Do you remember which visit was first, to the Holland House or to the Keyser building?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not.

Q. 79. Do you remember on one or the other of these occasions discussing with Mr. Keyser on the question of his disposition of his two sevenths?

[Objected to as leading and immaterial.]

A. I do not.

Q. 80. Will you relate, as far as you can, what was said between you and Mr. Keyser on those two occasions?

[Objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. If my recollection is right, at the interview at the Holland House Mr. Keyser said he would be down town in the course of the morning, and he would see Mr. Beaman. I think those two gentlemen had an interview, and that is all that I can remember about it.

Q. 81. Now as to the occurrence in Baltimore?

A. I do not recall what transpired there.

Q. 82. Recurring again to your telegram of May 25, wherein you say, "Keyser does not care to consult other owners' two sevenths until option is acted upon assures me if sale is made there will be no captious opposition," have you any means of fixing where you received that information?

A. I have not.

Q. 83. Do you recall whether or not you received it from Mr. Keyser?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not recall anything about it.

Q. 84. Do you have means of stating from what place this telegram was sent?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. What date was that?

Q. 85. May 25.

A. Why, it was evidently copied in our office in Boston, so I suppose it was sent from there.

Q. 86. Do you mean, by your earlier answer as to the conversation at the Holland House, to say there was no conversation there 605 beyond the simple statement made?

A. Oh, I cannot say that. If I recall right, we sat down there and had a chat; what transpired, I cannot remember.

Q. 87. Let me call your attention to some particular things. Do you recall whether anything was said by Mr. Keyser in either of these places with reference to not desiring to disturb the other owners of the two sevenths interest until it was known whether the option was to be acted upon?

A. I have no recollection of it now.

Q. 88. Do you recall whether you had any conference with either Leonard Lewisohn or Jesse Lewisohn about conferring with Mr. Keyser?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I do not suppose at that time I was ever in New York without seeing Mr. Leonard Lewisohn if he was in New York. That is all I can tell you.

Q. 89. Do you recall whether or not you reported to Mr. Lewisohn on those occasions the substance of your conversations with Mr. Keyser?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not recall doing so. No doubt I did.

Q. 90. Do you recall whether or not your conference, if any, in Baltimore had considerable duration, perhaps two hours?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. No, I cannot remember.

Q. 91. Do you recall whether or not, in any such conversation, you discussed with Mr. Keyser the possibilty of his taking stock if a different company with a higher capitalization was formed?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, and leading.]

A. I cannot remember those talks—it was eleven years ago—except that I see something on paper that reminds me, my mind is a blank about it.

Q. 92. Well, does seeing on paper this statement that "Mr. Meredith got back from Baltimore yesterday and had a conference of a couple of hours' duration with Mr. Keyser, but is none the wiser as to whether this gentleman intends to let us have his two sevenths of the Old Dominion or not. He intimates that if we make it a different company with a higher capitalization, he would probably not remain in," assist your recollection as to anything?

606 Mr. HEMENWAY: I object to this method of attempting to assist the recollection of the witness, as such a thing would be impossible, it being from a typewritten letter between other parties.

A. I do not think it would be fair to say that reading that letter refreshes my memory of a fact. I have no doubt Mr. Lewisohn wrote what was true, but it does not refresh my memory to know that he did write it.

Q. 93. Well, seeing that Mr. Lewisohn did write Mr. Adolph Lewisohn, as he did, cannot you assist us a little as to what the transactions were? Of course you are better informed than we are.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, the witness having already answered the question that his memory is in no wise refreshed, only stating that he thinks that what Mr. Lewisohn there wrote would be true. That does not enable him to swear to it as of his own memory.

A. All of my recollection about that whole matter with Mr. Keyser is this: that the impression I got was that Mr. Keyser was very indignant that this mine had been sold, that the five sevenths had been sold, and that he was very much disappointed, as he represented to me; that when he found he could not stop it, it became a serious question in his mind what to do with regard to the minority, and that it was some time before I knew what his final decision was going to be. Beyond that, I cannot undertake to say that I knew anything that passed in his mind or that was said to me in regard to the matter.

Q. 94. You recall the fact that, in the process of handling this matter, a new Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company was formed?

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

A. My recollection of all that is that Mr. Beaman, as I understood it, was in consultation with Mr. Bigelow as to what they were going to do; and, whilst it is possible that certain parts of those things were mentioned in my presence and told me, I did not pay much attention to what was being done. I felt that there was going to be a profit. My interest in it only came out of the commission I had made, and whatever those gentlemen felt was the right thing to do, that was all that I cared for.

Q. 95. In those early days you were in frequent consultation with them, were you not?

A. Oh, I think I was in the office nearly every day when they wanted me.

Q. 96. And as the various developments came, do you have any recollection of their causing any surprise to you?

[Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and altogether irrelevant.]

607 A. No, I do not remember anything that surprised me at all. The only thing I can remember is that for quite a long time all the evidence that I had with regard to what was coming to me was a little penciled memorandum; I remember of wishing it was in writing, but did not care to ask for it.

Q. 97. Is that memorandum still in existence?

A. No.

Q. 98. That was destroyed, was it?

A. I suppose so. I suppose it was destroyed. I have not got it.

Q. 99. Do you remember whether it stated the number of shares that you were to have?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. As I remember, it was a little piece of paper that jotted down the number of shares for each purpose which were coming to me.

Q. 100. What were the different purposes stated?

Mr. HEMENWAY: That is objected to as immaterial. If there is any such paper in existence, he has not looked for it yet, and therefore he cannot state from memory.

A. As I remember it, there was the amount of shares coming to me for the $25,000 subscription; the amount of shares coming to me for Mr. Lewisohn's interest in compromising my commission on the minority, and the amount of shares coming to me from Mr. Bigelow on the same.

Q. 101. Do you remember at all when you learned of the fact that the company had organized,—the new company?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I do not remember.

Q. 102. Do you remember whether you knew at the time of the fact of the organization when it occurred?

A. I suppose I should have, yes; I should think so.

Q. 103. As nearly as you can state, how long prior to that had you known of the project to organize a new company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: He has not testified yet that he knew of the project to organize a new company. For that reason I object to the assumption of that fact in the interrogatory; also because it is immaterial and irrelevant.

A. I cannot remember, honestly.

Q. 104. Do you remember now whether at any time you discussed with any one connected with the Old Dominion venture the possibility of a new corporation?

608 [Objected to as immaterial and misleading.]

A. I think they told me in the office always what they were doing when I went in there. I think undoubtedly, although I do not have any distinct recollection, that they were telling me that they were doing this; I have no doubt that I was told. I only mean by my previous remark to say I did not pay serious attention to it, as I should have under other circumstances; I felt that Mr. Beaman, Mr. Bigelow, and Mr. Lewisohn were fully capable of doing the right thing, and whatever they said was perfectly satisfactory to me.

Q. 105. In the course of their conversation with you do you recall whether or not either Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow mentioned the fact of a new corporation to you?

A. I do not recall it, but I have no doubt it was told me.

Q. 106. Have you any recollection of what information you were supplied with, if any, to enable you to discuss the matter with Mr. Keyser when you saw him?

[Objected to as immaterial, and as assuming a discussion with Mr. Keyser which does not yet appear to have taken place.]

A. I recall no such discussion with Mr. Keyser in regard to any new company.

Q. 107. In view of your telegram of May 25, are you not able to state whether you had any discussion with Mr. Keyser that went into the detail of this Old Dominion venture?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. There is nothing in that telegram that leads me to suppose that there was any discussion about the future of the property sold.

Q. 108. Are you able to state any fact or occurrence which led you to report that Mr. Keyser did not care to consult the other owners of the two sevenths?

[Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. I do not recall. It looks as if I had been instructed to find out whether he would not consult the owners, but I do not recall the matter.

Q. 109. Have you any recollection of any fact which led to your going to Baltimore to see Mr. Keyser?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I have not.

609 Q. 110. At the time (namely, May 23, 1895), have you any recollection of any other person than Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow with whom you were dealing as parties in interest in this matter?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. There was Mr. Nelson, Mr. Hyams, Mr. Butler, on Mr. Simpson's behalf; I think Mr. Simpson was away at that time, I am not quite sure.

Q. 111. Having in mind the people whom you have mentioned as parties in interest, if it shall appear to be the fact that you had conversation with Mr. Keyser in Baltimore on May 23, 1895, dealing with the subject of the possibility of creating a different company with a higher capitalization, are you able to state whether that proposal came from yourself or from some of those men with whom you were dealing?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, immaterial, and as purely a conjectural question.]

A. I could not answer that. I do not know of any such conversation; I do not recall any such conversation that occurred between myself and Mr. Keyser; if it did occur, I do not recall what it was, and I certainly, under those circumstances, cannot attempt to recall who told me to do it.

Q. 112. Are you prepared to say at the present time that the subject of the formation of a new corporation to acquire these properties had not been discussed between you and Mr. Bigelow, or Mr. Lewisohn, prior to May 23, 1895?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I could not say it one way or the other.

Q. 113. Do you remember whether at the time you received the memorandum which you have described, in which your interest was set forth in terms of shares, you knew whether it related to the new corporation or the existing old corporation?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I must have known it related to the new company.

Q. 114. You knew, then, it related to the new company?

A. I must have.

Q. 115. Have you any means of stating from what source you got that information?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

610 A. Through Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Nelson or Mr. Hyams, or all three of them.

Q. 116. When you gave your underwriting of $25,000, about which you have testified, what, if any, information did you have relative to the way in which that money was to be used or in which it was proposed that it should be used?

[Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.]

A. I cannot recall at present; I cannot recall what information I had at the time.

Q. 117. Can you recall any information that you had at that time?

A. Only that that $25,000 went in on the same conditions that what Mr. Bigelow took, or what anybody else took, did, as far as the purchaser of the Old Dominion was concerned.

Q. 118. Had you any information as to the way in which the Old Dominion was to be acquired?

[Objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. I suppose I had, as I have stated before, but I have no recollection. I was perfectly satisfied that the detail as proposed by these gentlemen would be honest and satisfactory, and I have no doubt that they told me, but I cannot recall now what they said, or what they did not say, after eleven years.

Q. 119. Do you recall whether anything was ever said by them, or either of them, with reference to your acquiring stock in the Old Dominion Company?

[Objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. No, I cannot remember that.

Q. 120. Do you recall anything being said by any of them with reference to increasing the capital of the Old Dominion Company?

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

A. I know that there were many talks and many statements of what they proposed to do that were held in my presence, but I can no more remember the details than you can remember as to who was at your christening.

Q. 121. Well, without attempting to exhaust all the facts that may have been discussed, I ask you with reference to this one: do you recall any discussion with reference to increasing the capital of the Old Dominion Company?

[Objected to as incompetent and irrelevant.]

A. No, I do not.

611 Q. 122. You do not recall any?

A. No.

Q. 123. Do you remember any discussion at any time with Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn with reference to shutting down the mine?

[Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. Why, I think when I was in Globe, Ariz., there was some conversation about whether to wait for a new smelter or whether to go running the mine without.

(By Mr. HEMENWAY:)

Q. Was Mr. Bigelow or Mr. Lewisohn in Globe with you?

A. Yes, at some time Mr. Bigelow invited me to go out on a trip through the Northwest, and we went down to Globe afterwards; when it was I cannot tell you at this time.

Q. 124. Was it after the acquisition of the property?

A. I should say it was.

Q. 125. Do you recall whether you had any knowledge of an intention to shut down the mine between the time that the Simpson interest was acquired and the time when the Keyser interest was acquired?

[Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.]

A. I cannot remember.

Q. 126. Do you recall whether in any of your conversation with Mr. Keyser anything was said with respect to the terms upon which he might or might not remain interested in the Old Dominion?

[Objected to as incompetent and immaterial.]

A. Nothing only what these letters say or refer to; I remember nothing more.

Q. 127. At the time of the acquiring of these options were you aware of the method which had been pursued by Mr. Bigelow and Mr. Lewisohn in other similar enterprises?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I think not.

Q. 128. Had you known of the fact of their acquiring other mining properties before this?

[Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. I knew they were very largely interested in mines; they must have acquired them.

612 Q. 129. Did you know anything about the method which had been pursued by them in increasing those enterprises?

[Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. I think not.

Q. 130. Had you been engaged in any way in any of these other enterprises?

[Objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and leading.]

A. I do not remember of any.

Q. 131. Did you have any knowledge at the time of the acquiring of these options as to the capital stock of the Old Dominion Company?

[Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. I cannot recall whether I did or not.

Q. 132. Did you have anything to do with the Old Dominion Syndicate, so-called?

[Objected to as leading and immaterial.]

A. What do you call "the Old Dominion Syndicate"? I do not know exactly what you refer to.

Q. 133. Did you know of anything being formed at about the time of the acquiring of these options, or soon thereafter, called the Old Dominion Syndicate?

[Objected to.]

A. I notice in one of these letters where I send some money to the "Old Dominion Syndicate, P. O. Box 5104, Boston, A. S. Bigelow, Esq." That was the address where the letter went.

Q. 134. Have you any recollection of what the Old Dominion Syndicate was?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. No, I cannot follow those individual things.

Q. 135. Do you know whether you had anything to do with it yourself?

A. If the purchase of the Old Dominion mine has anything to do with it, if the $25,000 turned in in the way I turned it in has anything to do with it, if the receiving in lieu of my commisson on the minority an interest had anything to do with it, then I had; otherwise, it is entirely obscure to my mind.

613 Q. 136. Do you remember whether at the time those options were acquired, the Old Dominion mine was in question or not?

[Objected to as immaterial and irrelevant.]

A. No, I cannot remember.

Q. 137. You have no knowledge on that subject?

A. I undoubtedly knew whether it was or not at the time; I cannot recall now which way it was.

Q. 138. At the time you were making this comparatively large investment, did you have any knowledge whether you were investing in a mine that was to operate or in a mine that was to be idle?

[Objected to as immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.]

A. I knew I was investing in a thing that was to be managed by the Bigelow office, and managed with the ability they had always shown in all their other things; whether that meant it was to run immediately, or to shut up immediately, I did not know anything about.

Q. 139. Did you have any knowledge at this period of the way in which you might expect to obtain any profit out of this investment for yourself?

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

A. I had examples in the Boston & Montana, Tamarack, and several other companies which had been prosperous; I suppose this would be prosperous in the same way.

Q. 140. That is, in the same way as the Boston & Montana and Tamarack?

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

A. I knew they had been very profitable corporations, and I suppose this investment was to be one equally prosperous.

Q. 141. Had you been informed by either Mr. Lewisohn or Mr. Bigelow that it was proposed to deal with this in the way they had been dealt with?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial, and as leading.]

A. I do not think they made any comparison with the others.

Q. 142. What information had you received from either
611 of them which enabled you to suppose that the enterprise was of any such character as Boston & Montana or Tamarack?

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

A. I heard it from Mr. Lewisohn and from Mr. Hyams both, that they considered there was great value in this mine.

Q. 143. At the time that you received the memorandum stating what you were to have as your share, do you know whether or not the present Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company had been organized?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I cannot recall the dates now so as to tell you that.

Q. 144. Well, when you received that memorandum, do you recall whether there was already a new corporation in existence?

A. I could not tell you, honestly, whether this new corporation had been formed at that time or not. I remember the fact that I had for a long time in my pocket a little piece of paper that told me I was entitled to a certain number of shares, and I held that until I got my certificates, which came in afterwards.

Q. 145. Were the certificates which you received, as stated in the memorandum, as you recall?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Undoubtedly.

Q. 146. Was that memorandum made at the time of your agreement with Mr. Bigelow, or subsequently?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Oh, I think afterwards, some time afterwards.

Q. 147. Do you remember how long after?

A. I cannot.

Q. 148. And you cannot remember whether at the time it was made the corporation was already organized?

Mr. HEMENWAY: That question has already been asked and answered several times, and I think it is unfair to the witness to repeat it, and unfair in the time it takes to repeat it so often.

615 Q. 149. Mr. Meredith, what effort has been made to secure any letters that you have received from Mr. Lewisohn, Mr. Bigelow, or Mr. Keyser?

A. The copy letter books of these letters were easily found because they were in our safe, and they were numbered, and I have kept them there for convenience since. My recollection is that the letters that I received were not put with the Meredith & Grew letters; they were put with some papers of my own, and those papers,—I have moved three or four times since, and I do not know where to go to look for them, and I do not know how to find them; it might mean two or three weeks' hard work hunting into old papers, and then not finding them after all. If I knew where they were, I would just as soon refer to them.

Q. 150. Do you remember some time ago having a conversation with Mr. Brandeis about this matter?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Yes, he came into my office about it.

Q. 151. Did the conversation relate to some of the same matters that I have referred to?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. Yes, he seemed to want to find out all he could, if I remember right. He was quite liberal in asking questions.

Q. 152. Do you remember whether in the course of that interview anything was said as to your recollection of the intention to form a new corporation?

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. I cannot remember what I said at that meeting.

Q. 153. Do you remember whether that particular thing was discussed in any way?

A. I do not remember.

Q. 154. This interview with Mr. Brandeis was some years back, was it not?

A. Yes, I should think it was.

Q. 155. Somewhat nearer the events that we are inquiring about?

A. Why, it seems to me, I do not recall whether I had ever heard that there was any such question before he came to me, and whether I had I cannot remember, but it was about the first time that I had heard that there was some trouble involved in this matter that Mr. Brandeis called; whether he told me of it first or whether I had known of it before he came, I do not know, but I think it was while it was just fresh to my mind.

616 Q. 156. Do you remember whether he asked you whether you had had a conversation with Mr. Keyser in which Mr. Keyser had said that if a different company was formed with a higher capitalization he would probably not remain in?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and as a conversation between Mr. Brandeis and the witness, having nothing to do with the issues in this case.

A. I do not remember.

Q. 157. Do you remember whether at that time you said, in substance, that this remark, namely, "that if we make it a different company with a higher capitalization, he [Keyser] would probably not remain in," was a remark which Keyser made to you at the time you were seeing him about getting the option?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I cannot remember anything in regard to my conversation with Mr. Brandeis, unless it is that he had some notes on a piece of paper and he began and asked me questions right along. I was perfectly willing to tell him anything that I knew, but what I told him and what I did not tell him I cannot remember and cannot say what it was. I did not keep notes of the conversation; he probably did.

Q. 158. Do you mean that your mind is a blank as to whether or not you told Mr. Brandeis this remark as to a new corporation with a larger capital was made in one interview or another?

A. It is. I cannot tell you at all.

Q. 159. Is it possible, then, that you may have stated that to Mr. Brandeis?

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

A. I suppose everything is possible in this world.

Q. 160. I mean possible in view of the facts and your knowledge of them.

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and purely conjectural.]

A. I could not answer that question; I have got nothing to go by.

Q. 161. Well, let me call to your attention, Mr. Meredith, these facts; you would not have stated to Mr. Brandeis a thing which was not so?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and an improper way of trying to get in Mr. Brandeis' version of this transaction.]

A. I think I could assent to that last statement, that I should not have said anything that was not true.

617 Q. 162. Well, it is in the light of that that I am asking you in the form I do, whether it is possible that you stated to Mr.

Brandeis this remark of Mr. Keyser's, that he would not come in if they made it a different corporation with a larger capitalization?

[Objected to, the counsel's calling on him being of no consequence.]

A. I think that is referred to in these letters; I do not know what I told him, but I think there is a letter where I said that.

Q. 163. Now I am merely asking you, in the light of these things, if you will state what your recollection is on that subject?

A. My only recollection is that which I see and feel sure of; that is all that I can tell you. I think it was a letter to Mr. Lewisohn, was it not, where I say that? We have read it this morning, I am sure.

Mr. HEMENWAY: There is no such letter.

Q. 164. Have not you in mind the letter to Mr. Lewisohn?

Mr. HEMENWAY: That letter has not been put in evidence yet, and the only thing he has in mind is the frequent statement- of counsel in his examination.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: Just note an objection to Mr. Hemenway's characterization of the witness' reference.

Q. 165. Is not the letter which you have in mind the one which I have read, Mr. Meredith, in which occurred the statement, "Mr. Meredith got back from Baltimore yesterday, and had a conference of a couple of hours' duration with Mr. Keyser, but is none the wiser as to whether this gentleman intends to let us have his two sevenths of the Old Dominion or not. He intimates that if we make it a different company with a higher capitalization, he would probably not remain in"?

[Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.]

A. I suppose it was, but I cannot tell you whether it was or not. It shows the danger——

Mr. HEMENWAY: He has not completed his answer.

The WITNESS: It shows the danger of trying to surmise that you do remember. I should have sworn that there was a letter in these letters from me to Mr. Lewisohn, in which I stated that Mr. Keyser would not go in. Now that I come to look, there is not. So I am going to be a little cautious in what I swear to.

Q. 166. Am I right in gathering from that last answer that it was your recollection that you had written to Mr. Bigelow that?

A. No. No, I am not prepared to say that.

618 Q. 167. Do you remember whether you conferred with Jesse Lewisohn at any time with reference to this matter?

[Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.]

A. I always saw Mr. Leonard Lewisohn if he was there. Whether or not I called at Fulton street some day when Mr. Leonard Lewisohn was not there, and saw either Mr. Jesse or Mr. Adolph Lewisohn, I cannot tell you; it would have been possible for me to have done that, but my regular person was Mr. Leonard Lewisohn.

Q. 168. And you have no recollection, then, of whether any of your interviews with Mr. Keyser were reported to Mr. Jesse Lewisohn?

A. I cannot recall.

Q. 169. What is the next letter that you have after May 25?

A. To anybody?

Q. 170. Yes; that is, to Mr. Lewisohn, Mr. Bigelow, or Mr. Keyser.

[Objected to as immaterial.]

A. June 10, to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, there is something to Mr. Keyser, possibly, before that; June 10, to Mr. Lewisohn, I think that is the one, if I have not made a mistake.

Mr. McCLENNEN: The letter of June 10 I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

Mr. McCLENNEN: It reads as follows:—

"JUNE 10, '5.

Leonard Lewisohn, Esq., of Lewisohn Bros. Co., Fulton St., New York.

DEAR SIR: According to our understanding by Telephone today, I am to have for surrendering all claim to commission on the two sevenths minority stock in the Old Dominion Copper Co. deal fourteen, four hundred & fifty third (14 453rd) parts of any profit coming to you or those under you taking the 453/1000 interest in the entire deal and I also get for the same reason a similar interest of fifteen thousand dollars in the Boston pool profits.

Kindly write me a line agreeing to this.

Yr's Very Truly,

J. MORRIS MEREDITH."

This is what Messrs. Bigelow and Nelson think is fair and it was suggested by them."

619 Q. 171. Do you know whether or not at that time the pencil memorandum that you have mentioned was or was not in existence?

A. I could not say; I could not say whether it was or not. I do not know when those certificates came out, when the certificates were really delivered.

Q. 172. Did the pencil memorandum precede or follow the coming out of the certificates?

[Objected to.]

A. Certainly it preceded it.

Q. 173. Do you know anything with respect to the method proposed for obtaining cash working capital for this enterprise?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. As I say, at the time there was undoubtedly lots of things told me, but feeling that I was not the one to judge of them I accepted them as being all right, and I did not load my mind with that detail.

Q. 174. Do you remember whether or not you were aware that it was proposed to have a cash capital of $500,000?

[Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.]

A. I cannot state any figures at all.

Q. 175. Do you remember whether you were aware at the time that there was to be anything done about securing cash capital?

A. I cannot imagine a mine started without any cash capital.

Q. 176. But you think you have no recollection with respect to it?

A. I do not.

Mr. McClennen: I think that is all.

Mr. Hemenway: Doubtless there may be some questions that Mr. Lauterbach will want to ask him on cross-examination.

Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

620 Deposition of William J. Ladd.

William J. Ladd, being first duly sworn by E. F. McClennen, Esq., a notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by L. D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. Please state your name, residence, and occupation.

A. William J. Ladd; residence, Newton, Mass.; occupation, treasurer of several copper companies.

Q. 2. Are those copper companies in which Mr. Albert S. Bigelow is an officer or stockholder?

A. Yes.

Q. 3. What companies are they?

A. The Tamarack Mining Company, Osceola Consolidated Mining Company, Isle Royale Copper Company, and the Ahmeek Copper Company.

Q. 4. What was your occupation in 1895?

A. I was comptroller of the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy Railroad Company.

Q. 5. When did you first become connected with the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. I think it was the latter part of November or the 1st of December in 1897.

Q. 6. What was your connection with that company at that time?

A. I was secretary and treasurer.

Q. 7. And a director?

A. Yes, and a director.

Q. 8. Had you been a stockholder of that corporation before that time?

A. No, sir.

Q. 9. How long did you continue to hold the office of secretar treasurer, and director?

A. Well, until the company was moved away from the office; should think it was—I do not remember just when it was—1902.

Q. 10. That is, at the time when Mr. Charles S. Smith becam president of the corporation?

A. Yes.

Q. 11. Did you at any time while you were a director of the Ol Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company know that the com pany had a cause of action against Albert S. Bigelow and Leonar Lewisohn?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as assuming a fact not proven an as being a leading question.

A. No, I do not remember anything of the kind.

Q. 12. What, if any knowledge, did you have in relation to any cause of action, if any there was, against Albert S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn, or either of them, while you were a director o other officer of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Com pany?

A. I do not remember of having any.

621 Q. 13. Did you at the time that you became treasurer and director of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, connect yourself also with other companies in which Mr. Albert S. Bigelow was then largely interested?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

A. Yes.

Q. 14. With what other companies?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

A. Tamarack, Osceola, Boston & Montana, Butte & Boston—I think they were all in our office at that time—and Isle Royale.

[No cross-examination.]

Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

Deposition of Charles S. Smith.

CHARLES S. SMITH, being first duly sworn by E. F. McClennen, Esq., a notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by E. F. McClennen, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. Your full name?

A. Charles S. Smith.

Q. 2. You reside where?

A. Lincoln, Mass.

Q. 3. You are president of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. I am.

Q. 4. And have been such since April, 1902?

A. Yes.

Q. 5. Before that time you had never held office in the company?

A. Never.

Q. 6. But had been a stockholder?

A. Yes.

Q. 7. I show you certificate A-21 for 100 shares of the stock of this company, dated September 19, 1895, issued in the name of F. and C. S. Smith, purporting to be endorsed in those names; is the endorsement in your handwriting?

A. It is.

Mr. MCCLENNEN: That certificate I will offer.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial.

[The certificate A21 is marked "Exhibit 1, G. C. B., July 24 1906."]

622 Q. 8. On Exhibit 10 of the deposition of Albert S. Bigelow in this case, among other subscribers, it has appeared that there is the name of F. and C. S. Smith for 100 shares: have you in the course of these hearings, seen that document?

A. I have.

Q. 9. And is that subscription in your handwriting?

A. It is.

Q. 10. It has appeared among the checks received by the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, in the list in evidence, that there was one for F. and C. S. Smith for $2500: was that yours?

A. It was in pay for my stock, but it was not my check.

Q. 11. It was not your check?

A. No.

Q. 12. Since this certificate of September 19, 1895, how continuously have you been a stockholder in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company?

A. I have been a stockholder continuously since.

Q. 13. Did you, at the time of signing the subscription or receiving or paying for the stock for which this certificate A21 was issued, have any knowledge as to the intention of Mr. Albert S. Bigelow or Mr. Leonard Lewisohn with reference to the taking of any profits or compensation for services in connection with the organization of the company or otherwise?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I had no knowledge of the fact.

Q. 14. Had you any knowledge that they, or either of them, had taken any profit either in stock or otherwise, or any compensation for their services?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.

A. Not until some years later.

Q. 15. Had you at that time any knowledge that Mr. Albert S. Bigelow and Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, or either of them, had taken, or intended to take, 50,000 shares of the capital stock of this company either by way of compensation for services, or as profits or otherwise?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant, because the question assumes a fact not proven, and is leading.

A. I had no knowledge.

Q. 16. In view of the objection which is made to the question just asked, I will put this question: Had you at any time in 1895 any knowledge that Mr. Albert S. Bigelow or Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, or either or both of them, had taken, or intended to take, 50,000 shares of the capital stock of this corporation, or any part thereof, either as compensation for services, or as profits or otherwise, if such be the fact?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant.

623 A. I had no knowledge.

Q. 17. What was the first time, if ever, at which you acquired any such knowledge?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial, incompetent, and irrelevant; also as leading and involving the assumption of a fact not proven.

A. Some time in 1901.

Q. 18. Can you fix with any certainty the time in 1901 when you first had any information on this subject?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to for the same reasons that the last interrogatory was objected to.

A. My impression is it was in the latter part of 1901, on reading Walker's Copper Mines of the Southwest that I first learned of the distribution of the original stock, and I think that was published in the latter part of 1901, if I remember correctly.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The answer is objected to as incompetent.

Q. 19. When was the next stockholders' meeting after you got this information?

A. In April, 1902.

Q. 20. And that was the meeting at which you became a director and president of the company?

A. Yes.

Q. 21. On getting this information in the latter part of 1901, did you take any steps with relation to the company?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. I did.

Q. 22. What did you do?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent.

A. I went to the property, the first thing, in Arizona; then I issued a circular to stockholders in connection with the company; went to New Jersey, and got a list of the stockholders; and cooperated with Towle & Fitzgerald, who were large stockholders, to get proxies to use at the annual meeting.

Mr. HEMENWAY: The answer is objected to as incompetent.

Q. 23. And the purpose for which those steps were taken, and those proxies were acquired, was what?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as incompetent, immaterial, and irrelevant.

A. To get control of the company.

624 Stipulation.

It is agreed that the deposition of this witness shall be taken stenographically; also that either party may use this deposition when filed.

Deposition of Eugene V. R. Thayer.

EUGENE V. R. THAYER, being first duly sworn by Howland Twombly, Esq., a notary public, in answer to interrogatories propounded by Louis D. Brandeis, Esq., counsel for the plaintiff, deposes and says,—

Q. 1. Your full name?

A. Eugene Van Rensselaer Thayer.

Q. 2. Your residence and occupation?

A. Lancaster, in this state, Massachusetts. I am trustee of my father's estate.

Q. 3. Your office is in Boston?
A. At 50 State street.
Q. 4. What was your occupation in 1895, and from then on?
A. Well, I was trustee, in the same position——
Q. 5. —that you are now?
A. Yes.
Q. 6. You were from some time in 1895 to 1902 a director of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, were you not?
A. Yes.
Q. 7. Do you recall how long you were a director of the company?
A. No, I cannot; I should say four or five years; but I would not swear to it without looking up.
Q. 8. Did you, at the time that you were a director of that company, know that the company had a claim or cause of action against Albert S. Bigelow and Leonard Lewisohn?
A. No, I did not.
Q. 9. When did you first hear anything to that effect?

[Objected to as incompetent, irrelevant, and immaterial.]

A. I do not know; I saw it in the paper some long time after I was a director.
Q. 10. That is, after the management changed from Mr. Bigelow to Mr. Charles S. Smith?
A. Yes.
Q. 11. Your first knowledege in relation to the matter was what you learned from the public press after the suit was begun?
A. Yes.

[No cross-examination.]

625 Interrogatories Taken on Behalf of the Plaintiff and Answers by John Stanton.

1. State your name, age, residence, and occupation, and how long you have been engaged in your present occupation. A. John Stanton; seventy-three; New York; I am engaged in copper mining; fifty years. I am at present the president of a number of copper-mining companies at Lake Superior and elsewhere,—namely, the Wolverine Copper Mining Company, the Mohawk Mining Company, the Baltic Mining Company, the Atlantic Mining Company, the Winona Copper Company, the Michigan Mining Company, etc.
2. State whether or not you were acquainted with the late Leonard Lewisohn and how long you had known him. A. I was. About ten years now.
3. State whether or not you recall the formation of the Old Dominion Syndicate, so called; and if so, state what that syndicate was. A. I do. I was told by Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, in his office, that his firm had bought the Old Dominion mine, and asked what I thought of its value. He told me further that he had paid a million of dollars for it. I told him I thought it was a very good purchase. "Would you like to become interested in the purchase to a small extent?" "Oh," I said, "I do not mind chipping in say $5000,—who are with you?" "Well," he said, "our firm, Mr. Bigelow, and we have let in Mr. Beaman, our counsel, and possibly one or two others." I said, "I suppose this is with the understanding that I come in on the same basis that you do." "All right," he says, "exactly what we pay, you shall have your proportionate share," and "Shall I send you a check?" I said: "No, we will call on you as the payments are to be made," he said. When they did call I paid, on June 6, 1895, $700; on July 23, $1145.28; on August 1, $2892.55, making a total of $5037.83. As I remember it that amount was to cover interest. I know nothing more of the formation of any syndicate than just that conversation.

4. State whether or not you became a subscriber to the so-called Old Dominion Syndicate; and if so, at what time. A. I do not remember the date, but it was in 1895, shortly before I made my first payment, say the latter part of May or early part of June.— I have no way of fixing a date of that conversation, as I made no memorandum of it. Yes, verbally so.

5. If you state that you did become a subscriber to the Old Dominion Syndicate, so called, state whether or not your agreement to subscribe was oral or in writing. If in writing, please annex hereto the original writing or a copy thereof, if in your possession. If the agreement was oral, state with whom it was 626 made. If it was made with Leonard Lewisohn, state what the agreement was, and what was said at the time of making said agreement as to the purpose for which said syndicate was formed, and what its operations would be. A. Entirely oral. I never saw any writing in regard to the syndicate. Leonard Lewisohn. I do not know that any purpose was stated; of course, it was understood that it was to go into a corporation and be worked; but it was not so definitely stated,—simply that I had interest to that extent in the purchase whatever was done with it. All that was said was simply to join us in the purchase to the extent of that interest.

6. If you state that you became a subscriber to the Old Dominion Syndicate, state what the amount of your subscription was, and when payments were made by you under said subscription. A. I have already answered that question by my answer to the third interrogatory.

7. If you state that you became a subscriber to the Old Dominion syndicate, state whether, as a member of said syndicate, you afterwards received stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company; and if so, what amount of stock you received and when. A. I did receive stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company,—400 shares. I do not remember the exact date, but the approximate date must be some time in November, 1895.

8. State whether or not you had any conversation with Leonard Lewisohn concerning your subscription, the formation of said syndicate, and the distribution of stock in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company; and if so, state the date of such conversation, and what said conversation or the substance thereof was, as nearly as you can remember. A. I cannot remember that I had any conversation with Leonard Lewisohn about it, but I had with some member of the firm along in the summer of 1895,—I think it was Adolph Lewisohn,—I cannot fix the date,—in which he stated that it was the purpose of the syndicate to organize a company with a capital of $2,500,000, and to sell the mine to that company for $2,000,000, and the balance of the stock, or $500,000, to be paid into the treasury for working capital, and asking if that was satisfactory to me, to which I replied "Perfectly so." I had no*t* other conversation, to the best of my recollection, concerning my subscription, the formation of said syndicate, or the distribution of stock of the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company, either with Leonard Lewisohn or with any other member of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers.

9. State whether or not you had any correspondence with Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers in relation to the Old Dominion Syndicate or its operations. If so, state the date of each such 627 letter and annex hereto the original letters, or, if and so far as said originals are not in your possession, or you are unwilling to annex the same, annex copies hereto. A. I had. On December 5, 1895, I wrote to Messrs. Lewisohn Brothers at 81 Fulton street, New York, and on December 5, 1895, I received their reply to that letter. I have with me, and produce, the press copy of my letter, being page No. 628 in such press letter copy book, under the date of December 5, 1895. I also have with me and produce the original letter from Lewisohn Brothers dated December 5, 1895, and signed "Lewisohn Brothers" in typewriting, and then Leonard Lewisohn's signature as general manager. This original letter was in reply to my letter to them. I do not care to annex the original press copy sheet to my deposition, nor the original reply received from Lewisohn Brothers, but I produce and annex to my deposition copies of said letters and mark them "Exhibits A and B," respectively.

My attention was called to the fact that my certificates were in a company with a capital of $3,750,000 instead of a capital of $2,500,000, as I had supposed, and my letter was written to Lewisohn Brothers in order to get an explanation of the increase of capital. I dropped the matter right there.

10. If, in answer to the preceding interrogatory, you have not already stated that you wrote Lewisohn Brothers a letter under date of December 5, 1895, state whether or not you wrote them a letter under that date; and if you have not already produced and annexed said letter, or a copy thereof, to your answer, please state whether or not the copy of letter under date of December 5, 1895, annexed hereto marked 1 is not a copy of such letter. A. I have already stated that I did write them a letter under that date. I have already produced and annexed a copy of such letter, but I will say further that the letter annexed hereto marked 1 is a true copy of such letter.

11. If, in answer to interrogatory No. 9, you do not state that you received from Lewisohn Brothers a letter under date of December 5, 1895, please state whether it is not a fact that you did receive a letter from them under said date, and whether the letter so received was not signed by Leonard Lewisohn, and, if you have not already produced and annexed said letter, or a copy thereof, to your answer, please state whether the copy of letter hereunto annexed, marked 2, is not a copy of such letter. A. I have already stated that I did receive a letter from them under the date of December 5, 1895. I have already stated that the letter so received was signed by Leonard Lewisohn, general manager. I have already produced and annexed a true copy of such letter, and I will further state that the copy of the letter hereto annexed, marked 2, is a true copy of such letter.

No. 1.

DECEMBER 5TH, 1895.

Messrs. Lewisohn Brothers, 81 Fulton St., New York.

DEAR SIRS: Referring to the interest of $5,000, that I took in the Syndicate for purchase of the "Old Dominion" mine, which interest was stipulated to be on exactly the same basis of cost and distribution of stock in the Company to be organized to take over the property to you and your associates, all to be on the same footing pro-rata.

I have now to say that I am informed that in addition to the allotment of stock on the basis of $2,500,000, capital in which you have handed me 200 shares, as well as the 200 shares for which I subscribed at $25. per share, there has been another allotment of 50,000 shares to the purchasing syndicate, making the entire capital of the Company $3,750,000.

I have not yet received my share of this allotment, which would be in the proportion that $5,000, bears to $1,000,000, or 250 shares.

This matter has, no doubt, been overlooked by you, and I now call your attention to it.

Very truly yours,

JOHN STANTON.

No. 2.

DEC. 5TH, 1895.

Mr. John Stanton, City.

DEAR SIR: In reply to your favor of the 5th instant, would say that you have received exactly the same amount of stock as any party who subscribed to the original syndicate. You can inquire in Boston—where the distribution was made—and you will find that this is a fact.

The balance of 50,000 shares has been devoted towards promoting and other expenses.

Very truly yours,

LEWISOHN BROTHERS.

L. L./F

Exhibit 228.

629 Objections to Interrogatories for the Deposition of John Smith.

The defendant objects to Ints. Nos. 3, 4, 5, 7, 8, 9, 10, and 11, for the reason that they are immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent.

The defendant also objects to Int. No. 6 for the reason that it is immaterial, irrelevant, and incompetent, and because it calls for an oral statement of the contents of a written instrument, if it was in writing.

Cross-interrogatories:

The defendant, without waiving his objections to the direct interrogatories, propounds the following cross-interrogatories to said John Stanton:

Cross-int. 1. Did you receive any letter or letters from said Albert S. Bigelow? If so, please annex said letters or copies thereof to your answer to these interrogatories.

A. Never. I have none such.

Cross-int. 2. Did you not ask said Leonard Lewisohn to permit you to become a subscriber to the syndicate, if there was one to which you subscribed?

A. He offered it to me, as I have already stated in my answers to the direct interrogatories. I have not been a stockholder in the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company since 1st May, 1896.

JOHN STANTON.

Before Willoughby L. Webb, Esq., Commissioner.

NEW YORK, February 4, 1903.

Pursuant to notice, parties met this day at the office of the commissioner, No. 63 Wall Street, New York city.

Appearances:

Messrs. Brandeis, Dunbar & Nutter (by Mr. Brandeis) for plaintiff.

Messrs. Long & Hemenway (by Mr. Hemenway) for defendant.

Edward Lauterback, Esq., for the defendant, and for Albert, Walter, and Frederick Lewisohn.

It is stipulated between the parties that Albert F. Dawson shall be employed as stenographer, and that he shall furnish three copies of the minutes, the expense thereof to be paid one half by each side, the successful party to tax the share paid by him as part of the costs.

630 WALTER LEWISOHN, sworn for plaintiff:

Direct examination by Mr. BRANDEIS:

Q. 1. State your full name, age, and occupation.

A. Walter Lewisohn; age, twenty-three; banker.

Q. 2. You are one of the executors of Leonard Lewisohn, are you not?

A. I am.

Q. 3. And you have been acting as such since April, 1902?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 4. As executor of Leonard Lewisohn, you have in your possession, or under your control, have you not, the books and papers relating to the estate of Leonard Lewisohn?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 5. And have also access to all the books and papers of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 6. That firm of Lewisohn Brothers consisted of whom at the time of the death of Leonard Lewisohn?

A. Of Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, Frederick Lewisohn, and myself.

Q. 7. And Frederick Lewisohn is your brother?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 8. How old is he?

A. Twenty-one.

Q. 9. When was the firm consisting of your father and yourself and brother formed?

A. I don't know the exact date, but it was around January or February, 1902.

Q. 10. Who were the members of the firm doing business under the name of Lewisohn Brothers prior to January, 1902, when the new firm was formed?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I might state here that just prior to that, a few months, I think, prior to the formation of the partnership to which this witness refers, the firm of Lewisohn Brothers consisted of Mr. Leonard Lewisohn only, and some three or four months before that had acquired the interest of Mr. Adolph Lewisohn in the firm Lewisohn Brothers, Adolph Lewisohn then retiring from the firm. Before that period, and for some years, the firm of Lewisohn Brothers consisted of Leonard and Adolph Lewisohn.

Mr. BRANDEIS: In 1895 Jesse had 5 per cent interest, hadn't he?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: He had some interest in the profits of the firm.

Mr. BRANDEIS: But was not a partner.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I don't think he was a partner. Prior to 1895 Jesse had a 5 or 10 per cent interest, I think, in some of the transactions of Lewisohn Brothers, but we will get that correct for you subsequently. I don't know whether it was in all their business or just some of it; at any rate, he was not a partner.

631 Mr. BRANDEIS: But you can get the exact information, can you?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Precisely. I will get that for you definitely and accurately.

Q. 11. Then you and your brother, either as executors or survivors of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers, are in possession of all the books and papers both of Leonard Lewisohn and of Lewisohn Brothers covering this period from 1895 and subsequent?

A. I don't know whether we are in possession of all of them.

[Examination of this witness is suspended for the present, and it is agreed that the hearing may be adjourned to Tuesday next, February 10, at 10 A. M., at which time counsel for defendant will produce the witnesses Frederick, Walter, Albert, and Adolph Lewisohn, and in the mean time further search will be made for additional letters, papers, etc.]

[After the adjournment, in pursuance of Mr. Lauterbach's request to specify books, papers, etc., the following letter was sent to Mr. Lauterbach by Mr. Brandeis:]

"63 WALL STREET,
NEW YORK, February 4th, 1903.

Edward Lauterbach, Esq., 22 William Street, New York City.

MY DEAR MR. LAUTERBACH: In pursuance of your suggestion, I call your attention to the following papers which do not appear to be among those which you handed me for inspection this morning, and which we should like to have produced by the executors and Mr. Adolph Lewisohn at the adjourned day, February 10th, at 10 A. M.

First. All of the letters relating to these matters received from A. S. Bigelow, Hyams, William Keyser, R. Brent Keyser and Mr. J. Morris Meredith, and from the various persons who were subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate and to the Company's issue of stock of the Old Dominion Company.

Second. Copies of all letters to those subscribers to the syndicate and to the Company's issue of stock and copies of additional letters which passed between Mr. Bigelow, Mr. Hyams, Mr. Meredith and the Keysers.

You will find upon looking over these, I think, that there are other letters of which copies are not found on the first search.

Third. If Leonard Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, kept copies of their letters, in any letter press copy books, I should like to have a careful examination made of both the firm's and private letter books covering the year 1895.

632 Fourth. The original papers bearing upon the transaction including the original option of the Simpson Estate to Meredith, dated, I think, April 30th, the contract of the Simpson Estate and Meredith dated May 4th, the contract with Keyser, the Syndicate agreement and any further agreement between Mr. Bigelow and the Lewisohns.

Fifth. All papers relating to the properties sent by Mr. Keyser to Mr. Lewisohn including lists of property of which copies were sent by Mr. Lewisohn to Mr. Bigelow or to Mr. Hyams.

Sixth. All statements of account rendered between the Lewisohns and Bigelow, also the account of Mr. Meredith, also the ledger account and all other entries in the books of the Lewisohns relating to payments and receipts on account of this property, and the operation of the Syndicate, the stock received by the Lewisohns and the disposition of the other stock, and of the Lewisohn's stock and proceeds thereof.

Seventh. All other papers bearing upon the matter which may be found.

Yours truly,

LOUIS D. BRANDEIS.

Kindly acknowledge receipt to Boston."

NEW YORK, February 10, 1903, 10 A. M.

[Met pursuant to adjournment.]

[Present: Same as before.]

Mr. BRANDEIS: Have you any definite information, Mr. Lauterbach, with regard to Lewisohn Brothers?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I find that in 1895, when these transactions went on, the firm of Lewisohn Brothers did not exist: it was the corporation of Lewisohn Brothers. The firm was afterwards started, but at the time of the formation of the syndicate it was Lewisohn Brothers, a corporation. That is the only information I have.

WALTER LEWISOHN, resumed:

(By Mr. BRANDEIS.)

Q. 11. Who has charge of the papers belonging to the estate of Leonard Lewisohn, and of the old firm that did business under the name of Lewisohn Brothers, besides yourself?

A. My brother Frederick.

Q. 12. Any one else?

A. Well, you ask two questions there. The executors have charge of the matters pertaining to the estate of Leonard Lewisohn;
633 probably Frederick and myself are the only ones that have charge of the matters pertaining to Lewisohn Brothers.

Q. 13. What persons besides you two have charge of those papers?

A. Nobody has charge.

Q. 14. Who are the clerks in your employ who have custody, or have access especially, to those papers?

A. They have no access.

Q. 15. They are entirely in your custody?

A. We are the only ones who have access to them.

Q. 16. That is, the executors, and, so far as Lewisohn Brothers are concerned, yourself and your brother Frederick?

A. Yes.

Q. 17. My inquiries relate, so far as I refer to Lewisohn Brothers, to the papers of the firm, the concern doing business under the name of Lewisohn Brothers during your father's lifetime, and not the present firm?

A. In some matters the other executors would also have charge of some of Lewisohn Brothers, in so much as they have to do with the estate of Leonard Lewisohn—in other words, it would be called Lewisohn Brothers in liquidation.

Q. 18. And indeed the other executors would have equal access with yourself and your brother Frederick?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 19. As a matter of fact are all those old papers kept at your office, 11 Broadway?

A. We really haven't got many papers.

Q. 20. But so far as there have been,—for instance, those which have been produced by Mr. Lauterbach on February 4, and this morning: from what place are those papers taken?

A. Well, there is no one special place.

Q. 21. 11 Broadway, are they kept at your office there?

A. There are some papers there.

Q. 22. What other place are the papers kept; what other source were these papers which were produced taken from?

A. Well, wherever we had any idea they were.

Q. 23. Now will you just state how much you did yourself in searching for these papers which have been produced?

A. I went all through the offices, wherever in 11 Broadway we had any idea those papers existed.

Q. 24. What method of filing or preserving papers has been adopted, especially in your office, with reference to a particular subject like the Old Dominion Syndicate or the Old Dominion Company—in other words, are all papers relating to a general matter kept together or are they kept chronologically or alphabeti-634 cally; what method is adopted or has been adopted?

A. So far as that is concerned, why, there are so many things, and as the estate has not been wound up, it is almost impossible to have everything systematized because the subjects are so numerous and as the firm of Lewisohn Brothers in liquidation has not been wound up,—all things are not all together, probably, just kept separately.

Q. 25. What was the method of filing away the papers which existed, which you found, when you began to investigate this matter?

A. I don't know of any special method.

Q. 26. Were all Old Dominion papers filed away together?

A. I don't know exactly.

Q. 27. Did you personally make a search, or did you have somebody else do it?

A. I personally made the search and I also had some of the other parties in our office search, and this [pointing to a party in the room] gentleman searched also.

Q. 28. Who is this gentleman you refer to?

A. Ferdinand Rahaeuser.

Q. 29. Whom else besides Mr. Rahaeuser did you have to assist you in making this search?

A. My brother, I think.

Q. 30. Which brother?

A. Fred.

Q. 31. Whom else?

A. I don't know who else, or, I think, Mr. Albert Lewisohn and Mr. P. S. Henry; they did as much as they could, and of course all the other men in our employ that were asked to help us did all they could.

Q. 32. Whom did you ask to help you of the men in your employ?

A. Ferdinand.

Q. 33. That is Mr. Rahaeuser?

A. Yes, he was about the only one besides ourselves that knows anything about it.

Q. 34. That had made a search?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 35. When did you make the search?

A. Right along every day as much as we could.

Q. 36. Where did you search for these papers? I mean in what files, in what boxes.

A. Well, in different offices.

Q. 37. What offices are they to which you refer?

A. Our offices which are in 11 Broadway.

Q. 38. You mean the office of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 39. You searched there?

A. Yes.

Q. 40. Now in what manner are the old papers of Lewisohn Brothers, to which I assume you have just referred, filed away or packed away?

A. I don't know as there is any particular manner about it.

635 Q. 41. Are the papers relating to any one year filed together or packed away? As the letters,—for instance, the papers for the year 1895?

A. No, I don't think there are any, pretty nearly; I would not say exactly that way, but I guess pretty nearly they were in that way.

Q. 42. That is, filed away by the year?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 43. Aside from filing away by the year, was there a filing away of the papers in relation to different matters in which Lewisohn Brothers were interested? There were a great many of these matters, were there not?

A. In relation to what? In relation to just one thing or the Old Dominion?

Q. 44. In relation to everything; there were a good many different matters in which Lewisohn Brothers were interested, were there not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 45. What method was taken of arranging and disposing of papers in these several matters?

A. I have forgotten exactly.

Q. 46. When did you begin to search for the letters that were called for by the subpœna here with reference to the Old Dominion—where did you go to search for them?

A. I went in a desk where they were kept and in different departments where we kept certain rooms we had for these matters.

Q. 47. Now in what rooms did you find the letters which have been produced by Mr. Lauterbach?

WITNESS: What was the number of the room, Mr. Rahaeuser?

Mr. RAHAEUSER: 320.

Q. 48. They were all in the same room, were they?

A. I forget whether they were all in the same room or not.

Mr. RAHAEUSER: Practically all; the majority of them were in room 320.

Mr. BRANDEIS: What other room were they in?

Mr. RAHAEUSER: 320, the room of Lewisohn Brothers, proper.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: You mean in the main room?

Mr. RAHAEUSER: Yes, sir.

Mr. BRANDEIS: Do you mean your main office?

Mr. RAHAEUSER: Yes, sir.

[The examination of this witness is suspended for the present and it is agreed that Mr. Ferdinand Rahaeuser may be examined under this commission with the same effect as if done under the order, such as has been issued to take the examination of other witnesses.]

636 FERDINAND L. RAHAEUSER, sworn.

Direct examination by Mr. BRANDEIS:

Q. 49. Give your full name, age, and residence.

A. Ferdinand L. Rahaeuser; age, twenty-five years; residence, New York.

Q. 50. How long have you been connected with the business of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Since August, 1895.

Q. 51. What was your occupation from time to time in connection with this business?

A. Clerk.

Q. 52. In what department?

A. Telephone.

Q. 53. Telephone clerk?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 54. Have you been continuously telephone clerk since that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 55. What, if anything, have you had to do with the filing away of papers?

A. I have filed the letters away from December, 1895.

Q. 56. And in addition to the current filing of the letters have you had the disposition of the letters?

A. No, sir.

Q. 57. Who has disposed of them after they were filed away, after the letters were filed away?

A. I have filed them away for the last two years.

Q. 58. From the time when you began to file, which I understand was in December, 1895, until you ceased, who had charge of the final disposition of the letters that were filed?

A. We used to file them away and then transfer them into boxes and the boxes we would put in the vault.

Q. 59. When was this transfer made from the files to the boxes?

A. About the 1st of July and the 1st of January.

Q. 60. What, if anything, did you have to do with the transferring to the boxes of the letters or any other papers on the 1st of January, 1896?

A. I put them in the boxes and then put them in the vault.

Q. 61. Did you put these letters and papers all together in all the various matters of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 62. No matter what department of business it related to?

A. Certain portions I put away and the other portions were put away by Mr. Faint.

Q. 63. Is he still with Lewisohn Brothers?

A. No, sir.

Q. 64. Do you know his first name?

A. No, sir.

Q. 65. Do you know what his business is now?

A. He was a stenographer.

Q. 66. How long is it since he left Lewisohn Brothers?

A. About a year ago.

637 Q. 67. Have you seen him since that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 68. Can you give us any information as to where he is, or what his address is?

A. I cannot.

Q. 69. You say that you had to do with putting away all the papers in that certain department; which papers did you have to do with putting away; the papers relating to the Old Dominion matters?

A. I don't know, only the incoming mail I filed.

Q. 70. That is all you filed?

A. Yes, the incoming mail.

Q. 71. Who filed away copies of the letters that were sent out?

A. Mr. Faint, I believe; I won't swear to that.

Q. 72. How were they filed away; all together?

A. Alphabetically.

Q. 73. I mean if there was a letter, for instance, from Mr. Bigelow and a letter to Mr. Bigelow, wouldn't they be filed together, a copy of the letter to Mr. Bigelow and the letter from Mr. Bigelow?

A. The letter from Mr. Bigelow is filed in one place, and the letter to Mr. Bigelow is filed in another.

Q. 74. And when they were put away in boxes, were they put away in the same, or different, boxes?

A. Different boxes.

Q. 75. Did you have to do with the putting away of the letters that came from Mr. Bigelow?

A. I put away those letters.

Q. 76. That is, you put those letters away regularly?

A. Filed them away as they came in the next morning.

Q. 77. That is, beginning with December you filed those letters as they came in?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 78. Did you also pack up those letters as of the 1st of January or the 1st of July, and put them away in the boxes?

A. Yes, all of them.

Q. 79. You had nothing whatever to do with the copies of the letters which went out to Mr. Bigelow?

A. No, sir.

Q. 80. That was all done by Mr. Faint at that time?

A. Yes, sir; he filed them.

Q. 81. And put them in the boxes, too?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 82. Were the boxes of the incoming letters put away in the same place as the boxes of the outgoing letters or copies of letters?

A. In the same room.

Q. 83. But in separate boxes?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 84. And have been kept in separate boxes since?

A. Yes.

Q. 85. And in the same boxes in which they were originally?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 86. So far as 1895 and 1896 letters are concerned?

A. Yes.

638 Q. 87. Who had charge of filing the letters and papers; who put them in the boxes before you took charge of them in December, 1895?

A. Arthur Mairs.

Q. 88. And is he now connected with Lewisohn Brothers?

A. No, sir.

Q. 89. How long was he connected with Lewisohn Brothers?

A. I could not tell you how long he was connected with them.

Q. 90. When was he last connected with them?

A. December, 1895.

Q. 91. And he left their employ at that time?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 92. When you put away the letters in January, 1896, say, you put away the letters also which Mairs had been filing up to December?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 93. From July to December?

A. Yes.

Q. 94. And when you made the search, as I understand, in room 320, Lewisohn Brothers' room, for the letters and papers relating to the Old Dominion matter, did you find those letters and papers to be separate and apart from other letters and papers in regard to other matters in which Lewisohn Brothers were interested during this period from July, 1895, to January, 1896?

A. What do you mean by "separate and apart"?

Q. 95. Were they all in one file, or were they in separate files?

A. That is not all together; all the papers were not together; there were different papers there of different sorts of businesses and transactions.

Q. 96. I mean this: Lewisohn Brothers were connected with a large number of different transactions, of which Old Dominion was one; is not that the fact?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 97. Were the papers relating to Old Dominion matters mixed up with papers in the other matters?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 98. All being in one daily file?

A. What do you mean by "one daily file"?

Q. 99. All the letters, say, of the 10th of December, you filed one after another, although they related to different matters?

A. No, sir; they were all arranged alphabetically.

Q. 100. Now in the alphabetical arrangement of these letters, would you have, say, the letters from persons beginning with the letter A covering the whole half year together?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 101. When you finally filed them away?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 102. Then, as of the first of January, you rearranged all the letters that had come in during the six months?

A. Only transferred them to a box.

Q. 103. But do you mean you had some different files of letters; first there were letters of the alphabet?

A. What do you mean?

639 Q. 104. I want to know how you went about it.

A. If a letter came in for A it was filed under A; if it was Ba it was filed under B, and if it was Ca it was filed under C.

Q. 105. Covering the whole period of six months?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 106. So that you filed the letters away in the same file, although probably the letters related to entirely different matters, filing one after another, is that the way?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 107. And is that the way it was always done?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 108. And is that the way in which you found the file when you searched for it the other day to produce the papers here?

A. There were dozens of files gone through that day; it was not one file.

Q. 109. What do you mean by "dozens of files"?

A. We looked over all of 1895 files to see if there was anything relating to Old Dominion there.

Q. 110. Do you mean to say you looked at every letter?

A. Everything relating to Old Dominion.

Q. 111. How could you tell whether it related to Old Dominion until you had read the letter?

A. I didn't have to read the whole contents; the top would indicate whether it was Old Dominion or not.

Q. 112. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that you did look at every letter which was received by Lewisohn Brothers, or Leonard Lewisohn or Mr. Adolph Lewisohn during this year, 1895, that is in your possession?

A. That I read every one?

Q. 113. That you looked at every letter for the purpose of seeing whether or not it related to Old Dominion matters?

A. Yes, sir, all those that are in the separate room now.

Q. 114. Are there any letters that were received which have been taken out of that separate room?

A. I don't know anything about that.

Q. 115. Now it appears that from the letters which were produced by Mr. Lauterbach that there is not a single letter from Mr. Albert S. Bigelow. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that in those files there was not a single letter from Mr. Bigelow relating to Old Dominion matters?

A. I haven't seen any.

Q. 116. Did you find any letters from Albert S. Bigelow in those files?

A. Only those that are there.

Q. 117. But there is not a single one here from him?

A. Then there wasn't any there.

Q. 118. Where is the file of letters?

A. File of what letters?

640 Q. 119. From Albert S. Bigelow?

A. I don't know where that is.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: He didn't say there was any such file.

Q. 120. Have you any recollection that Albert S. Bigelow ever wrote a letter to Leonard Lewisohn or Lewisohn Brothers during the year 1895?

A. No, I can't recall back that far who signed the letters. I just took the signatures of the letters and filed them in the proper place, but whether it was Bigelow or any one else I don't know.

Q. 121. Do you now wish to be understood as testifying that in these files of letters which you examined you did not, according to the best of your recollection, see any letter from Albert S. Bigelow?

A. That is the files I examined in the last two or three weeks?

Q. 122. Yes.

A. No, there were no letters from A. S. Bigelow.

Q. 123. Now I want to ask you where the letters from A. S. Bigelow are kept?

A. I don't know where they are kept.

Q. 124. Do you know where they were kept formerly?

A. There have been three or four transfers made.

Q. 125. What transfers have been made?

A. I mean in regard to moving.

Q. 126. Tell me what transfers have been made.

A. The letters used to be kept down at the Produce Exchange building; then they were taken up to 81 Fulton street, on the second floor.

Q. 127. Was 81 Fulton street Lewisohn Brothers' office?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 128. How long did they remain there?

A. I can't say exactly how long; then the letters were transferred to the third floor of No. 81 Fulton street, and then they were transferred down to No. 11 Broadway.

Q. 129. Where they now are?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 130. In the course of those removals were all the various boxes in which the letters were kept moved each time, so far as you know?

A. No. The whole contents of the vault were removed; all the papers were removed, the boxes were not disturbed.

Q. 131. What kind of boxes are they in which these letters of 1895 were?

A. Small wooden boxes, or pasteboard boxes, 10x12, with a wooden back.

Q. 132. How many boxes did you examine containing letters for the year 1895?

A. I examined all the boxes.

Q. 133. How many, about, were there?

A. I can't tell you.

Q. 134. Approximately?

A. It would be hard for me to say. I would not say how many, for the simple reason that some of the boxes run from January 1 to the 7th, and then from the 7th to the 15th, and some from the 15th to the 28th, and some from the 28th of January to 641 about the 4th of February. I could not tell you how many boxes there were. If there was one box there must have been about seventy boxes, at least.

Q. 135. Take this box that runs from January 1 to 7th.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: He didn't say that they run exactly from January 1 to the 7th.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I am assuming the dates as an example of the letters that Lewisohn Brothers, or Leonard Lewisohn, received during that time went into that single file, and were arranged alphabetically in that particular box, were they?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 136. Then the next file, if it was a single one, the next box was from the 7th to the 15th, that would run along just the same way with the letters of the alphabet and all matters in that particular box?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 137. Consequently, if Lewisohn Brothers, or Leonard Lewisohn, wanted to turn back to any particular matter of the correspondence they had no other way of doing it except to pull out each box from the beginning, and look through until he came across the particular letters that bore upon that matter?

A. That is the way I understood it.

Q. 138. That is the way you understand the filing was done?

A. Yes, that is the way it was in my time.

Q. 139. I am referring to this time from 1895 to 1896, with which you are familiar, I understand, to a certain extent?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 140. Now, in these various movings of the papers which you refer to, do you recall any box of papers that were disposed of at any particular place?

A. What do you mean by "disposed of?"

Q. 141. Separated from the rest of the boxes.

A. Not that I know of. I didn't have charge of the moving.

Q. 142. Did you have charge of filing away all letters addressed to Mr. Leonard Lewisohn, personally, as distinguished from Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Some of them I filed away.

Q. 143. Did you file away those letters in the same place you did Lewisohn Brothers' letters, or did they go into separate files?

A. I think they were in the same files.

Q. 144. With the Lewisohn Brothers?

A. With the Lewisohn Brothers.

Q. 145. And were put away in the same boxes as part of the whole?

A. I believe so, yes.

642 Q. 146. Now in the examination which you made during the last two or three weeks in searching for letters, did you find any letters from Mr. G. M. Hyams?

A. Relating to what?

Q. 147. Any letters at all from G. M. Hyams?

A. I have seen some relating to routine business.

Q. 148. Did you see any letters of any kind relating to Old Dominion?

A. No, not as I know of. I didn't look at the signatures of the letters. All the letters that I looked at that related to Old Dominion I looked at the top; looked at the top to see how they were headed. I never looked at the signatures of the letters.

Q. 149. You mean of Mr. Hyams?

A. Mr. Hyams or any one else.

Q. 150. Do you mean to say you read each letter sufficiently to tell whether it related to the Old Dominion matter or not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 151. Were you familiar with Old Dominion matters so that you could determine whether it related to them or not?

A. You could tell when a letter started off about "Cathos," specifications of copper regarding shipments, or anything like that, that it did not relate to Old Dominion.

Q. 152. Who aided you in making this investigation?

A. I practically made it alone at room 320. I was the only one.

Q. 153. What search did you make in the general office?

A. I didn't make any search in the general office, only of those papers laying around there. A few boxes laying around loose.

Q. 154. What boxes were?

A. One or two boxes laying around there with old papers in.

Q. 155. What kind of old papers?

A. Relating to cotton and one or two other things.

Q. 156. You didn't look among the papers relating to cotton for the purpose of finding Old Dominion papers?

A. We looked through all the boxes.

Q. 157. Do you mean to testify you looked through every box of papers there is in Lewisohn Brothers for the purpose of seeing whether in that box there was anything that had to do with these transactions?

A. In room 320 yes, every box of 1895; that is, of incoming and outgoing letters.

Q. 158. You looked in the outgoing letters also, did you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 159. And looked through every outgoing letter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 160. And you had no assistance of any kind whatever?

A. No.

Q. 161. What part did Mr. Walter Lewisohn take in these investigations?

A. He came around the room and directed me to look through and went around the other side of the house in Lewisohn 643 Brothers' room and gave instructions there, in room 303, the general office.

Q. 162. Directing them and giving them instructions?

A. I don't know who he gave instructions to. He said he was going around the other side of the house.

Q. 163. He didn't make any examination of the matters, did he?

A. I don't know.

Q. 164. What did you do with the papers you called out?

A. Put them on Mr. Fred and Mr. Walter Lewisohn's desk.

Q. 165. You made no list of them?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. 166. Simply put them there?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 167. On how many different dates did you make that search?

A. Practically every afternoon after 3 o'clock.

Q. 168. For how long a period of time?

A. I was looking all last week, and the week before that I was looking.

Q. 169. And do you mean at the end of the day you put the papers down on their desk?

A. After 3 o'clock, yes, sir.

Q. 170. How many did you find in all?

A. I never counted the letters.

Q. 171. About?

A. I won't give an idea of how many we found, because I didn't count them.

Q. 172. When did you find the last of them?

A. I think it was Saturday afternoon, if I am not mistaken.

Q. 173. Did Saturday afternoon complete your search?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 174. What else did you find in this file of letters except letters themselves; anything?

A. What do you mean by "what else?"

Q. 175. Any other papers,—contracts or any papers other than letters?

A. I found contracts in the contract file.

Q. 176. What is the contract file that you are talking about?

A. Contracts on copper with different people; with regard to lead, tin, spelter—any contracts made in the New York Metal Exchange.

Q. 177. You searched through those files, did you?

A. Yes, sir, searched through the contract file and attorney file; Lewisohn Brothers' files.

Q. 178. Are these entirely separate files from the letter files you spoke of?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 179. And one of them you call a contract file?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 180. And is that a single file or is that a series of boxes such as you spoke of before?

A. Two boxes.

644 Q. 181. Covering the whole year 1895?

A. Yes sir.

Q. 182. Did you find anything in that file?

A. No, sir.

Q. 13. Did you find anything there?

A. No, sir.

Q. 184. You spoke of attorney's files; did you find anything there?

A. I think I did; one or two letters.

Q. 185. What was that attorney's file?

A. Letters from attorneys.

Q. 186. Letters from counsel?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 187. They are kept separate from all other letters, are they?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 188. What did you refer to as Lewisohn Brothers' file? Is that a separate file?

A. I meant Lewisohn Brothers' file; it was Lewisohn Brothers then, and this was kept in the United Smelting Company's file, room 320.

Q. 189. Are these boxes you speak of Lewisohn Brothers' files?

A. Yes, sir, these small boxes.

Q. 190. Just like the other boxes?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 191. What is the difference between Lewisohn Brothers' file of boxes and the boxes which you described before?

A. Which boxes?

Q. 193. You described at great length having looked into some boxes.

A. They were Lewisohn Brothers', but they belonged to the Smelting Company, as I understand.

Q. 193. Do you mean anything else now than that you looked in room 320 and that that room is a room of the office of the United Metal & Smelting Company?

A. That is it.

Q. 194. Those two boxes containing the contracts for the year 1895 in which you found nothing in room 320, were they?

A. All the boxes were in that room.

Q. 195. I thought you said that certain boxes were in Lewisohn Brothers' office?

A. Old cases that related to different things; not only 1895, but 1896, '97, and 98; sometimes the papers accumulate and the boys would not give them to you, but would throw them aside and they would lay there for some time and then they would be put in the boxes and reduced that way.

Q. 196. And those are the papers you say you looked at in the office, are they?

A. In the main office, yes.

Q. 197. How do you know that you looked at all the boxes relating to 1895?

A. All that was in room 320.

Q. 198. But there are in that room a large number of boxes besides the boxes of 1895, are they not?

A. Yes, sir.

645 Q. 199. What other boxes are there in there?

A. 1889, I suppose, and 1896—No, 1895, I believe, is the last; up to 1895 and before that.

Q. 200. How far do you think they go back?

A. 1866.

Q. 201. How do you know that you found all the boxes that related to 1895?

A. They were all together.

Q. 202. How do you know they were?

A. They were all together.

Q. 203. How do you know they were all together?

A. When I went in there I found them.

Q. 204. You formed certain ones, but how do you know you had all the letters for that year and all the boxes?

A. I didn't say I had all the letters for that year.

Q. 205. How do you know whether you have covered all the various boxes for the year 1895?

A. I covered all that were in that room.

Q. 206. These boxes covered definite periods, I understand?

A. From January 1 to December 31.

Q. 207. But each box covers the period of a certain number of days?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 208. It is not a regular period, is it; there are not the same number of days covered in any one box?

A. No, sir.

Q. 209. It depends upon whether the box gets full or not?

A. Yes.

Q. 210. Now you have the box covering a period of days?

A. Yes.

Q. 211. Now have you checked up those boxes which you examined so that you have a list, or made a list, of the boxes covering the twelve months from January 1, 1895, to January 1, 1896?

A. I didn't check them up, but I took a box that run, for instance, from January 1 to 7, then the next box from January 7 to 13, and so on until the end of the year.

Q. 212. But you did not check them, so that you don't know whether you got all the boxes?

A. There wasn't any need of checking them, was there?

Q. 213. There was a need unless you followed them up?

A. That is what I did.

Q. 214. For each year?

A. Each day.

Q. 215. Then you are certain and can swear you examined every box covering each business day of that year?

A. Yes, incoming and outgoing letters.

Q. 216. Both?

A. Both.

Q. 217. Then you do know, do you, that you have covered boxes taking in that whole period?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 218. What did you mean by saying you did not check
646 them up?

A. By checking them up I thought you meant taking a piece of paper and pencil and checking each one off. That is what I understand you meant by "checking."

Q. 219. How were the boxes arranged in that place?

A. A and Ba running from January to a certain date, and then took the next A and Ba to the end of the year and the same way with the outgoing letters.

Q. 220. There is not, among the letters which have been produced by Mr. Lauterbach, any letter from J. Morris Meredith. Do you recall whether you found in the files any letters from J. Morris Meredith?

A. I don't know whether I did or not. I can't recall finding any.

Q. 221. It appears by the letter from Mr. Charles C. Beaman to Leonard Lewisohn of May 9, 1895, which Mr. Lauterbach has produced, that letter was received from J. Morris Meredith on May 8, 1895, relating to Old Dominion matters. Will you now search and see whether you can find that letter?

A. All Lewisohn Brothers' were filed together.

Q. 293. No matter by whom they were written?

A. No, unless they kept a separate file for themselves, which I don't know anything about.

Q. 294. Do you know of any of their private files?

A. No, sir.

Q. 295. Or any private files of anybody else?

A. I have all of Lewisohn Brothers' files.

Q. 296. Do you know of anybody's private files?

A. Not of 1895.

Q. 297. Nor the early private files of 1896?

A. No, sir.

Q. 298. When was that begun?

A. I don't know. I know there were private files there, but what the date is I don't know.

Q. 299. I wish you would look that up.

A. I will.

Q. 300. It appears by the letter of Leonard Lewisohn to Simon H. Stern of December 23, 1895, that Leonard Lewisohn wrote Mr. Stern under date of the 19th of December, which letter has not been produced. Will you search for that letter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 301. Is there any explanation other than the lack of thoroughness in your search, which you can suggest explaining why 654 these letters to which I have referred in my questions and asked you to make search for, were not found in the search which you made?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial at present.

WITNESS: Shall I answer that question?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: Yes, go on.

WITNESS: I can't give you any explanation for it.

Q. 302. Has anybody made any examination of these files for the year 1895, recently, to your knowledge, before you began, and during the time in which you made that examination?

A. I don't know that anybody has made any examination of them. I could not say that because they are in different parts of the house altogether.

Q. 303. I ask you whether, so far as you know, anybody has?

A. No one has been through those files, so far as I know, outside of myself.

Q. 304. Do you know whether or not Mr. Hyams has made any examination of these files within the last few months?

A. No, sir.

Q. 305. You have seen Mr. Hyams and know him, don't you?

A. Yes.

Q. 306. He has been at the office, I presume?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 307. And you don't know whether or not he has made any examination?

A. No, sir, I do not.

Q. 308. Were you not given directions by Mr. Walter Lewisohn or either of the other executors, or Mr. Lauterbach, or any one, as to how you should proceed to make your examination?

A. I was told to find all papers pertaining to the Old Dominion matters.

Q. 309. And what did you look for?

A. Well, Old Dominion.

Q. 310. Has it been part of your duty to make search for papers from time to time, or is this the first instance?

A. The first instance of anything like this where I have been called to search for papers.

Q. 311. Whose duty is it in that office; who generally makes the search through the old files for anything that happens to come up?

A. I don't know.

Q. 312. That is not one of the things you have done in that office?

A. I have looked for other papers in the past, but not at present.

Q. 313. To what extent have you been occupied in searching for papers?

A. When old letters were called for we would be requested to go and find them.

Q. 314. Have you done that often?

A. Not very often.

Q. 315. Anybody else there who does it in the office?

A. Not that I know of.

Q. 316. Who else is there in that office now besides you, except the heads of the office?

A. Who do you mean?

655 Q. 317. In the way of clerks.

A. Several clerks; Mr. Westervelt and Mr. Van Zandt.

Q. 318. What clerks are there now who were there when you commenced to work there in July, 1895?
A. In Lewisohn Brothers'?
Q. 319. Yes.
A. None.
Q. 320. That is, you are the sole survivor of those at that time?
A. Since 1895, yes.
Q. 321. Are you the only person there now who was there January 1, 1896?
A. With Lewisohn Brothers at the present time?
Q. 322. Yes.
A. I cannot answer that question exactly; there may be one or two.
Q. 323. Who are the ones?
A. Mr. Gibson of the coffee department, I think.
Q. 324. Who else?
A. I think that is the only one.
Q. 325. Is there anybody now living who was there July 1, 1895, with Lewisohn Brothers, so far you know?
A. Yes.
Q. 326. Who?
A. Quite a few of them.
Q. 327. Who are they?
A. Mr. W. Welch.
Q. 328. Where is he now?
A. At 11 Broadway.
Q. 329. He is not with Lewisohn Brothers now?
A. No, sir.
Q. 330. What is his business now?
A. With the United Metal Selling Company, I believe.
Q. 331. Who else?
A. Mr. Wilson.
Q. 332. What is his first name?
A. I think Mr. T. Wilson.
Q. 333. Where is he now?
A. 11 Broadway.
Q. 334. With the Metal Selling Company?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 335. Who else?
A. Mr. Kane.
Q. 336. What is his first name?
A. T. J., I believe.
Q. 337. Who is he with?
A. The United Metal Selling Company.
Q. 338. Who else?
A. T. Gaden.
Q. 339. Who is he with?
A. The United Metal Selling Company.
Q. 340. Who else?
A. W. A. Weaver.
Q. 341. Who is he with?

A. The United Metal Selling Company.

Q. 342. Who else?

A. Mr. E. Laverty, and he is connected with the Metal Selling Company.

Q. 343. Go on.

A. Max Rosenthal.

Q. 344. Who is he with?

A. The United Metal Selling Company. Those are the only people I know of that are living that were employed with Lewisohn Brothers.

656 Q. 345. Go ahead and finish the list.

A. I think E. Mosehauer; that is all I can think of at the moment. A. There are some additional ones, but I can't think of them all.

Q. 346. Is there anybody who was with Lewisohn Brothers in 1895, whom you can think of, and who is living, and who is not with the United Metal Selling Company now?

A. With Lewisohn Brothers in 1895, that is living, and not with the United Metal Selling Company.

Q. 347. Yes.

A. No, I don't know of anybody that was with us then that is living now.

Q. 348. Is there anybody who is dead that you remember?

A. No, I have not heard of any deaths.

Q. 349. Then, to your recollection, everybody who was with Lewisohn Brothers in the office in 1895, except yourself, is now with the United Metal Selling Company?

A. No: there have been some people discharged or left of their own accord.

Q. 350. Who are they?

A. Mr. A. L. Casey, I think, was one, and Mr. William Faint—they had about forty or fifty clerks, but I don't remember them all.

Q. 351. You don't remember any of them?

A. No, at the moment, no, sir. There was Arthur Morris there before me. I was in the telephone booth at the time, and have always been since. Mr. Rechert was there. He was the cashier, but he is dead. And Mr. P. W. Landsburg.

Q. 352. Is he dead?

A. No, he is with Landsburg Brothers.

Q. 353. Mr. Faint was the stenographer to whom you referred?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 354. Was he the only stenographer?

A. No, there was a Mr. Fox, I believe; where he disappeared to, or went, I don't know.

Q. 355. Mr. Faint was the one that had to do with the filing away of these papers?

A. I believe so, yes.

Q. 356. I wish you would, in addition to the matters specifically called to your attention, make a full search for all papers of any kind relating to the Old Dominion matters.

A. I will.

Q. 357. Or of all letters of any kind relating to Old Dominion matters to or from Albert S. Bigelow.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 358. Or to or from G. M. Hyams.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 359. Or to or from William Keyser.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 360. Or to or from J. Morris Meredith.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 361. Or to or from R. Brent Keyser.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 362. Or to or from each one of those fifteen subscribers.

A. Yes, sir.

657 Q. 363. And when you are making that search check up so as to see that you have the full number of fifteen.

A. I will, but I don't know what their names are.

Q. 364. I haven't the full list. It appears by this list that among the subscribers are included John Stanton, Simon H. Stern, A. W. Spencer, J. W. Belches, and Alexander J. Meyer.

Q. 365. Were letter-press copy books kept by Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Of the copper business, do you mean?

Q. 366. I mean were the letters that were sent out kept in copying books?

A. I believe those that were written were.

Q. 367. What do you mean by that?

A. Plain writing.

Q. 368. You mean those that were in manuscript?

A. Yes.

Q. 369. And those that were not in manuscript,—those which were in typewriting,—were those kept in letter-press copy books?

A. I can't answer that. I paid no attention to that part.

Q. 370. I am referring to 1895 and 1896.

A. Yes, I don't know anything about that, then.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: There were copper copying books, were there not, indicating the purchase and sales of copper?

WITNESS: Yes.

Q. 371. What do you know, if anything, about where the books of account of 1895 or 1896 are kept—of Lewisohn Brothers or Leonard Lewisohn?

A. Where are they now?

Q. 372. Yes.

A. I don't know.

Q. 373. You had nothing to do with them at that time?

A. No.

Q. 374. And not since?

A. No, sir.

Q. 375. None of them are in this room 320?

A. Not that I have seen. I think that is the number of the room. I am pretty sure it is.

[Examination of this witness suspended for the present and recess is taken until 3 p. m.]

ADOLPH LEWISOHN, sworn.

Direct examination by Mr. BRANDEIS:

Q. 376. Give your full name.
A. Adolph Lewisohn.
Q. 377. During what period were you a member of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers?
A. It was no firm of Lewisohn Brothers. From about 658 1890 or 1891. I don't know when there was a corporation formed—from between 1891 to about 1901—and then there was the corporation of Lewisohn Brothers.
Q. 378. Prior to 1890 it was a firm?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 379. And you and Mr. Leonard Lewisohn were members of that firm?
A. Yes.
Q. 380. Were you the sole members?
A. For many years.
Q. 381. For many years prior to 1890?
A. Away back to about 1885 Leonard Lewisohn and myself were the sole partners. I don't know the exact date.
Q. 382. And under what law was the corporation, Lewisohn Brothers, to which you referred, organized?
A. This state.
Q. 383. Who were the officers of that corporation?
A. Leonard Lewisohn, myself, Jesse Lewisohn. I don't think of any others. I think that was about all.
Q. 384. What were the interests of the several members in the corporation?
A. Leonard Lewisohn and myself had the larger share of it.
Q. 385. And Jesse a small interest?
A. Yes.
Q. 386. You and Leonard Lewisohn were equally interested, or which was the largest?
A. I think equally.
Q. 387. How long did you continue to own your share in the corporation of Lewisohn Brothers?
A. Until about a year and a half ago.
Q. 388. And then sold out to Leonard?
A. Yes.
Q. 389. And was Jesse a part owner up to the time you sold out?
A. Yes.
Q. 390. How were the offices distributed in the company; you three were directors?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 391. Leonard, president?
A. I think Leonard was president, and I was treasurer.
Q. 392. There appear to be letters signed by you as general manager.
A. In order to make business easy there were two general managers; if one of us was away the other acted in that capacity.

Q. 393. That is, each of you had the power to act as general manager?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 394. Now what was the business of the corporation?

A. Dealing in metal.

Q. 395. And was that the sole business of the corporation?

A. Yes, practically. I think they had other rights but practically that was the business.

Q. 396. It appears that under the name of Lewisohn Brothers a large number of transactions relating to the Old Dominion were carried on; that was not dealing in metal was it?

A. It was really for account of Leonard Lewisohn, and Lewisohn Brothers took charge of the matter for him.

659 Q. 397. That is, Lewisohn Brothers were practically the agents of Leonard Lewisohn in carrying on the firm's transactions?

A. Well, attended to it, practically, sometimes by Leonard Lewisohn and sometimes Lewisohn Brothers.

Q. 398. Was this transaction which was undertaken by Leonard Lewisohn in connection with A. S. Bigelow a transaction of Leonard Lewisohn individually?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as assuming that there were transactions which had taken place which does not appear in the evidence as yet.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I will say transactions in connection with the purchase of the Old Dominion Copper Mining Company property, and other mining claims, a transaction by Leonard Lewisohn individually, or by the corporation.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as leading, and also as indefinite, inasmuch as the transaction is not described, and as yet there is no evidence of any transaction.

A. It was for Leonard Lewisohn.

Q. 399. Was it a transaction in which you had any interest?

A. Leonard Lewisohn gave me a share in the profits.

Q. 400. What was that share?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to as immaterial and incompetent.

A. I don't remember the exact share.

Q. 401. State as fully as you can what you recall in regard to the matter.

[Same objection.]

A. I think about a quarter or a third. I don't know exactly.

Q. 402. Of his interest?

A. Of his interest.

Q. 403. Did Jesse Lewisohn also have an interest?

A. I think he did.

Q. 404. Do you know what that interest was?

A. No, I don't remember.

Q. 405. When did you acquire that interest?

A. I was in Europe, as far as I remember at the time——

Mr. HEMENWAY (Interrupting): The question is, when did you acquire it?

A. I don't know any more the time.

Q. 406. You spoke of being in Europe. Do you refer to the period of 1895?

A. Yes.

Q. 407. Do you recall during what months you were in Europe?

A. I don't know what time I came back. I think I went in the spring.

Q. 408. You went in the spring, did you?

A. I think so. I think I came back in the summer. I don't know exactly.

660 Q. 409. Do you know whether or not this property had been purchased during your absence in Europe?

A. I remember it had.

Q. It had been?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 411. Do you remember whether or not you heard of the purchase after you returned from Europe or while you were in Europe?

A. I don't remember that any more.

Q. 412. Do you remember whether or not the interest which you acquired in this syndicate was acquired by you after you returned to America?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to, as it does not appear that he acquired any interest in the syndicate, and also as immaterial.

A. As far as I remember after my return,—well, Leonard Lewisohn gave me that share in the profits.

Q. 413. Was that evidenced by any writing?

A. No; I don't think so.

Q. 414. Was your interest that you speak of evidenced by any shares of stock, or by money, or both?

A. As I said before, a share in the profits, whatever that is.

Q. 415. Did you receive, as the result of that share, stock or certificates of stock in the Old Dominion Company, or money, or both?

A. I received, no doubt, shares and money.

Q. 416. Both?

A. I believe so. Paid for it, you see,—that means a share in the profits. I would have to pay and receive the money.

Q. 417. You say you received a share in the profits. Do you mean by that, you made a payment towards the amount as well as receiving something from it?

A. No doubt has been charged that payment,—charged that payment in order to get the balance of profits.

Q. 418. That is, you were charged with a certain amount as your contribution to the fund required to purchase?

A. Yes.

Q. 419. Do you recall what your proportion was?

A. No, I do not know.

Q. 420. Do you recall what proportion you had, or the total interest which Leonard Lewisohn had, or that Leonard Lewisohn and Bigelow had together?

A. No; whatever interest or profits there was, was in the share of Leonard Lewisohn's profits.

Q. 421. Do you recall what fraction or proportion of Leonard Lewisohn's part you acquired?

A. As I said before, between either one quarter or one third.

Q. 422. Now were there any books kept by Leonard Lewisohn, or by you, or by Lewisohn Brothers, from which you could refresh your recollection as to the fact in this respect?

A. I have no books.

661 Q. 423. In what books were the facts relating to this transaction which you have just testified to recorded?

A. I don't know.

Q. 424. What other persons, if any, besides yourself, contributed to this fund which was required to make the purchase?

A. I don't remember that.

Q. 425. Don't you recall that other persons were spoken of as the syndicate subscribers coming in to contribute a share in the result in some form?

A. It is a good many years ago, and I don't remember any more details except what I have told here to-day.

Q. 426. It appears that there was a certain amount of correspondence conducted apparently in your name, by you as manager, relating to the matter; does not that refresh your recollection that there were other persons who did contribute?

A. I heard it testified to-day, as I say.

Q. 427. You refer by that to the examination of Mr. Rahaeuser, which you listened to, do you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 428. It appears from that deposition that there were other persons who contributed money, and who received certain proceeds of the syndicate transactions. I ask you in what books those transactions were recorded?

A. I don't know.

Q. 429. What did you have to do with the books of Lewisohn Brothers; anything?

A. I didn't tend to the books; they had a business manager, Mr. Rechert.

Q. 430. He was the bookkeeper, was he not?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 431. I am not asking you as to the contents of the books, but I am asking what books there were, to your knowledge?

A. I don't know.

Q. 432. There being these books in which Lewisohn Brothers acted for some person or persons in connection with the receipt of money, and the disbursement of certificates—distribution of certificates of stock in this matter; are you not able to state whether or not these matters were recorded in Lewisohn Brothers' books?

A. I could not say.

Q. 433. Did you keep a private set of books for your own transactions?

A. I did not.

Q. 434. I don't mean whether you personally wrote in the books, but whether there was kept a private set of books for your individual transactions?

A. I think there were some books kept by me.

Q. 435. What has become of those books?

A. I don't think there were any kept for myself separately.

Q. 436. Do you mean by that that the transactions relating to yourself individually were kept in Lewisohn Brothers Books?'

662 A. There was no doubt a record kept; I don't know whether it was in the books of Lewisohn Brothers or separate.

Q. 437. Do you mean by that to say that you don't know whether you had any individual books of Adolph Lewisohn during this period?

A. I don't remember that.

Q. 438. What is your best recollection?

A. I don't know whether it was kept separate or not.

Q. 439. You don't know whether it was kept separate?

A. No.

Q. 440. I ask you for your best recollection in regard to it. Have you any recollection?

A. I don't recollect.

Q. 441. Have you made search yourself for any of the papers or books relating in any way to this Old Dominion matter?

A. No.

Q. 442. Why not?

A. I was not asked to; I was away.

Q. 443. Where are the books and papers of Leonard Lewisohn, or of your own, or of the Lewisohn Brothers' corporation, each and all of them that had anything to do with the transaction in relation to the Old Dominion?

A. I don't know.

Q. 444. When you sold out your interest in the Lewisohn Brothers' corporation, was that a complete severance of your relations with the business?

A. It was.

Q. 445. And all business connection with Leonard Lewisohn?

A. Yes.

Q. 446. What was done with the books and papers covering the previous transactions of yourself in connection with your brother Leonard?

A. I didn't keep any books of any kind from that time on. That is the only record I have.

Q. 447. And you have had a separate place of business, have you?

A. Since that time I have a separate office.

Q. 448. And you have had nothing whatever to do with the books or papers of the previous period?

A. Nothing whatever.

Q. 449. Did Edgar Buffum have any connection with Lewisohn Brothers or Leonard Lewisohn in 1895?

A. He was a clerk or bookkeeper.

Q. 450. Of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Of Lewisohn Brothers, yes.

Q. 451. How long did he continue in that capacity?

A. He was there until a few years ago. He is now with the United Metal Selling Company.

Q. 452. Did the corporation of Lewisohn Brothers continue until the United Metal Selling Company was organized?

A. The corporation continued; they only sold the metal business to the metal company.

Q. 453. And did the corporation continue business until the time of Mr. Leonard Lewisohn's death?

A. Yes, but did not operate.

Q. 454. Who are the officers of it now?

A. I don't know, but simply the Lewisohn Brothers, as a 663 firm, owns all the shares in the Lewisohn Brothers' corporation, but it is simply inoperative.

Q. 455. And Walter and Frederick are the only partners?

A. I believe so.

Q. 456. Was Charles W. Welch connected with the firm of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Yes.

Q. 457. In what capacity?

A. Some kind of a bookkeeper.

Q. 458. In 1895?

A. Yes.

Q. 459. How long did he continue with the firm?

A. The same way. He is now with the Metal Selling Company.

Q. 460. Was Sidney Riddlesdorffer connected with the firm of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. I think he was at that time.

Q. 461. In what capacity?

A. Bookkeeper, I think.

Q. 462. And he was with Lewisohn Brothers until the Metal Selling Company was organized?

A. No, he went over to the factory in Perth Amboy.

Q. 463. Lewisohn Brothers' factory?

A. It now belongs to the Metal Selling Company.

Q. 464. Then controlled by Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Yes.

Q. 465. And he is over there yet?

A. Yes, he is over there yet.

Q. 466. Do you know William V. Rowe?

A. I don't know him. I don't know his last name; probably one of the employees, I suppose; one of the younger boys.

Q. 467. Do you know William R. Montgomery?

A. I don't know the names; no doubt they are some of the clerks that have been there, the same as I would not have known we had this Mr. Rahaeuser.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I think it right to say that there was in existence, coincident with Lewisohn Brothers' corporation, a Lewisohn Brothers' firm, although when he started his connection with Leonard Lewisohn, he started it with the firm of Leonard Lewisohn, then existing as well as the corporation, although it don't appear, and this present Leonard Lewisohn then became the sole partner of Lewisohn Brothers about a year and a half ago. Then he took into his firm Fred and Walter before his death, so that upon his death they became the surviving partners of what was really a continuing firm of Lewisohn Brothers, of which at one time he was a member.

WITNESS: When the Metal Selling Company was formed,— as I said before, the metal business that was the principal part of the business was sold to the Metal Company,—Leonard and I formed the partnership of Lewisohn Brothers, which partnership only existed then since 1900.

Q. 468. Mr. Lauterbach also spoke of there having been 664 a firm of Lewisohn Brothers previously, during the 90's?

A. I said before, formerly it was a corporation, away back to 1867 there was a firm, Lewisohn Brothers, and it was only a corporation was formed in 1891, I believe.

Q. 469. When the corporation was formed in 1891 did you cease to be in that firm of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. I didn't cease to be in the firm. We only made a new firm in about 1900. Leonard and myself were in the firm, and they took in the two boys after we went out.

Q. 470. Are you able to recall whether or not there was any one connected with Lewisohn Brothers by the name of E. Hawley, in 1895?

A. I don't think he was connected with it.

Q. 471. Do you remember any person by the name of E. Hawley?

A. Yes.

Q. 472. What, if anything, did he have to do with the Old Dominion matters?

A. I don't know as he had any.

Q. 473. Was he not a subscriber to the syndicate?

A. I suppose so. I don't remember.

Q. 474. Do you remember any gentleman in connection with it in 1895 by the name of H. Vollestein?

A. I know a gentleman by that name.

Q. 475. Who was he?

A. He was a merchant in the city.

Q. 476. Do you remember whether or not he had any relation with the subscribers to the Old Dominion Syndicate?

A. I don't remember.

Q. 477. Do you remember any person by the name of Theodore Gaden, Jr.?

A. He was a clerk.

Q. 478. In Lewisohn Brothers' employ?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 479. How long did he remain in their employ?

A. He has gone with the Metal Selling Company.
Q. 480. Jacob Kohn: do you remember any such person?
A. I remember him.
Q. 481. What was he, a clerk?
A. No, a brother-in-law of mine.
Q. 482. Was he connected with Lewisohn Brothers?
A. No.
Q. 483. Do you remember whether he had any interest in the Old Dominion Syndicate?
A. I don't remember now, but maybe he was.
Q. 484. Do you remember G. A. Bicknell?
A. Yes, I know who he is.
Q. 485. Did he have any connection with Lewisohn Brothers?
A. No.
Q. 486. What was he?
A. He was a wool broker. I knew him very well.
Q. 487. Did he have any interest in the Old Dominion Syndicate?
A. I don't recollect it.
665 Q. 488. Charles F. Brooker?
A. No connection with Lewisohn Brothers; it is all the same.
Q. 489. What was Charles F. Brooker?
A. Manufacturer of brass. He was then with the Coe Brass Manufacturing Company. He was a merchant of some kind.
Q. 490. Did he have an interest in the Old Dominion Syndicate?
A. I don't know, but I suppose so.
Q. 491. Do you remember a man by the name of Louis G. Schiffer?
A. Yes.
Q. 492. He wasn't connected with Lewisohn Brothers, was he?
A. No.
Q. 493. What was he?
A. He is a cotton broker.
Q. 494. Was he interested in the Old Dominion Syndicate?
A. I don't remember that he was.
Q. 495. Do you know the concern of J. W. Belches & Company, referred to in the correspondence?
A. He was a stockbroker, I think.
Q. 496. Do you remember anything with regard to his interest in the Old Dominion?
A. No, I don't remember the interest.
Q. 497. Do you know what books there are, or papers there are, or where any can be found, in which you can refresh your recollection as to the relations of any of these persons with the Old Dominion?
A. I have no books or records of any kind.
Q. 498. Do you know where any are or are kept?
A. I do not.
Q. 499. Do you know in what manner the papers in Lewisohn Brothers were filed away and kept?
A. I do not.

Q. 500. Have you ever yourself seen the papers when they were filed away?

A. No.

Q. 501. Did you ever have occasion to refer to any papers which had been filed away?

A. Mr. Rahaeuser, as I said before, had charge of the business, and if I wanted any I would refer to him. I didn't know how they were filed in any way.

Q. 502. You heard the testimony that was given this morning by Mr. Rahaeuser in regard to the way in which the papers were filed away. Is there anything in that testimony which is contrary to your recollection?

A. No, I have no recollection about it.

Q. 503. No recollection whatever?

A. No.

Q. 504. Do you know whether or not Lewisohn Brothers had letter-press copy books in which their letters were copied?

A. I don't know.

Q. 505. Have you any recollection whether the letters which you wrote were ever copied in the letter-press copy books?

A. I don't know whether they were or not. I don't know whether they only filed them or copied them.

666 Q. 506. Do you remember whether or not at the time you returned from Europe, a corporation known as the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company had been formed?

A. I don't remember that any more.

Q. 507. Have you no recollection as to the length of your stay abroad?

A. I generally stayed three to four months, about.

Q. 508. Have you any way of fixing the time when you went abroad?

A. I could not tell; I don't know that year. I often used to go in March and come back in June or July, but I could not place the time I went at that time.

Q. 509. Is there any way in which you can fix that date from papers which you can refer to?

A. Probably; I can't find out now.

Q. 510. What do you mean by "now"?

A. It is so many years ago I don't know.

Q. 511. Do you suppose by looking at the books of entry of Lewisohn Brothers, and papers, you could not easily enough determine and tell me when you ceased to sign letters and when you began again; couldn't you do that?

A. I don't know of any papers.

Q. 512. Do you mean to say that if you found it important to find out what date it was when you left and the date when you came back from Europe, you could not do it approximately?

A. Perhaps I could.

Q. 513. How would you go about it to do it?

A. I don't know at present how to do it.

Q. 514. Could you not do it by looking at the papers of Lewisohn

Brothers, and the business which you were carrying on, and find out when you ceased to take part in that business and when you began again?

A. I don't know anything about any books, and I don't know where they are, and I could not say.

Q. 515. Where were they when you last knew about them?

A. As I said before, since I was out I haven't any of those papers.

Q. 516. I ask you where they were when you last knew about them?

A. I suppose they were at Lewisohn Brothers.

Q. 517. Do you mean to say you have any doubt that, by looking at the papers of Lewisohn Brothers, you could state approximately when you went to Europe and when you came back?

A. I suppose I could find out.

Q. 518. Will you?

A. All right, I will try. I can't say what I have not got. No doubt I can; they might not let me in. I don't know. I am not connected with them.

Q. 519. If you will try, that is all we can ask of you.

A. I think I can find out some way or other.

667 Q. 520. Have you any doubt now that you could find out; also as to who the syndicate subscribers were with whom you communicated as manager of Lewisohn & Company in relation to the Old Dominion matters?

Mr. HEMENWAY: Objected to, as assuming that he did communicate, and that is not yet proven.

A. I don't know whether I could, but I presume I could.

Q. 521. Will you try?

A. All right; I want to do what I ought to do.

Q. 522. Will you also try and get such information as will enable you to determine exactly what your share was in this syndicate and what you paid for your share in that syndicate and what you got in the way of stock or moneys as the result of your interest in that syndicate?

A. I will.

Q. 523. How soon can you enter upon the making of those efforts?

A. I suppose in a few days.

Mr. BRANDEIS: If you could do it to-day or between to-day and sometime to-morrow I would like to suspend your examination until you could make an effort to get back. We will suspend your examination then for the present temporarily and go on with Mr. Walter Lewisohn.

WALTER LEWISOHN.

Q. 524. Is it a fact that you did not have anything to do with relation of any matters in connection with the Old Dominion syndicate?

A. Unless it was anything that I carried out for Mr. Leonard Lewisohn.

Q. 525. Do you mean merely the formal correspondence?

A. Yes, sir; that is all the business that I had to attend to.

Q. 526. Do you mean to be understood as testifying that you had no knowledge as to what the relations were between, say, Leonard Lewisohn and Albert S. Bigelow in connection with the purchase of this property?

A. I don't want to go as far as that; I might have been informed at the time, but I was not the direct—it was all for account of Leonard Lewisohn, and except, as I said before, I would carry out Mr. Leonard Lewisohn's business, but I don't want to say that I at that time didn't know about it.

Q. 527. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that you did not know anything about it?

A. I have already answered I don't know any of the details of these things.

Q. 528. Do you want us to understand that you have now no recollection of the circumstances attending the purchase of this Old Dominion property by Leonard Lewisohn and Mr. Bigelow?

A. Yes.

668 Q. 529. You don't know anything about it at present?

A. No.

Q. 530. Then you may have known at one time, but you don't know anything about it now: is that it?

A. That is it.

Q. 531. And you don't know anything now about the relations of any persons as members of the syndicate: is that so?

A. That is it.

Q. 532. And you don't know anything in regard to the plan to form a corporation?

A. I don't remember those details now.

Q. 533. Is there any way that you know of by which you can refresh your recollection on any of these matters I have asked you about?

A. No, I have no record in my hands.

Q. 534. No letters you received from Leonard Lewisohn?

A. I have nothing at all.

Q. 535. While you were abroad you certainly—I don't say certainly, but you probably received letters from Leonard Lewisohn?

A. If there were any I haven't got them now any more. It is years ago.

Q. 536. Do you mean you destroyed them?

A. I haven't got any of the old papers.

Q. 537. It was customary for your brother to correspond with you when you were abroad, was it not?

A. I got some letters, yes.

Q. 538. And to report to you the business that was going on?

A. Sometimes he would and sometimes not. This was not of this order, this kind of business. He went right along by himself with that kind of business, and what I would know about it would be the small business which would go to the London office.

Q. 539. Do you mean to say that in all transactions such as this was, the purchase of practically the whole interest in a mining property in which an obligation of Lewisohn Brothers was given, amounting to nearly $1,000,000, that your brother would not report this matter to you?

A. He would act in just this way.

Q. 540. And it is your recollection, is it, that he did not report anything about that?

A. I don't say that. I don't recollect that he did.

Q. 541. At all events, if he did the letters in which he reported to you are not in existence?

A. No, sir. I am pretty sure.

Q. 542. Do you mean by that that it is not your custom to preserve letters?

A. Not any letters that I would receive from my brother. I mean regular business-house copy letters, but if I would get letters seven or eight years ago it is not likely I would have them now.

Q. 543. Do you mean it was your practice to destroy those letters?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 544. While abroad were you on business or traveling for pleasure?

A. Business combined with pleasure; something to do there.

669 Q. 545. You had no office there?

A. I did not, no.

Q. 546. I mean no regular place of business.

A. The house had a London office.

Q. 547. Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 548. Were you in London during this period?

A. I was traveling mostly on the Continent.

Q. 549. Then you feel certain that any letters which were received by you from your brother during that period in 1895 when you were abroad are not in existence?

A. If there were any, no, I am sure.

Q. 550. And you therefore say there is nothing whatever that would in any way refresh your recollection as to what he may have told you or may have written you in relation to the Old Dominion Syndicate and the formation of the corporation?

A. Yes, that is it.

Mr. BRANDEIS: If you could as soon as convenient ascertain this fact or the dates of your trip, or anything that would aid you to testify further than this, we will take you up again. What will be most convenient for you when we can continue?

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I will produce Mr. Lewisohn for further examination at any future time you may want him.

Q. 551. I show you a paper; is that Mr. Leonard Lewisohn's signature to the paper which I show you, being one of the papers produced by Mr. Lauterbach in response to our request?

A. Apparently it is.

Q. 552. Do you mean the signature is Mr. Leonard Lewisohn's handwriting?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 553. In whose handwriting is the black writing?

A. I don't know.

Q. 554. I hand you another paper, being one of the papers produced by Mr. Lauterbach, in response to our request endorsed "Dated July 11th, 1895. Leonard Lewisohn to Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company. Offer to convey Mines, etc. Submitted to meeting of Directors of Old Dominion Copper M. & S. Co. held July 11, 1895, and accepted," entitled "To the Old Dominion Copper Mining & Smelting Company," and ask you whether or not the signature purporting to be that of Leonard Lewisohn, signed at the foot of that offer, is the handwriting of your brother Leonard?

A. It seems to be, I am pretty positive.

Q. 555. I ask you whether the signature purporting to be that of Leonard Lewisohn, which follows the words after the offer, "Please issue said 30,000 shares of stock to Mr. A. S. Bigelow and myself," is the handwriting of your brother?

A. That certainly appears to be Leonard Lewisohn's signature.

670 Q. 556. Are you able to state whose handwriting the words "Please issue said 30,000 shares of stock to Mr. A. S. Bigelow and myself" is?

A. I am not.

Q. 557. Are you able to state in whose handwriting the words "thirty thousand" which are inserted in black ink in the offer are?

A. No, I am not.

[The paper shown witness is here marked for identification "Plaintiff's Exhibit No. 1, February 10, 1903."]

Q. 558. I hand you herewith a paper endorsed "Old Dominion Copper Company of Baltimore City to Old Dominion Copper Mining and Smelting Company. Offer to sell property. Submitted to meeting of Board of Directors of Old Dominion Copper M. & S. Company held July 11, 1895, and accepted," being one of the papers produced by Mr. Lauterbach in response to our call for papers, and I ask you whether or not this paper purporting to be signed by "A. S. Bigelow, President," if that is the signature of A. S. Bigelow?

A. I think it is.

Q. 559. I call your attention to the words in the twenty-first line: "one thousand," before the word "shares," and ask you if you are able to state in whose handwriting those words are?

A. No.

Q. 560. I call your attention also to the word "first," in the last line on page 1, and ask you whether you are able to state in whose handwriting that is?

A. No.

[The paper shown witness is here marked for identification "Plaintiff's Exhibit 2, February 10, 1903."]

Q. 561. I call your attention to the letter dated Boston, May 28, 1895, Leonard Lewisohn to A. S. Bigelow, being one of the papers produced by Mr. Lauterbach in response to our call, and ask you whether or not the signature of Leonard Lewisohn, at the foot of that letter, is in your brother's handwriting?

A. That appears to be all right; yes, that seems to be his signature.

[The paper shown witness is here marked "Plaintiff's Exhibit 3," for identification of this date, and the rest of the papers produced by Mr. Lauterbach in response to the plaintiff's call, are here marked for identification, "Plaintiff's Exhibits 4 to 161, both inclusive, February 10, 1903."]

NEW YORK, February 11, 1903.

[Met pursuant to adjournment.]
[Present: Same as before.]

WALTER LEWISOHN, recalled.

By Mr. BRANDEIS:

Q. 562. Will you state whether you personally made any search whatever for all the papers referred to in the subpœna.

A. I personally searched a little bit, but not very much, such as going through the closets in those rooms; they are like closets where these papers were separated in this room 320. There was quite a little dirt around there, and I had my man Ferdinand Rahaeuser to go through.

Q. 563. The Ferdinand Rahaeuser who testified here yesterday?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 564. Did you personally look through any files of papers?

A. I looked at the files, but not very carefully.

Q. 565. You mean you looked at the outside of the boxes?

A. Yes, but I was too busy to attend to looking through the files. He attended to that, for I had not done very much about files and don't know anything about them. I merely saw they were attended to properly.

Q. 566. Did you personally look at the contents of any files of papers?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. 567. What file of papers did you personally look through?

A. I don't remember.

Q. 568. What did the file look like that you looked through: was there more than one that you looked at personally?

A. Probably two or three I looked at.

Q. 569. What was the general appearance of those two or three boxes or files which you looked at?

A. Oh, a sort of oblong pasteboard box, I think, with wood at the bottom.

Q. 570. How large were those boxes?

A. About one foot long and 10 x 12 inches square, like that.

Q. 571. Were those boxes marked on the outside?

A. I forget exactly; I don't know; I think they were, but I don't remember.

Q. 572. Were those two or three boxes you looked at in the general room 320 which Ferdinand Rahaeuser has testified to?

A. Yes.

Q. 573. At the time you looked at them?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 574. How much of an examination did you make of those two or three boxes?

A. I merely glanced through them to get a general idea of the files, that is all.

672 Q. 575. You did not, then, read the letters in them with a view of determining whether or not any of them were Old Dominion letters or related to the Old Dominion transaction?

A. I would look through to see if I saw Old Dominion letters, but I did not stand there very long to attend to it. I just wanted to see the search started, that is all, and to see that it was properly done.

Q. 576. Did you yourself take any of these letters from the files?

A. Yes, I just took them out and scrutinized quickly, just glanced through a few of those files, and then I told him to look and be sure he got all the Old Dominion papers, and then I had to run around the office, and he made the search and even came down at night.

Q. 577. I want you to describe a little more fully what you did when you looked through these two or three files that you refer to.

A. I just picked up the papers and quickly glanced through.

Q. 578. What do you mean by picking them up; did you take them out of the file?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 579. How are they filed; are they affixed to anything, or simply lying there?

A. I didn't notice the details of it; I could not say; I just went in and picked the papers out of the files; didn't notice particularly how they were.

Q. 580. Did you go through any one of those files sufficiently careful to pick from any one of them the letters which related to Old Dominion matters, or did you merely glance at the files and see what they looked like?

A. I glanced at the files, and the papers in the files, but I just wanted to see just to get an idea of the files, just that the papers were all right there. I didn't make a regular search, as I said before, as there wouldn't have been any use, as I say I only saw two or three. There was no particular need to look at all the papers in those two or three unless I did them all.

Q. 581. What I want to know is whether, as matter of fact, you did go through any one of these files with sufficient care to know whether there were Old Dominion papers in it or not?

A. Yes, I saw there were Old Dominion papers there, but I didn't read them all over.

Q. 582. Was there anything in those files besides those Old Dominion papers?

A. That I don't remember, exactly. I think there were a few other papers.

Q. 583. That is, according to your recollection, most of the papers in those two or three files you looked at related to Old Dominion matters?

A. Yes.

Q. 584. Do you remember specifically any other matter that any of them related to?

A. No, I don't remember.

Q. 585. Are you certain there were no letters in there that 673 related to any other matter?

A. No, I don't know exactly; as I said, I only went through quickly, just looked at them.

Q. 586. Were those boxes and files, the two or three that you have referred to as having looked at, files of letters which were received or were they files of letters which had been sent?

A. I don't remember.

Q. 587. Do you remember whether or not the boxes or files you looked at contained original letters which had been received?

A. I don't know that either.

Q. 588. Do you remember whether or not the two files which you looked at had in them signed letters?

A. Yes, I think some of them were signed. I saw some signatures.

Q. 589. As matter of fact, the copies of letters which you have produced through Mr. Lauterbach are all unsigned, are they not?

A. I don't remember.

Q. 590. What do you know about the papers which Frederick Rahaeuser selected out of those boxes, as to whether or not we have those papers here?

A. I don't quite understand.

Q. 591. I want to know what you know about the result of his search?

A. Those that he went through he said he took out all the papers he could get of the Old Dominion.

Q. 592. Was that statement made by him to you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 593. What do you know about it besides the statement? Have you ever had those papers in your possession,—the papers that have been produced here by Mr. Lauterbach?

A. Yes, I had some of them; one day there were two, three, and four on my desk, and I was handed by my brother at another time some more.

Q. 594. What brother?

A. Fred, and that is all, and then I just had them put together and gave them back to him. I just looked at them hastily. I didn't look at them long enough to remember anything in particular about them. I didn't take any notice; probably just for about a minute, just glanced at them.

Q. 595. What is the total number of letters and papers which you received as having been found by Ferdinand Rahaeuser?

A. I don't know.

Q. 596. Are they more than five?

A. The papers that have been found?

Q. 597. Or letters.

A. All together?

Q. 598. Yes.

A. I think there were; I don't remember, exactly.

Q. 599. Where did you get them from; you got certain ones from Rahaeuser?

A. They were placed on my desk; that was all he went through at night and I noticed on my brother's and my own desk—we have a desk together there; of course there are other desks around the office at that place there, and I handed them to my brother and I 674 think he gave them in to one of the clerks or something to be taken care of, and they probably were afterwards handed to Mr. Lauterbach.

Q. 600. Were those letters placed on your desk at one time or at several times?

A. I don't know how many letters there were; there may have been only two at one time and a few at another time; that was all I remember. One day, I think, they just found one extra letter and I think it was handed to Mr. Lauterbach; I don't know.

Q. 601. So far as you know, then, all the letters which you know about as having seen were just these two or three or five or six letters; that small number, was it?

A. Yes, that is all I recollect.

Q. 602. That is all you saw?

A. I may have seen more; there may have been a dozen there, so far as I know, but I didn't look through all of them.

Q. 603. What was done with those that you did see, whether there were two or a dozen?

A. In what way?

Q. 604. What was done with them after you saw them?

A. I handed them over to one of the clerks to be given to my brother, so that they would be sent over to Mr. Lauterbach.

Q. 605. Which of the clerks did you hand them to?

A. I don't remember now exactly which one it was.

Q. 606. Who are the clerks—what are the names of the clerks to whom you delivered those letters?

A. Frederick Rahaeuser, I think, and another man by the name of Herman something—I don't know his last name—and E. C. Westervelt. I don't know whether he was given any of them, but he was a clerk in the office.

Q. 607. Then you handed them to one of those three, did you?

A. To either one of those three or, as I stated before, to my brother Fred.

Q. 608. You did not yourself send any of those letters to Mr. Lauterbach?

A. I looked at those letters, and transmitted them to Mr. Lauterbach.

Q. 609. I mean, you did not personally send them, accompanied by a letter. Did you write any letter to Mr. Lauterbach accompanying those?

A. I did not personally write a letter. I gave word to have those letters sent over to Mr. Lauterbach.

Q. 610. Were they accompanied by a letter?

A. That I don't know.

Q. 611. Those that we received yesterday—they were accompanied by a letter, were they not?

A. I could not tell you.

Q. 612. You did not sign the letter, if there was a letter written?

A. No, I did not.

Q. 613. And, so far as you know, who has had access, since 675 the time of your father's death, to the files of letters, and other papers, covering the year 1895?

A. I think all the executors have had access.

Q. 614. Who else besides the executors?

A. I don't believe anybody else, except like one of our clerks who would have access; there is nobody who has the right without our permission.

Q. 615. Who actually had permission to examine the letter files?

A. Ferdinand Rahaeuser.

Q. 616. Whom else?

A. Or any other clerks. I don't know that anybody, unless my brother may have given permission. I don't know. He could arbitrarily give permission, if he wanted to, or any of the executors could.

Q. 617. Whom else besides your clerks, if anybody, has had access to those papers?

A. I don't know who else.

Q. 618. Have any of the papers relating to the year 1895 been removed from the files, so far as you know, other than those which were brought out and collected by Ferdinand Rahaeuser, and delivered to you, or your brother, as you testified to?

A. I don't know anything about that.

Q. 619. I ask you whether, to your knowledge, any papers have been taken from those files except those taken by Ferdinand Rahaeuser, and delivered to Mr. Lauterbach?

A. Not that I know of. I don't know of anybody else taking any.

Q. 620. Hasn't Mr. G. M. Hyams of Boston—you know him, don't you?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 621. He has been here at your office a number of times, has he not, within the last few months?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 622. Since this litigation began?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 623. Has he not had access to the files of papers for the year 1895?

A. I don't know whether he has had access to the files. He may have been given permission to go through the files; I don't know.

Mr. HEMENWAY: You are testifying against yourself. Testify to your own knowledge, what he has done so far as you know.

WITNESS: So far as I know, I don't know anything about his going through the files. What I do know is that the letters were brought into our office, some of them, when Mr. Hyams was there, it may have been, but I don't know whether any were given to Mr. Hyams. I know he has been in our office, but I don't know whether he has had access to the files or not.

Q. 624. He has been to your office during the time the search has been made?

676 A. It may have accidentally happened he was there during that time because he is in our office a good deal of the time.

Q. 625. He is here a large part of the time in your office, is he not?

A. Yes, sir, he is in our office whenever he is in New York and down at business. He stops in at our office.

Q. 626. Has Mr. Bigelow been in your office since this litigation began?

A. No, not that I know of.

Q. 627. Do you know whether or not these various boxes or files of letters which are described as being in room 320 have ever been removed from that room, in whole or in part, since you were appointed executors?

A. I don't know anything about that.

Q. 628. So far as you know they never have been removed, in whole or in part, is that true?

A. Well, of course the papers that were taken out of the files here lately must have been removed; those that you have here now.

Q. 629. But other than those particular papers which were taken from the files by Ferdinand Rahaeuser under your direction, have any papers been taken, even temporarily, from these files in that room?

A. I don't know; I could not tell you.

Q. 630. So far as you know, none have; is that the fact?

A. I don't know anything about it.

Q. 631. You don't know of any having been taken; is that what you wish to say?

A. Other than those that were brought here, I don't know anything about whether he had removed any papers. I don't imagine he did, but I don't know anything about it.

Q. 632. Whom do you mean by "he"?

A. You said Ferdinand Rahaeuser.

Q. 633. I say other than those papers which Ferdinand Rahaeuser gave to you, or laid on your desk, have any papers, or boxes or files containing papers, been removed from that room, temporarily or permanently, so far as you know?

A. No others, so far as I know.

Q. 634. Where are the books kept of Leonard Lewisohn and of Lewisohn Brothers, the books for the years 1895 and subsequently?

A. I don't know that.

Q. 635. Do you mean that you don't know where the books are relating to this period of 1895 to the time of your father's death?

A. No; I personally don't know where they are.

Q. 636. Are there any books?

A. I don't know whether there are or not.

Q. 637. Have you made any search for them?

A. I personally have not; no.

Q. 638. Did you request anybody to make any search for them?

A. No.

677 Q. 639. You were requested by the subpœna to do so?

A. My brother may have. I was not personally.

Q. 640. The same request was made to each executor.

A. Well, we will then obey it. If I had not been there at the time, he would have attended to it.

Q. 641. As a matter of fact, you have not made any search whatever to ascertain whether there are any books of account of Leonard Lewisohn or of Lewisohn Brothers in existence relating to the time prior to the death of your father?

A. I personally did not have anything to do with the search for any of these books.

Q. 642. And you mean by that that you did not direct any search to be made?

A. No; I did not because I didn't know I had anything to do with it.

Q. 643. You did not know that you were required to do it?

A. No, I don't think I ever read anything in the subpœna; whatever was to have been done may have been stated in the office to my brother, or he may have read it; and he would have attended to it in my absence, because if my duty called me out and he happened to be in he would attend to it, and when he is out I attend to the business when I am in the office.

Q. 644. As matter of fact, at the present moment you are unable to give us any information whatever with regard to the books of Leonard Lewisohn, or of the corporation or firm of Lewisohn Brothers, prior to the death of your father?

A. I am unable.

Q. 645. You mean by that you have never, since you were appointed executor, have had occasion to refer to a single entry in any books of account kept either by your father or for your father, or the firm or corporation prior to your appointment?

A. Relating to what matters?

Q. 646. Relating to any matters.

A. I have looked in some books.

Q. 647. What do you mean by that?

A. Of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers.

Q. 648. How far back?

A. 1901, I guess it was, or 1902.

Q. 649. That is, nothing earlier than that time?

A. No.

Q. 649½. So that you don't know now whether any such books exist or where they are?

A. No.

[The examination of this witness is further suspended for the present.]

678 FREDERICK LEWISOHN, sworn for plaintiff.

Direct examination by Mr. BRANDEIS:

Q. 650. State your name, age, and occupation.

A. Frederick Lewisohn; age, twenty-one; banker and mining business.

Q. 651. You are a member of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers, are you not?

A. Yes.

Q. 652. And the only other member of the firm is your brother Walter?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 653. You and your brother were copartners with your father under the firm name of Lewisohn Brothers, at the time of his death?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 654. And had been for how long before that?

A. I believe just a few months. He died on March 5, and our agreement dates back to January; that would be three months.

Q. 655. What connection, if any, has Albert Lewisohn, your co-executor, with the firm of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. He has no connection whatsoever.

Q. 656. Are you engaged in business in any way with him except as executor of your father's estate?

A. No.

Q. 657. What is Albert Lewisohn's business?

A. He is an importer and dealer in feathers, bristles, etc., I believe.

Q. 658. Is P. S. Henry, the other executor, connected with Lewisohn Brothers?

A. I believe he has an interest in our coffee department. He is not a partner; that is separate.

Q. 659. What is his business?

A. His business is to look after the coffee department.

Q. 660. Was he connected with your father's business before his death?

A. No, he was in no way connected; he was formerly employed by the United Metal Selling Company through C. S. Henry & Company of London, who were the foreign agents.

Q. 661. And was Albert Lewisohn connected with your father's business in any way?

A. In no way, I believe.

Q. 662. How long were you connected in any way in business with your father prior to the formation of this firm of Lewisohn Brothers in January, 1902?

A. I think I started with him the last week in December, 1897.

We started from January, 1898, which was my first start; that was in Fulton street.

Q. 663. And you have been continuously connected with the business, I believe?

A. In certain branches.

679 Q. 664. What branches?

A. I was in the metal department for quite a while, copper department, and then I was superintendent of the refining works in 1899. I think that was at Ansonia, Conn. Then I came back and went with the United Metal Selling Company, for a while, and then my father took me in his firm.

Q. 665. The United Metal Selling Company was a concern in which your father was largely interested?

A. He was president of the company.

Q. 666. What search, if any, have you made for papers relating to the transactions which your father had in connection with the Old Dominion Company or syndicate?

A. I directed one of our clerks, whom I believe you had over here, to go through all the files we had in our office and pick out from them everything relating to the Old Dominion matter, get a list of all letters of which we had copies, all the letters we had, and hand them over to me.

Q. 667. The clerk you refer to is Ferdinand Rahaeuser?

A. Yes, sir. He was about the only one I could think of who has been with us quite a while and had that sort of work to handle. He was used to it.

Q. 668. Aside from the directions which you gave him what, if anything, did you do in regard to finding the papers asked for?

A. I didn't do anything else, because I didn't know how to get at anything no more than what we had in the office. I directed him to get out all he could and that is all we could do. We found all that was there; that is all we could find.

Q. 669. Have you yourself ever examined any of the files of letters and other papers for the year 1895?

A. No.

Q. 670. Have you ever even looked at the exterior of the boxes in which those files are contained?

A. No, because these boxes and papers were all put in a special room away from our office.

Q. 671. What room is that?

A. A stationery room we have. We never have any reason to enter there so that there was nothing done until I received word to look there, and we sent the clerk who was best suited for that purpose to look for the papers.

Q. 672. You have not seen a single box or single file of these papers since you were requested to make the investigation? I mean you have never gone so far as to go to the room in which these papers were stored, to look at the boxes or files in which these papers were stored?

A. No, I did not go into the room.

Q. 673. Have you ever had occasion to examine the files of papers relating to any of the matters in which your father or Lewisohn Brothers were interested prior to 1900?

A. No.

Q. 674. You know what the practice was in regard to the filing of papers?

680 A. No, I do not, only what I heard lately. They only had these carbon copies of letters that were sent out at that time.

Q. 675. That is, there were no letter-press copy books kept in the office business or his personal affairs?

A. I don't believe in 1895 there were.

Q. 676. Was there at any time?

A. Later on there may have been.

Q. 677. Is there any now?

A. Do you mean in our office?

Q. 678. Yes.

A. Yes, I believe there is.

Q. 679. Was there in the office of which you were a partner from January 1, 1902?

A. Yes, I believe there were letter-press copy books.

Q. 680. Was there, in the business with which you were connected from January, 1898, down to 1902?

A. I don't really know. I had nothing to do with that portion. I was only in the different accounting departments, just as a clerk.

Q. 681. Was it in pursuance of any suggestion which you made that the practice of taking letter-press copy books was continued in this firm?

A. I believe they had them when I came in. I say, when I entered the firm with my father they had already had them; that was only a year or so ago; what they did before that I don't know, because I had nothing to do with that portion of the business.

Q. 682. Do you know whether or not any books of account were kept by your father in regard to his business prior to his death, covering the year 1895 and subsequently?

A. No, I do not.

Q. 683. Do you know whether any books of account were kept at all?

A. I don't think he kept any personal books so far as we could find out. We looked for other matters and I believe most of it was done with his corporation business.

Q. 684. That is, the accounts were kept on the books of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. I believe that is the way they were kept. I don't know.

Q. 685. Now are those books of Lewisohn Brothers in your possession?

A. No, we have nothing to do with the Lewisohn Brothers corporation.

Q. 686. Who has to do with the corporation?

A. I believe that was sold out to the United Metal Selling Company; some arrangement was made, I believe, that Lewisohn Brothers corporation was sold out to the United Metal Selling Company, so that they do practically the same thing.

Q. 687. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that all the books relating to all the business that was done by Lewisohn Brothers was sold out to the United Metal Selling Company?

A. No, I am not in a position to know just how that was arranged. I had nothing to do with it.

Q. 688. Do you mean to say that the corporation of Lewi-
681 sohn Brothers delivered its books, and turned over its books of account in which the private accounts of your father were kept, to the United Metal Selling Company?

A. I really could not say. I don't know. I had nothing to do with that company.

Q. 689. Then you do not wish to be understood as testifying that that was the fact?

A. No. Of my own knowledge and belief the amount of his private—we can't find that any private books of his were kept: all the records we have are here, these copies of certain letters and different things.

Q. 690. Then you did direct the search to be made for private books of account containing his transactions, did you?

A. I told this clerk to look for books and papers in regard to the Old Dominion or any books that might by any chance have any statements in them regarding the Old Dominion transactions, and I gave him the dates and full particulars, and showed him what we were asked to produce, and he made this search, and whatever he got out was turned over to Mr. Lauterbach.

Q. 691. When you turned them over to Mr. Lauterbach did you accompany the papers which you sent him by a letter?

A. Yes, we told him we enclosed the letters that we found in the Old Dominion matters.

Q. 692. And in the letter you recited the letters which you enclosed, did you not?

A. I believe my brother signed the letter that was sent to Mr. Lauterbach.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I never got such a letter. With the second batch I did get such a letter, but I don't recall whether he sent me a letter with the first batch or not.

Q. 693. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that the books of the corporation of Lewisohn Brothers are not in the possession of yourselves as executors of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Yes, we have nothing whatsoever to do with those books.

Q. 694. How do you know you haven't those books in your possession?

A. We know what books we have got in our office.

Q. 695. How do you know that these books are not among the books in your office?

A. Because we have not been able to find them.

Q. 696. Have you made any search whatever for the books of the corporation of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Yes, we have made a search.

Q. 697. I am asking you whether you did, not what "we" did?

A. Our firm did.

Q. 698. Have you made personally any search whatsoever for any of the books of account?

A. No, I have not made any search for any books of account.

Q. 699. Why not?

A. Because I was not in a position to find them. I had one of my clerks try to find them who knew how to do it. I would not really know where to look to find them.

682 Q. 700. What clerk did you request to look for them?

A. I requested our clerk Ferdinand Rahaeuser to get all the letters and papers under the direction of our cashier, Mr. E. C. Westervelt. I told him the whole situation of affairs, and asked him to look into it himself, and see if he could not ferret out these books.

Q. 701. Whom did you tell that to?

A. I told that to these two clerks.

Q. 702. That is, you told that both to Rahaeuser and Mr. Westervelt?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 703. Were they together when you told them that, or were they separate or apart?

A. I don't remember. I may have spoken to them singly.

Q. 704. Which one of these did you request to make the search for the books, or did you request both of them to make search for the books?

A. I believe I told Westervelt about the books, and I am pretty sure I also told Ferdinand to get the books as well as the papers. I know I told him about the letters and all that, and I am pretty sure I also told him to get out the books.

Q. 705. You mean Ferdinand?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 706. Are you certain you requested Mr. Westervelt to search for the books which contained the transactions?

A. I told him to send as many people as were needed to go through the room and get all the papers, and that he should stay down there of an evening, and superintend the matter.

Q. 707. I am not referring now to the papers. I am talking about books of account in which the transactions of your father relating to Old Dominion matters were kept; whether they were personal books or Lewisohn Brothers' books, firm or corporation. Now did you request Ferdinand Rahaeuser to search for those books?

A. I believe I did.

Q. 708. What do you mean by "I believe"; that it is your recollection?

A. That is my recollection.

Q. 709. When, according to your recollection, did you make any such request of him?

A. It was a few days after the subpœna that we started to look.

Q. 710. What report, according to your recollection, did Ferdinand Rahaeuser make to you with regard to the books of account?

A. He said they brought the papers out and he could not find anything else at that time, but he was going to keep on looking; that was the first thing; he looked quite a while and then said he could not find any books. You see you can't find books that are not in our office.

Q. 711. I am asking you now just what Ferdinand Rahaeuser reported to you. Have you stated fully what he reported to you after the first day?

A. He reported to me after the first day he had gotten 683 this batch of letters out and that there was no more there, but he would keep on continuing his search, and that, as far as any books were concerned, he could not find any that had any bearing on that matter.

Q. 712. You are sure he made that report to you, are you?

A. I could not swear whether he or Westervelt told me that,—but one or the other.

Q. 713. What did you do with these letters that he delivered to you on the first day?

A. I think I sent them over on the following day to Mr. Lauterbach.

Q. 714. When next did Ferdinand make any report to you as to the result of his search?

A. A couple of days later he went through the files again and brought out some more papers and said he would still continue and he kept that up for a few days and then we finally sent them over, and you finally asked us to look up some more papers and he got out as many as he could.

Q. 715. On how many different days, according to the best of your recollection, did Rahaeuser deliver any papers to you?

A. Well, I remember about,—I think, four different times he gave me papers.

Q. 716. And what, on each of these occasions, did you do with the letters?

A. Why, I would let them accumulate until he had gotten a lot and put them on my desk and then I turned them over to Mr. Lauterbach—sent them over.

Q. 717. What else did you do?

A. I didn't do anything else.

Q. 718. You have stated two occasions when you sent letters to Mr. Lauterbach. Are those the only occasions?

A. I don't recollect how many times we sent over these letters; that is a small matter.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: I got two batches.

Q. 719. Did you examine the letters which were handed you, and papers, by Ferdinand Rahaeuser?

A. No, I didn't make any examination. I looked through one or two. I didn't know anything about the matters. I had not been in the office in 1895 and I didn't think it would do any good for me to look at them, and I thought I had better send them to Mr. Lauterbach.

Q. 720. Did you ever have any conversation with Ferdinand Rahaeuser about the books other than after the first day when he reported to you?

A. Yes, sir, I told him to continue his search.

Q. 721. For books?

A. For books.

Q. 722. When did you tell him to continue his search for books?

A. After he had obtained this first batch of letters, I believe.

Q. 723. And did he ever after that report to you the result of his search for books?

A. Yes, he reported.

Q. 724. When?

A. A few days later.

684 Q. 725. What report did he make?

A. He reported that the papers he handed me were all he was able to find; that there were no books.

Q. 726. That there were no books of account?

A. No books of account.

Q. 727. Did you ever have any other conversation with him in regard to the search for books in which these transactions were contained?

A. No.

Q. 728. You stated you asked your cashier or bookkeeper, E. C. Westervelt, to make a search for books, either of Leonard Lewisohn, or Lewisohn Brothers, and of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers, that would contain transactions of your father relating to the Old Dominion Syndicate. Now can you tell us whether or not Mr. Westervelt made any search so far as you know?

A. He made a search.

Q. 729. When?

A. At that time when we got out these letters, he made a search for the books and reported there was nothing to be found.

Q. 730. Was that report made before or after Rahaeuser made a report that there were no books?

A. I guess it was some time before. I think I told him about it the same day. Whether I told them together or not I don't know.

Q 731. Did you have any subsequent conversation with him in regard to the books?

A. No.

Q. 732. You stated a while ago that they could not find any books because there were not any books containing the entries relating to Old Dominion matters in your possession. Do I understand, also, that you mean under your control?

A. I mean in my possession.

Q. 733. Either in your possession or under your control?

A. Yes, of Lewisohn Brothers.

Q. 734. Or individually?

A. Or individually.

Q. 735. Or as an executor of your father's estate?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 736. Or in any other capacity?

A. Have no control over any of those books.

Q. 737. Do you mean also to say that you have no knowledge where any such books are?

A. I have no knowledge.

Q. 738. Haven't you heard where any such books are?

A. Never heard where any such books are.

Q. 739. Haven't you heard what has become of the books of Lewisohn Brothers for the period prior to your partnership of 1902?

A. No.

Q. 740. Do you wish to be understood as testifying you have no knowledge as to where any of those books are?

A. Yes.

Q. 741. And by "knowledge" you mean any information of any kind relating to it?

A. Yes, sir.

685 Q. 742. You have heard nothing whatever as to where any of those books are?

A. I have heard nothing.

Q. 743. From any person?

A. From any person.

Q. 744. In what books were transactions of your father for the time immediately preceding his death recorded?

A. I don't know.

Q. 745. Have you had no occasion whatever to inquire, in your capacity as executor, in regard to any transactions in which your father was interested?

A. No.

Q. 746. Your father was engaged in very extensive business transactions at the time of his death, was he not?

A. Well, I don't know that there was anything very extensive,—one or two little things.

Q. 747. Is it not a fact that your father was interested in very large business transactions?

A. Yes; he had been.

Q. 748. For some time prior to his death?

A. He had been some time before,—a good while, but not right before. There wasn't anything very large except his coffee business.

Q. 749. What do you mean by "very large"?

A. I mean that he had to do himself. He had large interests, like holding various stocks of corporations that were being run. He was president of the United Metal Selling Company; that was practically his business; that was practically taking over his old business of Lewisohn Brothers, selling copper on commission and handling the products of these different companies.

Q. 750. He was interested in other transactions also, was he not?

A. In various corporations he had large interests.

Q. 751. What corporations?

A. I don't know what this has to do with it.

Q. 752. What corporations was he interested in?

A. Different corporations.

Q. 753. Go ahead; answer what they were.

A. United Metal Selling Company and a lot of small corporations.

Q. 754. Give us the names of them.

A. I will give you a few. He was interested in these different mining companies: do you want to know them?

Q. 755. Yes.

A. Tamarack, Osceola, Feather River Exploration Company, Raritan Traction Company, Middlesex Real Estate Company, Tennessee Copper Company, Utah Consolidated Gold & Copper Mining Company. The coffee business was about the only business that he really had to attend to himself at the time of his death. The other things were corporations he was heavily interested in.

Q. 756. His interests in all these corporations amounted to many millions of dollars, did they not?

A. I believe they did.

686 Q. 757. Do you wish to be understood as testifying there were no books in which his interests in these various concerns were recorded?

A. No, I believe he had some books that he put these things in; we had nothing to do with them, my brother or myself.

Q. 758. I asked you whether there were not books in which the interests of your father, the individual interests of your father, were recorded, and I understood you to testify there were no such books?

A. There were such books at the time—I mean there were no such books, to my knowledge, previous to the time I went in the firm.

Q. 759. Were there any such books at that time?

A. There were books where he kept an account of what stocks he held, of course.

Q. 760. Those books were not confined to what stocks he held, were they? They were confined principally to all his individual interests?

A. They were confined to the different corporations, so far as I can remember, and what his holdings were in each of them.

Q. 761. Where were those books?

A. Those books were turned over to the executors of the estate,—to my brother and myself.

Q. 762. And they are now in the possession of the executors?

A. They are in our possession still; they are in liquidation, but most of these books have been turned over.

Q. 763. Have you ever examined those books?

A. I have been over them, yes.

Q. 764. You have seen those books?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 765. How many of them are there?

A. There is one book, I believe, a stock book.

Q. 766. A single book, is it?

A. A stock book,—his whole set of books; he certainly had a set of books when I was there, stock book and ledger.

Q. 767. Is that all?

A. Probably a cash book and journal, that is all; four books, they had from the time we went in.

Mr. HEMENWAY: Are these books of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers; they are books of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers of which your father was a partner, and you and your brother members of the firm?

WITNESS: Yes.

Q. 768. Do you mean to say the only books that came into your possession are the books of Lewisohn Brothers?

A. Yes, only the books of Lewisohn Brothers.

Q. 769. And that all these entries you are now referring 687 to are entries in the books of the partnership which began when you became a member on January 1, 1902?

A. I don't know; they may have been started before; whether when we just began or not I don't know. My brother attended to the books.

Q. 770. These books which you are testifying about are in your possession?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 771. What is the earliest date that appears in those books?

A. 1901, I believe.

Q. 772. When did you last examine those books?

A. I have not made any examination.

Q. 773. Will you examine that set of books to which you now refer and prepare yourself to testify as to what the date is, and whether or not in those books there are any entries relating to the Old Dominion Syndicate; and will you also, when you examine those books, see whether the ledger, journal, and cash book appear to be entirely a new set of books, or whether they refer, either by transfers or balances, or by the numbers, to a series of which there were books preceding them?

A. I will.

Q. 774. These books you have referred to as to which you have now testified, you have referred to frequently, I suppose, in your capacity as executor, haven't you?

A. No, I have not.

Q. 775. What do you mean by "frequently"; what number of times?

A. I have turned them over; we have had the accountants to make out the accounts.

Q. 776. Who are the accountants who have made out the accounts in connection with these books?

A. We have several accountants working in the office; they do work in our different companies like the United Metal Selling Company; they have a regular audit department, and in our coffee department we use Deloitte, Dever & Griffith; but for small matters we use one of the auditors of the United Metal Company.

Q. 777. Who is the expert accountant you use on your books?

A. On all our books we usually use Deloitte, Dever & Griffith, a firm of chartered accountants.

Q. 778. I am asking you now who this particular bookkeeper of the United Metal Selling Company was who has acted as bookkeeper for you in connection with the estate?

A. In connection with the estate I believe we had Arthur Stoneham; he was formerly connected with the firm of Deloitte, Dever & Griffith; he is our accountant for the estate.

Q. 779. According to the best of your knowledge, has any inspection been made by any one in regard to entries in any books of any business with which your father was connected concerning 688 his transactions in connection with the Old Dominion Company, Old Dominion Syndicate, and the acquisition of this property in connection with Mr. Bigelow?

A. Yes, what I said before. I told Mr. Westervelt to see what he could find in that direction.

Q. 780. You asked Mr. Westervelt to look for books according to your testimony?

A. Yes, and I told him at the time to look in the books and see if there was any account regarding the Old Dominion. We asked him to look separately for Old Dominion books because I didn't believe there were any; I thought they were in the ledger that was used at that time, and we could not find any 1895 or 1896 ledger, for I am pretty sure my father did not keep any separate books on those things; no particular books on those different companies; he put it all in the different companies, and if it is to be found, it is to be found in the old ledger; I don't know in whose hands it is now; but whether we can find these different accounts with this syndicate and this corporation I don't know.

Q. 781. What did Mr. Westervelt report to you in regard to the books containing those entries?

A. He reported he could not find any.

Q. 782. How long has Mr. Westervelt been in your employ?

A. He has been in my employ since last May; since our new firm started.

Q. 783. Was he previously to last May connected in any way in business with Lewisohn Brothers or your father?

A. Yes, I believe he was with my father before that for I don't know just how long; I could not say; three or four years probably. I know he was up at Fulton street when I was there, and that is about three, four, or five years ago.

Q. 784. And in what capacity was he employed by your father?

A. At that time, I believe, he was just stock clerk.

Q. 785. And what subsequently?

A. Subsequently, he was made a sort of manager of the office, to look after the clerks and books and cashier.

Q. 786. And continued in that capacity?

A. Still in that capacity.

Q. 787. Who else, so far as you know, has access to papers or books in your possession as executors, or individually, or members of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers during the last year?

A. No one would have access except the executors of the firm of Lewisohn Brothers, my brother and myself.

Q. 788. Do you mean that nobody has had physically any opportunity of seeing any of these papers or books, or that nobody had any right?

A. Nobody had any right. They may have broken in; I don't know.

Q. 789. Without breaking in; I suppose, then, there is no opportunity of getting in without breaking in?

A. I don't believe so; I believe the door is locked.

689 Q. 790. What was done with the keys?

A. I believe this is the stationery room; the keys are in charge of Ferdinand, I guess; I mean either one of the boys have the keys.

Q. 791. So far as you know, has anybody made an examination of the files, and books and papers, during the last year other than the examination made by Ferdinand Rahaeuser, under your directions within the last few weeks?

A. No, I believe there has been nobody in that room except Ferdinand, and I don't know how many boys they used for the purpose, but I told them to take as many as they wanted. Previous to that I don't believe we had to send anybody in there.

Q. 792. Do you know whether anybody aided Rahaeuser in his search?

A. I don't know.

Q. 793. Do you know whether or not Mr. G. M. Hyams of Boston has been here during the period of the search?

A. I believe I have seen him around at different times. He is usually in New York, and when he comes to New York, he usually comes in our office; he is here once in two weeks or so.

Q. 794. Is that all?

A. I don't know. We have a direct business with him. I only see him up on the same floor. I see him flitting in and out of the office once in a while, and he stops to see us for a few minutes, but that is all.

Q. 795. Has he, so far as you know, seen any of the letters or papers which related to the Old Dominion matters?

A. I don't know as he has seen any of the papers, that is, that came out of our office; I don't see how he could very well see them.

Q. 796. Is it your best recollection that he has not seen any of these papers?

A. So far as I know, I don't think anybody has except Westervelt, Ferdinand, or the boys they employed in getting them out.

Q. 797. Is it your best recollection that Mr. Hyams has not seen any of the papers or books, or made any investigation or search for any of the papers or books relating to the Old Dominion transactions?

A. He has done nothing in our office regarding the papers.

Q. 798. So far as you know?

A. So far as I know.

Q. 799. And you have had no consultation with him in any way regarding the matter?

A. Nothing of Old Dominion. I have talked to him a few minutes about a suit which had been started here.

Q. 800. Aside from that reference to the suit, you have had no talk with him whatsoever on this matter?

A. No, none whatever.

Q. 801. You are absolutely certain of that, are you?

A. I am certain I have had nothing to say to him regarding anything about the suit.

690 Q. 802. Or he to you?

A. He didn't say anything to me.

Q. 803. And he has not made any search for papers or examined any papers?

A. Not in my office he has not.

Q. 804. I mean the office of Lewisohn Brothers.

A. That is what I mean; that is the same thing as my office.

Q. 805. It appears from the examination of the papers which have been produced by you through Mr. Lauterbach, you and your co-executor through Mr. Lauterbach, that there are not among the papers which he has produced here on February 4, or February 10, a single letter from Albert S. Bigelow, or from J. Morris Meredith, or from G. M. Hyams. Are you able to give any explanation for the failure to produce any letters from any of those parties?

A. I don't know of any reason why.

Q. 806. It also appears from examination of such letters that were produced that there were received, apparently by your father or Leonard Lewisohn, a large number of letters relating to those matters which have not been produced. Are you able to give any explanation for the failure to produce the other letters which appear to have been received, as being referred to in the correspondence which has been produced?

A. No.

[Further examination of this witness suspended for the present.]

ALBERT LEWISOHN, sworn for plaintiffs.

Direct examination by Mr. BRANDEIS:

Q. 807. Give your full name, age, and occupation.

A. My name is Albert Lewisohn; age, thirty-seven; occupation, merchant.

Q. 808. You are one of the executors of Leonard Lewisohn?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 809. Have you, as executor of Leonard Lewisohn, or otherwise, made any search for any of the papers and books called for in the subpœna which was served upon you?

A. Not I personally; I don't attend to that part.

Q. 810. What did you do, if anything, in reference to having a search made?

A. Mr. Fred Lewisohn attended to that. We left that part of Lewisohn Brothers' business to him. I attend myself to the coffee business; each one of us cannot attend to all details.

Q. 811. What, if anything, do you know in regard to the 691 books and papers of Leonard Lewisohn's estate?

A. I don't know anything much about the details. We have our expert, who attends to that part, together with Mr. Frederick Lewisohn.

Q. 812. Who is the auditor or expert?

A. Mr. Stoneham, from the Metal Selling Company.

Q. 813. Have you yourself any knowledge whatever in regard to any papers or books belonging to the estate?

A. I have none whatsoever.

Q. 814. Have you been consulted in any way in regard to any one having access to the books or papers?

A. I have not.

Q. 815. Do you know Mr. G. M. Hyams of Boston?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 816. Has he been here within the last three or four weeks?

A. I believe so. I have not seen him; but I am, as I say, in an entirely different part of the world; I am in the coffee business.

Q. 817. Has there been submitted to you any papers as being the result of a search for books or papers relating to the Old Dominion matter?

A. No; I have not seen any papers.

Q. 818. Has any information been given to you with regard to any papers referred to in this subpœna which was served upon you?

A. No.

Q. 819. Has any information been given to you, by any one, in regard to them?

A. No.

Q. 820. Has Mr. Frederick Lewisohn or Walter Lewisohn reported to you with regard to the search which you were requested to make in this subpœna?

A. No; those are detail matters which I could not take up. We could not take up every detail in the estate matters.

Q. 821. As a matter of fact, you have heard nothing whatsoever from any one in regard to this matter of the books and papers that are called for in the subpœna?

A. I knew a search was made.

Q. 822. Who told you it was made?

A. I heard that from Mr. Fred Lewisohn.

Q. 823. When did you hear that?

A. A few days, or a week, ago.

Q. 824. Is that all you have heard with regard to it?

A. Nothing else.

Q. 825. What he told you?

A. Yes.

Q. 826. And he told you on that single occasion, did he?

A. I think so. I don't remember. I didn't pay any attention.

Q. 827. What did he tell you?

A. Only that you wanted papers, and they had to get some papers, and he would try to get all the papers they could.

Q. 828. That is all the information you have obtained?

A. Yes.

692 Q. 829. And you have made no effort on your own behalf to get any?

A. No; I have not been able to. I have not had the time to attend to any of those matters.

Q. 830. Do you know how the accounts—in what manner, or in what books, the accounts of Leonard Lewisohn, relating to transactions which he had during his lifetime, were kept?

A. I have no idea.

Q. 831. Have you, as executor, had occasion to refer to any books whatsoever relating to Leonard Lewisohn's transactions?

A. No, I have not. The experts and Lewisohn Brothers have attended to that part.

Q. 832. Have you never, in connection with this large estate and the very extensive interest of Leonard Lewisohn, had occasion to have any matters looked up in the books relating to his past transactions?

A. These are not matters for us at all.

Q. 833. What do you refer to?

A. I mean these details. We don't attend to those. As executor, I looked after the estate—after the main interests—to see that everything is in good order; and for that reason we took the expert in there. The business I am attending to is the coffee business, which takes a very large part of my time, as it is a very large business.

Q. 834. I ask you whether, as matter of fact, you have had occasion, as executors, to have any matters relating to Leonard Lewisohn's individual estate looked up? I mean those matters in which he was personally interested?

A. I don't look them up.

Q. 835. Did you have them looked up?

A. Not I personally.

Q. 836. You have had nothing looked up?

A. No; that is not in my line.

Q. 837. In whose line is it?

A. That was Lewisohn Brothers and Fred and the expert.

Q. 838. Frederick and the expert are the ones, are they?

A. Yes, the main ones.

Q. 839. Who else?

A. Nobody else.

Q. 840. You said the main ones?

A. I can't tell whether they had anybody else; they are the ones who have attended to it.

Q. 841. In the distribution of labor between the executors relative to Leonard Lewisohn's estate, who is it that has had the charge of matters relating to his personal investments and stocks in various companies?

A. I just mentioned the names, Mr. Fred Lewisohn and Mr. Stoneman.

Q. 842. In that distribution among the several executors of Leonard Lewisohn, which one, if any, has had charge of matters relating to the litigation brought against them concerning Leonard Lewisohn's connection with the Old Dominion syndicate?

A. Fred Lewisohn has taken charge of that.

693 Q. 843. Have you had anything whatever to do with the matter?

A. Nothing, except I am subpœnaed here.

Q. 844. You have also been sued as one of the executors?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 845. Do you mean to say that in the conferences with counsel you have taken no part?
A. I have taken no part in this, because I don't know anything about these matters. I don't know anything about mining and would not know if I heard all about it.
Q. 846. In the litigation of a claim which has been brought against the estate, involving a million or two of dollars or more, do you mean to state that you have not discussed the matter at all?
A. No.
Q. 847. You have left that to one of the other executors?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 848. And you have made no search of any kind, or been consulted with regard to the matter in any way?
A. No.
Q. 849. And you have not been consulted in any way?
A. No, sir; I could not be, because I would not know anything about it. I cannot be consulted for I don't know anything about these mining matters, and I have not had anything to do with any mining matters, and I would not know what was going on at all, so I don't think I could be of any good.
Q. 850. You might not know of transactions in the past, but you would know of things with regard to the present?
A. I do know.
Q. 851. It is things with regard to the present about which I am asking you, such as the request which is contained in the subpœna which was served upon you, to produce here certain books and papers relating to Old Dominion matters.
A. I am satisfied that search was attended to.
Q. 852. But you have not given any direction with regard to attending to it?
A. Each one cannot give directions; besides I have not got time for it; if one party attends to it, that is sufficient.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I will suspend the examination of this witness for the present.

(By Mr. LAUTERBACH:)

Q. 853. When the subpœna was served on you you spoke to Mr. Fred Lewisohn about it, did you not?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 854. And he agreed to do what he could to comply with the subpœna?
A. Yes.
Q. 855. And you rely on that?
A. Yes, sir.

(By Mr. BRANDEIS:)

Q. 856. You mean you have relied upon it?
A. Yes.

[Adjourned to February 24, at 10 A. M.]
[Next Plaintiff's Exhibit for Identification, 162.]

694 NEW YORK, February 24, 1903—10 a. m.

[Parties met pursuant to adjournment.]

Present: Mr. Webb, Mr. Brandeis, Mr. Hemenway, and Mr. Lauterbach.

[Mr. Lauterbach produced another batch of letters, etc., which are marked for identification 162 to 230, both inclusive.]

FERDINAND RAHAEUSER, recalled:

(By Mr. BRANDEIS:)

Q. 857. In addition to the letters, copies of letters, and papers produced at the sessions of February 4 and February 10, of which a list is to be annexed to your deposition and marked A, you have now produced, through Mr. Lauterbach, certain letters and documents, and copies of letters, of which a list is to be annexed to your deposition marked B. I ask you whether these letters, telegrams, and copies of letters enumerated in the list marked B, and now shown you, were found by you upon the search made since the adjournment of your examination on February 10?

Mr. HEMENWAY: So far as letters have been produced for the inspection of counsel, I do not understand that a single one of those letters has been offered in evidence, therefore I do not see the propriety of adding a list of letters at the present time. Whenever these letters shall be offered in evidence, I, as counsel for Mr. Bigelow, shall be entitled to examine them, and if I have any objection to their admission, to have that objection noted. At the present time, those letters have not been submitted to my examination.

Mr. BRANDEIS: They have been produced by your associate.

Mr. HEMENWAY: They have been produced by Mr. Lauterbach as counsel for the witnesses who have been requested to find and furnish certain papers; they have not been produced to be put in evidence as yet, and are subject to all legal objections.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I now offer you all these papers for your inspection. Do you wish me to suspend while you are examining them? I supposed you had looked them over or I would have handed them to you as I went along.

Mr. HEMENWAY: If you are going to ask him about them, of course.

Mr. BRANDEIS: I am merely going to ask him with regard to the search.

Mr. HEMENWAY: All right, then, go ahead.

Q. 858. Will you state fully what way you proceeded and to what extent you made a search for additional papers in pursuance 695 of the request made before the last adjournment?

A. I looked for the letters you requested me to look for, any other papers relating to Old Dominion; looked through the files for them.

Q. 859. When did you begin that search?

A. Oh, a day or two afterwards.

Q. 860. And on how many different days did you continue that search?

A. Practically every day except Sundays.

Q. 861. From the time you commenced until when?

A. Until last night.

Q. 862. And how much time did you spend each day in making that search?

A. I can't exactly answer that question, what time. I did it with my other work up to 5.30.

Q. 863. And how much time after 5.30?

A. At 5.30 we closed shop. I went home.

Q. 864. How much time did you spend each day on this search, approximately?

A. That I can't answer, for I didn't take notice of the time.

Q. 865. How much time did you spend yesterday in making this search?

A. From quarter after one until practically 4.30.

Q. 866. Did you spend as much or more than that on the other days?

A. I could not very well; yesterday was a holiday, and I devoted my time to it, other days I did other work.

Q. 867. Now on the other days did you spend as much as an hour a day?

A. Yes.

Q. 868. Did you spend as much as two hours a day?

A. Might some days, other days maybe not.

Q. 869. In the time which you did spend in making that search, how did you proceed; did you take up each single box of these seventy-odd boxes, if there were as many as that, as you have described before?

A. Each box, yes, sir.

Q. 870. And how many of the whole lot of boxes did you examine in this time?

A. Examined all of them.

Q. 871. How many of them did you examine yesterday?

A. Examined the telegram file yesterday.

Q. 872. Is there a separate file kept of telegrams?

A. Yes.

Q. 873. How many different boxes of telegrams?

A. Four.

Q. 874. And do all these telegrams relate to Old Dominion?

A. In the boxes?

Q. 875. Yes.

A. No, sir, all business.

Q. 876. Did these four boxes of telegrams comprise all the telegrams received during the year 1895?

A. Yes, sir.

696 Q. 877. You examined the full file for that year?

A. What do you mean by "examined the full file"?

Q. 878. The telegrams.

A. For telegrams from Hyams, Keyser, and all these different people you requested me to look for.

Q. 879. What other papers did you look for?

A. No other ones.

Q. 880. You did not?

A. No.

Q. 881. I mean give me a list of those you did look for.

A. Keyser, Stern, Hyams, Calhoun, Bigelow, and all those others I was told to look for.

Q. 882. Give me a list of them.

A. Just repeat the list.

Q. 883. No, I won't.

A. For instance, Bigelow, Calhoun, Hyams, Keyser, Meredith Spencer, Stern, Simpson, Gaston. I think that is about all.

Q. 884. What search did you make on Saturday, the 21st?

A. Incoming letters.

Q. 885. How many files of letters did you examine at that time?

A. I didn't take a record of them Saturday.

Q. 886. Don't you remember how many?

A. No, I do not.

Q. 887. Were all the incoming letters that you examined at all examined on Saturday, the 21st?

A. No, sir.

Q. 888. On what days other than February 21 did you examine files of incoming letters since you recommenced your search, after February 10?

A. Saturday, I believe, was the first day. I started in at that time.

Q. 889. Saturday, the 21st?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 890. How many boxes of incoming letter files did you examine on Saturday, the 21st?

A. I can't answer that question.

Q. 891. Approximately, how many?

A. I haven't any idea.

Q. 892. What time did you leave the office on Saturday, the 21st?

A. About 7.15.

Q. 893. When did you begin your search on Saturday, the 21st?

A. That I can't exactly answer; it must have been about twenty minutes after one when I got in the office on Saturday. I think it was about that time.

Q. 894. You got there?

A. Yes; went out again, came back, and then we started to search for the letters; what time it was I don't know.

Q. 895. That is, you started to search after you came back to the office?

A. Soon after I came back.

Q. 896. You said you came to the office about twenty minutes past one and then went out. Did you make any search between the time you came there and the time you went out?

A. No, sir.

697 Q. 897. When did you go out, approximately?

A. That I can't say.

Q. 898. As nearly as you can remember.

A. I didn't take notice of the time.

Q. 899. Was it an hour or two hours after you got to the office?

A. That I could not say.

Q. 900. What did you do between the time you got there, twenty minutes past one, and the time you went out?

A. Talked.

Q. 901. Haven't you any idea whether it was half an hour or an hour or two hours before you went out?

A. No, I have not.

Q. 902. How do you account for your extraordinary lapse of memory from the 21st to the 24th?

A. What do you mean by "extraordinary lapse of memory"?

Q. 903. If you can't remember from Saturday, the 21st, until Tuesday, the 24th, whether or not you were in the office, between your coming and going out, half an hour or an hour or two hours, I should call that an extraordinary lapse of memory, wouldn't you?

A. I don't know; there were some of the boys there, and I didn't take notice of the time.

Q. 904. You have no recollection whatsoever as to the time that you spent in discussion with them?

A. No, I have not.

Q. 905. How long did you stay out?

A. I can't say.

Q. 906. Was that half an hour or an hour or two hours; which?

A. I don't know how long I stayed out.

Q. 907. Have you no recollection whatsoever in regard to it?

A. No, sir, we were talking.

Q. 908. When you went out were you talking?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 909. Where did you go when you went out?

A. I must not answer that question, must I?

Q. 910. Did you go to do something when you went out, to perform some duty?

A. I don't know whether you would call it duty or not.

Q. 911. How long were you gone; haven't you any idea as to how long you were gone?

A. No, sir.

Q. 912. No idea as to when you came back?

A. I don't know exactly what time I came back.

Q. 913. I haven't asked you exactly; have you any idea as to when you came back?

A. Oh, maybe about half past three or quarter to four; that is as near as I can get at it. I won't say that positively.

Q. 914. After you came back did you immediately begin to make your search?

A. Yes, sir.

698 Q. 915. And did you continue without interruption from that time until you left?

A. There might have been one or two minutes' interruption, but it wasn't much; the office force had all gone home then.

Q. 916. Did anybody aid you in the search?

A. No, sir.

Q. 917. You were there absolutely alone, were you?

A. Yes.

Q. 918. According to this testimony you are now giving, you searched on Saturday about three hours. Why didn't you mention that before when I asked you how much time you had searched on any day?

A. I didn't take note of the time. I did it every time I had an opportunity. Saturday is a sort of holiday with us.

[No Q. 919.]

Q. 920. When you searched Saturday during this time, about how many boxes of incoming letters did you look through?

A. That is a hard thing to say. I never kept record of how many boxes I looked through.

Q. 921. What period of time did you cover in the search which you made?

A. What period of time?

Q. 922. Yes.

A. Incoming boxes they run, you may say, from January to June, and July to January, alphabetically arranged, like A to Bl; they cover a period, that is, of the letters coming in, from A to Bl; any of those names would be filed in that file, and they would usually cover one year, A to Bl, and Bo to By; that is the way the files run alphabetically, letters coming in like Blackford or some other name like that, would be under Bl. If it was before June it would be put in that file; and if it was after, it would be put in the other file. Then there might be A to Bl; there might be six or eight files of those, according to what letters came in, and then we would have Bo to By.

Q. 923. Do you wish to be understood as testifying that there was a single file covering A to Bl letters received between January 1 and July 1, 1895?

A. No; I say the boxes came in that way. If there is an amount of letters that require more than one month's file, we transfer them for one month; but for a general period, they are not filed more than, say, twice a year, I believe.

Q. 924. What do you mean by being "filed twice a year;" you say you examined a box of incoming letters, that these letters were arranged alphabetically A to Bl: is that correct?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 925. Now are these letters arranged also chronologically according to date?

A. No, not in the files; I can't say that.

Q. 926. In any one file of letters covering what dates do
699 letters A to Bl appear; from what date to what date do you keep in a single box letters A to Bl?

A. May or June.

Q. 927. From what date to what date?

A. From January 1 to May or June.
Q. 928. In one box?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 929. A to Bl?
A. Yes.
Q. 930. And Bl to Bo also in one box from January to June?
A. Not Bl, Bo to By, I think they run.
Q. 931. One box from January to June?
A. I think so.
Q. 932. When is the next box?
A. Take June on.
Q. 933. Until December 31?
A. Might be until December 31.
Q. 934. You are sure of this statement you are making now, are you, that outgoing letters A to Bl, or Bo to By, cover a definite period of four or five months, do they, at least?
A. Sometimes only a month and sometimes two months; sometimes six months and other times four months.
Q. 935. Take A to Bl; that covers a period of four or five months?
A. I think so, yes.
Q. 936. How large a part of the alphabet did you cover in your search on Saturday, the 21st?
A. I haven't any idea of that.
Q. 937. Did you search through all of the boxes for all of the letters of the alphabet?
A. Those letters I was requested to search for, Old Dominion letters.
Q. 938. I assume you have searched for Old Dominion letters, but I ask you whether, in that search which you made for Old Dominion letters, you have covered all the letters of the alphabet?
A. I searched for the letters I was requested to search for, incoming letters from any of those people, as I said before, Stern and those people.
Q. 939. Bigelow?
A. Yes, Bigelow and Hyams.
Q. 940. And Meredith?
A. If there was any incoming letter that related to any party I would look for that also.
Q. 941. Did you cover in your search all of the boxes relating to these letters received for the whole year 1895?
A. Yes, sir.
Q. 942. Are you not able to state approximately how many boxes you examined?
A. No, I could not give account of that. I have no idea about that.
Q. 943. What did you do in your search on Friday, the 20th?
A. Outgoing letters.
Q. 944. Was that the first day on which you examined the outgoing letters,—by which I assume you mean the copies of letters?
A. No, that was not the first day I looked for them.

700 Q. 945. What did you do on Friday, the 20th?

A. I think I was finishing up the outgoing letters.

Q. 946. When you say "finishing up the outgoing letters," what did you look for?

A. The letters relating to Old Dominion that I could find: the names I was requested to look for.

Q. 947. Did you examine every file?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 948. Now were those letters filed in the same way as the incoming letters?

A. What do you mean by "the same way;" alphabetically arranged?

Q. 949. Yes, alphabetically and chronologically.

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 950. In precisely the same method?

A. Yes—no, pardon me, those outgoing letters were filed A to Z, and they cover a period of maybe a week or two weeks, say from January 1 to January 10, January 11, the 14th or 15th, and so on.

Q. 951. That is, they are filed differently from the incoming letters, are they?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 952. Then you examined every single file, did you, of the outgoing letters?

A. Every file of outgoing letters.

Q. 953. Covering the year 1895?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 954. What part of that year did you examine on Friday, the 20th?

A. I don't know. I think I went through them all to a certain extent. I haven't any idea I examined any special one, so far as I can remember.

Q. 955. Do you mean to say that on Friday, the 20th, you looked into every one of the boxes of each one of these files covering perhaps a week?

A. I think I did, yes, sir.

Q. 956. Why did you?

A. To see if I left any in there or made a mistake—missed a box or two.

Q. 957. That is, you think you looked into every box containing every file of outgoing letters for the year 1895, do you mean, you did on Friday the 20th?

A. Yes, I think I did.

Q. 958. Do you mean to say that that was the only search you made?

A. On Friday, the 20th?

Q. 959. Yes.

A. No, sir.

Q. 960. What was it you did on Friday, the 20th; you certainly did not read all the outgoing letters on Friday, the 20th?

A. No, looked to see if there were any letters in there.

Q. 961. When you looked to see them you had to read them, didn't you?

A. Some of them.

701 Q. 962. Had you read any of them before?

A. I don't think I had. I started to read them, and if they related to Old Dominion or Stern or any of those people, took it out and laid it aside.

Q. 963. And you did that on Friday, the 20th?

A. No, I only reviewed to see if I left any in there.

Q. 964. How much time did you spend in that review on Friday, the 20th?

A. I can't say. I think I started in after lunch.

Q. 965. Was that a day when you spent as much as an hour on it?

A. I could not tell you. Friday is a pretty busy day running at the telephones and looking through the letters every time I had an opportunity.

Q. 966. What did you do on Thursday, the 19th, so far as searching for letters went?

A. The same thing.

Q. 967. You did not review it on Thursday, the 19th?

A. No, I looked through the files.

Q. 968. Through what?

A. Files.

Q. 969. What files?

A. Those I opened; it depended upon how far I was.

Q. 970. Did you proceed chronologically in making the search?

A. No, I can't say I did at the start-off.

Q. 971. How did you proceed?

A. All the files I had them carted or carried over to my room.

Q. 972. What room is that?

A. Telephone room, and put them down, and I would take them up every time I had occasion.

Q. 973. How do you know you examined them all?

A. I knew on Friday, the 20th.

Q. 974. How?

A. I had them alphabetically arranged from January 1 to the end of the year, one after another.

Q. 975. Sure?

A. Sure.

Q. 976. What did you do with the letters and copies of letters which you took out of these files?

A. Put them on the side and then put them on Mr. Lewisohn's desk.

Q. 977. Which Mr. Lewisohn?

A. Mr. Fred Lewisohn.

Q. 978. On what day did you put them there?

A. Friday I put some there. I think I put them there as I found them; then after a while I would go and get the letters and put them on my desk.

Q. 978½. Get them from where?

A. Mr. Lewisohn's desk.

Q. 979. That is, you put them first on his desk?

A. After I found them, laid them aside and then put them on his desk.

702 Q. 980. Do you mean to testify that on each day you put them on Frederick Lewisohn's desk?

A. Not exactly each day.

Q. 981. What did you do on the days which you did not; what did you do with the letters you got out of the files?

A. Put them in my desk.

Q. 982. In your own desk?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 983. Was there any on which you did not get some letters?

A. I can't recall that.

Q. 984. Do you recall any day on which you did not get some letters?

A. I can't say yes or no to that very well.

Q. 985. You certainly can say whether you recall any day on which you did not find some one or more letters?

A. No, I can't say that I can to that extent say yes or no. We had a very active market down below and that kept me busy, and I was thinking of that also.

Q. 986. Did you keep any list of the letters which you found?

A. No, I did not.

Q. 987. Did you keep any account of the letters you found or delivered to Mr. Lewisohn?

A. No, sir.

Q. 988. Were the letters you laid on his desk fastened together in any way, or were they left loose?

A. No, they were not fastened.

Q. 989. Were they enclosed in an envelope, or left open?

A. Just laid flat on his desk.

Q. 990. Was that the last you ever saw of them after they were laid on his desk?

A. No, sir.

Q. 991. What else did you see of them?

A. I had them put together to send over to Mr. Lauterbach.

Q. 992. How many different batches of those letters did you send to Mr. Lauterbach?

A. One.

Q. 993. When was that?

A. Friday.

Q. 994. The 20th?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 995. What was done with the letters you found on the 21st?

A. I have them here.

Q. 996. Did you produce them here this morning?

A. Yes, I brought them over this morning.

Q. 997. What had been done with those letters from the time you found them on the 21st until you brought them here?

A. In my desk.

Q. 998. Had Frederick Lewisohn seen those letters?

A. I put them on his desk this morning, when he requested me to take them over here.

703 Q. 999. In a copy of the letter of Lewisohn Brothers to Alex. J. Mayer, dated May 29, 1895, which is among the papers which have been shown you, and which were produced by Mr. Lauterbach this morning, there appears a memorandum in pencil, "We wrote to this effect but Faint has an exact copy in his private file under 'Old Dominion:'" was that memorandum on that copy letter when you found it?

A. Yes, that is Faint's writing. I will testify to that.

Q. 1000. It is Faint's writing?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1001. Now when did you find that copy of the letter?

A. That letter?

Q. 1002. Yes.

A. Yes, Friday or Saturday.

Q. 1003. Do you mean Friday, the 20th, or Saturday, the 21st?

A. Yes.

Q. 1004. Which, according to your best recollection, was it: Friday or Saturday?

A. Friday.

Q. 1005. What time on Friday?

A. I have no idea what time.

Q. 1006. Was it in the forenoon or afternoon?

A. Afternoon.

Q. 1007. When you took those letters to Mr. Lauterbach, what time was it?

A. When we sent them over to Mr. Lauterbach?

Q. 1008. Yes.

A. Maybe half past four or quarter to five.

Q. 1009. Did you deliver them to him in person?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. 1010. When you said you got them together to send to Mr. Lauterbach, do you mean you wrote him a letter enclosing them?

A. No, I just directed the boy to take the letters over to Mr. Lauterbach.

Q. 1011. Did you put them in an envelope?

A. No, I didn't put them in an envelope.

Q. 1012. Did anybody?

A. Eddy Middy might have, I don't know whether it was he or one of the other boys.

Q. 1013. And that copy of letter of May 29, containing the memorandum in Faint's handwriting, was among those that you sent to Mr. Lauterbach on the afternoon of Friday, the 20th, was it?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1014. Why didn't you send it to him then?

A. I don't know why.

Q. 1015. Didn't you say you sent to him on Friday all the letters and documents which you had found?

A. I believe I did.

Q. 1016. Why didn't you send this?

A. Why didn't I send that?

Q. 1017. Yes.

A. I don't know exactly why I didn't.

Q. 1018. There must have been some reason, must there not?

A. One of the reasons was Old Dominion wasn't on it; that is all.

Q. 1019. The fact that there was no Old Dominion on it
704 was a reason for sending it to him, not for withholding it?

A. I don't know where that file is; it is a lot of dirty work and tedious work.

Q. 1020. The fact that this was dirty work or tedious work, do you consider that a reason why you should not have sent to Mr. Lauterbach this letter of May 29, 1895, which you found on Friday afternoon?

Mr. HEMENWAY: He said he found it Friday or Saturday, and he thought Friday.

A. I may have wanted to show the letter to Mr. Lewisohn.

Q. 1022. Did you want to show the letter to Mr. Lewisohn?

A. Yes, I did.

Q. 1023. Why didn't you answer that before?

A. I don't know why I didn't answer it before.

Q. 1024. Which Mr. Lewisohn?

A. Mr. Fred Lewisohn.

Q. 1025. Do you realize that you are testifying here under oath?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1026. Now why didn't you state before the reason for your not sending this letter of May 29 to Mr. Lauterbach?

A. Repeat that question, will you?

Q. 1027. Question repeated.

A. I don't know why.

Q. 1028. Wasn't it because you wished to withhold that answer?

A. Withhold which answer?

Q. 1029. That you held it back in order to show it to Frederick Lewisohn.

A. Well, yes, I wanted to show it to him.

Q. 1030. Why didn't you answer that before when you were asked for the reason?

A. I can't answer that question very well.

Q. 1031. Do you understand that you were sworn to tell the truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth?

A. Yes.

Q. 1032. And do you realize also that if you fail in your oath it is perjury?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1033. Now I ask you again whether you can give any reason why, when I asked you the cause of your withholding this letter from Mr. Lauterbach, you said you did not know why, when you have since testified the reason why?

A. I can't answer that very well.

Q. 1034. What did Mr. Fred Lewisohn say when you handed him that letter of May 29?

A. I don't know as he passed any comments on it one way or the other.

Q. 1035. When did you see that next after the time you handed it to Mr. Frederick Lewisohn?

A. Maybe a minute or two.

[No Q. 1036.]

Q. 1037. When did you hand it to Mr. Frederick Lewisohn?

A. In the afternoon, before he was leaving.

705 Q. 1038. About 5 o'clock?

A. I don't know exactly what time he left.

Q. 1039. Did he give you any direction on leaving?

A. Direction with regard to what?

Q. 1040. Of any kind?

A. No, sir.

Q. 1041. When did you see Frederick Lewisohn next? After you handed him the letter of May 29, when did you next see him?

A. This morning, I believe.

Q. 1042. What time?

A. When he came in the office.

Q. 1043. Now what did you do with reference to searching for papers between the time when you handed that letter to Frederick Lewisohn and to-day when you came to this room to testify?

A. Didn't I tell you I looked for the files also, the incoming mail?

Q. 1044. Is that all you did?

A. Telegrams.

Q. 1045. Does that describe fully all that you did, or is there anything else that you did that you have not testified to?

A. No, not in regard to the search for the papers. I have testified all I know with regard to the search for the papers.

Q. 1046. Then you now testify that between Friday afternoon, the 20th, when you handed this letter of May 29, 1895, to Fred Lewisohn, and this morning, when you came here to testify, you have done nothing with reference to searching for any papers except what you have testified in answer to your previous questions this morning?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1047. Is that true?

A. I can't seem to catch that.

Q. 1048. What is that you can't seem to catch?

A. I believe I told you that I looked through all the papers I was requested to look for.

Q. 1049. Now the papers you have testified you had looked for, that you had searched for on Saturday; you said you searched for the incoming letters?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1050. And that was the only day when you looked for the incoming letters?

A. No, I don't think so. I believe I looked Sunday also.

Q. 1051. Sunday, the 22d?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1052. How much time did you spend Sunday, the 22d?

A. I don't know exactly the time I spent on Sunday, the 22d.

Q. 1053. Are you sure you were at the office on Sunday, the 22d?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1054. Didn't you state earlier in this testimony that you searched every day except Sunday?

A. No, I don't believe I did.

Q. 1055. Now I call your attention to Int. 850, "And on how many different days did you continue that search," and your 706 answer thereto, "Practically every day except Sundays," and ask you whether it is the fact that you did make a search on Sunday, the 22d?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1056. Now tell us what you did on Sunday, the 22d.

A. I think I finished up incoming letters.

Q. 1057. When were you at the office on Sunday, the 22d?

A. I think from about a quarter after one to 4.30.

Q. 1059. Did you do anything else besides finishing the incoming letters?

A. No, I don't think I did.

Q. 1060. Did you begin on the telegrams?

A. No, sir.

Q. 1061. What part of the incoming letters did you examine on Sunday, the 22d?

A. The part that I hadn't looked through before.

Q. 1062. What part was that?

A. That was the latter part of the year, the late numbers; or, at least, the alphabetical numbers. I don't know whether it was the S's or O's or what.

Q. 1063. You are sure you spent about three hours there Sunday afternoon?

A. Yes, sir.

Q. 1064. Looking through the incoming letters and nothing else?

A. I may have spent a minute or two with some of the boys.

Q. 1065. Who were there Sunday afternoon?

A. The cashier of the coffee department.

Q. 1066. What is his name?

A. Mr. Gibson, and I think Mr. Vilaret.

Q. 1067. Who is he?

A. Mr. Gibson's assistant.

Q. 1068. Did they aid you in the search?

A. No, sir.

Q. 1069. Have you now stated all that you did in the way of searching from the time you handed that letter to Mr. Fred Lewisohn on May 29 up to the time you came here to testify to-day?

A. Yes.

Q. 1070. Then you have never made any search particularly for this private file of Old Dominion papers referred to in that memorandum in Mr. Faint's handwriting on the letter of May 29?

A. I never knew where Mr. Faint kept his private files.

Q. 1071. Did you understand the question? I ask you whether you have made any specifiy search for that file?

A. No, I can't say that I did.

Q. 1072. You did not know that any such file existed until you found that memorandum on that letter, did you?

A. No, sir, I did not.

Q. 1073. What other letter did you hold back from Mr. Lauterbach, or other paper, on Friday, the 20th?

A. I don't know as there was any held back.

Q. 1074. Are you sure you sent him every letter that you
707 had found and copy of letter and paper, with the exception of this letter of May 29, 1895?

A. Yes, up to that time.

Q. 1075. Now what letters or papers that you found after Friday, after that talk with Mr. Lewisohn on Friday, the 20th, have you held back?

A. None.

Mr. BRANDEIS: It appears clearly from this witness' testimony that he has made no search for the private Old Dominion file.

[Mr. Lauterbach then instructs the witness to make further search for the private file referred to by Mr. Faint.]

Mr. BRANDEIS: I request the witness, in making this search, to make a memorandum of the exact time that he begins and the days and hours in which he is occupied in making the search for the file referred to; also to make a memorandum of each box or file of papers which he handles or examines in connection with making that search.

WITNESS: What do you mean by that? Make a record of each box I handle? You understand that I take a box in my hand the same as I take up anything else; you don't want me to make a record of that, do you?

Mr. BRANDEIS: Yes, every box you handle or examine in connection with making this search.

WITNESS: And do you want me to tell you what is in the box?

Mr. BRANDEIS: I want you to make a memorandum of it so that you can testify fully.

Mr. LAUTERBACH: And I also request you at the same time to bring any other papers which you may find relating to Old Dominion matters and covered by the previous request to search for papers already made.
